SUGAR ACT OF 1937

NOTICE OF HEARINGS AND DESIGNATION OF PRESIDING OFFICERS

Pursuant to the authority contained in Sections 301 (b) and 511 of the Sugar Act of 1937 (Public, No. 414, 75th Congress),

Notice is hereby given that public hearings will be held as follows:

At Denver, Colorado, in the House Chamber, Capitol, on October 14, 1937, at 9:30 a. m.

At Pueblo, Colorado, in the County Commissioners' Room, Court House, on October 18, 1937, at 9:30 a. m.

At Scottsbluff, Nebraska, in the Emory Hotel, on October 21, 1937, at 9:30 a. m.

At Billings, Montana, on the Third Floor, Commercial Club, on October 25, 1937, at 9:30 a. m.

At Toledo, Ohio, in Room 418, New Federal Building, on October 29, 1937, at 9:30 a. m.

The purpose of such hearings is to receive evidence likely to be of assistance to the Secretary of Agriculture in determining, pursuant to the provisions of Section 301 (b) of the said act, fair and reasonable wage rates for persons employed in the production, cultivation or harvesting of the 1937 crop of sugar beets on farms with respect to which applications for payment under the said act are made.

Any of such hearings, after being called to order at the time and place mentioned above, may for convenience be adjourned to such other place in the same city as the presiding officer may designate.

William T. Ham and Joshua Bernhardt are hereby designated as presiding officers to conduct either jointly or severally the foregoing hearings.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of October, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

HANDLING OF LIVE POULTRY, ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

ORDER OF DESIGNATION

Whereas, the Act of Congress approved August 14, 1935, (49 Stat. 648) entitled "An Act to amend the Packers and Stockyards Act", added thereto a new title, as follows:

TITLE V. LIVE POULTRY DEALERS AND HANDLERS

SECTION 501. The handling of the great volume of live poultry required as an article of food for the inhabitants of large centers of population is attendant with various unfair, deceptive, and fraudulent practices and devices, resulting in the producers sustaining sundry losses and receiving prices far below the reasonable value of their live poultry in comparison with prices of other commodities and in unduly and arbitrarily enhancing the cost to the consumers. Such practices and devices are an undue restraint and unjust burden upon interstate commerce and are a matter of such grave concern to the industry and to the public as to make it imperative that steps be taken to free such commerce from such burden and restraint and to protect producers and consumers against such practices and devices.

SEC. 502 (a) The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized and directed to ascertain from time to time and to designate the cities where such practices and devices exist to the extent stated in the preceding section and the markets and places in or near such cities where live poultry is received, sold, and handled in sufficient quantity to constitute an important influence on the supply and price of live poultry and poultry products. On and after the effective date of such designation, which shall be publicly announced by the Secretary by publication in one or more trade journals or in the daily press or in such other manner as he may determine to be adequate for the purpose approximately thirty days prior to such date, no person other than packers as defined in Title II of said Act and railroads shall engage in, furnish, or conduct any service or facility in any such designated city, place, or market in connection with the receiving, buying, or selling, on a commission basis or otherwise, marketing, feeding, watering, holding, delivering, shipping, weighing, unloading, loading on trucks, trucking, or handling in commerce of live poultry without a license from the Secretary of Agriculture as herein authorized valid and effective at such time. Any person who violates any provision of this subsection shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment of not more than six months, or both.

(b) Any person desiring a license shall make application to the Secretary, who may by regulation prescribe the information to be contained in such application. The Secretary shall issue a license to any applicant furnishing the required information unless he finds after opportunity for a hearing that such applicant is unfit to engage in the activity for which he has made application by reason of his having at any time within two years prior to his application engaged in any practice of the character prohibited by this Act or because he is financially unable to fulfill the obligations that he would incur as a licensee.

SEC. 503. Sections 202, 401, 402, 403, and 404 of said Act are amended by the addition of the words "or any live poultry dealer or handler" after the word "packer" wherever it occurs in said section. The term "live poultry dealer" means any person engaged in the business of buying or selling live poultry in commerce for purposes of slaughter either on his own account or as the employee or agent of the vendor or purchaser.

SEC. 504. The provisions of sections 305 to 316, both inclusive, 401, 402, 403, and 404 of said Act shall be applicable to licensees with respect to services and facilities covered by this title and the rates, charges, and rentals therefor except that the schedules of rates, charges, and rentals shall be posted in the place of business of the licensee as prescribed in regulations made by the Secretary.

SEC. 505. Whenever the Secretary determines, after opportunity for a hearing, that any licensee has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this title, he may publish the facts and circumstances of such violation and by order suspend the license of such offender for a period not to exceed ninety days and if the violation is flagrant or repeated he may by order revoke the license of the offender.

Whereas, the said amendment authorized and directed the Secretary of Agriculture to ascertain and designate the cities where the practices and devices named in section 501, above, exist to the extent stated in said section, and the markets and places in or near such cities where live poultry is received, sold and handled in sufficient quantity to constitute an important influence on the supply and price of live poultry and poultry products; and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture has ascertained through independent investigations, correspondence, public hearings, and statements made by well-informed persons that practices and devices resulting in the producers sustaining sundry losses and receiving prices far below the reasonable value of their live poultry in comparison with the prices of other commodities, and in arbitrarily enhancing the cost to consumers, exist in the following-named city: St. Louis, Missouri.

Now, therefore, by virtue of such authorization and direction, the city above-named is hereby designated as a city where the handling of live poultry required as an article of food for inhabitants of large centers of population is attendant with various unfair, deceptive, and fraudulent practices and devices, resulting in the producers sustaining sundry losses and receiving prices far below the reasonable value of their live poultry in comparison with prices of other commodities and in unduly and arbitrarily enhancing the cost to the consumers; and the markets and places in such city are hereby designated as markets and places where live poultry is received, sold and handled in sufficient quantities to constitute an important influence on the supply and prices of live poultry and poultry products.

It is hereby ordered, That notice of this designation shall be published in the following manner: By publication in the following-named papers:

St. Louis Daily Market Reporter.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

published within the City of St. Louis, in the State of Missouri, and by insertion in the following publications of the Department, to wit:

Press Service Release.

Marketing Activities.

such publication to be made on or about October 18, 1937.

It is further ordered, That such designation shall be effective on and after November 19, 1937.

In witness whereof, the Secretary of Agriculture has hereunto set his hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 4th day of October, 1937.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

RULES UNDER PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

OCTOBER 4, 1937.

Certain subsidiaries of registered holding companies, subject to jurisdiction of Interstate Commerce Commission, exempted from Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 with respect to transactions approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission—limitation on exemption from section 9 (a) (1) of the Act.

Acting pursuant to the authority granted by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and particularly Section 3 (d) thereof, and finding such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and consumers, and not contrary to the purposes of said Act, the Securities and Exchange Commission hereby adopts Rule 3D-8 to read as follows:

RULE 3D-8. EXEMPTION OF SUBSIDIARIES SUBJECT TO JURISDICTION OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

Any subsidiary company of a registered holding company, which subsidiary is subject to the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission but is not an electric or gas utility company or a holding company, is hereby exempted from the obligations, duties, and liabilities imposed by the Act with respect to any transaction which is approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, except that the exemption provided from Section 9 (a) (1) by this rule shall not be applicable to any acquisition of securities of any electric or gas utility company or holding company which is an associate of the acquiring company or to any acquisition by which said subsidiary will become a public utility or holding company.

Information or documents derived under certain sections of the Act are confidential and no disclosure of same is to be made, except under Commission authorization.

The Securities and Exchange Commission acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly Section 20 (a) thereof, and finding that the disclosure of information obtained in the course of examinations, studies and investigations conducted pursuant to Section 13 (g), Section 15 (f), or paragraph (a) or (b) of Section 18 would be contrary to the public interest and would interfere with the execution of the functions vested in the Commission, hereby adopts the following rule:

RULE 5. NON-DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION OBTAINED IN THE COURSE OF EXAMINATIONS, STUDIES AND INVESTIGATIONS

Information or documents obtained by officers or employees of the Commission in the course of any examination, study or investigation pursuant to Section 13 (g), Section 15 (f), or paragraph (a) or (b) of Section 18 shall, unless made a matter of public record, be deemed confidential. Officers and employees are hereby prohibited from making such confidential information or documents available to anyone other than a member, officer, or employee of the Commission, unless the Commission authorizes the disclosure of such information or the production of such documents as not being contrary to the public interest. Any officer or employee who is served with a subpoena requiring the disclosure of such information or the production of such documents shall appear in court, and, unless the authorization described in the preceding sentence shall have been given, shall respectfully decline to disclose the information or produce the documents called for, basing his refusal upon this rule. Any officer or employee who is served with such a subpoena shall promptly advise the Commission of the service of such subpoena, the nature of the information or documents sought, and any circumstances which may bear upon the desirability of making available such information or documents.

Exempted acquisitions, under Rule 9C-3 (5), limited to liquidating securities where recipient has no option of receiving other or different kinds or amounts of property, cash, or securities than those acquired.

Under limitations, exempted acquisitions under Rule 9C-3 (6) broadened to include receipt of securities because of a declaration of a dividend even where at option of recipient and relaxing conditions on acquisition by company not before or after such acquisition an associate company of issuer.

Addition of paragraph (F) to Rule 9C-3 (9), as complementary rule to 3D-8—further exempted acquisition permitted in case of reorganization, as defined by rule.

Acting pursuant to the authority conferred upon it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and particularly Sections 3 (d), 9 (c), and 20 (a) thereof, and finding that amendment of Rule 9C-3 (5), 9C-3 (6), and 9C-3 (9) is necessary and appropriate and that such acquisitions of securities by registered holding companies and subsidiary companies thereof as are exempted from the provisions of the Act by said rule, as hereinafter amended, are appropriate, within the limitations therein stated, and are not detrimental to the public interest or that of investors or consumers; and finding further that the following action is necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions of said Act and not contrary to the purposes thereof, the Securities and Exchange Commission hereby amends said Rules 9C-3 (5), 9C-3 (6) and 9C-3 (9), so that the same will read as follows:

CERTAIN ACQUISITIONS OF SECURITIES EXEMPTED

RULE 9C-3 (5). Any such company may acquire any security issued or delivered to it as a dividend, including a partial or total liquidating dividend, payable in stock or other securities without any option on the part of any recipient of such dividend to accept or receive other or different kinds or amounts of property, cash or securities than those so acquired by such company; or issued or delivered to it as a result of a change in respect to par or stated value of, a split up of, or a reduction in the number of shares of stock which the issuer has outstanding.

RULE 9C-3 (6). Any such company may acquire any securities issued (A) by a company which is a majority-owned subsidiary thereof, or (B) by a company which is not, immediately before or immediately after such acquisition, an associate company thereof: Provided that in either case such acquisition is effected without payment of any premium or additional consideration and that such acquiring company is entitled to receive such securities

(a) because of any reclassification of securities of such other company or other change in the rights or holders thereof; or

(b) because of the exercise by the acquiring company of a right or privilege to convert securities which it already owns into other securities; or

(c) because of the declaration of a dividend which, at the option or election of the recipient, is payable in different kinds or amounts of property, cash or securities; or

(d) because of an offer made by a company described in Clause (B) above to all holders of one or more classes of its securities to deliver new securities in exchange for securities it then has outstanding; or

(e) because of an offer made by a company described in Clause (A) above to all holders of one or more classes of its securities to deliver new securities in exchange for securities it then has outstanding, if the issuance of such new securities is subject to provisions of Section 6 (a) or is exempted therefrom by order pursuant to Section 6 (b).

RULE 9C–3 (9). Any such company may acquire any security to which it becomes entitled by virtue of any reorganization (whether effected through a statutory merger or consolidation or by sale of the entire assets of the company or companies undergoing reorganization, or otherwise, and including a recapitalization or reincorporation) of one or more other companies, whether or not any such other company is the issuer of such security, if any one of the following additional conditions is satisfied:

(a) immediately prior to such reorganization and upon completion thereof, no company undergoing such reorganization and no issuer of any security so acquired is an associate company of the acquiring company; or

(b) immediately before such acquisition such acquiring company owns, directly or indirectly, substantially all of the outstanding securities of the company undergoing reorganization and, upon completion thereof, substantially all of the outstanding securities of the company undergoing reorganization, its successor or successors, are owned by the acquiring company; or

(c) such reorganization involves merely the transfer by a single company of substantially all of its assets to a new company having substantially the same capital structure, and does not involve any other substantial change in the rights of existing security holders; or

(d) such reorganization plan has been approved by the Commission under Section 11 (f); or

(e) all of the companies undergoing reorganization are public utility companies which are organized under the laws of the same State and the business of each of which is substantially confined to such State; such reorganization is effected through a satutory merger or consolidation of such companies or through a sale of the entire assets of one or more of such companies to another such company; the securities acquired in such a transaction do not, upon the consummation of such transaction, have a value in excess of $100,000 or in excess of five per cent of the total assets of the successor company or the reorganized company which continues in business, whichever of said sums is less; and all acquisitions of utility assets involved in such reorganization have been expressly authorized by the State commission of the State in which such companies are organized; or

(f) the securities so acquired are issued to the acquiring company solely in consideration of its interest in the company or companies undergoing reorganization and the transactions constituting such reorganization, including the issuance and sale of the securities so acquired, are exempt from Sections 6 and 9, respectively, by virtue of Rule 3D–8 (relating to certain transactions approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission);

Provided, however, That the exemption provided by this rule shall not be applicable to the acquisition of any securities if such securities are carried on the books of the acquiring company at a higher valuation, in the aggregate, than the one at which securities surrendered or exchanged for such securities were so carried immediately prior to such acquisition.

By the Commission.

It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceedings shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before October 11, 1937.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore, an officer of the Commission, be and he hereby is designated to preside at such hearing, and authorized to adjourn said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, contracts, agreements, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Upon the completion of the taking of testimony in these matters, the officer conducting said hearing is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

By the Commission.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

AMENDMENT OF REGULATIONS TO GOVERN DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS OF TELEPHONE, TELEGRAPH AND CABLE COMPANIES

The Commission, at a general session held on September 29, 1937, adopted the following order:

COMMISSION ORDER NO. 17–A

The Commission having under consideration Telephone Division Orders Nos. 6–A, 6–B, and 14, subsection 85 (a), "Telephone toll tickets, and statements forming basis of charges to subscribers and others", and subsection 1 (c), "Trial balance sheets of general and auxiliary ledgers", of paragraph 20 of the Regulations to Govern the Destruction of Records of Telephone, Telegraph and Cable Companies (including Wireless Companies) promulgated pursuant to order of the Interstate Commerce Commission made on the 3rd day of November, 1919:

It is ordered, That the words "Optional after charges have been paid or considered to be uncollectible" in the column "Period to be retained" opposite said subsection 85 (a) of paragraph 20, be, and the same are hereby, deleted and that the words "6 months" be inserted at that point.

It is further ordered, That the records covered by said subsection 85 (a) of paragraph 20 be, and the same are hereby, exempted from the provisions of Telephone Division Orders Nos. 6–A, 6–B, and 14, and may be destroyed in conformity with the provisions of that subsection as amended by this order.

It is further ordered, That those carriers that are using reprinted copies of the said Regulations to Govern the Destruction of Records be, and the same are hereby, notified that the word "permanently" appearing in the original authenticated copies of the Interstate Commerce Commission's order of November 3, 1919, in the column "Period to be retained", opposite said subsection 1 (c), "Trial balance sheets of general and auxiliary ledgers", was by reason of a printing error omitted from such reprinted issues.

By the Commission.

EXEMPTION FROM PROVISIONS TITLE III, PART 2, COMMUNICATIONS ACT, 1934, AS AMENDED, OF ALL PASSENGER VESSELS OF LESS THAN 100 GROSS TONS NOT SUBJECT TO RADIO PROVISIONS OF SAFETY CONVENTION

The Telegraph Division at its regular meeting held on September 28, 1937, adopted the following order:

ORDER

The Commission, Telegraph Division, having under consideration requests made on behalf of several fishing and sight seeing boats operating locally in the vicinity of Miami, Florida, being passenger vessels of less than 100 gross tons not subject to the radio provisions of the Safety Convention; and

Whereas it appears from the face of such requests and upon preliminary investigation that the route and conditions of the voyages and other circumstances are such as to render a radio installation unreasonable or unnecessary for the purposes of Part II of Title III of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and

Whereas the Commission may desire to institute such further proceedings in the matter of such requests for exemption as in its discretion it may find proper;

It is hereby ordered, That all passenger vessels of less than 100 gross tons not subject to the radio provisions of the Safety Convention operating between Hillsborough Light and Pacific Reef Light, which are in the vicinity of Miami, Florida, and not operated more than five miles from the nearest land, be and the said class of ships is hereby exempt from the provisions of Title III, Part 2 of the Communication Act of 1934, as amended, for a temporary period pending further order of the Commission, and in any event for a period not to exceed 60 days from the date of this Order pending final decision by the Commission upon said requests for exemption; Provided, however, That nothing herein shall constitute a finding by the Commission that a radio installation is or will be unreasonable or unnecessary beyond the express terms hereof.

By order of the Commission, Telegraph Division.

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

PROPERTY MANAGEMENT DIVISION REGULATIONS

Whereas the Board Resolution adopted January 22, 1937 for the Property Management Chapter of the Consolidated Manual has been revised from time to time and further revisions thereof are intended to be made, and it is deemed advisable to readopt said resolution incorporating therein the revisions previously adopted and the revisions now proposed; Therefore,

Be it resolved, That pursuant to the authority vested in the Board by Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (48 Stat. 128, 129) as amended by Sections 1 and 13 of the Act of April 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 643–647) and particularly by Sections 4–a and 4–k of said Act as amended, the Property Management Chapter of the Consolidated Manual be numbered 3 and provide as follows:

SEC. 300. The Property Management Division shall be responsible for all matters pertaining to real property securing liens held by the Corporation from the time foreclosure or the acceptance of deed in lieu of foreclosure has been authorized and all matters pertaining to real property acquired by the Corporation, except that the primary responsibility for protecting the Corporation's security from liens resulting from unpaid taxes, assessments, other governmental levies or charges, and ground rents, is placed upon the Legal Department. The responsibility of the Division shall include the sale, rental, collection of rents, maintenance, repairs, reconditioning, rehabilitation, rebuilding, enlargement, demolishing and periodic inspections of such properties.

All appraisals in connection with such properties which the Division may deem to be necessary or advisable shall be made under the direction of the Appraisal Section.

All repairing, reconditioning, rehabilitation, rebuilding, and enlargement or demolishing of such properties which the Division shall deem to be necessary or advisable shall according to approved procedure be under the direction and charge of the Reconditioning Section, except maintenance, and the repairs and the purchase of equipment incident to the maintenance of such properties.

The Property Management Division may direct maintenance and the repairs and the purchase of equipment incident to the maintenance of such properties to be accomplished under the direction of the Reconditioning Section. Maintenance, purchase of equipment, repairs, reconditioning, rehabilitation, rebuilding and enlargement or demolishing authorized by the Property Management Division may be accomplished through Approved Contract Brokers under approved procedure. All such work accomplished through Approved Contract Brokers, except maintenance and the repairs and the purchase of equipment incident to maintenance, shall be under the direction and supervision of the Reconditioning Section.

The Regional Manager, with the advice of the Regional Counsel or the State Manager, with the advice of the State Counsel, may in his discretion bind the Corporation to expend such sums for sidewalks, street improvements or other local improvements affecting property under the jurisdiction of the Property Management Division, or for the general improvement of the neighborhood in which any such property is located, as he may deem to be for the interest of the Corporation, and may on behalf of the Corporation join in and sign petitions or requests therefor, subject to limitations prescribed in Section 314. Consents to proposed improvements out of which assessments or levies will arise shall be executed pursuant to the provisions of Chapter VI.

SEC. 301. The Property Management Division shall be under the control of the General Manager. There shall be assigned a Deputy General Manager in Charge of the Division who shall report to and take direction from the General Manager. The Deputy General Manager in Charge shall have all necessary authority to carry out the rules and regulations of the Corporation relating to matters within the jurisdiction of the Division.

SEC. 302. The Property Committee is a part of the Home Office organization of the Property Management Division. It consists of three members appointed by the Board of Directors, one of whom is designated by the Board as Chairman of the Committee. The concurrence of two members of the Committee shall be sufficient to decide any question that may be presented. The Deputy General Manager in Charge may appeal to the Board from any decision of the Committee. The functions of the Property Committee shall be:

(a) To review all cases where it is recommended that the property be sold at an amount which represents a loss to the Corporation in excess of 25%, based on ledger value, plus accrued and unpaid charges against the property, the estimated carrying charges for six months in advance and the commission of the broker, and to render a decision as to whether the property is to be offered for immediate sale or rental and set a minimum sales price for each such property.

(b) To review and render decisions with regard to all cases which the Regional Property Committee may deem it advisable to submit or which may be submitted by the Regional Manager or a Field Representative of the Property Management Division as an appeal from the decision of the Regional Property Committee.

(c) To review and render decisions in all cases where the amount of reconditioning, repairs, or purchases of equipment and supplies recommended by the Regional Manager exceeds 65% of the latest valuation, as reconditioned, placed on the property by the Property Management Division, or $1,500.00, provided that the amount exceeds $1,000.00.

(d) To review and render decisions with regard to all leases other than month to month tenancies, except where the Deputy General Manager in Charge has authorized the Regional Manager to effect leases in behalf of the Corporation, for periods not exceeding two years.

(e) To review and render decisions in cases where the Regional Manager or the Regional Property Committee recommends demolition in whole or in part.

(f) To review and render decisions in all cases where it is recommended by the Regional Manager that an offer be accepted from the owner of a property on which the Corporation holds a mortgage or other approved security instrument, to exchange such property for property acquired by the Corporation.

(g) To review and render decisions with regard to any other matters which the Manual of Rules and Regulations requires to be submitted to the Property Committee.

(h) To review and render decisions with regard to any other matters pertaining to the functions of the Property Management Division which the General Manager or the Deputy General Manager in Charge may deem advisable to submit.

(i) To review all cases where the Regional Manager recommends the approval of the purchase by any officer or employee of the Corporation from a home owner of property on which the Corporation holds a mortgage or other security instrument, or where the Regional Manager recommends the sale of a property owned by the Corporation, directly or indirectly, to an employee of the Corporation or to the spouse of such employee, and to submit such cases with its recommendations to the General Manager for final action.

SEC. 303. The Property Management Division in the Home Office in Washington shall conduct its operations through the Assistant General Manager to the Regional Manager.

SEC. 304. Property Management operations within the Region shall be under the control of the Regional Manager. In each Regional Office there shall be an Assistant Regional Manager in charge of Property Management, who shall report to and take direction from the Regional Manager and who shall exercise immediate direction and supervision over Property Management operations within the Region.

The Regional Manager may, in the manner now or hereafter provided request the appointment of deputies to execute forms on his behalf, to exercise any authority and to perform any duties vested in or required of the Regional Manager with respect to Property Management operations; provided, however, that such deputization is limited to the Assistant Regional Manager in charge of Property Management and employees of the Property Management Division recommended by him. The Regional Manager may deputize other employees of the Corporation with the approval of the Board.

Where justified by the volume of work, the Regional Property Management Division shall consist of four Sections: (1) Analysis; (2) Sales; (3) Management and (4) Records and Files.

There shall be a Regional Property Committee whose functions shall be to review all cases where it is recommended that the property be sold at a loss to the Corporation, provided the amount of the loss does not exceed 25%, based on ledger value, plus accrued and unpaid charges against the property, the estimated carrying charges for six months in advance and the commission of the broker and to render a decision as to whether the property is to be offered for immediate sale or rental and set a minimum sales price for each such property.

The Regional Property Committee is also authorized to direct the demolition, in whole or in part, of any improvements where such demolition is ordered by public authority and where, in the opinion of the Committee, it is to the best interest of the Corporation to provide for the demolition of such improvements through its own facilities. The Committee may also direct the demolition, in whole or in part, of any improvements other than the main structure (1) where the Appraisal Section has assigned no value to such improvements or (2) to abate a nuisance or remove a dangerous condition. The Committee may also direct the demolition of any portions of the main structure where such demolition is a part of the reconditioning program or is necessary to the completion thereof.

The Regional Property Committee shall consist of three members: The Regional Manager, Chairman, the Assistant Regional Manager in Charge of Property Management, Vice-Chairman and the Regional Appraiser. The Deputy General Manager in Charge may, at any time, supplement the membership of this Committee by the designation of a Field Representative of the Property Management Division to act as a fourth member of such Committee. The concurrence of a majority of the members shall be sufficient to decide any question that may be presented. The Regional Manager or any Field Representative of the Property Management Division designated to act on the Committee, may appeal to the Property Committee in Washington from any decision of the Regional Property Committee.

The Regional Property Committee shall make a monthly report of its activities to the Property Management Division at Washington, D. C.

SEC. 305. The State Manager, under the immediate direction and control of the Regional Manager, shall be the supervisor for Property Management within the State. The District Manager shall be the supervisor within the District for Property Management when the District Office has been authorized to perform Property Management functions.

SEC. 306. The Corporation shall endeavor to dispose of, rent and manage its acquired properties through brokers in all localities where satisfactory arrangements can be made and maintained for such facilities and where it appears to the best interests of the Corporation to conduct those activities in such manner. The Regional Manager may also assign any other properties under the jurisdiction of the Division to brokers for sale, rental or management when in his opinion it is advantageous to do so.

SEC. 307. The General Manager, upon the recommendation of the Regional Manager, is authorized to fix the schedule of fees or compensation to be paid to Sales Brokers in each locality within the Regional area. The Regional Manager is authorized to fix the schedule of fees or compensation to be paid to Contract Management Brokers for the rental and management of properties under the jurisdiction of the Division. Approved schedules of fees shall be filed with the Auditor.

SEC. 308. Brokers may be required to furnish surety bonds payable to the Corporation and such surety bonds shall be approved and accepted as provided in Chapter VI.

SEC. 309. In areas where the services of a satisfactory broker are not available, the Regional Manager may arrange for a representative citizen of the community to perform such duties in connection with the sale, rental or management of the properties under the jurisdiction of the Property Management Division as are required by the terms of the Management Broker's Agreement or Sales Broker's Agreement, and regulations pertaining to brokers shall apply to such representative citizens.

In any territory or locality where the General Manager deems it to the best interests of the Corporation to set up its own organization for the sale, rental and management of properties, and for the carrying out of any of the other functions of the Division, additional personnel may be employed or existing personnel utilized for such purposes.

SEC. 310. The General Manager, with the approval of the General Counsel, is authorized to determine the plans of sale of real properties under the jurisdiction of the Property Management Division and of any leasehold or other interests therein. The General Manager is authorized to determine the terms of payment for the sale of such properties or interests therein, provided, however, that in no event shall the term of repayment under any mortgage or other security instrument or installment or like contract exceed fifteen years from the date of delivery of the deed or of such contract. The authority herein vested in the General Manager may be exercised also by the Deputy General Manager in Charge of Property Management, the Regional Manager, and the State Manager under procedure and limitations prescribed by the General Manager with the approval of the General Counsel.

The Regional Manager shall have authority to effect sales of real properties under the jurisdiction of the Division and of any leasehold or other interests therein at or above the minimum sales price which shall be fixed in accordance with established procedure.

The Corporation shall not sell its acquired property either directly or indirectly to an employee of the Corporation or to a spouse of such employee unless and until the transaction has been submitted to the Property Committee in Washington and the approval of the General Manager obtained.

SEC. 311. Rental prices and schedules shall be established by the Regional Manager and may, subject to procedure and limitations approved by the General Manager and General Counsel, also be established by the State Manager or District Manager.

The Corporation shall not rent any property under the jurisdiction of the Division to an employee of the Corporation or to a spouse of such employee either directly or indirectly unless and until the approval of the Regional Manager has been obtained. This restriction shall not, however, affect tenancies existing on September 2, 1936.

The Regional Manager shall have authority to authorize and direct the Regional Accountant to charge off rents payable to the Corporation from former tenants of properties or units "available to yield income" and under the jurisdiction of the Division. This authority shall not extend to tenants in possession. The Regional Manager is authorized to direct the charging off of such rents whenever, in his opinion, the same are uncollectible or when it appears to his satisfaction that it would not be to the best interests of the Corporation to incur any further expense either by way of suit or otherwise in an effort to enforce or make collections.

Tenants and other occupants of properties under the jurisdiction of the Division shall make full payment of any rents due the Corporation without any deductions for disbursements made by them for repairs, decorating, fuel, equipment or other operating expenses. However, in cases where such deductions have been made or are hereafter made by present or former tenants or other occupants, the Regional Manager is authorized to allow such deductions in such amounts as he may deem proper for items which the Corporation under the terms of the rental agreement is obligated to furnish or when he deems it to the best interests of the Corporation to allow such deductions and he may authorize and direct the Regional Accountant to reflect such allowances on the appropriate accounts.

SEC. 312. The classes of expenditures, hereinafter enumerated, affecting properties upon which foreclosure or acceptance of voluntary deed has been authorized, shall be capitalized as follows:

(a) The total of any and all unpaid balances on the original, or subsequent loan or loans (including any unpaid balances on advances), the unpaid accrued interest to date of foreclosure judgment or sale where sale is not preceded by a judgment and all costs of acquisition regardless of when paid.

(b) All items of expenditure, charged on the books of the Corporation prior to date of acquisition of absolute title, regardless of amount, period covered or nature, except that expenditures incurred for credit reports, appraisal and reconditioning inspection fees, or other inspection fees, requested by the Property Management Division prior to or subsequent to title acquisition, and expenditures incurred for advertising for sale only, and sales commissions to brokers shall not be capitalized, but shall be charged to general Corporation expense.

(c) Items of expenditure, except taxes and insurance, incurred prior to the date of acquisition of absolute title to the property but charged after date of acquisition in excess of $25.00, and if such items in excess of $25.00 are partially applicable to a period prior to the date of acquisition, such portion (if in excess of $25.00) applicable to a period prior to the date of acquisition, shall be capitalized and the remaining portion shall be charged to property expense; no single item of acquired property expense incurred for an amount less than $25.00 (other than costs of acquisition) shall be capitalized, unless such expenditure is properly consolidated with other expenditures of less than $25.00 to aggregate more than this amount constituting a certain unit of improvement or betterment.

(d) Such portion of expenditures for taxes and insurance applicable to a period prior to date of acquisition, regardless of amount, and all expenditures regardless of amount made as a result of improvement assessments for public improvement with benefit of over one year; the cost of easements, purchase of reversionary interest, and costs of any public service connections or betterments, shall be capitalized.

(e) Permanent additions, enlargements, betterments, or replacements, comprising, among others, such units as stoves, furnaces, oil burners, stokers, refrigeration, plumbing (including accessories and fixtures for complete installation), and other similar items coming within the general definition of improvements or betterments to income-producing or sale values, shall be capitalized.

(f) All expenditures for initial repairs or reconditioning, whether made prior to acquisition or immediately upon acquisition or deferred until a later date, authorized by the Property Management Division to place the property in rentable or saleable condition.

Expenditures authorized and incurred by the Property Management Division, exclusive of advances for account of borrowers, shall be designated for distribution in the accounts by the Property Management Division in the Home Office, Regional Office, or Field, coincident with authorization, and it shall not be material that expenditures within the above definitions are incurred prior to or subsequent to title acquisitions.

The procedure set forth in this Section shall be retroactive to include all properties upon which foreclosure or acceptance of voluntary deed has been authorized, and all properties upon which foreclosure or acceptance of voluntary deed shall hereafter be authorized shall be included from the date of such authorization of foreclosure or voluntary deed acceptance.

SEC. 313. In addition to those officers and employees of the Corporation who are now or may be hereafter authorized to execute, acknowledge on behalf of the Corporation, seal with the corporate seal, attest, deliver or accept on behalf of the Corporation deeds and other instruments in connection with the sale or rental of real property by the Corporation, all contracts and other instruments incident to the management of property under the jurisdiction of the Property Management Division may be executed on behalf of the Corporation by such other officers and employees of the Corporation and by brokers or such other persons as may be authorized by the General Manager in procedure and under limitations prescribed by the General Manager, with the approval of the General Counsel.

SEC. 314. The Regional Manager may incur or approve charges or expenses of any nature whatsoever made or incurred in the performance of any of the functions or duties required or authorized to be done by this Chapter, and when so approved proper vouchers shall be submitted to the Auditor or an authorized deputy for certification, provided that if the amount to be expended exceeds 65% of the latest valuation as reconditioned placed on the property by the Property Management Division, or $1500.00, and provided that the amount exceeds $1000.00, the approval of the Property Committee in the Home Office shall first be obtained.

The State and District Managers may incur or approve charges in behalf of the Corporation for expenses made or incurred in the performance of any of the functions or duties required or authorized to be done by this Chapter in any case where the amount thereof does not exceed $500.00, provided that where such amount exceeds $500.00 the approval of the Regional Manager shall first be obtained. Any authority hereinabove vested in the State Manager and District Manager may also be exercised by any Assistant to the State Manager in Charge of Property Management or by any District Property Management Supervisor, when duly deputized for such purpose; provided, the Regional Manager, in his discretion, may place limitations upon such authority of State and District Managers in amounts less than $500.00.

The Regional, State and District Managers are authorized and directed, within the respective limitations herein provided, to determine the necessity for any expenditures incurred or approved by them in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and the amounts thereof.

Contract Management Brokers and Contract Sales Brokers may incur charges in behalf of the Corporation, and may expend, out of revenues from properties listed with them, monies for expenses made or incurred in the performance of any of the functions or duties required or authorized by the regulations, provided that if the amount to be expended exceeds $25.00 on any particular property containing not more than one unit or $50.00 on any property containing more than one unit during any monthly accounting period, the approval of the State or District Manager shall first be obtained, except in any cases requiring emergency repairs for which the broker may incur charges not exceeding $100.00. In no event, however, shall the Contract Management Broker pay any bills or charges incurred in connection with any particular property which cannot be paid out of funds in possession of the broker, received from the income of that particular property. If the funds in possession of the broker from any particular property are not of sufficient amount to pay the charges or bills incurred, then same shall be paid only by voucher through the regular procedure provided therefor. An accounting shall be made by such brokers for each and every item of expense incurred hereunder and payment therefor shall be supported by proper receipts and releases, except as provided elsewhere in the regulations. All expenditures authorized hereunder shall be made under such instructions and procedure as the Deputy General Manager in Charge of Property Management, subject to the approval of the General Manager and General Counsel, may prescribe.

The authorization for payment of expenses provided for in this Section, shall apply to both recurring and nonrecurring items.

SEC. 315. The General Manager, upon the recommendation of the Regional Manager, may authorize the establishment of compensation of not to exceed two dollars per report to credit agencies for credit reports on individuals, corporations, and firms required by the Regulations relating to Property Management, in localities where such reports may not be obtained at a lower cost. The General Manager shall file with the Auditor a schedule of fees in excess of one dollar per report which are authorized for any localities.

SEC. 316. The Deputy General Manager in Charge shall be required to make a report monthly on the operations of the Property Management Division to the General Manager for transmission to the Board. The General Manager shall consider such reports and, from time to time, make recommendations to the Board as to the policies to be followed by the Property Management Division, and the Board will give such direction to the General Manager as may appear to it to be appropriate.

SEC. 317. The advice of the General Counsel or an Associate General Counsel or an Associate Counsel or of the Legal Department shall be secured before action is taken on any matter arising within the Property Management Division which affects the legal position of the Corporation.

Be it further resolved, That the Deputy General Manager in Charge may recommend and the General Manager and the General Counsel are hereby authorized to prescribe procedure necessary to carry out the regulations set out herein or hereafter adopted by the Board; and

Be it further resolved, That all previously issued regulations which are in conflict herewith, or with regulations issued under authority granted herein are hereby superseded and repealed; and particularly the resolution of January 22, 1937, entitled "Regulations for Property Management Division of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation", as amended, is repealed insofar as it relates to the Property Management Chapter of the Consolidated Manual; and

Be it further resolved, That the provisions of this resolution shall become effective November 1, 1937, except that the subject matter of Section 312 herein, contained in the resolution adopted by the Board of Directors of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation on May 14, 1937, relating to capitalization of expenditures, remains effective as provided in the resolution of May 14, 1937.

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on October 5, 1937.

FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION.

AMENDMENT TO ADMINISTRATIVE RULES OF THE FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATOR FOR MUTUAL MORTGAGE INSURANCE UNDER TITLE II OF THE NATIONAL HOUSING ACT

The Administrative Rules of the Federal Housing Administrator, issued October 1, 1937, are hereby amended as follows:

Subsection 5 of Section 1 of said Administrative Rules is amended to read as follows:

"5. Approval as a mortgagee under this section, of a banking institution or trust company which is subject to the inspection and supervision of some governmental agency, shall be deemed to constitute approval of such institution or company when lawfully acting in a fiduciary capacity in investing fiduciary funds which are under its individual or joint control. Upon termination of such fiduciary relationship, whether by revocation or otherwise, any insured mortgages held in the fiduciary estate shall be transferred to a mortgagee approved under this or the succeeding section and the fiduciary relationship must be such as to permit such transfer.

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the sale to the general public of instruments representing the beneficial interest in all or part of one or more insured mortgages."

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of September, 1937 and effective on the 1st day of October, 1937.

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONES BOARD.

RESOLUTION APPROVING APPLICATION OF THE ALABAMA STATE DOCKS COMMISSION AND ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE OF GRANT FOR A FOREIGN-TRADE ZONE AT MOBILE, ALABAMA

At a meeting of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board held at its offices in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 22nd day of September, A. D. 1937.

Board: Daniel C. Roper, Secretary of Commerce, Chairman; Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury; Harry E. Woodring, Secretary of War.

RESOLUTION AND ORDER

Pursuant to the Act approved June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 998; U. S. C. A.; Title 19 § 81a–81u) the following resolution was adopted:

"That the application of the Alabama State Docks Commission for a grant to establish and operate a foreign-trade zone at Mobile, Alabama, as permitted under Public 397, 73d Congress, be approved."

The Board having considered the matter;

It is ordered, Upon examination the application of the Alabama State Docks Commission for the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone at Mobile has been found to be in proper order and in compliance with the Act and the rules and regulations made thereunder. Now, therefore, the Secretary of Commerce, as Chairman and Executive Officer of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, is hereby authorized and directed to sign and issue in favor of the Alabama State Docks Commission a grant permitting the establishment, operation, and maintenance of a foreign-trade zone at Mobile, Alabama, in compliance with the application on file with the Board. It is further ordered that a copy of this grant be made a part of the record of this meeting.

Whereas, by an Act of Congress approved June 18, 1934, an Act

To provide for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of foreign-trade zones in ports of entry of the United States, to expedite and encourage foreign commerce, and for other purposes

(48 Stat. 998; U. S. C. A. Title 19 § 81a–81u), hereinafter referred to as "the Act", the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, hereinafter referred to as "the Board", is authorized and empowered to grant to corporations the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining foreign-trade zones in or adjacent to ports of entry under the jurisdiction of the United States; and,

Whereas, the Alabama State Docks Commission, a public corporation, organized and existing under the laws of the State of Alabama, having its office and principal place of business in the City of Mobile, in the State of Alabama, hereinafter referred to as "the Grantee", has made application in due and proper form to the Board for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of a foreign-trade zone, designated on the records of the Board as Zone No. Two, at Mobile, Alabama, as shown on the map accompanying said application, marked Exhibit No. 10a; and,

Whereas, notice of said application has been given and published, and full opportunity has been afforded all interested parties to be heard; and,

Whereas, the Board has found the proposed plans and location are suitable for the accomplishment of the purposes of a foreign-trade zone under the Act and that the facilities and appurtenances which in said application it is proposed to provide are sufficient;

Now, therefore, the Board, subject to the provisions, conditions, and restrictions of the Act and all of the rules and regulations made thereunder, hereby grants to the Grantee the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone, designated on the records of the Board as Zone No. Two, at the specific location mentioned above and more particularly described on the map accompanying said application, marked Exhibit No. 10a, said grant being subject to the provisions, conditions, and restrictions of the Act and of all rules and regulations made thereunder, to the same extent as though the same were fully set forth herein, and also to the following express conditions and limitations, to-wit:

The Grantee shall make no deviation from the maps, plans, specifications, drawings, and blue prints, accompanying the said application and marked Exhibits Numbers 1 to 13, inclusive, before or after completion of the structures or work involved, unless modification of such maps, plans, specifications, drawings, and blue prints, has previously been submitted to and has received the approval of the Board.

The work of construction under this grant shall commence within thirty days from the date of the grant; said work shall be diligently prosecuted to completion and the work of construction shall be completed and operation of the zone shall be commenced by the Grantee within one hundred twenty days from the date of this grant. The Grantee shall notify the United States District Engineer in whose district the zone is located of the date upon which work will begin and as far in advance thereof as the District Engineer may reasonably specify, and shall notify him promptly in writing of any suspension of construction for a period of more than one week, and of its resumption and completion.

The Grantee shall fully comply with the provisions of the laws for the protection and preservation of the navigable waters of the United States, and shall secure the authorizations and approvals of works in navigable waters of the United States required by such laws. The grant herein made shall not be construed as conveying such approval.

The Grantee shall allow officers and employees of the United States of America free and unrestricted access in, to, and throughout said zone in the performance of their official duties.

This grant shall not be construed to relieve the Grantee from liability for injury or damage to the person or property of others occasioned by the construction, operation, or maintenance of said zone, and in no event shall the United States of America be liable therefor.

In witness whereof, the Foreign-Trade [illegible]ASSOR Board has caused its name to be signed and its seal to be affixed hereto by its Chairman and Executive Officer, D[illegible]7; 12[illegible] C. ROPER.

ments, purchase of reversionary interest, and costs of any public service connections or betterments, shall be capitalized.

(e) Permanent additions, enlargements, betterments, or replacements, comprising, among others, such units as stoves, furnaces, oil burners, stokers, refrigeration, plumbing (including accessories and fixtures for complete installation), and other similar items coming within the general definition of improvements or betterments to income-producing or sale values, shall be capitalized.

(f) All expenditures for initial repairs or reconditioning, whether made prior to acquisition or immediately upon acquisition or deferred until a later date, authorized by the Property Management Division to place the property in rentable or saleable condition.

Expenditures authorized and incurred by the Property Management Division, exclusive of advances for account of borrowers, shall be designated for distribution in the accounts by the Property Management Division in the Home Office, Regional Office, or Field, coincident with authorization, and it shall not be material that expenditures within the above definitions are incurred prior to or subsequent to title acquisitions.

The procedure set forth in this Section shall be retroactive to include all properties upon which foreclosure or acceptance of voluntary deed has been authorized, and all properties upon which foreclosure or acceptance of voluntary deed shall hereafter be authorized shall be included from the date of such authorization of foreclosure or voluntary deed acceptance.

SEC. 313. In addition to those officers and employees of the Corporation who are now or may be hereafter authorized to execute, acknowledge on behalf of the Corporation, seal with the corporate seal, attest, deliver or accept on behalf of the Corporation deeds and other instruments in connection with the sale or rental of real property by the Corporation, all contracts and other instruments incident to the management of property under the jurisdiction of the Property Management Division may be executed on behalf of the Corporation by such other officers and employees of the Corporation and by brokers or such other persons as may be authorized by the General Manager in procedure and under limitations prescribed by the General Manager, with the approval of the General Counsel.

SEC. 314. The Regional Manager may incur or approve charges or expenses of any nature whatsoever made or incurred in the performance of any of the functions or duties required or authorized to be done by this Chapter, and when so approved proper vouchers shall be submitted to the Auditor or an authorized deputy for certification, provided that if the amount to be expended exceeds 65% of the latest valuation as reconditioned placed on the property by the Property Management Division, or $1500.00, and provided that the amount exceeds $1000.00, the approval of the Property Committee in the Home Office shall first be obtained.

The State and District Managers may incur or approve charges in behalf of the Corporation for expenses made or incurred in the performance of any of the functions or duties required or authorized to be done by this Chapter in any case where the amount thereof does not exceed $500.00, provided that where such amount exceeds $500.00 the approval of the Regional Manager shall first be obtained. Any authority hereinabove vested in the State Manager and District Manager may also be exercised by any Assistant to the State Manager in Charge of Property Management or by any District Property Management Supervisor, when duly deputized for such purpose; provided, the Regional Manager, in his discretion, may place limitations upon such authority of State and District Managers in amounts less than $500.00.

The Regional, State and District Managers are authorized and directed, within the respective limitations herein provided, to determine the necessity for any expenditures incurred or approved by them in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter and the amounts thereof.

Contract Management Brokers and Contract Sales Brokers may incur charges in behalf of the Corporation, and may expend, out of revenues from properties listed with them, monies for expenses made or incurred in the performance of any of the functions or duties required or authorized by the regulations, provided that if the amount to be expended exceeds $25.00 on any particular property containing not more than one unit or $50.00 on any property containing more than one unit during any monthly accounting period, the approval of the State or District Manager shall first be obtained, except in any cases requiring emergency repairs for which the broker may incur charges not exceeding $100.00. In no event, however, shall the Contract Management Broker pay any bills or charges incurred in connection with any particular property which cannot be paid out of funds in possession of the broker, received from the income of that particular property. If the funds in possession of the broker from any particular property are not of sufficient amount to pay the charges or bills incurred, then same shall be paid only by voucher through the regular procedure provided therefor. An accounting shall be made by such brokers for each and every item of expense incurred hereunder and payment therefor shall be supported by proper receipts and releases, except as provided elsewhere in the regulations. All expenditures authorized hereunder shall be made under such instructions and procedure as the Deputy General Manager in Charge of Property Management, subject to the approval of the General Manager and General Counsel, may prescribe.

The authorization for payment of expenses provided for in this Section, shall apply to both recurring and nonrecurring items.

SEC. 315. The General Manager, upon the recommendation of the Regional Manager, may authorize the establishment of compensation of not to exceed two dollars per report to credit agencies for credit reports on individuals, corporations, and firms required by the Regulations relating to Property Management, in localities where such reports may not be obtained at a lower cost. The General Manager shall file with the Auditor a schedule of fees in excess of one dollar per report which are authorized for any localities.

SEC. 316. The Deputy General Manager in Charge shall be required to make a report monthly on the operations of the Property Management Division to the General Manager for transmission to the Board. The General Manager shall consider such reports and, from time to time, make recommendations to the Board as to the policies to be followed by the Property Management Division, and the Board will give such direction to the General Manager as may appear to it to be appropriate.

SEC. 317. The advice of the General Counsel or an Associate General Counsel or an Associate Counsel or of the Legal Department shall be secured before action is taken on any matter arising within the Property Management Division which affects the legal position of the Corporation.

Be it further resolved, That the Deputy General Manager in Charge may recommend and the General Manager and the General Counsel are hereby authorized to prescribe procedure necessary to carry out the regulations set out herein or hereafter adopted by the Board; and

Be it further resolved, That all previously issued regulations which are in conflict herewith, or with regulations issued under authority granted herein are hereby superseded and repealed; and particularly the resolution of January 22, 1937, entitled "Regulations for Property Management Division of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation", as amended, is repealed insofar as it relates to the Property Management Chapter of the Consolidated Manual; and

Be it further resolved, That the provisions of this resolution shall become effective November 1, 1937, except that the subject matter of Section 312 herein, contained in the resolution adopted by the Board of Directors of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation on May 14, 1937, relating to capitalization of expenditures, remains effective as provided in the resolution of May 14, 1937.

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on October 5, 1937.

FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION.

AMENDMENT TO ADMINISTRATIVE RULES OF THE FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATOR FOR MUTUAL MORTGAGE INSURANCE UNDER TITLE II OF THE NATIONAL HOUSING ACT

The Administrative Rules of the Federal Housing Administrator, issued October 1, 1937, are hereby amended as follows:

Subsection 5 of Section 1 of said Administrative Rules is amended to read as follows:

"5. Approval as a mortgagee under this section, of a banking institution or trust company which is subject to the inspection and supervision of some governmental agency, shall be deemed to constitute approval of such institution or company when lawfully acting in a fiduciary capacity in investing fiduciary funds which are under its individual or joint control. Upon termination of such fiduciary relationship, whether by revocation or otherwise, any insured mortgages held in the fiduciary estate shall be transferred to a mortgagee approved under this or the succeeding section and the fiduciary relationship must be such as to permit such transfer.

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit the sale to the general public of instruments representing the beneficial interest in all or part of one or more insured mortgages."

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of September, 1937 and effective on the 1st day of October, 1937.

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONES BOARD.

RESOLUTION APPROVING APPLICATION OF THE ALABAMA STATE DOCKS COMMISSION AND ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE OF GRANT FOR A FOREIGN-TRADE ZONE AT MOBILE, ALABAMA

At a meeting of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board held at its offices in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 22nd day of September, A. D. 1937.

Board: Daniel C. Roper, Secretary of Commerce, Chairman; Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury; Harry E. Woodring, Secretary of War.

RESOLUTION AND ORDER

Pursuant to the Act approved June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 998; U. S. C. A.; Title 19 § 81a–81u) the following resolution was adopted:

"That the application of the Alabama State Docks Commission for a grant to establish and operate a foreign-trade zone at Mobile, Alabama, as permitted under Public 397, 73d Congress, be approved."

The Board having considered the matter;

It is ordered, Upon examination the application of the Alabama State Docks Commission for the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone at Mobile has been found to be in proper order and in compliance with the Act and the rules and regulations made thereunder. Now, therefore, the Secretary of Commerce, as Chairman and Executive Officer of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, is hereby authorized and directed to sign and issue in favor of the Alabama State Docks Commission a grant permitting the establishment, operation, and maintenance of a foreign-trade zone at Mobile, Alabama, in compliance with the application on file with the Board. It is further ordered that a copy of this grant be made a part of the record of this meeting.

GRANT TO ESTABLISH, OPERATE, AND MAINTAIN A FOREIGN-TRADE ZONE AT MOBILE, ALABAMA

Whereas, by an Act of Congress approved June 18, 1934, an Act

To provide for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of foreign-trade zones in ports of entry of the United States, to expedite and encourage foreign commerce, and for other purposes

(48 Stat. 998; U. S. C. A. Title 19 § 81a–81u), hereinafter referred to as "the Act", the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, hereinafter referred to as "the Board", is authorized and empowered to grant to corporations the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining foreign-trade zones in or adjacent to ports of entry under the jurisdiction of the United States; and,

Whereas, the Alabama State Docks Commission, a public corporation, organized and existing under the laws of the State of Alabama, having its office and principal place of business in the City of Mobile, in the State of Alabama, hereinafter referred to as "the Grantee", has made application in due and proper form to the Board for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of a foreign-trade zone, designated on the records of the Board as Zone No. Two, at Mobile, Alabama, as shown on the map accompanying said application, marked Exhibit No. 10a; and,

Whereas, notice of said application has been given and published, and full opportunity has been afforded all interested parties to be heard; and,

Whereas, the Board has found the proposed plans and location are suitable for the accomplishment of the purposes of a foreign-trade zone under the Act and that the facilities and appurtenances which in said application it is proposed to provide are sufficient;

Now, therefore, the Board, subject to the provisions, conditions, and restrictions of the Act and all of the rules and regulations made thereunder, hereby grants to the Grantee the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone, designated on the records of the Board as Zone No. Two, at the specific location mentioned above and more particularly described on the map accompanying said application, marked Exhibit No. 10a, said grant being subject to the provisions, conditions, and restrictions of the Act and of all rules and regulations made thereunder, to the same extent as though the same were fully set forth herein, and also to the following express conditions and limitations, to-wit:

The Grantee shall make no deviation from the maps, plans, specifications, drawings, and blue prints, accompanying the said application and marked Exhibits Numbers 1 to 13, inclusive, before or after completion of the structures or work involved, unless modification of such maps, plans, specifications, drawings, and blue prints, has previously been submitted to and has received the approval of the Board.

The work of construction under this grant shall commence within thirty days from the date of the grant; said work shall be diligently prosecuted to completion and the work of construction shall be completed and operation of the zone shall be commenced by the Grantee within one hundred twenty days from the date of this grant. The Grantee shall notify the United States District Engineer in whose district the zone is located of the date upon which work will begin and as far in advance thereof as the District Engineer may reasonably specify, and shall notify him promptly in writing of any suspension of construction for a period of more than one week, and of its resumption and completion.

The Grantee shall fully comply with the provisions of the laws for the protection and preservation of the navigable waters of the United States, and shall secure the authorizations and approvals of works in navigable waters of the United States required by such laws. The grant herein made shall not be construed as conveying such approval.

The Grantee shall allow officers and employees of the United States of America free and unrestricted access in, to, and throughout said zone in the performance of their official duties.

This grant shall not be construed to relieve the Grantee from liability for injury or damage to the person or property of others occasioned by the construction, operation, or maintenance of said zone, and in no event shall the United States of America be liable therefor.

In witness whereof, the Foreign-Trade Zones Board has caused its name to be signed and its seal to be affixed hereto by its Chairman and Executive Officer, DANIEL C. ROPER, at Washington, D. C., this Twenty-second day of September, 1937, pursuant to an order of the Board issued on September 22, 1937.

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONES BOARD,

Executive Secretary.

CERTIFICATE BY EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

I, Thomas E. Lyons, Executive Secretary of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, do hereby certify that the following is a true extract from the records of the proceedings of the Board of that portion of the minutes of meeting of September 22, 1937, relating to the matter hereinbefore in this grant described:

Upon examination the application of the Alabama State Docks Commission for the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone at Mobile has been found to be in proper order and in compliance with the Act and the rules and regulations made thereunder. Now, therefore, the Secretary of Commerce, as Chairman and Executive Officer of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board, is hereby authorized and directed to sign and issue in favor of the Alabama State Docks Commission a grant permitting the establishment, operation, and maintenance of a foreign-trade zone at Mobile, Alabama, in compliance with the application on file with the Board. It is further ordered that a copy of this grant be made a part of the record of this meeting.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board this Twenty-Second day of September, 1937, at Washington, D. C.

DETERMINATION OF A FARM, AND OF FARMING PRACTICES TO BE CARRIED OUT IN CONNECTION WITH THE PRODUCTION OF SUGARCANE DURING THE CROP YEAR 1937 FOR THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII, PURSUANT TO THE SUGAR ACT OF 1937

Whereas, Subsection (b) of Section 304 of the Sugar Act of 1937 provides that the Secretary shall determine what constitutes a farm for the purpose of the said act, and

Whereas, section 301 of the said act authorizes the Secretary to make payments upon certain conditions with respect to sugar or liquid sugar recoverable from the sugarcane grown on a farm for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar, and

Whereas, the condition with respect to farming practices, as stated in subsection (e) of section 301 of the said act, is:

That there shall be carried out on the farm such farming practices in connection with the production of sugar beets and sugarcane during the year in which the crop was harvested with respect to which a payment is applied for, as the Secretary may determine, pursuant to this subsection, for preserving and improving fertility of the soil and for preventing soil erosion, such practices to be consistent with reasonable standards of the farming community in which the farm is situated.

Now, Therefore, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby determine:

1. That in the case of the Territory of Hawaii, a farm means all land which is farmed by a producer, or group of producers, as a single farming unit, with cropping practices, work stock, equipment, labor, and management substantially separate from that of any other such unit.

2. That in order to meet the condition provided in the said subsection (e) of section 301 of the said act, there shall be carried out on farms in the Territory of Hawaii, in connection with the production of the 1937 crop of sugarcane, the following farming practices:

(a) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 more than 400 acres of sugarcane, the application of chemical fertilizer to sugarcane land fertilized during the calendar year 1937 in an amount not less than that required for the farms referred to in I. R. Announcement 1, issued July 28, 1937, pursuant to the provisions of Insular Region Bulletin 101, Hawaii, issued May 4, 1937.

(b) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 more than 100, but not more than 400 acres of sugarcane, the application during 1937 of an average gross weight of chemical fertilizer as defined in the said I. R. Announcement 1, to land on which sugarcane has been planted in 1937 and to land on which a crop of ratoon sugarcane has been started in 1937, in an amount not less than 400 pounds per acre of such land.

(c) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 more than 10, but not more than 100 acres of sugarcane, the application during 1937 of an average gross weight of chemical fertilizer, as defined in the said I. R. Announcement 1, to land on which sugarcane has been planted in 1937 and to land on which a crop of ratoon sugarcane has been started in 1937, in an amount not less than 200 pounds per acre of such land.

(d) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 not more than ten acres of sugarcane, (1) the application during the 1937 harvest season to the land from which sugarcane is harvested, of the tops and trash cut from such sugarcane; or (2) the carrying out on the farm of any of the soil building practices set forth in the said Insular Region Bulletin 101, Hawaii, for which payment would be made in an amount equal to at least 50¢ per acre for each acre of sugarcane growing on the farm during 1937.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of October, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Issued October 7, 1937.

DETERMINATION OF A FARM, AND OF FARMING PRACTICES TO BE CARRIED OUT IN CONNECTION WITH THE PRODUCTION OF SUGARCANE DURING THE CROP YEAR 1937-38 FOR PUERTO RICO, PURSUANT TO THE SUGAR ACT OF 1937

Whereas, Subsection (b) of Section 304 of the Sugar Act of 1937 provides that the Secretary shall determine what constitutes a farm for the purpose of the said act, and

Whereas, Section 301 of the said act authorizes the Secretary to make payments upon certain conditions with respect to sugar or liquid sugar recoverable from the sugarcane grown on a farm for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar, and

Whereas, the condition with respect to farming practices, as stated in subsection (e) of section 301 of the said act, is:

That there shall be carried out on the farm such farming practices in connection with the production of sugar beets and sugarcane during the year in which the crop was harvested with respect to which a payment is applied for, as the Secretary may determine, pursuant to this subsection, for preserving and improving fertility of the soil and for preventing soil erosion, such practices to be consistent with reasonable standards of the farming community in which the farm is situated.

Now, therefore, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby determine:

1. That in the case of Puerto Rico, a farm means all land which is farmed by a producer, or group of producers, as a single farming unit, with cropping practices, work stock, equipment, labor, and management substantially separate from that of any other such unit.

2. That in order to meet the condition provided in the said subsection (e) of section 301 of the said act, there shall be carried out in connection with the production of the 1937-38 crop of sugarcane in Puerto Rico, except in the Island of Vieques, the following farming practices:

(a) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 more than 400 acres of sugarcane, the application of chemical fertilizer to sugarcane land fertilized during the calendar year 1937 in an amount not less than that required for the farms referred to in I. R. Announcement 1, issued July 28, 1937, pursuant to the provisions of Insular Region Bulletin 101, Puerto Rico, issued May 4, 1937.

(b) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 more than 100, but not more than 400 acres of sugarcane, the application during 1937 of an average gross weight of chemical fertilizer as defined in the said I. R. Announcement 1, to land on which sugarcane has been planted in 1937 and to land on which a crop of ratoon sugarcane has been started in 1937, in an amount not less than 400 pounds per acre of such land.

(c) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 more than 10, but not more than 100 acres of sugarcane, the application during 1937 of an average gross weight of chemical fertilizer, as defined in the said I. R. Announcement 1, to land on which sugarcane has been planted in 1937 and to land on which a crop of ratoon sugarcane has been started in 1937, in an amount not less than 200 pounds per acre of such land.

(d) For farms on which there is growing at any time during the calendar year 1937 not more than ten acres of sugarcane, (1) the application during the 1937 harvest season to the land from which sugarcane is harvested, of the tops and trash cut from such sugarcane; or (2) the carrying out on the farm of any of the soil building practices set forth in the said Insular Region Bulletin 101, Puerto Rico, for which payment would be made in an amount equal to at least 50¢ per acre for each acre of sugarcane growing on the farm during 1937.

3. That in order to meet the condition provided in the said subsection (e) of section 301 in connection with the production of the 1937-38 crop of sugarcane in the Island of Vieques, there must be carried out the following agricultural practices:

(a) For farms of the acreage designated in group 2 (a) above, the required application of chemical fertilizer to sugarcane land fertilized in 1937 shall be in an amount of plant food contained in chemical fertilizer, as such plant food and chemical fertilizer are defined in the said I. R. Announcement 1, not less than the greater of either (1) 75 pounds of plant food per acre of such land, or (2) 90% of the quantity of plant food which was applied during the calendar year 1936, per acre of sugarcane land fertilized during the calendar year 1936.

(b) For farms of the acreage designated in group 2 (b) above, the application during 1937 of an average gross weight of chemical fertilizer, as defined in the said I. R. Announcement 1, to land on which sugarcane has been planted in 1937 and to land on which a crop of ratoon sugarcane has been started in 1937, in an amount not less than 200 pounds per acre of such land.

(c) For farms of the acreage designated in group 2 (c) above, the application during 1937 of an average gross weight of chemical fertilizer, as defined in the said I. R. Announcement 1, to land on which sugarcane has been planted in 1937 and to land on which a crop of ratoon sugarcane has been started in 1937, in an amount not less than 100 pounds per acre of such land.

(d) For farms of the acreage designated in group 2 (d) above, (1) the application during the 1937 grinding season to the land from which sugarcane is harvested, of the tops and trash cut from such sugarcane; or (2) the carrying out on the farm of any of the soil building practices set forth in Insular Region Bulletin 101, Puerto Rico, for which payment would be made in an amount equal to at least 50¢ per acre for each acre of sugarcane growing on the farm during 1937.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of October, 1937.

IN THE MATTER OF THOMAS F. GAGEN

ORDER OF SUSPENSION

The Commission having reasonable grounds to believe that the respondent Thomas F. Gagen, a member of the Boston Stock Exchange, a National Securities Exchange within the meaning of the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, did during the period beginning on or about May 27, 1935 and continuing to July 31, 1935, effect transactions in the capital stock of the East Boston Company on the said Exchange in violation of the provisions of Sections 9 (a) (1) and 9 (a) (2) of said Act; and

The Commission on May 4, 1936, having ordered that a hearing be held for the purpose of determining whether or not grounds exist to suspend the said respondent from membership on the said Exchange for a period not to exceed twelve months or to expel him therefrom pursuant to the provisions of Section 19 (a) (3) of said Act, as amended; and

After appropriate notice and hearing on the matter before a duly authorized trial examiner, the trial examiner having filed his report, the respondent having waived oral argument before the Commission and having consented to the entry of an order suspending him from membership on the Boston Stock Exchange for a period of twelve months beginning on the 11th day of October, 1937; and

The Commission having duly considered the matter and being of the opinion such order is necessary and appropriate for the protection of investors;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Section 19 (a) (3) of said Act;

That, effective on the 11th day of October, 1937, respondent Thomas F. Gagen, a member, as that term is defined in said Act, of the Boston Stock Exchange, a National Securities Exchange, be, and hereby is suspended from said Exchange for a period of twelve months; and

It is further ordered, That a copy of this Order be served upon the respondent herein or his counsel, and upon the Secretary of the Boston Stock Exchange.

By the Commission.

LAWS PERTAINING TO THE MANUFACTURE, FORTIFICATION, AND TAX PAYMENT OF WINE

NATURAL WINE

SEC. 610 (Act of February 24, 1919, as amended by section 11, Act of August 29, 1935, and section 330, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1310; U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1310 (d)). That natural wine within the meaning of this Act shall be deemed to be the product made from the normal alcoholic fermentation of the juice of sound, ripe grapes, without addition or abstraction, except such as may occur in the usual cellar treatment of clarifying and aging: Provided, however, That the product made from the juice of sound, ripe grapes by complete fermentation of the must under proper cellar treatment and corrected by the addition (under the supervision of a gauger or storekeeper-gauger in the capacity of gauger) of a solution of water and pure cane, beet, or dextrose sugar (containing, respectively, not less than 95 per centum of actual sugar, calculated on a dry basis) to the must or to the wine, to correct natural deficencies, when such addition shall not increase the volume of the resultant product more than 35 per centum, and the resultant product does not contain less than five parts per thousand of acid before fermentation and not more than 13 per centum of alcohol after complete fermentation shall be deemed to be wine within the meaning of this Act, and may be labeled, transported, and sold as "wine", qualified by the name of the locality where produced, and may be further qualified by the name of its own particular type or variety: And provided further, That wine as defined in this section may be sweetened with cane sugar or beet sugar or pure condensed grape must and fortified under the provisions of this Act, and wines so sweetened or fortified shall be considered sweet wine within the meaning of this Act.

FRUIT AND BERRY WINES

The provisions of the internal-revenue laws applicable to natural wine shall apply in the same manner and to the same extent to citrus fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, and apple wines, which are the products, respectively, of normal alcoholic fermentation of the juice of sound ripe (1) citrus fruit (except lemons and limes), (2) peaches, (3) cherries, (4) berries, (5) apricots, or (6) apples, with or without the addition of dry cane, beet, or dextrose sugar containing, respectively, not less than 95 per centum of actual sugar, calculated on a dry basis for the purpose of perfecting the product according to standards, but without the addition or abstraction of other substances, except as may occur in the usual cellar treatment of clarifying or aging.

AUTHORITY TO WAIVE SUPERVISION

SEC. 318 (Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934, ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1302-a). The Secretary of the Treasury may, by regulations, authorize the amelioration of wine by the winemaker and the fortification of wine, without supervision by any officer of the United States, whenever he determines that such authorization may be made without danger to the revenue.

TAX ON STILL WINES

SEC. 611 (Act of February 24, 1919, as amended by section 451, Act of May 29, 1928, section 6, Act of January 11, 1934 and section 319 (c), Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1300 (a) (1)). That upon all still wines, including vermouth, and all artificial or imitation wines or compounds sold as still wine, which are hereafter produced in or imported into the United States, or which on the day after the passage of this Act are on any winery premises or other bonded premises or in transit thereto or at any customhouse, there shall be levied, collected, and paid, in lieu of the internal revenue taxes now imposed thereon by law, taxes at rates as follows, when sold, or removed for consumption or sale:

On wines containing not more than 14 per centum of absolute alcohol, 5 cents per wine gallon, the per centum of alcohol under this section to be reckoned by volume and not by weight;

On wines containing more than 14 per centum and not exceeding 21 per centum of absolute alcohol, 10 cents per wine gallon;

On wines containing more than 21 per centum and not exceeding 24 per centum of absolute alcohol, 20 cents per wine gallon.

All such wines containing more than 24 per centum of absolute alcohol by volume shall be classed as distilled spirits and shall be taxed accordingly.

Any such wines may, under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, be sold or removed tax free for the manufacture of vinegar, or for the production of dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume.

The taxes imposed by this section shall not apply to dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume.

WITHDRAWAL OF BRANDY FOR USE IN FORTIFYING WINES—TAX ON BRANDY USED IN FORTIFYING WINES—BOND TO COVER TAX FULLY

SEC. 612 (Act of February 24, 1919, as amended by section 452, Act of May 29, 1928, section 8, Act of January 11, 1934, section 12, Act of August 29, 1935, and section 331, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1301). (a) Under such regulations and official supervision and upon the giving of such notices and entries as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, any producer of wines defined under the provisions of this title may withdraw from any fruit distillery or Internal Revenue Bonded Warehouse grape brandy, or wine spirits, for the fortification of such wines on the premises where actually made, and any producer of citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, or apple wines may similarly withdraw citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, or apple brandy for the fortification, respectively, of citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, or apple wines, on the premises where actually made: Provided, That after the date of the enactment of the Liquor Tax Administration Act there shall be levied and assessed against the producer of such wines or citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, or apple wines (in lieu of the internal-revenue tax now imposed thereon by law) a tax of 10 cents per proof-gallon of grape brandy, citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, apple brandy, or wine spirits, whenever withdrawn and so used by him after such date in the fortification of such wines, or citrus-fruit wines or peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, or apple wines during the preceding month, which assessment shall be paid by him within eighteen months from the date of notice thereof: Provided, That every producer of wine who withdraws such brandy, citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, apple brandy, or wine spirits shall give bond to fully cover at all times prior to payment of the assessment the amount of tax due on such brandy, citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, apple brandy, or wine spirits, which bond shall be in such form as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall, by regulations, prescribe. When such wines are destroyed or sold or removed for the manufacture of vinegar, or the production of dealcoholized wines, containing less than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume, the tax under this section on such grape brandy, citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, apple brandy, or wine spirits shall, under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe be abated or refunded.

(b) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as exempting any wines, citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, apple wines, cordials, liqueurs, or similar compounds from the payment of any tax provided for in this title.

(c) Any such wines, or citrus-fruit wines, or peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, apple wines, may, under such regulations as the Secretary may prescribe, be sold or removed tax free for the manufacture of vinegar, or for the production of dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume.

(d) The taxes imposed by this section shall not apply to dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume.

TAX ON CHAMPAGNE AND SPARKLING WINES

SEC. 613 (Act of February 24, 1919, as amended by section 7, Act of January 11, 1934, section 13, Act of August 29, 1935, and section 319 (d), Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1300 (a) (2)). (a) Upon the following articles which are produced in or imported into the United States, after the date of the enactment of the Liquor Tax Administration Act, or which on the day after such date are on any winery premises or other bonded premises or in transit thereto or at any customhouse, there shall be levied, collected, and paid, in lieu of the internal-revenue taxes imposed thereon by law prior to such date, taxes at rates as follows, when sold, or removed for consumption or sale:

On each bottle or other container of champagne or sparkling wine, 2½ cents on each one-half pint or fraction thereof;

On each bottle or other container of artificially carbonated wine, 1¼ cents on each one-pint or fraction thereof:

On each bottle or other container of liqueurs, cordials, or similar compounds, by whatever name sold or offered for sale, containing sweet wine, citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, or apple wine, fortified, respectively, with grape brandy, citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, or apple brandy, 1¼ cents on each one-half pint or fraction thereof;

Any of the foregoing articles containing more than 24 per centum of absolute alcohol by volume (except vermouth, liqueurs, cordials, and similar compounds made in rectifying plants and containing tax-paid sweet wine, citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, or apple wine, fortified respectively, with grape brandy, citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, or apple brandy) shall be classed as distilled spirits and shall be taxed accordingly.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to remit, refund, and pay back the amount of all taxes on such liqueurs, cordials, and similar compounds paid by or assessed against rectifiers at the distilled spirits rate prior to the date of the enactment of the Liquor Tax Administration Act.

WINE TAX TO BE PAID BY STAMP—NOTICE AND BOND

SEC. 616 (Act of February 24, 1919, as amended by section 338, Act of June 26, 1936 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1300 (b) (1) and Sup. II, title 26, sections 1300 (a) (1) and 1306). That the taxes imposed by section 611 or 613 shall be paid by stamp on removal of the wines from the customhouse, winery, or other bonded place of storage for consumption or sale, and every person hereafter producing, or having in his possession or under his control when this title takes effect, any wines subject to the tax imposed in section 611 or 613 shall file such notice, describing the premises on which such wines are produced or stored; shall execute a bond in such form; shall make such inventories under oath; and shall, prior to sale or removal for consumption, affix to each cask, barrel, bottle, or other immediate container, and to each case or other shipping container, of such wine, such marks, labels, or stamps as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe as to each; and the premises described in such notice shall, for the purpose of this Act, be regarded as bonded premises. But the provisions of this section, except as to payment of tax and the affixing of the required stamps or labels, shall not apply to wines held by retail dealers, as defined in section 3244 of the Revised Statutes, nor, subject to regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall the tax imposed by section 611 apply to wines produced for the family use of the duly registered producer thereof and not sold or otherwise removed from the place of manufacture and not exceeding in any case two hundred gallons per year.

USE OF WINE SPIRITS IN PRODUCTION OF SWEET WINES

SEC. 42 (Act of October 1, 1890, as amended by section 68, Act of August 27, 1894, section 617, Act of February 24, 1919, section 14, Act of August 29, 1935, and section 332, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1302 (a) and Sup. II, title 26, sections 1301 (e) and 1302 (a)). That any producer of pure sweet wines may use in the preparation of such sweet wines, under such regulations and after the filing of such notices and bonds, together with the keeping of such records and the rendition of such reports as to materials and products as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may prescribe, wine spirits produced by any duly authorized distiller, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in determining the liability of any distiller of wine spirits to assessment under section 3309 of the Revised Statutes, is authorized to allow such distiller credit in his computations for the wine spirits withdrawn to be used in fortifying sweet wines under this Act.

USE OF CITRUS-FRUIT BRANDY IN FORTIFYING CITRUS-FRUIT WINES

The provisions of this section and section 43 shall apply to the use of citrus-fruit brandy in the preparation of fortified citrus-fruit wines in the same manner and to the same extent as such provisions apply to the use of wine spirits in the fortification of sweet wines, except that no brandy (other than a citrus-fruit brandy) may be used in the fortification of citrus-fruit wine and a citrus-fruit brandy prepared from one kind of citrus fruit may not be used for the fortification of a citrus-fruit wine prepared from another kind of citrus fruit or for the fortification of a wine prepared from any fruit other than citrus fruit.

USE OF FRUIT AND BERRY BRANDIES IN FORTIFYING FRUIT AND BERRY WINES

The provisions of this section and section 43 shall apply to the use of peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, and apple brandy, in the preparation, respectively, of fortified peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, and apple wines, in the same manner and to the same extent as such provisions apply to the use of wine spirits in the fortification of sweet wines; except that (1) no brandy other than peach brandy may be used in the fortification of peach wine and peach brandy may not be used for the fortification of any wine other than peach wine, (2) no brandy other than cherry brandy may be used in the fortification of cherry wine and cherry brandy may not be used for the fortification of any wine other than cherry wine, (3) no brandy other than berry brandy may be used in the fortification of berry wine and a berry brandy prepared from one kind of berry may not be used for the fortification of a berry wine prepared from another kind of berry or for the fortification of any wine other than berry wine, (4) no brandy other than apricot brandy may be used in the fortification of apricot wine and apricot brandy may not be used for the fortification of any wine other than apricot wine, and (5) no brandy other than apple brandy may be used in the fortification of apple wine and apple brandy may not be used for the fortification of any wine other than apple wine.

WINE SPIRITS—PURE SWEET WINES

SEC. 43 (Act of October 1, 1890, amended by section 68, Act of August 27, 1894, and section 617, Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1302 (d)). That the wine spirits mentioned in section 42 is the product resulting from the distillation of fermented grape juice, to which water may have been added prior to, during, or after fermentation, for the sole purpose of facilitating the fermentation and economical distillation thereof, and shall be held to include the product from grapes or their residues commonly known as grape brandy, and shall include commercial grape brandy which may have been colored with burnt sugar or caramel; and the pure sweet wine which may be fortified with wine spirits under the provisions of this act is fermented or partially fermented grape juice only, with the usual cellar treatment, and shall contain no other substance whatever introduced before, at the time of, or after fermentation, except as herein expressly provided: Provided, That the addition of pure boiled or condensed grape must or pure crystallized cane or beet sugar, or pure dextrose sugar containing, respectively, not less than 95 per centum of actual sugar, calculated on a dry basis, or water, or any or all of them, to the pure grape juice before fermentation, or to the fermented product of such grape juice, or to both, prior to the fortification herein provided for, either for the purpose of perfecting sweet wines according to commercial standards or for mechanical purposes, shall not be excluded by the definition of pure sweet wine aforesaid: Provided, however, That the cane or beet sugar, or pure dextrose sugar added for sweetening purposes shall not be in excess of 11 per centum of the weight of the wine to be fortified: And provided further, That the addition of water herein authorized shall be under such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may from time to time prescribe: Provided, however, That records kept in accordance with such regulations as to the percentage of saccharine, acid, alcoholic, and added water content of the wine offered for fortification shall be open to inspection by any official of the Department of Agriculture thereto duly authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture; but in no case shall such wines to which water has been added be eligible for fortification under the provisions of this act, where the same, after fermentation and before fortification, have an alcoholic strength of less than 5 per centum of their volume.

WITHDRAWAL OF WINE SPIRITS FOR USE IN FORTIFYING PURE SWEET WINES—WHERE WINES MAY BE FORTIFIED—GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION OF FORTIFYING WINES

SEC. 45 (Act of October 1, 1890, as amended by section 68, Act of August 27, 1894, and section 617, Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1302 (b) and (c)). That under such regulations and official supervision, and upon the execution of such entries and the giving of such bonds, bills of lading, and other security as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe, any producer of pure sweet wines as defined by this act may withdraw wine spirits from any special bonded warehouse in original packages or from any registered distillery in any quantity not less than eighty wine gallons, and may use so much of the same as may be required by him under such regulations, and after the filing of such notices and bonds and the keeping of such records and the rendition of such reports as to materials and products and the disposition of the same as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe in fortifying the pure sweet wines made by him, and for no other purpose, in accordance with the foregoing limitations and provisions; and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized whenever he shall deem it to be necessary for the prevention of violations of this law to prescribe that wine spirits withdrawn under this section shall not be used to fortify wines except at a certain distance prescribed by him from any distillery, rectifying house, winery, or other establishment used for producing or storing distilled spirits, or for making or storing wines other than wines which are so fortified, and that in the building in which such fortification of wines is practiced no wines or spirits other than those permitted by this regulation shall be stored in any room or part of the building in which fortification of wines is practiced. The use of wine spirits for the fortification of sweet wines under this act shall be under the immediate supervision of an officer of internal revenue, who shall make returns describing the kinds and quantities of wine so fortified, and shall affix such stamps and seals to the packages containing such wines as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury; and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall provide by regulations the time within which wines so fortified with the wine spirits so withdrawn may be subject to inspection, and for final accounting for the use of such wine spirits and for rewarehousing or for payment of the tax on any portion of such wine spirits which remain not used in fortifying pure sweet wines.

FILTERING, CLARIFYING, OR PURIFYING—MANUFACTURE OF VERMOUTH

SEC. 319 (b) (Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1151 (e) and (f)). Section 605 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, is amended by adding at the end thereof two new paragraphs reading as follows:

"The filtering, clarifying, or purifying of wines on bonded winery premises or bonded storeroom premises shall not be deemed to be rectification within the meaning of paragraph 'Third' of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, sec. 1398 (f)). The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe such regulations under this section as he deems necessary.

"The manufacture of vermouth with fortified sweet wine on bonded winery premises shall not be deemed to be rectification within the meaning of paragraph 'Third' of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes, if distilled spirits are not added to the fortified sweet wine used in the manufacture thereof or to such vermouth during or after its manufacture. Such vermouth may be manufactured on bonded winery premises, but only in a separate department thereof having no interior communication with any other department or part of such premises, under such supervision and in accordance with such regulations as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe."

TRANSFER OF WINE IN BOND

SEC. 618 (Act of February 24, 1919, as amended by section 334, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1303, and Sup. II, title 26, section 1304). (a) That under such regulations and upon the execution of such notices, entries, bonds, and other security as the commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, domestic wines subject to the tax imposed by section 611 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1300 (a) (1)) may be removed from the winery where produced, free of tax, for storage on other bonded premises or from such premises to other bonded premises (but not more than one such additional removal shall be allowed), or for exportation from the United States, or for use as distilling material at any regularly registered distillery: Provided, however, That the distiller using any such wine as material shall, subject to the provisions of section 3309 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1197), be held to pay the tax on the product of such wines as will include both the alcoholic strength therein produced by fermentation and that obtained from the brandy or wine spirits added to such wines at the time of fortification.

WINES FOR USE AS DISTILLING MATERIAL

(b) Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, it shall be lawful to produce grape wines, citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, and apple wines on bonded winery premises by the usual method, and to transport and use the same, and like wines heretofore produced and now stored on bonded winery premises, as distilling material in any fruit-brandy distillery or industrial-alcohol plant.

ASSESSMENT OF TAX ON IMPORTED WINES

SEC. 619 (Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1300 (b) (2)). That the collection of the tax on imported still wines, including vermouth, and sparkling wines, including champagne, and on imported liqueurs, cordials, and similar compounds, may be made within the discretion of the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, by assessment instead of by stamps.

NOT TO COMMENCE OR CONTINUE BUSINESS UNTIL BOND IS APPROVED

SEC. 67 (Act of August 27, 1894, as amended by section 305, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1166 (c)). (a) No individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, intending to commence or to continue the business of a distiller, rectifier, brewer, or winemaker, shall commence or continue the business of a distiller, rectifier, brewer, or winemaker until all bonds in respect of such a business, required by any provision of law, have been approved by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or such other officer of the Bureau of Internal Revenue as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may designate.

DISAPPROVAL OF BOND

(b) The Commissioner or the designated officer may disapprove any such bond or bonds if the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the same, or owning, controlling, or actively participating in the management of the business of the individual or firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the same, shall have been previously convicted, in a court of competent jurisdiction, of (1) any fraudulent noncompliance with any provision of any law of the United States if such provision related to internal-revenue or customs taxation of distilled spirits, wines, or fermented malt liquors, or if such an offense shall have been compromised, with the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association upon payment of penalties or otherwise, or (2) any felony under a law of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or the United States, prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation, or transportation of distilled spirits, wine, fermented malt liquor, or other intoxicating liquor.

(c) In case the disapproval is by any officer other than the Commissioner, the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the bond may appeal from such disapproval to the Commissioner.

(d) The disapproval of the Commissioner in any matter under this section shall be final.

PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF WINE LAWS—BLENDING OF WINES—USE OF ALCOHOL IN FORTIFYING WINES

SEC. 620 (Act of February 24, 1919, as amended by section 335, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1309). That whoever evades or attempts to evade any tax imposed by sections 611 to 615, both inclusive, or any requirement of sections 610 to 621, both inclusive, or regulation issued pursuant thereto, or whoever, otherwise than as provided in such sections, recovers or attempts to recover any spirits from domestic or imported wine, shall, on conviction, be punished for each such offense by a fine of not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, and in addition thereto by a penalty of double the tax evaded, or attempted to be evaded, to be assessed and collected in the same manner as taxes are assessed and collected, and all wines, spirits, liqueurs, cordials, or similar compounds as to which such violation occurs shall be forfeited to the United States. But the provisions of this section and the provisions of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, relating to rectification, or other internal revenue laws of the United States, shall not be held to apply to or prohibit the mixing or blending of wines subject to tax under the provisions of sections 611 to 615, both inclusive, with each other or with other wines for the sole purpose of perfecting such wines according to commercial standards: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting the use of tax-paid grain or other ethyl alcohol in the fortification of sweet wines as defined in section 610 of this Act and section 43 of the Act entitled "An Act to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved October 1, 1890, as amended by this Act.

SPIRIT METERS, LOCKS AND SEALS—SUPERVISION BY GOVERNMENT OFFICERS

SEC. 621 (Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, sections 1307, 1308). That the Commissioner, by regulations to be approved by the Secretary, may require the use at each fruit distillery of such spirit meters, and such locks and seals to be affixed to fermenters, tanks, or other vessels and to such pipe connections as may in his judgment be necessary or expedient, and is hereby authorized to assign to any such distillery and to each winery where wines are to be fortified such number of gaugers or storekeeper-gaugers in the capacity of gaugers as may be necessary for the proper supervision of the manufacture of brandy or the making or fortifying of wines subject to tax imposed by this section; and the compensation of such officers shall not exceed $5 per diem while so assigned, together with their actual and necessary traveling expenses, and also a reasonable allowance for their board bills, to be fixed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, but not to exceed $2.50 per diem for such board bills.

ALLOWANCE FOR LOSSES OF WINE

SEC. 622 (Act of February 24, 1919 (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1305). That the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, is hereby authorized to make such allowances for unavoidable loss of wines while on storage or during cellar treatment as in his judgment may be just and proper.

BRANDY DISTILLERS' EXEMPTION—USE OF WINE ARTIFICIALLY SWEETENED

SEC. 3255 (Revised Statutes, as amended by Act of June 3, 1896, Act of March 2, 1911, section 404, Act of September 8, 1916, section 625, Act of February 24, 1919, section 15, Act of August 29, 1935, and section 333, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1176). The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, may exempt distillers of brandy made exclusively from apples, peaches, grapes, oranges, pears, pineapples, apricots, berries, plums, pawpaws, persimmons, prunes, figs, cherries, dates, or citrus fruits (except lemons and limes) from any provision of the internal-revenue laws relating to the manufacture of spirits, except as to the tax thereon, when in his judgment it may seem expedient to do so: Provided, That where, in the manufacture of wine or citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, or apple wine, artificial sweetening has been used, the wine, or the fruit pomace residuum thereof, or the citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, or apple wine may be used in the distillation of brandy or citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, or apple brandy, as the case may be, and such use shall not prevent the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, from exempting such distiller from any provision of the internal-revenue laws relating to the manufacture of spirits, except as to the tax thereon, when in his judgment it may seem expedient to do so: And provided further, That the distillers mentioned in this section may add to not less than five hundred gallons (ten barrels) of grape cheese not more than five hundred gallons of a sugar solution made from cane, beet, starch, or corn sugar, 95 per centum pure, such solution to have a saccharine strength of not to exceed 10 per centum, and may ferment the resultant mixture on a winery or distillery premises, and such fermented product shall be regarded as distilling material.

LAWS APPLICABLE

SEC. 1305 (Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, sections 1345, 1349). That all administrative, special, or stamp provisions of law, including the law relating to the assessment of taxes, so far as applicable, are hereby extended to and made a part of this Act, and every person liable to any tax imposed by this Act, or for the collection thereof, shall keep such records and render, under oath, such statements and returns, and shall comply with such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe.

Whenever in the judgment of the Commissioner necessary, he may require any person, by notice served upon him, to make a return or such statements as he deems sufficient to show whether or not such person is liable to tax.

EXAMINATION OF BOOKS AND RECORDS

The Commissioner, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any return or for the purpose of making a return where none has been made, is hereby authorized, by any revenue agent or inspector designated by him for that purpose, to examine any books, papers, records or memoranda bearing upon the matters required to be included in the return, and may require the attendance of the person rendering the return or of any officer or employee of such person, or the attendance of any other person having knowledge in the premises, and may take his testimony with reference to the matter required by law to be included in such return, with power to administer oaths to such person or persons.

PENALTY FOR NONCOMPLIANCE WITH TAX LAWS

SEC. 1308 (Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1347 (b)). (a) That any person required under Titles V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, or XII, to pay, or to collect, account for and pay over any tax, or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return or supply any information for the purposes of the computation, assessment or collection of any such tax, who fails to pay, collect, or truly account for and pay over any such tax, make any such return, or supply any such information at the time or times required by law or regulation shall in addition to other penalties provided by law be subject to a penalty of not more than $1,000.

(b) Any person who willfully refuses to pay, collect, or truly account for and pay over any such tax, make such return or supply such information at the time or times required by law or regulation, or who willfully attempts in any manner to evade such tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and in addition to other penalties provided by law shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

DEFINITION OF TERM "PERSON"

(d) The term "person" as used in this section includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

COMMISSIONER TO MAKE REGULATIONS

SEC. 1309 (Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1350). That the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, is hereby authorized to make all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

ATTESTATION TO RETURNS

The Commissioner with such approval may by regulation provide that any return required by Titles V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, or X to be under oath may, if the amount of the tax covered thereby is not in excess of $10, be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses instead of under oath.

BONDED MANUFACTURING WAREHOUSES

SEC. 311 (Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by section 404, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 19, section 1311 and Sup. II, Title 19, section 1311). All articles manufactured in whole or in part of imported materials, or of materials subject to internal-revenue tax, and intended for exportation without being charged with duty, and without having an internal-revenue stamp affixed thereto, shall, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, in order to be so manufactured and exported, be made and manufactured in bonded warehouses similar to those known and designated in Treasury regulations as bonded warehouses, class six: Provided, That the manufacturer of such articles shall first give satisfactory bonds for the faithful observance of all the provisions of law and of such regulations as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided further, That the manufacture of distilled spirits from grain, starch, molasses, or sugar, including all dilutions or mixtures of them or either of them, shall not be permitted in such manufacturing warehouses.

TRANSFER TO BONDED MANUFACTURING WAREHOUSES WITHOUT PAYMENT OF TAX

Any materials used in the manufacture of such goods, and any packages, coverings, vessels, brands, and labels used in putting up the same may, under the regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury, be conveyed without the payment of revenue tax or duty into any bonded manufacturing warehouse, and imported goods may, under the aforesaid regulations be transferred without the exaction of duty from any bonded warehouse into any bonded manufacturing warehouse; but this privilege shall not be held to apply to implements machinery or apparatus to be used in the construction or repair of any bonded manufacturing warehouse or for the prosecution of the business carried on therein.

USE OF WINES IN BONDED MANUFACTURING WAREHOUSES

Distilled spirits and wines which are rectified in bonded manufacturing warehouses, class six, and distilled spirits which are reduced in proof and bottled in such warehouses, shall be deemed to have been manufactured within the meaning of this section, and may be withdrawn as hereinbefore provided, and likewise for shipment in bond to Puerto Rico, subject to the provisions of this section, and under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, there to be withdrawn for consumption or be rewarehoused and subsequently withdrawn for consumption: Provided, That upon withdrawal in Puerto Rico for consumption, the duties imposed by the customs laws of the United States shall be collected on all imported merchandise (in its condition as imported) and imported containers used in the manufacture and putting up of such spirits and wines in such warehouses: Provided further, That no internal-revenue tax shall be imposed on distilled spirits and wines rectified in class six warehouses if such distilled spirits and wines are exported or shipped in accordance with the provisions of this section, and that no person rectifying distilled spirits or wines in such warehouses shall be subject by reason of such rectification to the payment of special tax as a rectifier.

TAX NOT TO APPLY ON ARTICLES FOR EXPORT

SEC. 1310 (Act of February 24, 1919) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1352). (c) Under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary may prescribe, the taxes imposed under the provisions of Titles VI, VII, or IX shall not apply in respect to articles sold or leased for export and in due course so exported. Under such rules and regulations the amount of any internal revenue tax erroneously or illegally collected in respect to exported articles may be refunded to the exporter of the article, instead of to the manufacturer, if the manufacturer waives any claim for the amount so to be refunded.

RIGHT OF ENTRY OF GOVERNMENT OFFICERS

SEC. 3177 (Revised Statutes) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1501). Any collector, deputy collector, or inspector may enter, in the daytime, any building or place where any articles or objects subject to tax are made, produced, or kept, within his district, so far as it may be necessary for the purpose of examining said articles or objects. And any owner of such building or place, or person having the agency or superintendence of the same, who refuses to admit such officer, or to suffer him to examine such article or articles, shall, for every such refusal, forfeit $500. And when such premises are open at night, such officers may enter them while so open, in the performance of their official duties. And if any person shall forcibly obstruct or hinder any collector, deputy collector, or inspector, in the execution of any power and authority vested in him by law, or shall forcibly rescue or cause to be rescued any property, articles, or objects after the same shall have been seized by him, or shall attempt or endeavor so to do, the person so offending, excepting in cases otherwise provided for, shall, for every such offense, forfeit and pay the sum of $500, or double the value of the property so rescued, or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding two years, at the discretion of the court.

ALLOWANCE FOR ACCIDENTAL LOSS OF SPIRITS

SEC. 3221 (Revised Statutes, as amended by section 6, Act of March 1, 1879) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1275 (b)). The Secretary of the Treasury, upon the production to him of satisfactory proof of the actual destruction by accidental fire or other casualty, and without any fraud, collusion, or negligence of the owner thereof, of any distilled spirits, while the same remained in the custody of any officer of internal revenue in any distillery warehouse, or bonded warehouse of the United States and before the tax thereon has been paid, may abate the amount of internal taxes accruing thereon, and may cancel any warehouse bond, or enter satisfaction thereon, in whole or in part, as the case may be. And if such taxes have been collected since the destruction of said spirits, the said Secretary shall refund the same to the owners thereof out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. And when any distilled spirits are hereafter destroyed by accidental fire or other casualty, without any fraud, collusion, or negligence of the owner thereof, after the time when the same should have been drawn off by the gauger and placed in the distillery warehouse provided by law, no tax shall be collected on such spirits so destroyed, or if collected, it shall be refunded upon the production of satisfactory proof that the spirits were destroyed as herein specified.

INSURANCE ON SPIRITS LOST BY ACCIDENT

SEC. 3223 (Revised Statutes, as amended by section 3, Act of March 1, 1879) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1275 (b)). When the owners of distilled spirits in the cases provided for by the two preceding sections may be indemnified against such tax by a valid claim of insurance for a sum greater than the actual value of the distilled spirits before and without the tax being paid, the tax shall not be remitted to the extent of such insurance.

ACCIDENTAL LOSS OF GRAPE BRANDY

SEC. 5 (Act of June 7, 1906) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1275 (b)). That the provisions of sections 3221 and 3223 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended by an Act approved March 1, 1879, are hereby extended to grape brandy withdrawn for use in the fortification of sweet wines, and which, prior to such use, is accidentally destroyed by fire or other casualty while stored in the fortifying room on the winery premises.

LOSS OF SPIRITS BY THEFT

SEC. 16 (Act of August 27, 1935) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 27, section 166). If distilled spirits upon which the internal revenue tax has not been paid are lost by theft, accidental fire, or other casualty while in possession of a common carrier subject to the Transportation Act of 1920 or the Merchant Marine Act, 1920, or if lost by theft from a distillery or other bonded warehouse, and it shall be made to appear to the Commissioner that such losses did not occur as the result of negligence, connivance, collusion, or fraud on the part of the owner or person legally accountable for such distilled spirits, no tax shall be assessed or collected upon the distilled spirits so lost, nor shall any tax penalty be imposed or collected by reason of such loss, but the exemption from the tax and penalty shall only be allowed to the extent that the claimant is not indemnified against or recompensed for such loss. This provision shall apply to any claim for taxes or tax penalties that may have accrued since the passage of the National Prohibition Act or that may accrue hereafter. Nothing in this section shall be construed as in any manner limiting or restricting the provisions of Title III of the National Prohibition Act.

RETAIL LIQUOR DEALER'S TAX

SEC. 323 (Act of June 26, 1936). Paragraph "Fourth" of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, sec. 1394 (a) and (b) (1), and sec. 1398 (a) and (b)), is amended to read as follows:

"Fourth. (a) Retail dealers in liquors shall pay a special tax of $25. Every person who sells, or offers for sale, foreign or domestic distilled spirits, wines, or malt liquors, otherwise than as hereinafter provided, in less quantities than five wine gallons to the same person at the same time, shall be regarded as a retail dealer in liquors: Provided, That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may, by regulations, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, provide for the issuance of a stamp denoting payment of such special tax as a 'retail dealer in wines' or a 'retail dealer in wines and malt liquors' if, as the case may be, wines only, or wines and malt liquors only, are sold by a retail dealer in liquors: And provided further, That the tax required to be paid by this paragraph shall, in case of a retail drug store or pharmacy making sales of liquors through a duly licensed pharmacist, be designated as a 'medicinal spirit stamp tax': And provided further, That any retail dealer in liquors or retail dealer in malt liquors whose business is such as to require him to travel from place to place in different States of the United States may, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, procure a special tax stamp 'At Large' covering his activities throughout the United States with the payment of but one special tax as a retail dealer in liquors or as a retail dealer in malt liquors, as the case may be (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, sections 1934 (b) (1) and 1398 (b).)

WHOLESALE LIQUOR DEALER'S TAX

"(b) Wholesale dealers in liquors shall pay a special tax of $100. Every person who sells, or offers for sale, foreign or domestic distilled spirits, wines, or malt liquors, otherwise than as hereinafter provided, in quantities of five wine gallons or more to the same person at the same time, shall be regarded as a wholesale dealer in liquors: Provided, That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may, by regulations, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, provide for the issuance of a stamp denoting payment of such special tax as a 'wholesale dealer in wines' or a 'wholesale dealer in wines and malt liquors' if, as the case may be, wines only, or wines and malt liquors only, are sold by a wholesale dealer in liquors. A qualified wholesale dealer in liquors may not sell distilled spirits, wines, or malt liquors in quantities of less than five wine gallons without incurring liability to special tax as a retail dealer in liquors. A qualified retail dealer in liquors may not sell such liquors in quantities of five wine gallons or more to the same person at the same time without incurring liability to special tax as a wholesale dealer in liquors. But no distiller who has given the required bond and who sells only distilled spirits of his own production at the place of manufacture, or at the place of storage in bond, in the original packages to which the tax-paid stamps are affixed, shall be required to pay the special tax of a wholesale dealer in liquors on account of such sales. (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, sections 1394 (a) (1) and (2) and 1398 (a).)

"(c) No retail dealer in liquors shall be held to be a wholesale dealer in liquors solely by reason of sales of five wine gallons or more to the same person at the same time if such sales are for immediate consumption on the premises where sold. (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1398 (b).)

"(d) No wholesale or retail dealer in liquors who has paid the special tax as such a dealer shall again be required to pay special tax as such dealer on account of sales of beer, lager beer, ale, porter, or other similar fermented malt liquor to wholesale or retail dealers in liquors or wholesale or retail dealers in malt liquors consummated at the purchaser's place of business covered by the stamp issued to him to denote the payment of the special tax imposed upon such dealers." (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1394 (a) (3).)

SPECIAL TAX EXEMPTION OF WINEMAKER

SEC. 3246 (Revised Statutes, as amended by section 5, Act of March 1, 1879, Act of March 3, 1915, and section 328, Act of June 26, 1936) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Sup. II, title 26, section 1394 (g)). (a) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to impose a special tax upon winemakers who have qualified as such under the internal-revenue laws and regulations, and who sell wines of their own production where the same are made or at the general business office of such winemaker: Provided, That no winemaker shall have more than one place of business for the sale of such wine that shall be exempt from the special tax.

AUTHORITY CONFERRED ON THE SECRETARY

SEC. 161 (Revised Statutes) (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 5, section 22). The head of each department is authorized to prescribe regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the government of his department, the conduct of its officers and clerks, the distribution and performance of its business, and the custody, use, and preservation of the records, papers, and property appertaining to it.

[T. D. No. 4662]

DUTIES TO BE PERFORMED BY THE ALCOHOL TAX UNIT, BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE

To Officers and Employees of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Collectors of Internal Revenue, and Others Concerned:

(1) Pursuant to section 161, R. S. (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 5, section 22), the Alcohol Tax Unit is charged with the administration, under the direction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, of the laws and regulations concerning the following subjects:

(a) The production, custody, and supervision of distilled spirits, alcohol, wines, fermented liquors, cereal beverages, denatured alcohol, and other such liquors and liquids;

(b) The establishment, construction, operation, custody, and supervision of distilleries, industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses, denaturing plants, wineries, bonded wine storerooms, breweries, rectifying houses, dealcoholizing plants, cereal beverage plants, and other places at which such spirits, liquors, or liquids are produced or stored;

(c) The determination, assertion, and assessment of all internal revenue taxes and penalties pertaining to distilled spirits, alcohol, wines, fermented liquors, cereal beverages, denatured alcohol, denatured rum, and articles containing denatured alcohol or denatured rum, and other such liquors and liquids, and the compromise thereof, except that all moneys shall be received and accounted for by the collectors of internal revenue under the direction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue;

(d) Inquiries and investigations relating to the filing of returns for occupational and commodity taxes and penalties in respect to distilled spirits, alcohol, wines, fermented liquors, cereal beverages, denatured alcohol, denatured rum, and articles containing denatured alcohol or denatured rum, and other such liquors and liquids;

(e) The investigation, prevention, and detection of violations of the laws pertaining to distilled spirits, alcohol, wines, fermented liquors, cereal beverages, denatured alcohol, denatured rum, or articles containing denatured alcohol or denatured rum, and other such liquors and liquids, or any regulations issued thereunder, and the apprehension of offenders against such laws;

(f) The detention and seizure, for violation of laws relating to distilled spirits, alcohol, wines, fermented liquors, cereal beverages, denatured alcohol, denatured rum, and articles containing denatured alcohol or denatured rum, and other such liquors and liquids, of property, whether real or personal (except seizure under distraint warrant), and the custody, control, sale and disposition of property so seized;

(g) The discharge of liens under section 902 of the Revenue Act of 1926;

(h) The regulation of the size, branding, marking, sale, resale, possession, use, and reuse of containers (of a capacity of less than five wine gallons) designed or intended for use for the sale at retail of distilled spirits; the issuance, suspension and revocation of permits for the manufacture, storage, procurement and transportation of such containers; and the investigation, prevention, and detection of violations of the laws or regulations pertaining to such containers;

(i) The filing of correct returns by every person disposing of any substance of the character used in the manufacture of distilled spirits; the filing of correct returns by every person disposing of any denatured alcohol, denatured rum, or articles containing denatured alcohol or denatured rum; and the keeping of records of the disposition of such substances, denatured alcohol, denatured rum, and articles containing denatured alcohol or denatured rum.

2. Pursuant to section 5 of the "Liquor Enforcement Act of 1936," there are hereby conferred and imposed upon the Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue in charge of the Alcohol Tax Unit, and the assistants, inspectors, and agents under his supervision, subject to the direction of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and subject to regulations prescribed by him with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, all the rights, privileges, powers, duties, and protection conferred and imposed upon the Secretary of the Treasury, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or any other officer or employee of the Treasury Department by any law now or hereafter in force relating to the taxation, transportation, manufacture, possession, or use of, or traffic in distilled spirits, wines, fermented liquors, or denatured alcohol, in so far as they relate to the duties to be performed by the Alcohol Tax Unit as enumerated in paragraph 1 hereof.

3. Except as has been, or may hereafter be, otherwise provided, all regulations prescribed, all orders and instructions issued, and all forms adopted for the enforcement of the laws heretofore administered by the Commissioner of Industrial Alcohol or the Bureau of Industrial Alcohol, and assistants, inspectors, and agents thereunder, and remaining in effect after the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, will continue in effect as regulations, orders, instructions, and forms of the Bureau of Internal Revenue: Provided, That the term "Commissioner" or "Commissioner of Industrial Alcohol" and the term "Supervisor" or "Supervisor of permits," wherever used in such regulations, orders, instructions, and forms, shall be held to mean, respectively, "Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue" and "District supervisor."

GUY T. HELVERING,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved July 3, 1936.

WAYNE C. TAYLOR,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

PART 1—REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION OF WINES

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF REGULATIONS

PARAGRAPH 1. Manufacture of wine.—These regulations are prescribed pursuant to the provisions of law governing the production, distribution, and tax-payment of wine.

ARTICLE II—REGULATIONS SUPERSEDED

PAR. 2. Regulations superseded.—These regulations shall, on and after the date of approval thereof, supersede Regulations 7, approved March 6, 1930 (except Part Three), and all amendments and modifications thereof.

ARTICLE III—DEFINITIONS

PAR. 3. Definitions.—As used in these regulations, the following words and phrases shall have the meanings as herein defined:

(a) "Must" and "juice" shall mean the unfermented juice as expressed from grapes or other authorized fruits.

(c) "Pure sweet wine" shall mean wine produced in accordance with section 43 of the Act of October 1, 1890, as amended.

(e) "Vermouth" shall mean vermouth manufactured in accordance with the last paragraph of section 605 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended.

(f) "Dry wine" shall mean unfortified wine.

(i) "Still wine" shall mean noneffervescent wine and includes both dry and sweet wine.

(n) "Collector" shall mean collector of internal revenue.

(p) "Winemaker" shall mean the proprietor of a bonded winery or bonded storeroom.

(q) "Person," "proprietor," or "winemaker" shall include natural persons, associations, copartnerships, and corporations.

(r) Words in the plural form shall include the singular and words in the masculine gender shall include females, associations, copartnerships, and corporations.

(s) "Wine," when used without qualification, includes champagne and other sparkling wines, artificially carbonated wine, and vermouth produced on bonded winery premises.

ARTICLE IV—BONDED PREMISES

PAR. 4. Bonded wineries and bonded storerooms.—For the purpose of these regulations, bonded premises where wines are produced will be designated as bonded wineries, and bonded premises where wines are stored in bond will be designated bonded storerooms and bonded field warehouses.

PAR. 5. Registry numbers.—Bonded premises will be numbered serially by district supervisors in the order of establishment. A separate series will be used for each State within a supervisory district. Registry numbers will be assigned to new wineries and storerooms in sequence to numbers heretofore assigned. Registry numbers assigned to wineries and storerooms now operating will be retained.

PAR. 6. Discontinued premises.—Registry numbers of discontinued premises will not be assigned to other premises. In the case of a successor taking over the winery or storeroom the same registry number will be retained.

PAR. 7. Bonded field warehouses.—Responsible warehouse companies may establish bonded storerooms designated bonded field warehouses, for the storage of wine for credit purposes. A bonded field warehouse must be contiguous or adjacent to a bonded winery and may receive wines only from such winery. The baking of wine is permitted at bonded field warehouses. The provisions of these regulations relating to bonded storerooms shall, except as otherwise indicated, apply to bonded field warehouses.

ARTICLE V—USE OF BONDED PREMISES

PAR. 8. Winery not used for other purposes.—The winery must be used exclusively for the production and storage of wine, and no materials, liquids, or liquors other than those used in the manufacture, amelioration, or fortification of wine may be produced or stored on the premises: Provided, however, That juice, concentrate, and sirup may be made from grapes and other authorized fruits, and stored on the premises if record is kept of the quantities of grapes and other authorized fruits used therefor and the quantities of such materials produced, stored, and removed from the premises. Bonded storeroom premises must be used exclusively for the storage of wines, except that wines may at both wineries and storerooms be subjected to the usual cellar treatment, including blending, clarification, and purification. Wines may not be produced or ameliorated on bonded storeroom premises.

PAR. 9. Report of juice, concentrate, and sirup.—When juice, concentrate, or sirup is made from grapes or other authorized fruits, the quantity crushed for such purposes will be shown on the winery material report, Form 701, and there will be attached to the winemaker's monthly report, Form 702, each month that such materials are produced, remain on hand, or are removed from the winery, a statement showing the quantity made, on hand, and removed, and giving the names and addresses of the parties to whom the materials are shipped and the date and quantity shipped to each party. All tanks and other containers within which such juice, concentrate, or sirup made from grapes or other authorized fruits is stored must be conspicuously labeled to show the kind of material contained therein.

PAR. 10. Vermouth department.—Vermouth may be manufactured only in a separate department of the bonded winery premises constructed as provided in Article VI. The vermouth department must be used exclusively for the manufacture and storage of vermouth and for the storage of supplies necessary or incidental to the manufacture of vermouth. The vermouth department may not be used for the storage of still wine or sparkling wine. All fortified sweet wine transferred to the vermouth department must be used immediately in the manufacture of vermouth. When the manufacture of vermouth has been completed, the finished product may be transferred to another department of the winery for storage therein, but vermouth so transferred must at all times be kept separate and apart from still wines and sparkling wines on the premises.

PAR. 11. Imported and tax-paid wines.—No domestic tax-paid wines and no imported wines may be stored on the winery or storeroom premises. Proprietors desiring to tax-pay and store wines in advance of sales or to store returned tax-paid wines, must provide storage therefor, after tax-payment, off the bonded premises. If the premises at which the tax-paid wines are stored are in the same building in which the winery or storeroom is located, or in a building adjoining a winery or storeroom building, they must be separated from the bonded premises by a solid and unbroken partition, except openings for ventilation or heating purposes, substantially constructed and so situated that wine may not be transferred thereto from the winery, except through a public street or open yard or through a public hall or elevator shaft leading into a public street or open yard. Openings in partition walls for ventilation or heating purposes must be protected with iron or steel grating consisting of a frame and horizontal and perpendicular bars, having a diameter of not less than one-fourth inch and spaced not more than one-half inch apart, or other gratings of similar construction and equal strength securely attached to or embedded in the partition wall.

PAR. 12. Tax-paid wine returned for clarification.—Tax-paid wines in stamped packages may be returned for clarification to the bonded premises from which withdrawn or to other bonded premises operated by the person tax-paying the wine, but such wines must not be mixed with untax-paid wines and must be immediately clarified, returned to the original stamped packages, and removed from the bonded premises. When wine intended for clarification and reshipment in the original packages is received on the bonded premises, the winemaker shall keep a commercial record showing the name and address of the person from whom the wine is received, the date, quantity, and tax classification, and, when returned to the original packages, the date of reshipment, together with the name and address of the person to whom shipped. In case the winemaker does not wish to clarify, return to the original packages and remove immediately, he may return the wine to stock and retax-pay upon removal. When the wine is returned to stock, it will be entered on Form 702 or 702–A as wine received.

PAR. 13. Wine under lock.—The portions of the bonded premises in which wines are stored must be kept securely locked in the absence of the proprietor or his agents.

ARTICLE VI—CONSTRUCTION AND EQUIPMENT

PAR. 14. Wineries and bonded storerooms.—Bonded wineries and bonded storerooms must be so constructed and equipped as to be suitable for the production, in the case of wineries, and storage of wine, and so that the wines stored therein will be securely protected. The buildings or rooms in in which wines are stored or treated must be securely constructed of substantial material. All doors, windows, or other openings must be so arranged that they may be securely locked or fastened. Fermenting tanks, except those used exclusively for the production of distilling material, must be under a roof or other suitable covering, but need not be enclosed in a building.

PAR. 15. Vermouth department.—There must be no interior communication between the vermouth department and any other department or part of the winery premises. The entrance door of the vermouth department shall lead directly into a public street or yard or into the yard of the bonded winery or into an open passageway leading directly to the bonded winery yard or to a public street or open yard.

PAR. 16. Tanks.—All fermenters, storage tanks, vermouth processing tanks, and other containers must be so arranged and located as to permit ready examination and determination of their contents by inspecting officers. All pipes, hose, or other conveyors leading to or from the tanks must be so connected and arranged as to be easily visible to examining officers.

PAR. 17. Fortifying room.—If wine is to be fortified, a room for such fortification and the storage of brandy must be constructed and equipped in accordance with Part 2 of these regulations.

PAR. 18. Storage of sweetening agents.—If it is desired to store sweetening materials for use in the amelioration of wine, a room for the storage of such materials must be provided.

PAR. 19. Marking on tanks.—Each fermenter, storage tank, bottling tank, and vermouth processing tank must have painted thereon a permanent serial number and the capacity of the tank in wine gallons. Each vermouth processing tank must also have painted thereon the capacity of the tank per inch of depth, or must have securely attached thereto a table showing the capacity of the tank for each inch of depth. There must also be attached to each copy of Form 698, Application for Approval of Bonded Winery or Bonded Storeroom Premises, a table for each vermouth processing tank, showing the serial number thereof and the capacity for each inch of depth, and where practicable, the inside measurements of the tank. Serial numbers of fermenting tanks shall be preceded by the letter "F" and storage tanks by the letter "S." The serial numbers of vermouth processing tanks and bottling tanks shall be preceded by the letters "P" and "B", respectively. Where barrels are used in processing vermouth there must be painted thereon the capacity in wine gallons and a permanent serial number preceded by the letters "P R."

PAR. 20. Markings on puncheons and barrels.—A permanent serial number and the capacity in wine gallons must be painted on puncheons used for storage containers as in the case of storage tanks. A permanent serial number need not be painted on barrels or puncheons used as storage containers and which will be used as shipping containers upon removal of the wines, but the capacity in wine gallons must be plainly marked on each such container.

PAR. 21. Capacity markings.—Proprietors will be held responsible for the correctness of the capacity markings of all tanks. Where wooden tanks are used they must be remeasured from time to time and the new capacity marked on the tanks. Report of changes in the measurement and capacity of tanks must be made by the proprietor in triplicate in the manner prescribed in paragraph 46. Allowance will not be made for deficiencies of wine claimed to be due to incorrect gauge of tanks.

PAR. 22. Separation of winery or storeroom from other premises.—Buildings or rooms constituting a bonded winery or bonded storeroom must be separated from contiguous buildings or rooms by a solid unbroken partition substantially constructed: Provided, That where a bonded winery and a fruit distillery or industrial alcohol plant operated by the same person are located on contiguous premises, pipe lines may, as hereinafter prescribed, be installed for the transfer of brandy from the fruit distillery to the fortifying room of the winery, and for the transfer of wine for use as distilling material from the winery to the fruit distillery or industrial alcohol plant. With the approval of the district supervisor, doors may be placed in the partition separating the bonded field warehouse from the winery contiguous thereto, and provision made for the transfer of wine between such premises by fixed pipe line or by hose. Partitions between a bonded field warehouse and a bonded winery must be constructed of wood or other suitable material and any connecting doors shall be kept closed and locked at all times, except when necessarily open for the transaction of business. The entrance door of a bonded winery or storeroom shall lead directly into a public street or yard or into the yard of the bonded premises or into a public hall or other common passageway leading directly to a public street or open yard.

PAR. 23. Winery in building used as residence.—Where the winery or storeroom premises are situated in a building used as a private residence, they must be separated by an unbroken partition (or floor, if a basement is used) and an entrance directly from the outside must be provided.

PAR. 24. Winery premises.—All winery and storeroom premises now established must be made, so far as reasonably practicable and as soon as possible, to conform to the requirements of this article, and those hereafter established must be in conformity herewith.

ARTICLE VII—SIGN

PAR. 25. Posting sign.—The proprietor shall place and keep conspicuously on the outside of each bonded winery or storeroom, so that it can be plainly seen, a sign bearing in plain, legible, and durable letters and figures not less than 3 inches in height and of proportionate width, the words "Bonded Winery," "Bonded Storeroom," or "Bonded Field Warehouse," as the case may be, followed by the registered name and number of the premises. Where a vermouth department is established, there must be placed over the entrance door thereof a similar sign bearing the words "Vermouth Dept."

ARTICLE VIII—INSTRUMENTS AND MEASURES

PAR. 26. Testing instruments and measures.—The proprietor of each winery and storeroom must provide at his own expense appropriate and accurate instruments and measures for testing and measuring the wine: Provided, however, That instruments for testing wine need not be kept at storerooms where no wine is blended and where the alcoholic content of the wine on hand has been determined.

PAR. 27. Measuring rod.—An accurate measuring rod and steel tape suitable for use in ascertaining the capacity and contents of tanks and other storage containers, and appropriate measures for determining the contents of shipping containers, must be provided. Measuring instruments shall be available for the use of Government officers.

PAR. 28. Scales and measures.—At each winery there must be provided scales and measures for weighing and measuring the materials received and used in the manufacture of wine. However, where material is used immediately upon receipt, public weighmasters' certificates of weight, showing gross weight, tare, and net weight, or the shipper's or railroad weight may be accepted in lieu of weighing materials at the winery, but such certificates must be filed and kept available for inspection. If wines are ameliorated or fortified, proper instruments for determining the sugar, acid, and alcoholic contents of the wine must also be provided.

PAR. 29. Amelioration of wine.—Where wines are ameliorated under section 610 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, there must be provided one or more suitable measuring tanks within which the quantity of sugar solution used and the quantity of wine, both before and after amelioration, may be accurately measured. Such measuring tank or tanks must have painted thereon the capacity of the tank per inch of depth, or must have securely attached thereto a table showing the capacity of the tank for each inch of depth, a copy of which must be attached to each Form 698.

PAR. 30. Amelioration of pure sweet wine.—Where pure sweet wines are ameliorated under section 43 of the Act of October 1, 1890, as amended, a suitable weighing tank or other proper means must be provided for accurately determining the weight of sugar and water to be used and the weight of the wine before amelioration.

PAR. 31. Ebulliometers.—The Salleron-Dujardin ebulliioscope and the Juerst, Lefco, "TAG" (with shield) and malligand type (with shield) ebulliometers have been approved for use in determining the alcoholic content of wines. An ebulliometer called the E–B Torinc, which is similar to the Malligand type, has been approved if used with a shield. Instructions for the use of the Salleron-Dujardin ebulliioscope, the Juerst ebulliometer, and the Lefco ebulliometer, will be found in Part 3 of these regulations.

PAR. 32. Saccharometers.—Both the alcoholic content and the saccharine content of wine may be determined by the use of a small still and appropriate saccharometer. The saccharine content of wine can also be determined by the use of a set of three saccharometers graded to read from 0 to 10, 10 to 20, and 20 to 30, in connection with the ebullioscope. Instructions for ascertaining the saccharine content of wine with these instruments will be found in Part 3. Apparatus for use in determining the acidity of wine is listed in the Appendix.

PAR. 33. Other instruments.—If the instruments referred to in the two preceding paragraphs are not provided, other appropriate and accurate instruments approved by the Commissioner must be provided in lieu thereof.

ARTICLE IX—FAA PERMIT

PAR. 34. Permit required.—Under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and the regulations issued pursuant thereto, any person, excepting any agency of a State or political subdivision thereof or any officer or employee of any such agency, intending to engage in the business of producing or blending wine, or of purchasing wine for resale at wholesale, is required to procure a permit therefor from the Federal Alcohol Administration, Washington, D. C.

PAR. 35. Copies filed with district supervisor.—Any person filing an application, bond, and other papers, as hereinafter required, with the district supervisor for the establishment of a bonded winery or a bonded storeroom where wines are to be blended or purchased for resale at wholesale, shall exhibit the original of such permit to the district supervisor and file two photostat copies thereof with him. No application for the establishment of a bonded winery, or a bonded storeroom where wines are to be blended or purchased for resale at wholesale, will be approved until such permit has been exhibited to the district supervisor and two copies thereof filed with him.

ARTICLE X—APPLICATION AND PLAN

PAR. 36. Form 698.—Every person desiring to establish a bonded winery or storeroom shall file with the district supervisor an application on Form 698 in triplicate for approval of the premises. Barrels or puncheons used as storage containers and which will be used as shipping containers need not be described on Form 698. Where tanks are of such shapes that it is practicable to determine their capacities from inside measurements as described in Part Three, there must be attached to each copy of Form 698 a table showing the serial number and capacity of each such tank, together with such measurements.

PAR. 37. Plat and plan.—There must be submitted with the application, Form 698, a plat and plan of the bonded premises, except that in instances where it is practicable to show on the plat the information required herein, and such information is in fact so shown, a separate plan of the premises will not be required. The plat and the accompanying plan, where required, must be furnished in triplicate on sheets of white paper of good quality or tracing linen 15 by 20 inches, outside measurement, with a clear margin of at least 1 inch on each side of the drawing, lettering, and writing. The plat must show the boundaries of the premises, the location, construction, and size of each building or room, and the purpose for which each will be used. If the bonded premises is to be a room or floor of a building, the precise location of the room or floor, together with the means of ingress from and egress into a public street or yard or into a public hall or elevator shaft leading into a public street or yard, must be shown. If the bonded premises consist of more than one building, they must be shown in their relative positions. The surrounding driveways, streets, and sidings shall also be indicated on the plat. The plan shall include a description of each room, or of each floor of each building to constitute the bonded premises, including the dimensions of the room or floor, the location of all doors, windows, or other openings and their dimensions, and how the same are secured. The location of Government locks will be indicated by the letters "GL."

If the construction of all floors in a single building is identical, a typical floor plan may be filed in lieu of a separate plan for each floor. The plan must also show the location, serial numbers, and capacities of all tanks in the fortifying room and in the vermouth department, and the course of all pipe lines used for conveying wine to or from the fortifying room or wine to or vermouth from the vermouth department. Pipe lines used for conveying wine from or to the bonded premises and between buildings on the premises must also be shown. All pipe lines throughout their entire lengths must traverse bonded premises. Where a fruit distillery is maintained on contiguous premises, the relative position of the distillery and winery premises and all pipe line connections between the two premises must be shown on the plat or plan, though the distillery construction and equipment need not be described. The pipe line used for conveying brandy from the distillery to the fortifying room shall be painted black and shown in such color on the plan.

Where the bonded premises consist of a portion of a building or adjoin other premises, such surroundings must be depicted and the bonded area shown in a contrasting color.

PAR. 38. Certificate of accuracy.—The points of the compass shall be indicated on each sheet of every plat and plan, both original and supplemental, and each such sheet shall also bear a number and descriptive title and name and address of the proprietor, and a certificate of accuracy dated and signed by the proprietor and the district supervisor. The certificate shall be in the following form:

---------- District, ---------- 19...

We hereby certify that this is an accurate plat (or plan or supplemental plat or plan, as the case may be) of the winery or storeroom or bonded field warehouse premises of ---------- of this district.

(Proprietor)

(District Supervisor)

All plats or plans or supplemental plats or plans prepared after a registry number has been assigned to the premises shall bear such number.

PAR. 39. Approval of application.—Applications, plats, and plans which do not contain all the information called for, or which are not executed in the manner required by these regulations, will be returned. If the application, plat, and plan are found to be in proper form, the district supervisor will make or cause to be made an inspection of the premises to determine whether the construction and equipment meet the requirements of these regulations and are correctly described and depicted in the application, plat, and plan. If the district supervisor finds that the applicant has complied in all respects with the requirements of the law and these regulations, including the furnishing of a proper bond as prescribed in paragraph 48, and if he further finds that the bond may properly be approved (see paragraph 42), he will enter the registry number assigned to the premises on each copy of the application and will indorse his approval on each copy of the application, bond, plat, and plan. The district supervisor will retain one copy of each document, forward one copy of each to the Commissioner with a copy of the inspection report, and return one copy of each to the proprietor to be kept at the winery or storeroom readily accessible to Government officers.

PAR. 40. Disapproval of application.—If the application is disapproved, the district supervisor will indorse his disapproval on each copy of the application, bond, plat, and plan and return two copies of each to the applicant with a statement of the reasons for disapproval. One copy of each document will be retained by the district supervisor.

PAR. 41. Bond required.—No person shall commence or continue the business of a winemaker until all bonds in respect thereof required by any provision of law have been approved by the district supervisor. No person may produce wine without filing bond and otherwise qualifying as a winemaker, except that a duly registered producer without so qualifying may, under the conditions prescribed in Article XVIII of these regulations, produce for his family use not in excess of 200 gallons of still wine per year free of tax.

ARTICLE XI—AUTHORITY TO DISAPPROVE BOND

PAR. 42. Disapproval by supervisor.—The district supervisor will, under section 67 of the Act of August 27, 1894, as amended, disapprove any bond or bonds submitted by any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association intending to commence or continue the business of a winemaker, if the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the same or owning, controlling, or actively participating in the management of the businses of the individual or firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the same, shall have been previously convicted, in a court of competent jursdiction, of—

(1) Any fraudulent noncompliance with any provision of any law of the United States if such provision related to internal revenue or customs taxation of distilled spirits, wines, or fermented malt liquors, or if such an offense shall have been compromised with the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association upon payment of penalties or otherwise; or

(2) Any felony under a law of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or the United States, prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation, or transportation of distilled spirits, wine, fermented malt liquor, or other intoxicating liquor.

PAR. 43. Inquiry by supervisor.—Before approving any bond given by any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, intending to commence or continue in business as a winemaker, the district supervisor will cause such inquiry or investigation as may be deemed necessary to ascertain whether such individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, or any person owning, controlling, or actively participating in the management of the business, has been so convicted or has so compromised an offense of the nature indicated in paragraph 42.

PAR. 44. Appeal to Commissioner.—Where the bond is disapproved by the district supervisor, the person giving the bond may, under the law referred to, appeal from such disapproval to the Commissioner. When an appeal is so taken, the district supervisor will furnish the Commissioner full information respecting the disapproval, stating the nature of the offense, the names of the offenders, the date of conviction or of acceptance of compromise, and the reasons for his action. The disapproval of the Commissioner of any bond in respect to the commencement or continuance of the business of a winemaker shall be final.

ARTICLE XII—CHANGE OF BONDED PREMISES

PAR. 45. Change of location.—Upon change of location of the bonded premises, the proprietor will file application, Form 698, for the new premises. The application must be supported by a new bond on Form 700–A, Winemaker's Bond, or consent of surety on Form 1533, Consent of Surety to Change in Terms of Bond, extending the terms of the existing bond to cover the new premises. If upon inspection the construction of the new premises is found to be such that the wines to be stored or produced therein will be securely protected, the district supervisor may approve the notice and bond and permit the use of such premises for a temporary period. The proprietor must promptly file a plat and plan of the new premises conforming fully with the requirements herein prescribed in the case of the establishment of a bonded winery or storeroom.

PAR. 46. Extension or curtailment of premises.—Where it is desired to extend or curtail the premises to take in or cut off a room or building, a new application, Form 698, plat, and plan or supplemental plat and plan must be filed by the proprietor. When material changes are made in the winemaking, vermouth processing, or storage facilities, or fortifying room (including the brandy storage room), such as the removal or addition of tanks, or changes in the capacity of tanks, report thereof shall be made by the proprietor in triplicate. One copy of the report shall be attached to the application, Form 698, retained at the premises and two copies forwarded to the district supervisor, who will transmit one copy to the Commissioner.

The Commissioner or district supervisor may at any time require the filing of a new application, plat, and plan. Applications on Form 698 must be serially numbered in the order of filing and must indicate the purpose for which filed.

ARTICLE XIII—CHANGE OF PERSONS INTERESTED IN BUSINESS

PAR. 47. Change in proprietorship.—Where there is any change in the proprietorship of the business, as shown by the last application, Form 698, the same steps must be taken as in case of new premises, except that the new proprietor may accept the plat and plan on file. In the case of a copartnership, the withdrawal of a partner or the taking in of a new partner, whether active or passive, shall constitute a change of proprietorship. Where the new proprietor accepts the plat and plan on file, such acceptance shall include a certification as to the accuracy of the plat and plan. The acceptance shall be executed in triplicate, one copy thereof attached to the plat and plan at the premises, and two copies forwarded with the application to the district supervisor, who will transmit one copy to the Commissioner.

ARTICLE XIV—BOND

PAR. 48. Bond Form 700–A.—Except as otherwise provided herein, proprietors of bonded wineries and bonded storerooms shall furnish a separate bond on Form 700–A, in triplicate, with surety or security to cover each winery or storeroom. No wine may be produced or received, and no brandy may be withdrawn for fortification until proper bond is filed and the notice and bond are approved by the district supervisor. Bonds on Form 700–A will be in a penal sum sufficient:

(1) To cover the amount of the tax on all wine to be produced, received, or stored at the bonded winery, received or stored at the bonded storeroom, and in transit from such premises to other bonded premises, at any one time;

(2) To cover the amount of the tax at the distilled spirits rate on all brandy to be withdrawn for use in the fortification of wine and in transit to, or stored at, the bonded winery at any one time; and

(3) To fully cover at all times prior to payment of the assessment the amount of the fortifying tax on all brandy so withdrawn and used in the fortification of wine:

Provided, That the penal sum of the bond shall not be less than $500 nor more than $50,000 for a single winery or storeroom; but where the aggregate amount of the outstanding (unpaid) assessments of the fortifying tax on brandy used in the fortification of wine exceeds the penal sum of the bond, the winemaker shall file an additional bond with surety or security in an amount sufficient to cover such excess. Should the winemaker neglect to file the requisite bond, the district supervisor will refuse to allow him to produce or receive wine or withdraw brandy for fortification until the charges against the outstanding bond are reduced sufficiently to permit such further operations. The filing of blanket bonds by winemakers is not permissible.

PAR. 49. Collector's notice of payment of fortifying tax.—The collector of internal revenue will advise the district supervisor when payment is made of assessments for brandy fortification tax in order that the district supervisor may have current information concerning outstanding liability against the winemaker's bond. The notice of tax payment will include information as to the list, page, and line on which the assessment appears.

PAR. 50. Bonds on Forms 699 and 700.—No person shall operate a bonded winery or bonded storeroom unless he shall have filed with the district supervisor, and the district supervisor shall have approved, a bond on Form 700–A; but a winemaker will not be required to file a bond on Form 700–A if satisfactory bond on Form 699, Bond of Winemaker or Dealer, or Form 700, Bond of Winemaker, Fortifying Bond of Winemaker, or Proprietor of Bonded Storeroom, with surety or security, in a sufficient penal sum, has already been filed and approved, and the terms of such bond have been extended by consent of surety, Form 1533.

PAR. 51. Strengthening bond.—In all cases where a winemaker gives a strengthening bond on Form 700–A, the surety or sureties thereon must be the same as the surety or sureties on the bond or bonds of that or any prior series of bonds of the winemaker already on file and in effect; otherwise, a new bond (Form 700–A) covering the entire liability will be required. The filing of new or additional bonds on Form 700 is discontinued.

PAR. 52. Registry number inserted in bond.—Before the bond is executed, the proprietor must ascertain from the district supervisor the registry number which will be assigned to the bonded premises if established, so that such number may be inserted in the bond. Bonds not completely and properly filled in and executed will be returned for correction. Proper record will be kept of bonds returned for correction, or for any other purpose. All disapproved bonds shall be returned to the principal and the surety or sureties notified of such disapproval.

PAR. 53. New bond.—A new bond may be required at any time, in the discretion of the district supervisor, or under instructions of the Commissioner. A new bond shall be required immediately in case of the death, removal from the State, or insolvency of a personal surety, or insolvency of a corporate surety. Executors, administrators, assignees, receivers, and trustees continuing the business must execute a new bond or obtain the consent of the surety or sureties on the existing bond or bonds.

PAR. 54. Powers of attorney.—Powers of attorney and other evidence of appointment of agents and officers executing bonds on behalf of surety companies are required to be filed with, and passed upon by, the Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, Section of Surety Bonds, Treasury Department. Such powers and other evidence of appointment need not be filed with, or submitted to, the district supervisor.

PAR. 55. Personal sureties.—Personal sureties on bonds, of which there must be two, must qualify by executing affidavit on Form 33, Affidavit of Individual Surety on Bond, in triplicate. On approval by the district supervisor, a copy of Form 33 should be attached to each copy of the bond to which it relates. District supervisors should exercise great care in deciding as to the sufficiency of the security afforded by individual sureties and such sureties should not be accepted simply because they attempt to qualify by filing affidavit on Form 33. The principal object of affidavit, Form 33, is to obtain statements which the district supervisor must investigate in every case. Personal sureties must reside within the State in which the bonded winery or storeroom is located, and where real property is offered as security the same must be within the State. Supervisors will from time to time make such inquiries as are deemed necessary in regard to the sufficiency of the security afforded by personal sureties on bonds.

PAR. 56. Deposit of collateral.—District supervisors on receiving bonds or notes of the United States, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, pledged and deposited by principals as collateral security, in lieu of personal or corporate sureties, shall deposit such securities as required by Department Circular No. 154, revised.

PAR. 57. Consents of surety.—Consents of surety (Form 1533) to a change in the terms of a bond must be executed by the principal and all sureties with the same formality and proof of authority to execute as required for the execution of bonds, in as many copies as are required of the bond affected thereby. If the surety is a corporation, the consent must be executed by the home office officials of such corporate surety; except that, in cases where the saving of time is an element, it may be executed by an agent or attorney in fact when the home office officials, by specific authorization, direct and order its execution. A copy of such authorization should be attached to each copy of such consent. The procedure governing the approval and disposition of the copies of bonds shall apply to the approval and disposition of consents of surety.

PAR. 58. Two or more corporate sureties.—A bond executed by two or more corporate sureties shall be the joint and several liability of the principal and the sureties: Provided, That each corporate surety may limit its liability, in terms, upon the face of the bond, in a definite specified amount, which amount shall not exceed the limitations prescribed for such corporate surety by the Secretary of the Treasury, as set forth in Form 356, Commissioner of Accounts and Deposits, Section of Surety Bonds.

PAR. 59. Application of surety for relief from bond.—A surety on any bond may at any time in writing notify the principal and the district supervisor in whose office the bond is on file that he desires after a date named, which shall be at least 60 days after the date of the notification, to be relieved of liability under said bond. Said notice shall be executed in triplicate by the surety, who shall deliver one copy to the principal and the other two to the district supervisor, who will retain one copy and transmit the remaining copy to the Commissioner. If such notice is not thereafter in writing withdrawn, the rights of the principal as supported by said bond shall be terminated on the date named in the notice and the surety shall be relieved under said bond for any acts done wholly subsequent to said date: Provided, That if the principal fails to execute a new and satisfactory bond, said bond shall remain effective until there shall have been proper accounting and tax payment for all wines and brandy as of the date when the surety is relieved, as named in such notice. This notice may not be given by an agent of the surety unless it is accompanied by a power of attorney duly executed by the surety authorizing him to give such notice or by a verified statement that such power of attorney is on file with the Department.

PAR. 60. Name legibly written.—The full name of each person signing applications, notices, bonds, powers of attorney, consents of surety, and other written instruments, or papers required of proprietors of bonded wineries or storerooms, shall be legibly written (preferably typed) in the heading or body of each such instrument or paper.

PAR. 61. Firm or corporate name.—In the case of a copartnership, the trade name of the firm, followed by the names of all the members thereof, shall be shown. In the case of a corporation, there shall be shown the corporate name, the name of the State under the laws of which it is incorporated, and the location of the principal office or place of business.

PAR. 62. Execution of instrument.—An individual proprietor of a bonded winery or storeroom executing such instruments shall sign his full name thereto, or an attorney-in-fact, duly empowered by him, may sign in his behalf. In the case of a copartnership, the firm name shall be typed or written, followed by the word "By" and the signatures of all partners or the signature of any partner or other person holding a power of attorney authorizing him to execute bonds or other instruments on behalf of the partnership. Where an instrument is signed by an attorney-in-fact, a copy of the power of attorney shall be attached thereto, except that no copy need be attached to instruments other than bonds or consents of surety in cases where the power of attorney has been filed in duplicate with the district supervisor. In the case of a corporation, the corporate name shall be typed or written, followed by the word "By" and the signature and title of each officer executing the document for the corporation, who must be duly authorized to act for the corporation. The instrument shall bear the impression of the corporate seal, and, if a bond or consent of surety, shall be supported by an authenticated copy of the document conferring authority upon each officer to execute the instrument. The signature of each person executing a bond or consent of surety shall be witnessed by two persons, who shall affix their signatures as such, except where execution of the instrument is acknowledged before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths, or, in the case of a corporate instrument, where the seal of the corporation is affixed and attested by its proper officer.

PAR. 63. Superseding bond.—Where a new bond, Form 700–A, in a sufficient penal sum computed as prescribed in paragraph 48, is filed to supersede a bond or bonds of the same or a prior series and there is no record of violations of law or regulations by the principal or outstanding liability against the bond, the district supervisor shall, after approval of the superseding bond, prepare Form 1490, "Notice of Bond Termination," in quadruplicate (in quintuplicate if there are two sureties), and forward the original to the Commissioner, one copy to each obligor on the bond, and retain one copy to be filed with the bond to which it relates. Where assessments have been made against the principal, the district supervisor will not issue Form 1490 until a statement has been obtained from the collector of internal revenue that such assessments have been paid.

PAR. 64. Collateral as security on superseding bond.—The bonds, notes, or other obligations of the United States deposited as collateral security with an outstanding bond of the proprietor of a bonded winery or storeroom, and with respect to which no violation has been charged, may be used to secure a new superseding bond on Form 700–A by appropriate description of such collateral in the new bond.

PAR. 65. Release of bond.—Upon receipt of an application for the release of a bond, Form 700–A, or of a bond of a prior series, the district supervisor will examine his records to ascertain whether there is any outstanding liability against the bond. If and when the district supervisor is satisfied that there is no outstanding liability against a bond the release of which has been applied for, he will prepare Form 1491, "Notification of Release of Bond," in quadruplicate (in quintuplicate if there are two sureties), and forward the original copy to the Commissioner, one copy to each obligor on the bond, and retain one copy to be filed with the bond to which it relates.

Where an offer in compromise of civil liability or an application for remission, or claim for abatement of taxes, has been sent to the Commissioner, and notice of final action has not been received, the district supervisor will not take any action toward the release of the bond until such notice has been received and a statement has been obtained from the collector of internal revenue that the tax involved and all outstanding assessments, if any, have been paid.

PAR. 66. Release of collateral.—The provisions of Treasury Department Circular No. 154, revised, and these regulations shall apply to bonds to be superseded or released where obligations of the United States have been deposited with the Government by proprietors of bonded wineries or storerooms as collateral security in lieu of surety or sureties, and to the disposition of such obligations so deposited.

ARTICLE XV—SWEETENING MATERIALS

PAR. 67. Storage room.—Where sugar or condensed grape must for use in the manufacture or treatment of wine is stored on the winery premises, a room for the storage of such materials must be provided, as required by paragraph 18. All sweetening agents received at the winery must be stored in such room.

PAR. 68. Form 261.—All sweetening agents received, used, and on hand at the winery must be reported by the winemaker on Form 261, Winemaker's Monthly Report of Materials for Fortification and Amelioration of Wines.

PAR. 69. Grape must.—Pure boiled or condensed grape must may, if desired, be stored in closed, locked containers properly marked and identified as "Condensed must tanks" on the winery premises, outside the storage room for the sweetening agents. Such tanks will be regarded as a part of the storage room for sweetening agents, so far as the storage of condensed must is concerned.

ARTICLE XVI—PRODUCTION AND AMELIORATION OF WINE

Natural Wine

PAR. 70. Production.—Natural wine is produced by the normal alcoholic fermentation of the juice of sound, ripe grapes, without addition or abstraction, other than such as may occur in the usual cellar treatment of clarifying and aging, except that in the event the must or wine has natural deficiencies, it may be ameliorated with a solution of water and pure cane, beet, or dextrose sugar, containing, respectively, not less than 95 per cent of actual sugar, calculated on a dry basis, the quantities of water and sugar composing the solution being in the proportion necessary to correct natural deficiencies in the must or wine. If so ameliorated, the resulting product (1) must contain not less than 5 parts per thousand of acid before fermentation, (2) may not contain more than 13 per cent of alcohol after complete fermentation, and (3) may not be increased more than 35 per cent in volume.

PAR. 71. Sweetening for fortification.—Natural wine, ameliorated in accordance with paragraph 70, may, prior to fortification, be sweetened with cane sugar or beet sugar or pure condensed grape must. Natural wine, to which no sweetening agents have been added, may, prior to fortification, be sweetened with cane sugar or beet sugar or pure condensed grape must. The cane sugar or beet sugar or pure condensed grape must added shall not be in excess of 11 per cent of the weight of the wine.

Pure Sweet Wine

PAR. 72. Production.—Pure sweet wine is produced by the fermentation or partial fermentation of grape juice only, with the usual cellar treatment, and shall contain no other substance whatever, introduced before, at the time of, or after fermentation, except that the juice or wine, or both, may be ameliorated as follows:

(a) With pure boiled or condensed grape must or pure crystallized cane or beet sugar or pure dextrose sugar, containing, respectively, not less than 95 per cent of actual sugar, calculated on a dry basis, or water, or any or all of them, in quantities necessary to perfect the wine according to commercial standards, or for mechanical purposes;

(b) The cane or beet or pure dextrose sugar added shall not be in excess of 11 per cent of the weight of the wine;

(c) Water shall not be used in excess of 10 per cent of the weight of the juice or wine, or both, to which added, and the wine to which water is added shall not after fermentation have an alcoholic content of less than 5 per cent.

PAR. 73. Water used at crusher.—Water may be used at the crusher only when absolutely necessary for the proper operation of the mechanical devices used in crushing and conveying the material to the fermenting tanks, and only in such quantities as is necessary. Where the machinery becomes so clogged that it is evident a greater amount of water than the maximum quantity allowed will be necessary for flushing purposes, or the winemaker desires to flush the machinery without running the water into the sweet wine material, the pipes and conveyors leading to the fermenting tanks containing the sweet wine material will be disconnected or closed before flushing the crushing and conveying machinery. If the winemaker so desires, the water may be run into fermenting tanks for producing distilling material. In such cases where the water is not run into the juice (sweet wine material), it will not be included in the 10 per cent addition permitted by paragraph 72.

PAR. 74. Water for ameliorating and mechanical purposes.—Water may be used for ameliorating purposes at the time of crushing and immediately prior to fortification. But, except as prescribed in paragraph 73, the total quantity of water used for both mechanical and ameliorating purposes, either at the time of crushing or fortification, or both, shall not exceed 10 per cent of the weight of the juice or wine.

PAR. 75. Fortification.—Pure sweet wine, produced in accordance with paragraph 72, whether ameliorated or not, may be fortified as prescribed in Part Two of these regulations.

Fruit and Berry Wines

PAR. 76. Production.—Citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, and apple wines will be produced by the normal alcoholic fermentation of the juice of sound ripe citrus fruit (except lemons and limes), peaches, cherries, berries, apricots, and apples, respectively, with or without the addition of dry cane, beet, or dextrose sugar (containing, respectively, not less than 95 per cent of actual sugar calculated on a dry basis), for the purpose of perfecting the product according to standards, but without the addition or abstraction of other substances, other than such as may occur in the usual cellar treatment of clarifying and aging, except that in the event the must or wine has natural deficiencies, it may be ameliorated with a solution of water and pure cane, beet, or dextrose sugar, containing, respectively, not less than 95 per cent of actual sugar, calculated on a dry basis, for the purpose of correcting natural deficiencies in the must or wine. If so ameliorated, the resulting product (1) must contain not less than 5 parts per thousand of acid before fermentation, (2) may not contain more than 13 per cent of alcohol after complete fermentation, and (3) may not be increased more than 35 per cent in volume.

PAR. 77. Sweetening for fortification.—Fruit and berry wine, ameliorated in accordance with paragraph 76, may, prior to fortification, be sweetened with cane sugar or beet sugar or pure condensed must of the fruit or berry used in manufacturing the wine. Fruit and berry wine which has not been ameliorated may, prior to fortification, be sweetened with cane sugar or beet sugar, or pure condensed must of the fruit or berry used in manufacturing the wine. The cane sugar or beet sugar or pure condensed must added shall not be in excess of 11 per cent of the weight of the wine.

SUPERVISION OF AMELIORATION BY GOVERNMENT OFFICERS WAIVED

PAR. 78. Amelioration without Government supervision.—Proprietors of bonded wineries are authorized to ameliorate wine without supervision by Government officers. However, when Government officers are present on the premises for other purposes or in performance of other duties, they shall observe the process of amelioration and see that it is done within the limitations prescribed by law. Wine may be ameliorated only by the producing winemaker. Fortified wine may be ameliorated only prior to fortification. In determining the alcoholic, saccharine, and acid content of the must or wine, and the quantity of sugar solution that may be used in the production of wine under section 610 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, the winemaker will follow the instructions given in Part 3 and in the Appendix to these regulations.

PAR. 79. Record of amelioration.—The amelioration of juice (must) or wine prior to or during the process of fermentation will be shown on the winemaker's production report, Form 701. The amelioration or sweetening of wine, after the same has been taken into account on Form 702 as wine produced, will be shown in the proper detailed statement and in the summary of that account. Where wine produced for probable fortification is ameliorated, the winemaker will enter on the tank label, Form 546, Label for Eligible Wine Material, all information required by such label relative to amelioration and sweetening. (See Article L.)

OTHER REQUIREMENTS RELATIVE TO PRODUCTION

PAR. 80. Form 546.—Where grapes, citrus fruit (except lemons and limes), peaches, cherries, berries, apricots, or apples are crushed for probable fortification there will be attached to the fermenting tanks into which the material is run a label, Form 546, as provided in paragraph 242.

PAR. 81. Wines from other materials.—Where it is desired to produce wine other than natural wine, citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, and apple wine, as defined in section 610 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, or pure sweet wine as defined in section 43 of the Act of October 1, 1890, as amended, the winemaker will prepare a notice in triplicate showing the materials and methods to be used. One copy of such notice will be attached to the application, Form 698, retained at the premises and the other two copies forwarded to the district supervisor, who will transmit one copy to the Commissioner.

PAR. 82. Wines under 6 per cent.—Where wines are produced with an alcoholic content of less than 6 per cent by volume after complete fermentation, the per cent of alcohol contained in the wine and the reason for the low alcoholic content shall be noted by the winemaker on Form 701 at the time of production.

PAR. 83. Brandy or wine and sweetening agents in effervescent wine.—Winemakers producing champagne and other sparkling wines, or artificially carbonated wine, may, in connection with the finishing and treatment of such wines, add thereto a small quantity of grape sirup, rock candy, or other sweetening agents and a small quantity of brandy or wine. The brandy so used must be tax-paid. Winemakers may store not more than one barrel of such brandy on their winery premises for this purpose. Such tax-paid brandy and sweetening agents shall be kept either in the sweetening agents room, provided for in paragraph 18, or in a separate closet in the champagne department. If stored in the sweetening agents room, such tax-paid brandy and sweetening agents shall be kept separate from sweetening agents to be used for other purposes.

PAR. 84. Report on Form 261.—Every winemaker using tax-paid brandy and grape sirup, rock candy, or other sweetening agents in making a preparation for use in champagne or sparkling wine or artificially carbonated wine shall keep a monthly record thereof and of the preparation made therefrom, on Form 261. All the pertinent information indicated by the headings of the columns and lines of the form shall be reported. The quantities of tax-paid brandy and sweetening agents procured or used by winemakers in making such preparation will not be entered in the district supervisor's Form 290, Bonded Account as to Grape Brandy and Saccharine Entering into Bonded Wineries.

PAR. 85. Record of wines baked.—Where wine is baked on bonded premises the proprietor shall keep a record showing the (a) serial number of each tank; (b) date wine is placed in tank; (c) quantity and alcoholic content; (d) date baking commenced; (e) date baking completed; (f) method employed; (g) date removed from tank; and (h) quantity removed, and alcoholic content thereof. No allowance for losses due to the baking of wine will be made unless shown by such record to have been sustained. The record shall be kept complete and up to date, and preserved for a period of three years available for inspection by Government officers.

ARTICLE XVII—MANUFACTURE OF VERMOUTH

PAR. 86. Separate department.—Vermouth may be manufactured only in a separate department of the winery premises, provided as prescribed in paragraph 15. No wine other than fortified sweet wine may be used in the manufacture of vermouth on bonded winery premises. No distilled spirits may be added to the fortified sweet wine used in the manufacture of vermouth on such premises or to the vermouth during or after its manufacture. No alcoholic extract excepting such as may be made by macerating herbs and other non-alcoholic flavoring material with fortified sweet wine in the vermouth department may be used in the manufacture of vermouth in such department.

PAR. 87. Formulae and processes.—Every winemaker desiring to manufacture vermouth on his winery premises shall file with the district supervisor a statement in detail of each process by which he intends to manufacture the product, including the formulae. The formulae must show all the ingredients to be used, but the quantity or percentage of each ingredient used need not be given. It will not be necessary to submit a new formula where the quantity or percentage of any ingredient is varied. Where the ingredients composing a formula are changed, however, a new formula must be submitted. Each formula will show the percentage of absolute alcohol by volume in the finished product according to the taxable grade, as not more than 14 per cent, more than 14 per cent and not exceeding 21 per cent, more than 21 per cent and not exceeding 24 per cent. Formulae will be numbered serially and prepared in triplicate. The winemaker will retain one copy of each statement of process and formula accessible for inspection by Government officers and forward two copies to the district supervisor. The district supervisor will retain one copy and forward the other to the Commissioner. No winemaker may manufacture any vermouth not covered by a formula filed by him with the district supervisor.

ARTICLE XVIII—WINES FOR FAMILY USE

PAR. 88. Registered producer.—A duly registered producer may produce not in excess of 200 gallons of still wine per year for the use of his own family without payment of tax. Wine thus produced must not be sold or otherwise removed from the place of manufacture.

PAR. 89. Limitations of exemption.—The statutory exemption does not apply to (a) wine made by one person for the use of another, whether consumed on the premises or removed therefrom for the family use of the owner; (b) wine produced by a single person, unless he is the head of a family; (c) wine produced by a married man living apart from his family; (d) wine made by a partnership or produced at a winery operated by two or more heads of families jointly; or (e) wine furnished to persons not members of the producer's family.

PAR. 90. Form 1541.—Every person (other than the operator of a bonded winery) entitled to, and desiring to, produce still wine for the exclusive use of his family must prepare Form 1541, Registration for Production of Wine for the Family Use of the Producer thereof not in excess of 200 Gallons and not for Sale or to be otherwise Removed or Consumed, in duplicate, file one copy with the district supervisor and retain the other. The form must be filed at least five days before commencing operations, and must be renewed each succeeding year during which it is desired to produce wine for family use.

ARTICLE XIX—PRODUCTION OF WINE FOR DISTILLING MATERIAL

PAR. 91. Form 546–B.—Where wines are produced expressly for distilling material, label, Form 546–B, Distilling Material, will be attached to the fermenting tank. If the wine is transferred to a storage tank before removal from the winery, the label shall be removed from the fermenter and attached to such tank.

PAR. 92. Addition of water to wine for distilling material.—Water may be added to wine on the winery premises in a distilling material measuring tank in such quantity as may be necessary to facilitate distillation. Any properly calibrated tank on the winery premises may be used as a distilling material measuring tank. At the time water is added to wine preparatory to removal for use as distilling material, the quantity of water added must be entered in appropriate column in Form 702, and a label, Form 546–B, showing the quantity of water added must be attached to the containers of such wine. A copy of the label must be attached to Form 702. When distilling material is removed, the winemaker will enter in the appropriate statement on Form 702, as removed, the quantity of wine transferred to the fruit distillery.

PAR. 93. Limitations.—In the manufacture of wine for use as distilling material, water may be used in such quantity as necessary for the purposes of facilitating fermentation and economical distillation. Such wine may be made by fermentation of the grape juice, citrus-fruit juice, peach juice, cherry juice, berry juice, apricot juice, or apple juice, or by further fermentation of the pomace or cheese after the wine has been drawn off. Spirits distilled from grape cheese to which sugar solution has been added may not be used for fortification. Wine produced for use as distilling material will be accounted for on Form 701 in the manner indicated therein. (See Article XXVI.)

PAR. 94. Sweetened grape cheese.—Where it is desired to sweeten grape cheese to be fermented on winery premises for use as distilling material, there may, as provided by section 3255 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, be added to not less than 500 gallons (10 barrels) of grape cheese not more than 500 gallons of a sugar solution made from cane, beet, starch, or corn sugar, 95 per cent pure, such solution to have a saccharine strength of not to exceed 10 per cent. If it is desired to add water as well as a sugar solution to the grape cheese, the sugar solution must be added first, as the statute fixes a limit on the sugar solution in accordance with the quantity of cheese, and not the quantity of cheese and water. The grape cheese may be sweetened once only.

ARTICLE XX—WINE TO BE DEPOSITED WITHIN BONDED PREMISES

PAR. 95. Storage.—Upon removal from the fermenters wine must immediately be conveyed into storage containers within the winery, or fortifying tanks in the fortifying room. When the manufacture of vermouth is completed, it must be transferred from the processing tanks to storage or shipping containers. Wine received in bond from other bonded premises must be deposited immediately in the winery or bonded storeroom. The storage of wine in outbuildings or containers outside the bonded premises will not be permitted.

PAR. 96. Forms 701, 702–A, and 702–B.—When the first period of fermentation is complete, still wine must be drawn from the fermenters and entry made thereof in monthly record, Form 701, as produced. Fermenters, as such, may not be used for the storage of wine. Champagne or other sparkling wines or artificially carbonated wines shall be entered on Form 702–A, Report of Champagne and other Sparkling Wines and Artificially Carbonated Wines, as produced, when the bottles are filled. If sparkling wine is made by a bulk process, entry must be made in Form 702–A when the wine is deposited in the tank for secondary fermentation. When the manufacture of vermouth is completed, it must be drawn from processing tanks and entry made thereof in Form 702–B, Winemaker's Vermouth Report. Finished vermouth may not remain in processing tanks.

ARTICLE XXI—FILTERING, CLARIFYING, AND PURIFYING OF WINES

PAR. 97. Processes not rectification.—The filtering, clarifying, or purifying of wine on bonded winery or storeroom premises is not rectification within the meaning of paragraph "Third" of section 3244 of the Revised Statutes.

PAR. 98. Limitations.—In the process of filtering, clarifying, or purifying wines on bonded winery or storeroom premises, materials, methods, and equipment may be used to remove cloudiness, precipitation, and undesirable odors and flavors, but the addition of any substance foreign to wine which remains a part thereof, or the abstraction of ingredients to an extent or in a manner which will affect the basic composition of the wine by eliminating the characteristic elements or which will change its type, is not within the statute, and is not permitted on bonded winery or storeroom premises. However, if any color develops in the manufacture of white wines, it may be removed by suitable cellar treatment.

PAR. 99. Spurious, imitation, or compound wine.—The mixing of any materials with wine which will result in the production of a compound, imitation, or spurious wine will constitute rectification and may not, therefore, be done on bonded winery or storeroom premises.

ARTICLE XXII—BLENDING OF WINES

PAR. 100. Limitations.—Wines may be mixed or blended with each other at a bonded winery or bonded storeroom only, and for the sole purpose of perfecting such wines according to commercial standards. Natural wine and pure sweet wine may not be mixed or blended with citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, or apple wine, or with wine produced from other materials, nor may wine produced from one kind of fruit or berry be mixed or blended with wine produced from another kind of fruit or berry. Vermouths may be mixed or blended with each other for the sole purpose of perfecting them according to commercial standards, but may not be mixed or blended together with any other wines. Blended wines will be tax-paid according to their alcoholic strength after blending, but the blending must be done in fact for the purpose of manufacturing a finished product conforming to commercial standards. Wine purchased by one winemaker from another may be used for blending purposes without incurring special tax for the sale of such blended wine.

PAR. 101. Report in Form 702 or 702–B.—Where wines of different alcoholic strength are blended and the rate of taxability is thereby changed, report of such blending will be made in monthly report, Form 702 or 702–B, as the case may be, showing the exact percentages of alcohol contained in the wines both before and after blending. Where the rate of taxability is not changed, no report of the blending operation need be made.

ARTICLE XXIII—REMOVAL OF WINE

PAR. 102. Containers and markings.—Removal of wines may be made in casks, barrels, kegs, tanks, tank trucks, and railroad tank cars, or (when bottled) in cases of any desired size. If shipment is made in a railroad tank car and the premises of the consignor have no siding facilities, each tank truck transporting wine from the winery to the railroad tank car must have affixed thereto a label or tag stating the name of the consignor, the quantity of wine in the tank truck, the serial number of the railroad tank car to which the wine is being transported, and the name and address of the consignee. If shipment is made in a tank car and the premises of the consignee are not equipped with siding facilities, he shall mark each package filled from such car, or affix thereto a tag, stating the name of the consignor, the serial number of the car from which removed, and the name and address of the consignee. All casks, barrels, kegs, tanks, or cases in which wines are removed from bonded premises must be numbered in serial order commencing with No. 1 at each winery or storeroom. The proprietor of a bonded winery or storeroom may, if he desires, change the series after using the numbers up to 100,000 by beginning again with No. 1 and prefixing the numbers of the new series with the letter "A." He may continue to change the series after reaching 100,000 by prefixing each new series with the succeeding letters of the alphabet, "B," "C," "D," etc. The head of each package (including tanks) and the side of each case must be marked in a plain and durable manner with the serial number, the name of the proprietor of the winery or storeroom, the registered number of the premises, the location thereof (by city or town and State or supervisory district and State), the kind of wine, alcoholic strength of the wine, and the contents of the package or case in wine gallons. These marks must be cut, imprinted, or stenciled upon the package or case in legible letters and figures of appropriate size, or placed on a label or tag securely affixed to the package or case. If a label or tag is used, it must be of good quality white paper or other suitable material and of appropriate size, and the letters and figures heren must be durable and legible. The label or tag must be affixed with a good adhesive and, in the case of wooden packages, with not less than five tacks. After being so affixed, a coating of transparent shellac shall be applied over the label or tag. The head of the package or side of the case bearing the prescribed marks shall be known as the "Government head" and "Government side," respectively.

PAR. 103. Serial numbers.—Packages and cases will be numbered in sequence on removal, except where packages or cases are filled for shipment in advance of orders, they may be numbered at the time of filling and need not necessarily be removed in serial order. When tank cars are shipped, the railroad car number will also be reported on Form 702. Where wines are transferred in bond from one bonded premises to another, the packages must, upon removal from the last premises, be re-marked with the serial numbers and other marks of such premises but may retain the marks of the premises from which received: Provided, That where wine stored at a bonded field warehouse is released to the depositing winemaker for immediate removal, the proprietor of the bonded field warehouse may place thereon the serial numbers and the marks and brands of the winery.

PAR. 104. Labels.—When wines are bottled, the bottler shall securely affix to each bottle a label showing (1) the name and address of the premises, or the name, registry number, and State where the premises are located; (2) the kind of wine; (3) the alcoholic content by volume, except that if not over 14 per cent, it may be so stated; and (4) the net contents of the bottle, unless legibly blown in the bottle.

PAR. 105. Contents of packages.—Winemakers will be held strictly responsible for the correct determination of the quantity and alcoholic content of wine removed at the time of removal. They must not assume that a package contains a certain quantity or that the wine is of a certain taxable grade. As required by paragraph 26, appropriate and accurate measures and instruments for measuring and testing the wine must be provided at each winery or storeroom. The Salleron-Dujardin or Juerst ebullioscope or one of the other ebullioscopes named in paragraph 31 may be used for determining the per cent of alcohol contained in the wine. If an approved ebullioscope is not provided, other appropriate and accurate instruments approved by the Commissioner must be provided in lieu thereof.

PAR. 106. Family use.—Where the head of a family operates a bonded winery, still wine of his own production not exceeding 200 gallons per year may be removed free of tax for the use of his family, the year to be reckoned as commencing on July 1. The winemaker must make proper entries of the quantities so removed in his monthly report, Form 702, as required by paragraph 107. Wine in excess of the 200-gallon allowance removed from the winery for family use must be tax-paid upon removal.

PAR. 107. Report of removals.—When wine is removed from the winery or storeroom, appropriate entry must be made on Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, as the case may be. The proprietor of each winery or storeroom shall keep a separate record showing the date of each tax-paid removal, the quantity, kind, and alcoholic content of the wine removed, the serial numbers of the packages or cases, and the name and address of the consignee. The separate record of tax-paid removals may consist of commercial papers kept on the premises available for inspection and in such a manner that the required information may be readily ascertained therefrom. Entry of wine tax-paid and removal must be made in the separate record kept at the winery, or the commercial papers made available as required, before removals are made. Entry of the total removals each day must be made in Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B before the close of business on the following business day. Records of wine received on bonded winery premises must be made on Form 702 or 702–B before the close of the business day.

ARTICLE XXIV—TAX-PAYMENT OF WINES

PAR. 108. Tax-payment by stamp.—Whenever the proprietor proposes to tax-pay and remove wine, he shall, prior to such removal, securely affix to each cask, barrel, or other immediate container except bottles of a capacity of one gallon or less, or to each case or other shipping container (except railroad tank cars), stamps denoting payment of the internal revenue tax thereon. The stamps shall be affixed to the Government head of each package or side of each case. When removal is made in a tank truck, the stamps shall be affixed to a suitable board fastened to the truck in a permanent manner. The stamps must be affixed with a good adhesive. In the case of wooden containers, tacks or staples shall be used in addition to the adhesive. The proprietor shall cancel the stamps by indelibly writing or stamping thereon or perforating his name or initials and the date of cancellation. After cancellation a coating of transparent varnish or shellac must be applied over the stamps. The number of bottles and the size of each bottle in a case of champagne, sparkling wine, or artificial carbonated wine, must be stenciled or marked on the case.

PAR. 109. Tax-payment in tank cars.—Where tax-paid wine is shipped in railroad tank cars, the proprietor shall attach to a copy of the bill of lading wine stamps of a value equal to the tax on the wine so shipped, shall cancel the stamps in the manner prescribed in paragraph 108, and shall send the copy of the bill of lading to which the canceled wine stamps are affixed to the supervisor of the district in which the wine is tax-paid. The bill of lading must show the number of the railroad tank car, the contents in wine gallons, the kind of wine, and the alcoholic strength of the wine.

PAR. 110. Tax-payment label on tank car or tank truck.—There must be securely affixed to each railroad tank car or tank truck of tax-paid wine a label showing the name, registry number, and location (city or town and State) of the bonded premises from which shipped, the contents in wine gallons, the kind of wine, the alcoholic strength thereof, and the date of tax-payment. The label will be in substantially the following form:

Shipped by
CALIFORNIA WINE CO.
B. W. No. 54, St. Helena, Calif., 14th Dist.
8,931.5 gals. Sherry Wine 20% alc.
Tax paid August 10, 1927

The label must be affixed to some place on the tank car or tank truck where it may readily be examined by Government officers, and must be destroyed when the tank car is emptied.

PAR. 111. Stamps equal to tax.—Proprietors will be held strictly responsible for the attachment, or surrender to the district supervisor, of wine stamps in a value equal to the tax on the wine contained in each package or case removed. The tax must be computed according to the alcoholic content of the wine at the time of removal and at the rates provided by law.

PAR. 112. Tax on still wines.—The following are the rates of tax on still wines, artificial or imitation wines or compounds sold as still wines, and vermouth produced in a bonded winery, the per cent of alcohol to be reckoned by volume:

(a) 5 cents per wine gallon when containing not more than 14 percent of absolute alcohol;

(b) 10 cents per wine gallon when containing more than 14 per cent and not exceeding 21 per cent of absolute alcohol;

(c) 20 cents per wine gallon when containing more than 21 per cent and not exceeding 24 per cent of absolute alcohol;

(d) When containing more than 24 per cent of absolute alcohol, classed as distilled spirits and taxed accordingly.

PAR. 113. Tax on sparkling wine.—The following are the rates of tax on champagne or sparkling wine and artificially carbonated wine:

(a) On each bottle or other container of champagne or sparkling wine, 2½ cents on each one-half pint or fraction thereof;

(b) On each bottle or other container of artificially carbonated wine, 1¼ cents on each one pint or fraction thereof;

(c) Any of the foregoing articles containing more than 24 per cent of absolute alcohol by volume shall be classed as distilled spirits and shall be taxed accordingly.

PAR. 114. Computing tax on champagne.—The tax on champagne, sparkling wine, and artificially carbonated wine must be computed on each bottle, and not on the aggregate contents of the case. Thus, the tax on a one-fifth gallon bottle of sparkling wine amounts to 10 cents, and on a case of 12 such bottles the tax amounts to $1.20.

ARTICLE XXV—SHIPMENT OF STILL WINES IN BOND TO OTHER BONDED PREMISES

PAR. 115. Removals free of tax.—Still wines and vermouth may be removed for transfer in bond free of tax from a bonded winery or bonded storeroom to another bonded winery or bonded storeroom, as provided in these regulations. Such wines and vermouth may be so transferred not more than twice.

PAR. 116. Shipments in bond.—Where still wines or vermouth are shipped in bond to other bonded premises the bill of lading covering the shipment must show the proprietor of the premises from which such wine or vermouth is shipped as the consignor, and the proprietor of the premises to which the wine or vermouth is shipped as the consignee; the serial numbers of the packages; the quantity of wine or vermouth and its alcoholic content. Each package or case so shipped must bear the following data, either stenciled thereon in whole or in part, or by label, in whole or in part, securely attached with a good adhesive: that the wine is shipped in bond, the date of shipment, the name, registry number, and location (city or town and State) of the premises from which shipped and the premises to which shipped. This information shall be in addition to the markings prescribed in paragraph 102. Where the wine or vermouth is shipped in tanks, tank trucks, or railroad tank cars, the label must be securely attached with a good adhesive to some place on the tank, tank truck, or railroad tank car where it may readily be examined by Government officers. Where such label is attached to a wooden surface, tacks must be used in addition to the adhesive. The label will be in substantially the following form:

Shipped in bond by
CALIFORNIA WINE CO.
B. W. No. 54, St. Helena, Calif., 14th Dist.
to
NEW YORK WINE CO.
B. W. No. 72, New York, N. Y., 2nd Dist.
Shipped ———

PAR. 117. Form 703.—At the time of making shipment, the proprietor will make out one pink and one blue Form 703, Shipment of Bonded Wines, giving all the information called for on the form, and will forward both copies to the district supervisor of his district.

PAR. 118. Shipments in same district.—If the wines or vermouth are shipped to premises within the same district, the district supervisor will retain both copies of Form 703 until the monthly reports, Form 702 or Form 702–B, of the consignor and consignee are received, when they will be checked with both Forms 702 or 702–B and any loss in transit noted thereon. The date of checking and the initials of the checker will also be entered on each copy of Form 703 in the proper spaces. The district supervisor will then file both copies of Form 703.

PAR. 119. Shipments to other districts.—If the wines or vermouth are shipped to another district, the district supervisor will immediately forward the blue Form 703 to the district supervisor of the district to which the wines or vermouth are shipped. The district supervisor of the district to which the wines or vermouth are shipped will check the blue Form 703 with the monthly report on Form 702 or Form 702–B of the proprietor to whom the wine or vermouth is shipped, and will note thereon any loss in transit. The date of checking and the initials of the checker will also be entered on Form 703 in the proper space. The district supervisor will then return the form to the district supervisor of the district from which the wines or vermouth were shipped. When the form is received by the district supervisor of the shipping district, it will be checked with the consignor's report, Form 702 or 702–B, and the date of checking and initials of the checker will be entered on the Form 703.

PAR. 120. Wines measured when received.—When received at the premises to which they are shipped, the proprietor of such premises will measure the wine or vermouth and enter on his monthly report, Form 702 or 702–B, the quantity actually received.

PAR. 121. Losses in transit.—If there has been a loss in transit from any package or other container in excess of 1 per cent, or 2 per cent in the case of transcontinental shipments, of the quantity shipped in such container, the proprietor of the receiving premises will attach to his monthly report, Form 702 or 702–B, a statement in affidavit form setting out all the material facts relating to the entire loss, and stating particularly the nature and cause thereof, i. e., whether by leakage, evaporation, casualty, theft, etc., and the extent of the loss. If there has been a loss from more than one package, the quantity lost from each package, the cause thereof, and the condition of the package must be given. The statement must also set forth whether the proprietor has been reimbursed or is indemnified for the tax on the wine or vermouth. If statements relative to the loss can be procured from the carrier, copies thereof will also be attached to Form 702 or 702–B, as the case may be. The proprietor shall immediately forward copies of these statements to the proprietor of the winery or storeroom from which the wines or vermouth were shipped.

PAR. 122. Losses less than 1 per cent.—If the loss is less than 1 per cent, or 2 per cent in the case of transcontinental shipments, of the quantity shipped in any package or other container, notation of such loss will be made by the proprietor of the receiving premises on his monthly report, Form 702 or 702–B, but no detailed statement of the loss need be made unless so required by the district supervisor or Commissioner.

PAR. 123. Shipper liable for tax.—The proprietor of the premises from which the still wine or vermouth is shipped in bond will remain liable for the tax thereon until received at the premises to which shipped. Application for remission of tax on losses in transit will be filed by the consignor in accordance with Article XXXIV.

PAR. 124. Transfers to and from bonded field warehouse.—Where wines are transferred to and from a bonded field warehouse and the winery contiguous or adjacent thereto, it shall not be necessary to make report on Form 703. When wines are so transferred the proprietor of each premises shall immediately enter the transaction in his monthly record, Form 702 or 702–B.

ARTICLE XXVI—REMOVAL OF STILL WINE AS DISTILLING MATERIAL

PAR. 125. Wine removed free of tax.—Still wine may be removed in bond free of tax to a fruit distillery or an industrial alcohol plant for use as distilling material in the manufacture of brandy and alcohol.

PAR. 126. Pipe line to fruit distillery.—Where a bonded winery and a fruit distillery are operated on contiguous premises by the same person, still wine for use as distilling material may be transferred from tanks in the winery to measuring tanks in the distillery, or, where the distillery measuring tanks are authorized to be installed on the winery premises, from such measuring tanks directly to the chargers of the stills, by fixed pipe line. The pipe line must traverse only bonded premises and be equipped with a valve which may be locked with a Government lock. The valve will be locked whenever operations at the distillery or winery are suspended.

PAR. 127. Pipe line to industrial alcohol plant.—Where a bonded winery and an industrial alcohol plant are operated on contiguous premises by the same person, still wine for use as distilling material may be transferred from tanks in the winery to storage tanks in the alcohol plant, by means of a securely connected pipe line of a fixed and permanent character. The tanks in the winery must be suitably equipped for determining the quantity of wine so transferred, and the pipe line outlet of each such tank must be equipped with a valve so constructed that it may be locked at all times, except when necessary to be open for the transfer of wine. The keys will be in the custody of the Government officer assigned to the alcohol plant, and the wine will be transferred under his supervision.

PAR. 128. Report on Form 702.—All wine removed from a bonded winery or bonded storeroom for shipment or transfer to a fruit distillery or industrial alcohol plant must be reported by the proprietor on monthly record, Form 702.

When wines are removed as distilling material, the exact alcoholic content of the wine, as 18 per cent, 20 per cent, etc., must be entered on Form 702.

PAR. 129. Substandard wines produced for distilling material.—Substandard wines produced with excessive water or residue material expressly for use as distilling material shall be reported on Form 701.

PAR. 130. Marking of packages.—When shipped each package must be plainly marked "For distilling material," in addition to bearing the marks and brands required by paragraph 102. The winemaker will remain liable for the tax on the wine until it is received at the distillery premises.

PAR. 131. Wines measured when received.—Upon receipt of the wine at the fruit distillery or industrial alcohol plant, it must be measured and entered on Form 15, Monthly Return of Fruit Distiller, or Form 1442, Proprietor's Report of Operations at Industrial Alcohol Plant, as the case may be, with the name of the proprietor, the registry number, and the location of the bonded premises from which it is received. In the case of fortified wines the exact alcoholic content of the wine must also be given.

ARTICLE XXVII—EXPORTATION OF WINES FREE OF TAX

PAR. 132. Removal free of tax.—Wines may be removed from bonded wineries or bonded storerooms free of tax for export in accordance with the provisions of this article.

PAR. 133. Bond Form 186.—Every person intending to withdraw wines from bonded wineries or storerooms, free of tax for exportation, must file with the district supervisor of the district in which the bonded premises are located a bond on Form 186, Bond for the Exportation of Wines Free of Tax under United States Internal Revenue Laws, in a penal sum equal to the tax on the quantity of wine to be withdrawn, as specified in the entry, Form 711, Withdrawal and Export Entry, and in no case less than $500. The rules relating to bond Form 700–A, as set out in Article XIV, shall, as far as applicable, relate to bond Form 186.

PAR. 134. Approval of bond.—The bond shall be approved by the district supervisor if the exporter has in all respects complied with the law and regulations. Withdrawals may be made from time to time under the bond as long as it remains good and sufficient, or until it shall have been released or terminated by the order of the Commissioner or district supervisor.

PAR. 135. Account with bond.—The district supervisor will keep an account with the bond, in which account the principal will be charged with the tax on each lot of wine removed for exportation and will receive credit for the tax on each lot concerning which satisfactory proof of exportation is received. Wine shipped for export will be carried as unaccounted for until proof satisfactory to the district supervisor is received showing the exportation of the wine, and the tax has been paid on any wine lost in transit. No provision has been made in the law for allowance of tax on wines lost in transit for export.

Exportation by Vessel or Aircraft

PAR. 136. Form 711.—After having given the required bond, the exporter will execute and file with the district supervisor an entry on Form 711 in quadruplicate. Parts 1 and 2 of each copy will be fully executed. If the exporter has complied in all respects with the law and regulations, the district supervisor will note his approval on each copy of the entry, retain one copy, and return three copies to the exporter. Upon receipt of the approved copies of the entry, the exporter may withdraw the wines therein described for export free of tax.

PAR. 137. Consigned to collector of customs.—The packages or cases containing such wines must be plainly marked "For export" in letters not less than five-eighths of an inch in height, in addition to bearing the marks and brands required by paragraph 102. The wine must be consigned to the collector of customs at the port of export for examination, inspection, supervision of lading, and report, as provided in paragraph 138. Upon shipment from the winery or bonded storeroom, the exporter will forward two copies of the entry to the collector of customs at the port of export. The other copy of the entry will be retained by the exporter.

PAR. 138. Inspection by customs.—Upon arrival of the wine at the port of export the collector of customs will direct the proper officer to examine and inspect the wines and ascertain whether the same agree in all respects with the description thereof in the entry, and to superintend their lading for exportation. Such officer will note on both copies of the entry any shortage and the apparent cause thereof. When the wine is exported the collector of customs will certify to the clearance of the wine on part 3 of each copy of the entry, forward one copy to the district supervisor who approved it, and retain the remaining copy.

PAR. 139. Bill of lading.—The bill of lading covering shipment of the wine must show the exporter as the shipper, the serial numbers of the packages and the quantity of wine. Upon clearance, the exporter will forward a copy of the bill of lading to the district supervisor. Upon receipt of the copy of the bill of lading and copy of the entry, bearing the certificate of clearance of the collector of customs, and after tax has been paid on any wine lost in transit, the district supervisor will make proper entries in Form 733, Bonded Account as to Still Wines Entering into Bonded Wineries and Bonded Storerooms, Form 733–A, Bonded Account as to Champagne and other Sparkling Wines and Artificially Carbonated Wines, or Form 733, Vermouth Account, as the case may be, and credit the account kept with the export bond, Form 186.

Exportation by Railroad Car, Motor Truck, or Other Conveyance

PAR. 140. Exportation through frontier port.—Where the wines are to be shipped by railroad car, motor truck, or other conveyance, through a customs port, the collector of customs at such port, on receipt of two copies of the entry from the exporter, will direct that the wines be examined, inspected, and report made as provided in paragraph 138. If the inspector finds that the wines have not been tampered with, the collector of customs will allow the railroad car, motor truck, or other conveyance, to proceed to its destination, and will so certify on each copy of the entry, forward one copy to the district supervisor who approved it, and retain the remaining copy.

PAR. 141. Regulations extended.—The provisions of these regulations dealing with bills of lading, the making of entries in bonded accounts, and the crediting of accounts kept with export bonds in connection with exportation by vessel or aircraft shall, so far as applicable, extend and apply to exportation by railroad car, motor truck, or other conveyance.

PAR. 142. Wines tampered with.—If the inspecting customs officer has reason to believe that the wines have been tampered with, the collector of customs will take the wines into his custody and report the facts forthwith to the district supervisor within whose district the port of export is located, for such action as he may deem necessary.

PAR. 143. Shipments to American possessions.—The provisions of these regulations, and the forms prescribed, in respect to the removal of wines, free of tax for exportation to foreign countries, apply to like removals and shipments to the Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the Panama Canal Zone. Hawaii and Alaska are Territories of the United States, and all shipments of domestic wines thereto must be tax-paid before withdrawal from bonded wineries or other bonded premises, unless transferred in bond to a bonded winery or storeroom located in one of those Territories.

ARTICLE XXVIII—TRANSFER OF WINES TO BONDED MANUFACTURING WAREHOUSES, FREE OF TAX

PAR. 144. Removals free of tax.—Wines may be withdrawn from bonded wineries or bonded storerooms without payment of tax and transported to bonded manufacturing warehouses, class 6, to be rectified and exported, or shipped to Puerto Rico.

PAR. 145. Bond, Form 1580.—The proprietor of a bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, desiring to remove wine to such warehouse from a bonded winery or bonded storeroom, free of tax, for rectification and exportation, or shipment to Puerto Rico, will file with the district supervisor of the district in which the winery or bonded storeroom is located, a bond on Form 1580, Bond for Transfer of Wine to Customs Bonded Manufacturing Warehouse, Class 6, executed in triplicate, in a penal sum equal to the amount of the tax on the quantity of wine to be withdrawn, as specified in the entry, Form 711–A, and in no case less than $500. The rules relating to bond Form 700–A, as set out in Article XIV, shall, so far as applicable, relate to bond Form 1580.

PAR. 146. Approval of bond.—Bond Form 1580, so filed, shall be approved by the district supervisor if the proprietor of the bonded manufacturing warehouse has in all respects complied with the law and regulations. Withdrawals may be made from time to time under the bond as long as it remains good and sufficient, or until it shall have been released or terminated by the order of the Commissioner or supervisor.

PAR. 147. Account with bond.—The district supervisor will keep an account with the bond, in which account the principal will be charged with the tax on each lot of wine removed for transportation to a bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, and will receive credit for the tax on each lot concerning which satisfactory proof of deposit in such warehouse is received. Wine removed for transportation to a bonded manufacturing warehouse will be carried as unaccounted for until proof satisfactory to the district supervisor is received showing the deposit of the wine in such warehouse, and the tax has been paid on any wine lost in transit. No allowance of tax will be made on account of any wines lost in transit to a bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6.

PAR. 148. Form 711–A.—After having given the required bond, the proprietor of the bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, will execute and file with the district supervisor six copies of entry, Form 711–A. Parts 1 and 2 of each copy will be fully executed. If the applicant has complied in all respects with the law and regulations, the district supervisor will note his approval on each copy of the entry, retain one copy, return four copies to the applicant, and will forward one copy to the proprietor of the bonded winery or bonded storeroom, as his authority to ship without payment of tax the wine described therein to the bonded manufacturing warehouse. Upon receipt of the approved copies of the entry, the proprietor of the bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, may withdraw the wines therein described for transportation to such warehouse without payment of tax.

PAR. 149. Consignment care collector of customs.—The packages containing such wines must be plainly marked "For deposit in bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6," in letters not less than five-eighths of an inch in height, in addition to bearing the marks and brands required by paragraph 102. These marks may be abbreviated, as "For Dep. B. M. W. Cl. 6." The wine must be consigned to the bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, in care of the collector of customs of the district in which the warehouse is located. Upon shipment of the wine from the winery, or bonded storeroom, the proprietor of the bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, will forward four copies of the entry, Form 711–A, to the collector of customs of the district in which the bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, is located.

PAR. 150. Regauge and deposit in customs bonded manufacturing warehouse.—The collector of customs will direct the proper officer to gauge the wine upon its arrival at the warehouse and cause the wine to be deposited in the customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, named in the entry. When the wine has been gauged and deposited in the warehouse, the officer will fill out and execute the certificate on part 4 of each copy of the entry, retain one copy for his files, send one copy to the collector of customs, one copy to the district supervisor who approved it, and deliver one copy to the proprietor of the customs bonded manufacturing warehouse. If there has been a loss of wine in transit, the district supervisor will note in part 4 on the copy of Form 711–A retained by him the quantity of wine entered for deposit in the customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, prepare Form 1585 proposing assessment thereon, and forward both forms to the Commissioner.

PAR. 151. Bill of lading.—The bill of lading or other document, if any, covering shipment of the wine, must show the proprietor of the bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, as the shipper, the serial numbers of the packages, and the quantity of wine. As soon as the wine is shipped, the proprietor of the bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, will forward a copy of the bill of lading or other shipping document, if any, to the district supervisor of the district where the winery or bonded wine storeroom is located. If the wine is transported on trucks belonging to the proprietor of the bonded manufacturing warehouse, notation to that effect will be made on the entry, Form 711–A. Upon receipt of the copy of the bill of lading or other shipping document, if any, and copy of the entry, bearing the certificate of deposit of the collector of customs, and after tax has been paid on any wine lost in transit, the district supervisor will make proper entries in his bonded account, Form 733, and credit the account kept with the bond, Form 1580.

ARTICLE XXIX—REMOVAL OF WINE FOR USE OF THE UNITED STATES

PAR. 152. Removals free of tax.—Wine may be removed free of tax upon receipt of proper order for use of the United States.

PAR. 153. Bill of lading.—Upon shipment the proprietor will forward to the district supervisor of the district a copy of the bill of lading covering the shipment. The bill of lading must show the serial numbers of the packages and the quantity and alcoholic content of the wine. The district supervisor will forward the bill of lading to the Commissioner after checking it with the proprietor's monthly report on Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, as the case may be. Report of shipment will be made by the proprietor in one of the blank spaces of the form modified for the purpose.

ARTICLE XXX—SHIPMENT OF STILL WINE TO FRUIT DISTILLERY FOR MANUFACTURE OF DEALCOHOLIZED WINE

PAR. 154. Removed free of tax.—Still wine may be removed free of tax to a fruit distillery for the manufacture of dealcoholized wine containing less than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume.

PAR. 155. Marking of packages.—When shipped each package must be plainly marked "For dealcoholization," in addition to bearing the other marks and brands. Where fortified wines are removed for dealcoholization, the information called for in paragraph 317 will be entered on Form 702.

PAR. 156. Entry in Forms 15 and 1493.—Upon receipt of the wine at the fruit distillery, it will be measured and entered on Form 15 and Form 1493, Monthly Statement of Brandy Distillery Producing Wine Containing Less than one-half of 1 per cent of Alcohol by Volume, with the name, registry number, and location of the bonded premises from which it is received.

ARTICLE XXXI—SHIPMENT OF STILL WINE TO VINEGAR MANUFACTURERS

PAR. 157. Removals free of tax.—Still wine may be removed tax-free from a bonded winery or bonded storeroom for the manufacture of vinegar, but before shipment or delivery to the proprietor of a vinegar plant who is not also a winemaker or proprietor of a bonded storeroom, as specified in paragraph 162, the wine will be converted into vinegar stock as prescribed in these regulations.

PAR. 158. Conversion into vinegar stock.—Conversion into vinegar stock will be done under the supervision of an officer detailed to such duty by the district supervisor of the district, by the addition of not less than one-half gallon of glacial acetic-acid, U. S. P., or the equivalent thereof of acetic acid, U. S. P. (approximately 1½ gallons), or of wine vinegar (approximately 12 gallons), to each 100 gallons of dry wine. If fortified wine is to be converted into vinegar stock, three times the quantity of glacial acetic acid, acetic acid, or wine vinegar required for the conversion of dry wine must be added. When glacial acetic acid, U. S. P., or acetic acid, U. S. P., is used, the same need not be tested (except when the district supervisor shall so direct), provided the material is delivered to the officer in a sealed package, bearing seal and label descriptive of its content, placed thereon by a reputable manufacturer.

PAR. 159. Samples of acetic acid.—In all cases where it is desired to use wine vinegar, or glacial acetic acid, U. S. P., or acetic acid, U. S. P., not contained in a sealed package, bearing seal and label descriptive of its contents, placed thereon by a reputable manufacturer, the officer will take a 1-pint sample from each container of the material to be used, and will submit the same to the Government chemist for analysis. After the samples are taken the containers will be sealed by the officer. The chemist will make a report of his analysis to the district supervisor of the district, and will state the quantity, in wine gallons, of the material required to raise the acetic acid content of 100 gallons of wine to not less than one-half of 1 percent by volume in the case of dry wine, or 1½ per cent by volume in the case of fortified wine. The officer supervising the conversion will satisfy himself that the material has not been tampered with since the samples were taken, and will see that the required quantity is added to the wine.

PAR. 160. Marking of packages.—Where glacial acetic acid, U. S. P., or acetic acid, U. S. P., is used to effect conversion, the containers in which the vinegar stock is shipped will be marked "Acetic acid and wine vinegar stock." Where wine vinegar is used to effect conversion, the containers will be marked "Wine vinegar stock." All containers will also be marked with the name, registry number, location (by city or town and State) of the winery or storeroom from which shipped.

PAR. 161. Retention of acetic acid on winery premises.—Winemakers may not retain acetic acid on the winery or storeroom premises. Where wine is to be converted into vinegar stock in accordance with the foregoing, the material required for such conversion must be brought into the winery or storeroom at the time of conversion, and any residue not used must be immediately removed from the winery or storeroom. Wine converted into vinegar stock must be kept separate and apart from other wines in the winery or storeroom during the period necessary for conversion and shipment. The vinegar stock must be removed from the winery or storeroom immediately after conversion. The officer supervising the conversion will see that these requirements are complied with. When fortified wines are removed for the manufacture of vinegar, the information called for in paragraph 317 should be entered on Form 702. District supervisors will advise the Commissioner of all conversions under supervision of their officers.

PAR. 162. Vinegar plant contiguous to winery.—A winemaker or proprietor of a bonded storeroom who is also the proprietor of a vinegar plant contiguous or adjacent to the winery or storeroom may withdraw still wine free of tax from his winery or bonded storeroom for removal to such vinegar plant. Application for withdrawal of wine for removal to a vinegar plant will be made on Form 1415, Application to Remove Wine Vinegar from Bonded Wineries Without Payment of Tax, in duplicate, and filed with the district supervisor. If the supervisor finds that the vinegar plant is equipped and in condition to produce vinegar from the wine applied for, he will approve the application, and return one copy to the winemaker or proprietor of a bonded storeroom as his authorization to remove the wine to his vinegar plant. The winemaker or proprietor of a bonded storeroom, who removes wine to his vinegar plant free of tax, will make appropriate entries in Form 702. A winemaker or proprietor of a bonded storeroom desiring to withdraw wine free of tax for the manufacture of vinegar must file consent of surety on bond Form 700–A, or effective bond of prior series, extending its terms to cover withdrawal and use of the wine in the manufacture of vinegar. A winemaker or proprietor of a bonded storeroom who withdraws wine free of tax for the manufacture of vinegar will keep a record at the vinegar plant of all wines received and vinegar produced. Such record, as well as the premises of the plant, and all materials and equipment, shall be available for inspection by officers during business hours.

ARTICLE XXXII—REMOVAL OF SPOILED WINE

PAR. 163. Soured wine.—Wine which has unavoidably so soured and spoiled as to be unfit for use as wine and which contains one-half of 1 per cent or more of acetic acid in the case of dry wine, or 1½ per cent or more of acetic acid in the case of fortified wine, and not less than 6 per cent of alcohol and acids combined, may be removed from bonded wineries and bonded storerooms free of tax, pursuant to approved application, Form 1415, for shipment to vinegar manufacturers. Wine which has acetified into vinegar, and contains not less than 4 per cent of acetic acid by volume, and not less than 6 per cent of alcohol and acids combined, may be removed free of tax, pursuant to approved application, Form 1415.

PAR. 164. Application for removal.—Proprietors desiring to remove spoiled wine, free of tax, will make application to the district supervisor on Form 1415 for permission to make such removal. Upon receipt of the application, the district supervisor will detail an officer to take a sample from each container of the material which it is desired to remove, and submit the same to the Government chemist for analysis. After the samples are taken the containers will be sealed by the officer.

PAR. 165. Test for alcohol and acids.—The chemist will test the wine for both alcohol and acids. If the analysis indicates that the wine has been tampered with, the chemist will so state in his report. If the analysis of the samples shows the wine to contain one-half of 1 per cent or more of acetic acid in the case of dry wine, or 1½ per cent or more of acetic acid in the case of fortified wine, and not less than 6 per cent of alcohol and acids combined, the wine may be removed from the bonded premises, in the presence of a Government officer detailed to such duty by the district supervisor, for shipment to a vinegar factory, free of tax; except that if the analysis shows the wine to contain not less than 4 per cent of acetic acid, and not less than 6 per cent of alcohol and acids combined, it need not be shipped to a vinegar factory, but must be used as vinegar. Removal must be made promptly; otherwise, new samples must be taken and analyzed before removal.

PAR. 166. Explanation of low alcoholic content.—If the analysis shows the wine to contain less than 6 per cent of alcohol and acids combined by volume, removal from bonded premises free of tax will not be permitted unless the low alcoholic content is satisfactorily explained by affidavit. Upon receipt of such affidavit, the district supervisor will forward it to the Commissioner with report of his findings and recommendation in respect thereto.

PAR. 167. Form 1415.—Application for removal, Form 1415, will be made in duplicate, as will be the chemist's report of analysis. If the district supervisor approves Form 1415, he will retain one copy of the form and one copy of the chemist's report, and forward one copy of each to the proprietor for filing at the winery or storeroom.

ARTICLE XXXIII—CONVERSION OF CHAMPAGNE, SPARKLING WINE, AND ARTIFICIALLY CARBONATED WINE INTO STILL WINE

PAR. 168. Champagne turned into still wine.—Champagne, sparkling wine, and artificially carbonated wine which has unavoidably turned into still wine may be dumped into other containers and upon removal tax-paid as still wine. Such champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine must be dumped into other containers in each instance, so as to permit the escape of any effervescence still in the wine.

PAR. 169. Dumping supervised by officer.—When the proprietor has as much as 100 bottles which he wishes to dump, he will notify the district supervisor, who will detail an officer to inspect the champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine. If the officer finds that the material has actually turned into still wine through no fault of the winemaker, he will authorize the dumping of the same in his presence. Quantities of less than 100 bottles may be dumped by the proprietor without supervision by an officer.

PAR. 170. Records.—When champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine is dumped as still wine, credit will be taken on Form 702–A for the quantity dumped and Form 702 will be debited with a like quantity. If it is desired to destroy champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine because of spoilage, the procedure prescribed in Article XXXV will be followed.

PAR. 171. Report of officer.—The officer supervising the dumping of champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine, as still wine, will count the bottles dumped and will state in his report the number and size of bottles dumped, the condition of the champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine, and the apparent cause of deterioration or spoilage. District supervisors will promptly forward a full report of the findings and action taken in each case, together with a copy of the report of analysis, if made, to the Commissioner.

ARTICLE XXXIV—LOSSES

PAR. 172. Claims for losses.—Proprietors of bonded wineries and bonded storerooms will claim credit in their winery or storeroom accounts, Forms 702, 702–A, and 702–B, for losses of wines in bond only when it is ascertained that losses have been sustained and only for such quantities as are known to have been lost.

PAR. 173. Inventories.—Each proprietor of a bonded winery or bonded storeroom will take an inventory of all wines in storage on June 30 and December 31 of each year, and will enter on his winery or storeroom accounts, Forms 702, 702–A, and 702–B, for those months the losses disclosed by such inventories. Additional inventories may be taken at such other times as the proprietor may desire and the losses disclosed thereby entered on the wine or storeroom accounts. Losses by fire or other casualty, or any other extraordinary or unusual losses, will be reported to the district supervisor immediately after they occur. Credit may also be claimed for such other losses as are actually ascertained to have been sustained, but no credit may be claimed for estimated losses. When an inventory is taken, such fact should be noted on Forms 702, 702–A, and 702–B.

PAR. 174. Losses at wineries and storerooms.—Where the losses at a bonded winery or bonded storeroom during any fiscal year, beginning July 1 and ending June 30, exceed 3 per cent of the aggregate quantity of wine on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year and received in bond during the fiscal year, and 6 per cent of the wine produced at a bonded winery by fermentation, or vermouth manufactured, during the fiscal year, or when requested by the district supervisor, the winemaker or proprietor of a bonded storeroom must file with the district supervisor for his district, within 30 days after the close of the fiscal year, an application under oath for remission of the tax on the entire loss, and set out therein all the material facts relating to the loss, and particularly the nature, cause, and extent of the loss. The application will also state the quantity of wine destroyed for which special allowance was made. Applications must be prepared by or at the direction of the proprietor or his duly authorized agent.

PAR. 175. Percentage of loss allowed.—The percentage of wine lost will be calculated by fiscal years, beginning July 1 and ending June 30, and will be based on the quantity of wine on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year plus the quantity received and produced during the fiscal year. The percentage of loss from each taxable class of wine will be calculated separately, unless there has been a mixture of different classes during the fiscal year, in which case the percentage of loss will be calculated on the aggregate quantity. Losses of vermouth will be determined separately. The allowances above provided will apply to the losses of each fiscal year separately and will not be cumulative.

PAR. 176. Cause of loss.—The nature, cause, and extent of the loss must be stated specifically and in sufficient detail to disclose all the material facts and circumstances surrounding the loss. Where the loss is due to leakage, the cause of the leakage must be stated; where due to racking, the quantity of wine racked and the time of racking should be given; where due to excessive evaporation, the cause therefor should be set out fully; where due to the baking of wine, all of the information required to be entered on the record prescribed by paragraph 85 must be furnished. The particulars of losses from other causes should be given in like manner. Where possible to do so, the loss from each tank or package should be explained separately.

PAR. 177. Losses of wine in making vermouth.—Where losses of sweet wine transferred to the vermouth department and the losses of such wine in the process of manufacturing vermouth appear to be excessive, district supervisors will make such investigation, or require such evidence to be submitted, as may be deemed necessary and will advise the Commissioner of their findings and recommendations relative to allowance or disallowance of the loss.

PAR. 178. Losses in transit.—Where the loss of wine in transit from any package, case, cask, or tank car shipped in bond exceeds 1 per cent (2 per cent on transcontinental shipments) of the quantity so shipped therein, the proprietor of the winery or storeroom from which the wine is shipped must file with the district supervisor for his district, within 30 days after the shipment is received at destination or is ascertained to have been lost, an application under oath for remission of the tax on the entire loss, setting out therein all the material facts relating to the loss and particularly the nature, cause, and extent of the loss. The application should be supported by statements of proper railroad officials, or affidavits of the consignee or other parties, having personal knowledge of the loss. If the loss does not exceed 1 per cent (2 per cent on transcontinental shipments) from any package, application for the allowance of such loss will not be required, provided there are no circumstances indicating that the wine lost, or any part thereof, was unlawfully removed.

PAR. 179. Insurance.—Each application covering losses by casualty or in transit must state whether the proprietor has been or will be indemnified for the tax on the wine lost. Allowance will not be made for losses where the proprietor is so indemnified.

PAR. 180. District supervisor's examination.—When an application for remission of tax is filed with the district supervisor, he will carefully examine it and cause such investigation to be made, or require such additional evidence to be submitted, as he may deem necessary, and will forward the application to the Commissioner, together with a statement setting out his recommendation and his reasons therefor, as expeditiously as possible. Where large or excessive losses from casualty or other cause are reported, district supervisors will, upon receipt of such report, immediately make such investigation or require such evidence to be submitted as may be deemed necessary and will advise the Commissioner of their findings and recommendations relative to allowance or disallowance of the loss.

PAR. 181. Action by Commissioner.—The Commissioner will make such allowances for unavoidable loss of wines while in storage or in transit as in his judgment may be just and proper. District supervisors will carry all items of loss in bonded wineries and bonded storerooms in their bonded accounts, Forms 733, 733–A, and 733 marked "Vermouth Account," as not allowed until the tax is paid on the loss or they are advised by the Commissioner that the loss has been allowed. Tax must be paid on all wines removed contrary to law while stored in a bonded winery or bonded storeroom or in transit in bond regardless of the per cent of loss.

ARTICLE XXXV—DESTRUCTION OF SPOILED WINES

PAR. 182. Destruction witnessed by officer.—Wine which has unavoidably so soured and spoiled as to be unfit for use as wine may be destroyed without payment of tax, but the destruction thereof must be witnessed in each instance by an officer detailed to such duty by the district supervisor.

PAR. 183. Notice to district supervisor.—When the proprietor of a bonded winery or bonded storeroom desires to destroy spoiled wine in order to be relieved of tax liability thereon, he will advise the district supervisor as to the approximate quantity of wine which he desires to destroy, and will request that an officer be detailed to inspect the wine and witness the destruction thereof. Where the quantity to be destroyed is in excess of 500 gallons, or 100 bottles if champagne, sparkling or artificially carbonated wine, the proprietor should accompany his request to the district supervisor with a sworn statement setting forth fully the condition of the wine and the cause of spoilage. The district supervisor will thereupon detail an officer to inspect the wine and witness the destruction thereof at the earliest practicable date as hereinafter provided.

PAR. 184. Inspection by officer.—The officer detailed to this duty will carefully inspect the wine; and if he is satisfied from his inspection that the wine has so spoiled from unavoidable cause as to be unfit for use as wine, and if there are no circumstances indicating that the wine has been tampered with through the removal of the original content and the substitution of water or other liquid in lieu thereof, he will permit the destruction of the wine in his presence, provided the quantity to be destroyed is not in excess of 500 gallons, or 100 bottles if champagne, sparkling or artificially carbonated wine.

PAR. 185. Samples.—If there are circumstances indicating that the wine may have been tampered with through the removal of the original contents and the substitution of water or other liquid in lieu thereof, or if the quantity to be destroyed is in excess of 500 gallons, or 100 bottles if champagne, sparkling or artificially carbonated wine, the officer will take a sample from each package or bulk container of the wine which it is desired to destroy, which he will submit to the nearest Bureau branch laboratory for analysis. After samples are taken therefrom, packages and bulk containers will be sealed by the officer. A sufficient number of samples of champagne, sparkling or artificially carbonated wine, to be truly representative of the entire lot to be destroyed should be taken.

PAR. 186. Test for alcohol and acids.—The chemist will test the wine for both alcohol and acids and examine it for other cause of spoilage, and will state in his report whether the wine is unfit for use as such. Where the analysis indicates that the wine has been tampered with, the chemist will so state in his report. If the chemical analysis of the samples shows the material to be unfit for use as wine and to contain 6 per cent or more of alcohol and acids combined, by volume, the district supervisor may authorize the wine to be destroyed in the presence of the officer. Wine so destroyed will not be included with other losses in calculating the per cent of loss under paragraphs 174 and 175.

PAR. 187. Explanation required.—If the analysis shows the wine to contain less than 6 per cent of alcohol and acids combined, by volume, destruction without payment of tax will not be permitted unless the low alcoholic content is satisfactorily explained by affidavit to the district supervisor. Neither will destruction without payment of tax be authorized where it is found that the wine has spoiled through the failure of the proprietor to use reasonable diligence.

PAR. 188. Officer's report.—Officers supervising the destruction of spoiled wines will measure the wine before authorizing destruction and will state in their reports the quantity destroyed, the condition of the wine, and the apparent cause of spoilage. District supervisors will promptly forward a full report of their findings and action taken in each case, together with a copy of the chemist's report of analysis, to the Commissioner.

ARTICLE XXXVI—DISPOSITION OF LEES

PAR. 189. Removed for fertilizer.—Where it is desired to remove lees from a bonded winery or bonded storeroom for use as fertilizer or other by-product, all liquid must be expressed from the lees before removal from the premises. Lees removed for such purpose must not be used as distilling material or received upon fruit distillery premises.

PAR. 190. Removed as distilling material.—Where it is desired to use lees as distilling material, the same must be removed and reported in the same manner as wine removed for distilling material. (See Article XXVI.) When necessary, water may be added to fortified wine lees before removal as distilling material. Appropriate entry, because of the addition of water to the lees, must be made in Form 702.

PAR. 191. Application for destruction or removal.—Where the proprietor of a bonded winery or storeroom has a material quantity of lees which he desires to destroy or remove other than for use as distilling material and obtain special allowance therefor, he shall make application in writing to the district supervisor for permission to do so, stating the kind, approximate quantity, alcoholic content, and the nature of the proposed disposition. If the lees to be destroyed are unfortified lees, and in a quantity of not more than 500 gallons, the district supervisor will authorize the applicant in writing to dispose of the lees without supervision, except that if the supervisor deems it advisable he will detail an officer to make inspection of the lees and supervise its destruction. Lees which are destroyed or removed pursuant to such written permission or in the presence of a Government officer detailed to such duty by the district supervisor, will not be included with other losses in calculating the per cent of loss under paragraphs 174 and 175. Lees destroyed under the supervision of an officer, or by written authorization of the supervisor, will be entered on Form 702 as loss according to taxable grade, and the disposition or method of destruction must be stated.

ARTICLE XXXVII—MONTHLY RECORDS

PAR. 192. Form 702.—The proprietor of every bonded winery or bonded storeroom will keep a monthly record on Form 702.

PAR. 193. Form 702–A.—At wineries or storerooms where champagne, sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine is handled, the proprietor will keep a separate monthly record on Form 702–A.

PAR. 194. Form 702–B.—The proprietor of every bonded winery manufacturing vermouth, and the proprietor of every bonded winery or storeroom receiving, storing, or disposing of vermouth, will keep a monthly record on Form 702–B of transactions in vermouth. Proprietors of wineries manufacturing vermouth will also keep on such form a record of all wines and other materials received and used for the manufacture of vermouth.

PAR. 195. Material record, Form 701.—The proprietor of every bonded winery shall keep a monthly record on Form 701 of all materials, other than ameliorating materials, received and used for the manufacture of wine. The receipt of such materials will be entered daily on the form in the statement "Materials received." Each winemaker shall keep a separate record showing the names and addresses of all persons from whom such materials are received, together with the date of receipt, and the kind and quantity received from each: Provided, That where commercial records containing such information are kept on the premises available for inspection and in such a manner that the required information may be readily ascertained therefrom, such commercial records will be accepted in lieu of such separate record. Form 701 need not be kept when there are no materials on hand or wine in the process of manufacture.

PAR. 196. Complete records required.—All the information called for in Forms 701, 702, 702–A, and 702–B, as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines of the forms and the instructions pirnted on the forms, will be reported and all operations will be entered daily on the forms. The entries must be made by the proprietor, or by his agent from personal knowledge or from data furnished by the proprietor. Reports prepared by persons who have no knowledge of the winery or storeroom operations will not be accepted.

PAR. 197. Fractional parts of gallon.—All fractional parts of a gallon shall be stated on Forms 701, 702, and 702–B in decimals. For example, one-half gallon should be stated as 0.50 gallon, and not ½ gallon. Fractional parts of a gallon less than one-hundredth will be excluded. Thus, 40.079 gallons will be called 40.07 gallons.

PAR. 198. Reports signed by proprietor or authorized agent.—These reports must be subscribed and sworn to by the proprietor or his duly authorized agent. An agent who signs the reports must have on file with the district supervisor a proper power of attorney authorizing him to execute the reports for the proprietor.

PAR. 199. Three copies of each record.—One copy each of Forms 701, 702, 702–A, and 702–B will be retained at the winery or storeroom by the proprietor as a permanent record, subject to inspection by Government officers at any reasonable hour. On or before the 10th day of the month succeeding that for which rendered, the proprietor will forward two copies of each form to the district supervisor.

PAR. 200. Records forwarded together.—When Forms 701, 702–A, and 702–B are kept, the proprietor will insert one copy of each such form in each copy of Form 702. Where forms are rendered in blank they should bear the notation "No transactions." Upon discontinuance of a bonded winery or bonded storeroom, the last reports should be marked "Final."

ARTICLE XXXVIII—DISTRICT SUPERVISOR'S ACCOUNTS

PAR. 201. Monthly accounts.—District supervisors will render monthly accounts on Forms 733 and 733–A of transactions at bonded wineries and bonded storerooms. Form 733 will be used for still wines, Form 733–A for champagne, sparkling wine, and artificially carbonated wine, and Form 733 marked "Vermouth Account" for vermouth. These accounts will be prepared from data obtained from Forms 702, 702–A, and 702–B rendered by the proprietors of bonded wineries and bonded storerooms.

PAR. 202. Unaccounted for items.—Still wine and vermouth shipped to other bonded premises will be carried as unaccounted for until Form 702, 702–B, or 703 is received showing that the wine has been received at the premises to which shipped. Wine shipped for export will likewise be carried as unaccounted for until Form 711 and bill of lading are received showing exportation of the wine. Losses in transit will be carried as not allowed until the same are allowed by the Commissioner or the tax is paid thereon.

PAR. 203. Losses reported.—The quantity of spoiled wines destroyed in the presence of Government officers in accordance with Article XXXV, and the quantity of lees destroyed or removed in accordance with Article XXXVI, will be reported as loss. Where there is no evidence or circumstances indicating that the wines were tampered with through removal of the original content and the substitution of water or other liquid in lieu thereof, credit may be taken for such items as loss allowed on storage.

PAR. 204. Accounts in duplicate.—District supervisors' monthly accounts will be prepared in duplicate and by States within the district. One copy will be retained by the district supervisor and one copy forwarded on or before the last day of the month succeeding that for which rendered, to the Commissioner, together with copies of Forms 701, 702, 702–A, and 702–B.

ARTICLE XXXIX—STAMPS

PAR. 205. Denominations.—Stamps for the tax-payment of wines will be provided in denominations of ½ cent, 1 cent, 1¼ cents, 1½ cents, 2 cents, 2½ cents, 3 cents, 4 cents, 5 cents, 6 cents, 7½ cents, 10 cents, 12 cents, 15 cents, 18 cents, 20 cents, 24 cents, 30 cents, 36 cents, 40 cents, 48 cents, 50 cents, 60 cents, 72 cents, 80 cents, $1.00, $1.20, $1.44, $1.50, $1.60, $2.00, $2.50, $4.00, $4.80, $5.00, $9.60, $20, $40, $50, and $100.

PAR. 206. Purchase from collector.—Such stamps will be purchased by winemakers from the collector of internal revenue of the district in which the winery or storeroom is located. Stamps may not be purchased by one winemaker from another, nor may they, except in cases of emergency, be purchased from collectors of other districts. Wine-tax stamps may be sold only to proprietors of bonded wineries or bonded storerooms and then only for the payment of tax on wine.

PAR. 207. Form 427–B.—With each purchase of stamps the winemaker will submit to the collector Form 427–B, Order for Stamps—Wine, in triplicate, properly filled out. The collector will stamp the date of sale on all copies of Form 427–B, return one copy to the winemaker with the stamps, and send one copy to the appropriate district supervisor of the Alcohol Tax Unit. The remaining copy of Form 427–B will be filed in the collector's office so that all purchases of stamps may be verified at any time. Collectors will refuse to sell stamps where such form is not submitted.

PAR. 208. Affixing and canceling.—Stamps denoting the payment of tax on packages or cases of wine must be securely affixed thereto and canceled in the manner prescribed in paragraph 108.

PAR. 209. Obliteration of stamps, marks, and brands.—A dealer who empties any receptacle to which wine stamps are attached shall destroy such stamps; and if the receptacle is a cask, barrel, keg, tank, tank truck, or railroad tank car, he shall scrape or obliterate the marks, brands, and certificates of tax-payment thereon. Wine stamps shall be destroyed by scraping or obliterating, immediately the receptacles to which they are attached are emptied. Marks and brands on all casks, barrels, and kegs, and certificates of tax-payment on tank cars, containing wine, shall also be scraped or obliterated immediately upon emptying.

ARTICLE XLI—REDEMPTION OF STAMPS

PAR. 212. Statute governing redemption of stamps.—The Act of May 12, 1900, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 26, section 1424), provides—

That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, may, upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of the facts, make allowance for or redeem such of the stamps, issued under authority of law, to denote the payment of any internal-revenue tax, as may have been spoiled, destroyed, or rendered useless or unfit for the purpose intended, or for which the owner may have no use, or which through mistake may have been improperly or unnecessarily used, or where the rates or duties represented thereby have been excessive in amount, paid in error, or in any manner wrongfully collected. Such allowance or redemption may be made, either by giving other stamps in lieu of the stamps so allowed for or redeemed, or by refunding the amount or value to the owner thereof, deducting therefrom, in case of repayment, the percentage, if any, allowed to the purchaser thereof; but no allowance or redemption shall be made in any case until the stamps so spoiled or rendered useless shall have been returned to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or until satisfactory proof has been made showing the reason why the same can not be returned; or if so required by the said Commissioner, when the person presenting the same can not satisfactorily trace the history of said stamps from their issuance to the presentation of his claim aforesaid.

The said Act, as amended, further provides—

That no claim for the redemption of or allowance for stamps shall be allowed unless presented within four years after the purchase of such stamps from the Government.

PAR. 213. Claim to collector.—Winemakers desiring to have wine stamps redeemed under the foregoing provisions of law must make claim on Form 843, Claim for Refund of Amounts Paid for Stamps, to the collector of internal revenue. When a winery or storeroom is discontinued and stamps remain on hand, such stamps are not redeemable if the winemaker operates other bonded premises at which wines are stored. In such cases the stamps may be transferred to the remaining premises for use thereat. Notation of the transfer must be made on record Form 702 of both premises.

ARTICLE XLII—IMPORTED WINES

PAR. 214. Tax-payment.—All internal revenue taxes payable on wines imported into the United States from foreign countries and coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands, when entered or withdrawn for consumption, will be collected, accounted for, and deposited as internal revenue collections by collectors of customs, in accordance with Customs Treasury Decision 47942.

ARTICLE XLIII—PAYMENT OF SPECIAL (OCCUPATIONAL) TAXES

PAR. 215. Retail and wholesale liquor dealer.—Unless exempted by law, all persons who sell wines in quantities of less than 5 wine gallons to the same person at the same time are liable for special tax as retail dealers in liquors at the rate of $25 per year, and all persons who sell wines in quantities of 5 wine gallons or more to the same person at the same time are liable for special tax as wholesale dealers in liquors at the rate of $100 per year. Persons selling wine both in retail and wholesale quantities are liable for special taxes as both retail and wholesale dealers in liquors, except that no retail dealer incurs liability as a wholesale dealer solely by reason of sales of 5 wine gallons or more to the same person at the same time if such sales are for immediate consumption on the premises where sold.

PAR. 216. Exemption of winemaker.—Qualified winemakers who sell wines of their own production at the winery where the same are made or at the general business office of such winemaker, are exempt from these special taxes; but no winemaker shall be exempt from such special tax for more than one place of sale. Unless the exemption is claimed elsewhere by the winemaker, it will be presumed that the exemption is claimed for the winery where the wine is produced, and collectors of internal revenue should collect special taxes accordingly. Where the exemption is claimed for a place other than the winery, the collector shall ascertain that special tax, if incurred, has been paid at the winery before allowing the exemption.

PAR. 217. Annual special tax.—The special-tax year commences on July 1 of each year and ends on June 30 of the next year. All persons liable for special tax must file Form 11 with the collector of internal revenue and pay the special tax to him not later than July 31 of each year. Special taxes become due on the 1st day of July in each year and payment thereof will be evidenced by special-tax stamps issued by the collector.

PAR. 218. Business commenced after July 1.—Where business is commenced after July 1, the tax will be computed ratably from the 1st of the month in which business was commenced to June 30 following. In such cases, Form 11, Special Tax Return, must be filed with the collector and the tax paid to him not later than the last day of the month in which business commenced.

PAR. 219. Failure to pay special tax.—Any person liable for special tax, who fails to file a return, Form 11, within the prescribed time, and who willfully fails to pay such tax, is liable to severe penalties.

ARTICLE XLIV—PENALTIES

PAR. 220. Penalty for tax evasion.—Section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, provides—

That whoever evades or attempts to evade any tax imposed by sections 611 to 615, both inclusive, or any requirement of sections 610 to 621, both inclusive, or regulations issued pursuant thereto, or whoever, otherwise than as provided in such sections, recovers or attempts to recover any spirits from domestic or imported wine, shall, on conviction, be punished for each such offense by a fine of not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, and in addition thereto by a penalty of double the tax evaded, or attempted to be evaded, to be assessed and collected in the same manner as taxes are assessed and collected, and all wines, spirits, liqueurs, cordials, or similar compounds, as to which such violation occurs shall be forfeited to the United States. • • •

That any person required under Titles V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, or XII, to pay, or to collect, account for and pay over any tax, or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return or supply any information for the purposes of the computation, assessment, or collection of any such tax, who fails to pay, collect, or truly account for and pay over any such tax, make any such return or supply any such information at the time or times required by law or regulation shall in addition to other penalties provided by law be subject to a penalty of not more than $1,000.

Any person who willfully refuses to pay, collect, or truly account for and pay over any such tax, make such return or supply such information at the time or times required by law or regulation, or who willfully attempts in any manner to evade such tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and in addition to other penalties provided by law, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

The term "person" as used in this section includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

ARTICLE XLV—BUSINESS SUBJECT TO INSPECTION BY GOVERNMENT OFFICERS

PAR. 221. Inspection by officers.—Internal revenue officers have authority to inspect at any reasonable hour the records, stocks, and premises of winemakers to determine that all provisions of the internal revenue laws are being complied with. Officers desiring to make inspections are required to identify themselves as such by exhibiting their credentials. Any person who shall forcibly obstruct or hinder an internal revenue officer in the execution of any power or authority vested in him by law, renders himself liable to severe penalties.

PAR. 222. Inventory of wines.—Inspecting officers will, when directed to do so, take an accurate inventory of all wines on hand at the time of their inspection and compare the quantity found with the quantity carried in the winery or storeroom accounts, Form 702, 702–A, and 702–B. Where a material overage or deficiency in wine is found, the proprietor will be called upon immediately to explain the reasons therefor, and he will be instructed to enter the overage or deficiency on his current account, Form 702, 702–A, or 702–B, as the case may be, with proper explanatory note. The officers will also instruct the winemaker relative to adjusting the winery or storeroom accounts because of any other discrepancies found by them.

PAR. 223. Assessment of tax on shortages.—Inspecting officers will not report for assessment apparent shortages of wine or instruct the winemaker to adjust the winery or storeroom records because of apparent overages or shortages where the overage or shortage is not determined by actual inventory. If the officers do not take an actual inventory and their findings are based upon estimate, they should so state in their reports.

PAR. 224. Inventory of stamps.—An inventory of the stamps on hand will be taken and the amount found compared with the quantity carried in the winery or storeroom accounts on Form 702. The officers will ascertain whether the proprietor is properly serially numbering and marking all packages upon removal and whether entries are properly made on Forms 701, 702, 702–A, and 702–B. All wines on storage will be examined and where it appears that the wine in any container has been tampered with through illegal removal of the original content and the substitution of water or other liquid therefor, a sample will be taken from each such container and submitted to the Bureau chemist for analysis.

PAR. 225. Reports to Commissioner.—District supervisors will forward to the Commissioner with their recommendations in respect to the assessment of taxes, copies of all reports of officers disclosing apparent tax liabilities or that the winery or storeroom accounts are incorrect and should be adjusted.

PART 2—REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE FORTIFICATION OF WINE

ARTICLE XLVI—KINDS OF WINE AND BRANDY USED IN FORTIFICATION

PAR. 227. Limitations.—Natural wine and pure sweet wine (defined in Article XVI) may be fortified with grape brandy (defined in paragraph 245), and citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, and apple wine (defined in Article XVI) may be fortified with citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, and apple brandy (defined in paragraph 245), respectively, by the producer of such wine on the premises where made: Provided, That a citrus-fruit brandy prepared from one kind of citrus fruit may not be used for the fortification of a citrus-fruit wine prepared from another kind of citrus fruit, and a berry brandy prepared from one kind of berry may not be used for the fortification of a berry wine prepared from another kind of berry. No wine other than the wines named may be fortified, and no spirits other than the kind of brandy specified in the case of each, except tax-paid grain or other ethyl alcohol, may be used to fortify such wines. Wine may not be fortified by any person other than the producer thereof, or on premises other than those where made.

PAR. 228. Form 605.—At the beginning of each vintage season and at least 30 days before commencing the production of wine for fortification, winemakers must file with the district supervisor a notice on Form 605, Winemaker's Notice of Intention to Fortify Wines, in duplicate, executed in accordance with instructions printed thereon.

ARTICLE XLVII—FORTIFYING ROOM

PAR. 229. Separate room for fortification.—At wineries where wine is fortified a separate room must be provided on the bonded premises for that purpose and for the storage of brandy to be so used. This room wil be known as the fortifying room and will be used solely for the storage of brandy and the fortification of wine, except that when the room is not devoted to such use, or when all brandy on storage therein is in a separate locked compartment as provided in paragraph 231, the room may be used for other purposes. All brandy for use in fortification received at the winery will be immediately deposited within the fortifying room, and all wine fortified will be fortified within this room.

PAR. 230. Construction of room.—This room must be securely built of substantial materials. With the exception of the entrance door, all doors, windows, or other openings leading to or from the fortifying room must be so arranged and built that they may be securely locked, bolted, or barred from the inside. The entrance door, which will be locked by a Government seal lock at all times when brandy, or wines held for refortification, are on deposit therein, except when fortifying operations are being carried on, or when brandy or wine is being received therein or removed therefrom, and the key to the lock will be in the custody of the district supervisor or other Government officer disignated by him. The windows must be secured by substantial iron bars or solid shutters. District supervisors will make requisitions for the necessary locks and seals, the same to be supplied, used, and accounted for as in case of internal revenue bonded warehouses.

PAR. 231. Brandy room.—If desired, the fortifying room may be divided into two separate compartments, one for the fortification of wine and the other for the storage of brandy withdrawn for use in fortification. If a special room for the storage of brandy is provided, it must be sufficiently large to admit of the storage of all brandy to be received and possessed at any one time. When a brandy storage room is provided, all brandy received at the winery for use in fortification will be deposited therein, except where the brandy is to be used immediately, as provided in paragraph 233.

PAR. 232. Locks for brandy room.—The door to the brandy storage compartment must open into the other part of seal lock at all times when brandy is on deposit therein, except when brandy is being received therein or removed therefrom. The key to the lock will be in the custody of the district supervisor or other Government officer designated by him.

PAR. 233. Suitable facilities.—The fortifying room must be provided with suitable facilities for the fortification of wine and must be sufficiently large to admit of the storage and necessary handling of all brandy withdrawn for fortification purposes that may be on hand unused at any one time. There must be provided within the room suitable fortifying tanks sufficient in number and capacity to enable the Government officer to supervise the fortification operations expeditiously. All wines shall be fortified in such tanks. Where brandy is received by pipe line or in railroad tank cars, suitable closed storage tanks of sufficient capacity for the storage of all brandy so received must also be provided within the room, unless the brandy is to be used immediately and is run directly into the fortifying tanks.

PAR. 234. Fortifying and storage tanks.—A permanent serial number and the capacity in wine gallons must be painted on all tanks within the fortifying room. The capacity of the tank per inch of depth must be painted on fortifying tanks and brandy storage tanks of uniform dimensions, standing on end. A table showing the capacity of the tank for each inch of depth must be securely attached to each fortifying tank and brandy storage tank of irregular dimensions or lying on side, a copy of which table shall be attached to each copy of Form 698.

PAR. 235. Location of tanks.—All tanks in the fortifying room must be at least 18 inches from any wall and from each other, except that the supervisor may, if, in his opinion, conditions warrant, permit a lesser distance between such tanks, but in no case less than 12 inches. Properly constructed concrete tanks will be permitted in the fortifying room, either single or in series with no space between if so arranged as to permit ready inspection by Government officers. Manholes and all inlet and outlet connections of brandy storage tanks must be equipped with Government locks. The wall of a concrete tank may constitute a part of the wall of the fortifying room. All pipes, hose, or other conveyors leading to or from tanks must be so exposed as to permit ready inspection by Government officers. All stopcocks must be of easy access. Suitable and accurate scales must be provided and placed in this room for use in gauging the brandy, except where all brandy used is conveyed by pipe line directly to the fortifying tank immediately after gauging at the distillery.

PAR. 236. Accommodations for Government officers.—A well-lighted, heated, and ventilated office not less than 10 feet square must be provided within the fortifying room by the winemaker for the use of the Government officers assigned to supervise fortification. The office must be furnished with a desk having one or more drawers that may be locked, suitable for the storage of necessary records and forms, a chair, water for making tests, and shelving for storing samples. Where, in the case of wineries heretofore established, it is not practicable to provide an office in the fortifying room in conformity with the requirements hereof, such an office will not be insisted upon if other reasonable and suitable office accommodations for the use of Government officers have been provided.

PAR. 237. Form 698 and plan.—The fortifying room and equipment must be accurately described in Form 693 and the plan of the winery premises and apparatus as prescribed in Article X. Where material changes are made in the room, such as the removal or addition of tanks, or changes in the capacity of tanks, report thereof must be made and filed as provided by paragraph 49.

ARTICLE XLVIII—TANKS AND EQUIPMENT

PAR. 238. Weighing tanks.—Where brandy is received in railroad tank cars or by pipe line (except as hereinafter provided), a suitable weighing tank must be installed within the fortifying room for weighing the brandy when received and used. The same weighing tank may be used where suitable for weighing the quantities of brandy received and used for fortification.

PAR. 239. Testing instruments.—Appropriate and accurate instruments for determining the alcoholic, saccharine, and acid content of all wines ameliorated and fortified must be provided by the winemaker. Information respecting instruments which may be used for the purpose will be found in paragraphs 30 and 31. If such instruments are not provided, other appropriate and accurate instruments approved by the Commissioner must be provided in lieu thereof.

ARTICLE XLIX—KINDS OF WINE THAT MAY BE FORTIFIED

PAR. 240. Wines eligible for fortification.—Only natural wine, citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, apple wine, and pure sweet wine produced in accordance with Article XVI of these regulations may be fortified.

PAR. 241. Supervision by Government officers.—Government officers assigned to supervise the fortification of wine will not allow such fortification unless they are satisfied after examination of the tank label, Form 546, and testing of the wine, that the limitations in these regulations relative to the amelioration of wine have been observed. If the Government officer is doubtful whether the wine is eligible for fortification, he will submit the matter to the district supervisor for decision.

ARTICLE L—IDENTIFICATION OF WINES

PAR. 242. Form 546.—Where grapes, citrus-fruit (except lemons and limes), peaches, cherries, berries, apricots, or apples are crushed for probable fortification, there shall be attached to the fermenting tanks into which the material is run a label, Form 546, filled out in accordance with the instructions contained therein.

PAR. 243. Removal of Form 546.—Form 546 will be signed by the winemaker. If the wine is transferred to another tank before amelioration or fortification, the label must be transferred to the new tank and the serial number of the tank and date of transfer entered on such label. Where the contents of two or more tanks are transferred to a single tank, the labels will be attached to the new tank. Where the contents of a tank are transferred to two or more tanks, duplicate labels will be attached to the new tanks. Upon fortification of the wine, the label will be removed and attached to the copy of Form 275, Storekeeper-Gauger's Report of Fortification of Wine, which is forwarded to the district supervisor.

PAR. 244. Transfer of labels.—The labels must be so attached to t he tanks that they will not become detached or obliterated and so that they may be transferred from one tank to another upon transfer of the wines. Government officers will not permit the fortification of wine contained in any tank which is not labeled in accordance with these regulations.

ARTICLE LI—KIND OF SPIRITS USABLE FOR FORTIFICATION

PAR. 245. Brandies eligible for use in fortification.—The brandies authorized to be used for fortification, as enumerated in paragraph 227, are those made exclusively from grapes, citrus fruits (except lemons and limes), peaches, cherries, berries, apricots, or apples, or from grape wine in the manufacture of which artificial sweetening has been used under the limitations prescribed by Article XVI of these regulations, or from the fruit pomace residuum of such grape wine, or from citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, or apple wine, in the manufacture of which artificial sweetening has been used under the limitations prescribed by Article XVI of these regulations. Brandy produced from the products or the residues of such fruits and berries may also be used for fortification. No brandy or wine spirits produced otherwise than as specified herein may be used for fortification. Brandy produced from grape cheese and a sugar solution may not be used for the fortification of wine.

ARTICLE LII—PROCUREMENT OF BRANDY AND TAX-PAID ETHYL ALCOHOL FOR THE FORTIFICATION OF WINE

PAR. 246. Procurement of brandy.—After notice on Form 605 has been filed with the district supervisor, and the use of the pipe line, if any, for the transfer of brandy has been approved, the winemaker may procure brandy or tax-paid ethyl alcohol in the manner hereinafter prescribed for use in fortifying wines.

PAR. 247. Safe-keeping of brandy.—Winemakers should not make application to procure brandy in excess of their immediate needs. Upon removal of the brandy from the distillery or warehouse they become responsible under the law and regulations for the safe-keeping of the brandy and for the tax on any losses, except as provided in Article LIX.

ARTICLE LIII—MANNER OF PROCURING BRANDY IN PACKAGES FROM FRUIT DISTILLERIES

PAR. 248. Application to withdraw brandy.—Where it is desired to procure brandy from a fruit distillery, the winemaker will make application on part 1 of Form 257, Application for the Removal of Brandy to Fortify Wine, to the district supervisor of the district in which the winery is located, for the withdrawal thereof and the assignment of an officer to gauge the same for that purpose. The application shall be filed in triplicate where the winery and the distillery are in the same supervisory district, and in quadruplicate where they are in different districts. A separate application must be made for each lot of brandy which it is desired to procure. The same application may not include brandy from more than one distillery, nor two or more lots to be removed from the same distillery at different times, except where the distillery is adjacent to the winery as hereinafter provided.

PAR. 249. Action of district supervisor.—If the application is in proper order and the bond of the winemaker computed as prescribed by paragraph 48 is sufficient to cover the brandy to be procured, the district supervisor will (1) where the distillery is located in another supervisory district, execute part 3 of the form and forward all four copies to the district supervisor of such district, who will in turn execute part 4 of the form and deliver all four copies to the officer designated to gauge the brandy; (2) where the distillery is in the same district, execute parts 3 and 4 of the form and deliver all three copies to the officer designated to gauge the brandy.

PAR. 250. Gauge of brandy.—The officer receiving the order to gauge will deliver all copies of Form 257 to the distiller, who will execute part 5, the notice of the brandy to be gauged, on all copies of the form and return them to the officer. The packages will then be gauged and the required marks placed thereon. The officer will enter in detail his gauge of each package on Form 1520, Storekeeper-Gauger's Report of Spirits Gauged, an extra copy of which he will securely attach to each copy of Form 257. No greater quantity of brandy may be gauged than stated in the order.

PAR. 251. Distillery and winery on contiguous premises.—Where the distillery and winery are located on contiguous premises and the officer is charged with supervising deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room, he will retain the Form 257, with the extra copies of Form 1520 attached, and upon deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room, he will execute the certificates of gauge and receipt, parts 6 and 8 on all copies of Form 257.

PAR. 252. Distillery and winery not on contiguous premises.—Where the distillery and winery are not located on contiguous premises and the officer is not charged with supervising deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room of the winery, he will, upon withdrawal of the brandy, execute his certificate of gauge, part 6, on all copies of the Form 257, with the extra copies of Form 1520 attached, retain one copy, and immediately forward the remaining copies (two or three, as the case may be) to the winemaker, who will present them to the officer at the winery as a voucher for deposit in the fortifying room. Where no officer is assigned to the winery, the winemaker will request the district supervisor to detail an officer to supervise the deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room. When the brandy is received at the winery, the officer will satisfy himself that the brandy is the same as that described in Form 257, and will supervise its deposit within the fortifying room. He will gauge any packages which appear to have been tampered with, or from which brandy appears to have been abstracted or lost. The details of packages gauged will be reported on Form 1520, with a statement setting forth fully the apparent cause of the loss. An extra copy of such Form 1520 will be attached to each copy of Form 257. After the brandy has been deposited within the fortifying room and any necessary gauging performed, the officer will execute his certificate of receipt on Part 8 of all copies of Form 257.

PAR. 253. Form 257.—Upon deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room, the officer will retain one copy of Form 257, with copy of Form 1520 attached, at the winery as a permanent record, and forward the other copy or copies, with Form 1520 attached to each, to the district supervisor, who will, in cases where the brandy was withdrawn from a distillery in another district, forward the extra copy to the district supervisor of such district.

PAR. 254. Form 1520.—If the distillery and winery are located on contiguous premises and brandy is to be transferred to the winery from time to time during the month under supervision of an officer, the winemaker's application on part 1 of Form 257, and the district supervisor's order to gauge on part 4 of the form, may cover all brandy to be transferred to the winery during the month. In such case, the officer will make three extra copies of Form 1520, covering his gauge of each lot of brandy transferred to the winery. If the officer gauging the brandy supervises its transfer to and deposit in the fortifying room, he will certify to deposit, on each copy of Form 1520 as the brandy is deposited, and attach one copy thereof to each copy of Form 257. At the close of the month the officer will execute parts 6 and 8 of Form 257, retain one copy thereof, with a copy of each Form 1520 attached, at the winery as a permanent record, and one copy, similarly completed, at the distillery for the same purpose, and forward the other copy to the district supervisor.

PAR. 255. Officer separately assigned to winery.—Should an officer be separately assigned to duty at the winery, the officer at the distillery will retain one copy of Form 257 and attach one copy of each Form 1520 thereto as the brandy is gauged, and deliver the other two copies of Form 257 and Form 1520 to the officer at the winery, who will certify to deposit on Form 1520 as the brandy is received and deposited in the fortifying room and attach a copy of Form 1520 to each copy of Form 257. At the close of the month the officer at the distillery will execute his certificate of gauge on part 6 of all three copies of Form 257 and the officer at the winery will execute his certificate of receipt on part 8 of all copies of the form. The forms will then be disposed of as provided in the preceding paragraph.

ARTICLE LIV—MANNER OF PROCURING BRANDY BY PIPE LINE FROM FRUIT DISTILLERIES

PAR. 256. Distillery and winery on contiguous premises.—Where the distillery and winery are located on contiguous premises and are operated by the same person, the brandy may be transferred, under the direct supervision of a Government officer, from the distillery to the fortifying room by pipe line: Provided, That the bond given as a fruit distiller, Form 30½, Fruit Distiller's Bond, and the bond given as a winemaker, form 700–A, or an effective bond of a prior series, are supported by the same surety, or, if supported by different sureties, the terms of the distillery bond are extended by consent of surety, Form 1533, to cover the transfer of brandy from the distillery to the fortifying room of the winery by pipe line.

PAR. 257. Report of gauger.—Where brandy is so transferred, application will be made by the winemaker on Form 257 in the same manner as when brandy is transferred in packages, as prescribed in paragraph 248. The district supervisor will likewise give his order to gauge, as prescribed in paragraph 249, the distiller will indicate the brandy to be gauged, as prescribed in paragraph 250, and the officer designated to gauge the brandy will make his report of gauge and execute his certificates of gauge and receipt, and complete and dispose of Forms 257, with Forms 1520 attached, as prescribed in Article LIII. Notation of transfer by pipe line will be made on Forms 257 or 1520.

PAR. 258. Pipe line.—The pipe line shall be of a fixed and permanent character, constructed of metal, and so arranged that it will be exposed to view throughout its entire length. Where the brandy is weighed in the distillery before being run into the fortifying room, the pipe line shall be directly connected in a secure manner with fortifying tanks or brandy storage tanks in the fortifying room; and where the brandy is weighed in the fortifying room, the pipe line shall be directly connected in a secure manner with receiving or brandy storage tanks in the distillery. The pipe line shall be fitted with valves so constructed that they may be locked with Government locks and so arranged as to control the flow of brandy from or into each tank with which it is connected. The valves will be locked with Government locks at all times, except when necessary to be open for the transfer of brandy. The keys will remain in the custody of the Government officer at the distillery, or, if no officer is assigned to the distillery, in the custory of the district supervisor or other officer designated by him.

PAR. 259. Underground conduit.—If the distance from the distillery to the fortifying room is great enough to make an underground conduit necessary, or desirable, the same may be used, but must be on a straight line, and not less than 15 inches in diameter, and constructed of iron, concrete, or other suitable material. Such conduit must be supplied with lights in order that it may be readily examined through its entire length. The pipe line passing through this conduit must be clear of the walls thereof, and with no openings except at either end. Each end of the conduit must be provided with some means of closing that may be securely locked with a Government lock, the keys to which will be in the custody of the district supervisor or other officer designated by him.

PAR. 260. Weighing tanks.—No pipe line may be used until it has been inspected, and has been approved by the district supervisor. Where brandy is transferred by pipe line a suitable weighing tank or tanks must be provided for gauging the brandy. Such weighing tank or tanks may be located in either the distillery or the fortifying room, but one weighing of the brandy will be required in connection with its transfer to the fortifying room. The brandy may accordingly be weighed either in the distillery immediately before being run into the fortifying room or in the fortifying room immediately upon being received.

PAR. 261. Fortifying room not having weighing tank.—Where a weighing tank is not provided in the fortifying room, the brandy may be transferred thereto by pipe line only for immediate use and only in such quantities as are necessary to fortify a given lot of wine. In such cases the wine to be fortified will be run into the fortifying tank and the required quantity of brandy to fortify the wine will be gauged in the distillery and run directly into the fortifying tank containing the wine.

PAR. 262. Pipe line to wine tank.—The Government officer at the winery should see that the pipe line will discharge directly into the tank of wine to be fortified before the valve permitting the flow to that tank is opened. After all the brandy in the weighing tank has been withdrawn, the valve in the pipe line will be locked.

PAR. 263. Storage tank in fortifying room.—Where it is desired to transfer brandy to the fortifying room and store the same therein prior to use, there must be provided within the fortifying room (or brandy storage room therein, if one is provided) a suitable storage tank or tanks for storing the brandy and a weighing tank for use in gauging the brandy when used. (See Articles XLVII and XLVIII.)

PAR. 264. Tank locks.—The pipe line must empty into a closed tank, which will be locked with a Government lock while brandy is being discharged therein or remains therein. The keys to this lock will be retained in the possession of the officer at all times. Where the brandy is run directly by pipe line into the fortifying tank, such tank must be fitted with a locked cover. If, however, the weighing tank is located in the fortifying room, it is not necessary that the fortifying tanks be fitted with locked covers.

PAR. 265. Report on Form 275.—Where brandy is transferred to the fortifying room by pipe line for immediate use, the Government officer will note on the copies of Form 1520 attached to his report, Form 275, the statement "Received by pipe line from distillery No. ------."

ARTICLE LV—USE OF RAILROAD TANK CARS FOR TRANSPORTATION OF BRANDY FROM FRUIT DISTILLERIES TO WINERIES

PAR. 266. Tank facilities.—Brandy may be transferred from fruit distilleries to the fortifying room of a bonded winery by railroad tank cars where both the distillery and the winery are equipped with suitable railroad siding facilities and where a suitable weighing tank is provided at both the distillery and the winery for use in gauging the brandy and a closed storage tank or tanks of sufficient capacity to hold the brandy are provided within the fortifying room. The transfer of brandy in tank trucks will not be permitted.

PAR. 267. Application on Form 257.—Where brandy is to be so transferred, application will be made by the winemaker on Form 257 in the same manner as when brandy is transferred in packages, as prescribed in paragraph 248. The district supervisor will likewise give his order to gauge, as prescribed in paragraph 249, the distiller will indicate the brandy to be gauged, as prescribed in paragraph 250, and the officers designated to gauge the brandy and supervise its deposit within the fortifying room will make their reports of gauge and execute their certificates of gauge and receipt, and dispose of Forms 257, with Forms 1520 attached, as prescribed in Article LIII.

PAR. 268. Markings on tank car.—Each railroad tank car used to transport brandy must have permanently and legibly marked or painted thereon its number, capacity in wine gallons, and name of the owner, and must be so constructed that all openings may be securely locked, and no such tank car may be used for the transportation of brandy unless it is so locked.

PAR. 269. Locks and seals.—Slaight locks to be furnished by the shipper, and seals for the same, by the Government, will be used for this purpose and will be attached as soon as the car is filled. The key of each Slaight lock so used will be forwarded on the day of shipment by the Government officer at the distillery to the Government officer at the winery. All locks and keys in such cases will be returned by the officer at the winery to the distillery from which the brandy was shipped. In cases where no officer is assigned at the winery regularly when the brandy is shipped, the district supervisor will direct the keys to be forwarded to him.

PAR. 270. Inspection of car.—In making application for removal from distilleries by railroad tank car, the winemaker will state on the application, Form 257, that the brandy is to be transported by railroad tank car. The storekeeper-gauger at the distillery, upon receiving the order to gauge, will first inspect the car to see that the dome may be locked with a Government seal lock when closed and that all other openings to or from the car may be closed and locked in like manner. If the car is not so constructed, the officer will communicate with the district supervisor and await instructions relative to its use.

PAR. 271. Gauge of brandy by weight.—All brandy shipped in railroad tank cars will be gauged by weight in a suitable weighing tank in the distillery before being run into the tank car. The tank car must be filled in the immediate presence of the Government officer. The pipe line or hose connection from the distillery weighing tank to the tank car must be in full view of the officer and must not be connected or used except in his presence. The officer will lock and seal the car as soon as it is filled. The officer will enter on Form 1520, covering the gauge of the brandy, the name of the owner and the serial number of the car, the serial number of the lock seal or seals, the destination, and the date of shipment; for example: "Withdrawn by U. P. tank car No. 1643, lock seal No. 36457, for transfer to winery No. 46, Los Angeles, Calif., for fortification of wine. Billed out 4:30 p. m. September 10, 1936."

PAR. 272. Certificate to be attached.—When brandy is shipped in bond in a railroad tank car to a winery for fortification of wine, a certificate, dated and signed by the Government officer, showing that the brandy is shipped in bond for fortification and giving the name, registered number, and location (city or town and State) of the distillery from which shipped, and the winery to which shipped, shall be securely attached to some conspicuous and secure place on the tank car where it may be readily examined by Government officers. The certificate will be in substantially the following form:

CALIFORNIA GRAPE COMPANY
F. D. No. 80, St. Helena, Calif., 14th Dist.
to
WESTERN WINE COMPANY
B. W. No. 50, Santa Rosa, Calif., 14th Dist.
For fortification of wine.

(Date) (Storekeeper-Gauger)

This certificate will be scraped and obliterated immediately the tank car is emptied.

PAR. 273. Examination of car on arrival at winery.—Upon arrival of the tank car at the winery, the seals must not be broken or any brandy removed except in the presence of the Government officer, who will first carefully examine the car to see whether the lock and seal are intact and whether there is any evidence of loss by leakage or otherwise. If the lock or seal is found to have been broken or if there is other evidence that the contents of the car have been tampered with, the officer will immediately communicate with the district supervisor, and, except in cases of emergency, await instructions before permitting the car to be unloaded. When a tank car is unloaded, the contents will be pumped into the weighing tank in the fortifying room of the winery, where the brandy will be gauged and transferred to storage tanks in the fortifying room. The transfer of the brandy from the tank car to the fortifying room must be done in the immediate presence of the Government officer. The pipe line or hose connection from the car to the receiving tank must be in full view of the officer and must not be connected or used except in his presence.

PAR. 274. Report on Form 1520.—The officer at the winery will prepare Form 1520 covering his gauge of the brandy and will enter on the form the name of the owner and the serial number of the car, the serial number of the seal or seals, the number of the distillery from which shipped, whether the seal or seals have been broken and whether there was any evidence of leakage; for example: "Received 11 a. m. September 12, 1936, U. P. car No. 1643, lock seal No. 36457 unbroken, from fruit distillery No. 412, Los Angeles, Calif.; car in good condition." One copy of this Form 1520 will also be attached to each copy of Form 257.

PAR. 275. Deficiency or loss in transit.—If the gauge at the winery discloses a deficiency or loss in transit, the Government officer will enter the amount of the shortage on his certificate of receipt on Form 257 and will attach a statement to the form setting forth fully the apparent cause thereof.

ARTICLE LVI—MANNER OF PROCURING BRANDY FROM BONDED WAREHOUSES

PAR. 276. Application on Form 257.—Where it is desired to procure brandy from an internal revenue bonded warehouse, the winemaker must make application on part 2 of Form 257 to the district supervisor of the district in which the winery is situated. The application shall be filed in quadruplicate where the winery and the warehouse are in the same supervisory district, and in quintuplicate where they are in different districts. A separate application must be made for each lot of brandy which it is desired to procure.

PAR. 277. Supervisor's order to regauge.—If the application is in proper order and the bond of the winemaker, computed as prescribed by paragraph 51, is sufficient to cover the brandy to be procured, the district supervisor will, (1) where the warehouse is located in another supervisory district, execute part 3 of the Forms 257 and forward all five copies to the district supervisor of such district, who will in turn execute part 4 of the forms and deliver all five copies to the officer designated to regauge the brandy, (2) where the warehouse is in the same district, execute parts 3 and 4 of the forms and deliver all four copies to the officer designated to regauge the brandy.

PAR. 278. Report of gauge.—The Government officer receiving the order to regauge will deliver all copies of Form 257 to the proprietor of the warehouse, who will execute the warehouseman's notice of the packages to be gauged on part 5 of all copies of the form and return them to the officer. The packages will then be regauged and the required withdrawal marks placed thereon. The officer will enter in detail the regauge of each package on Form 1520, one copy of which he will securely attach to each copy of Form 257. No greater quantity of brandy may be regauged or withdrawn than stated in the order.

PAR. 279. Tax on excess losses.—Where the regauge of the packages discloses excess losses, the proprietor of the warehouse will forward all copies of Form 257, with Form 1520 attached, to the collector of internal revenue, with his remittance to cover the tax due on such excess losses. The collector will certify to the payment of the tax on all copies of the form, retain one copy, and return the other copies to the proprietor of the warehouse, who will deliver them to the Government officer.

PAR. 280. Certificate of gauge.—The Government officer will, upon withdrawal of the brandy, execute his certificate of gauge on part 6 of all copies of Form 257, retain one copy, and immediately forward the other copies to the winemaker, who will present them to the officer at the winery as a voucher for deposit in the fortifying room. When the packages are received at the winery, the officer will satisfy himself that the brandy offered for deposit is the same as that described in Form 257 and the attached Form 1520, and will supervise its deposit within the fortifying room. He will gauge any packages which appear to have been tampered with, or from which brandy appears to have been abstracted or lost. The details of packages gauged will be reported on Form 1520, with a statement setting forth fully the apparent cause of the loss. An extra copy of such Form 1520 will be attached to each copy of Form 257. After the brandy has been deposited within the fortifying room, and any necessary gauging performed, the officer will execute his certificate of receipt on part 8 of all copies of Form 257.

PAR. 281. Filing of Form 257.—Upon deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room, the officer will retain one copy of Form 257, with Form 1520 attached, at the winery as a permanent record, and forward the other copy or copies of Form 257 similarly completed, to the district supervisor, who will, in cases where the brandy was withdrawn from a warehouse in another district, forward the extra copy to the district supervisor of such district.

PAR. 282. Tank cars.—Where an internal revenue bonded warehouse is located on the premises of a fruit distillery and brandy produced at the distillery and eligible for use in fortification is stored in storage tanks in the warehouse, such brandy may, pursuant to application on Form 257, be transferred therefrom to the fortifying room of a bonded winery by means of railroad tank cars under the same conditions as those which govern such transfers direct from the distillery.

PAR. 283. Pipe lines.—Where an internal revenue bonded warehouse is located on the premises of a fruit distillery and such warehouse, or a room thereof separated from the remainder of the building by a solid unbroken partition, or a separate building constituting a part of such warehouse premises, is used solely for the storage of brandy produced at such distillery, such brandy may, pursuant to application on Form 257, and under the same conditions as those which govern the transfer of brandy by pipe line direct from a fruit distillery to the fortifying room of a winery operated on contiguous premises by the same person, be transferred by pipe line from storage tanks in such warehouse or in such separate room or building to the fortifying room of a bonded winery or contiguous premises operated by the same person operating the distillery and the warehouse.

ARTICLE LVII—PROCESSES OF FORTIFICATION OF WINE

PAR. 284. Application on Form 276.—When the winemaker desires to begin fortification of wine he will make application on part 1 of Form 276, Fortification of Wine, in quadruplicate, to the district supervisor for the assignment of an officer to supervise fortification of the wine, except that where the district supervisor has assigned an officer to the winery and authorized him to supervise fortification upon application of the winemaker, Form 276 will be filed directly with such officer. A separate application will be made for each month in which it is desired to fortify wine.

PAR. 285. Action by district supervisor.—If the application is properly prepared and the winemaker's notice of intention to fortify wine, Form 605, has been filed with the district supervisor, and the use of a pipe line for the transfer of brandy has been approved, and the winemaker has procured or been authorized to procure brandy to fortify the wine, the district supervisor will, except in cases where the application is filed directly with a designated officer, as provided in paragraph 284, execute part 2 of the form and deliver all four copies to the officer designated to supervise fortification.

PAR. 286. Inspection by Government officer.—The officer who received the order to supervise fortification will inspect the fortifying room and equipment, and the brandy and wine to be used in fortification, to determine whether the same are in legal condition as required by these regulations. He will examine the packages of brandy and any brandy in storage tanks to see that the same corresponds with that shown on Forms 257 on file at the winery. If any irregularity is found, the officer will immediately communicate with the district supervisor and await instructions before permitting fortification. The officer will proceed in a similar manner in cases where he has been authorized to supervise fortification upon application of the winemaker, without prior approval of the Form 276 by the district supervisor.

PAR. 287. Transfer of wine to fortifying room.—When it is desired to transfer wine to the fortifying room for fortification, the officer will see (1) that the tank bears a label, Form 546, properly identifying the wine; (2) that according to the label the wine is eligible for fortification; (3) that the wine apparently corresponds with the label; and (4) that the wine appears in all respects to be eligible for fortification. (See Article XXI.) If the wine appears to be eligible for fortification, it will be transferred to the fortifying room and tested by the officer for alcoholic content. After testing the wine for alcohol, the officer will calculate the quantity of brandy required to fortify the wine to the alcoholic strength desired. Wines may not be fortified above 24 per cent by volume, including both the natural and added alcoholic content, as such wines are classed as distilled spirits by section 611 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended.

PAR. 288. Testing and labeling fortified wine.—Sweetening agents, if any are used, may be added only prior to fortification. After the sweetening agents, if any, have been added to the wine, and the brandy and wine have been run into the fortifying tank, the contents must be thoroughly mixed by plunging or otherwise by the winemaker. In mixing wine and brandy in the fortifying tank, the winemaker may run the wine into the tank first, or, if he so desires, he may run the brandy into the tank first. After it has been completely mixed, the officer will test the wine for alcoholic content, and ascertain the quantity. He will also take a one-pint sample of the wine, seal the same, and attach Form 491, Label for Sample Bottle of Wine, to the bottle. The officer will enter on the label the alcoholic content of the wine as shown by his test, the date of fortification, etc. These samples will be retained in the fortifying room and at the close of the month or upon completion of fortification for the month, the officer will forward two of the samples, representing fortifications at different periods of the month, to the nearest Bureau branch laboratory for testing. Where not over three lots of wine have been fortified during the month, but one sample need be sent to the chemist. If the chemist's analysis indicates that the tests made at the winery were incorrect, he will advise the district supervisor, who will have the instruments used by the officer tested to determine whether they are inaccurate or whether the tests were improperly made by the officer. The samples not used for testing purposes will be held in the fortifying room for a period of six months, after which they may be returned to the winemaker.

PAR. 289. Refortification.—If the winemaker does not have sufficient brandy on hand to complete the fortification of a given lot of wine, the wine may, if desired, be partially fortified and held in the fortifying room for further fortification. In making a refortification of wine the Government officer will test the wine for alcohol before the wine is refortified, and compare the results of such tests with the tests of the same wine as shown by the report on Form 275 on which the partial fortification was reported. If the comparison of tests discloses discrepancies of a nature indicating that the wine was tampered with since its partial fortification, the officer will report the facts to the district supervisor and await instructions before permitting the wine to be refortified. If the wine is refortified, the discrepancies found will be reported on the Form 275 on which the refortification is reported. Where discrepancies not of a serious nature are disclosed, and the wine is refortified without first reporting the facts to the district supervisor, the discrepancies will likewise be entered on Form 275. The last test will be made the basis of the refortification. The data reported in the original fortification, as well as the refortification, must be entered on the Form 275, thus making a double report.

PAR. 290. Daily report on Form 275.—Each day wines are fortified, the officer supervising fortification will make report thereof on Form 275, in duplicate, giving all the information called for in the form, as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines and the instructions printed on the form. The officer will retain one copy of the form at the winery as a permanent record and at the close of the day forward the other copy, with Form 546 attached, to the district supervisor.

PAR. 291. Losses.—Each day wines are fortified the officer will also enter on Form 276 the information called for on that form, as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines and the instructions printed on the form. Where losses have been sustained, the officer will attach a statement to each copy of the form, giving the serial numbers of the packages from which loss has been sustained, the quantity lost from each package, and the apparent reason for the loss. At the close of the month, or upon completion of fortification for the month, the officer will complete the form, retain one copy at the winery as a permanent record, and forward one copy to the collector of internal revenue of the district, and the other two copies to the district supervisor, who will transmit one copy to the Commissioner with his Brandy Account, Form 290.

ARTICLE LVIII—GAUGE OF BRANDY IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO USE IN FORTIFICATION

PAR. 292. Report of gauge on Form 1520.—Brandy used in fortifying wine will be carefully gauged by the officer just prior to use. The detail of the gauge will be reported on Form 1520, one copy of which will be attached to each copy of the officer's daily report, Form 275. A separate report on Form 275 will be made for each kind of wine fortified.

PAR. 293. Losses.—The officer will call the winemaker's attention to all deficiencies in excess of 1 proof gallon on any package, and, if the winemaker so desires, will regauge the package in the winemaker's presence. Where the officer's gauge indicates that a package may have been tampered with, as where a material deficiency is found and there is no evidence of loss by leakage or casualty, or where deterioration in proof not accountable for by variation in gauge is disclosed, the officer will immediately notify the district supervisor of all the facts in the case and will not permit the package to be used until he is instructed to do so by the district supervisor.

PAR. 294. Tax on losses.—No provision is made in the law for relief from tax on losses of brandy in the fortifying room of a bonded winery except on losses of grape brandy by casualty as provided in Article LIX. Tax must be paid on all deficiencies, except deficiencies of grape brandy due to casualty.

ARTICLE LIX—LOSSES OF BRANDY

PAR. 295. Losses in transit.—The tax may be remitted on brandy which is withdrawn for the fortification of wine, and which is lost by theft, accidental fire, or other casualty in transit to the winery while in possesion of a common carrier subject to the Transportation Act of 1920 or the Merchant Marine Act of 1920, to the extent that the winemaker is not indemnified against or recompensed for the tax on the brandy lost.

PAR. 296. Losses in fortifying room.—The tax may likewise be remitted on grape brandy which is withdrawn for fortification of wine and which prior to use is accidentally destroyed by fire or other casualty while stored in the fortifying room on the winery premises to the extent that the winemaker is not indemnified against, or recompensed for, the tax on the brandy lost.

PAR. 297. Claims for losses.—Allowance for losses of any brandy by theft or casualty in transit while in possession of a common carrier, and for losses of grape brandy by casualty while stored in the fortifying room, will be made pursuant to claim filed by the winemaker under oath for remission of tax on the brandy lost. Such losses must be reported to the district supervisor of the district in which the winery is located immediately after they are discovered. Claims for remission of tax on the brandy lost should be filed with the district supervisor within 30 days after the loss is discovered. The claims must set out all the material facts and circumstances relating to the loss, and particularly the nature, cause, and extent of the loss. The claims must state whether the winemaker is indemnified against or recompensed for the tax on the brandy lost.

PAR. 298. Supporting statements.—Claims for losses in transit must also set out the name of the carrier and whether such carrier was at the time of the loss subject to the Transportation Act of 1920 or the Merchant Marine Act of 1920; whether claim has been or will be filed against the carrier for the loss; and must, whenever obtainable, be supported by statements of the proper railroad or steamship officials having personal knowledge of the loss. Claims for losses in the fortifying room must likewise be supported by affidavits of parties having personal knowledge of the loss.

PAR. 299. Insurance on losses.—If the brandy lost was insured or claim is made against the carrier, the amount of the insurance or claim against the carrier, or both, and the actual value of the brandy, less the tax, must be stated explicitly.

PAR. 300. Report of losses.—When losses of brandy by theft or casualty in transit are ascertained at the time the packages are received at the winery, or where losses by casualty in the fortifying room are ascertained while an officer is on duty, the officer will immediately make a full report of the loss to the district supervisor. The officer's report must set out the nature, cause, and extent of the loss in sufficient detail to bring out all the known, material facts and circumstances surrounding the loss. The condition of each package from which loss has been sustained and the quantity lost therefrom must be reported by the officer.

PAR. 301. Investigation by district supervisor.—Where large losses from theft, casualty, or other cause are reported, the district supervisor will immediately make such investigation and require such evidence to be submitted as he may deem necessary and will advise the Commissioner of his findings and recommendations relative to allowance or disallowance of the loss.

PAR. 302. Reports to Commissioner.—When an application for remission of tax is received by the district supervisor, he will carefully examine the same and cause such investigation to be made or require such additional evidence to be submitted as he may deem necessary and will forward the application to the Commissioner, together with a statement setting out his recommendation and his reasons therefor, as expeditiously as possible. The district supervisor will also transmit to the Commissioner with the claim copies of any reports of investigation of the loss submitted by the Government officers.

ARTICLE LX—WINEMAKER'S BRANDY AND SACCHARINE REPORT

PAR. 303. Form 261.—Each month that brandy is withdrawn, or brandy or sweetening agents are on hand, received, or used, the winemaker will render monthly report on Form 261, giving all the information called for in the form. The entries must be made by the winemaker or by his agent from personal knowledge or data furnished by the winemaker.

PAR. 304. Preparation of report.—The form must be subscribed and sworn to by the winemaker or his duly authorized agent. Where the form is signed by an agent, he must have proper power of attorney authorizing him to execute the reports for the winemaker filed with the district supervisor.

PAR. 305. Filing of report.—One copy of the form will be retained at the winery by the winemaker as a permanent record, subject to inspection by Government officers at any reasonable hour. On or before the 10th day of the succeeding month, the winemaker will forward two copies of the form to the district supervisor, who will transmit one copy to the Commissioner with his brandy account, Form 290.

PAR. 306. Audit of reports.—Before the brandy account, Form 290, is prepared, the correctness of the winemaker's report, Form 261, will be verified by check against the Government officer's reports on Forms 257, 275, and 276. After auditing the reports the following must be stamped thereon and dated and signed by the auditing clerk:

Audited,_____, _____
Clerk Date

ARTICLE LXI—DISTRICT SUPERVISOR'S ACCOUNT

PAR. 307. District supervisor's account on Form 290.—District supervisors will render a monthly account on Form 290 of brandy received and used at wineries in their districts. This account will be prepared from data obtained from Forms 261 after such forms have been audited as provided in paragraph 306.

PAR. 308. Filing of accounts.—These accounts will be prepared in duplicate and by States within the district. One copy will be retained by the district supervisor and one copy forwarded, not later than the last day of the month succeeding that for which rendered, to the Commissioner, together with copies of Form 261 and Form 276.

ARTICLE LXII—TAX ON BRANDY USED TO FORTIFY WINE

PAR. 309. Rate of tax.—The law provides that there shall be levied and assessed against the winemaker a tax of 10 cents per proof gallon on brandy used in the fortification of wine, and that such tax shall be paid within 18 months from the date of notice of the assessment.

PAR. 310. Assessment.—Upon receipt of copy of Form 276 from the Government officer at the close of the month, collectors of internal revenue will enter on the distilled spirits list the brandy fortification tax shown due by such form.

PAR. 311. Collector to notify district supervisor.—In order that delay in assessing the brandy fortification tax may be avoided, collectors of internal revenue will advise district supervisors of the list, page, and line immediately after an item of brandy fortification tax is entered on the assessment list. District supervisors will note such list, page, and line on their copy, and on the Commissioner's copy of Form 276. If the district supervisor has not received such advice from the collector of internal revenue before the 25th day of the month succeeding that during which brandy was reported on Form 276 as used in fortification, he will promptly make inquiry of the collector of internal revenue in regard to the matter, and, if necessary, will supply the collector of internal revenue with copy of Form 276 for use as the basis for entering tax for assessment. Where the collector of internal revenue has not advised the district supervisor of the list, page, and line on which the assessment has been entered, when copies of the reports and accounts are ready for forwarding to the Commissioner, the district supervisor will note on the Form 276, "Notice of entry of assessment not received."

PAR. 312. Notice of assessment.—Immediately upon receipt from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the assessment list containing the item, the collector will make demand upon the winemaker for the amount of the tax, specifying in the Form 17, Notice and Demand For Tax, that the tax is payable within 18 months from the date of the notice.

PAR. 313. Assessment of tax on deficiencies.—Collectors will also enter on their list for assessment any tax due on deficiencies shown on Form 276. Where the form indicates that the deficiency is due to theft or casualty in transit or, in the case of grape brandy, to casualty in the fortifying room, the collector will not enter on his list the tax thereon, pending consideration of the winemaker's claim for remission of tax. If, after consideration of such claim, the tax is found to be due, it will be entered on the assessment list by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. (See also Articles LVIII and LIX relative to tax on losses of brandy.)

ARTICLE LXIII—TAX-FREE USE OF BRANDY FOR FORTIFICATION OF WINES USED FOR MANUFACTURE OF VINEGAR OR DEALCOHOLIZED WINES

PAR. 314. Claim for abatement or refund of fortification tax.—Where wines fortified under the provisions of section 612 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, are removed for the manufacture of vinegar, or the production of dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol by volume, the tax on the brandy used to fortify the wines will be abated or refunded upon the filing of proper claim by the producer of the wines, supported by evidence clearly establishing the quantity, in proof gallons, of brandy added in fortification to the wine so removed.

PAR. 315. Alcoholic content shown by the records.—Because of the variation in alcoholic content of wines both before and after fortification and in the quantity of brandy added to wines in fortification, and because of the mixing of different wines by blending, the winery records pertaining to the fortification, storage, and removal of fortified wines for the manufacture of vinegar or dealcoholized wines must clearly show the alcoholic content of the wines both before and after fortification, and the quantity in proof gallons of brandy added to the wines in fortification. This information must be noted on Form 275 and Form 702 as to all fortified wines removed for the manufacture of vinegar or dealcoholized wines. Such wines must be stored in separate tanks, packages, or other containers, kept completely separated from other wines, and a label containing this information must be attached to the containers of the wine.

ARTICLE LXIV—PENALTIES FOR UNLAWFUL RECOVERY OF BRANDY FROM FORTIFIED WINE

PAR. 316. Penalty and forfeiture.—Section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1918, as amended, provides that any person who by any process recovers or attempts to recovery brandy from fortified wines, except as provided by law and regulations, shall, on conviction, be punished for each such offense by a fine of not exceeding $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, and all wines, spirits, liqueurs, cordials, or similar compounds as to which such violation occurs shall be forfeited to the United States.

ARTICLE LXV—INSTRUCTIONS FOR TESTING WINE

PAR. 319. Apparatus.—Wine sets consist of 1 thermometer, 3 saccharometers, graded to read from 0 to 10, 10 to 20, and 20 to 30, 2 alcoholometers graded in the same way, 1 glass cylinder with rubber stopper, 1 copper still, condenser, and stand, with 3 feet of rubber tubing, and a rubber apron to spread over the box while making the test.

PAR. 320. Samples.—The sample taken for analysis must be truly representative of the whole volume of the wine in the tank from which it is taken.

PAR. 321. Care of instruments.—The instruments to be used must be perfectly clean and should be washed with clean water and thoroughly dried before and after making the tests. A small bit of grease on the spindle or on the surface of the liquid tested will destroy the efficiency of the tests. Instruments should not be handled more than is absolutely necessary, and when picking up the hydrometers they should be held by the upper part of the spindle so as to avoid soiling with the natural oil of the hands that part of the instrument which will be immersed in the liquid when the readings are taken.

PAR. 322. Test for alcohol.—Fill the cylinder exactly to the upper mark with the liquid to be tested, lift out the tray holding the hydrometers, and remove the still, etc. Spread the apron over the case, connect the stand, and place the alcohol lamp and still in position. Note the temperature of the liquid in the cylinder and empty it into the still, letting it drain as completely as possible; then fill the cylinder with water to the lower mark, rinse it about, and pour the rinsings into the still. Close the still, connect the condenser, and attach the rubber tube to it to carry away the water; insert the tail of the worm into one of the holes of the rubber stopper and place the stopper in the mouth of the cylinder into which the distillate will flow; fill the condenser with water, which should never be permitted to go above 80° F., and must be kept circulating; light the lamp under the still and continue the distillation at as low a temperature as possible to avoid frothing or priming and until nearly the original volume taken has been collected in the cylinder. Too rapid distillation will result in the loss of alcohol because of imperfect condensation. As soon as the distillation is complete, disconnect the worm of the still from the cylinder, insert the thermometer through the hole in the stopper, and bring the distillate to the same temperature as noted before distillation; remove the stopper, add enough water of the same temperature to fill the cylinder exactly to the upper mark, place the palm of the hand over the mouth of the cylinder, and slowly invert the same a few times to blend the water and distillate and then immediately plunge the alcoholometer in the cylinder and note the indication. Finally, correct the reading according to Table IV to ascertain the true per cent of alcohol. The rubber stopper must be kept in the mouth of the cylinder from the time distillation is commenced until ready to take the reading of the alcoholometer to prevent loss of alcohol by evaporation.

PAR. 323. Test for sugar.—The test for saccharine or sugar will be made in the following manner: Pour the residue left in the still after distillation into the cylinder, rinsing the still with a little water a few times to obtain all of the residue contained therein, and empty the rinsings into the cylinder, taking care that none of the residue or rinsings are spilled or lost. Fill the cylinder nearly to the upper mark with water and place the palm of the hand over the mouth of the cylinder and slowly invert the same several times until the liquid is thoroughly mixed and bring the temperature to the exact degree noted in the sample before distillation, then fill the cylinder up to the upper mark with water of the same temperature and take the reading of the saccharometer and make the corrections according to Table III.

PAR. 324. Verifying tests.—The above instructions will be followed in all tests made when the wine or must to be tested has fermented and in the tests before and after fortification. The greatest care must be taken in making the tests in order to get correct results.

Use of Salleron-Dujardin Ebullioscope

PAR. 325. Apparatus.—This set of instruments shall consist of 1 Salleron-Dujardin ebullioscope with reflux condenser, 1 rule with sliding scale for determining the alcohol, 1 alcohol lamp, 1 standardized centigrade thermometer, 1 glass cylinder graduated to read 15 c. c., 25 c. c., and 50 c. c., for accurately measuring the sample to be tested, and 1 plain or mixing glass cylinder of not less than 75 c. c. capacity.

PAR. 326. Determination of alcohol.—Pour 15 c. c. of distilled water into the ebullioscope, insert the thermometer, and bring the water to the boiling point. When the mercury becomes stationary, note the temperature and adjust the sliding scale on the rule so that the line indicating the temperature noted will be exactly parallel with the zero mark on the left-hand side of the rule. Now remove the thermometer and empty the water and rinse the ebullioscope thoroughly with wine.

PAR. 327. Tests before fortification.—In testing wine before fortification no dilution will be necessary unless the sugar content is more than 6 per cent. If the sugar content is between 6 per cent and 12 per cent dilute with an equal proportion of distilled water, and if above 12 per cent, dilute with twice as much water as wine. In making dilutions care must be taken to get the exact proportions. Take 50 c. c. of the wine to be tested and pour it into the ebullioscope, fill the reflux condenser with cold water, insert the thermometer, and bring the sample to the boiling point. When the mercury in the thermometer becomes stationary and the reading noted, refer to the rule, and the reading on the right-hand side parallel with the line on the sliding scale, indicating the temperature noted, will be the alcoholic content of the wine tested, which, if diluted, should be multiplied by 2 or 3, according to the ratio of water used.

PAR. 328. Tests after fortification.—In testing wine after fortification proceed as above except as to the dilution. The sample to be tested should not be more than 6 per cent saccharine nor 11 per cent alcohol, as when higher than this errors are likely to occur, owing to the closeness of the lines on the lower part of the rule.

Examples in determining the alcohol: If the boiling point of the water is found to be 100.2 and the boiling point of the wine is found to be 91.5, the percentage of the alcohol in the wine is 12 per cent; if the boiling point of the wine is found to be 92.1, the percentage of the alcohol is 10.85 per cent, and if the boiling point of the wine is 93.6, the per cent of alcohol is 8.3.

PAR. 329. Determination of saccharine.—Pour some of the wine reserved for analysis into one of the cylinders, carefully plunge the proper saccharometer stem into the liquid and note the reading. Withdraw the stem, insert the thermometer, and note the temperature of the wine.

If this temperature is other than 60° F., correct the saccharometer-stem reading according to Table III. Then refer to Table IV to ascertain the specific gravity at the corrected indication, and find the specific gravity of the alcohol shown by the ebullioscope by reference to Table V. Subtract the specific gravity of the alcohol from the specific gravity of the wine and to the remainder add 1 for the weight of the water and the result will be the specific gravity of the wine had it been dealcoholized by the Salleron still. Referring again to Table IV, the per cent of solids (saccharine) will be indicated by the amount of the specific gravity, e. g., should the saccharometer stem when dropped into the wine indicate 6 per cent, by referring to Table IV we find the specific gravity to be 1.0232, and if the ascertained alcohol be 12 per cent, by reference to Table V it will be found that the specific gravity is 0.98435. Subtracting the specific gravity of the alcohol, 0.98435 from the specific gravity of the wine, 1.0232, leaves 0.03885, and by adding 1 the result is 1.03885, the specific gravity of the dealcoholized wine. Turning again to Table IV, it will be noted that this specific gravity would indicate solids (saccharine) to the extent of 9.90 per cent Balling.

PAR. 330. Use of alcohol stem.—Should the saccharine stem not register, use the alcohol stem instead and find the specific gravity by Table V, and proceed as above, e. g., the lowest saccharometer failing to register, the alcoholmeter is used instead, and the indication is 10.5 and the temperature 70° F. The correction for temperature is 0.95, as found by Table VI, or 9.55 per cent alcohol. The specific gravity by Table V for 9.55 per cent is 0.98713. The alcohol found by the ebullioscope is 12.55 per cent, and the specific gravity of which is 0.98375. Subtracting 0.98375 from 0.98713 and adding 1 for the specific gravity of the water gives the result of 1.00338, the specific gravity of the dealcoholized wine. By Table IV this specific gravity equals 0.89 per cent Balling.

PAR. 331. Notation on Form 275.—If the ebullioscope is used in making the tests, the officer should so state on his daily report, Form 275, and on the label, Form 491.

Directions for Operating Juerst's Ebulliometer

PAR. 332. Determination of the boiling point of water.—Rinse the instrument twice with ordinary water. In doing so pour an approximate glass tube full of water through one of the openings into the ebulliometer. Take the instrument in your left hand and close the two openings on top of the instrument with the index and middle finger, shake slightly and empty. Now measure in the glass tube as much water as is indicated by the mark and pour it into the ebulliometer. Fasten the empty condenser to the ebulliometer. Place the thermometer into the opening in front of the condenser. The lamp, which is to be filled with ordinary denatured alcohol, is now lit and put under the instrument. In order to protect the thermometer from heat, the little shield should always be fastened to the top of the heating tubes. Within about eight or nine minutes the mercury in the thermometer commences to rise. When the water boils and steam comes out of the top of the condenser watch the thermometer until the mercury remains stationary. The temperature at which the water boils is then noted.

PAR. 333. Determination of the boiling point of the beverage.—After the boiling point of the water has been determined, remove the thermometer, empty the ebulliometer, drain it through the draining cock and blow out any liquid which may have remained in the condenser and in the instrument. Now rinse the ebulliometer twice with a glass tube approximately full of the beverage which is to be tested for alcohol.

Drain the instrument through the draining cock. Now measure in the glass tube as much of the beverage (which latter must be well decarbonated) as is indicated by the mark and pour it into the ebulliometer through the thermometer opening. Insert the thermometer. Fill the condenser with ordinary faucet water. Light the alcohol lamp. When the mercury remains stationary, which will be after 10 to 12 minutes from the time the alcohol lamp has been lit, the temperature is read off again and noted. Usually the time for reading the temperature of the thermometer has arrived when the lower cylindrical part of the condenser has become warm.

PAR. 334. Reading thermometer.—The thermometer is divided in 13 degrees. Every degree is subdivided in twentieth degrees or in other words in five one-hundredths of a degree.

PAR. 335. Reading alcohol tables.—Example: The boiling point of the water was found to be at 9.85 and the boiling point of the beverage 7.50.

Subtract the one figure from the other and look up the percentage of the alcohol in Table VII.

For instance:

9.85 (boiling point of the water).
—7.50 (boiling point of the beverage).

2.35 (Difference between the two boiling points).
2.35=2.51 per cent alcohol by volume.
=or 1.998 per cent alcohol by weight.

Directions for Operating Lefco Ebulliometer

PAR. 336. Determination of the boiling point of water.—Fill the lamp with denatured alcohol. Rinse the ebulliometer boiler with water by pouring it through the thermometer opening. Measure in the glass tube the quantity of water indicated by the graduation and pour it into the ebulliometer. Place the thermometer in position. Light the lamp and place it under the small tube. Within about eight or nine minutes the mercury in the thermometer commences to rise. When the water boils and the mercury becomes stationary read the thermometer; it is the boiling point of the water. Leave water out of condenser jacket while determining the boiling point of water.

PAR. 337. Determination of the boiling point of wine.—Open the cock, empty the boiler, rinse it with some of the wine to be tested, and blow out any remaining liquid in the condenser and instrument. The procedure then is the same as given in paragraph 336 for determining the boiling point of water except that in this case water is used in the condenser jacket. If the wine contains more than 20 per cent alcohol it is best to dilute it with a known proportion of water subsequent to testing, and correct the result for dilution.

PAR. 338. Directions for reading alcohol tables.—Determine the boiling point of the water. Determine the boiling point of the alcohol mixture. Should the observed boiling point of water be greater than 100° C., subtract 100° from this boiling point. Subtract this difference from the observed boiling point of the alcohol mixture. This is the corrected boiling point of the mixture.

100.50°—100.00°=0.50° C.
Observed boiling point of the alcohol mixture=97.70° C.
97.70°—0.50°=97.20° C. the corrected boiling point of the mixture.
97.20° C.=3.06 per cent alcohol by volume and 2.43 per cent alcohol by weight. (See Table VIII.)

Should the observed boiling point of water be less than 100° C., subtract this observed boiling point from 100.00° C. Add this difference to the observed boiling point of the alcohol mixture. This is the corrected boiling point of the mixture.

Example: Observed boiling point of water=99.70° C.

100.00° C.—99.70°=0.30° C.
Observed boiling point of the alcohol mixture=96.30° C.
96.30°+0.30°=96.60° C. the corrected boiling point of the mixture.
96.60° C.=3.74 per cent alcohol by volume and 2.97 per cent alcohol by weight. (See Table VIII.)

CARE OF EBULLIOMETERS

PAR. 339. Care of apparatus.—Keep the instrument in perfectly clean condition. Always rinse the ebulliometer with water after using. Always determine the boiling point of the water first.

PAR. 340. Determining boiling point.—Since the atmospheric pressure changes from day to day and sometimes during the day, the boiling point of the water and that of the beverage is dependent thereon.

It is, therefore, necessary to determine the boiling point of the water every day, when it is desired to make an alcohol determination.

If the ebulliometer is used continually during the day, the boiling point of the water should be determined from time to time.

PAR. 341. Use of two ebulliometers.—Much time may be saved and still greater accuracy may be had with the employment of two ebulliometers, one with which to determine the boiling point of the water and the other with which to determine the boiling point of the alcoholic beverage.

PAR. 342. Removal of carbonic acid gas.—It is important that the beverage of which the alcohol is to be determined be thoroughly freed of carbonic acid gas.

PAR. 343. Dilution of samples before testing.—If the alcoholic content of the samples being tested exceeds 8 per cent alcohol by volume, the samples should be diluted and the determinations made on the diluted wine. Corrections then should be made in order to obtain the correct percentage of alcohol of the wine before dilution, as per instructions given for the use of the Salleron-Dujardin ebullioscope.

ARTICLE LXVI—DIRECTIONS FOR TAKING SAMPLES OF FORTIFIED WINE AND THEIR DISPOSITION

PAR. 344. Time of taking samples.—As provided in paragraph 288 of Part 2 of these regulations, the storekeeper-gauger will take a 1-pint sample from each tank of wine fortified, except partial fortifications. This sample should be taken after the sweetening agents, if any, and brandy have been added and the fortifying tank has been thoroughly plunged to insure complete mixture of the contents. The officer should also make his test for alcohol before taking the sample so that the results thereof may be entered on label, Form 491, to be attached to the bottle.

PAR. 345. Bottles and labels.—The bottles used for this purpose must be perfectly clean and drained dry before the wine is placed therein. Rinse the bottles with a little of the wine before filling them; close them with a new and perfect cork and place over the cork a seal of wax; affix to each sample a label, Form 491, properly made out, and signed both by the officer taking the sample and the winemaker or his representative.

PAR. 346. Forwarding samples.—Hold the samples in the fortifying room until the close of the month and then forward two of the samples, representing fortifications at different intervals of the month, to the nearest Bureau branch laboratory for testing. Where not over three lots have been fortified during the month, but one sample need be sent the chemist. The other samples will be held in the fortifying room for a period of six months, after which they may be returned to the winemaker. The storekeeper-gauger will be held to a strict accountability for all wine released from the fortifying room by him.

ARTICLE LXVII—METHOD OF DETERMINING THE AMOUNT OF BRANDY TO BE ADDED TO FORTIFY WINES TO THE REQUIRED ALCOHOLIC STRENGTH

PAR. 347. Formula for determining brandy necessary for fortification.—After taking the samples for the first test in the fortifying room and the officer is satisfied that the wine is eligible for fortification, the winemaker may add enough of the brandy already gauged for the fortification to the wine to arrest fermentation. Complete the tests and determine the amount of brandy necessary to fortify the wine to the desired alcoholic strength in the following way:

In regard to the amount of brandy or wine spirits to be added, the factors that enter into the problem are: (1) the original alcoholic strength of the wine; (2) the alcoholic strength of the brandy used (this is always one-half of the proof strength), and (3) the resulting alcoholic strength of the mixture. Any two of these being known, the third can be determined. The higher the alcoholic strength of the brandy used the smaller will be the volume of it required to produce any desired alcoholic strength, owing to its containing more alcohol and less water; but in no case should the desired alcoholic strength in the resulting fortified wine exceed 24 per cent. (Par. 287.)

Formula

$$X=\frac{V(C-A)}{B-C}$$

$A$=the per cent of alcohol by volume in the wine to be fortified;
$B$=the per cent of alcohol by volume in the wine spirits or brandy to be used in fortifying the wine;
$C$=the desired per cent of alcohol by volume in the wine after being fortified;
$V$=the number of wine gallons of the wine to be fortified; and $X$=the number of wine gallons of the wine spirits or brandy to be used.

PAR. 348. Rule for calculation.—Multiply the number of wine gallons of the wine to be fortified (V) by the difference between its per cent of alcohol by volume (A) and the desired per cent of alcohol by volume in the wine after fortification (C); divide this product by the difference between the per cent of alcohol by volume in the wine spirits or brandy which is used for fortifying (B), and the desired per cent of alcohol by volume in the wine after fortification (C); the quotient (X) will represent the number of wine gallons of the spirits required to produce the desired alcoholic strength in the fortified wine.

Example

How many wine gallons of brandy having a per cent of alcohol by volume of 90 shall be added to 100 gallons of wine having an alcoholic content of 10 per cent by volume to fortify the wine to 20 per cent alcohol by volume?

$A$=10 per cent
$B$=90 per cent
$C$=20 per cent
$V$=100 gallons.

$$X=\frac{100\ (20-10)}{(90-20)}=14.29 \text{ (nearly) w. g. brandy.}$$

The original alcoholic strength of the wine will depend on how far the fermentation of the sugar present in the must or juice has been allowed to proceed; as a general rule the volume of alcohol in the wine represents twice that amount of sugar (not extract, total solids, or saccharine strength indicated by Balling's saccharometer) present in the original must.

PAR. 349. Use of Table IX, Appendix.—The quantity of brandy necessary to fortify a given quantity of wine to a certain alcoholic content may also be ascertained by reference to Table IX, in the Appendix. This table is calculated only for whole per cents of alcoholic strength and the slight contraction due to admixture of alcohol has been disregarded. When upon determining the alcoholic strength of the wine it is found to be a whole per cent plus a fraction, then the next higher whole per cent should be taken; for instance, if the per cent is 10.25, then 11 should be taken. The same rule should be observed in regard to the alcoholic strength of the brandy used. But nothing herein contained should be considered as preventing the employment of the formula and rule given above in calculating the necessary number of wine gallons of brandy to be added.

When the quantity of the wine proposed to be fortified is found by actual gauge to be greater or less than 100 wine gallons, to ascertain the necessary number of wine gallons of brandy to be added to obtain a desired alcoholic strength, multiply the number of wine gallons of wine by the number found in the appropriate table and column, having first removed the decimal point two figures to the left.

Example

How many wine gallons of brandy having a per cent of alcohol by volume of 75 shall be added to 35 gallons of wine having a per cent of alcohol by volume of 10 to produce a fortified sweet wine having 20 per cent of alcohol by volume?

In Table IX, relative to wine containing 10 per cent of alcohol, opposite the figures 75 in the left-hand margin showing the per cent of alcohol in the brandy, and beneath the figures 20 on the upper margin, showing the desired per cent of alcohol in the wine, will be found the figures 18.18, which show the quantity to be added to 100 gallons of wine. By removing the decimal point two places to the left we have 0.1818, and by multiplying by 35 and taking care to point off four figures in the product for decimals we have 6.36 as the necessary number of wine gallons of brandy to be added:

6.3630 Answer

In practice the problem would be thus presented: Given 1,000 wine gallons of wine containing 6 per cent alcohol strength, it is desired to fortify it so that the resulting mixture shall contain 17 per cent alcoholic strength. The brandy that is intended to be used for this purpose is marked as follows:

| Package | Wine gallons | Proof | Percent alcohol |
| No. 1 | 52½ | 162 | 81 |
| No. 2 | 28 | 156 | 78 |
| No. 3 | 27 | 142 | 72 |
| No. 4 | 48 | 120 | 60 |
| No. 5 | 50 | 178 | 89 |

Example

How many wine gallons of these packages, taken in their numerical order, will be needed to fortify the 1,000 gallons of wine?

Referring to Table IX, relative to wine containing 6 per cent of alcohol, under column 17 opposite the respective alcoholic strengths of the brandy, we find as follows: 81 per cent, 17.18; 78 per cent, 18.03; 72 per cent, 20; 60 per cent, 25.58; and 89 per cent, 15.27. Moving the decimal point two figures to the left and dividing the contents of each package by the appropriate decimal we obtain the number of the wine gallons of the given wine that will be fortified to the desired percentage, viz:

According to the table—

Package No. 1. 52½ gallons, at 81 per cent, will fortify $\frac{52.5}{0.1718}$ = 305.58 gallons of wine.

Package No. 2. 28 gallons, at 78 per cent, will fortify $\frac{28}{0.1803}$ = 155.29 gallons of wine.

Package No. 3. 27 gallons, at 72 per cent, will fortify $\frac{27}{0.2000}$ = 135 gallons of wine.

Package No. 4. 48 gallons, at 60 per cent, will fortify $\frac{48}{0.2558}$ = 187.64 gallons of wine.

155½ gallons will fortify ..... 783.51 gallons of wine.

Remaining ..... 216.49 gallons to be fortified

From the remaining package, No. 5, this will require, according to the table 0.1527×216.49, or 33.06 gallons.

PAR. 350. Finding the calculated per cent of sugar and alcohol after fortification.—To find the calculated per cent of sugar or alcohol after fortification, multiply the gallons of wine before fortification by the per cent of sugar or alcohol present in the wine, as shown by the first test, and add the amount of sugar or alcohol added, which in the case of the alcohol will be one-half of the proof gallons of brandy added, and divide the sum found by the gallons of wine after fortification. The result will be the calculated per cent of sugar or alcohol present after the fortification has been completed.

ARTICLE LXVIII—RULES FOR FINDING CAPACITY AND CONTENTS OF ROUND TANKS OF UNIFORM DIMENSIONS, STANDING ON END

PAR. 351. To find the capacity.—Ascertain the inside depth of the tank by accurately measuring the same with a rod or steel tape. Ascertain the diameter of the tank (1) by accurately measuring the inside width of the tank with a rod or steel tape, or (2) by measuring the outside circumference of the tank and dividing the same by 3.1416 and deducting from the quotient twice the thickness of the staves or sides of the tank. The result will be the inside diameter of the tank.

After determining the depth and diameter of the tank, multiply the diameter by itself and by the depth and by 0.0034, and the product will be the capacity of the tank in gallons.

Example

What is the capacity of a tank 120 inches in diameter and 100 inches in depth?

120×120×100×0.0034=4,896 gallons capacity

PAR. 352. To find the capacity per inch of depth.—The capacity of the tank for 1 inch of depth can be determined by multiplying the diameter by itself and by 0.0034.

Example

120×120×0.0034=48.96 gallons per inch

PAR. 353. To find the liquid contents when partly filled.—When the tank is partly filled, the liquid contents can be determined by ascertaining the depth of the wine in inches and multiplying same by the capacity of the tank for 1 inch of depth. (The depth of the wine can be ascertained by measuring the same with a rod or steel tape or by measuring the dry inches in the tank and subtracting same from the depth of the tank.)

What are the liquid contents of the above tank if the depth of the wine in it is 75 inches?

75 × 48.96 = 3,672 gallons wine in tank

ARTICLE LXIX—RULES FOR FINDING CAPACITY AND CONTENTS OF ROUND TANKS STANDING ON END AND LARGER AT BOTTOM THAN AT TOP, BUT NOT BULGED IN THE MIDDLE

PAR. 354. To find the capacity.—Ascertain the inside diameter of the tank at the top and at the bottom and the inside depth of the tank in the manner set forth above. (In ascertaining the depth, the rod or tape should be run straight down and not allowed to follow the course of the staves or sides of the tank.) Add together the square of the top diameter, the square of the bottom diameter, and four times the square of the midway diameter (ascertained by adding the top and bottom diameters together and dividing by 2), and divide the sum by 6, which gives the square of the true mean diameter; multiply this by the depth of the tank, and the product will be the capacity in cylindrical inches. As there are 294 cylindrical inches in a gallon, divide this last product by 294, and the quotient will be the number of gallons contained in the tank.

What is the capacity of a tank 108 inches in diameter at the top, 120 inches in diameter at the bottom, and 100 inches in depth?

(108+120)÷2=114 inches midway diameter.
(13008×100)÷294=4,424 gallons, capacity of tank.

The following rule is shorter and, though not mathematically correct, is for all practical purposes sufficiently so, unless the tank is much smaller at the top than at the bottom, and may be used in determining the capacity of such tanks:

Add the top and bottom diameters, divide the sum by 2, multiply the quotient by itself and by 0.0034 and by the depth of the tank; the result will be the capacity of the tank in gallons.

114×114×100×0.0034=4,418 gallons, capacity of tank.

PAR. 355. To find the capacity for each foot of depth.—Subtract the top diameter from the bottom diameter, and divide the difference by the depth in inches to get the decrease in diameter for each inch of depth; multiply the quotient by 12, which gives the decrease in diameter per foot; subtract the product from the bottom diameter to get the diameter at 1 foot of depth from the bottom; add the bottom diameter and the diameter at 1 foot from the bottom, divide the sum by 2, multiply the quotient by itself and by 0.0034. The result will be the capacity of the tank for the first foot of depth.

0.12×12=1.44 inches, decrease in diameter per foot of depth.
120 — 1.44=118.56 inches, diameter 1 foot from bottom.
(120+118.56)÷2=119.28 inches, mean diameter.
119.28×119.28×0.0034=48.37 gallons per inch for first foot.
48.37×12=580.44 gallons, capacity first foot.

The capacity for the next foot of depth can be ascertained by the same process of taking the diameter at the top of the first foot as the bottom diameter for the calculation. For example, the bottom diameter of the second foot of depth is 118.56 inches, and the top diameter would be 118.56—1.44 (decrease in diameter)=117.12 inches top diameter. By following the above rule the capacity for the second foot is found as follows:

47.21×12=566.52 gallons capacity for second foot.

Each other foot of depth can be found in the same way, care being used that each calculation is correct.

PAR. 356. To find the liquid contents when partly filled.—Ascertain the decrease in diameter of the tank per inch of depth by subtracting the top diameter of the tank from its bottom diameter and dividing the difference by the depth in inches of the tank, to get the decrease in diameter per inch of depth. Then ascertain the depth in inches of the liquid, and multiply the same by the decrease in diameter per inch of depth, the product will be the difference between the bottom diameter of the tank and the diameter of the tank at the top of the liquid. Then add these two diameters, divide the sum by 2, multiply the quotient by itself and by 0.0034 and by the depth in inches of the liquid. The result will be the gallons of liquid contained in the tank.

Example

What are the liquid contents of the above tank if the depth of the wine in it is 75 inches?

(120−108)÷100=0.12 inch, decrease in diameter per inch.
0.12×75=9 inches, difference between the bottom and top.
120−9=111 inches, diameter at top of wine.
(111+120)÷2=115.5 inches, mean diameter.
115.5×115.5×0.0034×75=3.402 gallons, contents.

ARTICLE LXX—RULES FOR FINDING CAPACITY OF ROUND TANKS OR CASKS BULGED IN THE MIDDLE

PAR. 357. To find the capacity.—The capacities of casks bulged in the middle can best be determined by filling them with liquid and measuring such liquid in a measuring tank or in a tank of uniform dimensions.

The following rule while not mathematically correct may be used by officers in taking inventories of such casks:

Ascertain the inside head and middle diameters in the manner set forth above. In doing this care should be used to get the true diameter at the head and at the center of the cask. Where the diameters are determind by taking the circumference and dividing same by 3.1416, the measurements should be made in the exact center of the cask and at the heads rather than at the end of the staves in cases where the staves extend beyond the heads.

Add to the head diameter two-thirds of the difference between the head and middle diameter (if the staves are only slightly curved, add only six-tenths of the difference); this gives the mean diameter; multiply the mean diameter by itself and by the inside length, where the cask is lying on its side, or inside height where the cask is standing on one head, and by 0.0034. The result will be the capacity of the cask in gallons.

Example

A wine cask is 64 inches long, the head diameter is 36 inches, and the center diameter is 42 inches. What is the capacity of the cask?

42−36=6 inches difference in diameter.
40×40×64×0.0034=348.16 gallons capacity of cask.

ARTICLE LXXI—RULES FOR FINDING CAPACITY AND CONTENTS OF SQUARE OR RECTANGULAR TANKS OR VATS WITH PERPENDICULAR SIDES

PAR. 358. To find the capacity.—Multiply the inside length by the inside breadth and by the inside height and divide by 231, the number of cubic inches in a gallon, the result will be the capacity in gallons of the tank or vat.

A rectangular tank is 120 inches long, 108 inches wide, and 100 inches deep. What is its capacity?

(120×108×100)÷231=5,610 gallons capacity.

PAR. 359. To find the capacity per inch of depth.—Multiply the inside length by the inside breadth and divide by 231; the result will be the capacity per inch of depth.

Example

What is the capacity per inch of depth of the above tank?

(120×108)÷231=56.10 gallons, capacity per inch.

PAR. 360. To find the liquid contents when partly filled.—Multiply the depth of the wine in inches by the capacity per inch.

Example

What are the liquid contents of the above tank if the depth of the wine in it is 75 inches?

75×56.10=4,207.5 gallons, contents of tank.

ARTICLE LXXII—RULES FOR FINDING CAPACITY AND CONTENTS OF SQUARE OF RECTANGULAR TANKS OR VATS LARGER AT THE TOP THAN AT THE BOTTOM, OR VICE VERSA

PAR. 361. To find the capacity.—Find the mean length by adding the top length and the bottom length and dividing by 2. Find the mean width by adding the top width and the bottom width and dividing by 2. Mutiply the mean length by the mean width and by the depth and divide by 231. The result will be the capacity of the tank in gallons.

A rectangular tank is 120 inches long at the top and 108 inches at the bottom, 100 inches wide at the top and 90 inches at the bottom, and 72 inches deep. What is its capacity?

(114×95×72)÷231=3,375.5 gallons, capacity of tank.

PAR. 362. To find the contents when partly filled.—Subtract the top length from the bottom length and divide the difference by the depth; the result will be the difference in length per inch. Multiply the depth of the wine in inches by the difference in length per inch to get the difference in length at the top of the wine and at the bottom of the tank. Add this difference to the bottom length to get the length at the top of the wine. Add the length at the top of the wine and the bottom length and divide by 2 to get the mean length.

Find the mean width in the same way.

Multiply the mean length by the mean width and by the depth of the wine and divide by 231; the result will be the contents of the tank in gallons.

Example

What are the liquid contents of the above tank if the depth of the wine in it is 48 inches?

(120−108)÷72=⅙ inch, difference in length per inch.
48×⅙=8 inches, difference in length top of wine.
108+8=116 inches, length at top of wine.
(108+116)÷2=112 inches, mean length.

The mean width is found in the same way:

(90+6⅔+90)÷2=93⅓ inches, mean width.
(112×93⅓×48)÷231=2,172 gallons, contents of tank.

APPENDIX, WITH TABLES

WATERING OF THE FRESH MUST

(a) If the acid of the must does not exceed 5 per mille, no addition of water shall be allowed.

(b) If the acid of the must is in excess of 5 per mille, the addition of water will be allowed in quantity sufficient to reduce the acid to 5 per mile: Provided, That in no case shall the volume of the must be increased more than 35 per cent. Use Table I to ascertain proper amount of water to be added.

TABLE I.—The number of gallons of sugar water that can be added to each thousand (1,000) gallons of must, based on the acid expressed in parts per mille of tartaric acid

DETERMINATION OF THE ACIDITY OF A YOUNG SOUND WINE OR MUST

1. Apparatus Necessary

1. Burette, 25 c. c., graduated to 1/10 c. c.
2. Burette stand.
3. Spot plate, porcelain.
4. Pipette, 20 c. c.
5. Glass tube dropper.
6. Stirring rods.
7. Funnel.
8. Flasks.
9. Beakers.
10. Absorbent cotton.
11. Porcelain dishes.
12. Filter paper.
13. Standard acid sample.

2. Solutions Necessary

(a) N/10 sodium hydroxide, exact.
(b) Indicator, aqueous solution azolitmin, neutral.
(c) Approximate N/10 hydrochloric acid.

3. The Use and Care of Burette

(a) Before using the burette the stopcock should be greased while dry with a very little vaseline. It should then be washed thoroughly inside with water and then rinsed thoroughly twice with the N/10 sodium hydroxide, care being taken that all the interior of the burette comes in contact with the rinsing liquid. The burette is then filled to the top with N/10 sodium hydroxide, placed in a stand, and after standing for a minute the level of the liquid is brought exactly to the 0 mark by opening the stopcock. The instrument is now ready for use.

(b) After using the instrument it should be emptied, washed with water, and placed inverted in the stand with the cock open until needed again.

4. Use and Care of the Pipette

(a) The pipette is used to measure the amount of must or wine to be used for ascertaining the quantity of acid. The wine is sucked with the mouth into the pipette until the level of the liquid is about an inch above the mark, the finger is quickly placed over the end, and the wine allowed to flow out until the mark is reached. The pipette now holds the amount of wine needed for the acid determination and the contents are allowed then to run into a beaker. A little practice makes the operation of the pipette very easy.

(b) Before using the pipette it should be always rinsed thoroughly with the wine that one wishes to investigate, and after using should be washed with water.

5. Care of Other Apparatus

One main precaution, as in all chemical work, is to keep all glassware, etc., scrupulously clean.

6. Preparation of the Test Solution of Azolitmin

Dissolve the powdered azolitmin in 1 quart of distilled water, or if distilled water can not be obtained use boiled and filtered water. The color of this solution should be purple. It often happens, however, that the color is either blue or red. If blue, add a drop or two of the hydrochloric acid, shake, and continue until the color is purple; if red, add similarly a drop or two of the N/10 sodium hydroxide until purple. This solution may change in color over night, so each day it should be brought to purple.

7. Determination of the Acid

Selection of the Sample

(a) Endeavor to obtain a sample representative of the whole lot or package under investigation. If the wine or must can not be mixed thoroughly, take equal portions from different parts of the container and then mix these portions thoroughly. A sufficient amount is then filtered through a small pad of absorbent cotton placed in the funnel, using a flask to catch the filtered wine.

Measuring the Sample

(b) Before measuring the sample remove the gas ($CO_2$) contained in the sample by vigorously pouring the wine from one beaker to another. Then, by use of the pipette, measure 20 c. c. of the sample in a clean beaker about 150 c. c. in capacity. This is important for the reason that this gas has acid properties and would affect the result and because it is impossible to measure correctly a wine containing much gas.

Preparation of the Spot Plate

(c) Fill each hole of the spot plate about one-half full with the azolitmin test solution, using for this purpose the glass dropper. This should be done just prior to using it.

The titration

(d) For white wines (or must).—Having filled the burette as instructed in 3, measured the wine as in 7 (b), and prepared the spot plate, 7 (c), place the beaker with the wine under the burette and allow the N/10 sodium hydroxide to run slowly into the wine, shaking the beaker the while to thoroughly mix the two liquids. When about 10 c. c. have run into the beaker stop, stir thoroughly with a stirring rod, and place one or two drops of the wine by means of the stirring rod into one of the cavities in the spot plate, mix and at once observe the color. If the change in color of the azolitmin is to a decided red, add more N/10 sodium hydroxide and continue until two drops of the wine do not change the tint of the azolitmin appreciably. For the first two or three times the end point may be a little difficult to discern, but in a short time the eye becomes very proficient and no trouble will be experienced. When the point is reached where the wine does not change the color of the test solution either to red or blue, read the burette, and then from the Table II ascertain the amount of acid present in the wine. For example, if the reading on the burette were 18.2, then from the table the per cent of acid would be 0.683, or if the result is required per mille multiply the per cent by 10, which would be in the above case 6.83 parts per mille. In the event that the burette reading is lower than 10, double the reading, look this up on the table, and divide by 2. For example, if the burette reading were 7.4, then

7.4×2=14.8
0.555÷2=0.278 per cent acid.

If the reading is above 36.9, divide reading by 2, look up on table, and multiply by 2. Example: Burette reading 41.6, then

0.780×2=1.560 per cent acid.

(e) Red wines (or must).—Red wines are treated in the same manner as are white wines, but often the end point is more difficult to determine. The color of the red wine as it changes with the addition of the N/10 sodium hydroxide is often a splendid indication of the nearness of the end point, but practice alone can help one in this case.

(f) Precautions for the titration.—When placing the N/10 sodium hydroxide solution in the burette it is best to take the lowest part of the meniscus (or quarter moon) as the level of the liquid, and take the same portion as the level in the final reading. In any case, however, use the same level for both the 0 and the final reading. Remember these facts: If too little N/10 sodium hydroxide has been used in the titration, the azolitmin will turn red with a drop of the wine; if too much has been used, it will turn blue. The bottle containing the N/10 sodium hydroxide should be kept stoppered when not in use and nothing should be allowed to enter this bottle; if some of the N/10 sodium hydroxide in the burette is not needed, throw it away—do not pour back into the bottle.

8. Sample for Control of Manipulation of Titration

In order that one may be assured he is correctly determining the acid in a wine, there is included among the materials sent a standard acid sample, the fixed acid content of which is given on the label. If the officer will determine the acidity of this sample according to directions detailed in 7, and his result compares favorably with that given on the label he will know that his manipulation is correct. If his agreement with the sample is within 0.02 per cent acid, the result will be satisfactory.

Tables

NOTE.—The following tables have been prepared for the use of winemakers, storekeeper-gaugers, and examining officers. Table III gives the correction to be applied to the readings of the saccharometer when taken at other than the normal temperature; Table IV gives the specific gravity corresponding to the readings of the saccharometer at the normal temperature; Table V gives the specific gravity corresponding to the readings of the alcoholometer at the normal temperature; Table VI gives the correction to be applied to the readings of the alcoholometer when taken at other than the normal temperature; Table VII gives the alcohol tables for Juerst's ebulliometer; Table VIII gives the alcohol tables for the Lefco ebulliometer; and Table IX gives the wine gallons of brandy required to fortify each 100 wine gallons of wine according to the alcoholic content of the brandy and the wine before fortification, and the desired alcoholic content of the wine after fortification.

TABLE III.—Correction to be applied to the reading of Balling's saccharometer for different temperatures

N. B.—The correction for indications between 21° and 30° Balling and 50° and 70° F. temperature may be made by adding 0.005 to each correction given in the above table, column 21°, for each increase in degree Balling. For instance, 25° Balling 79° F., correction to be added to column 21° and 70°. 0.02+0.38=0.40.

[From circular of the United States Bureau of Standards, April 1, 1913]

[This table is calculated from the same data on the thermal expansion of ethyl alcohol as that from which Tables 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 are calculated. The hydrometer is assumed to be of Jena 16III glass. For the per cents not given between 40 and 80, linear interpolation of the tabulated corrections will give results sufficiently exact for most purposes]

INCOME TAX

REGULATIONS WITH RESPECT TO THE TAXATION OF NONRESIDENT ALIEN INDIVIDUALS AND FOREIGN CORPORATIONS NOT ENGAGED IN TRADE OR BUSINESS WITHIN THE UNITED STATES AND NOT HAVING AN OFFICE OR PLACE OF BUSINESS THEREIN AS AFFECTED BY THE RECIPROCAL TAX CONVENTION BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA, EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1936

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and others concerned:

PARAGRAPH A. The reciprocal tax convention between the United States and Canada which was ratified August 13, 1937, provides as follows:

"Article I

"The High Contracting Parties mutually agree that the income taxation imposed in the two States shall be subject to the following reciprocal provisions:

"(a) The rate of income tax imposed by one of the Contracting States, in respect of income derived from sources therein, upon individuals residing in the other State, who are not engaged in trade or business in the taxing State and have no office or place of business therein, shall not exceed five per centum for each taxable year, so long as an equivalent or lower rate of income taxation is imposed by the other State upon individuals residing in the former State who are not engaged in trade or business in such other State and do not have an office or place of business therein.

"(b) The rate of income tax imposed by one of the Contracting States, in respect of dividends derived from sources therein, upon nonresident foreign corporations organized under the laws of the other State, which are not engaged in trade or business in the taxing State and have no office or place of business therein, shall not exceed five per centum for each taxable year, so long as an equivalent or lower rate of income taxation on dividends is imposed by the other State upon corporations organized under the laws of the former State which are not engaged in trade or business in such other State and do not have an office or place of business therein.

"(c) Either State shall be at liberty to increase the rate of taxation prescribed by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this article, and in such case the other State shall be released from the requirements of the said paragraphs (a) and (b).

"(d) Effect shall be given to the foregoing provisions by both States as and from the first day of January, nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

"Article II

"The provisions of this Convention shall not apply to citizens of the United States of America domiciled or resident in Canada.

"Article III

"This Convention shall be ratified and shall take effect immediately upon the exchange of ratifications which shall take place at Washington as soon as possible.

"Signed, in duplicate, at Washington by the duly authorized representatives of Canada and the United States of America, this thirtieth day of December, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six."

PARAGRAPH B. Section 211 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides:

Nonresident aliens doing business in the United States.—There shall be levied, collected, and paid for each taxable year, in lieu of the tax imposed by sections 11 and 12, upon the amount received, by every nonresident alien individual not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having an office or place of business therein, from sources within the United States as interest (except interest on deposits with persons carrying on the banking business), dividends, rents, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income, a tax of 10 per centum of such amount, except that such rate shall be reduced, in the case of a resident of a contiguous country, to such rate (not less than 5 per centum) as may be provided by treaty with such country.

Section 501 of the Revenue Act of 1937 provides:

"(a) Section 211 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936 is amended by adding at the end thereof a new sentence to read as follows: 'The tax imposed by this subsection shall not apply to any individual if the aggregate amount received during the taxable year from the sources above specified is more than $21,600.'

"(b) Section 211 of the Revenue Act of 1936, is further amended by adding at the end thereof a new subsection to read as follows:

"'(c) No United States Business or Office and Gross Income of More Than $21,600.—A nonresident alien individual not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having an office or place of business therein who has a gross income for any taxable year of more than $21,600 from the sources specified in subsection (a), shall be taxable without regard to the provisions of subsection (a), except that—

"'(1) The gross income shall include only income from the sources specified in subsection (a); and

"'(2) The deductions (other than the so-called "charitable deduction" provided in section 213 (c) shall be allowed only if and to the extent that they are properly allocable to the gross income from the sources specified in subsection (a); and

"'(3) The aggregate of the normal and surtax under sections 11 and 12 shall, in no case, be less than 10 per centum of the gross income from the sources specified in subsection (a).'

"(c) The amendments made by subsections (a) and (b)—

"(1) Shall apply only to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1936; and

"(2) Shall not apply to a resident of a contiguous country so long as there is in effect a treaty with such country (ratified prior to the date of the enactment of this Act) under which rates of tax under section 211 (a), prior to its amendment by subsection (a), were reduced."

PARAGRAPH C. Section 231 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides:

Nonresident corporations.—There shall be levied, collected, and paid for each taxable year, in lieu of the tax imposed by sections 13 and 14, upon the amount received by every foreign corporation not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having an office or place of business therein, from sources within the United States as interest (except interest on deposits with persons carrying on the banking business), dividends, rents, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income, a tax of 15 per centum of such amount, except that in the case of dividends the rate shall be 10 per centum, and except that in the case of corporations organized under the laws of a contiguous country such rate of 10 per centum with respect to dividends shall be reduced to such rate (not less than 5 per centum) as may be provided by treaty with such country.

PARAGRAPH D. Section 143 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides in part:

Tax-free covenant bonds.—(1) Requirement of Withholding.—In any case where bonds, mortgages, or deeds of trust, or other similar obligations of a corporation, issued before January 1, 1934, contain a contract or provision by which the obligor agrees to pay any portion of the tax imposed by this title upon the obligee, or to reimburse the obligee for any portion of the tax, or to pay the interest without deduction for any tax which the obligor may be required or permitted to pay thereon, or to retain therefrom under any law of the United States, the obligor shall deduct and withhold a tax equal to 2 per centum of the interest upon such bonds, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other obligations, whether such interest is payable annually or at shorter or longer periods, if payable to an individual, a partnership, or a foreign corporation not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having an office or place of business therein: Provided, That if the liability assumed by the obligor does not exceed 2 per centum of the interest, then the deduction and withholding shall be at the following rates: (A) 10 per centum in the case of a nonresident alien individual (except that such rate shall be reduced, in the case of a resident of a contiguous country, to such rate, not less than 5 per centum, as may be provided by treaty with such country), or of any partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having any office or place of business therein and composed in whole or in part of nonresident aliens, (B) in the case of such a foreign corporation, 15 per centum, and (C) 2 per centum in the case of other individuals and partnerships: Provided further, That if the owners of such obligations are not known to the withholding agent the Commissioner may authorize such deduction and withholding to be at the rate of 2 per centum, or, if the liability assumed by the obligor does not exceed 2 per centum of the interest, then at the rate of 10 per centum.

Paragraph E. Section 143 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides:

Nonresident aliens.—All persons, in whatever capacity acting, including lessees or mortgagors of real or personal property, fiduciaries, employers, and all officers and employees of the United States, having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest (except interest on deposits with persons carrying on the banking business paid to persons not engaged in business in the United States and not having an office or place of business therein), dividends, rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income (but only to the extent that any of the above items constitutes gross income from sources within the United States), of any nonresident alien individual, or of any partnership not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having any office or place of business therein and composed in whole or in part of nonresident aliens, shall (except in the cases provided for in subsection (a) of this section and except as otherwise provided in regulations prescribed by the Commissioner under section 215) deduct and withhold from annual or periodical gains, profits, and income a tax equal to 10 per centum thereof, except that such rate (not less than 5 per centum) as may be provided by treaty with such country: Provided, That no such deduction or withholding shall be required in the case of dividends paid by a foreign corporation unless (1) such corporation is engaged in trade or business within the United States or has an office or place of business therein, and (2) more than 85 per centum of the gross income of such corporation for the three-year period ending with the close of its taxable year preceding the declaration of such dividends (or for such part of such period as the corporation has been in existence) was derived from sources within the United States as determined under the provisions of section 119: Provided further, That the Commissioner may authorize such tax to be deducted and withheld from the interest upon any securities the owners of which are not known to the withholding agent. Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, there may be exempted from such deduction and withholding the compensation for personal services of nonresident alien individuals who enter and leave the United States at frequent intervals.

PARAGRAPH F. Section 143 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides:

Return and payment.—Every person required to deduct and withhold any tax under this section shall make return thereof on or before March 15 of each year and shall on or before June 15, in lieu of the time prescribed in section 56, pay the tax to the official of the United States Government authorized to receive it. Every such person is hereby made liable for such tax and is hereby indemnified against the claims and demands of any person for the amount of any payments made in accordance with the provisions of this section.

PARAGRAPH G. Section 144 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides:

General rule.—In the case of foreign corporations subject to taxation under this title not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having any office or place of business therein, there shall be deducted and withheld at the source in the same manner and upon the same items of income as is provided in section 143 a tax equal to 15 per centum thereof, except that in the case of dividends the rate shall be 10 per centum, and except that in the case of corporations organized under the laws of a contiguous country such rate of 10 per centum with respect to dividends shall be reduced to such rate (not less than 5 per centum) as may be provided by treaty with such country; and such tax shall be returned and paid in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as provided in that section: Provided, That in the case of interest described in subsection (a) of that section (relating to tax-free covenant bonds) the deduction and withholding shall be at the rate specified in such subsection.

Paragraph H. Section 322 of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides in part:

(a) Authorization.—Where there has been an overpayment of any tax imposed by this title, the amount of such overpayment shall be credited against any income, war-profits, or excess-profits tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer, and any balance shall be refunded immediately to the taxpayer.

(b) Limitation on allowance.—

(1) Period of limitation.—Unless a claim for credit or refund is filed by the taxpayer within three years from the time the return was filed by the taxpayer or within two years from the time the tax was paid, no credit or refund shall be allowed or made after the expiration of whichever of such periods expires the later. If no return is filed by the taxpayer, then no credit or refund shall be allowed or made after two years from the time the tax was paid, unless before the expiration of such period a claim therefor is filed by the taxpayer.

(2) Limit on amount of credit or refund.—The amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid during the three years immediately preceding the filing of the claim, or, if no claim was filed, then during the three years immediately preceding the allowance of the credit or refund.

PARAGRAPH I. Section 1001 of the Revenue Act of 1936 provides in part:

(a) When used in this Act—

(1) The term "person" means an individual, a trust or estate, a partnership, or a corporation.

(2) The term "corporation" includes associations, joint-stock companies, and insurance companies.

(3) The term "partnership" includes a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization, through or by means of which any business, financial operation, or venture is carried on, and which is not, within the meaning of this Act, a trust or estate or a corporation; and the term "partner" includes a member in such a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or organization.

(4) The term "domestic" when applied to a corporation or partnership means created or organized in the United States or under the law of the United States or of any State or Territory.

(5) The term "foreign" when applied to a corporation or partnership means a corporation or partnership which is not domestic.

(6) The term "fiduciary" means a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person.

(7) The term "withholding agent" means any person required to deduct and withhold any tax under the provisions of section 143 or 144.

(b) The terms "includes" and "including" when used in a definition contained in this Act shall not be deemed to exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of the term defined.

Pursuant to the provisions of section 62 of the Revenue Act of 1936 the following regulations are hereby prescribed to carry into effect the quoted provisions of the Convention between the United States of America and Canada, and all regulations inconsistent herewith are modified accordingly:

ART. 1. Rate of tax.—The Convention was ratified and became effective August 13, 1937. Under the terms of the Convention, the provisions of which are retroactive to January 1, 1936, the tax at the rate of 10 percent imposed by section 211 (a) is reduced to 5 percent with respect to the amount received from sources within the United States as interest (except interest on deposits with persons carrying on the banking business), dividends, rents, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income, by every nonresident alien individual not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having an office or place of business therein, provided he is a resident of Canada.

Under the terms of the Convention the tax at the rate of 10 percent imposed by section 231 (a) is reduced to 5 percent with respect to the amount received from sources within the United States as dividends, by every foreign corporation not engaged in trade or business within the United States and not having an office or place of business therein, provided it is organized under the laws of Canada.

ART. 2. Withholding in general.—The items of income from sources within the United States enumerated in sections 211 (a) and 231 (a) are subject to the withholding provisions of sections 143 and 144, at the rates specified therein, with the exception that all items of fixed or determinable annual or periodical income paid to nonresident alien individuals who are residents of Canada (other than the compensation for personal services received by such residents who enter and leave the United States at frequent intervals) and dividends paid to nonresident foreign corporations which are organized under the laws of Canada are subject to withholding at the reduced rate of 5 percent. In general, the provisions of Article 143–1 to Article 143–9, and Articles 144–1 and 144–2 of Regulations 94[1] are applicable in administering the provisions of the Convention.

ART. 3. Resident of Canada or corporations organized under the laws of Canada.—For the purpose of withholding, every individual addressee in Canada (including a nonresident alien individual, fiduciary, or partnership) shall be considered by United States withholding agents as a resident of Canada, and every corporation whose address is in Canada shall be considered by such withholding agents as a corporation organized under the laws of Canada. These provisions relative to Canadian residents and Canadian corporations are based upon the assumption that the payee is the actual owner of the property from which the income is derived and consequently is the person liable to the tax upon such income.

A person receiving income which is distributable to an organization exempt from Federal income tax under section 101 of the Revenue Act of 1936 or corresponding sections of prior revenue acts, shall be considered merely a conduit through which the income flows and not a taxable entity. In preparing ownership certificate, Form 1001, the person receiving the income should make a notation thereon substantially as follows: "As this organization has been held to be exempt from the payment of income tax by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue under date of ----------, the interest on this certificate is not subject to withholding", giving the date of the official letter in which the organization was held to be exempt. A similar statement made with respect to other items of fixed or determinable annual or periodical income which are subject to withholding will relieve the withholding agent from liability to withhold the tax.

ART. 4. Addressee not actual owner.—If the addressee in Canada is a nominee or agent through whom the income flows to a person who is not entitled to the reduced rate of 5 percent, i. e., a nonresident alien individual who is not a resident of Canada, or a nonresident foreign corporation not organized under the laws of Canada, the addressee in Canada from whom a tax of only 5 percent was withheld, becomes in turn a withholding agent, and is required to withhold an additional tax of 5 percent (10 percent on income other than dividends received for such foreign corporation) before transmitting the income.

(a) Fiduciaries and partnerships.—Fiduciaries and partnerships with an address in Canada are liable to have 5 percent income tax deducted at the source. If the fiduciary or partnership is acting as a nominee or agent receiving the income for and on behalf of a person other than a resident of Canada or a corporation organized under the laws of Canada, an additional tax of 5 percent or 10 percent, as the case may be, must be deducted by such Canadian fiduciary or partnership and remitted to the United States Treasury. If the fiduciary or partnership receives the income in its own right and distributes its income under a trust deed or partnership agreement, then no further tax in Canada need be deducted.

(b) Tax-free covenant bonds.—No additional withholding is required with respect to interest on so-called tax-free covenant bonds issued prior to January 1, 1934, where the liability assumed by the obligor exceeds 2 percent but under section 143 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936 only 2 percent income tax is required to be withheld at the source. An additional tax of 5 percent or 10 percent, as the case may be, is required to be withheld, however, by Canadian withholding agents as above provided, (1) where the bonds were issued prior to January 1, 1934, and the liability assumed by the obligor does not exceed 2 percent; (2) where the bonds were issued on or after January 1, 1934, irrespective of the liability assumed by the obligor; (3) where the bonds do not contain a tax-free covenant, regardless of the date of issue.

ART. 5. Refund of excess tax.—Although the higher rates of tax imposed by sections 211 (a) and 231 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936 were retroactive to income received on and after January 1, 1936, withholding at the higher rates of tax was not in effect until July 2, 1936. Consequently, and since during the period January 1 to July 1, 1936 (both dates inclusive), no tax was deducted from dividends paid to nonresident alien individuals, the full amount of tax imposed was not withheld at the source.

The following is a schedule of the rates of tax which, in general, were required to be withheld during the year 1936 from nonresident alien individuals, nonresident partnerships, and nonresident foreign corporations:

| Kind of income | Period January 1-July 1, 1936, both dates inclusive (under the Revenue Act of 1934 and that Act as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935) | | Period July 2-December 31, 1936 (under the Revenue Act of 1936) | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Corporations | Individuals and partnerships | Corporations | Individuals and partnerships |
| Dividends | 15% of 10% (1½%) (d) | None | 10% (e) | 10% (e) |
| Corporate Bond Interest: | | | | |
| (a) | 15% | 4% (d) | 15% | 10% (e) |
| (b) | 2% (e) | 2% (d) | 2% (e) | 2% (d) |
| All other fixed or determinable annual or periodical income including Rents, Royalties, Annuities, Other Interest | 15% | 4% (d) | 15% | 10% (e) |

(a) 1, Bonds issued on or after January 1, 1934, irrespective of liability assumed by obligor;
2, Bonds issued before January 1, 1934, and liability assumed by obligor does not exceed 2%;
3, Bonds without tax-free covenant irrespective of date of issue.
(b) Bonds issued before January 1, 1934, and liability assumed by obligor exceeds 2%.
(c) The withholding rates applicable to this kind of income, are by reason of the Convention, reduced to 5%.
(d) The tax imposed on such income is 5%. The taxpayer is liable for the difference between 5% and the rate withheld.
(e) The tax imposed on such income is 15%. The taxpayer is liable for the difference between 15% and the rate withheld.

In cases where the tax paid (whether paid directly or withheld at the source) is in excess of the tax due from the taxpayer under the Convention, in order to compute the tax properly it will be necessary for the taxpayer to file an income tax return, Form 1040NB, for individuals and Form 1120NB, for corporations, whether or not an income tax return for the year 1936 was filed. In cases where a return has been filed for 1936, the return to be filed under these regulations should be marked "Amended." The taxpayer's total fixed or determinable annual or periodical income from sources within the United States for the year 1936 should be reported. In the case of income reported on Form 1040NB, the tax on the income should be computed at the rate of 5 percent. In the case of income reported on Form 1120NB, a tax at the rate of 5 percent should be computed on the dividends only, a tax at the rate of 15 percent being computed on the other items of income reported on the return. Where there has been an overpayment of income-tax claim therefor on Form 843 should accompany the return in order to protect the taxpayers against the running of the statute of limitations provided by section 322 of the Revenue Act of 1936. Any tax paid for the year 1936 in excess of that due from the owner of the income will be refunded by the United States Government as required by law. Where there is a deficiency in tax notice thereof will be sent by the United States Government.

ART. 6. Release of excess tax withheld.—Every withholding agent shall immediately release to Canadian addressees (other than corporations) any income tax withheld since December 31, 1936, in excess of 5 percent, and in the case of corporations any income tax withheld since such date in excess of 5 percent with respect to dividends. In such cases claims need not be filed with the withholding agent.

A statement should be attached to annual withholding returns, Form 1013, explaining the discrepancy between the amount of the tax reported as withheld on monthly returns, Form 1012, and the total amount of such tax as shown on Form 1013, resulting from the release of tax in excess of 5 percent.

ART. 7. Return of tax withheld from Canadian addressees.—Every United States withholding agent shall make and file with the collector, in duplicate, an information return on Form 1042B, for the calendar year 1937 and each subsequent calendar year, in addition to withholding return, Form 1042, with respect to the items of income from which a tax of only 5 percent was withheld from Canadian addressees. There shall be reported on Form 1042B not only such items of income listed on Form 1042, but also such items of interest listed on monthly returns, Form 1012, including items of interest where the liability for withholding is only 2 percent. In the case of corporations whose addresses are within Canada, only the fixed or determinable income from sources within the United States consisting of dividends should be reported.

ART. 8. Returns filed by Canadian withholding agents.—Form 1042 is the form to be prepared annually for the calendar year 1937 and each subsequent calendar year by persons in Canada who receive for the account of any person (other than a resident of Canada or a corporation organized under the laws of Canada) fixed or determinable annual or periodical income from sources within the United States which is subject to tax at the rate of 10 percent or 15 percent, as the case may be, but from which only 5 percent has been withheld as a result of the Convention. Annual withholding return, Form 1042, should be forwarded to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Baltimore, Maryland, accompanied by the tax shown to be due in United States dollars. An extension of time to June 15 is hereby granted to Canadian withholding agents in which to file such returns.

SUPPLEMENT NOTICE OF HEARING WITH REFERENCE TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS NO. 5 RELATING TO LABELING AND ADVERTISING OF DISTILLED SPIRITS

TO ADD TO THE SUBJECTS TO BE CONSIDERED AT THE HEARING TO BE HELD BY THE ADMINISTRATION ON MONDAY, NOVEMBER 15TH CERTAIN OTHER PROPOSALS

OCTOBER 8, 1937.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 5 (e) and (f) of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act as amended:

Notice is hereby given that in addition to the proposals listed in the Administration's Notice of Hearing dated October 1, 1937, concerning which evidence will be taken at the Hearing to be held on November 15th at 10:00 A. M. at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C., evidence will also be taken at that time and place with reference to the further proposed amendment of Regulations No. 5 relating to the labeling and advertising of distilled spirits:

1. To amend Article III, Section 32 and other pertinent provisions of the regulations in such manner as to permit the same brand label to be used on identical products bottled by the same person at different premises.

2. To amend Article VI, Section 62, and other pertinent sections of the regulations, in such manner as to require that advertisements for blended whiskeys, which contain neutral spirits, make a more conspicuous and prominent statement of the neutral spirits content of the product than is at present prescribed.

3. To amend Article VI, Section 64 (c), and other pertinent sections of the regulations, in such manner as to permit advertisements for bottled in bond whiskey, the labels upon which contain no statement of age, to refer to the maturity of the product in general terms by the use of words such as "old", "mature", etc.

4. To amend Article VIII, Section 80, and other pertinent sections of the regulations, in such manner as to provide that the regulations shall not apply to distilled spirits bottled for export.

RULES AND REGULATIONS TO GOVERN THE OPERATION OF THE HIGHWAY BRIDGE ACROSS UMPQUA RIVER, AT REEDSPORT, OREGON

THE LAW

The River and Harbor Act of August 18, 1894, contains the following section:

SEC. 5. That it shall be the duty of all persons owning, operating and tending the drawbridges now built, or which may hereafter be built across the navigable rivers and other waters of the United States, to open, or cause to be opened, the draws of such bridges under such rules and regulations as in the opinion of the Secretary of War the public interests require to govern the opening of drawbridges for the passage of vessels and other water crafts, and such rules and regulations, when so made and published shall have the force of law. Every such person who shall willfully fail or refuse to open, or cause to be opened, the draw of any such bridge for the passage of a boat or boats, or who shall unreasonably delay the opening of said draw after reasonable signal shall have been given, as provided in such regulations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars nor less than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment (or in the case of a natural person) for not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the proper action to enforce the provisions of this section may be commenced before any commissioner, judge or court of the United States, and such commissioner, judge, or court shall proceed in respect thereto as authorized by law in case of crimes against the United States: Provided further, That whenever, in the opinion of the Secretary of War, the public interests require it, he may make rules and regulations to govern the opening of drawbridges for the passage of vessels and other water crafts, and such rules and regulations, when so made and published, shall have the force of law, and any violation thereof shall be punished as hereinbefore provided.

THE REGULATIONS

In pursuance of the foregoing law, the following special regulations are prescribed to govern the operation of the highway bridge across the Umpqua River at Reedsport, Douglas County, Oregon:

1. The owner of, or agency controlling, the bridge shall provide the appliances and the personnel necessary for the safe, prompt, and efficient opening of the draw at any time during the day or night for the passage of any vessel or other water craft, which cannot pass under the closed draw, when the following signal is received:

One (1) long blast followed immediately by one (1) short blast of a whistle, siren, trumpet, horn or megaphone, or one loud and distinct stroke of a bell.

When the draw of the bridge can be opened immediately the draw tender shall reply by

One (1) long blast of a whistle, horn, siren, trumpet or megaphone, or one (1) loud and distinct stroke of a bell.

If the draw of the bridge cannot be opened immediately, the draw tender shall reply by

A succession of short blasts of a whistle, horn, siren, trumpet, or megaphone or loud and distinct ringing of a bell.

2. A copy of these regulations shall be conspicuously posted on both the upstream and downstream sides of the bridge in such manner that it can be easily read at any time.

3. The operating machinery of the draw shall be maintained in a serviceable condition, and the draw opened and closed at least once every four months to make certain that the machinery is in proper order for satisfactory operation.

4. These special regulations shall take effect and be in force on and after the date of approval hereof.

Approved, September 28, 1937.

THE REGULATIONS

In pursuance of the foregoing law, the following special regulations are prescribed to govern the operation of the highway bridge across the Siuslaw River, at Florence, Lane County, Oregon:

1. The owner of, or agency controlling, the bridge shall provide the appliances and the personnel necessary for the safe, prompt, and efficient opening of the draw at any time during the day or night for the passage of any vessel or other water craft, which cannot pass under the closed draw, when the following signal is received:

One (1) long blast followed immediately by one (1) short blast of a whistle, siren, trumpet, horn or megaphone, or one loud and distinct stroke of a bell.

When the draw of the bridge can be opened immediately the draw tender shall reply by

One (1) long blast of a whistle, horn, siren, trumpet or megaphone, or one (1) loud and distinct stroke of a bell.

If the draw of the bridge cannot be opened immediately, the draw tender shall reply by

A succession of short blasts of a whistle, horn, siren, trumpet, or megaphone or loud and distinct ringing of a bell.

2. A copy of these regulations shall be conspicuously posted on both the upstream and downstream sides of the bridge in such manner that it can be easily read at any time.

3. The operating machinery of the draw shall be maintained in a serviceable condition, and the draw opened and closed at least once every four months to make certain that the machinery is in proper order for satisfactory operation.

4. These special regulations shall take effect and be in force on and after the date of approval hereof.

Approved, September 29, 1937.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

General Land Office.

REVISED INSTRUCTIONS PROVIDING FOR AN EXCHANGE OF LANDS GRANTED TO THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR LANDS IN PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

AUGUST 20, 1937.

REGISTER, UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE,
Los Angeles, California.

SIR: The following instructions are issued, governing the procedure in making State exchanges under the act of June 5, 1936 (49 Stat. 1482), and are to supersede the previous instructions approved July 13, 1936.

The act of Congress approved June 5, 1936 (49 Stat. 1482), amended the act of March 3, 1933 (47 Stat. 1487), providing for the selection of lands within a certain area in the State of California for the use of the California State Park System, by adding at the end of said act the following proviso:

Provided further, That in order to consolidate park areas and/or to eliminate private holdings therefrom, lands patented hereunder may be exchanged, subject to the mineral reservation in the United States as hereinbefore provided, with the approval of and under rules prescribed by, the Secretary of the Interior for privately-owned lands in the area hereinbefore described of approximately equal value containing the natural features sought to be preserved hereby, and the lands so acquired shall be subject to all the conditions and reservations prescribed by this Act, including the reversionary clause hereinbefore set out.

The object of this amendment is to permit the consolidation of park lands within the area involved. Under these provisions of the act the State of California, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior and under the rules prescribed by the Secretary, may exchange lands, subject to the mineral reservation in the United States, which have been or may be patented to the State under said act of 1933, for privately-owned lands within that area of approximately equal value containing the natural features sought to be preserved by said act. The lands to be acquired by the State through such exchange will be subject to the same conditions and reservations prescribed by said act, including the reversionary clause.

A proposal for an exchange desired to be made by the State in accordance with these provisions of the act must be submitted to the Secretary of the Interior for consideration. Such proposal for exchange should be filed in your office, together with an affidavit by the agent of the State showing that the lands patented to the State under said act and those desired to be acquired by the State in exchange are of approximately equal value, and that the tracts to be acquired contain characteristic desert growth and scenic or other natural features desired to be preserved as a part of the California State Park System.

The proposal for exchange should be in the form of a joint application signed by the proper State official and by the owner of the land which the State desires to acquire in exchange, definitely describing by legal subdivisions of the Government surveys the lands relinquished by the State and those desired by the State in exchange therefor. Such joint application should be filed in your office in triplicate, two copies of which you will transmit to this Office, one copy to be given the serial number of the original selection of the State, the second copy to be assigned a new serial number under which patent would be issued to the party exchanging with the State, and the third copy should be forwarded to the Division of Investigations. Such joint application should be accompanied with a deed of reconveyance to the United States of the tract patented to the State under said act of March 3, 1933, and with a deed of conveyance to the United States from the owner of the tract desired by the State in exchange, such deeds to be duly executed in accordance with the laws of the State, and both deeds to be unrecorded. There should also be filed a certificate by the proper State officer and a certificate by the county recorder showing no encumbrances of the land reconveyed by the State to the United States.

There must be filed a duly-authenticated abstract of title to the tract conveyed to the United States and desired by the State in exchange, showing title to such land in the party conveying to the United States. The certificate of authentication of the abstract must be signed by the recorder of deeds under his official seal and must show that the title memorandum is a full, true, and complete abstract of all matters of record or on file in his office, including conveyances, mortgages, or other encumbrances. The custodian of tax records must certify that all taxes levied or assessed against the land or that could operate as a lien thereon, have been paid in full, and that there are no unredeemed tax sales and no tax deeds outstanding as shown by the records of his office. The absence of judgment liens or pending suits against the grantor, which might affect the title to the land, must be shown by the official certificates of the clerks of the courts of record whose judgments under the laws of the United States or of the State constitute a lien on the land conveyed. Such abstract may be authenticated by an abstracter or abstract company approved under section 42 of the mining regulations of April 11, 1922 (49 L. D. 15, 69).

Upon receipt of a joint application for exchange in the General Land Office, accompanied with the required evidence, a report will be requested from the Division of Investigations as to the comparative values of the lands involved, those relinquished by the State, and those desired by the State in lieu thereof.

Publication of notice of the proposed exchange will not be required and payment of fees will not be required in connection therewith.

If all be regular and the report of the Division of Investigations be satisfactory, the proposed exchange will be submitted to the Secretary of the Interior for his consideration. Upon the approval of the exchange by the Secretary of the Interior, the deeds of conveyance will be returned for recording and the abstract of title to be brought down to show such recordation.

Upon the receipt in this Office of the recorded deeds, a patent will be issued to the State for the tract desired in exchange, such patent to contain the mineral reservation and the forfeiture provision prescribed by the act of March 3, 1933, and as contained in the patent issued to the State for the land originally selected. A patent also will be issued to the party exchanging with the State, for the tract reconveyed by the State to the United States.

Very respectfully,

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Approved August 20, 1937.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Assistant Secretary.

INSTRUCTIONS UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS PROVIDING FOR THE SELECTION OF LANDS IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE USE OF THE CALIFORNIA STATE PARK SYSTEM

SEPTEMBER 22, 1937.

REGISTER, UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE,
Los Angeles, California.

SIR: The act of Congress approved June 29, 1936 (49 Stat. 2026), entitled "An Act To provide for the selection of certain lands in the State of California for the use of the California State park system," reads as follows:

That subject to valid rights existing on the date of this Act, the State of California may, within five years, select for State park purposes by legal subdivisions all or any portion of the public land not reserved for public purposes in the following townships:

Township 13 south, range 4 east, San Bernardino meridian, sections 25, 26, 35, and 36; township 13 south, range 5 east; township 13 south, range 6 east; township 13 south, range 7 east; township 13 south, range 8 east; township 13 south, range 9 east.

Township 14 south, range 4 east, sections 1 and 12; township 14 south, range 5 east, sections 1 to 26, inclusive, 35, and 36; township 14 south, range 6 east; township 14 south, range 7 east; township 14 south, range 8 east; township 14 south, range 9 east.

Township 15 south, range 6 east, sections 1 to 18, inclusive; township 15 south, range 6 east, sections 21 to 27, inclusive; township 15 south, range 6 east, sections 34, 35, and 36; township 15 south, range 7 east, township 15 south, range 8 east; township 15 south, range 9 east; township 15 south, range 10 east, sections 29, 30, 31, and 32.

Township 16 south, range 6 east, sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16; township 16 south, range 7 east; township 16 south, range 8 east; township 16 south, range 9 east, sections 1 to 12, inclusive; township 16 south, range 10 east, sections 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Township 17 south, range 8 east, San Bernardino meridian: Provided, That the Secretary of the Interior may set aside lands of approximately forty-two thousand acres of the above-described area, and may in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, transfer complete title to all or any part of the same to the State of California on the basis of acre for acre in consideration of the transfer by the State of California to the United States of the complete title to lands owned by said State within the area withdrawn by Executive Order Numbered 6361 of October 25, 1933, and the provisions of section 2 of this Act shall not apply thereto.

SEC. 2. Upon the submission of satisfactory proof that the land selected contains characteristic desert growth and scenic or other natural features which it is desirable to preserve as a part of the California State park system, the Secretary of the Interior shall cause patents to issue therefor: Provided, That there shall be reserved to the United States all coal, oil, gas, or other mineral contained in such lands, together with the right to prospect for, mine, and remove the same at such times and under such conditions as the Secretary of the Interior may prescribe: Provided further, That any patent so issued shall contain a provision for reversion of title to the United States upon a finding by the Secretary of the Interior that for a period of more than one year the land has not been used by the State for park purposes: And provided further, That in order to consolidate park areas or to eliminate private holdings therefrom, lands patented hereunder may be exchanged with the approval of and under rules prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior for privately owned lands in the area hereinbefore described of approximately equal value containing the natural features sought to be preserved hereby. The lands so acquired to be subject to all the conditions and reservations prescribed by this Act, including the reversionary clause hereinbefore set out.

The public lands within the area described, not reserved for public purposes and not embraced in entries or claims based upon rights existing on the date of the act and thereafter legally maintained are, in view of the five-year period fixed, withheld from disposition under the public land laws other than that authorized until June 30, 1941. You will make appropriate notations as to this reservation upon the records of your office.

For the purpose of this act it is not considered that the public lands involved are affected by the withdrawal made by Executive Order No. 6910, of November 26, 1934, as amended.

Applications to select lands under this grant within the area described should be filed in your office by the proper State officer, in accordance with the regulations governing selections of lands by States, approved June 23, 1910 (39 L. D. 39), as applying to "special grants" or "grants in quantity," except that because of the mineral reservation made by the act no non-mineral affidavit will be required. No affidavit as to springs or water holes will be required in connection with such applications. There must be furnished, however, an affidavit showing that the land is unappropriated, that it is not occupied by and does not contain improvements placed thereon by any Indian, and that no part of the land is claimed, occupied, or being worked under the mining laws. Each selection list must be accompanied with proof that the land selected contains characteristic desert growth and scenic or other natural features which it is desired to preserve as a part of the California State park system. Payment of fees will be required in the sum of $2 for each 160 acres, or fraction thereof.

The selections in any one list should not contain more than 6,400 acres in accordance with the regulations above referred to, 39 L. D. 39, and in each selection list it should be stated that the selections are made under said act of June 29, 1936 (49 Stat. 2026). A certificate of the selecting agent of the State showing that the selections are made under and pursuant to the laws of the State must be furnished with each selection list.

Upon acceptance of the selections, you will prepare a notice for publication thereof.

Any patent issued to the State for such selections, excepting any which may be made under the proviso to section 1 of the act, will contain the mineral reservation and forfeiture provision prescribed by section 2 of the act. No provision is made at this time for development of the reserved mineral deposits in the lands to be so conveyed under this act, and until such regulations shall have been issued, the reserved mineral deposits will not be subject to disposition.

Under the provisions of the act, the State of California, with the approval of the Secretary of the Interior and under rules prescribed by the Secretary, may exchange lands which may be patented under this act with a reservation of minerals to the United States, for privately-owned lands within the area described of approximately equal value, containing the natural features sought to be preserved by the act. The lands to be acquired by the State through such exchange will be subject to the same conditions and reservations prescribed by said act, including the reversionary clause.

A proposal for an exchange desired to be made by the State in accordance with these provisions of the act must be submitted to the Secretary of the Interior for consideration. Such a proposal for exchange should be filed in your office together with an affidavit by the agent of the State showing that the lands patented to the State under said act and those desired to be acquired by the State in exchange, are of approximately equal value, and that the tracts to be acquired contain characteristic desert growth and scenic or other natural features desired to be preserved as a part of the California State park system.

The proposal for exchange should be in the form of a joint application signed by the proper State official and by the owner of the land which the State desires to acquire in exchange, definitely describing by legal subdivisions of the Government surveys the lands relinquished by the State and those desired by the State in exchange therefor. Such joint application should be filed in your office in triplicate, two copies of which you will transmit to this office, one copy to be given the serial number of the original selection of the State, the second copy to be assigned a new serial number under which patent would be issued to the party exchanging with the State and the third copy should be forwarded to the Division of Investigations. Such joint application should be accompanied with a deed of reconveyance to the United States of the tract patented to the State under said act of June 29, 1936 (Public, No. 838, 49 Stat. 2026), and with a deed of conveyance to the United States from the owner of the tract desired by the State in exchange, such deeds to be duly executed in accordance with the laws of the State, and both deeds to be unrecorded. There should also be filed a certificate by the proper State officer and a certificate by the county recorder showing no encumbrances of the land reconveyed by the State to the United States.

There must be filed a duly-authenticated abstract of title to the tract conveyed to the United States and desired by the State in exchange, showing title to such land in the party conveying to the United States. The certificate of authentication of the abstract must be signed by the recorder of deeds under his official seal and must show that the title memorandum is a full, true, and complete abstract of all matters of record or on file in his office, including conveyances, mortgages, or other encumbrances. The custodian of tax records must certify that all taxes levied or assessed against the land or that could operate as a lien thereon, have been paid in full, and that there are no unredeemed tax sales and no tax deeds outstanding as shown by the records of his office. The absence of judgment liens or pending suits against the grantor, which might affect the title to the land, must be shown by the official certificates of the clerks of the courts of record whose judgments under the laws of the United States or of the State constitute a lien on the land conveyed. Such abstract may be authenticated by an abstractor or abstract company approved under section 42 of the mining regulations of April 11, 1922 (49 L. D. 15, 69).

Upon receipt of a joint application for exchange in the General Land Office, accompanied with the required evidence, a report will be requested from the Division of Investigations as to the comparative values of the lands involved, those relinquished by the State and those desired by the State in lieu thereof. At the same time a report will be requested from the National Park Service as to the value for park purposes of the lands desired by the State.

Publication of notice of the proposed exchange will not be required and payment of fees will not be required in connection therewith.

If all be regular and the reports of the Division of Investigations and the National Park Service be satisfactory, the proposed exchange will be submitted to the Secretary of the Interior for his consideration. Upon the approval of the exchange by the Secretary of the Interior, the deeds of conveyance will be returned for recording and the abstract of title to be brought down to show such recordation.

Upon the receipt in this Office of the recorded deeds, a patent will be issued to the State for the tract desired in exchange, such patent to contain the mineral reservation and the forfeiture provision prescribed by the act, and as contained in the patent issued to the State for the lands originally selected. A patent also will be issued to the party exchanging with the State for the tract reconveyed by the State to the United States.

The proviso to section 1 of the act provides that the Secretary of the Interior may set aside lands embracing approximately 42,000 acres of the area described in the act, and in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, may transfer complete title to all or any part thereof to the State of California on an acre-for-acre basis, in consideration of the transfer by the State to the United States of the complete title to lands owned by the State within the area withdrawn by Executive Order No. 6361, of October 25, 1933, in which event the provisions of section 2 of the act would not apply.

Should the Secretary of the Interior elect to designate 42,000 acres of the area described for the purpose of exchange in accordance with the proviso to section 1 of this act, further instructions will be issued in regard thereto.

Very respectfully,

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Approved: September 22, 1937.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Farm Security Administration.

[Administration Order 161 (Revision 1)[1]]

RELEASE OF PROPERTY SUBJECT TO A LIEN

OCTOBER 8, 1937.

1. Purpose.—a. This Order prescribes the procedure to be followed and the terms and conditions upon which property subject to a lien to the FSA, U. S. Department of Agriculture, or a state RR corporation may be released in whole or in part when the indebtedness secured by such a lien has not been fully repaid.

2. Definition.—a. The term mortgage as used herein will mean a chattel mortgage, chattel deed of trust, conditional sales contract, crop mortgage, crop lien, or other similar instrument, except a mortgage on real property, given to secure a loan made by the FSA, U. S. Department of Agriculture, or a state RR corporation.

3. Conditions upon which property may be released.—a. Mortgaged property, or any part thereof, may be released from the lien of such mortgage to accomplish any of the purposes set forth under paragraph 4a and b hereof in order to further the rehabilitation of the client, provided that:

I. Such a release will not jeopardize the ultimate collection of the loan.

NOTE.—This Revision provides for the necessary changes in release procedure.

II. The same is permitted by the laws of the state in which the property is situated.

III. The accomplishment of the said purpose will not render the mortgage void by reason of the law of the state where the property is situated.

[1] Supplements paragraph 3c IV H of AO 178 (Rev. 1)—3/18/37.

b. Mortgaged property, or any part thereof, may be released from the lien of such mortgage to accomplish the purposes set forth in paragraph 4c hereof, provided that:

I. Such a release will not jeopardize the lien held by the FSA or a state RR corporation on any property which has at the time of the release not as yet been released for the accomplishment of the purposes set forth in paragraph 4c hereof.

II. The same is permitted by the laws of the state in which the property is situated.

c. No property will be released from the lien of a mortgage when the indebtedness secured by such a lien has not been fully repaid, except subject to the terms and conditions of this Order and any supplement, revision, or modification thereto.

4. Purposes for which property may be released.—a. Mortgaged property, or any part thereof, may be released from the lien of a mortgage in order to further the rehabilitation of the client, by enabling the client:

I. To sell the property, or such part thereof, as will be released from the lien of the mortgage and to apply the proceeds in payment of the indebtedness secured by the mortgage. (Release of property for this purpose contemplates the normal sale of such property in connection with farming operations and is to be distinguished from release of property contemplated in paragraph 4c below for the purpose of liquidating a client's indebtedness.)

II. To sell the property, or such part thereof as will be released from the lien of the mortgage, and to apply the proceeds of such sale to the purchase of other property which will be more suitable to his needs and will assist in his rehabilitation, provided:

A. That the new property to be purchased is inspected by the county RR supervisor or district RR supervisor, and found to be suitable to the client's needs.

B. That any excess of proceeds of sale above the cost of the new property be transmitted immediately and applied to the indebtedness.

C. That such new property is made subject to a first mortgage executed and delivered to the United States of America or to the state RR corporation.

III. To exchange the property, or such part thereof as will be released from the lien of the mortgage, for other property which will be more suitable to his needs and will more adequately contribute in his rehabilitation, provided:

A. That the property for which exchange is to be made is inspected by the county RR supervisor or district RR supervisor and found to be suitable to the client's needs.

B. That any cash remitted by the new owner be transmitted immediately and applied to the indebtedness.

C. That such new property is made subject to a first mortgage executed and delivered to the United States of America or to the state RR corporation.

IV. To sell the property, or such part thereof, as will be released from the lien of the mortgage, to meet farming or harvesting expenses when such expenses are determined by the county RR supervisor to be justifiable and proper.

V. To use, sell, or exchange property, or such part thereof, as will be released from the lien of the mortgage, to meet subsistence and emergency needs of the debtor and his family, when such expenses are determined by the county RR supervisor to be justifiable and proper.

VI. To sell the property, or such part thereof as will be released from the lien of the mortgage, to preserve the remainder of the mortgaged property or other mortgaged property from deterioration or spoilage.

b. Crops, livestock products, and other farm products may be released from a lien:

I. When, at seasonable time, crops, livestock products, and other farm products are to be marketed and the proceeds of such sales are to be applied as a payment on the client's indebtedness.

II. When the installment of indebtedness due to the FSA, U. S. Department of Agriculture, or to the state RR corporation during the year in which a crop matures or agricultural products are ready for market has been paid, such crops or agricultural products may be released from the lien of the mortgage to enable the client to sell and apply the proceeds of such sale to the expenditures contemplated in the approved farm plan of the client.

III. To sell crops, livestock products, or other farm products for the purpose of meeting justifiable expenses which were contemplated in the farm plan.

c. Mortgaged property or any part thereof may be released from the lien of said mortgage for liquidation of the client's account by enabling him to sell the property or such part thereof as will be released from the lien of the mortgage pursuant to this Order and to apply the proceeds in payment of his indebtedness to the FSA, U. S. Department of Agriculture, or to the state RR corporation.

5. Application for Release.—a. Any debtor may apply for a release of mortgaged property, or any part thereof, by applying to the county RR supervisor, and filling out Form RA-LE 90, Rev., "Application for Release of Mortgaged Property" (a copy of which is attached hereto for reference[1]), in triplicate where the authority to execute a release has not been delegated to the state director or district RR supervisor and in quadruplicate where such authority to execute releases has been delegated to these officers.

b. After filling in his recommendations, as provided in the application form, the county RR supervisor will (if unauthorized to execute the release), forward the original of the application form to the regional office (where the authority to execute the release has not been delegated to the state director or district RR supervisor) or forward the one copy to the regional office and the original to such superior officer (state director or district RR supervisor) as has been authorized to execute the release. One copy will be given to the client and the remaining copy will be retained by the county RR supervisor. If the county RR supervisor is authorized to execute the release, he will prepare and execute the same and dispose of the various copies in accordance with paragraph 6d hereof.

6. Execution of release form and delegation of authority to execute the same.—a. All releases must be in writing, in a form approved by the Solicitor's Office. No form will be used for any of the purposes set forth in paragraph 4 hereof unless the regional attorney has approved in writing the use of said form for such purposes in the state concerned.

b. Regional directors are authorized to execute releases as agents of the Secretary of Agriculture, or as agents of the Administrator of the FSA, or as agents of the FSA for the purposes and subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Order. Such authority may be delegated to assistant regional directors in charge of RR, who may in turn redelegate to regional Collection advisers or chiefs of the regional Loan and Collections sections, loan approval advisers, state RR directors, and district RR supervisors.

c. Regional directors may delegate and assistant regional directors in charge of RR, state RR directors, and district RR supervisors may redelegate authority to execute releases for the purposes set forth in paragraphs 4a I, 4b I, and 4b II hereof to county RR supervisors.

d. If the regional director or other officer to whom the authority to execute releases has been delegated, or redelegated, using the information contained in the application for release and such other information as he may have in his office, is satisfied that, in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in this Order, the property, or any part thereof, should be released, he will prepare in quintuple and execute the original and one copy of a release form (as approved for the state), for the release of part or all of the mortgaged property. The original, the executed copy, and one other copy will be forwarded directly to the county RR supervisor in charge. The fourth copy of the release must be forwarded on the day of execution, together with the appropriate copy of the application for release, to the regional Loan and Collections section to be filed with the mortgage, and the fifth copy of the release will be forwarded to the district RR supervisor. The original and two copies forwarded to the county RR supervisor will be used as follows: Original, signed copy will be recorded or filed if in the opinion of the regional attorney the local law requires the mortgagee to record or file releases. If in the opinion of the regional attorney the local law does not require the mortgagee to record or file releases, the original copy will be delivered to the client, and the unsigned copy will be placed in the files of the county RR supervisor. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed to prevent any official of the FSA from withholding the delivery of a release in order to assure the use of the released property for the purposes intended.

I. The regional director will consult the regional attorney as to the matters set forth in paragraph 6a hereof, and as to all matters of local law required to be decided by this Order including the necessity for recording and filing releases, and as to the best method of proceeding pursuant to this Order and in accordance with the law of the state where the property is situated.

c. All delegations and redelegations of authority made hereunder must be made in writing, designating by name, title, and address the delegatee and specifying the authority granted, and the same will be made a matter of record.

7. Checking System to Assume the Execution of Chattel Mortgages for Chattels Acquired through Release.—a. The regional Loan and Collections section will require that new mortgages be sent to the regional office within a reasonable time for new chattels acquired through exchange or sale of chattels released, pursuant to paragraph 4a II and III hereof, and will maintain a close check to see that cash proceeds from the sale or exchange of mortgaged property are properly transmitted to the Treasury Disbursing office for the region.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of October, A. D., 1937.

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF PRODUCING LANDOWNERS' ROYALTY INTERESTS IN THE CRON AND GRACEY-THOMPSON TRACT, FILED ON SEPTEMBER 22, 1937, BY T. S. HOSE, RESPONDENT

ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (B)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and therefore alleging, that the offering sheet described in the title hereof and filed by the respondent named therein is incomplete or inaccurate in a material respect, or contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of Regulation B, to wit:

In that the statement made under Division II, Item 20 (b), relative to the percentage of water in fluid produced from the tract involved, is considered inaccurate and misleading for the reason that the Commission has information to the effect that Wells Nos. 1 and 2 are each producing 90% of water in fluid produced, and Well No. 3 is producing 60% of water in fluid produced, whereas under said item it is set forth that no water is being produced from said tract.

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 21st day of October, 1937, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said Examiner may designate.

Upon the completion of testimony in this matter the Examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

By the Commission.

SPECIAL MEXICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION.

NOTICE TO CLAIMANTS BEFORE THE SPECIAL MEXICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION

EXTENSION OF THE COMMISSION

By the provisions of House Joint Resolution 437, approved by the President on August 25, 1937, the period prescribed for the completion of the work of the Special Mexican Claims Commission was extended until the end of August 1938, subject to possible earlier termination by executive order upon the completion of its work before the end of the additional period. By reason of the extension, notice of the entry of decisions will be given as hereinafter stated.

This extension of time will make it possible for the Commission to accept and consider such additional evidence and written legal contentions as may be submitted within the period hereinafter announced. It will also afford the Commission an opportunity to make appropriate independent investigations of claims prior to the entry of final awards and, upon proper showing as hereinafter indicated, to review its decisions after they are announced.

The Act of April 10, 1935, under which the Commission was established, provided that the decisions of the Commission should be based upon the existing records in the claims before it, and such additional evidence and written legal contentions as might be presented. The Commission was also given authority, in its discretion, to make independent investigations.

By and under the Rules and Regulations adopted by the Commission on September 16, 1935, copies of which were sent to claimants, periods for the presentation of additional evidence and written legal contentions were prescribed. Such evidence and legal contentions were presented in a large number of cases and were considered, in connection with the records previously existing, in the determination of claims. Independent investigations were made by the Commission in a relatively small number of cases. The Commission was aware of the availability of pertinent information, not in the record, with respect to a considerable number of claims which the time at its disposal did not permit it to investigate. Because of the limited time allowed for the decision of all claims, the Commission was obliged, during the last six months of the period originally prescribed for the completion of its work, to deny the requests of claimants and attorneys for additional time in which to present evidence and written legal contentions, for its consideration.

All the 2815 claims within the present jurisdiction of the Commission have been decided on the basis of the existing records.

New Evidence

Notice is hereby given that the Commission will consider all additional evidence and written legal contentions that may be presented to it by or on behalf of claimants prior to October 31, 1937. Upon proper showing before that date of the need for additional time, extension of time may be granted in individual cases, but under no circumstances will any new evidence or written legal contentions be accepted or considered after December 31, 1937. During the time allowed for the presentation of additional evidence and legal contentions, the pertinent files of the Commission will be open to the inspection of claimants or their authorized representatives.

Proof Necessary to Warrant an Award

Many claimants have apparently not realized that the Commission can enter awards only upon claims as to which liability was assumed by the Mexican Government under the terms of the Convention (Treaty) entered into by that Government and the United States on September 10, 1923.

The function of the present Commission is essentially judicial, and neither the Commissioners nor the members of the staff of the Commission can advise claimants or their attorneys as to the sufficiency of the evidence already presented in support of any claim or as to the desirability of the presentation of additional evidence or written legal contentions.

Article III of the Convention, specifying the forces for whose acts the Mexican Government assumed liability, reads as follows:

"The claims which the Commission shall examine and decide are those which arose during the revolutions and disturbed conditions which existed in Mexico covering the period from November 20, 1910, to May 31, 1920, inclusive, and were due to any act by the following forces:

"(1) By forces of a Government de jure or de facto.

"(2) By revolutionary forces as a result of the triumph of whose cause governments de facto or de jure have been established, or by revolutionary forces opposed to them.

"(3) By forces arising from the disjunction of the forces mentioned in the next preceding paragraph up to the time when the government de jure established itself as a result of a particular revolution.

"(4) By federal forces that were disbanded, and

"(5) By mutinies or mobs, or insurrectionary forces other than those referred to under subdivisions (2), (3) and (4) above, or by bandits, provided in any case it be established that the appropriate authorities omitted to take reasonable measures to suppress insurrectionists, mobs or bandits, or treated them with lenity or were in fault in other particulars."

An indispensable prerequisite to an award upon any claim is that the record shall affirmatively show that the loss or damage suffered was due to acts of forces specified in paragraph (1), (2), (3), or (4) of the above quoted Article; or that it was due to the acts of forces specified in paragraph (5), and, in such event, "that the appropriate authorities omitted to take reasonable measures to suppress (the) insurrectionists, mobs, or bandits, or treated them with lenity or were in fault in other particulars." No award can be made upon a mere showing of loss or damage due to revolutionary conditions.

The record, in order to warrant an award, must also contain competent proof (1) of the American citizenship of the claimant or claimants from the date of the origin of the claim to the date of its filing with the former Commission; (2) of the ownership of any personal property and the ownership or right of possession of any real property involved in the claim; (3) of the value of any property alleged to have been lost or damaged, and the extent of the loss or damage thereof; and (4), of the extent of any loss or damage not connected with property.

The Commission, in considering every claim, takes cognizance of the historical data in its possession with reference to the activities of various forces in Mexico, but these data are, in most instances, helpful to claimants only in supplementing their own evidence as to the circumstances of their losses or damages. The Commission cannot enter awards upon uncorroborated statements of claimants.

Notice of Decisions and Petitions for Review

As soon as possible after the expiration of the additional period hereby granted for the presentation of additional evidence and legal contentions, the Commission will enter its decisions upon all claims within its jurisdiction. Copies of the decisions will be sent to claimants and their attorneys, with a statement of the period allowed for the filing of a written motion for review, and the conditions under which such review may be granted. After the expiration of the period allowed for review, all decisions will be made final.

Payments of Awards

The Government of Mexico is paying the amount of the lump sum settlement agreed upon, in annual installments. A total of $1,534,610.15 has so far been paid to the Government of the United States. A further payment in the amount of $529,610.15 is due in January 1938. There will be due under the agreement seven more annual installments of approximately $500,000.00 each, and interest. It is hoped that the work of this Commission will be completed early enough in 1938 to make it possible that after Mexico makes the 1938 payment the total sum then available may be distributed to the beneficiaries of the Commission's awards without unreasonable delay.

As provided in Section 4 of the Act of April 10, 1935, if the total amount of the awards of the Commission is greater than the amount to be available under the lump sum settlement with Mexico for the payment of awards, it will be necessary for the Commission to reduce its awards on a percentage basis.

Attorneys' Fees

The Commission considers it appropriate to bring to the attention of claimants the fact that the data in the present records, with reference to the character and value of the services rendered by counsel or attorneys in the preparation or prosecution of claims, are, in many instances, not such as to afford a basis for the determination by the Commission of just and reasonable fees for such services. The authority of the Commission with reference to attorneys' fees is set forth in Section 8 of the Act of April 10, 1935. The Commission cannot determine fees where authorized, except upon sufficient data.

Additional Claims to be Decided by the Commission

The Joint Resolution approved August 25, 1937, provides that, in the event of the reclassification as special claims of any of the claims which were found by the Joint Committee under the Convention of 1934 to be general claims, the claims so reclassified shall be passed upon by this Commission during its existence and thereafter by a Commission to be established in conformity with the Act of April 10, 1935. The claims mentioned are now pending before the Commissioners of the General Claims Arbitration, United States and Mexico, who, under the agreement between the two governments, are required to submit a Joint Report on or before October 24, 1937. Such claims as the Commissioners of the General Claims Arbitration may reclassify as special and any other claims which may be so reclassified during the existence of this Commission will be considered and decided as provided in the Joint Resolution. The interested parties will be duly advised of the reclassification of any of the claims during the existence of this Commission.

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

SUSPENSION OF CERTAIN JURISDICTION OF AMERICAN EXTRA-TERRITORIAL COURTS IN EGYPT

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS by a Presidential proclamation issued on March 27, 1876, pursuant to the authority of the act of Congress approved March 23, 1874, the judicial functions theretofore exercised in Egypt by the minister, consuls, or other functionaries of the United States pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 22, 1860, were suspended, during the pleasure of the President, so far as the jurisdiction of certain Egyptian tribunals embraced matters cognizable by the minister, consuls, or other functionaries of the United States in Egypt, except as to cases actually commenced before the date of the said proclamation;

WHEREAS at the time of the issuance of the said proclamation the jurisdiction of the said Egyptian tribunals did not extend to certain categories of cases within the jurisdiction of the minister, consuls, or other functionaries of the United States which were accordingly retained within the jurisdiction of, and have continued to the present time to be exercised by, those functionaries;

WHEREAS the Government of the United States and other governments concluded a convention with the Government of Egypt on May 8, 1937, providing for the termination of the capitulatory rights now enjoyed by the United States and other powers in Egypt and providing that, during the period October 15, 1937–October 14, 1949, the judicial functions now exercised by consular courts would be exercised by the Mixed Tribunals of Egypt, except as to personal status matters—as defined in article 28 of the Règlement d'Organisation Judiciaire annexed to and forming a part of the said convention of May 8, 1937—with respect to which the said convention provides that the signatory governments may retain existing consular courts for the purpose of jurisdiction in cases involving the personal status of their respective nationals during the period October 15, 1937–October 14, 1949;

WHEREAS, pending the ratification of the said convention by the Government of the United States it is in the interest of the United States to cooperate with the Government of Egypt and the other capitulatory powers by suspending the jurisdiction now exercised by the minister, consuls, or other functionaries of the United States in Egypt and consenting to the transfer of that jurisdiction to the Mixed Tribunals of Egypt, except jurisdiction in matters involving the personal status of citizens of the United States; and

WHEREAS satisfactory information has been received by me that the said Mixed Tribunals of Egypt are organized on a basis likely to secure to citizens of the United States in Egypt the impartial justice which they now enjoy under the judicial functions exercised by the minister, consuls, or other functionaries of the United States pursuant to the said act of Congress of June 22, 1860:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the power and authority conferred upon me by the said act of Congress approved March 23, 1874, do hereby suspend, effective October 15, 1937, during the pleasure of the President, the judicial functions now exercised by the minister, consuls, or other functionaries of the United States in Egypt, except as to cases actually commenced before October 15, 1937, and except as to matters involving the personal status of citizens of the United States as defined in article 28 of the Règlement d'Organisation Judiciaire annexed to the said convention of May 8, 1937.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this 9th day of October, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-second.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

RULES AND REGULATIONS TO GOVERN THE USE, ADMINISTRATION, AND NAVIGATION OF BAYOU TECHE, LA.

THE LAW

Section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917, provides as follows:

That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to prescribe such regulations for the use, administration, and navigation of the navigable waters of the United States as in his judgment the public necessity may require for the protection of life and property, or of operations of the United States in channel improvement, covering all matters not specifically delegated by law to some other executive department. Such regulations shall be posted, in conspicuous and appropriate places, for the information of the public; and every person and every corporation which shall violate such regulations shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof in any district court of the United States within whose territorial jurisdiction such offense may have been committed, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500, or by imprisonment (in the case of a natural person) not exceeding six months, in the discretion of the court.

THE REGULATIONS

The following rules and regulations are prescribed for the use, administration, and navigation of Bayou Teche, Louisiana, between the mouth and Arnaudville, Louisiana, including Keystone Lock:

1. Waterway officer.—The use, administration, and navigation including the movement and mooring of vessels, tows, and rafts, and all floating things, shall be under the jurisdiction of the District Engineer, U. S. Engineer Department at Large, in charge of the District in which the waterway is located, whose address is:

U. S. Engineer Office, First New Orleans District, 604 Union Building, New Orleans, Louisiana.

2. Commercial statistics.—Masters of vessels passing through the lock shall furnish the lockmaster a comprehensive statement of vessels (including barges, rafts, or other vessels, or floating things in tow), passengers, freight, and tonnage, as is required by law for the compilation of commercial statistics. When such vessels navigating the waterway do not pass through the lock, such statement shall be mailed to the District Engineer. Such statements shall contain the following information:

Name of vessel.
Name and address of owner or operator.
Whether steam or motor vessel.
Net registered tonnage.
Draft at time of passing through lock or waterway.
Number of passengers aboard.
List of commodities being transported, together with quantities of each, expressed in short tons, or other units by which such commodities are customarily measured.
Point of origin, destination, and other information required by the District Engineer.

3. Pilot rules, lights and signals.—(a) Boats desiring lockage shall give notice to locktender at not more than one-quarter of a mile from lock by three short blasts of the whistle or horn, not exceeding 10 seconds; the acknowledging signal from lock for boats or other craft shall be three short blasts of the whistle or horn. The signal to enter lock will be one short blast and the signal for leaving lock will be one long blast of the whistle or horn. A fire or distress call is five blasts of the whistle or horn.

(b) All vessels navigating the waterway shall be governed by Pilot Rules for Western Rivers prescribed by U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, and "Rules and Regulations Governing Display of Signals on and the Operation of All Craft and Accessories Working on Wrecks, Engaged in Dredging, Surveying, or Other Work of Improvement, and the Use and Navigation of the Waters in the Vicinity, in the Great Lakes and Their Connecting Tributary Waters as Far East as Montreal, the Red River of the North, and the Rivers whose Waters Flow into the Gulf of Mexico, and Their Tributaries," prescribed by the War Department, or any rules and regulations amendatory thereto, or superseding any of the above rules and regulations which may be subsequently adopted.

(c) The signals for boats desiring to pass bridges shall be those prescribed in general regulations—"Rules and Regulations to Govern the Operation of the Drawbridges Crossing All Navigable Waterways of the United States Discharging their Waters into the Atlantic Ocean South of and Including Chesapeake Bay, and the Gulf of Mexico, Excepting the Mississippi River and its Tributaries"—approved by the Acting Secretary of War, on October 11, 1929, as amended September 26, 1934, and January 8, 1935.

4. Right of way.—Rafts and tows must give proper passageway to single vessels and be managed in such manner as not to obstruct or interfere with the passing of boats. Vessels of light draft shall give way to vessels of deeper draft.

5. Precedence of locks.—Ordinarily, boats, or tows, arriving at the lock shall take precedence in order of their arrival, but in all cases boats and barges belonging to the United States or employed upon public work shall have precedence over all others; passenger boats shall have precedence over freight boats, individual boats over tows, and vessels over rafts. Small craft will not be granted separate lockage when larger boats are awaiting lockage, and they will be required to lock through with other boats. Rafts shall have one lockage in their turn, except where there are two or more rafts together at the lock, in which case no part of a raft shall pass the lock until the whole of the raft or rafts preceding it shall have passed. In all cases the order of actual entry shall be determined by the lockkeeper.

6. Size of vessels, tows and rafts.—The minimum horizontal clearance of bridges crossing the section of the waterway between the mouth and New Iberia, Louisiana, is 59 feet; between New Iberia, Louisiana, and Keystone Lock it is 63 feet; between Keystone Lock and Arnaudville, Louisiana, it is 40 feet; above Arnaudville, Louisiana, all bridges are fixed. Keystone Lock chamber is 160 feet long and 36 feet wide, with 8-foot depth over the miter sill when the tide is mean Gulf level. All vessels, tows, rafts, or other craft attempting to use the lock must have such clearance inside these limits as to permit of free and safe operation during lockage. Rafts of larger dimensions than indicated above shall not attempt to enter the lock, and if it is necessary to reduce the size of a raft in order to pass it through a lock, such operations shall not be permitted to block the entrance to the lock or the approaches thereto. All tows shall be adequately powered, properly assembled, and equipped with the necessary devices and competent, experienced crews to insure safe handling. The length of tows will be varied in accordance with the power of the towing vessel, but in no case will exceed 750 feet including the towing vessel. Vessels will be considered sufficiently powered when they can maintain adequate steerageway which will permit ready maneuverability and safe handling under normal conditions in all weather, and will insure not only the safety of such vessels and tows, but that of all other vessels and tows navigating the waterway and of the property of others located in the waterway. The District Engineer is authorized to require a reduction in the length of any tow or tows or to require the installation of suitable devices or attendant plant when necessary to insure such safety upon finding that the power requirement is not adhered to.

No vessel, tow, raft or other craft, exceeding 40 feet in width, will be allowed in narrow sections of the waterway between the mouth and Keystone Lock, and 30 feet in width in such sections above Keystone Lock, except by special permission of the District Engineer. The length of rafts is subject to approval by the District Engineer.

7. Entrance to lock.—No boat or floating craft shall enter the lock from either direction without permission. No vessel, tow, or raft having chains or lines either hanging over the sides or ends dragging on the bottom for steering or for other purposes will be permitted to enter or pass through a lock.

8. Draft.—The project dimension of the waterway between the mouth and New Iberia, Louisiana, is 8 feet over a bottom width of 80 feet; between New Iberia, Louisiana, and Keystone Lock it is 6 feet over a bottom width of 60 feet; and between Keystone Lock to Arnaudville, Louisiana, head of project, it is 6 feet over a bottom width of 50 feet. The plane of reference is mean Gulf level.

No boat, barge, or vessel of any kind shall be allowed to enter the lock drawing more water than is shown by the gages to exist over the miter sills; and any boat making such attempt shall not delay other boats by lightering cargo; but if directed by the lockkeeper, shall withdraw so as to leave the entrance unobstructed.

9. Loss of turn.—Boats that fail to enter the lock with reasonable promptness, after being authorized to do so, shall lose their turn.

10. Protection of lock gates.—No boats will be permitted to enter or leave the lock until the lock gates are fully in the gate recesses and the lockkeeper has ordered the boat to start.

11. Mooring in lock.—Vessels when in the lock shall be securely moored by bow and spring lines to the snubbing posts provided for that purpose, and the lines shall not be let go until signal is given for the vessel to leave.

12. Handling gates.—No one not employed by the United States for the purpose will be allowed to operate the lock.

13. Projections from vessels.—No vessel carrying a deck load which overhangs or projects over the side of the said vessel will be permitted to enter or pass through any of the narrow parts of the waterway.

The sides of all craft attempting to enter the lock must be free from projections of any kind that might injure the walls, gates, or other parts of the lock. All vessels entering the lock must be provided with and must use suitable fenders.

14. Handling of vessels, tows and rafts.—Vessels, tows and rafts must be suitably arranged or grouped for passage through the lock before entering. While thus engaged in preparing for passage they must leave room for boats to enter or leave the lock. They shall be navigated in such manner to insure that no damage is done to such vessels, tows, or rafts, or to vessels, tows, and rafts, or property of others.

All vessels engaged in towing barges or other craft not equipped with a rudder, whether light or ladened, shall use two tow lines or one tow line with bridle or double towing end, and one tow line or one of the bridle ends of the tow line shall be fastened to each of the outside forward corners of the leading barge, or barges, or section of raft.

Tow lines shall be shortened to the greatest extent possible to insure full control of tows and thereby to avoid accidents while meeting or otherwise passing other vessels, tows, or rafts, or while passing through the navigation opening of bridges. On approaching a drawbridge or other bridge, vessels and tows, regardless of size, shall line up for the full length, approximately along a line parallel to the axis of the channel. No vessel or tow shall attempt to pass through the navigation opening of such bridge unless it is in such position that it is evident that, except from some unavoidable reason, entrance into or passage through or exit from the navigation opening of the bridge can be accomplished without damage to the bridge or its fenders.

All vessels, rafts, and tows shall be navigated with care so as to avoid striking, disturbing or damaging lighted or unlighted channel buoys, channel markers or other structures erected as aids to navigation, waterway or other revetment, and lock piers.

Masters of towing vessels or other persons in charge of vessels, rafts, and tows shall keep careful watch when passing the above enumerated things and should any of them be struck, disturbed or damaged, they shall report the fact to the nearest Government lockkeeper and by mail to the District Engineer.

If required by the District Engineer, tows consisting of more than one barge besides the towing vessel shall be equipped with and shall use an approved steering device while navigating the waterway. The steering device may consist of rudders or skags for the individual barges, of a machine that utilizes the trailing barge, or barges as a rudder, a drag or any other device or extraneous means which may be employed without obstructing navigation, that will effectively steer the tow. Single vessels, exclusive of barges or rafts which are equipped with rudders, may be towed on a single line if this can be done without damage to the towing and/or the towed craft or vessels, and to vessels or property of others. Dropping anchor or dragging lines, anchor or chains across areas occupied by submarine cable or pipe crossing, or cables for ferries, is prohibited. Such crossings will be marked by signboards placed on each bank of the waterway.

15. Fairway.—In narrow sections of the waterway between the mouth and New Iberia, Louisiana, a fairway of 90 feet surface width shall be maintained; between New Iberia, Louisiana, and Keystone Lock, this fairway shall be 70 feet; between Keystone Lock and Arnaudville, Louisiana, head of improvement, the fairway to be maintained is 60 feet.

16. Stopping in waterway.—Whenever it becomes necessary for a boat, barge, raft, or other floating craft to stop in narrow parts of the waterway, it shall be securely fastened to one bank and as close to the bank as possible; this shall be done only at such a place and under such conditions as will not obstruct or prevent the passage of other vessels or craft.

When thus tied up, all boats or barges must be moored by not less than two lines each and rafts and tows at such close intervals as may be necessary to insure their not being drawn away from the bank by winds, currents, or the suction of passing vessels. All tow lines shall be drawn up short so that the different vessels shall be as close together as possible. No boat or sections of a tow or raft shall be thus tied up abreast of another.

Such stoppages shall be only for such period as may be necessary, and no vessel or craft will be allowed to use any portion of the fairway as a mooring place without permission from the District Engineer.

Masters and pilots in charge of vessels or tows will be held to a strict accountability that the approaches to the lock are not at any time obstructed by barges or rafts awaiting lockage or that have passed through the lock.

In the wider parts of the waterway, vessels may anchor only when necessary and then only in such places and in such manner as will cause no obstruction of the fairway.

The building and assembling of rafts in the waterway will be permitted only upon special authority obtained from the District Engineer and under such conditions as he may prescribe.

17. Speed.—Excessive speeding and racing is prohibited. Upon approaching and passing through a drawbridge, or other bridge, a vessel, regardless of size, shall decrease its speed if that be necessary to insure that no damage will be done to the bridge or its fenders. A vessel, upon approaching another vessel in motion, or tied up, to a wharf or other structure, shall reduce its speed sufficiently to avoid collision or excessive wave or suction damage.

18. Rafts.—Rafts will be permitted to navigate the waterway only if properly and securely assembled. The passage of "bag," "sack," or "dog" rafts, or loose logs or timber, into and through any portion of the waterway is prohibited. All logs shall be so placed that their length will be in the direction of towing and all the logs in a small section of a raft shall be approximately of the same length. Each section of a raft shall be secured within itself and to adjacent sections by chains or wire rope.

All dogs, chains, and other means used in assembling rafts shall be in good condition and shall be of ample size and strength to accomplish their purposes.

Should it at any time be noted that any staple, dog, chain, or lifting pole has become loosened, it shall be the duty of the master of the towboat, or other person in charge of the raft, to stop the towboat as soon as practicable and to repair the damage; and in order that any loosening of the raft may be quickly ascertained, the master of the towboat, or other person in charge of the raft, shall thoroughly inspect it, or cause it to be inspected at frequent intervals. Under no circumstances shall a log or logs, or timber, be cut out of a raft, or be allowed to float away from the raft or sink in the waterway.

All rafts shall carry sufficient men to enable them to be managed properly and to keep them from being an obstruction to other craft navigating the waterway.

No section or a raft will be permitted to be towed through the waterway, or any portion thereof, unless the logs in the section float sufficiently high in the water to make it evident that the section will not sink en route.

Should any log, or piece of timber, be accidentally lost from a section or any section be accidentally lost from a raft, the location shall be permanently marked and the fact must be promptly reported to the District Engineer by the master of the towboat, or other person in charge, who shall state as definitely as possible the exact point at which the loss occurred and such log or logs, or piece or pieces of timber, shall be removed promptly by the owner thereof.

19. Bridges.—All movable span bridges shall be subject to general regulations—"Rules and Regulations to Govern the Operation of the Drawbridges crossing all Navigable Waterways of the United States Discharging Their Waters into the Atlantic Ocean South of and Including Chesapeake Bay, and the Gulf of Mexico, Excepting the Mississippi River and Its Tributaries"—approved by the Secretary of War, October 11, 1929, as amended September 26, 1934, and January 8, 1935.

20. Refuse in waterway.—No ashes, cinders, slag, refuse, oil, obstructive matter of any kind, or pollutive things, shall be dumped, cast out, or unloaded in the waterway, and passing of coal from flats or barges to steamers while in the lock is prohibited. The introduction or discharge or water hyacinths into the waterway is prohibited.

21. Structures.—All structures in, or dredging in or into the banks of the waterway, or other work in the waterway must be authorized by permits issued by the War Department prior to the date on which construction is begun. For information as to the regulations governing these permits, apply to the District Engineer, whose office location is stated in paragraph 1 of these regulations.

22. United States property.—The United States owns a strip of land of varying width along the banks of the waterway at Keystone Lock. The whole of this land is held for the purposes of navigation, sites for Government structures, and for the accommodation and use of employees of the United States.

23. Trespass on United States property.—Trespass on United States property or injury to the banks, locks, fences, trees, houses, shops, bench marks, monuments, or any other property of the United States, pertaining to the waterway, is strictly forbidden. No business, trading, or landing of freight or baggage will be allowed on or over bridges, or lock walls.

24. These rules and regulations shall supersede and stand in lieu of the following:

That portion of "Regulations to govern navigation and the floating of logs and rafts of logs on the Atchafalaya River, La., from its mouth in the Gulf of Mexico to entrance to Six-Mile Lake and on Bayou Boeuf from Morgan City to its junction with Bayou Black and Lake Palourde, Flat Lake, Bayou Long, Bayou Chene, Bayou Teche to Jeancrette, Berwick Bay, Lake Palourde, Wax Bayou and Bayou Shaffer," approved by the Secretary of War, September 24, 1915, applicable to this waterway.

"Regulations governing operations of Keystone Lock, Bayou Teche, La.," approved by the Secretary of War, September 25, 1915.

"Regulations to govern navigation and the floating of logs and rafts of logs on Bayou Teche from Jeanerette, La., to Arnaudville, La.," approved by the Secretary of War, November 6, 1919.

25. These regulations shall take effect and be in force on and after the date of approval hereof.

Approved, October 4, 1937.

Secretary of War.

October 12, 1937

1937 COTTON PRICE ADJUSTMENT PAYMENT PLAN ANNOUNCEMENT

COTTON PRICE ADJUSTMENT PAYMENT BULLETIN 100, AMENDMENT 1

Time Limit for Filing Cotton Sale Certificates and Sale Receipts

Cotton Price Adjustment Payment Bulletin 100 is hereby amended by striking out the paragraph which reads "All cotton producers will be required to obtain sales receipts for sales and mail them to, or file them personally with, the secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Association. For sales made up to and including September 15, 1937, sales receipts must be filed not later than September 30, 1937. Cotton sale certificates or sales receipts for cotton sold after September 15, 1937, must be filed not later than 15 days after the date of sale", and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Cotton producers desiring to become eligible to receive cotton price adjustment payments will be required to obtain sale receipts or sale certificates showing sales of their cotton and mail them to, or file them personally with, the secretary of the County Agricultural Conservation Association in chronological order. For sales made up to and including October 15, 1937, cotton sale certificates or sale receipts must be filed not later than October 30, 1937. For sales made subsequent to October 15, 1937, cotton sale certificates or sale receipts must be filed not later than 15 days after the date of sale. In cases where cotton is sold before it is ginned, as, for example, a so-called forward sales contract, in order that the cotton may be identified by the gin bale number and the gin weight of the bale the producer who sold the cotton will be allowed 15 days after the date the cotton is ginned within which to file the cotton sale certificate or sale receipt covering such cotton.

Bureau of Internal Revenue.

[T. D. 4767]

TRANSFER OF OR SUCCESSION TO SPECIAL TAX STAMPS ISSUED UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE LAWS PERTAINING TO ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS

SEPTEMBER 23, 1937.

To Collectors of Internal Revenue, District Supervisors, and Others Concerned:

1. Pursuant to Sections 1411, 1691 and 1821, Title 26, U. S. C., 1934 Ed., the following regulations are prescribed:

CHANGE OF LOCATION

2. A special taxpayer may, during the taxable period for which special tax was paid, remove his business to a place other than that specified in his original return on Form 11, "Special Tax Return," and stated on his special tax stamp, without incurring additional special tax liability, provided the change is registered with the Collector of Internal Revenue from whom the special tax stamp was purchased, within thirty days after such removal occurs, by executing a new return on Form 11, designated as "Amended Return," setting forth the time when and the place to which such removal was made, and surrender of the special tax stamp.

3. When a special taxpayer removes his business to another address within the same collection district, the Collector of Internal Revenue will enter on his Record 10 the new address and the date of removal, and will note the change on the face of the special tax stamp, stating clearly thereon the new location where said business is to be carried on, and will return the special tax stamp to the taxpayer.

4. When a taxpayer removes his business to a location within a collection district other than that in which the special tax stamp was issued, the Collector of Internal Revenue who issued the special tax stamp will enter on his Record 10 the new address and date of removal, stating clearly the new location where said business is to be carried on, and will transmit the stamp to the Collector of Internal Revenue in charge of the district to which the taxpayer removed. The Collector of that district will make entry on his Record 10, as in the case of a new registrant, and note the taxpayer's new address and the Collector's name, title and district, and the date on the special tax stamp, which will be returned to the taxpayer.

CHANGE OF CONTROL

5. Certain persons other than the special taxpayer may, without incurring additional special tax liability, carry on the same business at the same address and for the remainder of the taxable period for which the special tax was paid. To secure such right, the person or persons continuing the business must file with the Collector of Internal Revenue from whom the special tax stamp was purchased, within thirty days after the time of succession, a return on Form 11, "Special Tax Return," showing the basis of the succession.

6. Under the conditions indicated above, the persons having such right of succession are as follows:

(a) Death—The widow, child, or other legal representatives of the taxpayer.

(b) Husband and Wife—A husband or wife succeeding to the business of his or her spouse (living).

(c) Insolvency—A receiver or trustee in bankruptcy, or an assignee for benefit of creditors.

(d) Withdrawal from Firm—The partner or partners remaining after death or withdrawal of a member.

ADDITIONAL SPECIAL TAX LIABILITY

7. A special taxpayer who relocates his business, or a person referred to in paragraph 4, so succeeding to a business for which special tax has been paid, and who fails to register such removal or succession with the Collector of Internal Revenue, within thirty days from the date of such removal or succession, will become liable to additional special tax computed from the first day of the calendar month in which such removal or succession occurred, as provided by Section 1403, Title 26, U. S. C., 1934 Ed., Sup. II.

REASONABLE CAUSE

8. The ad valorem penalty provided by Section 1525, Title 26, U. S. C., 1934 Ed., Sup. II, may be waived in such instances where the taxpayer removing his place of business or a person succeeding to a special tax stamp shows reasonable cause in accordance with existing regulations.

CERTIFICATES ON FORM 785 IN LIEU OF LOST OR DESTROYED STAMPS

9. These regulations shall apply to certificates on Form 785 issued in lieu of special tax stamps lost or destroyed.

PRIOR REGULATIONS

10. All regulations inconsistent herewith are revoked to the extent of their inconsistencies.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
September 29, 1937.

The Honorable, The SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

DEAR MR. SECRETARY: Reference is made to letters from the Acting Secretary of the Interior, under dates of July 24 and August 20, transmitting for concurrence by this Department two recommendations by the Commissioner of Reclamation for the withdrawal under the provisions of the Act of June 17, 1902 (32 Stat. 388), in connection with the Colorado-Big Thompson Reclamation Project, of approximately 100,000 acres of land within the Arapaho National Forest, Colorado. By letter of September 2, this Department replied that the Forest Service was being asked for a report on the matter, following the receipt of which a further reply to your communications would be made.

The lands proposed for withdrawal are reported to be, in the main, rough and mountainous, so that apparently little or none of the area actually will be occupied by reclamation works or have a direct relationship to such works. They support approximately 300,000,000 board feet of timber of commercial character; part of the area has been selected for use as an experimental forest within which the research agencies of the Forest Service plan to conduct an extensive program of forest research.

In so far as lands are found to be needed in connection with important reclamation projects there will of course be no question as to the concurrence of this Department. But in this case the Department has no definite knowledge as to the needs of the Reclamation Service for these lands; the available data indicating that none of the withdrawn lands actually will be used for reclamation purposes. On the other hand, as the applicable laws are understood, and as they thus far have been construed, the withdrawal of such lands as are not needed for reclamation projects will in no way hamper their protection, use and administration by the Forest Service as national-forest lands. In such circumstances this Department is without adequate bases either for concurrence in or objection to the proposed withdrawals. The Regional Forester at Denver reports that the proposed withdrawals, as he understands them, will not interfere with national-forest administration and that he, therefore, has no objection to make at this time.

The two orders of withdrawal, in duplicate, transmitted with your letters of July 24 and August 20, are returned herewith.

Very sincerely yours,

H. A. WALLACE, Secretary.

60.0 PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act requiring the Secretary of Commerce to provide regulations for the rating of aircraft, airmen, air navigation facilities, air carriers and flying schools, and for the navigation, protection and identification of aircraft, and for prohibiting the operation or navigation in violation thereof, the following air traffic rules, relating thereto are hereby prescribed.

60.1. DEFINITIONS

60.100. Flight Plan: A flight plan means a plan of flight which shall contain the following information:

(a) The aircraft identification mark, or the name of the governmental service in which the aircraft is employed, if so employed, or the name of the airline operator and the trip number, if engaged in scheduled airline service.

(b) The type of aircraft involved and the number of aircraft making the flight, if the aircraft are in formation.

(c) The name of the pilot, or of the flight commander if the aircraft are in formation.

(d) The point of departure of the particular flight for which such plan is being filed.

(e) The point of first intended landing.

(f) The proposed cruising altitude or altitudes.

(g) The proposed cruising airspeed.

(h) The radio equipment carried in the aircraft. (If no radio—NORAD; if radio receiver only—RONLY; if two-way radio, statement of transmitter frequency.)

(i) The proposed time of departure. (The actual time of departure shall be considered as the time when the aircraft leaves the ground and this time shall be forwarded to the point of first intended landing immediately after departure.)

(j) The estimated elapsed time until arrival on the ground at the point of first intended landing. (For scheduled operation, the first stop to be made, together with additional stops if requested by an Airway Traffic Control Station.)

(k) The alternate airport, if the flight is to involve instrument flight.

(l) Any other pertinent information which the pilot deems useful for control purposes, or which may be requested by Airway Traffic Control.

60.101. Approved Flight Plan: An approved flight plan is a plan of flight, containing at least the information required by CAR 60.100, which has been submitted to, and approved by, any one of the following as available, but in the order indicated:

(a) The Airway Traffic Control Station of the Bureau into the controlled area of which the flight will first enter before reaching the point of first intended landing, or

(b) the Airway Communications Station of the Bureau at the point of first intended landing, or

(c) the Airport Manager, or his designated representative, at the point of first intended landing.

60.102. Controlled Airport: A controlled airport is an airport on which, or adjacent to which, is a radio directional aid to air navigation designed to direct aircraft to that airport by the aid of instruments, and which has been so designated by the Secretary for the safety of instrument flight operations in interstate or foreign air commerce; or any military or Federal landing area above which, or in connection with which, contact flight operations have been restricted to promote the safety of instrument flight operations. (See Appendices for list of Controlled Airports.)

60.103. Controlled Zone: A controlled zone is the airspace above an area within a circle with a radius of 3 miles drawn from the center of a controlled airport: Provided, however, If the radio directional aid station for such airport is more than 3 miles from the center thereof, then the controlled zone area is extended to include an area for one-half mile on each side of a line projected from the center of such airport to such radio station.

60.105. Center of Controlled Zone of Intersection: The center of a controlled zone of intersection is:

(a) The cone of silence of a radio range station located at an intersection of airways, or

(b) the center of the intersection of the "on course" radio range signals projected down intersecting airways, or

(c) the center of an "on course" signal projected down an airway, at a point designated by the Secretary.

60.106. Green Zone of Intersection: A green zone of intersection is a zone of intersection on a green airway in which through traffic on a green airway continues through such zone at a constant altitude, and in which zone traffic on the intersected amber or red airway shall proceed as outlined in CAR 60.58310, and 60.58320.

60.107. Amber Zone of Intersection: An amber zone of intersection is a zone of intersection on an amber airway in which through traffic on an amber airway continues through such zone at a constant altitude and in which zone traffic on the intersected red airway proceeds as outlined in CAR 60.58321.

60.108. Red Zone of Intersection: A red zone of intersection is a zone of intersection on a red airway in which traffic on a red airway continues through such zone at a constant altitude and traffic on a secondary red airway proceeds as outlined in CAR 60.58322.

60.109. Zone of Intersection Priority: That part of an amber or red zone of intersection which may overlap and lie within a green zone of intersection shall be considered as the green zone of intersection, and that part of a red zone of intersection which may overlap or lie within an amber zone of intersection shall be considered as the amber zone of intersection.

60.110. Alternate Airport: An alternate airport is an airport, other than the point of first intended landing, to which a flight may be directed in case of emergency.

60.111. Contact Flight: Contact flight is flight of aircraft in which the attitude of the aircraft and its flight path can at all times be controlled by means of visual reference to the ground.

60.112. Instrument Flight: Instrument flight is flight of aircraft in which the visual reference in CAR 60.111 is not continuously available and the attitude of the aircraft and its flight path can only be controlled in part or in whole by reference to instruments.

60.113. Over-The-Top-Flight: Over-the-top-flight is flight of aircraft made above an overcast, usually a cloud formation.

60.114. Public Aircraft: A public aircraft is an aircraft used exclusively in the governmental service.

60.115. Weather Minimums: Weather minimums are ceiling, visibility and other minimums provided for specified types of flight operation, and below which flight operation is not permitted, unless specifically authorized elsewhere in these regulations or by the Secretary.

NOTE.—Each local weather reporting station will report existing weather conditions by means of the following symbols and classifications:

Class C—Weather equal to or better than the minimum specified for the particular airport for flight in accordance with contact flight rules. (Satisfactory for contact flight.)

Class I—Weather less than the minimums specified for the particular airport for contact flight (Class C above) and down to the minimums prescribed for the particular airport for suspension of flight operations. (Requiring observance of instrument flight rules.)

Class X—Weather below the minimums specified for the particular airport, wherein any landing or take-off, other than a flight of public aircraft or scheduled airline aircraft, if otherwise authorized, is suspended. (Take-off and landing suspended.)

60.116. Daylight, Hours of: (Day Flight, Daylight Hours, Day). The hours of daylight as used in these rules mean those hours between sunrise and sunset, as determined by the official U. S. Weather Bureau records for the locality concerned.

60.117. Darkness, Hours of: (Night Flight, Hours of Darkness, Night). The hours of darkness as used in these rules mean those hours between sunset and sunrise, as determined by the official U. S. Weather Bureau records for the locality concerned.

60.118. Acrobatics (Acrobatic Flight): Acrobatics as used in these rules means any maneuver of an aircraft not necessary to the orderly progress of its flight.

60.119. Ceiling: Ceiling as used in these rules means the distance from the cloud base to the ground at the point of observation, as determined by official Weather Bureau reports.

60.120. Military Aircraft: Military aircraft as used in these rules means aircraft operated in the service of the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard.

60.2. CERTIFICATE AND MARK RULES

60.20. Pilot Certificate: No person shall pilot a civil aircraft on, along, or across a designated civil airway, or elsewhere in interstate or foreign air commerce

(a) unless possessed of a valid pilot certificate of competency, or

(b) unless possessed, if an alien, of such certificate or a similar pilot certificate issued or validated according to the provisions of CAR 65, nor

(c) in violation of any term, specification or limitation of such certificate.

60.21. Aircraft Certificate: No flight of civil aircraft, other than of a foreign aircraft, shall be made or authorized to be made

(a) on, along, or across a designated civil airway whatever the purpose or nature of the flight may be, unless such aircraft is possessed of valid aircraft registration and airworthiness (or experimental) certificates, nor

(b) elsewhere in the navigable airspace over the lands and waters of the United States if engaged in interstate or foreign air commerce, unless such aircraft is possessed of such valid aircraft certificates, nor

(c) in violation of any term, specification or limitation of such certificates.

60.210. No foreign aircraft shall engage in interstate or intrastate commerce; nor shall it be otherwise navigated in the United States except in compliance with these air traffic rules and the provisions of CAR 65.

60.22. Identification Mark: No flight of aircraft shall be made or authorized to be made in the navigable airspace over the lands or the waters of the United States unless such aircraft is possessed of and displays a valid identification mark asisgned or approved therefor by the Secretary.

60.3. FLIGHT RULES (GENERAL)

60.30. Method of Taking-Off and Landing: The following rules shall govern the method of aircraft taking off and landing:

60.300 (a). Aircraft, when taking off or landing, shall observe the local field traffic rules issued for the protection of interstate and foreign air commerce, as approved by the Secretary.

60.301 (b). A take-off shall not be commenced until there is no risk of collision with other aircraft.

60.302 (c). If necessary to circle any airport or other landing area all circles shall be made to the left, unless otherwise specified by the Secretary, or unless the pilot receives other instructions from the airport traffic control tower. All aircraft flying within 3 miles horizontally of the center of such airport or landing area shall conform to this circuit rule unless flying at a height in excess of 2000 feet. (Air traffic in the vicinity of a controlled airport shall take precedence over other air traffic in the controlled zone when required in the interests of safety and will be governed by special traffic rules approved by the Secretary.)

60.303. Aircraft approaching for a landing shall maintain a straight glide path for the last 1000 feet before crossing the airport boundary.

60.31. Right of Way: The following rules will govern aircraft right of way:

60.310. Order—Aircraft in flight shall have right of way in the following order: (1) Balloons, fixed or free (an airship not under control is classed as a free balloon), (2) gliders, (3) airships and (4) airplanes (including rotorplanes).

60.311. Crossing—When two aircraft are on crossing courses at approximately the same altitude, the aircraft which has the other on its left shall have right of way, and the other aircraft shall give way.

60.312. Approaching—When two aircraft are approaching head-on, or approximately so, and there is danger of collision, each shall alter its course to the right so that they will pass each other at a distance of at least 300 feet.

60.313. Overtaking—An overtaken aircraft shall have right of way and the overtaking aircraft shall keep clear of the overtaken aircraft by altering its own course to the right.

60.314. Landing—A landing aircraft shall have right of way over aircraft moving on the ground or taking off.

60.315. Distress Landing—An aircraft in distress shall have right of way in attempting to land.

60.32. Duty to Give Way: When landing or maneuvering in preparation to land, it shall be the duty of the aircraft at the greater altitude to avoid the aircraft at the lower altitude.

60.33. Air Meet Landing: In approaching a landing area where there is a congestion of aircraft or an assembly of persons or automobiles in the vicinity of aircraft, pilots shall proceed with caution and ascertain before landing, or before flying at low altitude over the landing area, whether or not an air meet or airport demonstration is in progress. (See CAR 60.8911.)

60.34. Airspace Reservations: No flight of aircraft shall be made at any altitude whatsoever over any airspace reservation set apart by order of the President of the United States, any authorized Federal agency, or by any of the several States, pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act, as amended, or other applicable law; provided, however, that such restriction of flight shall not apply to public aircraft previously authorized by the appropriate governmental agency to make such flights.

NOTE.—See appendices to this chapter for a list of Federal airspace reservations.

60.35. Minimum Safe Altitudes: Exclusive of taking off from or landing upon an airport or other landing area, aircraft shall not be flown below the following minimum safe altitudes of flight:

60.350 (a). An altitude over the congested parts of cities, towns, or settlements, sufficient to permit at all times an emergency landing outside of such areas in the event of complete power failure, but in no case less than 1,000 feet above the ground.

60.351 (b). An altitude over certified high explosive danger areas, other than airspace reservations, sufficient to permit at all times an emergency landing outside of such certified danger area in the event of complete power failure, but in no case less than 1,000 feet above the ground.

60.352 (c). 1,000 feet above the ground over any Federal or State penal institution, or any open air assembly of persons.

60.353 (d). 500 feet above the surface elsewhere than as specified in CAR 60.350, 60.351, and 60.352, or within 500 feet from any mountain, hill or other obstruction to flight, except as may be specifically approved by the Secretary.

60.36. Right Side Traffic: Aircraft making a contact flight along a civil airway in accordance with the provisions of CAR 60.4, shall keep to the right side of the center line of the airway, well to the right of traffic moving in the opposite direction. Aircraft making an instrument flight and flying along and parallel to a civil airway in accordance with the provisions of CAR 60.5, shall keep to the right side of any radio range course projected down the airway, provided, that inbound aircraft may fly along the on-course signal if navigating at an altitude of less than 10,000 feet above sea level, or if maintaining level flight at an altitude of 10,000 feet or more above sea level prescribed for such flight, and provided, that outbound aircraft may fly along the on-course signal if maintaining level flight at an altitude of 10,000 feet or more above sea level prescribed for such flight from the time of passing over the cone of silence of the particular radio range concerned.

60.37. Proximity in Flight: No aircraft, other than military aircraft of the United States engaged in military maneuvers or aircraft of a certificated flying school engaged in formation flying, shall fly closer than 300 feet to any other aircraft in flight.

60.4. FLIGHT RULES (CONTACT): The following rules will govern contact flight on, along, or across a designated civil airway, or elsewhere in interstate or foreign air commerce.

NOTE.—The rules prescribed under CAR 60.4 will apply to scheduled airline operations unless otherwise specifically indicated.

60.40. Pilot: No instrument rating required. (See CAR 40 and 61 for provisions applicable to scheduled airlines.)

60.41. Equipment: Aircraft shall be certificated as to equipment as provided for in CAR 04.510, 04.511, 04.512 and/or 04.515, depending upon whether the flight is visual-contact day within 100 miles of a fixed base, visual-contact day unlimited distance or visual-contact night for landplanes, or either of the same for seaplanes or amphibians. (See CAR 04.530 and 04.531 for provisions applicable to scheduled airlines.)

60.42. Fuel Requirements: No aircraft shall take off without sufficient fuel and oil, taking into account wind and other weather conditions to be encountered during the course of the flight, to arrive at its point of first intended landing and effect a safe landing thereat. (See CAR 61.7020 for provisions applicable to scheduled airlines.)

60.43. Flight Plan: A flight plan, as defined in CAR 60.100, is recommended, but no filing or approval of the same will be required. It may be filed with any of the various agencies designated for the filing of an approved flight plan in CAR 60.101.

60.430. Notification of Arrival—When the pilot of an aircraft has requested that the destination point of a flight be notified of his departure, such pilot of the aircraft shall, immediately upon landing or upon completion of his flight to that point, file an arrival message for transmission to the point of departure.

60.440. Within Controlled Zones (Day)—No flight of aircraft shall be made during daylight within a controlled zone unless the ceiling within such zone is at least one thousand (1,000) feet and the visibility is at least three (3) miles.

60.441. Within Controlled Zones (Night)—No flight of aircraft shall be made at night within a controlled zone unless the ceiling within such zone is at least fifteen hundred (1,500) feet and the visibility is at least five (5) miles.

60.442. Within Controlled Zones (Day or Night Below Overcast)—No flight of aircraft shall be made during daylight within a controlled zone closer than three hundred (300) feet vertically to the base of an overcast or cloud formation within such zone, nor closer than five hundred (500) feet vertically if precipitation is occurring in any form. No flight of aircraft shall be made at night within a controlled zone closer than five hundred (500) feet vertically to the base of an overcast or cloud formation within such zone.

60.443. Within Controlled Zones (Day or Night Above Overcast or Through Cloud Level)—No flight of aircraft shall be made during daylight within a controlled zone closer than three hundred (300) feet vertically to the top of an overcast or cloud formation within such zone, nor closer than five hundred (500) feet vertically if precipitation is occurring in any form. No flight of aircraft shall be made at night within a controlled zone closer than five hundred (500) feet vertically to the top of an overcast or cloud formation within such zone. At no time during ascent, descent, or level flight within the cloud level shall the aircraft fly nearer than two thousand (2,000 feet horizontally to the cloud formation or overcast.

60.449. Without Controlled Zones (Day or Night Above Overcast)—Same as in CAR 60.443.

NOTE.—If local regulations for the controlled airport concerned require higher minimums for the particular operation concerned, the controlled zone for such airport shall be governed accordingly, provided such local regulations relating to weather minimums are approved by the Secretary.

60.45. Alternate Airport: No requirement.

60.46. Over-The-Top Flight: No flight of aircraft shall be made over broken clouds or stretches of solid overcast unless the altitude of the aircraft and its flight path can at all times be controlled by visual reference to the ground, and ascent and descent can be made in accordance with the provisions of CAR 60.443. (For scheduled airline operation, see CAR 40 and 61.)

60.47. Flight Enroute

60.470. Weather Changes—If weather conditions below the minimums prescribed in CAR 60.44 are anticipated or are actually encountered enroute, a landing shall be made at the nearest airport or the flight shall be altered so that it may be made in weather conditions as good as, or better than, such minimums, unless such aircraft can and does proceed according to the instrument flight rules prescribed in CAR 60.5.

60.471. Communications—No communication facilities required, but if the aircraft is possessed of two-way radio, it is recommended that the procedure provided for in CAR 60.571 be followed.

60.472. Flight Plan Changes—No notice of any change in flight plan is required, but if such plan has been submitted and the aircraft is possessed of two-way radio, it is recommended that the procedure provided for in CAR 60.573 be followed.

60.48. Flight Altitudes: Altitudes shall conform to those provided for in CAR 60.58 if the flight is made above one thousand (1,000) feet above the ground.

60.5. FLIGHT RULES (INSTRUMENT): The following rules will govern instrument flight on, along, or across a designated civil airway, or elsewhere in interstate or foreign air commerce.

NOTE.—The rules prescribed under CAR 60.5 will apply to scheduled airline operations unless otherwise specifically indicated.

60.50. Pilot: No instrument flight shall be made unless the pilot in charge holds a valid instrument rating.

60.51. Equipment: Aircraft making an instrument flight shall be properly certificated as to equipment according to the provisions of CAR 04.513, 04.514 and 04.515. (Scheduled airline aircraft shall be certificated as provided in CAR 04.532 and 04.533.)

60.52. Fuel Requirements: No aircraft making an instrument flight shall take off without fuel and oil sufficient, considering the wind and other weather conditions to be encountered during the course of the flight, at least

(a) to complete such flight to the point of the first intended landing and thereafter

(b) to fly to the alternate airport designated in the approved flight plan, and thereafter

(c) to fly, at normal cruising consumption, for a period of forty-five (45) minutes.

(For scheduled airline operations, see CAR 61.7021.)

60.53. Flight Plan: An approved flight plan in accordance with CAR 60.101 shall be required. The flight plan shall be submitted for approval only after the pilot has made a careful study of current weather reports and forecasts and believes the flight can be made with safety. Traffic control instructions issued to the pilot before departure and/or enroute are a part of the approved flight plan, and the pilot shall comply with the same in all respects.

60.530. Notification of Arrival—The pilot of an aircraft shall, immediately upon landing or upon completion of the flight, file an arrival message for transmittal to the point of departure.

60.54. Weather Minimums:—

60.540. Proximity to Overcast—Flight within the prohibited vertical or horizontal distances from an overcast or cloud formation, prescribed in CAR 60.44, shall be governed by the rules prescribed for instrument flight.

60.541. Without Controlled Zones—Flight made when ceilings or visibilities are below those specified in CAR 60.44 shall be governed by instrument flight rules.

60.542. Within Controlled Zones—Flight made within a controlled zone shall be governed by instrument flight rules, provided that ceilings or visibilities are below those specified in CAR 60.440 and 60.441. No flight, other than by a public aircraft or by a scheduled airline aircraft, shall be made from a controlled airport, or elsewhere in a controlled zone, when the ceiling is less than 500 feet or the visibility is less than 1 mile. (For scheduled airline operation, see CAR 40.290, 40.390 and 61.7109.)

60.543. Non-Controlled Airports—Flight made at an airport not designated as a controlled airport and not within any controlled zone shall be governed by instrument flight rules if weather conditions are less than those provided for in CAR 60.44 and 60.46.

60.55. Alternate Airport: No take-off of aircraft shall be made unless

(a) the approved flight plan includes an alternate airport having a landing area suitable for the equipment used, and

(b) weather reports and forecasts indicate that the weather conditions at the alternate airport will remain constant or improve until the arrival of the aircraft, and either (c) or (d) below

(c) a ceiling of at least 2,000 feet and a visibility of at least 5 miles if an overcast exists, or ceiling of at least 1,500 feet and a visibility of at least 5 miles if broken clouds exist, if the alternate airport is equipped with a radio directional aid to air navigation, or

(d) an unlimited ceiling and visibility of at least 3 miles, if the alternate airport is not equipped with a radio directional aid to air navigation.

(For scheduled airline operations, see CAR 61.23 and 61.7109.)

60.56. Over-The-Top-Flight: Over-the-top-flight shall be made in accordance with instrument flight rules whenever the attitude of the aircraft and its flight path can not be controlled at all times by visual reference to the ground.

60.571. Communications (Radio Contacts)—The pilot shall maintain a continuous listening watch on the appropriate radio frequency and shall, by radio, contact and report as soon as possible to the appropriate communications station the time and altitude of passing each radio fix and/or other predetermined check point together with the weather conditions being encountered and any other information pertinent to aircraft movement and, further, if not within the area of an Airway Traffic Control Station, shall, prior to entering a control zone of intersection, establish communication with the Airway Communications Station of the Bureau located within or adjacent to such zone of intersection, forwarding the expected time of arrival over the center of the control zone of intersection, the requested altitude through the control zone of intersection, and the course or courses proposed to be followed while within the control zone of intersection. Aircraft utilizing airline communication facilities shall relay information as required in this paragraph through airline radio frequency, airline radio operator, and interphone or telephone to the appropriate agent of the Bureau.

60.572. Communications (Radio Failure)—In the event of failure of the two-way communication system of the aircraft, one of the following procedures in the order named shall be observed:

60.5720 (a). Contact Flight—Aircraft may proceed provided that the flight may be made in accordance with contact flight rules as provided for in CAR 60.4; or in the event such contact flight is not possible.

60.5721 (b). Land—Landing shall be made at the nearest suitable airport which is not an airport at which an Airway Traffic Control Station of the Bureau is located, or

60.5722 (c). Emergency Procedure—In the event weather conditions do not permit the procedures provided for in CAR 60.5720 or 60.5721, the pilot shall proceed according to his approved flight plan, including any amending instructions issued and acknowledged enroute, with particular attention to maintaining his last acknowledged assigned altitude until the approximate approach clearance time last issued to him, after which landing may be made. Note: Normal traffic will resume as soon as the aircraft has landed or been accounted for, but, in any event, in not more than 30 minutes after the estimated first arrival time over the airport of such aircraft.)

60.573. Flight Plan Changes—No change shall be made enroute in any approved flight plan until approval has first been obtained from the Airway Traffic Control Station of the Bureau for the area in which the flight is progressing, unless an emergency situation exists which requires immediate decision and action, in which case as soon as possible after such emergency authority is exercised the pilot shall inform the proper control station of the new flight plan and obtain approval therefor. In the event no control station is in operation in the area in question, such information shall be given to the appropriate Airway Communications Station of the Bureau.

60.58. Flight Altitudes: The following flight altitudes will govern instrument flights, provided that, except during takeoff or landing no instrument flight shall be made below 1,000 feet above the ground.

60.580. Flight Altitudes on Green Airways—Unless different altitudes are assigned by Airway Traffic Control, the following rules will govern the altitude at which aircraft making flights along those civil airways which are designated as green airways shall fly:

60.5800. Eastbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of from 0° (or 360°) to, but not including, 180° along a green airway shall fly at an ODD thousand foot level above sea level (such as 3,000, 5,000 or 7,000 feet).

60.5801. Westbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of from 180° to, but not including, 360° (or 0°) along a green airway shall fly at an EVEN thousand foot level above sea level (such as 2,000, 4,000 or 6,000 feet).

60.58020 (a). Green Airway No. 1—Composed of the civil airways or parts or combinations thereof, are hereby designated as green airways:

60.58020 (b). Green Airway No. 1—Composed of the civil airways connecting Seattle, Wash., and Bar Harbor, Me., via Seattle, Butte, Billings, Fargo, Minneapolis, Lone Rock (Site 15—Chicago-Twin Cities Airway), Milwaukee, Muskegon, Lansing, Pontiac, Detroit, Buffalo, Albany, Putnam, Conn., Boston, Portland and Bar Harbor.

60.58021 (b). Green Airway No. 2—Composed of the civil airways connecting San Francisco and New York via San Francisco (Oakland), Suisun, Calif., (Site 4—San Francisco-Salt Lake Airway), Salt Lake City, Cheyenne, Omaha, Sheridan, Ill., (Site 36—Kansas City-Chicago Airway), Chicago, Lansing, Ill., Toledo, Cleveland, Bellefonte, Allentown and Newark, N. J. (New York).

60.58022 (c). Green Airway No. 3—Composed of the civil airways connecting Burbank and Philadelphia via Los Angeles (Burbank), Saugus, Calif., (Site 3–A—Los Angeles-San Francisco Airway), Daggett, Calif., (Site 10—Los Angeles-Amarillo Airway), Kingman, Winslow, Albuquerque, Amarillo, Conway, Wichita, Kansas City, Knoxville, Mo., St. Louis, Indianapolis, Dayton, Columbus, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Philadelphia (Camden).

60.58023 (d). Green Airway No. 4—Composed of the civil airways connecting Washington and Los Angeles (Glendale) via Los Angeles (Glendale), Alhambra, Fontana, Blythe, Phoenix, Tucson, Benson, Ariz., (Site 45B—Los Angeles-Phoenix Airway), Rodeo, N. M., (Site 57A—Los Angeles-Phoenix Airway), El Paso, Fort Worth-Dallas, Wills Point, Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville, Bristol, Quantico and Washington.

60.58024 (e). Green Airway No. 5—Composed of the civil airways connecting Corpus Christi and Langley Field (Norfolk, Va.) via Corpus Christi, Arcola, Tex., Houston, New Orleans, Mobile, Atlanta, Charlotte, Chester, Richmond and Norfolk, Va., (Langley Field).

60.581. Flight Altitudes on Amber Airways—Unless different altitudes are assigned by the Bureau Airway Traffic Control, the following rules will govern the altitude at which aircraft making flights along those civil airways which are designated as amber airways shall fly:

60.5810. Northbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of from 270° to, but not including, 90° along an amber airway shall fly at an ODD thousand foot level above sea level (such as 3,000, 5,000 or 7,000 feet).

60.5811. Southbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of from 90° to, but not including, 270° along an amber airway shall fly at an EVEN thousand foot level above sea level (such as 2,000, 4,000 or 6,000 feet).

60.5812. Amber Airway Designation—The following civil airways, or parts or combinations thereof, are hereby designated as Amber Airways unless otherwise specifically indicated:

60.58120. (a). Amber Airway No. 1—Composed of the civil airways connecting San Diego and Blaine, Wash. (United States-Canadian Border) via San Diego, Alhambra (Alhambra to Los Angeles via Green Airway No. 4, and Los Angeles to Saugus, Calif. (Site 3A Los Angeles-San Francisco Airway) via Green Airway No. 3), Saugus, Calif. (Site 3A Los Angeles-San Francisco Airway) Bakersfield, Fresno, San Francisco (Oakland), (San Francisco to Suisun, Calif.), (Site 4, San Francisco-Salt Lake Airway), (via Green Airway #2), Medford, Portland, Seattle and United States-Canadian Border at Blaine, Wash.

60.58122 (c). Amber Airway No. 3—Composed of the civil airways connecting El Paso and Billings via El Paso, Albuquerque, Pueblo, Cheyenne, and Billings.

60.58123 (d). Amber Airway No. 4—Composed of the civil airways connecting Brownsville, Texas, and Bismarck via Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Fairview, San Antonio, Waco, Fort Worth, Justin, Oklahoma City, Britton, Oklahoma, Tulsa, Bonner Springs, Kansas, (Bonner Springs, Kansas, to Kansas City via Green Airway No. 3), Kansas City, Omaha, Sioux Falls and Bismarck.

60.58124 (e). Amber Airway No. 5—Composed of the civil airways connecting New Orleans and Milwaukee via New Orleans, Memphis, St. Louis, Peoria, Morse, Ill., (Site 29—Kansas City-Chicago Airway), Sheridan, Ill., (Site 35—Kansas City-Chicago Airway), (Sheridan, Ill., (Site 36—Kansas City-Chicago Airway) to Chicago via Green Airway No. 2), Chicago and Milwaukee.

60.58125 (f). Amber Airway No. 6—Composed of the civil airways connecting Briceville, Florida, and Buffalo via Briceville, Florida, Jonesboro, Ga., Atlanta, Nashville, Louisville, La Grange, Ky., Cincinnati, Columbus, Hayesville, Akron, (Cleveland to Bedford, Ohio, (Site 32, Chicago-New York Airway) via Green Airway No. 2), Bedford, Ohio, (Site 32, Chicago-New York Airway) and Buffalo.

60.58126 (g). Amber Airway No. 7—Composed of the civil airways connecting Key West and Swanton, Vt., via Key West, Miami, Jacksonville, Charleston, Raleigh, Chester (Chester to Richmond via GA #5), Richmond, Quantico (Quantico to Washington via GA #4) Wash., New York, and Putnam, Conn.; thence via Green Airway No. 1 to Boston, Mass., and through Concord, New Hampshire, to Burlington, Vt., and to Swanton, Vt., (U. S.-Canadian border).

60.582. Flight Altitudes on Red Airways—Unless different altitudes are assigned by the Bureau Airway Traffic Control, the following rules will govern the altitude at which aircraft making flights along those civil airways which are designated as Red Airways shall fly:

60.5820. Eastbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of 0° (or 360°) to, but not including, 180° along a red or secondary red airway shall fly at an ODD thousand foot level above sea level (such as 3,000, 5,000, or 7,000 feet.)

60.5821. Westbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of 180° to, but not including, 360° (or 0°) along a red or secondary red airway shall fly at an EVEN thousand foot level above sea level (such as 2,000, 4,000, or 6,000 feet).

60.5822. Red Airway Designation—The following civil airways, or parts or combinations thereof, are hereby designated as Red Airways, unless otherways specifically indicated:

60.582200 (a). Red Airway No. 1—Composed of the civil airways connecting Indio and Calexico via Indio, Calif., and Calexico.

60.582201 (b). Red Airway No. 2—Composed of the civil airways connecting Portland and Salt Lake City via Portland, Ore., Pendleton, Boise, Clearfield, Utah, (Clearfield, Utah, to Salt Lake City via Amber Airway No. 2).

60.582202 (c). Red Airway No. 3—Composed of the civil airways connecting Ellensburg and Ephrata via Ellensburg, Wenatchee and Ephrata.

60.582203 (d). Red Airway No. 4—Composed of the civil airways connecting Drummond and Bozeman via Drummond (Site 44B Seattle-Helena Airway), Helena and Bozeman (Site 8 Helena-Twin Cities Airway).

60.582204 (e). Red Airway No. 5—Composed of the civil airways connecting Fargo and Pembina (United States-Canadian Border) via Fargo, Grand Forks, and Pembina (United States-Canadian Border).

60.582205 (f). Red Airway No. 6—Composed of the civil airways connecting Sioux Falls and Minneapolis via Sioux Falls and Minneapolis.

60.582206 (g) Red Airway No. 7—Composed of the civil airways connecting La Crosse and Hager City via Rochester.

60.582208 (i). Red Airway No. 9—Composed of the civil airways connecting Amarillo and Justin, Texas, via Wichita Falls.

60.582209 (j). Red Airway No. 10—Composed of the civil airways connecting Conway, Texas, and Wichita via Oklahoma City (Oklahoma City to Britton via AA #4).

60.582210 (k). Red Airway No. 11—Composed of the civil airways connecting Fairview and Arcola, Texas.

60.582211 (l) Red Airway No. 12—Composed of the civil airways connecting Galveston and Waco via Houston.

60.582212 (m). Red Airway No. 13—Composed of the civil airways connecting Tulsa and St. Charles, Mo., via Springfield.

60.582213 (n). Red Airway No. 14—Composed of the civil airways connecting Wills Point and Charleston, S. C., via Wills Point, Shreveport, Jackson, Miss., Birmingham, Union City (Site 41 New Orleans-Atlanta Airway) (Union City, Ga., (Site 41 New Orleans-Atlanta Airway) to Atlanta via Green Airway No. 5 and Atlanta to Jonesboro, Ga., via Amber Airway No. 6), Jonesboro, Ga., Augusta, Columbia and Charleston.

60.582214 (o). Red Airway No. 15—Composed of the civil airways connecting Knoxville, Mo., (Site 3 Kansas City-Chicago Airway) and Morse, Ill., (Site 29 Kansas City-Chicago Airway) via Burlington.

60.582216 (q). Red Airway No. 17—Composed of the civil airways connecting Chicago and Detroit (direct across Lake Michigan).

60.582217 (r). Red Airway No. 18—Composed of the civil airways connecting Toledo and Detroit.

60.582218 (s). Red Airway No. 19—Composed of the civil airways connecting Chicago and Louisville (Chicago to Lansing Ill., via Green Airway No. 2) Lansing, Indianapolis, La Grange, Ky., (La Grange, Ky., to Louisville via Amber Airway No. 6).

60.582219 (t). Red Airway No. 20—Composed of the civil airways connecting Indianapolis and Washington. (Indianapolis to Greenfield, Ind., via Green Airway No. 3), Greenfield, Cincinnati, Charleston and Washington.

60.582220 (u). Red Airway No. 21—Composed of the civil airways connecting Detroit and Washington. (Detroit to Belle River, Ontario, (Intersection of East leg Detroit and Northwest leg Cleveland ranges) via Green Airway No. 1, Belle River, Cleveland, (Cleveland to Akron via AA #6), Akron, Hickory, Pa., (Intersection Southeast leg Akron and West leg Pittsburgh ranges) (Hickory, Pa., to Pittsburgh via Green Airway No. 3), Pittsburgh, Montesson, Pa., (Intersection South leg Pittsburgh and West leg Buckstown ranges) and Washington.

60.582221 (v). Red Airway No. 22—Composed of the civil airways connecting Mobile and Jacksonville.

60.582223 (x). Red Airway No. 24—Composed of the civil airways connecting Miami and Titusville via Fort Meyers, St. Petersburg and Titusville.

60.582224 (y). Red Airway No. 25—Composed of the civil airways connecting Newark and Swanton, Vt., (United States-Canadian boundary) (Newark to George Washington Bridge, N. Y., via Amber Airway No. 7), White Plains, N. Y., (George Washington Bridge), Albany, Burlington and Swanton, Vt., (United States-Canadian Boundary).

60.582225 (z). Red Airway No. 26—Composed of the civil airways connecting New Haven and Norwood via Hartford, Providence, Norwood, Mass.

60.5823. The following are designated as Secondary Red Airways, unless otherwise specifically indicated:

60.58230(a). Secondary Red Airway No. 1—Composed of civil airways connecting Pendleton and Spokane via Pendleton, Pasco and Spokane.

60.58231 (b). Secondary Red Airway No. 2—Composed of civil airways connecting Chicago and Detroit, (Chicago to McCool, Ind., via Green Airway No. 2), McCool, Ind., South Bend, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Jackson, Mich., Ann Arbor (Ann Arbor to Detroit via Red Airway No. 17).

60.583. Flight Altitudes on Airway Intersections—Unless otherwise instructed by the Bureau Airway Traffic Control, the following flight procedure and altitude rules will govern aircraft making flights on the civil airways where two or more such airways intersect.

60.5830. Flight on Green Airway—An aircraft flying along a Green airway and continuing the flight through a green zone of intersection shall, while within a green zone of intersection, maintain the altitude approved for flight on the green airway being followed and, upon leaving a green zone of intersection, shall assume an approved altitude prescribed for the new airway to be followed.

60.5831. Flight on Amber Airway.

60.58310. Through Green Zone of Intersection—An aircraft flying along an amber airway and continuing flight through a green zone of intersection shall, while within a green zone of intersection, maintain an altitude 500 feet higher than the altitude approved for flight on the amber airway being followed and, upon leaving a green zone of intersection, shall assume an approved altitude prescribed for the new airway to be followed.

60.58311. Through Amber Zone of Intersection—An aircraft flying along an amber airway and continuing the flight through an amber zone of intersection shall, while within an amber zone of intersection, maintain the altitude approved for flight on the amber airway being followed and, upon leaving an amber zone of intersection, shall assume an approved altitude prescribed for the new airway to be followed.

60.5832. Flight on Red Airway

60.58320. Through Green Zone of Intersection—An aircraft flying along a red airway and continuing flight through a green zone of intersection shall, while within a green zone of intersection, maintain an altitude 500 feet higher than the altitude approved for flight on the red airway being followed and, upon leaving a green zone of intersection, shall assume an approved altitude prescribed for the new airway to be followed.

60.58321. Through Amber Zone of Intersection—An aircraft flying along a red airway and continuing flight through an amber zone of intersection shall, while within an amber zone of intersection, maintain an altitude 500 feet higher than the altitude approved for flight on the red airway being followed and, upon leaving an amber zone of intersection, shall assume an approved altitude prescribed for the new airway to be followed.

60.58322. Through Red Zone of Intersection—An aircraft flying along a red airway and continuing flight through a red zone of intersection shall, while within a red zone of intersection, maintain an altitude approved for flight on the red airway being followed and, upon leaving the red zone of intersection, shall assume an approved altitude prescribed for the new airway to be followed.

60.58323. Flight on Secondary Red Airway—An aircraft flying along a secondary red airway and continuing flight through a green, amber, or red zone of intersection shall, while within such zone of intersection, maintain an altitude 500 feet higher than the altitude approved for flight on the secondary red airway being followed and, upon leaving such zone of intersection, shall assume an approved altitude prescribed for the new airway to be followed.

60.584. Flight Altitudes on Off-Airway Flights—The following rules will govern the altitudes at which aircraft making instrument flights, when not on or along civil airways, shall fly:

60.5840. Eastbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of 0° (or 360°) to, but not including, 180° shall fly at an ODD thousand foot level plus 500 feet, above sea level (such as 3,500, 5,500, or 7,500 feet).

60.5841. Westbound Flights—Every aircraft making good a true course of 180° to, but not including 360° (or 0°) shall fly at an EVEN thousand foot level plus 500 feet, above sea level (such as 2,500, 4,500, or 6,500).

60.6. LIGHT AND SIGNAL RULES

60.60. Angular Limits: The angular limits laid down in the following rules relating to lights will be determined with the aircraft in normal flying position.

60.61. Airplane Lights: Between sunset and sunrise, all airplanes in flight shall show the following lights:

60.611 (b) At the rear, and as far aft as possible, a white light shining rearward, visible in a dihedral angle of 140 degrees bisected by a vertical plane through the line of flight and visible at least 3 miles.

60.62. Airship Lights: Between sunset and sunrise, airships shall carry and display the same lights that are prescribed for airplanes, except that the side lights shall be doubled horizontally in a fore-and-aft position and the rear light shall be doubled vertically. Lights in a pair shall be at least 7 feet apart.

60.63. Balloon Lights: Between sunset and sunrise, a free balloon shall display one white light not less than 20 feet below the car, visible for at least 2 miles. A fixed balloon, or airship, shall carry 3 lights—red, white, and red—in a vertical line, one over the other, visible at least 2 miles. The top light shall be not less than 20 feet below the car, and the lights shall be not less than 7, nor more than 10 feet apart.

60.64. Lights on Stationary Aircraft: Between sunset and sunrise, all aircraft which are on the surface of water and not under way, or which are moored or anchored in navigation lanes, shall show a white light visible for at least 2 miles in all directions. Between sunset and sunrise balloon and airship mooring cables shall show groups of 3 red lights at intervals of at least every 100 feet, measured from the basket. The first light in the first group shall be approximately 20 feet from the lower red balloon light. The object to which the balloon is moored on the ground shall have a similar group of lights to mark its position.

60.65. Signals on Stationary Aircraft: By day, balloon and airship mooring cables shall be marked with conical streamers not less than 10 inches in diameter at the mouth and 7 feet long, colored with the solid color of chrome yellow. The object to which the balloon or airship is moored on the ground shall have the same kind of streamers, which must be in the same position as the lights specified herein.

60.66. Distress Signals: The following signals, separately or together shall, where practicable, be used in case of distress:

60.660 (a). The international signal, S O S by radio—In radiotelephony, the spoken expression MAYDAY (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the expression "m'aider"). When, owing to the rapidity of the maneuvers to be accomplished, an aircraft is unable to transmit the intended messages, the signal P A N not followed by a message retains this meaning.

60.661 (b). The international code flag signal of Distress, NC.

60.662 (c). A square flag having either above or below it a ball, or anything resembling a ball.

60.67. Forced Landing Signals: When an aircraft is forced to land at night at an airport, it shall signal its forced landing by making a series of short flashes with its navigation lights, if practicable to do so.

60.68. Fog Signals: In fog, mist, or heavy weather, an aircraft on the water in navigation lanes shall signal its presence by a sound device emitting a signal for about 5 seconds at one-minute intervals.

60.7. ACROBATIC FLIGHT RULES

60.70. Prohibited Zones: No person shall acrobatically fly an aircraft

60.700 (a). at any height whatsoever over a congested area of any city, town, or settlement, or over any open air assembly of persons, or over any airport or landing area or within 1,000 feet horizontally thereof, or over any controlled zone or over any civil airway of the United States.

60.701 (b). at any height less than 1,500 feet over any place over which flight is not otherwise restricted.

60.71. Acrobatics While Carrying Persons: No person shall acrobatically fly an aircraft while carrying any other person or persons for hire provided, however, that this provisions shall not apply to the giving of instruction in acrobatic flying to a person receiving dual instruction and possessed of a valid student pilot certificate or to any other pilot possessed of a valid pilot certificate by a pilot also possessed of such certificate and a valid instructor rating.

60.72. Parachute Jumps: When performing acrobatics not prohibited by these regulations, each person in the aircraft shall be properly equipped with a parachute possessed of a valid equipment certificate and maintained in accordance with the provisions of these regulations.

60.720. Equipment—No person shall make any exhibition, test, training, or demonstration parachute jump, unless wearing an auxiliary parachute so arranged that it can be operated if the first parachute should fail to function or become fouled. Whenever an auxiliary parachute is required, it shall consist of a single-harness combination pack.

60.721. Altitude—No exhibition, training or demonstration parachute jump shall be made an altitude of less than 2,000 feet above the surface of the ground.

60.722. Delayed Jump—No person shall delay opening his parachute more than is necessary to properly and safely clear the aircraft, which in no case, except in an emergency jump, shall be less than 1,500 feet above the surface of the ground.

60.723. Jump in High Wind—No exhibition, test, training or demonstration parachute jump shall be made from any aircraft when the surface wind is more than 15 miles per hour.

60.724. Jump near Open Water—No exhibition, test, training or demonstration parachute jump shall be made from any aircraft, when such jump is made within 2 miles horizontally from an open body of water, unless the jumper wears a flotation device approved by the Secretary and unless motor-powered marine rescue equipment is available.

NOTE.—CAR 60.71 does not apply to military personnel when flying, or flying in, military aircraft.

60.8. AIR MEET RULES

60.80. Classification: Air meets will be classified as follows:

60.801. Class 1 Air Meets—meaning those meets which will receive wide publicity, large crowds and large numbers of visiting aircraft and in which any one or all of the following events are included:

60.8010 (a). Races in which "N–", "NC", "NR", or "NX" aircraft are permitted to enter.

60.8011 (b). Acrobatic flights over the airport at or below 1,500 feet.

60.8012 (c). Formation flying over the airport at or below 1,500 feet.

60.8013 (d). So called "crazy flying" over the airport.

60.8014 (e). Parachute jumping for a spot.

60.802. Class 2 Air Meets—meaning those meets which are locally-sponsored amateur meets and which may combine passenger-carrying activities with one or more of the following events:

60.8020 (a). Races for "NC" aircraft.

60.8021 (b). Simulated bomb dropping contests.

60.8022 (c). Acrobatic flights over the airport above 1,500 feet.

60.8023 (d). Formation flights over the airport above 1,500 feet.

60.8024 (e). Paper-cutting over the airport above 1,500 feet.

60.8025 (f). Balloon-bursting over the airport above 1,500 feet.

60.8026 (g). Spot landing contests (switches not cut).

60.8027 (h). Parachute jumping (not for a spot).

60.81. Permit Required: No air meet shall be held or conducted, or authorized to be held or conducted, on a civil airway or elsewhere within the United States where there is likelihood of endangering aircraft moving in interstate or foreign air commerce unless a permit for such meet has been issued by the Secretary.

60.82. Provision for Issuance: The Secretary will issue a permit, in appropriate form, for the holding of an air meet provided:

60.820 (a). Such proposed air meet is to be held on a civil airway or elsewhere within the United States where there is likelihood of endangering aircraft moving in interstate or foreign air commerce, and

60.821 (b). proper application therefor is made and information submitted in accordance with the provisions of CAR 60.83 or 60.84, and

60.822 (c). the person or persons proposing to hold or conduct such air meet appear, in the opinion of the Secretary, to have taken all necessary and proper precautions for safeguarding the interests of the public and those engaged in aeronautics.

60.83. Application for Class 1 Air Meet Permit: In order to enable the Secretary to make adequate investigation and to permit publication and distribution of field rules and regulations for the protection of the public and for the benefit of those engaged in aeronautics, any person or persons desiring a permit for the conduct of a Class 1 Air Meet, shall make application therefor to the Secretary, or to the Bureau supervising aeronautical inspector whose office is located in the district in which such meet will be held, at least 15 days prior to the time of holding of such proposed air meet, upon a form to be supplied for the purpose, which form shall contain at least the following information:

60.8300 (a). Name, address and telephone number of the person or persons making the application.

60.8301 (b). Names and addresses of sponsors and backers, if any, of the air meet other than the applicant.

60.8302 (c). List of names of the personnel charged with operation of the air meet and their duties.

60.8303 (d). Certified copy of permission granted by State or local authorities for conduct of such air meet.

60.8304 (e). Certified copy of permission granted for the use of the airport or other landing area.

60.8305 (f). Map or blueprint showing the scale of measurement of the airport or other landing area and race course, if any, and showing the course in relation to obstructions, congested areas, grandstand or spectators' seats, and parking areas.

60.8306 (g). Schedule of airline operation in and out of, or in the vicinity of, the airport during the time the air meet is in progress.

60.8307 (h). Complete description of all events, showing time and qualification for entry.

60.8308 (i). Detailed description of method of policing, particularly as to methods of preventing spectators or unauthorized persons from entering restricted areas. Also, detailed description of the provisions for compliance with CAR 60.8912.

60.8309 (j). Copy of rules and regulations covering the conduct of the air meet. These regulations shall conform substantially with the rules prescribed in CAR 60.89, and shall include such additional rules as, in the opinion of the operator, are necessary for the particular meet involved, including the proposed method of local air traffic control for the operation of all aircraft during the time of such air meet and until the air operations have returned to normal.

60.84. Application for Class 2 Air Meet Permit: In order to enable the Secretary to make adequate investigation and to permit publication and distribution of field rules and regulations, if any, for the protection of the public and for the benefit of those engaged in aeronautics, any person or persons desiring a permit for the conduct of a Class 2 Air Meet shall make application to the Secretary, or to the Bureau supervising aeronautical inspector whose office is in the district in which such meet will be held, at least 5 days prior to the holding of such proposed air meet, upon a form to be supplied for the purpose, which form shall contain at least the following information:

60.8400 (a). Name, address and telephone number of the person or persons making the application.

60.8401 (b). Names and addresses of sponsors or backers, if any, of the air meet other than the applicant.

60.8402 (c). List of the names of the personnel charged with operation of the air meet and their duties.

60.8403 (d). Statement that permission will be obtained from State or local authorities for conduct of the air meet prior to the holding of such meet.

60.8404 (e). Statement that permission will be obtained for the use of the airport or other landing area.

60.8405 (f). Map or sketch of airport or other landing area and race course, if any, showing the course in relation to obstructions, congested areas, grandstand or spectators' seats, and parking areas.

60.8406 (g). Schedule of airline operation in and out of, or in the vicinity of, the airport or landing area during the time the air meet is in progress.

60.8407 (h). Complete description of all events, showing time and qualification of entry.

60.8408 (i). Detailed description of method of policing, particularly as to methods of preventing spectators or unauthorized persons from entering restricted areas.

60.85. Issuance: Upon approval of an application duly made, data submitted and investigations and inspections completed, an air meet permit will be issued in appropriate form.

60.86. Duration: An air meet permit will be granted for a limited time only and for a specific purpose, which time and purpose will be clearly stated in such permit.

60.87. Non-Transferability: An air meet permit is not transferable.

60.88. Suspension or Revocation: An air meet permit may be suspended or revoked by the Secretary for any of the following reasons:

60.880 (a). Any false statement on the part of the person making application for such permit or in any information accompanying the application.

60.881 (b). Adverse weather conditions affecting the safety of the public or those engaged in aeronautics, as determined by the local Bureau inspector.

60.882 (c). Failure of those in charge of the air meet to properly enforce any term or condition contained in the air meet permit.

60.883 (d). Violation of any term or condition contained in the permit granted for the air meet.

60.884 (e). Violation of any provision of the Air Commerce Act or any rule or regulation duly promulgated thereunder.

60.89. Air Meet Rules: The following rules shall apply to, and govern the conduct of, all Class 1 and Class 2 air meets for which a permit may be issued by the Secretary.

60.8900 (a). No person shall be permitted to take part in any air meet until he has furnished the air meet officials a signed statement to the effect that he has read the rules and regulations governing such meets, and which obligates him to abide by all local and Department of Commerce rules and regulations.

60.8901 (b). No person shall be permitted on the operations area of an airport or flying field during any air meet held thereon, except the operating personnel, contestants and their crews, police, State and Federal aeronautics officials and inspectors, and authorized press, radio and photographer personnel.

60.8902 (c). A white dead line paralleling the area reserved for spectators and at least 200 feet in front of such area shall be provided by the air meet officials and the crossing of this dead line in the direction of the spectators of any aircraft will result in the suspension of the certificate of the operator of such aircraft, or other action.

60.8903 (d). The air meet management shall be held responsible for the proper policing of the air meet area within the airport and for other suitable provisions to insure that all spectators and unauthorized persons are kept off prohibited areas.

60.8904 (e). No air event shall be conducted unless the operations area of the airport or flying field is clear, the operating personnel are present, sufficient police or guards are on duty and at their posts, no other air operations are going on and scheduled airline aircraft are not flying in the vicinity.

60.8905 (f). Participants in racing events shall not come in closer proximity to other participating aircraft than 50 feet, and a participant must be not less than 150 feet in the lead before cutting into the same lane of plane or planes just passed.

60.8906 (g). No aircraft shall be flown toward, over, nor within 200 feet horizontally of, the grandstand or spectators.

60.8907 (h). No aircraft performing acrobatics shall be flown toward or over the grandstands or spectators nor within 500 feet thereof.

60.8908 (i). No object shall be dropped or released from aircraft in connection with an air meet which will fall over, toward, nor within 500 feet of, the grandstands or spectators.

60.8909 (j). Race-horse-starts shall be prohibited except when such starts provide for minimum spacing from wing tip to wing tip of at least 100 feet between participating aircraft and then only in case the take-off area is suitable for such starts and a scattering pylon is used for the first pylon, which scattering pylon must be located at least one mile from the boundary of the airport.

60.8910 (k). The home pylon shall be located at least 800 feet from the grandstands or spectators, and racing aircraft shall not be flown toward, over, or within a minimum distance of 500 feet horizontally of, the grandstands or spectators. The home stretches of all race courses shall be parallel to the grandstands and other sections provided for spectators.

60.8911 (l). For purposes of controlling traffic at, and in the vicinity of, an airport or other landing area used for an air meet, signals shall be located either near the announcer's stand or near the home pylon and shall consist either of a large white letter "O" indicating open, and a large white letter "X" indicating closed, or by the words spelled in large white letters on the ground, "OPEN" or "CLOSED", as the case may be. Such signals shall be so constructed as to be easily legible from 2,000 feet altitude and these signals shall be properly operated during the period of the air meet to indicate whether the airport is open for landing to nonparticipants in the meet, or whether it is closed. For the safety and convenience of nonparticipating aircraft, the airport or landing area shall be declared open for landing and take-off purposes for a period of 5 minutes at not more than 30 minute intervals during the air meet.

60.8912 (m). A physician and ambulance and a fully equipped emergency truck shall be available at the air meet for emergency use. (This provision is mandatory for Class 1 Air Meets only.)

60.9. MISCELLANEOUS AIR TRAFFIC RULES

60.90. Running Motors, Supervision of: No aircraft engine shall be started or run unless a competent operator is in the aircraft attending the engine controls. Blocks, equipped with ropes or other suitable means of pulling them, shall always be placed in front of the wheels before starting the engine, or engines, unless the aircraft is provided with adequate parking brakes and the same are fully on.

60.91. Aircraft on Water: Seaplanes on the water shall navigate according to the laws and regulations of the United States governing the navigation and operation of watercraft, except as otherwise provided in these regulations.

60.92. Transportation of Prohibited Articles: No explosives, arms, or munitions of war or other materials deemed by the Secretary to be dangerous goods shall be carried by or in any aircraft other than public aircraft or aircraft in which mail is being transported and/or arms are required, provided that the provisions of this rule shall not apply to proper signalling or safety equipment (such as a Very's pistol or landing flares) nor to the aircraft fuel, nor to materials for industrial and agricultural spraying (dusting).

60.93. Liquor, Narcotics, and Drugs: No pilot or other member of the crew of an aircraft in flight shall be under the influence of, or use intoxicating liquor, cocaine, or other habit-forming drugs, nor shall such person carry any other person who is obviously under the influence of intoxicating liquor, cocaine, or other habit-forming drugs, except a medical patient under proper care, or in case of emergency.

60.94. Towing by Aircraft: The towing of aircraft by other aircraft or the towing of any device or object by aircraft (except by military aircraft) is prohibited, unless permission therefor has been granted by the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of CAR 60.971.

60.95. Dropping of Objects or Things: No object or thing, other than fine sand, lead shot, or water, shall be dropped or released from an aircraft in flight (except by military aircraft) by any person on board the aircraft, unless permission therefor has been granted by the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of CAR 60.971. The pilot or person in charge of the aircraft shall be responsible for the observance of this rule by all persons in the aircraft.

60.96. Aircraft Model Flying Activities, Supervision of: No model aircraft shall be flown from, or over, any airport or landing field unless permission therefor, in writing, has been secured from the airport manager or his duly authorized representative. The airport manager shall designate the portion of the field to be used and shall take all necessary precautions to assure the safety of the public on the ground and of aircraft in the air. Rules governing the conduct of such activity shall be drawn and shall include:

60.960 (a). The definite boundaries of the area to be utilized.

60.961. (b). The periods of suspension of activity before, during and after any scheduled or other aircraft operations.

60.962. (c). The limitation of duration of flight of the models.

60.963 (d). Procedure for the retrieving of models.

60.964 (e). Notification by the airport manager to all model operators so engaged of the rules as drawn.

60.97. Non-Application of Air Traffic Rules: The air traffic rules, or any particular air traffic rule, shall not apply in the following cases:

60.970 (a). When special circumstances render non-observance necessary to avoid immediate danger, or when such non-observance is required because of stress of weather conditions which could not reasonably have been foreseen, or other unavoidable causes. Such non-observance shall be reported within 24 hours in full detail by letter to the Secretary, including the emergency making such non-observance necessary, the results accomplished by non-observance, and when regular observance was resumed after the emergency had passed. In such case of non-observance if, after investigation by the Secretary, non-observance is deemed to have been necessary in the interests of safety, no infraction of these rules will have been incurred.

60.971 (b). When the public safety, the safety of those engaged in aeronautics or the interests of sound fostering and promotion of aeronautics is deemed by the Secretary to require a non-observance of the air traffic rules, or any particular rule, as evidenced by a certificate of non-application issued by, or under the authority of, the Secretary.

60.98. Certificate of Non-Application: A certificate of non-application of air traffic rules will be issued for a limited time and will specifically set forth the subject matter involved, the time limits involved, and will be strictly construed. Requests for such certificate shall be addressed to the Secretary at least 10 days before the certificate applied for is to have effect.

CHAPTER 90. AIR MAIL

90.0. PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the provisions of the Air Mail Act of 1934, as amended, sections 11 and 12, requiring the Secretary of Commerce to certify to the Postmaster General the character of equipment to be employed and maintained on each air-mail route, to prescribe maximum flying hours of pilots on air-mail lines and safe operation methods on such lines, to approve agreements between air-mail operating companies and their pilots and mechanics for retirement benefits to such pilots and mechanics and to prescribe all necessary regulations to carry out these provisions, the following regulations relating thereto are prescribed.

90.1. EQUIPMENT: The Secretary will furnish to the Postmaster General, upon notification from the latter, specifications for air-mail route equipment with determinations as to speed, load capacity and safety features and safety devices on airplanes to be used on the route noticed by the Postmaster General. These specifications will be in accordance with the pertinent portions of all Civil Air Regulations and in particular with CAR 04, 40 and 61.

90.2. PILOTS FLYING HOURS: Maximum flying hours for pilots on air-mail lines shall be the same as those prescribed for all certificated airlines and in accordance with the provisions of CAR 61.518.

90.3. SAFE OPERATION METHODS: Safe operation methods on air-mail lines shall be the same as those prescribed for all certificated airlines and in accordance with the provisions of CAR 40 and 61.

90.4. RETIREMENT BENEFITS: Regulations hereunder will be issued at a later date.

CHAPTER 91. AIRCRAFT ACCIDENT INVESTIGATIONS

91.0. PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act requiring the Secretary of Commerce to foster air commerce and study the possibilities for the development of the same, to investigate accidents in civil navigation and to hold hearings for such purpose, and to make such regulations as are necessary to execute the functions vested in the Secretary by the Act, the following regulations are hereby prescribed.

91.1. IMMEDIATE REPORT BY PILOT AND OWNER

91.10. Injury to Person or Property: When in the operation of civil aircraft death or serious injury to person or to property results, a report shall be made immediately by the pilot and by the registered owner to the Secretary, or to the nearest known inspector of the Bureau of Air Commerce, by telegraph or by telephone stating the registered number of the aircraft and the time and the place of the accident.

91.11. Injury to Aircraft: All accidents in the operation of civil aircraft which cause injury to the aircraft shall be reported without delay by the registered owner or by the pilot to the Secretary on the form provided for the purpose, and furnished by the Secretary or a Bureau inspector upon request.

91.12. Glider Accidents: CAR 91.11 and 91.12 shall apply to accidents to gliders only when death or serious injury to person has resulted.

NOTE.—For the regulations forbidding flight of a damaged aircraft until repaired, see CAR 01.71.

91.13. Notification to Public Officers: An inspector of the Bureau upon receiving information of an accident at a place within his jurisdiction will notify the appropriate State officers charged with the regulation of aeronautics and the law enforcement officers of the vicinity in which the accident occurs and will request their aid in securing assistance to injured persons, policing the place of the accident and in determining the cause thereof.

91.14. Interference by Bystanders with Material: No person, except the Secretary or other person authorized by him, or the head public officer of those described in CAR 91.13, shall remove from the place of the accident any material pertaining thereto, nor shall enter upon the place except for the purpose of giving assistance to injured persons.

91.2. ACCIDENT INVESTIGATION BOARD

91.20. Appointment: For the purpose of investigating accidents in civil air navigation, the Secretary will, from time to time, appoint an Accident Investigation Board consisting of 3 officers or employees of the Department of Commerce together with 2 disinterested persons, as advisory members, who are experienced in aeronautics and not officers or employees of the Department of Commerce or of any company or other person directly concerned in the particular accident, Provided, That where the circumstances of the accident do not, in the opinion of the Secretary, require the services of so many persons, then any 3 such persons only may be designated for the purpose.

91.21. Duties: The Accident Investigation Board, or as many members as can be reasonably assembled, will proceed promptly to the place of the accident, and will there inspect the visible circumstances, provide for the preservation of evidential material pertaining to the accident, and may hear testimony given orally or by depositions or by affidavits, and will record such testimony.

91.30. Chairman of Board: At any hearing, the officer or employee designated by the Secretary will act as Chairman of the Board and will conduct the hearing.

91.31. Time and Place: The time and place of any hearing of testimony will be such as the Chairman of the Board may direct.

91.32. Public Nature: Any hearing of testimony will be open to the public.

91.33. Witnesses, Subpenas, etc.: At any hearing the provisions of CAR 93 will be applicable.

91.34. Report: At the conclusion of an investigation, or as soon thereafter as circumstances permit, the Board will forward its findings, with the testimony and other evidence received at a hearing, to the Secretary.

91.35. Disclosure: The Secretary, if he deems it to be in the public interest, will make public a statement of the probable cause or causes of the accident; except that when the accident has resulted in serious or fatal injury, the statement will in every case be made public.

91.36. Report or Statement as Evidence: No report or statement resulting from an investigation or hearing conducted by the Board upon an accident in civil air navigation, or any part thereof, will be admitted as evidence or used for any purpose in any suit, action, or proceeding growing out of any matter referred to in any such statement, investigation, hearing, or report thereof; except in case of criminal or other proceedings instituted by or in behalf of the Secretary or any other duly authorized public officer under the provisions of the Air Commerce Act or of the regulations duly issued thereunder.

91.37. Testimony of Investigators: No member of the Board, or other official or employee of the Department of Commerce, shall testify to any facts ascertained in, or information gained by reason of, his official capacity as an expert witness or otherwise, in any suit, action, or proceeding growing out of any matter referred to in any investigation or hearing conducted upon an accident in civil air navigation; except in case of criminal or other proceedings instituted by or in behalf of the Secretary or any other duly authorized public officer under the provisions of the Air Commerce Act or of the regulations duly issued thereunder.

CHAPTER 92. HEARINGS UPON CERTIFICATES (ISSUED, RENEWED, DENIED, SUSPENDED OR REVOKED)

92.0. PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act authorizing or requiring the Secretary of Commerce to hold hearings in connection with action in issuing, denying, renewing, suspending or revoking any certificates pertaining to his functions under the said Act, the following regulations are hereby prescribed.

92.1. HEARING BEFORE ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATE

92.10. Provision for Advance Hearing: After application duly made and filed for the issuance of any certificate required or authorized to be issued by the Secretary and before issuance or denial of the certificate, the Secretary, if he deems further inquiry to be necessary in order to assist in making a proper decision upon the application, may direct that an advance hearing take place for such purpose, and may designate an officer or employee of the Department of Commerce to conduct the hearing and to report the evidence taken with recommendations.

92.11. Time and Place: The time and place of any hearing will be such as the Secretary may direct, having due regard to the reasonable convenience of the applicant and the nature of the certificate applied for.

92.12. Public Nature: Any hearing so directed may be open to the public, in the Secretary's discretion.

92.13. Notice

92.130 (a). The Secretary will give to the applicant at least 10 days' notice of the time and place designated for the hearing, unless the applicant consents to an earlier time.

92.131 (b). The notice will specify, as the Secretary may deem necessary, the particular points in the application on which information is sought.

92.132 (c). Notice will also be sent to any other person deemed likely by the Secretary to be able to give information as to the subject of the application or to have an interest therein.

92.133 (d). Notice will be served personally or sent by registered mail. In the latter case deposit in the United States mails will be deemed proof of service.

92.14. Record: All evidence taken at the hearing will be recorded and promptly forwarded to the Secretary.

92.2. HEARING BEFORE SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION OF CERTIFICATE

92.20. Notice: On receipt of information from a duly authorized inspector of the Bureau of Air Commerce, or from other source deemed satisfactory by the Secretary, a notice will be sent by the Secretary or his duly authorized representative by registered mail to the person concerned, setting forth the matters furnishing ground for the suspension or the revocation, ordering that, unless satisfactory showing is made, the certificate will be thereby suspended or revoked (as the case may be), and notifying him of his statutory right to a hearing as provided for in CAR 92.3.

92.21. Airmen: In the case of a person holding any airman rating or certificate (such as pilot, mechanic, instructor, dispatcher, traffic control tower operator, etc.), the order may postpone the taking effect of a revocation of the certificate or any rating thereon until a date named. If before that date a written request is received by the Bureau from the airman for an advance hearing on the question of revocation, the Director of the Bureau may by order make further postponement of the effective date and arrange for a hearing in such manner as he may deem suitable, but with due regard for the provisions of CAR 92.3201.

92.22. Airlines: In the case of an airline, the procedure of CAR 92.21 regarding an advance hearing prior to revocation shall also be applicable to an airline competency certificate and letters, but in such case the request must be made by an authorized representative of the airline.

92.23. Waiver: If such an advance hearing is requested, the request must include a statement consenting to waive any right to a further hearing as provided for in CAR 92.3.

92.24. Record: At the conclusion of such advance hearing, and after the evidence taken and the recommendations thereon have been forwarded to the Secretary, a decision will be made as provided in CAR 92.326.

92.25. Decision: If no written request is made for an advance hearing as provided in CAR 92.21 or 92.22, the provisions of CAR 92.3 will then be applicable.

92.3. PUBLIC HEARING UPON DENIAL, SUSPENSION OR REVOCATION

92.30. Certificate Order: Any action taken by the Secretary with respect to the denial of an application for a certificate or of an application for its renewal, or the suspension or the revocation of any certificate issued, will be recorded in writing in the office of the Bureau and a copy thereof (by way of notice) will be promptly mailed by the Director of the Bureau to the applicant for or holder of the certificate.

92.31. Request for Public Hearing: Within 20 days after receiving a copy of the order provided for in CAR 92.30, any person who desires a public hearing on the matter involved may file a written request therefor with the Secretary.

92.32. Proceedings

92.320. Time and Place—

92.3200 (a). The Secretary, after receiving written request for a public hearing as provided in CAR 92.31, will forthwith designate a date for such hearing, such date to be within 20 days after receipt by the Secretary of such request.

92.3201 (b). The Secretary will designate for such public hearing a place deemed by him to be most practicable and convenient in consideration of the place of residence of the applicant or holder and the place where evidence bearing upon the action taken is most readily obtainable.

92.321. Notice—

92.3210 (a). The Secretary will give to the applicant or holder at least 10 days' notice of the time and place designated for the hearing, unless the applicant or holder consents to an earlier time.

92.3211 (b). Notice of the hearing will be served personally or sent by registered mail. In the latter case deposit in the United States mails will be deemed proof of service.

92.322. Public Nature—Any hearing conducted upon a certificate issued by the Secretary will be open to the public.

92.323. Conduct of Hearing—The Secretary, or some officer or employee of the Department of Commerce designated by him in writing for the purpose, will conduct the hearing.

92.324. Witnesses, Subpenas, etc.—The provisions of CAR 93 will be applicable.

92.325. Record—All evidence taken at any hearing conducted upon a certificate will be recorded and promptly forwarded to the Secretary.

92.326. Decision following Hearing—

92.3260 (a). A decision upon the subject matter of the certificate involved in the hearing will be rendered by the Secretary.

92.3261 (b). The decision of the Secretary will be rendered not later than 10 days after the completion of the hearing.

92.3262 (c). The decision of the Secretary, if in accordance with law, will be final.

92.33. Validity of Order or Action Taken Thereon: The denial, suspension or revocation of any certificate will be invalid unless opportunity for hearing is afforded, notice served or sent and decision rendered within the respective times prescribed in CAR 92.3.

92.34. Surrender of Certificate: Upon receipt of any final order of suspension or of revocation of a certificate, the person holding the certificate shall immediately surrender it by forwarding it to the Secretary as directed by him.

92.35. Costs in Hearings: Where the decision in such hearing is adverse to the applicant for hearing, such applicant shall pay to the Secretary, to be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts, an amount equal to such portion of the costs of the hearing as the Secretary may designate; and in any case, the applicant may be required by the Secretary to furnish bond, on a form and with such surety as he may approve, to cover all such costs before the matter is heard.

93.0 Provision for Issuance
93.1 Oaths
93.2 Subpenas
93.3 Failure to Obey Subpenas
93.4 Privileges Against Self-Crimination
93.5 Witness Fees and Mileage

CHAPTER 93. EVIDENCE

93.0. PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the Air Commerce Act, the Secretary of Commerce, or his representative designated to conduct a hearing, is empowered to administer oaths, examine witnesses, require the preservation of evidence and issue subpenas for the attendance and testimony of witnesses or the production of books, papers, documents, exhibits and other evidence, or the taking of depositions before any designated individual competent to administer oaths.

93.1. OATHS: Any notary public or other officer authorized by law of the United States, or any State, Territory, or possession thereof, or the District of Columbia, to administer oaths or take acknowledgment of deeds, any consular officer of the United States, and any officer or employee of the Department of Commerce designated by the Secretary in writing for the purpose, shall be competent to administer oaths for the purposes of this Act.

93.2. SUBPENAS: Subpenas for the purposes of this Act may be served personally or in other lawful manner.

93.3. FAILURE TO OBEY SUBPENAS: In case of failure to comply with any subpena issued under authority of this Act, the Secretary, or his duly authorized representative, may invoke the aid of any United States district court, the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, or the United States court of any Territory or other place to which this Act applies. The court may thereupon order the person to whom the subpena was issued to comply with the requirements of the subpena or to give evidence with respect to the matter in question. Any failure to obey the order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

93.4. PRIVILEGE AGAINST SELF-CRIMINATION: No person shall be excused from attending and testifying or from producing books, papers, documents, exhibits, and other evidence before the Secretary or his designated representative or in obedience to the subpena of the Secretary or his designated representative, or in any cause or proceeding instituted by the Secretary or his designated representative, on the ground that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him, may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; but no individual shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he is compelled, after having claimed his privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, except that such individual so testifying shall not be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

93.5. WITNESS FEES AND MILEAGE: Witnesses summoned or whose depositions are taken shall receive the same fees and mileage as witnesses in the courts of the United States.

94.50 Penalties

CHAPTER 94. PENALTIES

94.0. PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act authorizing the Secretary of Commerce to make such regulations as are necessary to execute the functions vested in him by the Act, the following regulations are prescribed with respect to the penal offenses enumerated in the Act.

94.1. NAVIGATION OFFENSES: (Air Commerce Act, Section 11). It shall be unlawful, except to the extent authorized or exempt under Section 6 of the Air Commerce Act of 1926, as amended:

94.10. Airspace Reservation: To navigate any aircraft within any airspace reservation otherwise than in conformity with the Executive Orders regulating such reservation;

NOTE.—For such reservations, see CAR 60.

94.11. Unregistered Aircraft: To navigate any aircraft, other than a foreign aircraft, in interstate or foreign air commerce unless such aircraft is registered as an aircraft of the United States;

NOTE.—For registration, see CAR 00.

94.12. Foreign Aircraft: To navigate any foreign aircraft in the United States;

NOTE.—For foreign aircraft, see CAR 65 and 66.

94.13. Uncertificated Aircraft: To navigate any aircraft registered as an aircraft of the United States, or any foreign aircraft, without an aircraft certificate or in violation of the terms of any such certificate;

NOTE.—For certificates of aircraft, see CAR 01 for United States aircraft and CAR 65 for foreign aircraft.

94.14. Uncertificated Airline: To operate any airline in interstate or foreign air commerce without an airline certificate or in violation of the terms of any such certificate;

NOTE.—For certificates of airlines, see CAR 40 for United States airlines and CAR 66 for foreign airlines.

94.15. Uncertificated Airman: To serve as an airman in connection with any aircraft registered as an aircraft of the United States, or any foreign aircraft, without an airman certificate or in violation of the terms of any such certificate;

NOTE.—For certificates of airmen, see CAR 20, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, and 27 for United States airmen and CAR 65 for foreign airmen.

94.16. Air Commerce Regulations: To navigate any aircraft otherwise than in conformity with the air traffic rules, or to operate any aircraft registered as an aircraft of the United States otherwise than in conformity with the regulations of the Secretary of Commerce pertaining thereto;

NOTE.—For air traffic rules, see CAR 60.

94.17. Entry and Clearance Regulations: To violate any entry or clearance regulation of the Secretary of Commerce: (See CAR 77).

94.18. Immigration Regulations: To violate any immigration regulation of the Secretary of Labor: (See CAR 77.)

94.19. Customs and Public Health Regulations: To violate any customs or public health regulation of the Secretary of the Treasury. (See CAR 77.)

94.2. PENALTIES: (Air Commerce Act, Section 11)

94.20. Personal Penalty: Any person who violates any of the provisions of CAR 94.10 through 94.19 shall be subject to a civil penalty of $500.

94.21. Aircraft Seizure: Any person who violates any provision of CAR 94.19

94.210 (a). shall be liable to a civil penalty of $500 and, in addition,

94.211 (b). any aircraft used in connection with any such violation shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture as provided for in such customs or public health laws.

94.3. PROCEEDINGS IN REM: (Air Commerce Act, Section 11)

94.30. In Personam or in Rem: Any civil penalty imposed, as provided for in CAR 94.1 and 94.2, may be collected by proceedings in personam against the person subject to the penalty; but also, or in lieu thereof, by proceedings in rem against the aircraft.

94.31. Proceedings in Rem: Proceedings in rem shall conform as nearly as may be to suits in admiralty; except

94.310 (a). that either party may demand a trial by jury of any issue of fact, if the value in controversy exceeds $20; and

94.311 (b). that facts so tried shall not be re-examined other than in accordance with the rules of the common law; and

94.312 (c). that the fact that the seizure in rem is made at a place not upon the high seas or in navigable waters of the United States shall not be held in any way to limit the requirement of conformity.

94.32. Seizure

94.320. Summary Seizure—Any aircraft subject to a lien for any civil penalty imposed, as provided for in CAR 94.1 and 94.2, may be summarily seized by and placed in the custody of any duly authorized inspector of the Bureau in the manner prescribed in CAR 77.

94.321. Report of Seizure—A report of the case shall be thereupon transmitted to the United States Attorney for the Federal judicial district in which the seizure is made.

94.33. Proceedings by the United States Attorney: The United States Attorney shall promptly institute proceedings for the enforcement of the lien, or notify the Secretary of his failure so to act.

94.34. Release of the Aircraft: The aircraft shall be released from custody

94.340 (a). upon payment of the penalty, or of so much thereof as is not remitted or mitigated; or

94.341 (b). upon seizure in pursuance of process of any court in proceedings in rem for enforcement of the lien; or

94.342 (c). upon notification by the United States Attorney of failure to institute such proceedings; or 94.343 (d). upon deposit of a bond in such amount and with such sureties as the Secretary may prescribe, conditioned upon the payment of the penalty or so much thereof as is not remitted or mitigated.

94.4. CERTIFICATE OFFENSES: (Air Commerce Act, Section 11)

94.40. Forging, etc.: Any person who fraudulently forges, counterfeits, alters, or falsely makes any certificate authorized under the Air Commerce Act; and/or

94.41. False Use: Any person who knowingly uses or attempts to use any such fraudulent certificate:

94.42. Penalty: Shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding three years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

94.5. LIGHTS AND SIGNALS OFFENSES: (Air Commerce Act, Section 11)

94.50. Penalties: Any person shall be guilty of an offense punishable by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment

94.500 (a). who, with intent to interfere with air navigation in the navigable airspace or waters of the United States, exhibits within the United States any false light or signal at such place or in such manner that it is likely to be mistaken for a true light or signal required by regulation under the Air Commerce Act, or for a true light or signal in connection with an airport or other air navigation facility, or

94.501 (b). who, after due warning from the Secretary of Commerce continues to maintain any false light or signal, or

94.502 (c). who knowingly removes, extinguishes, or interferes with the operation of any such true light or signal, or 94.503 (d). who without lawful authority knowingly exhibits any such true light or signal.

95.4 Effect on Other Proceedings
95.40 Failure to Serve Notice
95.41 Remission or Mitigation
95.5 Payment
95.6 Accounting

CHAPTER 95. IMPOSITION, REMISSION AND MITIGATION OF PENALTIES

95.0. PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the provisions of the Air Commerce Act authorizing the Secretary of Commerce to remit or mitigate penalties incurred under the provisions of that Act and to prescribe by regulation for proceedings for that purpose, the following regulations shall be applicable.

95.1. NOTICE: Upon information received from a duly authorized inspector of the Bureau of Air Commerce, or other source deemed suitable by the Secretary, that a violation of law or regulation has taken place, and that a civil penalty has thereby been incurred by a particular person or persons, the remission or mitigation of which is within the authority of the Secretary, a notice shall be sent to the person or persons by the Director of the Bureau.

NOTE.—In cases where the act complained of does not seriously involve misuse of a Federal certificate or substantially affect the interests of interstate or foreign air commerce, the Director of the Bureau may transmit the file to the appropriate State authorities for such action as may be deemed fit.

95.10. Terms of Notice: The notice will state

95.100 (a). the citation of the regulation or law said to have been violated;

95.101 (b). a brief description of the nature of the act constituting the violation, giving the date and place;

95.102 (c). a statement that the person is subject to a penalty of $500 for such violation, under provision of the Air Commerce Act, Section 11;

95.103 (d). a statement that the Secretary is authorized to remit or mitigate the penalty if a sufficient showing of circumstances is made; and

95.104 (e). a statement of the time in which application must be made and filed requesting remission or mitigation and setting forth all pertinent circumstances.

95.11. Service of Notice: The notice may be served personally or by registered mail. In the latter case deposit in the United States mails shall be deemed proof of service.

95.12. Copy to the United States Attorney: In case libel in rem proceedings against the aircraft are pending at the time of sending the notice regarding remission or mitigation, the Director of the Bureau shall send the United States attorney prosecuting the libel a copy of the notice sent pursuant to CAR 95.1.

95.2. ANSWER: The person or persons so notified may before the date limited file in duplicate an affidavit of answer stating the circumstances upon which the request for remission or mitigation is based.

95.20. Failure to Answer: In case a person so notified fails to file by the date limited an affidavit of answer as provided for in CAR 95.2, the Secretary will make entry in the record stating that for failure of answer no remission or mitigation will be granted.

95.21. Extension of Time: The time first limited may be extended, and an entry so made may be revoked, if either after or before the time first limited the person files an affidavit of answer stating circumstances which in the opinion of the Secretary excuse the original failure to answer within the time limited.

95.3. ACTION UPON ANSWER: Upon receiving the affidavit of answer provided for in CAR 95.2, the Secretary will determine whether or not the penalty will be remitted or mitigated, and to what extent if any, stating the amount assessed and due to be paid.

95.30. Record: The determination so made will be entered in the record of the case.

95.31. Notice to the Party: Notice with a copy of the entry of such determination will thereupon be sent to the person concerned, and to each such person if more than one.

95.32. Notice to the United States Attorney: If libel proceedings in rem are pending, notice with a copy of the entry of determination will be sent by the Secretary to the United States attorney prosecuting the libel.

95.4. EFFECT ON OTHER PROCEEDINGS

95.40. Failure to Serve Notice: The failure of the Director of the Bureau to send the notice provided for in CAR 95.1, or the Secretary to act in allowance of a remission or mitigation of penalty, shall not alter the liability of the person subject to the penalty in any other proceedings.

95.41. Remission or Mitigation: The action of the Secretary in remitting or mitigating the penalty, upon notification to the United States attorney having charge of proceedings to collect the penalty, shall operate to stay and discharge all proceedings or to reduce the penalty accordingly, as the case may be.

95.5. PAYMENT: Upon receipt at the Bureau of a money order or a check, payable to the Treasurer of the United States, from the party charged, for the amount of the penalty assessed, the Secretary will notify the sender thereof, acknowledging full payment of the penalty.

95.6. ACCOUNTING: All penalties paid in under these provisions will be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts.

CHAPTER 98. DEFINITIONS

98.0. PROVISION FOR ISSUANCE: Pursuant to the Air Commerce Act authorizing the Secretary of Commerce to issue certificates of registration, airworthiness and competency and such other certificates and regulations as the Secretary deems necessary in administering the Act, the following regulations are prescribed with reference to definitions.

98.1. DEFINITIONS: The following definitions, in addition to those in the Air Commerce Act (See Section 9) and those appearing elsewhere in civil air regulations, shall be applicable to the terms so defined.

98.100. SECRETARY.—Secretary as used, unless otherwise specified, shall mean Secretary of Commerce.

98.101. DEPARTMENT.—Department, as used, unless otherwise specified, shall mean Department of Commerce.

98.102. DIRECTOR OR DIRECTOR OF AIR COMMERCE.—Director or Director of Air Commerce, as used, unless otherwise specified, shall mean Director of the Bureau of Air Commerce of the Department of Commerce.

98.103. BUREAU.—Bureau, as used, unless otherwise specified, shall mean the Bureau of Air Commerce of the Department of Commerce.

98.104. ACROBATICS.—Evolutions voluntarily performed with an aircraft other than those required for normal flight.

98.105. AIRLINE.—An established system of aerial transportation, its equipment, or the company owning or operating it.

98.106. AIRSHIP.—An aerostat provided with a propelling system and with means of controlling the direction of motion.

98.107. AMPHIBIAN.—An airplane designed to rise from and alight on either land or water.

98.108. BALLOON.—An aerostat without a propelling system.

98.109. BEACON.—A light, group of lights, or other signaling device, indicating a location or direction.

98.1090. Airport Beacon.—A beacon light of high candlepower located at or near an airport for the purpose of indicating the general or specific location of the airport.

98.1091. Airway Beacon.—A beacon light of high candlepower, other than an airport or landmark beacon, located on or near an airway for the purpose of indicating the location of an airway.

98.1092. Auxiliary Airport Beacon.—A beacon light, usually of lower candlepower than the main airport beacon light, located on the airport site to indicate the specific location of an airport that has a separate airport beacon visible at a greater distance to indicate the general location of the airport.

98.1093. Auxiliary Airway Beacon.—A beacon light, usually of lower candlepower than the principal airway beacon lights, used to mark special features of the terrain along an airway or otherwise to supplement the principal airway beacons.

98.1094. Code Beacon.—A flashing beacon light having a recognizable characteristic of dots and/or dashes by which its individual identity can be established.

98.1095. Landmark Beacon.—A beacon light, other than an airport beacon or an airway beacon, that serves to indicate a definite geographical location.

98.110. CEILING.—Height of the lower level of a bank of clouds above the ground.

98.1100. Absolute Ceiling.—The maximum height above sea level at which a given airplane would be able to maintain horizontal flight under standard air conditions.

98.1101. Service Ceiling.—The height above sea level under standard air conditions, at which a given airplane is unable to climb faster than a small specified rate (100 feet per minute in the United States and England). This specified rate may differ in different countries.

98.111. CONTROLS.—A general term applied to the means provided to enable the pilot to control the speed, direction of flight, altitude, power, etc. of an aircraft.

98.112. LANDPLANE.—An airplane designed to rise from and alight on the land.

98.113. PARACHUTE.—An umbrella-like device used to retard the descent of a falling body by offering resistance to its motion through the air.

98.114. RADIO RANGE BEACON.—A radio transmitter supplying directive radio waves that provide a means of keeping an aircraft on its proper course.

98.115. SEAPLANE.—An airplane designed to rise from and alight on the water. This includes both the boat and float types.

98.116. SOLO FLIGHT.—A person is engaged in solo flight when he is the sole operator of the controls and is in command of aircraft in flight.

98.117. SPEED

98.1170. Airspeed.—The speed of an aircraft relative to the air.

98.1171. Ground Speed.—The horizontal component of the velocity of an aircraft relative to the ground.

98.1172. Landing Speed.—The minimum speed of an airplane at the instant of contact with the landing area in a normal landing.

98.1173. Minimum Flying Speed.—The lowest steady speed that can be maintained, with any throttle setting whatsoever, by an airplane in level flight at an altitude above the ground greater than the span of the wings.

98.1174. Stalling Speed.—The speed of an airplane in steady flight at its maximum coefficient of lift.

98.118. SPIN.—A maneuver in which an airplane descends along a helical path of large pitch and small radius while flying at a mean angle of attack greater than the angle of attack at maximum lift.

98.119. STALL.—The condition of an airfoil or airplane in which it is operating at an angle of attack greater than the angle of attack of maximum lift.

98.120. VISIBILITY.—The greatest distance at which conspicuous objects can be seen and identified.

CHAPTER 99. MODE OF CITATION OF REGULATIONS

99.1. DEFINITIONS.

99.10. Civil Air Regulations: Civil Air Regulations are those regulations issued by the Secretary pursuant to the Air Commerce Act and otherwise pursuant to law vesting in him the power and duty to regulate interstate and foreign air commerce and aeronautics.

99.2. MODE OF CITATION

99.20. Words: The words "Civil Air Regulations" may be cited by the letters "CAR", and are so cited in the Civil Air Regulations.

99.21. Figures: The figures used in connection with Civil Air Regulations shall be cited as they appear in the left-hand margin of and opposite to each division or paragraph of the Civil Air Regulations, but, unless limited by express language, the citation of a figure having a lesser number of digits shall include all of the figures immediately there following having a greater number of digits (if any such figures there be) together with the text in the divisions and/or paragraphs in connection with the latter: Provided, That such inclusion shall stop with, and not include, any division and/or paragraph having a larger figure but a less number of digits. (For example, the citation of CAR 99.1 includes CAR 99.10, but not CAR 99.20 and/or 99.21.) The citation of any division or paragraph as indicated above does not include any there following with a figure having an equal or less number of digits. (For example, CAR 91.1 does not include CAR 99.2, nor does CAR 99.10 include CAR 99.2.) The citation of a chapter by its letters and figure (such as CAR 99) is a citation of the whole of that chapter. Whenever the complete sense of a particular division and/or paragraph requires that it be read in connection with any prior division and/or paragraph, the citation of the former will include the latter. (No good example occurs in CAR 99, but one may be found in CAR 20 in connection with suspension or revocation of pilot certificates. For example the citation of CAR 20.371 includes CAR 20.37, and that of CAR 20.37103 includes CAR 20.371 and possibly CAR 20.370 and/or 20.37 depending upon the facts under consideration.)

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

AMENDING TREASURY CHAPTER (VII) OF THE MANUAL

DISPOSITION OF CHECKS OUTSTANDING MORE THAN ONE FULL FISCAL YEAR

Be it resolved, That pursuant to the authority vested in the Board by Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (48 Stat. 128, 129) as amended by Sections 1 and 13 of the Act of April 27, 1934 (48 Stat. 643–647) and particularly by Sections 4–a and 4–k of said Act as amended, Section 703 of Chapter VII of the Consolidated Manual is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 703 (a). As of the close of business each fiscal year, the Treasurer or other authorized disbursing officer of the Corporation shall draw checks, payable to the Corporation for deposit to the General Working Fund, on each disbursing account maintained in either the United States Treasury or local banks for the total amount of all checks, on each such disbursing account, which have been outstanding more than one full fiscal year; provided, however, that where all signatories have been or are hereafter revoked on any account in a local bank, the Treasury may cause the amounts of all outstanding checks on such account to be transferred to the General Working Fund at the close of the fiscal year in which the signatories were revoked.

(b) Any claims for payment of checks, the funds for which have been previously transferred to the Outstanding Check Liability Account or the Surplus Account, when properly approved, certified by the Auditor, and supported by the original check, or an indemnity bond as required by the regulations, shall be paid by the Treasurer from the General Working Fund, and charged to the Outstanding Check Liability Account.

(c) The Treasurer is hereby authorized, with the approval of the Budget Director, the General Manager and General Counsel, to establish necessary procedure to give full force and effect to the provisions of this resolution.

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on October 12, 1937.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION ADMINISTRATION.

OCTOBER 5, 1937.

[Administrative Order No. 145]

RESCISSION OF ALLOCATION OF FUNDS FOR LOANS

I hereby rescind the allocation of $16,000 for the project, North Carolina 22 Nash Halifax, made by Administrative Order No. 5, dated July 28, 1936. This action is being taken because the city will not maintain or operate the line and would probably not furnish current to the cooperative. This 16 mile line will eventually go into the Edgecombe project, or will be served by the power company.

AMENDMENT OF RULE UNDER PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

AMENDMENT OF PARAGRAPH (C) OF RULE 17C–11 TO EXTEND DURATION OF RULE UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1939

OCTOBER 8, 1937.

Acting pursuant to the authority conferred upon it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and particularly Sections 17 (c) and 20 (a) thereof, and finding that amendment to Rule 17C–11 is necessary and appropriate and will not adversely affect the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers, the Securities and Exchange Commission hereby amends Rule 17C–11 so that the same shall read as follows:

RULE 17C–11. Independent officers or directors.—(a) A registered holding company or subsidiary company thereof may have as an officer or director, or both, a person who is a director (other than a partner) of a financial institution and has no other financial connections (as defined in rule 17C–1) other than those permitted by this rule: Provided, That—

(1) Such person is not an executive officer, partner, appointee, or representative of such financial institution; and

(2) Such person was an officer or director of such company on June 1, 1936; and

(3) Such person has no financial connections other than those which he held on June 1, 1936; and

(4) Such person is not an officer or director of any other such company which is not a member of the same holding company system; and

(5) Such company shall have filed or caused to be filed with the Commission a statement on form U–17–3 as adopted June 30, 1936, signed by such officer or director and setting forth the information therein specified.

(b) Not more than two persons who are officers or directors of any such company shall be persons who are eligible to such position only by virtue of this rule.

(c) This rule shall expire not later than January 1, 1939. By the Commission.

SECTION 12 OF THE ACT

INTRODUCTORY

These regulations deal with the employers' tax, the employees' tax, and the employee representatives' tax, imposed by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, approved June 29, 1937 (Public, No. 174, Seventy-fifth Congress).

Chapter I defines terms that are used in the Act and in these regulations.

Chapter II deals with the employees' tax.

Chapter III deals with the employers' tax.

Chapter IV deals with the employee representatives' tax.

Chapter V deals with returns and payment of tax.

Chapter VI deals with the adjustment of employees' tax and employers' tax.

Chapter VII deals with credits and refunds.

Chapter VIII contains miscellaneous provisions relative to assessment and collection of underpayments, jeopardy assessment, interest, penalties, and records.

The applicable provisions of the Act, as well as certain applicable provisions of internal-revenue laws of particular importance, will be found in the appropriate places in, and are to be read in connection with, these regulations. The sections of law referred to in these regulations are sections of the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, unless otherwise stated.

CHAPTER I—DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1 OF THE ACT

That as used in this Act—

(a) The term "employer" means any carrier (as defined in subsection (i) of this section), and any company which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by one or more such carriers or under common control therewith, and which operates any equipment or facility or performs any service (except trucking service, casual service, and the casual operation of equipment or facilities) in connection with the transportation of passengers or property by railroad, or the receipt, delivery, elevation, transfer in transit, refrigeration or icing, storage, or handling of property transported by railroad, and any receiver, trustee, or other individual or body, judicial or otherwise, when in the possession of the property or operating all or any part of the business of any such employer: Provided, however, That the the term "employer" shall not include any street, interurban, or suburban electric railway, unless such railway is operating as a part of a general steam-railroad system of transportation, but shall not exclude any part of the general steam-railroad system of transportation now or hereafter operated by any other motive power. The Interstate Commerce Commission is hereby authorized and directed upon request of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or upon complaint of any party interested, to determine after hearing whether any line operated by electric power falls within the terms of this proviso. The term "employer" shall also include railroad associations, traffic associations, tariff bureaus, demurrage bureaus, weighing and inspection bureaus, collection agencies and other associations, bureaus, agencies, or organizations controlled and maintained wholly or principally by two or more employers as hereinbefore defined and engaged in the performance of services in connection with or incidental to railroad transportation; and railway labor organizations, national in scope, which have been or may be organized in accordance with the provisions of the Railway Labor Act, as amended, and their State and National legislative committees and their general committees and their insurance departments and their local lodges and divisions, established pursuant to the constitution and bylaws of such organizations.

(b) The term "employee" means any person in the service of one or more employers for compensation: Provided, however, That the term "employee" shall include an employee of a local lodge or division defined as an employer in subsection (a) only if he was in the service of or in the employment relation to a carrier on or after August 29, 1935. An individual is in the employment relation to a carrier if he is on furlough, subject to call for service within or outside the United States and ready and willing to serve, or on leave of absence, or absent on account of sickness or disability; all in accordance with the established rules and practices in effect on the carrier: Provided further, That an individual shall not be deemed to have been on August 29, 1935, in the employment relation to a carrier not conducting the principal part of its business in the United States unless during the last pay-roll period in which he rendered service to it prior to said date, he rendered service to it in the United States.

(c) The term "employee representative" means any officer or official representative of a railway labor organization other than a labor organization included in the term "employer" as defined in section 1 (a), who before or after the enactment hereof was in the service of an employer as defined in section 1 (a) and who is duly authorized and designated to represent employees in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, as amended, and any individual who is regularly assigned to or regularly employed by such officer or official representative in connection with the duties of his office.

(d) An individual is in the service of an employer whether his service is rendered within or without the United States if he is subject to the continuing authority of the employer to supervise and direct the manner of rendition of his service, which service he renders for compensation: Provided, however, That an individual shall be deemed to be in the service of an employer not conducting the principal part of its business in the United States only when he is rendering service to it in the United States.

(e) The term "compensation" means any form of money remuneration earned by an individual for services rendered as an employee to one or more employers, or as an employee representative, including remuneration paid for time lost as an employee, but remuneration paid for time lost shall be deemed earned in the month in which such time is lost. Such term does not include tips, or the voluntary payment by an employer, without deduction from the remuneration of the employee, of the tax imposed on such employee by section 2 of this Act. Compensation which is earned during the period for which the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall require a return of taxes hereunder to be made and which is payable during the calendar month following such period shall be deemed to have been paid during such period only.

(f) The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense means the States, Alaska, Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(g) The term "company" includes corporations, associations, and joint-stock companies.

(h) The term "employee" includes an officer of an employer.

(i) The term "carrier" means an express company, sleeping-car company, or carrier by railroad, subject to part I of the Interstate Commerce Act.

(j) The term "person" means an individual, a partnership, an association, a joint-stock company, or a corporation.

ARTICLE 1. Definitions of miscellaneous terms.—As used in these regulations—

(a) The terms defined in the above provisions of law shall have the meanings so assigned to them.

(b) Act means the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 (Public, No. 174, Seventy-fifth Congress).

(c) Act of August 29, 1935, means the Act entitled "An Act To levy an excise tax upon carriers and an income tax upon their employees, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 400, Seventy-fourth Congress; 49 Stat. 974), as amended by Public Resolution No. 9, Seventy-fifth Congress, approved February 27, 1937.

(d) Railway Labor Act means the Act approved May 20, 1926 (44 Stat. 577), as originally adopted and any amendments thereto.

(e) Social Security Act means the Act approved August 14, 1935 (Public, No. 271, Seventy-fourth Congress; 49 Stat. 620).

(f) Tax means the employers' tax, the employees' tax, or the employee representatives' tax unless otherwise specified.

(g) Employers' tax means the tax imposed by section 3 of the Act.

(h) Employees' tax means the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act.

(i) Employee representatives' tax means the tax imposed by section 5 of the Act.

(j) Secretary means the Secretary of the Treasury.

(k) Commissioner means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

SECTION 1 (A) OF THE ACT

(a) The term "employer" means any carrier (as defined in subsection (i) of this section), and any company which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by one or more such carriers or under common control therewith, and which operates any equipment or facility or performs any service (except trucking service, casual service, and the casual operation of equipment or facilities) in connection with the transportation of passengers or property by railroad, or the receipt, delivery, elevation, transfer in transit, refrigeration or icing, storage, or handling of property transported by railroad, and any receiver, trustee, or other individual or body, judicial or otherwise, when in the possession of the property or operating all or any part of the business of any such employer: Provided, however, That the term "employer" shall not include any street, interurban, or suburban electric railway, unless such railway is operating as a part of a general steam-railroad system of transportation, but shall not exclude any part of the general steam-railroad system of transportation now or hereafter operated by any other motive power. The Interstate Commerce Commission is hereby authorized and directed upon request of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, or upon complaint of any party interested, to determine after hearing whether any line operated by electric power falls within the terms of this proviso. The term "employer" shall also include railroad associations, traffic associations, tariff bureaus, demurrage bureaus, weighing and inspection bureaus, collection agencies and other associations, bureaus, agencies, or organizations controlled and maintained wholly or principally by two or more employers as hereinbefore defined and engaged in the performance of services in connection with or incidental to railroad transportation; and railway labor organizations, national in scope, which have been or may be organized in accordance with the provisions of the Railway Labor Act, as amended, and their State and National legislative committees and their general committees and their insurance departments and their local lodges and divisions, established pursuant to the constitution and bylaws of such organizations.

SECTION 1 (I) OF THE ACT

(i) The term "carrier" means an express company, sleeping-car company, or carrier by railroad, subject to part I of the Interstate Commerce Act.

ART. 2. Who are employers.—Each of the following persons is an employer within the meaning of the Act—

(a) Any carrier, that is, any express company, sleeping-car company, or carrier by railroad, subject to Part I of the Interstate Commerce Act.

(b) Any company which

(1) is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by one or more employers as defined in paragraph (a) of this article, or under common control therewith, and

(2) operates any equipment or facility or performs any service (except trucking service, casual service, and the casual operation of equipment or facilities) in connection with

(A) the transportation of passengers or property by railroad, or

(B) the receipt, delivery, elevation, transfer in transit, refrigeration or icing, storage, or handling of property transported by railroad.

As used above in this article—

The term "controlled" includes direct or indirect control, whether legally enforceable and however exercisable or exercised. The control may be by means of stock ownership, or by agreements, licenses, or any other devices which insure that the operation of the company is in the interests of one or more carriers. It is the reality of the control, however, which is decisive, not its form nor the mode of its exercise.

The term "employer" does not include any street, interurban, or suburban electric railway, unless such railway is operating as a part of a general steam-railroad system of transportation, but shall not exclude any part of the general steam-railroad system of transportation which on January 1, 1937, or thereafter, is operated by any other motive power.

(c) Any receiver, trustee, or other individual or body, judicial or otherwise, when in the possession of the property or operating all or any part of the business of any employer as defined in paragraph (a) or (b) of this article.

(d) Any railroad association, traffic association, tariff bureau, demurrage bureau, weighing and inspection bureau, collection agency, and other association, bureau, agency or organization controlled and maintained wholly or principally by two or more employers as defined in paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this article and engaged in the performance of services in connection with or incidental to railroad transportation.

(e) Any railway labor organization, national in scope, which has been or may be organized in accordance with the provisions of the Railway Labor Act.

(f) Any State or National legislative committee, general committee, insurance department, local lodge or division of an employer as defined in paragraph (e) of this article established pursuant to the constitution and by-laws of such employer.

SECTION 1 (B) OF THE ACT

(b) The term "employee" means any person in the service of one of more employers for compensation: Provided, however, That the term "employee" shall include an employee of a local lodge or division defined as an employer in subsection (a) only if he was in the service of or in the employment relation to a carrier on or after August 29, 1935. An individual is in the employment relation to a carrier if he is on furlough, subject to call for service within or outside the United States and ready and willing to serve, or on leave of absence, or absent on account of sickness or disability; all in accordance with the established rules and practices in effect on the carrier: Provided further, That an individual shall not be deemed to have been on August 29, 1935, in the employment relation to a carrier not conducting the principal part of its business in the United States unless during the last pay-roll period in which he rendered service to it prior to said date, he rendered service to it in the United States.

SECTION 1 (D) OF THE ACT

(d) An individual is in the service of an employer whether his service is rendered within or without the United States if he is subject to the continuing authority of the employer to supervise and direct the manner of rendition of his service, which service he renders for compensation: Provided, however, That an individual shall be deemed to be in the service of an employer not conducting the principal part of its business in the United States only when he is rendering service to it in the United States.

SECTION 1 (H) AND (I) OF THE ACT

(h) The term "employee" includes an officer of an employer.

(i) The term "carrier" means an express company, sleeping-car company, or carrier by railroad, subject to part I of the Interstate Commerce Act.

ART. 3. Who are employees—(a) General.—Within the meaning of the Act, any person is an employee if he is in the service of one or more employers (as defined in section 1 (a)) for compensation. An individual is in the service of an employer if he is subject to the continuing authority of the employer to supervise and direct the manner in which he renders services for compensation. It is not necessary that the employer actually direct or control the manner in which the services are performed; it is sufficient if the employer has the right to do so. The right of an employer to discharge an individual is also an important factor indicating that the individual is an employee. Other factors indicating that an individual is an employee are the furnishing of tools and the furnishing of a place to work by the employer to the individual who performs the services. In general, if an individual is subject to the control or direction of an employer merely as to the result to be accomplished by the work and not as to the means and methods for accomplishing the result, he is an independent contractor. An individual performing services as an independent contractor is not, as to such services, an employee within the meaning of the Act.

Generally, an individual performing services for an employer as defined in section 1 (a) as a physician, lawyer, dentist, veterinarian, contractor, subcontractor, public stenographer, or auctioneer, who follows an independent profession, trade, or business, in which he offers his services to the public, is an independent contractor. Individuals following the callings mentioned may, however, be employees.

Whether or not an individual is an employee will be determined upon an examination of the particular facts of the case.

If an individual is an employee, it is of no consequence that he is designated as a partner, coadventurer, agent, independent contractor, or otherwise, or that he performs services on a part-time basis. The age of the individual, or the measurement, method, or designation of the remuneration, is immaterial, if he is in fact an employee.

The Act makes no distinction between classes or grades of employees. Thus, superintendents, managers, and other superior employees are employees within the meaning of the Act. An officer of an employer is an employee. A director is not an employee unless he performs services other than those required by attendance at and participation in meetings of the board of directors.

In determining whether an individual is an employee within the meaning of the Act, the citizenship or residence of the individual, or the place where the contract for the services was entered into is immaterial. If an individual performs services for an employer which does not conduct the principal part of its business within the United States, such individual shall be deemed to be in the service of such employer only to the extent that he performs services for it in the United States. In all other cases it is immaterial whether the services are performed within or without the United States.

(b) Employees of local lodges or divisions of railway labor organizations.—An individual who is in the service of a local lodge or division of a railway labor organization which is included as an employer under section 1 (a) (see article 2 (f)), is not an employee within the meaning of the Act unless, on or after August 29, 1935, he was either—

(1) In the service of a carrier; that is, on or after August 29, 1935, the individual must have been subject to the continuing authority of a carrier to supervise and direct the manner of the performance of services being rendered by such individual for compensation (see paragraph (a) above of this article), or

(2) In the "employment relation" to a carrier; that is, the individual on or after August 29, 1935, in accordance with established rules and practices in effect on the carrier, was on furlough subject to call for service within or without the United States and ready and willing to serve, or on leave of absence, or absent on account of sickness or disability. However, an individual shall not be deemed to have been on August 29, 1935, in the "employment relation" to a carrier not conducting the principal part of its business in the United States, unless during the last pay-roll period in which such individual rendered service to the carrier prior to such date, he rendered service to the carrier within the United States.

(For definition of "carrier," see section 1 (i) and article 2 (a).)

SECTION 1 (C) OF THE ACT

(c) The term "employee representative" means any officer or official representative of a railway labor organization other than a labor organization included in the term "employer" as defined in section 1 (a), who before or after the enactment hereof was in the service of an employer as defined in section 1 (a) and who is duly authorized and designated to represent employees in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, as amended, and any individual who is regularly assigned to or regularly employed by such officer or official representative in connection with the duties of his office.

ART. 4. Who are employee representatives.—An employee representative within the meaning of the Act is—

(a) Any officer or official representative of a railway labor organization which is not included as an employer under section 1 (a) of the Act who—

(1) was in the service of an employer either before or after June 29, 1937, and

(2) is duly authorized and designated to represent employees in accordance with the Railway Labor Act, as amended.

(For railway labor organizations which are employers under section 1 (a) of the Act, see articles 2 (e) and (f).)

(b) Any individual who is regularly assigned to or regularly employed by an employee representative as defined in paragraph (a) of this article, in connection with the duties of such employee representative's office.

In determining whether an individual is an employee representative, his age, citizenship, and residence, are immaterial.

SECTION 1 (E) OF THE ACT

(e) The term "compensation" means any form of money remuneration earned by an individual for services rendered as an employee to one or more employers, or as an employee representative, including remuneration paid for time lost as an employee, but remuneration paid for time lost shall be deemed earned in the month in which such time is lost. Such term does not include tips, or the voluntary payment by an employer, without deduction from the remuneration of the employee, of the tax imposed on such employee by section 2 of this Act. Compensation which is earned during the period for which the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall require a return of taxes hereunder to be made and which is payable during the calendar month following such period shall be deemed to have been paid during such period only.

* * * * * *

The compensation of an employee representative for the purpose of ascertaining the tax thereon shall be determined in the same manner and with the same effect as if the employee organization by which such employee representative is employed were an employer as defined in section 1 (a) of this Act.

ART. 5. Definition of "compensation."—The term compensation means all remuneration in money, or in something which may be used in lieu of money (scrip and merchandise orders, for example), which is earned by an individual for services performed as an employee for one or more employers, or as an employee representative. The term is not confined to amounts earned or paid for active service but includes amounts earned or paid for periods during which the employee or employee representative is absent from active service. The term does not include tips, or the voluntary payment by an employer of the employee's tax, without the deduction of such tax from the remuneration of the employee. (As to when compensation is earned, see article 7.)

ART. 6. Items included as compensation.—The following items are included in compensation with respect to employees and in analogous situations with respect to employee representatives—

(a) Salaries, wages, commissions, fees, bonuses, and any other remuneration in money or in something which may be used in lieu of money. The name by which remuneration is designated, the amount, and the basis upon which it is paid are immaterial. It may be paid upon the basis of piece work, a percentage of profits, or on a daily, hourly, weekly, monthly, annual, or other basis.

(b) Sick pay, vacation allowances, or back pay upon reinstatement after wrongful discharge.

(c) Allowance or reimbursement for traveling or other expenses incurred in the business of the employer to the extent of the excess of such amount, if any, over such expenses actually incurred and accounted for by the employee.

(d) Generally, premiums paid by an employer on a policy of life insurance covering the life of an employee if the employer is not a beneficiary under the policy. However, premiums paid by an employer on policies of group life insurance covering the lives of his employees are not compensation if the employee has no option to take the amount of the premiums instead of accepting the insurance and has no equity in the policy (such as the right of assignment or the right to the surrender value on termination of his employment).

(e) Amounts deducted from the remuneration of an employee, including the amount of the employees' tax deducted pursuant to section 2 (b), constitute compensation paid to the employee.

(f) Payments made by an employer into a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing fund if such payments inure to the exclusive benefit of the employee and may be withdrawn by the employee at any time, or upon resignation or dismissal or if the contract for services requires such payment as part of the remuneration. Whether or not under other circumstances such payments constitute compensation depends upon the particular facts of each case.

ART 7. Compensation—when earned.—Compensation is earned when and as an employee or employee representative, as such, performs services for which he is paid or for which there is a present or future obligation to pay, regardless of the time at which payment is made or is to be made. Remuneration paid for any period of absence from active service shall be deemed to have been earned in the month in which such absence from service occurred. (See articles 5 and 6.)

ART. 8. Compensation — when paid.—Compensation is deemed to be paid—

(1) when it is actually paid; or

(2) when it is constructively paid, that is, credited to the account of or set apart for an employee without any substantial limitation or restriction as to the time or manner of payment or condition upon which payment is to be made, and made available to him so that it may be drawn upon at any time and its payment brought within his own control and disposition; or

(3) within the period for which a return of tax is required to be made if the compensation was earned during such period and is payable during the calendar month following such period. (See article 501, relating to periods for which a return of tax is required.)

Example (A).—During September, 1938 (which falls in a period for which a return of tax is required to be made), A is employed by employer B at a monthly salary of $150, half of which is payable on the 25th of the month in which the services are performed and the other half on the 10th of the following month. Thus on October 10, A is paid $75 which was earned during September. That $75 is deemed to have been paid to A in September and should be included in B's return for the quarter July, August, and September.

Example (B).—During December, 1937 (which falls in a period for which a return of tax is required to be made), A is employed by employer B on the basis of a 6-day week at a weekly salary of $60 payable on Saturday of each week. Thus on Saturday, January 1, 1938, A is paid $60 for services performed during the week December 27, 1937, to January 1, 1938, inclusive. In such case five-sixths of that amount or $50 is deemed to have been paid in December and should be included in B's return filed for the period in which December falls. The balance of A's salary for that week ($10) should be included in the return filed for the period in which January, 1938, falls. (But see article 501 (b), relating to period covered by return where employer pays on a weekly basis. See article 7 as to when compensation is deemed earned; also article 202 relating to applicable rate of employees' tax.)

CHAPTER II—EMPLOYEES' TAX

SECTION 2 (A) OF THE ACT

(a) In addition to other taxes, there shall be levied, collected, and paid upon the income of every employee a tax equal to the following percentages of so much of the compensation of such employee as is not in excess of $300 for any calendar month, earned by him after December 31, 1936—

1. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1937, 1938, and 1939, the rate shall be 2¾ per centum;
2. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1940, 1941, and 1942, the rate shall be 3 per centum;
3. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1943, 1944, and 1945, the rate shall be 3¼ per centum;
4. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1946, 1947, and 1948, the rate shall be 3½ per centum;
5. With respect to compensation earned after December 31, 1948, the rate shall be 3¾ per centum;

ART. 201. Measure of employees' tax.—The employees' tax is measured by the amount of compensation earned by an individual as an employee for services rendered to one or more employers on and after January 1, 1937, excluding, however, the amount of such compensation in excess of $300 which is earned by the employee for services performed during any one calendar month. (See articles 5, 6, and 7, relating to compensation.)

ART. 202. Rates and computation of employees' tax.—The rates of employees' tax applicable for the respective calendar years are as follows:

| | Per cent |
|---|---|
| For the calendar years 1937, 1938, 1939 | 2¾ |
| For the calendar years 1940, 1941, 1942 | 3 |
| For the calendar years 1943, 1944, 1945 | 3¼ |
| For the calendar years 1946, 1947, 1948 | 3½ |
| For the calendar year 1949 and subsequent calendar years | 3¾ |

The employees' tax is computed by applying to the amount of the employee's compensation with respect to which the employees' tax is imposed the rate in effect at the time the compensation was earned.

SECTION 2 (B) OF THE ACT

(b) The tax imposed by this section shall be collected by the employer of the taxpayer by deducting the amount of the tax from the compensation of the employee as and when paid. If an employee is paid compensation by more than one employer with respect to any calendar month, then, under regulations made under this Act, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may prescribe the proportion of the tax to be deducted by each employer from the compensation paid by him to the employee with respect to such month. Every employer required under this subsection to deduct the tax is hereby made liable for the payment of such tax and shall not be liable to any person for the amount of any such payment.

SECTION 607 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1934, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 7 (C) OF THE ACT

Whenever any person is required to collect or withhold any internal-revenue tax from any other person and to pay such tax over to the United States, the amount of tax so collected or withheld shall be held to be a special fund in trust for the United States. The amount of such fund shall be assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner and subject to the same provisions and limitations (including penalties) as are applicable with respect to the taxes from which such fund arose.

ART. 203. Collection of, and liability for, employees' tax.—(a) The employer shall collect the employees' tax imposed with respect to the compensation not in excess of $300 earned for any calendar month by each of his employees, by deducting or causing to be deducted the amount of such tax from such compensation as and when paid. (As to time when compensation is deemed to be paid, see article 8.)

(b) If during any calendar month an employee earns compensation from two or more employers, and if the aggregate of such compensation is more than $300, the employees' tax shall be deducted by each employer from the amount of compensation with respect to which the employers' tax is imposed (see section 3 (a) and article 301 (b)), as and when such compensation is paid by him to the employee. Any undercollection or overcollection of employees' tax resulting from the employer's inability to determine, at the time compensation is paid, the correct amount with respect to which the deduction should be made shall be corrected in accordance with the provisions of Chapter VI, relating to adjustment of employees' tax and employers' tax, and Chapter VII, relating to credits and refunds.

(c) In collecting the employees' tax, the employer shall disregard any fractional part of a cent of such tax unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to 1 cent.

(d) The employer is liable for the employees' tax with respect to compensation paid by him subsequent to June 28, 1937, whether or not collected from the employee. If at any time subsequent to that date the employer deducts less than the correct amount of employees' tax or fails to deduct any part of the tax, he is nevertheless liable for the correct amount of the tax. With respect to compensation earned by any employee for the period from January 1, 1937, to June 28, 1937, inclusive, the employer shall be liable for the employees' tax only to the extent that the employer has under his control at any time subsequent to June 28, 1937, amounts of compensation earned at any time by the employee, or amounts deducted by the employer from the compensation of the employee under the Act of August 29, 1935. Until collected from him, the employee is also liable for the employees' tax. Any employees' tax collected by or on behalf of an employer is a special fund in trust for the United States. An employer is not liable to any person for the amount of the employees' tax deducted by him and paid to the collector.

See Chapter V, relating to returns and payment of employees' tax; articles 601 and 602, relating to adjustment of employees' tax; articles 803, 804, and 805, relating to interest and penalties.

CHAPTER III—EMPLOYERS' TAX

SECTION 3 (A) OF THE ACT

(a) In addition to other taxes, every employer shall pay an excise tax with respect to having individuals in his employ, equal to the following percentages of so much of the compensation as is not in excess of $300 for any calendar month paid by him to any employee for services rendered to him after December 31, 1936: Provided, however, That if an employee is paid compensation by more than one employer with respect to any such calendar month, the tax imposed by this section shall apply to not more than $300 of the aggregate compensation paid to said employee by all said employers with respect to such calendar month, and eac hsuch employer shall be liable for that proportion of the tax with respect to such compensation which his payment to the employee with respect to such calendar month bears to the aggregate compensation paid to such employee by all employers with respect to such calendar month:

1. With respect to compensation paid to employees for services rendered during the calendar years 1937, 1938, and 1939, the rate shall be 2¾ per centum;
2. With respect to compensation paid to employees for services rendered during the calendar years 1940, 1941, and 1942, the rate shall be 3 per centum;
3. With respect to compensation paid to employees for services rendered during the calendar years 1943, 1944, and 1945, the rate shall be 3¼ per centum;
4. With respect to compensation paid to employees for services rendered during the calendar years 1946, 1947, and 1948, the rate shall be 3½ per centum;
5. With respect to compensation paid to employees for services rendered after December 31, 1948, the rate shall be 3¾ per centum.

ART. 301. Measure of employers' tax.—(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this article, the employers' tax is measured by the amount of compensation paid by an employer to his employees for services performed on and after January 1, 1937, excluding, however, the amount of compensation in excess of $300 which is paid by the employer to any employee for services performed during any one calendar month.

(b) If an employer pays compensation to an employee who is also paid compensation by any other employer for services performed during the same calendar month, and if the aggregate compensation paid to such employee by all employers is more than $300 for the calendar month, then there is included in the measure of each employer's tax only that proportion of $300 which each employer's payment to the employee for the month bears to the aggregate compensation paid to such employee by all of his employers for that month. (See articles 5, 6, and 8, relating to "compensation," and article 603, relating to adjustments.)

Example 1.—A performs services during August, 1937, for employer X and is paid for the month a salary of $400. X is liable for the employers' tax with respect to $300.

Example 2.—A performs services during August, 1937, for employers X and Y and is paid for the month a salary of $150 by each. Since A's aggregate compensation was not in excess of $300, each employer is liable for the employers' tax with respect to $150.

Example 3.—A performs services during August, 1937, for employers X and Y and is paid for the month a salary of $200 by X and a salary of $300 by Y, or an aggregate compensation of $500 for the month. In such case X pays two-fifths of A's aggregate compensation and Y pays three-fifths. X, therefore, is liable for the employers' tax with respect to two-fifths of $300, or $120, and Y is liable for the employers' tax with respect to three-fifths of $300, or $180.

ART. 302. Rates and computation of employers' tax.—The rates of employers' tax applicable for the respective calendar years are as follows:

| | Per cent |
|---|---|
| For the calendar years 1937, 1938, 1939 | 2¾ |
| For the calendar years 1940, 1941, 1942 | 3 |
| For the calendar years 1943, 1944, 1945 | 3¼ |
| For the calendar years 1946, 1947, 1948 | 3½ |
| For the calendar year 1949 and subsequent calendar years | 3¾ |

The employers' tax is computed by applying to the amount of compensation with respect to which the employers' tax is imposed the rate in effect at the time of the performance of the services for which the compensation was paid.

CHAPTER IV—EMPLOYEE REPRESENTATIVES' TAX

SECTION 5 OF THE ACT

In addition to other taxes, there shall be levied, collected, and paid upon the income of each employee representative a tax equal to the following percentages of so much of the compensation of such employee representative as is not in excess of $300 for any calendar month, earned by him after December 31, 1936:

1. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1937, 1938, and 1939, the rate shall be 5½ per centum;
2. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1940, 1941, and 1942, the rate shall be 6 per centum;
3. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1943, 1944, and 1945, the rate shall be 6½ per centum;
4. With respect to compensation earned during the calendar years 1946, 1947, and 1948, the rate shall be 7 per centum;
5. With respect to compensation earned after December 31, 1948, the rate shall be 7½ per centum.

The compensation of an employee representative for the purpose of ascertaining the tax thereon shall be determined in the same manner and with the same effect as if the employee organization by which such employee representative is employed were an employer as defined in section 1 (a) of this Act.

ART. 401. Measure of employee representatives' tax.—The employee representatives' tax is measured by so much of the compensation earned by an individual for services rendered on and after January 1, 1937, as an employee representative, as does not exceed $300 for any calendar month. (See articles 5, 6, and 7, relating to compensation.)

ART. 402. Rates and computation of employee representatives' tax.—The rates of employee representatives' tax applicable for the respective calendar years are as follows:

| | Per cent |
|---|---|
| For the calendar years 1937, 1938, 1939 | 5½ |
| For the calendar years 1940, 1941, 1942 | 6 |
| For the calendar years 1943, 1944, 1945 | 6½ |
| For the calendar years 1946, 1947, 1948 | 7 |
| For the calendar year 1949 and subsequent calendar years | 7½ |

The employee representatives' tax is computed by applying to the amount of compensation with respect to which the employee representatives' tax is imposed the rate in effect at the time of the performance of the services for which the compensation was earned.

CHAPTER V—RETURNS AND PAYMENT OF TAX

SECTION 7 (A), (D), (C), AND (D) OF THE ACT

(a) The taxes imposed by this Act shall be collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States as internal-revenue collections.

(b) The taxes imposed by this Act shall be collected and paid quarterly or at such other times and in such manner and under such conditions not inconsistent with this Act as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. If a tax imposed by this Act is not paid when due, there shall be added as part of the tax (except in the case of adjustments made in accordance with the provisions of this Act) interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date the tax became due until paid.

(c) All provisions of law, including penalties, applicable with respect to any tax imposed by section 600 or section 800 of the Revenue Act of 1926, and the provisions of section 607 of the Revenue Act of 1934, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, shall be applicable with respect to the taxes imposed by this Act.

(d) In the payment of any tax under this Act, a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to 1 cent.

SECTION 602 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 7 (C) OF THE ACT

Every person liable for any tax • • • shall make • • • returns under oath • • • and pay the taxes • • • to the collector for the district in which is located the principal place of business. Such returns shall contain such information and be made at such times and in such manner as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulations prescribe.

The tax shall, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, be due and payable to the collector at the time so fixed for filing the return. • • •

(a) Every person liable to any tax imposed by this Act, or for the collection thereof, shall keep such records, render under oath such statements, make such returns, and comply with such rules and regulations, as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe.

(b) Whenever in the judgment of the Commissioner necessary he may require any person, by notice served upon him, to make a return, render under oath such statements, or keep such records as the Commissioner deems sufficient to show whether or not such person is liable to tax.

(c) The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulation prescribe that any return required by any internal revenue law (except returns required under income or estate tax laws) to be under oath may, if the amount of the tax covered thereby is not in excess of $10, be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses instead of under oath.

(d) Any oath or affirmation required by the provisions of this Act or regulations made under authority thereof may be administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by the law of the United States or of any State, Territory, or possession of the United States, wherein such oath or affirmation is administered, or by any consular officer of the United States.

SECTION 3165 OF THE UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED

Every collector, deputy collector, internal-revenue agent, and internal-revenue officer assigned to duty under an internal-revenue agent, is authorized to administer oaths and to take evidence touching any part of the administration of the internal-revenue laws with which he is charged, or where such oaths and evidence are authorized by law or regulation authorized by law to be taken.

SECTION 3176 OF THE UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1103 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926 AND SECTION 619 (D) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928

If any person, corporation, company, or association fails to make and file a return or list at the time prescribed by law or by regulation made under authority of law, or makes, willfully or otherwise, a false or fraudulent return or list, the collector or deputy collector shall make the return or list from his own knowledge and from such information as he can obtain through testimony or otherwise. In any such case the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may, from his own knowledge and from such information as he can obtain through testimony or otherwise, make a return or amend any return made by a collector or deputy collector. Any return or list so made and subscribed by the Commissioner, or by a collector or deputy collector and approved by the Commissioner, shall be prima facie good and sufficient for all legal purposes. • • •

ART. 501. Initial and quarterly returns of tax.—(a) General.—For the period beginning January 1, 1937, and ending September 30, 1937, and for each subsequent period of three calendar months ending December 31, March 31, June 30, and September 30, each employer shall prepare a return of tax, in quadruplicate, on Form CT–1 and each employee representative shall prepare a return of tax, in quadruplicate, on Form CT–2. Each employer and employee representative is required to file his own return. Consolidated returns of parent and subsidiary corporations are not permitted.

(b) Returns of employers required by State law to pay compensation on weekly basis.—If any employer is required by the laws of any State to pay compensation weekly, the return of tax with respect to such compensation may, at the election of such employer, cover all pay-roll weeks which, or the major part of which, fall within the period for which a return of tax is required by paragraph (a) above. This provision shall not apply, however, to any pay-roll week which falls in two calendar years. Any employer who elects to file a return as provided in this paragraph shall notify the Commissioner in writing of such election and shall include therein a statement setting forth the facts which entitle him to make the election. Such notice shall be in duplicate and shall be attached to the return for the first period to which such election applies. Any election so made shall be binding upon the taxpayer with respect to all returns subsequently made by him until the Commissioner authorizes or directs the taxpayer to make a return on a different basis. For the purpose of determining the time when compensation is paid in accordance with article 8 (3), and of determining the due date of a return in accordance with article 505, the calendar month following the period covered by the return of an employer making such election is the same calendar month which would be determinative for such purposes if the employer had not made the election.

Example: Employer A is required by State law to pay his employees within six days after the compensation is earned. In compliance with the State law, Employer A, for services rendered to him for the period September 27 to October 2, 1937, pays his employees on the last-named date. September, 1937, is the last month of a period for which a return of tax is required to be filed. Employer A may elect to include in the return required under paragraph (a) of this article for the period January 1 to September 30, 1937, the compensation paid to his employees for the week of September 27 to October 2, 1937, inclusive, although the compensation for October 1 and 2 falls within another period for which a return is required under paragraph (a) of this article. If, in this example, the pay-roll week ended on October 5, 1937, the compensation paid for the pay-roll week September 29 to October 5 would be included in the return period in which October falls although the compensation earned for September 29 and 30 fell in a prior return period under the general rule.

ART. 502. Final returns.—The last return on Form CT–1 for any person who ceases to be an employer, shall be marked "Final return." Such return shall be filed with the collector on or before the thirtieth day after the date of the final payment of compensation with respect to which the tax is imposed. The period covered by each such return shall be plainly written on the return, indicating the date of the final payment of compensation.

The last return on Form CT–2 for any person who ceases to be an employee representative shall be marked "Final return."

There shall be executed as part of each final return a statement giving the address at which the records required by article 806 will be kept and the name of the person keeping the records.

ART. 503. Execution of returns.—Each return on Form CT–1 shall be signed and (except as provided in this article) verified under oath or affirmation by (1) the individual, if the employer is an individual; (2) the president, vice president, or other principal officer, if the employer is a corporation; or (3) a responsible and duly authorized member or officer having knowledge of its affairs, if the employer is a partnership or other unincorporated organization. Each return on Form CT–2 shall be signed and (except as provided in this article) verified under oath or affirmation by the employee representative.

The oath or affirmation may be administered by any officer duly authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by the law of the United States or of any State or Territory, wherein such oath is administered, or by a consular officer of the United States. Returns executed abroad may be attested free of charge before a United States consular officer. If a foreign notary or other official having no seal acts as attesting officer, the authority of such attesting officer should be certified to by some judicial officer or other proper officer having knowledge of the appointment and official character of the attesting officer. If the tax shown to be payable by any return is $10 or less, the return may be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses instead of under oath.

ART. 504. Use of prescribed forms.—Each return, together with any prescribed copies and supporting data, shall be filled out in accordance with the instructions contained thereon and the regulations applicable thereto. The prescribed forms may be obtained from collectors. A taxpayer will not be excused from making a return for the reason that no form has been furnished to him. Application should be made to the collector for the prescribed forms in ample time to have the return prepared, verified, and filed with the collector on or before the due date. Returns shall be carefully prepared so as fully and clearly to set forth the data therein called for. Returns which have not been so prepared will not be accepted as meeting the requirements of the Act. In case the prescribed form is not available, a statement made by the taxpayer disclosing for the period for which a return is required the amount of compensation with respect to which the tax is imposed, together with the amount of tax due, may be accepted as a tentative return. If filed within the prescribed time the statement so made will relieve the taxpayer from liability to the penalty imposed for the delinquent filing of the return by section 3176 of the United States Revised Statutes, as amended, and section 406 of the Revenue Act of 1935 (see article 805), provided that without unnecessary delay such tentative return is supplemented by a return made on the proper form.

ART. 505. Place and time for filing returns.—Each return on Form CT–1 shall be filed with the collector for the district in which is located the principal place of business of the employer. Each return on Form CT–2 shall be filed with the collector for the district in which is located the legal residence or principal place of business of the employee representative. If the employer has no principal place of business in the United States or if the employee representative has no legal residence or principal place of business in the United States, the return shall be filed with the collector at Baltimore, Md.

The return for the period January 1, 1937, to September 30, 1937, inclusive, shall be filed on or before November 30, 1937, and the return for each quarterly period thereafter shall be filed on or before the last day of the calendar month following the period for which it is made. If such last day falls on Sunday or a legal holiday, the return may be filed on the next following business day. If placed in the mails, the return shall be posted in ample time to reach the collector's office, under ordinary handling of the mails, on or before the date on which the return is required to be filed. As to additions to the tax in the case of failure to file the return within the prescribed time, see article 805.

ART. 506. Payment of tax.—The tax required to be reported on any return is due and payable to the collector without assessment by the Commissioner or notice by the collector, at the time fixed for filing the return. For provisions relating to interest, see article 803, and for provisions relating to penalties, see articles 804 and 805; also section 1114 of the Revenue Act of 1926, made applicable by section 7 (c) of the Act (see page 37).

ART. 507. When fractional part of cent may be disregarded.—In the payment of taxes to the collector a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to 1 cent. Fractional parts of a cent shall not be disregarded in the computation of taxes. See article 203 (c) for provisions relative to fractional parts of a cent in connection with the deduction of employees' tax from compensation.

CHAPTER VI—ADJUSTMENT OF EMPLOYEES' TAX AND EMPLOYERS' TAX

SECTION 2 (C) OF THE ACT

(c) If more or less than the correct amount of tax imposed by this section is paid with respect to any compensation payment, then, under regulations made under this Act by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, proper adjustments, with respect both to the tax and the amount to be deducted, shall be made, without interest, in connection with subsequent compensation payments to the same employee by the same employer.

SECTION 3 (B) OF THE ACT

(b) If more or less than the correct amount of the tax imposed by this section is paid with respect to any compensation payment, then, under regulations made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, proper adjustments with respect to the tax shall be made, without interest, in connection with subsequent excise-tax payments made by the same employer.

ART. 601. Adjustments in general.—Sections 2 (c) and 3 (b) of the Act provide in certain cases for the adjustment of errors in the payment of employees' tax and employers' tax without the formality of a claim being filed for refund or credit of an overpayment or without formal demand being made by the collector for payment of any additional amount due by reason of an underpayment. Not all corrections of erroneous collections or payments of tax, however, constitute "adjustments" within the meaning of the Act and these regulations. The various situations under which such adjustments shall be made are set forth in articles 602 and 603. Such articles also contain provisions relating to settlement other than by adjustment under certain circumstances set forth therein. Chapter VII deals further with settlement other than by adjustment. If an employer makes an erroneous collection of employees' tax from two or more of his employees, a separate adjustment must be made with respect to each employee. Thus, an overcollection of employees' tax from one employee may not be used to offset an undercollection of such tax from another. No interest shall be allowed or collected with respect to any erroneous collection or payment adjusted pursuant to article 602 or 603.

ART. 602. Adjustment of employees' tax.—(a) Undercollections.—(1) Prior to filing of return.—If no employees' tax or less than the correct amount of employees' tax is deducted from any payment of compensation to an employee and the error is discovered prior to the time the return of tax with respect to such compensation is filed with the collector, the employer shall nevertheless report on such return and pay to the collector the correct amount of employees' tax. While, in such case, the employer may reimburse himself by deductions from subsequent remuneration of the employee, such deductions do not constitute adjustments within the meaning of this article, and shall not be reported as adjustments on any return.

(2) After return is filed.—If no employees' tax or less than the correct amount of employees' tax is deducted from any payment of compensation to an employee, and the correct amount of such tax is not reported and paid pursuant to paragraph (1), the employer shall adjust the undercollection by deducting the amount thereof from the first payment of compensation made to such employee after the error is discovered. Amounts so deducted shall be reported as adjustments on the return for the quarter in which deducted. The undercollection shall be deducted from such first payment of compensation in addition to the employees' tax imposed with respect to such compensation. If the individual whose employees' tax was undercollected leaves the employ of the employer who failed to make the deduction and is entitled to no further remuneration from such employer, the undercollection is not adjustable under this article. In such case if the undercollection has not been reported and paid pursuant to paragraph (1), the employer shall report and pay the tax with the next quarterly return filed after discovery of the error. No undercollection of employees' tax shall be adjusted after receipt from the collector of formal notice and demand for payment thereof based upon assessment approved by the Commissioner, but the amount shall be paid pursuant to such notice and demand. While in such case the employer may reimburse himself by deductions from remuneration of the employee, such deductions do not constitute adjustments within the meaning of this article and shall not be reported as adjustments on any return.

(b) Overcollections.—(1) Prior to filing of return.—If an employer (A) collects more than the correct amount of employees' tax from any employee with respect to any quarterly period, and (B) reimburses the employee in the amount of the overcollection prior to the time the return for such period is filed with the collector, then the employer shall not report or pay to the collector the amount of the overcollection. Such reimbursement does not constitute an adjustment within the meaning of this article and shall not be reported as an adjustment on any return. However, every overcollection not repaid to the employee as provided in this paragraph must be reported and paid to the collector with the return for the quarter in which the overcollection took place.

(2) After return is filed.—If an employer collects from any employee and pays to the collector more than the correct amount of employees' tax, the employer shall adjust the overcollection when the first payment of compensation is made to the employee after discovery of the error. The adjustment shall be made by applying the overcollection against the employees' tax which is imposed with respect to such first payment of compensation, and by deducting the remainder, if any, of the tax from such compensation. In case the overcollection is greater in amount than the employees' tax imposed with respect to such first payment of compensation, the balance shall be applied against the employees' tax imposed with respect to the next consecutive payments of compensation until the adjustment is completed. No adjustment shall be made under this paragraph after the expiration of four years after the overcollection was paid to the collector. A claim for credit or refund (in accordance with articles 701 and 702) may be filed within such 4-year period for such part of any overcollection as can not be adjusted within such period. After the employee leaves the employ of the employer who made an overcollection and is entitled to no further compensation from such employer, adjustments under this article are not permitted. In such case the employer may pay the amount of the overcollection, or such part thereof as remains unadjusted under this article, to the employee, and file a claim for credit or refund in accordance with articles 701 and 702. In lieu of paying such amount prior to filing a claim, the employer may obtain the employee's written consent to allowance of the claim.

ART. 603. Adjustment of employers' tax.—(a) Underpayments.—If no employers' tax or less than the correct amount of employers' tax is paid with respect to any payment of compensation, the employer shall adjust the error by (1) reporting the additional amount due by reason of the underpayment as additional tax on his next return filed after the discovery of the error and (2) paying the amount thereof to the collector at the time such return is filed. However, no underpayment shall be adjusted under this article after receipt from the collector of formal notice and demand for payment thereof based upon an assessment approved by the Commissioner, but the amount thereof shall be paid to the collector pursuant to such notice and demand.

(b) Overpayments.—If an employer pays more than the correct amount of employers' tax, the employer shall adjust the error by applying the excess payment as a credit against the tax due upon his next return filed after the discovery of the error. No overpayment shall be adjusted under this article after the expiration of four years after the date the overpayment was made to the collector.

CHAPTER VII—CREDITS AND REFUNDS

SECTION 4 OF THE ACT

If more * * * than the correct amount of the tax imposed by section 2 (a) or 3 (a) of this Act is paid or deducted with respect to any compensation payment and the overpayment * * * of the tax cannot be adjusted under section 2 (c) or 3 (b), the amount of the overpayment shall be refunded * * * in such manner and at such times (subject to the statute of limitations properly applicable thereto) as may be prescribed by regulations under this Act as made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

SECTION 1120 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 7 (C) OF THE ACT

In the case of any overpayment or overcollection of any tax imposed by Title * * * VI, the person making such overpayment or overcollection may take credit therefor against taxes due upon any * * * return, and shall make refund of any excessive amount collected by him upon proper application by the person entitled thereto.

SECTION 3220 OF UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1111 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926 AND SECTION 619 (B) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928

Except as otherwise provided * * * the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to remit, refund, and pay back all taxes erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, all penalties collected without authority, and all taxes that appear to be unjustly assessed or excessive in amount, or in any manner wrongfully collected; * * *.

SECTION 3228 (A) OF UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1112 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926 AND SECTION 619 (C) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928 AND SECTION 1106 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932

(a) All claims for the refunding or crediting of any internal-revenue tax alleged to have been erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, or of any penalty alleged to have been collected without authority, or of any sum alleged to have been excessive or in any manner wrongfully collected must * * * be presented to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue within four years next after the payment of such tax, penalty, or sum. The amount of the refund * * * shall not exceed the portion of the tax, penalty, or sum paid during the four years immediately preceding the filing of the claim, or if no claim was filed, then during the four years immediately preceding the allowance of the refund.

SECTION 3477 OF UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES

All transfers and assignments made of any claim upon the United States, or of any part or share thereof, or interest therein, whether absolute or conditional, and whatever may be the consideration therefor, and all powers of attorney, orders, or other authorities for receiving payment of any such claim, or of any part or share thereof, shall be absolutely null and void, unless they are freely made and executed in the presence of at least two attesting witnesses, after the allowance of such a claim, the ascertainment of the amount due, and the issuing of a warrant for the payment thereof. Such transfers, assignments, and powers of attorney, must recite the warrant for payment, and must be acknowledged by the person making them, before an officer having authority to take acknowledgments of deeds, and shall be certified by the officer; and it must appear by the certificate that the officer, at the time of the acknowledgment, read and fully explained the transfer, assignment, or warrant of attorney to the person acknowledging the same.

ART. 701. Credit or refund in general.—(a) A claim for credit or refund shall be made on Form 843 in accordance with the instructions printed on such form and in accordance with these regulations. It should be clearly indicated on the form whether the claim is for credit or refund. Each claim for credit must be attached to the return on which the credit is claimed. The prescribed form may be obtained from any collector. There shall be set forth under oath all grounds in detail and all facts alleged in support of the claim including the amount and date of each payment to the collector of the tax for which credit or refund is claimed, the name and address of the person who paid the tax to the collector, and the period covered by the return on which such tax was reported.

(b) If any tax is paid by or on behalf of an individual who thereafter dies and a claim for refund or credit is filed by a legal representative of the deceased, certified copies of the letters testamentary, letters of administration, or other similar evidence shall be annexed to the claim, to show the authority of the executor, administrator, or other fiduciary by whom the claim is filed. If an executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, receiver, or other fiduciary pays any tax and thereafter a claim for refund or credit is filed by the same fiduciary, documentary evidence to establish the legal authority of the fiduciary need not accompany the claim, provided a statement is made in the claim showing that the tax was paid by the fiduciary and that the latter is still acting. In such cases, if a refund or interest is to be paid, letters testamentary, letters of administration, or other evidence may be required, but should be submitted only upon the receipt of a specific request therefor. If a claim is filed by a fiduciary other than the one by whom the tax was paid, the necessary documentary evidence shall accompany the claim. The affidavit on the claim form may be made by the agent of the person assessed, but in such case a power of attorney shall accompany the claim.

(c) No credit or refund will be allowed for any tax (including interest or penalty, if any) which has been erroneously, illegally, or otherwise wrongfully collected, after the expiration of four years after the payment to the collector of tax, penalty, or interest, except upon one or more of the grounds set forth in a claim filed prior to the expiration of such 4-year period.

ART. 702. Credit or refund of overpayments of tax under this Act which are not adjustable.—(a) If more than the correct amount of tax (including interest or penalty, if any) is paid to the collector and if the overpayment can not be adjusted pursuant to article 602 or 603, the person paying such tax to the collector may take a credit for such overpayment upon any return of tax subsequently filed or may file a claim for refund of such overpayment. In case a credit is taken under this article, a claim on Form 843 is not required, but the return on which such credit is taken shall have securely attached thereto a statement under oath, setting forth in detail the grounds and facts relied upon in support of the credit.

(b) In case a credit is taken on any return or a claim is filed by an employer for refund of employees' tax as provided by paragraph (a), the employer shall attach to the return on which a credit is taken, or shall include in the claim, a statement that he has repaid the tax to the employee or has secured the written consent of such employee to allowance of the refund or credit. In every such case the employer shall keep as part of his records the written receipt of the employee acknowledging payment or the written consent of the employee, whichever is used in support of the credit or refund.

(c) If (1) more than the correct amount of employees' tax is collected by an employer from an employee and paid to the collector; and (2) the employee leaves the employ of such employer; and (3) the employee does not receive reimbursement by way of adjustment or otherwise from such employer and does not authorize the employer to file a claim and receive refund or credit, then such employee may file a claim for a refund of such overpayment. (For claims filed by a legal representative, see article 701 (b).)

(d) In case a claim for refund is filed by an employee as provided by paragraph (c), the claimant shall attach to the claim a statement of a responsible officer of the employer giving the complete details of the overcollection, including the date and amount and a statement by such officer showing that the employer has not reimbursed the employee in the amount of the overcollection and showing the amount, if any, of any credit or refund of such overcollection claimed or to be claimed by such employer.

SECTION 7 (E) OF THE ACT

(e) Any tax paid under this Act by a taxpayer with respect to any period with respect to which he is not liable to tax under this Act shall be credited against the tax, if any, imposed by title VIII of the Social Security Act upon such taxpayer, and the balance, if any, shall be refunded. Any tax paid under title VIII of the Social Security Act by a taxpayer with respect to any period with respect to which he is not liable to tax under such title VIII shall be credited against the tax, if any, imposed by this Act upon such taxpayer, and the balance, if any, shall be refunded.

SECTION 9 (A) OF THE ACT

(a) The term "employment", as defined in subsection (b) of section 811 of title VIII of the Social Security Act, shall not include service performed by an individual as an employee as defined in section 1 (b) or service performed as an employee representative as defined in section 1 (c).

ART. 703. Credit and refund of taxes paid under Title VIII of the Social Security Act for period during which liability existed under this Act.—If any person pays any tax imposed by Title VIII of the Social Security Act with respect to any period for which he was not liable for such tax but was liable with respect to such period for a tax imposed under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, the amount paid as tax under Title VIII of the Social Security Act shall be credited against the amount of tax for which such person is liable under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 and the balance, if any, shall be refunded. Each person claiming a credit or refund of any such tax shall file a claim in accordance with article 701.

ART. 704. Credit and refund of taxes paid under this Act for period during which liability existed under Title VIII of the Social Security Act.—If any person pays any tax imposed by this Act with respect to any period for which he was not liable for such tax but was liable with respect to such period for a tax imposed under Title VIII of the Social Security Act, the amount paid as tax under this Act shall be credited against the tax for which such person is liable under Title VIII of the Social Security Act and the balance, if any, shall be refunded. Each person claiming any such refund shall file a claim therefor in accordance with article 701.

SECTION 11 OF THE ACT

The provisions of this Act are in substitution for the provisions of the Act of August 29, 1935, as amended, entitled "An Act to levy an excise tax upon carriers and an income tax upon their employees, and for other purposes", which is hereby repealed. All moneys payable as and for taxes under such Act of August 29, 1935, and not heretofore paid shall cease to be payable and all proceedings pending for the recovery of any such moneys shall be terminated. All sums paid into the Treasury of the United States as and for taxes under such Act shall be refunded, except so much of the sums so paid as and for taxes with respect to compensation earned after December 31, 1936, as equals the taxes imposed by this Act with respect to the same persons and the same period, and the sums not required to be so refunded shall be retained in the Treasury of the United States and credited on taxes due and payable under this Act. All sums deducted by employers from the compensation of employees as and for taxes under such Act of August 29, 1935, which have not been paid into the Treasury of the United States shall be repaid by such employers to such employees, except so much of the sums so deducted as and for taxes in respect of compensation earned after December 31, 1936, as equals the taxes imposed and required to be deducted by this Act with respect to the same persons and the same period, and the sums not required to be so repaid shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and thereupon shall be credited on taxes due and payable under this Act. No interest shall be allowed or paid with respect to any sum refunded, credited, or repaid under the provisions of this section.

ART. 705. Credit and refund of taxes imposed under the Act of August 29, 1935, which were paid to the collector.—(a) General.—Every claim for refund or credit under the provisions of this article shall be made on Form 843 in accordance with the provisions of this article and article 701. A claim which does not comply with these requirements will not be considered for any purpose as a claim for refund or credit. No interest shall be allowed with respect to any refunds or credits provided for by this article.

(b) Representatives' tax.—Every individual who as a representative, as defined in section 1 (b) of the Act of August 29, 1935, paid to the collector any representatives' tax under such Act with respect to remuneration earned prior to January 1, 1937, may obtain a refund of the amount of such tax. Every individual who as a representative, as defined in section 1 (b) of the Act of August 29, 1935, paid to the collector any representatives' tax under such Act with respect to remuneration earned during the period January 1, 1937, to June 28, 1937, inclusive, may obtain a refund of the amount of such tax if he establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the employees' tax or employee representatives' tax for such period, if any, for which he is liable under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 has been paid to the collector. If the employees' tax or the employee representatives' tax for which an individual is liable under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 for the period January 1, 1937, to June 28, 1937, inclusive, has not been paid, then so much of the representatives' tax paid by such individual under the Act of August 29, 1935, with respect to remuneration earned during such period as is not in excess of the tax for which the individual is liable under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 for the same period shall be credited against such tax under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937. Such individual may obtain a refund of so much of the tax paid under the Act of August 29, 1935, as is in excess of the amount credited against his liability under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937. Any person claiming a refund or crediting any amount under this paragraph shall file a claim in accordance with paragraph (a) of this article.

(c) Carriers' tax for period March 2, 1936, to December 31, 1936.—Every carrier, as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act of August 29, 1935, which paid any carriers' tax imposed by that Act with respect to remuneration earned prior to January 1, 1937, may obtain a refund of such tax, or may obtain a credit for the amount thereof against the employers' tax imposed upon such carrier as an employer under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, by filing a claim pursuant to paragraph (a) of this article.

(d) Carriers' tax for period January 1, 1937, to June 28, 1937.—Every carrier as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act of August 29, 1935, which paid any carriers' tax imposed by that Act with respect to remuneration earned during the period January 1, 1937, to June 28, 1937, inclusive, shall credit against the amount of the employers' tax imposed for the same period upon such carrier as an employer under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, an equal amount of carriers' tax so paid under the Act of August 29, 1935. Each carrier required to credit any such tax shall file a claim therefor in accordance with paragraph (a) of this article. The carrier may obtain a refund of any balance of the carriers' tax paid under the Act of August 29, 1935, which remains after the allowance of the foregoing credit, or may obtain a credit for the amount of such balance against its employers' tax for any period subsequent to June 28, 1937, by filing a claim pursuant to paragraph (a) of this article.

(e) Employees' tax for period March 2, 1936, to December 31, 1936.—Every carrier as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act of August 29, 1935, which paid to the collector any employees' tax imposed by that Act upon its employees with respect to remuneration earned prior to January 1, 1937, may obtain a refund of such tax, or may obtain a credit for the amount thereof against the employees' tax imposed under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, by filing a claim pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (g) of this article.

(f) Employees' tax for period January 1, 1937, to June 28, 1937.—Every carrier as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act of August 29, 1935, which paid to the collector any employees' tax imposed by that Act upon its employees with respect to remuneration earned during the period January 1, 1937, to June 28, 1937, inclusive, shall credit against the amount of employees' tax imposed for the same period upon the same employees by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937, an equal amount of the employees' tax so paid with respect to such employees, under the Act of August 29, 1935. Each carrier required to credit the amount of any such tax shall file a claim covering the amount thereof in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (g) of this article. The carrier may obtain a refund of any balance of employees' tax paid under the Act of August 29, 1935, which remains after the allowance of the foregoing credit, or may obtain a credit for the amount of such balance against the employees' tax imposed for any period subsequent to June 28, 1937, by filing a claim pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (g) of this article.

(g) Statements required in connection with claims for refund or credit of employees' tax.—(1) Every carrier as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act of August 29, 1935, which files a claim for refund or credit of any employees' tax paid under such Act shall include in the claim a statement that it has either repaid the tax to the employee and has the employee's written receipt acknowledging payment, or has secured the written consent of the employee to allowance of the claim. If the claim is made with respect to a deceased employee, the carrier shall set out in such statement that he has repaid the tax to the legal representative of the deceased employee and has such representative's written receipt acknowledging payment, or has secured his written consent to allowance of the claim. (See article 806 (c).)

(2) If any individual whose employees' tax was paid to the collector under the Act of August 29, 1935, desires to file a claim for refund, there shall be attached to such claim a statement of a responsible officer of the carrier which employed him showing the amount, if any, of any credit taken or to be taken by such carrier against any employees' tax imposed by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 upon such employee. If the claim for such refund is filed by the legal representative of a deceased individual, there shall be attached thereto a statement of a responsible officer of the carrier showing the amount, if any, of any credits taken or to be taken by such carrier against any employees' tax imposed by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 upon such deceased individual, and the evidence required by article 701 (b) of his authority to act as such legal representative.

ART. 706. Employees' tax deducted from remuneration under the Act of August 29, 1935, and not paid to collector.—(a) For period March 2, 1936, to December 31, 1936.—Every carrier, as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act of August 29, 1935, which deducted the employees' tax imposed by such Act from remuneration earned by any individual prior to January 1, 1937, and which has not paid such tax to the collector, shall repay the tax to the individual from whom collected (or in the case of a deceased individual, to his legal representative). Each such carrier shall maintain records showing the amount of the tax thus repaid and the dates on which such amounts were repaid.

(b) For period subsequent to December 31, 1936.—(1) Every carrier, as defined in section 1 (a) of the Act of August 29, 1935, which deducted the employees' tax imposed by such Act from remuneration earned by any individual during any period subsequent to December 31, 1936, and which has not paid such tax to the collector, shall repay to the individual from whom collected (or in the case of a deceased individual, to his legal representative), any amount of such tax in excess of the employees' tax imposed by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 upon such individual for the same period. Each such carrier shall maintain records showing the amount of the tax thus repaid and the dates on which such amounts were repaid.

(2) So much of the sums not paid to the collector, which were deducted as tax from the compensation of an employee under the Act of August 29, 1935, with respect to compensation earned subsequent to December 31, 1936, as is not in excess of the employees' tax imposed by the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937 upon such employee for the same period, shall be paid to the collector the same as though such amounts had been deducted as and for employees' tax with respect to such compensation under the Carriers Taxing Act of 1937.

CHAPTER VIII—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Assessment and Collection of Underpayments

SECTION 4 OF THE ACT

If • • • less than the correct amount of the tax imposed by section 2 (a) or 3 (a) of this Act is paid or deducted with respect to any compensation payment and the • • • underpayment of the tax cannot be adjusted under section 2 (c) or 3 (b). • • • the amount of the underpayment shall be collected in such manner and at such times (subject to the statute of limitations properly applicable thereto) as may be prescribed by regulations under this Act as made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

ART. 801. Assessment and collection of underpayments.—If any employees' tax or employers' tax is not paid to the collector when due, the Commissioner may, as the circumstances warrant, assess the tax (whether or not the underpayment is adjustable) or afford the employer opportunity to adjust the underpayment pursuant to article 602 or 603. Unpaid employers' tax or employees' tax may be assessed against the employer. Employees' tax not collected by the employer may also be assessed against the employee. If any employee representatives' tax is not paid when due, it shall be assessed against the employee representative.

The amount of any underpayment, together with interest and penalty, if any, will be collected, pursuant to section 3184 of the United States Revised Statutes and other applicable provisions of law, from the person against whom assessment is made. If any amount of an assessment has been previously reported and paid to the collector as an adjustment or otherwise, the person against whom the assessment is made is privileged to file with the collector a claim on Form 843 for abatement of such amount, together with interest and penalties thereon if included in the assessment.

If an employer pays employees' tax pursuant to an assessment against him without an adjustment having been made pursuant to article 602, reimbursement with respect to such payment is a matter to be settled between the employer and the employee. See article 803, relating to interest, and article 804, relating to penalty for failure to pay an assessment after notice and demand. See also article 802, relative to jeopardy assessment.

Jeopardy Assessment

SECTION 1105 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 510 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1934

(a) If the Commissioner believes that the collection of any tax (other than income tax, estate tax, and gift tax) under any provision of the internal-revenue laws will be jeopardized by delay, he shall, whether or not the time otherwise prescribed by law for making return and paying such tax has expired, immediately assess such tax (together with all interest and penalties the assessment of which is provided for by law). Such tax, penalties, and interest shall thereupon become immediately due and payable, and immediate notice and demand shall be made by the collector for the payment thereof. Upon failure or refusal to pay such tax, penalty, and interest, collection thereof by distraint shall be lawful without regard to the period prescribed in section 3187 of the Revised Statutes, as amended.

(b) The collection of the whole or any part of the amount of such assessment may be stayed by filing with the collector a bond in such amount, not exceeding double the amount as to which the stay is desired, and with such sureties, as the collector deems necessary, conditioned upon the payment of the amount collection of which is stayed, at the time at which, but for this section, such amount would be due.

SECTION 3187 OF THE UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED

If any person liable to pay any taxes neglects or refuses to pay the same within ten days after notice and demand, it shall be lawful for the collector or his deputy to collect the said taxes, with five per centum additional thereto, and interest as aforesaid, by distraint and sale, in the manner hereafter provided, of the goods, chattels, or effects, including stocks, securities, bank accounts, and evidences of debt, of the person delinquent as aforesaid: • • •

ART. 802. Jeopardy assessment.—Whenever, in the opinion of the collector, it becomes necessary to protect the interests of the Government by effecting an immediate return and collection of the tax, the case should be promptly reported to the Commissioner by telegram or letter. The communication should recite the full name and address of the person involved, the amount of taxes due, the period involved, and a statement as to the reason for the recommendation, which will enable the Commissioner to assess the tax, together with all penalties and interest due. Upon assessment such tax, penalty, and interest shall become immediately due and payable, whereupon the collector will issue immediately a notice and demand for payment of the tax, penalty, and interest.

The collection of the whole or any part of the amount of the jeopardy assessment may be stayed by filing with the collector a bond in such amount, not exceeding double the amount with respect to which the stay is desired and with such sureties as the collector may deem necessary. Such bond shall be conditioned upon the payment of the amount, collection of which is stayed, at the time at which, but for the jeopardy assessment, such amount would be due. In lieu of surety or sureties the taxpayer may deposit with the collector bonds or notes of the United States, or bonds or notes fully guaranteed by the United States, having a par value not less than the amount of the bond required to be furnished, together with an agreement authorizing the collector in case of default to collect or sell such bonds or notes so deposited.

Upon refusal to pay, or failure to pay or give bond, the collector will proceed immediately to collect the tax, penalty, and interest by distraint without regard to the period prescribed in section 3187 of the United States Revised Statutes, as amended.

Interest and Penalties

SECTION 7 (D) OF THE ACT

(b) • • • If a tax imposed by this Act is not paid when due, there shall be added as part of the tax (except in the case of adjustments made in accordance with the provisions of this Act) interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date the tax became due until paid.

SECTION 3184 OF UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES

Where it is not otherwise provided, the collector shall in person or by deputy, within ten days after receiving any list of taxes from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, give notice to each person liable to pay any taxes stated therein, to be left at his dwelling or usual place of business, or to be sent by mail, stating the amount of such taxes and demanding payment thereof. If such person does not pay the taxes within ten days after the service or the sending by mail of such notice, it shall be the duty of the collector or his deputy to collect the said taxes with a penalty of five per centum additional upon the amount of taxes, and interest at the rate of one per centum a month.

SECTION 404 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1935

Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, interest accruing during any period of time after the date of the enactment of this Act upon any internal-revenue tax (including amounts assessed or collected as a part thereof) or customs duty, not paid when due, shall be at the rate of 6 per centum per annum.

ART. 803. Interest.—If the tax is not paid to the collector when due and is not adjusted under article 602 or 603, interest accrues at the rate of 6 per cent per annum.

ART. 804. Penalty for failure to pay an assessment after notice and demand.—(a) In case the taxpayer fails to pay to the collector the entire amount of any assessment of tax, penalty, or interest within a period of 10 days after the date of issuance of the form for first notice and demand, based on such assessment, there accrues under section 3184 of the United States Revised Statutes (except as provided in subdivision (b) of this article) a penalty of 5 per cent of the amount of such assessment remaining unpaid at the expiration of such period.

(b) If, within 10 days after the date of issuance of the first notice and demand, a claim for abatement of any amount of the assessment is filed with the collector who issued the form, the 5 per cent penalty does not attach with respect to such amount. If the claim is rejected in whole or in part and the amount rejected is not paid, the collector shall issue notice and demand for such amount. If payment is not made within 10 days after the date the collector issues the notice and demand, the 5 per cent penalty attaches with respect to the amount rejected. The filing of the claim does not stay the running of interest.

SECTION 3176 OF THE UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1103 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926 AND SECTION 619 (b) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928

* * * In case of any failure to make and file a return or list within the time prescribed by law, or prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or the collector in pursance of law, the Commissioner shall add to the tax 25 per centum of its amount, except that when a return is filed after such time and it is shown that the failure to file it was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, no such addition shall be made to the tax. In case a false or fraudulent return or list is willfully made, the Commissioner shall add to the tax 50 per centum of its amount.

The amount so added to any tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and as a part of the tax unless the tax has been paid before the discovery of the neglect, falsity, or fraud, in which case the amount so added shall be collected in the same manner as the tax.

SECTION 406 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1935

In the case of a failure to make and file an internal-revenue tax return required by law, within the time prescribed by law or prescribed by the Commissioner in pursuance of law, if the last date so prescribed for filing the return is after the date of the enactment of this Act, if a 25 per centum addition to the tax is prescribed by existing law, then there shall be added to the tax, in lieu of such 25 per centum: 5 per centum if the failure is for not more than 30 days, with an additional 5 per centum for each additional 30 days or fraction thereof during which failure continues, not to exceed 25 per centum in the aggregate.

ART. 805. Penalties for delinquent or false returns.—(a) Delinquent returns.—Unless the person required to file a return establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that a reasonable cause exists for the delinquency, the failure to file such return on or before the due date causes to accrue a penalty equal to the following percentage of the taxes required to be reported thereon:

(1) 5 per cent, if the return is filed on or before the thirtieth day after the due date;

(2) 10 per cent, if the return is filed after such thirtieth day and on or before the sixtieth day after the due date;

(3) 15 per cent, if the return is filed after such sixtieth day and on or before the ninetieth day after the due date;

(4) 20 per cent, if the return is filed after such ninetieth day and on or before the one hundred and twentieth day after the due date; or

(5) 25 per cent, if the return is filed after such one hundred and twentieth day or if the return is never filed by the person required to file it.

In computing the period of delinquency all Sundays and holidays after the due date are counted.

Every person filing a return after the due date shall securely attach to the return his statement under oath setting out in detail the reason for his delinquency. The collector shall forward the statement to the Commissioner with the return. The Commissioner will determine whether a penalty has been incurred and, if so, make the assessment.

(b) False returns.—If a false or fraudulent return is willfully made, the penalty under section 3176 of the United States Revised Statutes, as amended, is 50 percent of the total taxes due for the entire period involved, including any tax previously paid.

Additional Penalties

(a) Any person required under this Act to pay any tax, or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return, keep any records, or supply any information, for the purposes of the computation, assessment, or collection of any tax imposed by this Act, who willfully fails to pay such tax, make such return, keep such records, or supply such information, at the time or times required by law or regulations, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, together with the cost of prosecution.

(b) Any person required under this Act to collect, account for and pay over any tax imposed by this Act, who willfully fails to collect or truthfully account for and pay over such tax, and any person who willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any tax imposed by this Act or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(c) Any person who willfully aids or assists in, or procures, counsels, or advises, the preparation or presentation under, or in connection with any matter arising under, the internal-revenue laws, of a false or fraudulent return, affidavit, claim, or document, shall (whether or not such falsity or fraud is with the knowledge or consent of the person authorized or required to present such return, affidavit, claim, or document) be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned for not more than five years, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(d) Any person who willfully fails to pay, collect, or truthfully account for and pay over, any tax imposed by Titles IV, V, VI, VII, VIII, and IX, or willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any such tax or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be liable to a penalty of the amount of the tax evaded, or not paid, collected or accounted for and paid over, to be assessed and collected in the same manner as taxes are assessed and collected. No penalty shall be assessed under this subdivision for any offense for which a penalty may be assessed under authority of section 3176 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, or for any offense for which a penalty has been recovered under section 3256 of the Revised Statutes.

(e) Any person in possession of property, or rights to property, subject to distraint, upon which a levy has been made, shall, upon demand by the collector or deputy collector making such levy, surrender such property or rights to such collector or deputy, unless such property or right is, at the time of such demand, subject to an attachment or execution under any judicial process. Any person who fails or refuses to so surrender any of such property or rights shall be liable in his own person and estate to the United States in a sum equal to the value of the property or rights not so surrendered, but not exceeding the amount of the taxes (including penalties and interest) for the collection of which such levy has been made, together with costs and interest from the date of such levy.

(f) The term "person" as used in this section includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

SECTION 35 OF THE CRIMINAL CODE OF THE UNITED STATES, AS AMENDED

Whoever shall make or cause to be made or present or cause to be presented, for payment or approval, to or by any person or officer in the civil, military, or naval service of the United States, or any department thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, any claim upon or against the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, knowing such claim to be false, fictitious, or fraudulent; or whoever shall knowingly and willfully falsify or conceal or cover up by any trick, scheme, or device a material fact, or make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations, or make or use or cause to be made or used any false bill, receipt, voucher, roll, account, claim, certificate, affidavit, or deposition, knowing the same to contain any fraudulent or fictitious statement or entry, in any matter within the jurisdiction of any department or agency of the United States or of any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder; * * * or whoever shall enter into any agreement, combination, or conspiracy to defraud the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, by obtaining or aiding to obtain the payment or allowance of any false or fraudulent claim; * * * shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both. * * *

Records

SECTION 1102 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 7 (c) OF THE ACT

(a) Every person liable to any tax imposed by this Act, or for the collection thereof, shall keep such records, render under oath such statements, make such returns, and comply with such rules and regulations, as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe.

(b) Whenever in the judgment of the Commissioner necessary he may require any person, by notice served upon him, to make a return, render under oath such statements, or keep such records as the Commissioner deems sufficient to show whether or not such person is liable to tax.

SECTION 1104 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 618 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 7 (c) OF THE ACT

The Commissioner, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any return or for the purpose of making a return where none has been made, is hereby authorized, by any officer or employee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including the field service, designated by him for that purpose, to examine any books, papers, records, or memoranda bearing upon the matters required to be included in the return, and may require the attendance of the person rendering the return or of any officer or employee of such person, or the attendance of any other person having knowledge in the premises, and may take his testimony with reference to the matter required by law to be included in such return, with power to administer oaths to such person or persons.

ART. 806. Records.—(a) Records of employees.—While not mandatory, it is advisable for each employee to keep permanent accurate records showing the name of each employer for which he perform services as an employee, the duration of employment by each, the amount of each payment of remuneration, the date of its receipt, and the amount of employees' tax deducted from each such payment.

(b) Records of employers.—The records of each employer shall show with respect to each employee, beginning with January 1, 1937—

(1) the name and address of the employee,

(2) the total amount and date of each payment of compensation to the employee (including any sum withheld therefrom as tax or for any other reason) and the period of services covered by such payment,

(3) the amount of such payment of compensation with respect to which the tax is imposed, and

(4) the amount of employees' tax withheld or collected with respect to such payment of compensation, and, if collected at a time other than the time such payment was made, the date collected.

If the total payment of compensation (paragraph (2), above) and the amount thereof with respect to which the tax is imposed (paragraph (3), above) are not equal, the reason therefor shall be made a matter of record. Accurate records of the details of every adjustment of employees' tax or employers' tax shall also be kept, including the date and amount of each adjustment. (See Chapter VI, relating to adjustments.)

(c) Records of employee representatives.—The records of each individual liable for employee representatives' tax shall show, beginning with January 1, 1937—

(1) the name of each employee organization and each employer employing him, and

(2) the amount of compensation earned as an employee representative and as an employee, and the period for which earned.

(d) Records of payments under the Act of August 29, 1935, and of overpayments under this Act.—Every person claiming refund or credit of any payment of tax under the Act of August 29, 1935, or of any overpayment of tax, penalty, or interest, under this Act, shall keep a complete and detailed record of the alleged payment or overpayment. If claim is made under article 702 (a) for refund or credit of employees' tax, there shall also be kept as part of the records the evidence of repayment of the tax to the employee or the written consent of the employee obtained pursuant to the provisions of article 702 (b).

(e) Records with respect to claims for refund of employees' tax imposed by the Act of August 29, 1935, and paid to collector.—Every employer who files a claim for refund under article 705 (e) and (f) shall keep as part of his records the written receipts or written consents of employees obtained pursuant to the provisions of article 705 (g) (1).

(f) Form of records.—No particular form is prescribed for keeping the records required by this article. Each person required to keep records shall use such forms and systems of accounting as will enable the Commissioner to ascertain whether the taxes for which such person is liable are correctly computed and paid.

(g) Place and period for keeping records.—All records required by these regulations shall be kept, by the person required to keep them at some convenient and safe location accessible to internal revenue officers. Such records shall at all times be open for inspection by such officers. Records required by subdivisions (b) and (c) of this article shall be maintained for a period of at least four years after the date the tax to which they relate becomes due, or the date the tax is paid, whichever is later. Records required by subdivisions (d) and (e) of this article relating to a claim shall be maintained for a period of at least four years after the date the claim is filed.

Authority for Regulations

SECTION 12 OF THE ACT

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall make and publish such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this Act.

In pursuance of section 12 of the Act and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, the foregoing regulations are hereby prescribed.

[SEAL] CHAS T. RUSSELL,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved, October 12, 1937.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION.

REPLACEMENT OF SERVICE OF PROCESS AGENT

Pursuant to the provisions of the fourth paragraph of subsection (j) of Section 12B of the Federal Reserve Act, as amended, the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has designated Examiner Howard V. Williams, Orlando, Florida, as agent for the Corporation in the State of Florida, to replace Examiner William S. Anderson, for the purpose of receiving service of process, such appointment to be upon the basis with respect to compensation and tenure as all such appointments heretofore made.

I hereby certify that the foregoing appointment was made pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation adopted on August 18, 1937.

[SEAL] AGNES C. MURPHY,
Acting Secretary.

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION.

REVISION OF REGULATIONS

PENSIONS—RESERVE OFFICERS AND ENLISTED PERSONNEL

Persons Included in the Acts in Addition to Commissioned Officers and Enlisted Men

R-1001 (K). Members of training camps authorized by law.—Members of training camps authorized by Section 54 of the National Defense Act, are included. Members of the National Guard ordered to active duty for training are not, under Section 112 of the National Defense Act of June 3, 1916, as amended June 15, 1933, entitled to pension. Reserve officers and members of the enlisted reserves of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps ordered to active duty including duty for training, are entitled to pension under Public No. 159, 75th Congress (October 14, 1937).

Effective Dates of Awards of Disability Compensation or Pension

R-1212 (A). Initial awards of disability compensation or pension will be payable in accordance with the provisions of Veterans Regulation No. 2 (a), Part I, Paragraph I, provided an appropriate claim therefor has been filed and, if incomplete, the necessary evidence to complete such claim is submitted within one year from the date of request therefor: Provided, however, That no award of disability compensation or pension under Public No. 2, 73rd Congress, will be effective prior to March 20, 1933; no pension under Regulation No. 1 (a), Part II, as amended by Public No. 159, 75th Congress, Act of June 23, 1937, shall be effective prior to the date of claim or June 23, 1937, whichever is the later: And provided further, That no award of disability compensation under Title III, Public No. 141, 73d Congress, will be effective prior to March 28, 1934 (October 14, 1937).

Concurrent Payment of Benefits to Same Person

R-1296 (A). Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 4715, Revised Statutes, and Veterans Regulation No. 10, Paragraph XIII, a person in receipt of death compensation or pension either under the reenacted pension statutes, the Veterans Regulation No. 1 series, or Title III, Public No. 141, 73d Congress, or Public No. 484, 73d Congress, may also, if otherwise entitled, receive disability compensation under Public No. 141, 73d Congress, on account of his or her own service during the World War (A. D. 325, 335).

(B) For the purposes of Veterans Regulation No. 1 (a), Part II, Paragraph I, as amended by Public No. 159, 75th Congress, (Act of June 23, 1937) pension shall not be paid concurrently with active duty pay or United States employees compensation. Where a person who is eligible for pension is also eligible for the benefits of the United States employees compensation act he shall elect which benefit he shall receive (October 14, 1937).

APPEALS

(2) This assistance will be extended in the preparation of appeals on all questions that may properly be referred to the board of veterans appeals. The adequacy of an appeal in the individual case will depend on the facts of record, but all appeals will be given equal consideration in this regard.

(3) The employees authorized in R. & P. R-9805, to execute certificates of adequacy may utilize every facility at their disposal to secure any additional evidence that may be deemed necessary to insure a fair and complete presentation of the facts involved. Efforts should first be made, however, to secure such evidence by correspondence but resort may be had to personal contacts wherever necessary.

(4) The certificate of adequacy will not be executed until all pertinent evidence available is secured but if the claimant or his authorized representative should insist on the consideration of the appeal without the submission of any further evidence that might be indicated, a certificate of adequacy will be executed but a notation will be made thereon to the effect that such certificate is being executed at the insistence of the claimant or his representative.

(B) (1) In order to insure the complete development of the claim from the standpoint of rating for compensation or pension purposes, when an appeal is filed from a rating decision, the case file, together with the appeal, will be referred to the rating agency of original jurisdiction for review. The rating agency will review the case to determine whether its previous decision should be affirmed and whether any new issues have been raised by the veteran or his representative or whether all the claimant's contentions have been properly considered and adequately disposed of.

(2) If it is determined that no new rating issues have been raised in connection with the appeal and that all contentions or allegations made by the claimant or his representative have been properly and adequately disposed of, the following certificate will be executed by the rating board:

"It is hereby certified that all material facts pertinent to the rating have been developed, that all assertions and representations advanced by the veteran and in his behalf have been considered and the issues determined."

(3) In the event it is found that new allegations or contentions have been made either by the claimant or his representative with reference to diseases or injuries not previously considered, or grounds or reasons for service connection or increased ratings not previously set forth, the rating agency will carefully review the case in the light of these contentions and render a new rating decision disposing of each question separately by a definite finding. This decision will be made on Form 564 and will conclude with the following statement: "Reviewed pursuant to R. & P. 1325."

(4) In the event the rating board of original jurisdiction finds that further development of the evidence is necessary, it will indicate in detail to the authorization unit, the nature of the evidence desired or the steps to be taken to further develop the case. For the purpose of this review, the rating agencies of original jurisdiction may authorize physical examinations if such action is deemed necessary. In exercising this authority, however, the rating agencies are expected to use discretion and will bear in mind the policy of the Veterans' Administration, to avoid unnecessary physical examinations.

(5) Form P-8 will not be executed in cases where the appeal is from a rating decision until the case has been reviewed by the rating board in accordance with the foregoing provisions.

(C). (1) When the case has been fully developed and the entire evidence reviewed in accordance with the provisions of this section, if the claimant has executed a power of attorney in favor of an accredited service organization, the representative of such organization will be notified to appear before the rating board, if he wishes to do so, for a formal hearing before the Certificate of Adequacy is executed. This hearing will be held when practicable and convenient before the rating board which rendered the decision from which the appeal was entered, and will be in lieu of a formal hearing before the board of veterans appeals, except in unusual cases, which may require the special attention of the accredited organization's headquarters in Washington, D. C. Generally, no further hearing before the board of veterans appeals will be necessary where the representative of the accredited service organization states the basis of the appeal and the nature of the relief sought at the hearing before the rating board, and otherwise properly represents the veteran's interests.

(2) A record of this hearing will be made and incorporated in the case file for consideration by the board of veterans appeals.

Upon the conclusion of the hearing, the representative of the service organization will be requested to execute Form 646, Certificate of Appearance before Rating Board on Appeal to Board of Veterans Appeals. The answers to the three questions propounded on this form will be definite and unequivocal. If there is any doubt with reference to the development of the evidence, the hearing should be utilized to develop leads and information concerning any additional evidence that might be available and the manner in which such evidence may be obtained.

(3) The formal hearings before the rating board, provided for herein, will not be used as a basis for reversing the decision of the rating board from which the appeal was entered, except in case of clear and unmistakable error, or in accordance with existing procedure for amending or reversing a prior rating decision. In the event, however, the prior decision from which the appeal was entered is amended or reversed and the benefit sought by the claimant is granted, appropriate action will be taken to cancel the appeal (September 15, 1937) (V. R. No. 2-series).

National Bituminous Coal Commission.

[Order No. 56]

AN ORDER REQUIRING EACH DISTRICT BOARD WITHIN MINIMUM PRICE AREAS NUMBERS THREE, FOUR, FIVE, SIX, SEVEN, NINE AND TEN TO DETERMINE FROM COST DATA SUBMITTED BY THE PROPER STATISTICAL BUREAU OF THE COMMISSION THE WEIGHTED AVERAGE OF THE TOTAL COSTS OF THE ASCERTAINABLE TONNAGE PRODUCED IN THEIR RESPECTIVE DISTRICTS IN THE CALENDAR YEAR 1936, AND TO ADJUST SUCH WEIGHTED AVERAGE COSTS SO DETERMINED AS MAY BE NECESSARY TO GIVE EFFECT TO CHANGES WHICH MAY HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED SINCE JANUARY 1, 1936, AND RESTRICTING PUBLICATION OF INFORMATION RELATIVE THERETO

Pursuant to act of Congress entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission hereby orders and directs:

1. That each District Board within Minimum Price Areas Numbers Three, Four, Five, Six, Seven, Nine and Ten shall, as soon as possible, determine the weighted average of the total costs of the ascertainable tonnage produced in its district in the calendar year 1936, using as the basis for such determination cost data hereinafter made available to it. Each District Board shall adjust the average costs so determined, as may be necessary to give effect to any changes in wage rates, hours of employment, or other factors substantially affecting costs, exclusive of seasonal changes, so as to reflect as accurately as possible any change or changes which may have been established since January 1, 1936.

2. That the Secretary of the Commission shall immediately transmit to each District Board the proper statistical bureau's compilation of the cost data furnished, pursuant to Order No. 15 of the Commission, by the producers whose mines are located within the district.

3. That the compilations of cost data submitted by the proper statistical bureaus of the Commission to the respective District Boards and the data of the District Boards upon which adjustments of the average costs are to be made, shall be deemed confidential and shall not be made public.

4. That on or before October 27th, 1937, each District Board shall submit to the Commission such determinations and all computations upon which they are based in order that the Commission, after review, may proceed to a determination of the weighted averages of the total costs of the tonnages of Minimum Price Areas Numbers Three, Four, Five, Six, Seven, Nine and Ten.

The Secretary of the Commission shall forthwith mail a copy of this order to the Secretaries of the respective District Boards within Minimum Price Areas Numbers Three, Four, Five, Six, Seven, Nine and Ten.

By order of the Commission.

Dated this 13th day of October, 1937.

[Order No. 57]

AN ORDER PROVIDING FOR A PUBLIC HEARING TO RECEIVE EVIDENCE ON THE PROPOSED CLASSIFICATIONS OF COALS OF BITUMINOUS COAL PRODUCERS BOARD FOR DISTRICT NUMBER 10, AND TO RECEIVE EVIDENCE FROM PROTESTANTS AND OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES CONCERNING THE PROPOSED CLASSIFICATION OF COALS IN SAID DISTRICT

Pursuant to Act of Congress, entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission directed, pursuant to Orders No. 38 and No. 43, that all District Boards propose initial classifications of coals of all code members within their respective districts, classified in conformity with the standards, methods of applying such standards and rules of procedure established by the Commission, and provided that a hearing should be held for the purpose of receiving evidence to enable the Commission to establish the initial classifications of coals of all code members within the several districts.

At the hearing held pursuant to Orders No. 38 and No. 43, protests were made in the matter of the proposed initial classification of Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District Number 10. The Commission, therefore, orders and directs:

That a hearing be held in the City of Washington, D. C., commencing at 9 o'clock A. M., on the 15th day of October, 1937, at the Hearing Room of the Commission in the Walker Building, before a Board of Examiners designated by the Commission, for the purpose of receiving evidence from all interested parties to enable the Commission to establish the initial classification of coals of all code members within District Number 10, and that said hearing shall continue and be open for the purpose of receiving evidence on the subject from all interested parties until October 22nd, 1937.

The Secretary of the Commission shall forthwith give notice of the time, place, and purpose of the hearing to be held under this order by publishing a copy of this order for two days in a newspaper of general circulation in District Number 10, and by mailing a copy of this order to the Secretary of District Board Number 10, to the Consumers' Counsel, and to all code members within District Number 10.

By order of the Commission.

Dated this 14th day of October, 1937.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

ORDER INCREASING THE ALLOWANCES, DEDUCTIONS, AND RATES OF PAYMENT UNDER THE 1937 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM IN THE EAST CENTRAL, NORTHEAST, NORTH CENTRAL, SOUTHERN, AND WESTERN REGIONS

Whereas, under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program the existing rates of payments, deductions, and allowances in the East Central, Northeast, North Central, Southern, and Western Regions were based upon an estimate of available funds and an estimate of 85 percent participation by farmers, and are subject to increase or decrease by not more than 10 percent, depending upon the extent of participation;

Whereas, farmers participating in said program have largely completed the farming practices in connection with which payments may be made thereunder; and

Whereas, judging from the facts shown by the applications for payment which have been submitted in connection with said program and the facts which it is believed will be shown by applications for payment estimated to be submitted hereafter in said program, it reasonably appears that participation by farmers will be less than 85 percent to such extent, and the payments to such participants based upon existing rates, deductions, and allowances will in the aggregate be such an amount, that taking into consideration the available funds the existing rates of payments, deductions, and allowances under said program in the East Central, Northeast, North Central, Southern and Western Regions may be increased by as much as 10 percent:

Now, therefore, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, do hereby order that said existing rates of payments, deductions, and allowances be, and the same hereby are, increased 10 percent.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 14th day of October 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

DETERMINATION OF THE SECRETARY WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN COUNTIES IN THE STATES OF COLORADO, NEBRASKA, AND WYOMING

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the provisions of Public No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and further amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of potatoes grown in the counties of Alamosa, Conejos, Costilla, Delta, Eagle, Garfield, Larimer, Montrose, Morgan, Pitkin, Rio Grande, Saguache, and Weld in the State of Colorado; the counties of Sioux, Morrill, Banner, Dawes, Box Butte, Kimball, Sheridan, Cheyenne, and Scotts Bluff in the State of Nebraska, and the counties of Goshen, Niobrara, Parke, and Laramie in the State of Wyoming, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said acts, gave, on the 14th day of August, 1937, notice of hearings which were held in the Senate Chamber, State Capitol, Denver, Colorado, on the 24th day of August, 1937, and in the Oddfellows Hall Auditorium, Scotts Bluff, Nebraska, on the 25th day of August, 1937, on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of potatoes grown in the above-mentioned areas, at which times and places all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on a proposed marketing agreement and proposed order; and

Whereas, after such hearings and after the tentative approval by the Secretary of Agriculture of a marketing agreement on the 3rd day of September, 1937, handlers of more than fifty per centum of the volume of potatoes covered by such proposed order, which are produced or marketed within the aforementioned areas, refused or failed to sign such marketing agreement relating to potatoes;

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, by virtue of the authority vested in him by Public No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, hereby determines:

1. That the refusal or failure of the said handlers to sign the said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the above-mentioned acts with respect to potatoes grown in the aforementioned areas; and

2. That the issuance of the proposed order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of potatoes in said areas; and

3. That the issuance of the proposed order is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the marketing season 1936, said season being here and now determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, have been engaged in the aforementioned areas in the production for market of potatoes.

In witness whereof, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, have executed this determination and have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 11th day of October, 1937.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Approved:

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT,
President of the United States.

Dated, October 12, 1937.

[F. R. Doc. 37-3051; Filed, October 15, 1937; 12:54 p. m.]

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE REGULATING THE HANDLING IN INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, OF POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN THE STATES OF COLORADO, NEBRASKA AND WYOMING

Whereas, under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), it is provided that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of the act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities, including potatoes, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to the establishment and maintenance of such orderly marketing conditions in interstate and foreign commerce for potatoes grown in the Counties of Alamosa, Conejos, Costilla, Delta, Eagle, Garfield, Larimer, Montrose, Morgan, Pitkin, Rio Grande, Saguache and Weld in the State of Colorado; Sioux, Morrill, Banner, Dawes, Box Butte, Kimball, Sheridan, Cheyenne and Scotts Bluff in the State of Nebraska; and Goshen, Niobrara, Parke and Laramie in the State of Wyoming (hereinafter referred to as the "area"), as would establish prices to the producers of such potatoes at a level that would give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period August 1919–July 1929, conducted public hearings at Denver, Colorado, on August 24, 1937, and at Scotts Bluff, Nebraska, on August 25, 1937, pursuant to due notice given to all interested parties on August 14, 1937, on a proposed order regulating such handling of such potatoes as is in the current of interstate and foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects such commerce in the said potatoes, at which hearings all interested persons in attendance were afforded due opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearings and the record thereof:

(1) That at the time of the hearings the prices received by the producers of such potatoes were at a level that gave such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy appreciably below the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period;

(2) That the regulation of shipments by grades and sizes of the potatoes covered by this order, as prescribed herein, will serve to prevent marked fluctuations in prices to the producers thereof, and will establish and maintain a more stabilized market for such potatoes, tending to establish prices to such producers at a level that will give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period;

(3) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and to the smallest regional marketing area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of such regional production and marketing areas would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) That the pro rata contribution of handlers to the expenses of the administrative agency herein created, based upon the quantity of potatoes shipped, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable; and

(5) That this order and all the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to potatoes grown in the said area by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will establish prices to producers thereof at a level that will give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalant to the purchasing power of such potatoes in the base period and by protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching the level of prices which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and by (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the level which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds that after the said hearings and after the tentative approval by the Secretary, on September 3, 1937, of a marketing agreement which regulates the handling of such potatoes in the same manner as this order, upon which hearings were held on August 24 and August 25, 1937, handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the potatoes covered by this order) who handled more than fifty (50) percent of the volume of the potatoes covered by this order, and marketed during the 1936 season in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, refused or failed to sign the said marketing agreement with the Secretary; and

Whereas, the Secretary determined on the 11th day of October 1937, said determination being approved by the President of the United States on the 12th day of October 1937 that such refusal or failure to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the aforesaid declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of potatoes in the said area and is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the 1936 marketing season, said season being herewith determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, have been engaged in the said area in the production for market of potatoes; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds that this order regulates the handling of such potatoes in the same manner as the aforesaid tentatively approved marketing agreement, and that it is made applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement;

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Secretary, acting under the authority vested in him by the act, that such handling of the said potatoes as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such potatoes, from and after the date hereinafter specified, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order.

ARTICLE I—DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1. As used herein, the following terms have the following meanings:

1. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States;

2. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937:

3. "Person" means individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit;

4. "Potatoes" means and includes all varieties of white (Irish) potatoes grown within the area described in paragraph 8 of this section, during 1937;

5. "To ship" or "to handle" means to put such potatoes into the channels of trade by conveying or causing them to be conveyed by railroad, truck, boat, or any other means whatsoever in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce; "to ship" or "to handle" does not include the act of a grower in merely transferring ownership or title to a shipper, nor does it include acting as a common carrier for another person;

6. "Producer" means any person who produces potatoes for sale;

7. "Handler" means any person who ships or otherwise handles potatoes or permits another person to ship or otherwise handle potatoes in the name of such first person; and

8. "Area" means and includes the following geographical areas: The counties of Alamosa, Conejos, Costilla, Delta, Eagle, Garfield, Larimer, Montrose, Morgan, Pitkin, Rio Grande, Saguache and Weld in the State of Colorado; Sioux, Morrill, Banner, Dawes, Box Butte, Kimball, Sheridan, Cheyenne and Scotts Bluff in the State of Nebraska; and Goshen, Niobrara, Parke and Laramie in the State of Wyoming.

ARTICLE II—GENERAL CULL REGULATIONS

SECTION 1. Limitation on Shipments.—No handler shall ship or handle in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce any lot of potatoes which does not at least meet the requirements for U. S. No. 2 potatoes as defined in the "Official Standards for Potatoes", issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, effective September 15, 1936, except that a mixture of varieties is permitted and except that under no circumstances shall the size be less than 1½ inches in diameter with the standard tolerance of 5 percent by weight.

SEC. 2. Inspection.—During any period in which the Secretary has limited the shipment of potatoes as provided in article II or in article III hereof, no handler shall ship or handle any potatoes unless they are inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service and a certificate is issued showing the necessary information to determine whether such potatoes conform with the requirements of article II and of the regulations, if any, made effective under article III.

ARTICLE III—GRADE AND SIZE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Regulations.—Whenever the Secretary shall find, upon the basis of the recommendations of the Control Committee and other available information, that to limit further the shipments of grades or sizes of potatoes in accordance with such recommendations would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall limit the shipment of such grades or sizes of potatoes harvested during 1937, during a specified period or periods, by (1) prohibiting handlers from handling potatoes of the United States grade or grades other than the grade or grades specified by the Secretary; or by (2) prohibiting handlers from handling potatoes of a size smaller than the size or sizes specified by the Secretary; or by (3) both methods; provided, that the Secretary shall not limit, or provide methods for limiting, the shipment of potatoes which are at least 1⅞ inches in diameter and otherwise grading U. S. Fancy, U. S. Extra No. 1, U. S. No. 1, and U. S. No. 1, Size A, as described in the "Official Standards for Potatoes" issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, effective September 15, 1936. Any such limitation shall become effective three days after determination thereof by the Secretary, unless the Secretary announces that a longer period shall elapse.

SEC. 2. Exemptions.—(1) Before instituting any limitation of shipments pursuant to section 1 of this article, the Secretary, upon the basis of available information and findings by the Control Committee, shall determine for the area the percentage which the quantity of potatoes available for shipment under such limitation is of the total quantity of potatoes which would be available for shipment if there were no such limitation.

(2) Any producer who would, because of such limitation, be unable to dispose of as large a percentage of the potatoes produced by him as the percentage which the Secretary, pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, has determined can be properly shipped from such area, may apply to the Control Committee, whereupon the Control Committee shall investigate the facts presented by such producer and shall transmit to the Secretary its recommendations and all data in connection therewith. The Secretary may, after consideration of the Control Committee's recommendation and data, together with other information available to him, issue a certificate, through the Control Committee, to such producer which will permit the producer, either himself or through a handler, to dispose of a percentage of the potatoes produced by him and available for shipment during the limitation period, which will be equal to the percentage determined by the Secretary pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) Charitable purposes.—Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right to ship potatoes for consumption to charitable institutions or to relief agencies. The Secretary may, from time to time, prescribe proper safeguards to prevent potatoes shipped for such purposes from being introduced into the commercial channels of trade contrary to the provisions hereof.

(4) Seed potatoes.—Upon recommendation by the Control Committee, approved by the Secretary, officially certified seed potatoes or other potatoes shipped for seed purposes shall be exempt from the provisions of this article provided that such recommendation includes adequate safeguards to prevent such potatoes from being used for other than seed purposes.

(5) Manufacture.—Subject to such regulations as the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, any limitation of shipments pursuant to section 1 of this article shall not be applicable to potatoes shipped for manufacture into alcohol, starch, flour, or vinegar, or any other manufacturing purpose approved by the Secretary, or for feed for livestock, and which are in due course so manufactured, or so used for livestock feed.

SEC. 3. Compliance.—Except as provided in section 2 of this article, no handler shall ship or contract to ship potatoes of a size or grade the shipment of which has been prohibited by the Secretary pursuant to this article.

SEC. 4. Notice.—The Control Committee shall give notice of any regulation of shipments by the Secretary at least thirty (30) hours before the time it becomes effective by issuing a press release, posting a notice in the office of the Control Committee or by such other available means as the Control Committee deems necessary to give producers and handlers immediate information of such regulation.

ARTICLE IV—CONTROL COMMITTEE

SECTION 1. Membership and organization.—(1) The Secretary shall select a Control Committee consisting of ten members, of whom seven shall be producers and three shall be handlers. Three producers and two handlers shall be selected from the Colorado counties, two producers and one handler shall be selected from the Nebraska counties, and two producers shall be selected from the Wyoming counties designated in paragraph 8, section 1, article I. The Secretary shall likewise select for each member of the committee an alternate with the same qualifications, and in like manner shall select successors.

(2) Any person selected as a member or an alternate shall qualify by filing a written acceptance of this selection with the Secretary or with the Secretary's designated representative.

(3) An alternate for a member of the Control Committee shall act in the place and stead of such member, in his absence or in the event of his death, removal, resignation, or disqualification.

(4) The members of the Control Committee and their alternates shall serve without compensation, but may be allowed their necessary expenses.

(5) The members of the Control Committee shall select a chairman from their membership, and all communications from the Secretary to the Committee may be addressed to the chairman at such address as may, from time to time, be filed with the Secretary. The Committee shall select such other officers and adopt such rules for the conduct of its business as it may deem advisable. The Committee shall give to the Secretary, or his designated agents or representatives, the same notice of meetings of the Committee as is given to members of the Committee.

SEC. 2. Powers.—The Control Committee shall have power:

(1) To administer, as herein specifically provided, the terms and provisions hereof;

(2) To make, in accordance with the provisions herein contained, administrative rules and regulations;

(3) To receive, investigate and report to the Secretary complaints of violations hereof; and

(4) To recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

SEC. 3. Duties.—It shall be the duty of the Control Committee:

(1) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any handler;

(2) To keep minute books and records which will clearly reflect all of its acts and transactions, and such minute books and records shall, at any time, be subject to examination by the Secretary;

(3) To furnish the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(4) To appoint such employees as it may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries and define the duties of such employees;

(5) To consult, during the effective period hereof, with any other Control Committee established pursuant to any marketing agreement or order, or with handlers operating under any marketing agreement or order of the Secretary, with respect to shipping or handling potatoes grown in any region covered by such other marketing agreements or orders, to the end that the administration hereof may be coordinated with the administration of such other agreements or orders so as best to effectuate their respective purposes; and

(6) To cause the books of the Control Committee to be audited by one or more competent accountants at least once each year, and at such other times as the Control Committee deems necessary, or as the Secretary may request, and to file with the Secretary copies of all such audit reports.

SEC. 4. Procedure.—(1) For any decision of the Control Committee to be valid, a majority of the votes of all members of the Committee shall be necessary.

(2) Upon the selection of a majority of its members, the Control Committee may organize and commence to function. A majority of all members shall constitute a quorum.

(3) The Control Committee may provide for voting by mail, telegram, or radiogram, upon due notice to all members eligible to vote.

(4) The members of the Control Committee (including successors and alternates) and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the Control Committee shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time.

(5) Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the Control Committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time and, upon his disapproval, shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith.

SEC. 5. Funds.—All funds received by the Control Committee pursuant to any provision hereof shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified and shall be accounted for in the following manner:

(1) The Secretary may, at any time, require the Control Committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements;

(2) Upon the removal, or expiration of the term of office, of any member of the Control Committee, such member shall account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property and funds in his hands, together with all books and records in his possession, to his successor in office or to such person as the Secretary may designate, and shall execute such assignments and other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such successor or in such designated person full title to all of the property, funds, or claims vested in such member.

ARTICLE V—FUNDS AND EXPENSES

SECTION 1. Expenses.—The Control Committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out its functions hereunder. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. Funds.—Each handler shall pay to the Control Committee on demand as his pro rata share of the expenses, which the Secretary may find will necessarily be incurred by the Control Committee for the maintenance and functioning of the Control Committee, a sum not exceeding 50 cents (the exact amount to be recommended by the Control Committee and subject to approval by the Secretary) for each car or truck of potatoes shipped or handled by such handler.

SEC. 3. Shipping permits.—The Secretary may, in his discretion and for the purpose of collecting money for administrative expenses hereunder, require handlers to purchase from the Control Committee permits to be affixed to each package, lot, carload, or shipment of potatoes before the same shall be handled; provided, however, that any payments received for such permits shall be used for the purpose set forth in section 1 of this article, and shall, in no event, exceed the pro rata share of expenses required to be paid by any handler.

ARTICLE VI—REPORTS

SECTION 1. Reports.—Upon the request of the Control Committee made with the approval of the Secretary, every handler shall furnish the Control Committee, in such manner and at such times as it prescribes, such information as it deems necessary to enable it to exercise its powers and perform its duties hereunder.

ARTICLE VII—LIABILITY OF CONTROL COMMITTEE MEMBERS

SECTION 1. Liability.—No member or alternate of the Control Committee, nor any employee thereof, shall be held liable individually, in any way whatsoever, to any party hereto or any other person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, or employee except for acts of dishonesty. The liability of the parties hereunder is several and not joint, and no party shall be liable for the default of any other party.

ARTICLE VIII—DURATION OF IMMUNITIES

SECTION 1. Duration of immunities.—The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by virtue of this order shall cease upon its termination, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this order.

ARTICLE IX—EFFECTIVE TIME AND TERMINATION

SECTION 1. Effective time—This order shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached hereto, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways hereafter specified.

SEC. 2. Suspension and termination.—This order, any provision hereof or any amendment hereto, may be suspended or terminated by the Secretary, as to any or all handlers, after such reasonable notice as the Secretary may give, and shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

SEC. 3. Unless sooner terminated, this order shall terminate at 11:59 p. m., July 31, 1938.

SEC. 4. Proceedings after termination.—(1) Upon the termination hereof, the members of the Control Committee then functioning shall continue to function for the purpose of liquidating its affairs and shall keep the funds and property then in their possession as members of such Control Committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property undelivered at the time of such termination. Said members (a) shall continue to function until discharged by the Secretary, (b) shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements, and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the Control Committee, to such person or persons as the Secretary may direct, and (c) shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such person or persons full title to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the Control Committee. Any funds collected pursuant to article V hereof, over and above amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred during the operation hereof and during the liquidation period shall, as soon as practicable after the termination thereof, be returned to handlers. The refund to each handler shall be represented by the excess of the amount paid by him over and above his pro rata share of the expenses.

(2) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered by the members of the Control Committee upon direction of the Secretary, as herein provided, shall be subject to the same obligations and duties with respect to the said funds, property, or claims as were hereinabove imposed upon members of said committee.

ARTICLE X—AGENTS

SECTION 1. Agents.—The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any persons, including any officers or employees of the Government, or name any bureaus or divisions in the Department of Agriculture, to act as his agents or representatives in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

ARTICLE XI—SEPARABILITY

SECTION 1. Separability.—If any provision hereof is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder hereof or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

ARTICLE XII—DEROGATION

SECTION 1. Derogation.—Nothing contained herein is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States:

(1) To exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise;

(2) In accordance with such powers to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

In Witness Whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has executed this order in duplicate and has caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 15th day of October 1937, and declares this order to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., m. s. t., October 19, 1937.

DETERMINATION OF THE SECRETARY WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN COUNTIES IN THE STATE OF IDAHO

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the provisions of Public No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and further amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of potatoes grown in the counties of Ada, Adams, Bannock, Bingham, Bear Lake, Blaine, Boise, Bonneville, Butte, Camas, Canyon, Caribou, Cassia, Clark, Custer, Elmore, Franklin, Fremont, Gem, Gooding, Jefferson, Jerome, Lemhi, Lincoln, Madison, Minidoka, Oneida, Owyhee, Payette, Power, Teton, Twin Falls, Valley, and Washington, in the State of Idaho, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said acts, gave, on the 14th day of August, 1937, notice of hearings which were held in the Latter Day Saints Tabernacle, Idaho Falls, Idaho, on the 27th day of August, 1937, and in the Auditorium, American Legion Building, Twin Falls, Idaho, on the 28th day of August, 1937, on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of potatoes grown in the above-mentioned areas, at which times and places all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order; and

Whereas, after such hearings and after the tentative approval by the Secretary of Agriculture of a marketing agreement on the 3rd day of September, 1937, handlers of more than fifty per centum of the volume of potatoes covered by such proposed order, which are produced or marketed within the aforementioned areas, refused or failed to sign such marketing agreement relating to potatoes;

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, by virtue of the authority vested in him by Public No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, hereby determines:

1. That the refusal or failure of the said handlers to sign the said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the above-mentioned acts with respect to potatoes grown in the aforementioned areas; and

2. That the issuance of the proposed order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of potatoes in said areas; and

3. That the issuance of the proposed order is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the marketing season 1936, said season being here and now determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, have been engaged in the aforementioned areas in the production for market of potatoes.

In witness whereof, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, have executed this determination and have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 11th day of October, 1937.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Approved:

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT,
The President of the United States.

Dated, October 12, 1937.

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE REGULATING THE HANDLING IN INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS OR AFFECTS INTERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, OF POTATOES GROWN IN THIRTY-FOUR DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN THE STATE OF IDAHO

Whereas, under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), it is provided that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of the act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities, including potatoes, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to the establishment and maintenance of such orderly marketing conditions in interstate and foreign commerce for potatoes grown in the counties of Ada, Adams, Bannock, Bingham, Bear Lake, Blaine, Boise, Bonneville, Butte, Camas, Canyon, Caribou, Cassia, Clark, Custer, Elmore, Franklin, Fremont, Gem, Gooding, Jefferson, Jerome, Lemhi, Lincoln, Madison, Minidoka, Oneida, Owyhee, Payette, Power, Teton, Twin Falls, Valley, and Washington, in the State of Idaho, as would establish prices to the producers of such potatoes at a level that would give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period August 1919–July 1929, conducted public hearings at Idaho Falls, Idaho, on August 27, 1937, and at Twin Falls, Idaho, on August 28, 1937, pursuant to due notice given to all interested parties on August 14, 1937, on a proposed order regulating such handling of such potatoes as is in the current of interstate and foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects such commerce in the said potatoes, at which hearings all interested persons in attendance were afforded due opportunity to be head concerning the proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearings and the record thereof:

(1) That at the time of the hearings the prices received by the producers of such potatoes were at a level that gave such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy appreciably below the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period;

(2) That the regulation of shipments by grades and sizes of the potatoes covered by this order, as prescribed herein, will serve to prevent marked fluctuations in prices to the producers thereof, and will establish and maintain a more stabilized market for such potatoes, tending to establish prices to such producers at a level that will give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period;

(3) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and to the smallest regional marketing area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of such regional production and marketing areas would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) That the pro rata contribution of handlers to the expenses of the administrative agency herein created, based upon the quantity of potatoes shipped, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable; and

(5) That this order and all the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to potatoes grown in the said counties in the State of Idaho by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will establish prices to producers thereof at a level that will give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes in the base period and by protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching the level of prices which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and by (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the level which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds that after the said hearings and after the tentative approval by the Secretary, on September 3, 1937, of a marketing agreement which regulates the handling of such potatoes in the same manner as this order, upon which hearings were held on August 27 and August 28, 1937, handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the potatoes covered by this order) who handled more than fifty (50) percent of the volume of the potatoes covered by this order, and marketed during the 1936 season in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, refused or failed to sign the said marketing agreement with the Secretary; and

Whereas, the Secretary determined on the 11th day of October 1937, said determination being approved by the President of the United States on the 12th day of October 1937, that such refusal or failure to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the aforesaid declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of potatoes in the said counties in the State of Idaho and is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the 1936 marketing season, said season being herewith determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, have been engaged in the said counties in the State of Idaho in the production for market of potatoes; and said tentatively approved marketing agreement, and that it is made applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement;

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the Secretary, acting under the authority vested in him by the act, that such handling of the said potatoes as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such potatoes, from and after the date hereinafter specified, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order.

ARTICLE I—DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1. As used herein, the following terms have the following meanings:

1. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States;

2. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937;

3. "Person" means individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit;

4. "Potatoes" means and includes all varieties of white (Irish) potatoes grown within the area described in paragraph 8 of this section, during 1937;

5. "To ship" or "to handle" means to put such potatoes into the channels of trade by conveying or causing them to be conveyed by railroad, truck, boat, or any other means whatsoever in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce; "to ship" or "to handle" does not include the act of a grower in merely transferring ownership or title to a shipper, nor does it include acting as a common carrier for another person;

6. "Producer" means any person who produce potatoes for sale;

7. "Handler" means any person who ships or otherwise handles potatoes or permits another person to ship or otherwise handle potatoes in the name of such first person; and

8. "Area" means and includes the following geographical areas: The counties of Ada, Adams, Bannock, Bingham, Bear Lake, Blaine, Boise, Bonneville, Butte, Camas, Canyon, Caribou, Cassia, Clark, Custer, Elmore, Franklin, Fremont, Gem, Gooding, Jefferson, Jerome, Lemhi, Lincoln, Madison, Minidoka, Oneida, Owyhee, Payette, Power, Teton, Twin Falls, Valley, and Washington, in the State of Idaho.

ARTICLE II—GENERAL CALL REGULATIONS

SECTION 1. Limitation on shipments.—No handler shall ship or handle in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce any lot of potatoes which does not at least meet the requirements for U. S. No. 2 potatoes as defined in the "Official Standards for Potatoes", issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, effective September 15, 1936, except that a mixture of varieties is permitted and except that under no circumstances shall the size be less than 1⅛ inches in diameter with the standard tolerance of 5 percent by weight.

SEC. 2. Inspection.—During any period in which the Secretary has limited the shipment of potatoes as provided in article II or in article III hereof, no handler shall ship or handle any potatoes unless they are inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service and a certificate is issued showing the necessary information to determine whether such potatoes conform with the requirements of article II and of the regulations, if any, made effective under article III.

ARTICLE III—GRADE AND SIZE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Regulations.—Whenever the Secretary shall find, upon the basis of the recommendations of the Control Committee and other available information, that to limit further the shipments of grades or sizes of potatoes in accordance with such recommendations would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall limit the shipment of such grades or sizes of potatoes harvested during 1937, during a specified period or periods, by (1) prohibiting handlers from handling potatoes of the United States grade or grades other than the grade or grades specified by the Secretary; or by (2) prohibiting handlers from handling potatoes of a size smaller than the size or sizes specified by the Secretary; or by (3) both methods. Any such limitation shall become effective three days after determination thereof by the Secretary, unless the Secretary announces that a longer period shall elapse.

SEC. 2. Exemptions.—(1) Before instituting any limitation of shipments pursuant to section 1 of this article, the Secretary, upon the basis of available information and findings by the Control Committee, shall determine for the area the percentage which the quantity of potatoes available for shipment under such limitation is of the total quantity of potatoes which would be available for shipment if there were no such limitation.

(2) Any producer who would, because of such limitation, be unable to dispose of as large a percentage of the potatoes produced by him as the percentage which the Secretary, pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, has determined can be properly shipped from such area, may apply to the Control Committee, whereupon the Control Committee shall investigate the facts presented by such producer and shall transmit to the Secretary its recommendations and all data in connection therewith. The Secretary may, after consideration of the Control Committee's recommendation and data, together with other information available to him, issue a certificate, through the Control Committee, to such producer which will permit the producer, either himself or through a handler, to dispose of a percentage of the potatoes produced by him and available for shipment during the limitation period, which will be equal to the percentage determined by the Secretary pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) Charitable purposes.—Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right to ship potatoes for consumption to charitable institutions or to relief agencies. The Secretary may, from time to time, prescribe proper safeguards to prevent potatoes shipped for such purposes from being introduced into the commercial channels of trade contrary to the provisions hereof.

(4) Seed potatoes.—Upon recommendation by the Control Committee, approved by the Secretary, officially certified seed potatoes or other potatoes shipped for seed purposes shall be exempt from the provisions of this article provided that such recommendation includes adequate safeguards to prevent such potatoes from being used for other than seed purposes.

(5) Manufacture.—Subject to such regulations as the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, any limitation of shipments pursuant to section 1 of this article shall not be applicable to potatoes shipped for manufacture into alcohol, starch, flour, or vinegar, or any other manufacturing purpose approved by the Secretary, or for feed for livestock, and which are in due course so manufactured, or so used for livestock feed.

SEC. 3. Compliance.—Except as provided in section 2 of this article, no handler shall ship or contract to ship potatoes of a size or grade the shipment of which has been prohibited by the Secretary pursuant to this article.

SEC. 4. Notice.—The Control Committeee shall give notice of any regulation of shipments by the Secretary at least thirty (30) hours before the time it becomes effective by issuing a press release, posting a notice in the office of the Control Committee or by such other available means as the Control Committee deems necessary to give producers and handlers immediate information of such regulation.

ARTICLE IV—CONTROL COMMITTEE

SECTION 1. Membership and organization.—(1) The Secretary shall select a Control Committee consisting of 8 members, of whom 5 shall be producers and 3 shall be handlers. Two producers shall be selected to represent the producing district commonly known as the "Idaho Falls district", two producers to represent the district commonly known as the "Twin Falls district", and one producer to represent the district commonly known as the "Caldwell district." One handler shall be selected to represent each of the three preceding producing districts. The Secretary shall likewise select an alternate with the same qualifications for each member of the Committee.

(2) Any person selected as a member or an alternate shall qualify by filing a written acceptance of his selection with the Secretary or with the Secretary's designated representative.

(3) An alternate for a member of the Control Committee shall act in the place and stead of such member, in his absence or in the event of his death, removal, resignation, or disqualification.

(4) The members of the Control Committee and their alternates shall serve without compensation, but may be allowed their necessary expenses.

(5) The members of the Control Committee shall select a chairman from their membership, and all communications from the Secretary to the Committee may be addressed to the chairman at such address as may, from time to time, be filed with the Secretary. The Committee shall select such other officers and adopt such rules for the conduct of its business as it may deem advisable. The Committee shall give to the Secretary, or his designated agents or representatives, the same notice of meetings of the Committee as is given to members of the Committee.

SEC. 2. Powers.—The Control Committee shall have power:

(1) To administer, as herein specifically provided, the terms and provisions hereof;

(2) To make, in accordance with the provisions herein contained, administrative rules and regulations;

(3) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations hereof; and

(4) To recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

SEC. 3. Duties.—It shall be the duty of the Control Committee:

(1) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any handler;

(2) To keep minute books and records which will clearly reflect all of its acts and transactions, and such minute books and records shall, at any time, be subject to examination by the Secretary;

(3) To furnish the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(4) To appoint such employees as it may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries and define the duties of such employees;

(5) To consult, during the effective period hereof, with any other Control Committee established pursuant to any marketing agreement or order, or with handlers operating under any marketing agreement or order of the Secretary, with respect to shipping or handling potatoes grown in any region covered by such other marketing agreements or orders, to the end that the administration hereof may be coordinated with the administration of such other agreements or orders so as best to effectuate their respective purposes; and

(6) To cause the books of the Control Committee to be audited by one or more competent accountants at least once each year, and at such other times as the Control Committee deems necessary, or as the Secretary may request, and to file with the Secretary copies of all such audit reports.

SEC. 4. Procedure.—(1) For any decision of the Control Committee to be valid, a majority of the votes of all members of the Committee shall be necessary.

(2) Upon the selection of a majority of its members, the Control Committee may organize and commence to function. A majority of all members shall constitute a quorum.

(3) The Control Committee may provide for voting by mail, telegram, or radiogram, upon due notice to all members eligible to vote.

(4) The members of the Control Committee (including successors and alternates) and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the Control Committee shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time.

(5) Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the Control Committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time and, upon his disapproval, shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith.

SEC. 5. Funds.—All funds received by the Control Committee pursuant to any provision hereof shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified and shall be accounted for in the following manner:

(1) The Secretary may, at any time, require the Control Committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements;

(2) Upon the removal, or expiration of the term of office, of any member of the Control Committee, such member shall account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property and funds in his hands, together with all books and records in his possession, to his successor in office or to such person as the Secretary may designate, and shall execute such assignments and other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such successor or in such designated person full title to all of the property, funds, or claims vested in such member.

ARTICLE V—FUNDS AND EXPENSES

SECTION 1. Expenses.—The Control Committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out its functions hereunder. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. Funds.—Each handler shall pay to the Control Committee on demand as his pro rata share of the expenses, which the Secretary may find will necessarily be incurred by the Control Committee for the maintenance and functioning of the Control Committee, a sum not exceeding 50 cents (the exact amount to be recommended by the Control Committee and subject to approval by the Secretary) for each car or truck of potatoes shipped or handled by such handler.

SEC. 3. Shipping permits.—The Secretary may, in his discretion and for the purpose of collecting money for administrative expenses hereunder, require handlers to purchase from the Control Committee permits to be affixed to each package, lot, carload, or shipment of potatoes before the same shall be handled: Provided, however, That any payments received for such permits shall be used for the purpose set forth in section 1 of this article, and shall, in no event, exceed the pro rata share of expenses required to be paid by any handler.

ARTICLE VI—REPORTS

SECTION 1. Reports.—Upon the request of the Control Committee made with the approval of the Secretary, every handler shall furnish the Control Committee, in such manner and at such times as it prescribes, such information as it deems necessary to enable it to exercise its powers and perform its duties hereunder.

ARTICLE VII—LIABILITY OF CONTROL COMMITTEE MEMBERS

SECTION. 1. Liability.—No member or alternate of the Control Committee, nor any employee thereof, shall be held liable individually, in any way whatsoever, to any party hereto or any other person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, or employee except for acts of dishonesty. The liability of the parties hereunder is several and not joint, and no party shall be liable for the default of any other party.

ARTICLE VIII—DURATION OF IMMUNITIES

SECTION 1. Duration of immunities.—The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by virtue of this order shall cease upon its termination, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this order.

ARTICLE IX—EFFECTIVE TIME AND TERMINATION

SECTION 1. Effective time.—This order shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached hereto, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways hereafter specified.

SEC. 2. Suspension and termination.—This order, any provision hereof or any amendment hereto, may be suspended or terminated by the Secretary, as to any or all handlers, after such reasonable notice as the Secretary may give, and shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

SEC. 3. Unless sooner terminated, this order shall terminate at 11:59 p. m., July 31, 1938.

SEC. 4. Proceedings after termination.—(1) Upon the termination hereof, the members of the Control Committee then functioning shall continue to function for the purpose of liquidating its affairs and shall keep the funds and property then in their possession as members of such Control Committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property undelivered at the time of such termination. Said members (a) shall continue to function until discharged by the Secretary, (b) shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements, and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the Control Committee, to such person or persons as the Secretary may direct, and (c) shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such person or persons full title to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the Control Committee. Any funds collected pursuant to article V hereof, over and above amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred during the operation hereof and during the liquidation period shall, as soon as practicable after the termination hereof, be returned to handlers. The refund to each handler shall be represented by the excess of the amount paid by him over and above his pro rata share of the expenses.

(2) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered by the members of the Control Committee upon direction of the Secretary, as herein provided, shall be subject to the same obligations and duties with respect to the said funds, property, or claims as were hereinabove imposed upon members of said committee.

ARTICLE X—AGENTS

SECTION 1. Agents.—The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any persons, including any officers or employees of the Government, or name any bureaus or divisions in the Department of Agriculture, to act as his agents or representatives in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

ARTICLE XI—SEPARABILITY

SECTION 1. Separability.—If any provision hereof is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstances, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder hereof or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

ARTICLE XII—DEROGATION

SECTION 1. Derogation.—Nothing contained herein is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States:

(1) To exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise; or

(2) In accordance with such powers to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has executed this order in duplicate and has caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 15th day of October 1937, and declares this order to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., m. s. t., October 19, 1937.

DETERMINATION OF THE SECRETARY WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF POTATOES GROWN IN THE STATES OF MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, AND MINNESOTA, AND CERTAIN COUNTIES IN THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the provisions of Public No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and further amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, having reason to believe that the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order with respect to the handling of potatoes grown in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, and the Counties of Towner, Cavalier, Pembina, Pierce, Benson, Ramsey, Walsh, Nelson, Grand Forks, Wells, Eddy, Foster, Griggs, Steele, Traill, Barnes, Cass, and Richland, in the State of North Dakota, would tend to effectuate the declared policy of said acts, gave, on the 14th day of August, 1937, notice of hearings which were held in the Court Room, County Court House, Waupaca, Wisconsin, on the 24th day of August, 1937, in the Armory, Princeton, Minnesota, on the 26th day of August, 1937, in the City Hall Auditorium, Grand Forks, North Dakota, on the 28th day of August, 1937, and in the Court Room, County Court House, Cadillac, Michigan, on the 28th day of August, 1937, on a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of potatoes grown in the above-mentioned areas, at which times and places all interested parties were afforded an opportunity to be heard on a proposed marketing agreement and proposed order; and

Whereas, after such hearings and after the tentative approval by the Secretary of Agriculture of a marketing agreement on the 3rd day of September, 1937, handlers of more than fifty per centum of the volume of potatoes covered by such proposed order, which are produced or marketed within the aforementioned areas, refused or failed to sign such marketing agreement relating to potatoes;

Now, therefore, the Secretary of Agriculture, by virtue of the authority vested in him by Public No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended, hereby determines:

1. That the refusal or failure of the said handlers to sign the said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the above-mentioned acts with respect to potatoes grown in the aforementioned areas; and

2. That the issuance of the proposed order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of potatoes in said areas; and

3. That the issuance of the proposed order is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the marketing season 1936, said season being here and now determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, have been engaged in the aforementioned areas in the production for market of potatoes.

In Witness Whereof, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, have executed this determination and have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 11th day of October, 1937.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Approved:

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT,
The President of the United States.

Dated, October 12, 1937.

ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE REGULATING THE HANDLING IN INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE, AND SUCH HANDLING AS DIRECTLY BURDENS, OBSTRUCTS OR AFFECTS ITERSTATE OR FOREIGN COMMERCE, OF POTATOES GROWN IN THE STATES OF MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, AND MINNESOTA AND IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA.

Whereas, under the provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), it is provided that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of the act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities, including potatoes, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities; and

Whereas, the Secretary, having reason to believe that the issuance of an order would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to the establishment and maintenance of such orderly marketing conditions in interstate and forign commerce for potatoes grown in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota and in the counties of Towner, Cavalier, Pembina, Pierce, Benson, Ramsey, Walsh, Nelson, Grand Forks, Wells, Eddy, Foster, Griggs, Steele, Traill, Barnes, Cass and Richland, in the State of North Dakota hereinafter referred to as the "area", as would establish prices to the producers of such potatoes at a level that would give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period August 1919–July 1929, conducted public hearings at Waupaca, Wisconsin, on August 24, 1937, Princeton, Minnesota, on August 26, 1937, and at Grand Forks, North Dakota, and Cadillac, Michigan, on August 28, 1937, pursuant to due notice given to all interested parties on August 14, 1937, on a proposed order regulating such handling of such potatoes as is in the current of interstate and foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects such commerce in the said potatoes, at which hearings all interested persons in attendance were afforded due opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed order; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearings and the record thereof:

(1) That at the time of the hearings the prices received by the producers of such potatoes were at a level that gave such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy appreciably below the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period;

(2) That the regulation of shipments by grades and sizes of the potatoes covered by this order, as prescribed herein, will serve to prevent marked fluctuations in prices to the producers thereof, and will establish and maintain a more stabilized market for such potatoes, tending to establish prices to such producers at a level that will give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes during the base period;

(3) That this order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area and to the smallest regional marketing area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of such regional production and marketing area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) That the pro rata contribution of handlers to the expenses of the administrative agency herein created, based upon the quantity of potatoes shipped, as provided in this order, is fair and equitable; and

(5) That this order and all the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to potatoes grown in the said area by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will establish prices to producers thereof at a level that will give such potatoes a purchasing power with respect to articles that such producers buy equivalent to the purchasing power of such potatoes in the base period and by protecting the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching the level of prices which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and by (b) authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the level which it is declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds that after the said hearings and after the tentative approval by the Secretary, on September 3, 1937, of a marketing agreement which regulates the handling of said potatoes in the same manner as this order, upon which hearings were held on August 24, 26 and 28, 1937, handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are engaged in processing, distributing or shipping the potatoes covered by this order) who handled more than fifty (50) percent of the volume of the potatoes covered by this order, and marketed during the 1936 season in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, refused or failed to sign the said marketing agreement with the Secretary; and

Whereas, the Secretary determined on the 11th day of October 1937, said determination being approved by the President of the United States on the 12th day of October 1937, that such refusal or failure to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the aforesaid declared policy of the act, and that the issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to such policy, of advancing the interests of producers of potatoes in the said area and is approved or favored by over two-thirds of the producers who, during the 1936 marketing season, said season being herewith determined by the Secretary to be a representative period, have been engaged in the said area in the production for market of potatoes; and

Whereas, the Secretary finds that this order regulates the handling of such potatoes in the same manner as the aforesaid tentatively approved marketing agreement, and that it is made applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said tentatively approved marketing agreement;

Now, therefore, It is ordered by the Secretary, acting under the authority vested in him by the act, that such handling of the said potatoes as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such potatoes, from and after the date hereinafter specified, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order.

ARTICLE I—DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1. As used herein, the following terms have the following meanings:

1. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States;

2. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937;

3. "Person" means individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit;

4. "Potatoes" means and includes all varieties of white (Irish) potatoes grown within the area described in paragraph 8 of this section, during the year 1937;

5. "To ship" or "to handle" means to put such potatoes into the channels of trade by conveying or causing them to be conveyed by railroad, truck, boat, or any other means whatsoever in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect interstate or foreign commerce; "to ship" or "to handle" does not include the act of a grower in merely tansferring ownership or title to a shipper, nor does it include acting as a common carrier for another person;

6. "Producer" means any person who produces potatoes for sale;

7. "Handler" means any person who ships or otherwise handles potatoes, or permits another person to ship or otherwise handle potatoes in the name of such first person; and

8. "Area" means and includes the following geographical areas: The States of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota; and the counties of Towner, Cavalier, Pembina, Pierce, Benson, Ramsey, Walsh, Nelson, Grand Forks, Wells, Eddy, Foster, Griggs, Steele, Traill, Barnes, Cass and Richland, in the State of North Dakota.

ARTICLE II—GENERAL CULL REGULATIONS

SECTION 1. Limitation on shipments.—No handler shall ship or handle in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or so as directly to burden, obstruct or affect interstate or foreign commerce any lot of potatoes which does not at least meet the requirements for U. S. No. 2 potatoes as defined in the "Official Standards for Potatoes", issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, effective September 15, 1936, except that a mixture of varieties is permitted and except that under no circumstances shall the size be less than 1½ inches in diameter with the standard tolerance of 5 percent by weight.

SEC. 2. Inspection.—During any period in which the Secretary has limited the shipment of potatoes as provided in article II or in article III hereof, no handler shall ship or handle any potatoes unless they are inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service and a certificate is issued showing the necessary information to determine whether such potatoes conform with the requirements of article II and of the regulations, if any, made effective under article III.

ARTICLE III—GRADE AND SIZE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Regulations.—Whenever the Secretary shall find, upon the basis of the recommendations of the Control Committee and other available information, that to limit further the shipments of grades or sizes of potatoes would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall limit the shipment of such grades or sizes of potatoes harvested during 1937, during a specified period or periods, by (1) prohibiting handlers from handling potatoes of the United States grade or grades other than the grade or grades specified by the Secretary; or by (2) prohibiting handlers from handling potatoes of a size smaller or larger than the size or sizes specified by the Secretary; or by (3) both methods; provided, that the Secretary shall not limit, or provide methods for limiting, the shipment of potatoes which are at least 1⅞ inches in diameter, and otherwise grading U. S. Fancy, U. S. Extra No. 1, U. S. No. 1, and U. S. No. 1, Size A, as described in the "Official Standards for Potatoes" issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, effective September 15, 1936. Any such limitation shall become effective three days after determination thereof by the Secretary, unless the Secretary announces that a longer period shall elapse.

SEC. 2. Exemptions.—(1) Before instituting any limitation of shipments pursuant to section 1 of this article, the Secretary, upon the basis of available information and findings by the Control Committee, shall determine for the area the percentage which the quantity of potatoes available for shipment under such limitation, is of the total quantity of potatoes which would otherwise be available for shipment if there were no such limitation.

(2) Any producer who would, because of such limitation, be unable to dispose of as large a percentage of the potatoes produced by him as the percentage which the Secretary, pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, has determined can be properly shipped from such area, may apply to the Control Committee, whereupon the Control Committee shall investigate the facts presented by such producer and shall transmit to the Secretary its recommendations and all data in connection therewith. The Secretary may, after consideration of the Control Committee's recommendation and data, together with other information available to him, issue a certificate, through the Control Committee, to such producer which will permit the producer, either himself or through a handler, to dispose of a percentage of the potatoes produced by him and available for shipment during the limitation period, which will be equal to the percentage determined by the Secretary pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) Charitable purposes.—Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right to ship potatoes for consumption to charitable institutions or to relief agencies. The Secretary may, from time to time, prescribe proper safeguards to prevent potatoes shipped for such purposes from being introduced into the commercial channels of trade contrary to the provisions hereof.

(4) Seed potatoes.—Potatoes which are officially certified for seed purposes by the respective official state seed potato certification agencies, shall be exempt from the provisions of this article.

(5) Manufacture.—Subject to such regulations as the Control Committee, with the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture, may prescribe, any limitation of shipments pursuant to section 1 of this article shall not be applicable to potatoes shipped for manufacture into alcohol, starch, flour, or vinegar or any other manufacturing purpose approved by the Secretary, or for feed for livestock, and which are in due course so manufactured, or so used for livestock feed.

SEC. 3. Compliance.—Except as provided in section 2 of this article, no handler shall ship or contract to ship potatoes of a size or grade the shipment of which has been prohibited by the Secretary pursuant to this article.

SEC. 4. Notice.—The Control Committee shall give notice of any regulation of shipments by the Secretary at least thirty (30) hours before the time it becomes effective by issuing a press release, posting a notice in the office of the Control Committee, or by such other available means as the Control Committee deems necessary to give producers and handlers immediate information of such regulation.

ARTICLE IV—CONTROL COMMITTEE

SECTION 1. Membership and organization.—The Secretary shall select a Control Committee consisting of twelve members, of whom eight shall be producers and four shall be handlers. Two producers and one handler shall be selected from each of the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, and from the counties in North Dakota designated in paragraph 8, section 1, article I. The Secretary shall likewise select for each member of the committee an alternate with the same qualifications, and in like manner shall select successors.

(2) Any person selected as a member or an alternate shall qualify by filing a written acceptance of his selection with the Secretary or with the Secretary's designated representative.

(3) An alternate for a member of the Control Committee shall act in the place and stead of such member, in his absence or in the event of his death, removal, resignation or disqualification.

(4) The members of the Control Committee, and alternates when acting in the place and stead of members, shall receive compensation at the rate of $5.00 per day when engaged, and shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred, in the performance of their duties hereunder.

(5) The members of the Control Committee shall select a chairman from their membership, and all communications from the Secretary to the committee may be addressed to the chairman at such address as may, from time to time, be filed with the Secretary. The committee shall select such other officers and adopt such rules for the conduct of its business as it may deem advisable. The committee shall give to the Secretary, or his designated agents or representatives, the same notice of meetings of the committee as is given to members of the committee.

SEC. 2. Powers.—The Control Committee shall have power:

(1) To administer, as herein specifically provided, the terms and provisions hereof;

(2) To make, in accordance with the provisions herein contained, administrative rules and regulations;

(3) To receive, investigate and report to the Secretary complaints of violations hereof; and

(4) To recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

SEC. 3. Duties.—It shall be the duty of the Control Committee:

(1) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any handler;

(2) To keep minute books and records which will clearly reflect all of its acts and transactions, and such minute books and records shall, at any time, be subject to examination by the Secretary;

(3) To furnish the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(4) To appoint such employees as it may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries and define the duties of such employees;

(5) To consult, during the effective period hereof, with any other Control Committee established pursuant to any marketing agreement or order, or with handlers operating under any marketing agreement or order of the Secretary, with respect to shipping or handling potatoes grown in any region covered by such other marketing agreements or orders, to the end that the administration hereof may be coordinated with the administration of such other agreements or orders so as best to effectuate their respective purposes; and

(6) To cause the books of the Control Committee to be audited by one or more competent accountants at least once each year, and at such other times as the Control Committee deems necessary, or as the Secretary may request, and to file with the Secretary copies of all such audit reports.

SEC. 4. Procedure.—(1) For any decision of the Control Committee to be valid, a majority of the votes of all members of the committee shall be necessary.

(2) Upon the selection of a majority of its members, the Control Committee may organize and commence to function. A majority of all members shall constitute a quorum.

(3) The Control Committee may provide for voting by mail, telegram or radiogram, upon due notice to all members eligible to vote.

(4) The members of the Control Committee (including successors and alternates) and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the Control Committee shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time.

(5) Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination or other act of the Control Committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time, and upon his disapproval, shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith.

SEC. 5. Funds.—All funds received by the Control Committee pursuant to any provision hereof shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified and shall be accounted for in the following manner:

(1) The Secretary may, at any time, require the Control Committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements;

(2) Upon the removal, or expiration of the term of office, of any member of the Control Committee, such member shall account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property and funds in his hands, together with all books and records in his possession, to his successor in office or to such person as the Secretary may designate, and shall execute such assignments and other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such successor or in such designated person full title to all of the property, funds or claims vested in such member.

ARTICLE V—FUNDS AND EXPENSES

SECTION 1. Expenses.—The Control Committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out its functions hereunder. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 2. Funds.—Each handler shall pay to the Control Committee on demand as his pro rata share of the expenses, which the Secretary may find will necessarily be incurred by the Control Committee for the maintenance and functioning of the Control Committee, a sum not exceeding 60 cents (the exact amount to be determined by the Control Committee subject to review by the Secretary) for each car or truck of potatoes shipped or handled by such handler.

SEC. 3. Shipping permits.—The Secretary may, in his discretion and for the purpose of collecting money for administrative expenses hereunder, require handlers to purchase from the Control Committee permits to be affixed to each package, lot, carload, or shipment of potatoes before the same shall be handled; provided, however, that any payments received for such permits shall be used for the purpose set forth in section 1 of this article, and shall, in no event, exceed the pro rata share of expenses required to be paid by any handler.

ARTICLE VI—REPORTS

SECTION 1. Reports.—Upon the request of the Control Committee made with the approval of the Secretary, every handler shall furnish the Control Committee, in such manner and at such times as it prescribes, such information as it deems necessary to enable it to exercise its powers and perform its duties hereunder.

ARTICLE VII—LIABILITY OF CONTROL COMMITTEE MEMBERS

SECTION 1. Liability.—No member or alternate of the Control Committee, nor any employee thereof, shall be held liable individually, in any way whatsoever, to any party hereto or any other person for errors in judgment, mistakes or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate or employee except for acts of dishonesty. The liability of the parties hereunder is several and not joint, and no party shall be liable for the default of any other party.

ARTICLE VIII—DURATION OF IMMUNITIES

SECTION 1. Duration of immunities.—The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by virtue of this order shall cease upon its termination, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this order.

ARTICLE IX—EFFECTIVE TIME AND TERMINATION

SECTION 1. Effective time.—This order shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature attached hereto, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways hereafter specified.

SEC. 2. Suspension and termination.—This order, any provision hereof or any amendment hereto, may be suspended or terminated by the Secretary, as to any or all handlers, after such reasonable notice as the Secretary may give, and shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

SEC. 3. Unless sooner terminated, this order shall terminate at 11:59 p. m., July 31, 1938.

SEC. 4. Proceedings after termination.—(1) Upon the termination hereof, the members of the Control Committee then functioning shall continue to function for the purpose of liquidating its affairs and shall keep the funds and property then in their possesion as members of such Control Committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property undelivered at the time of such termination. Said members (a) shall continue to function until discharged by the Secretary, (b) shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements, and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the Control Committee, to such person or persons as the Secretary may direct, and (c) shall, upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such person or persons full title to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the Control Committee. Any funds collected pursuant to article V hereof, over and above amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred during the operation hereof and during the liquidation period shall, as soon as practicable after the termination hereof, be returned to handlers. The refund to each handler shall be represented by the excess of the amount paid by him over and above his pro rata share of the expenses.

(2) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered by the members of the Control Committee upon direction of the Secretary, as herein provided, shall be subject to the same obligations and duties with respect to the said funds, property, or claims as were hereinabove imposed upon members of said committee.

ARTICLE X—AGENTS

SECTION 1. Agents.—The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any persons, including any officers or employees of the Government, or name any bureaus or divisions in the Department of Agriculture, to act as his agents or representatives in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

ARTICLE XI—SEPARABILITY

SECTION 1. Separability.—If any provision hereof is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstances, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder hereof or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

ARTICLE XII—DEROGATION

SECTION 1. Derogation.—Nothing contained herein is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States:

(1) To exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise; or

(2) In accordance with such powers to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

In witness whereof, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, has executed this order in duplicate and has caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed hereto in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 15th day of October 1937, and declares this order to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., c. s. t., October 19, 1937.

AMENDMENT OF ORDER TO PREVENT THE INTRODUCTION INTO THE UNITED STATES OF RINDERPEST AND FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

Under authority conferred by law upon the Secretary of Agriculture by Section 306 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 590–689), the order to prevent the introduction into the United States of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease (B. A. I. Order 353), dated June 1, 1935, and effective August 1, 1935, as amended, is hereby further amended by including the name of "Switzerland" in the list of countries in said order, as I have determined that foot-and-mouth disease now exists in said country of Switzerland and I have so officially notified the Secretary of the Treasury.

This amendment, which for purpose of identification is designated Amendment 10 to B. A. I. Order 353, shall be effective on and after October 18, 1937.

Done at Washington this 15th day of October 1937.

[B. E. P. Q.—Q64]

MEXICAN FRUIT FLY QUARANTINE

REVISION OF QUARANTINE AND REGULATIONS

Effective Oct. 15, 1937

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The following revision of Federal Domestic Plant Quarantine No. 64 and regulations supplemental thereto adds a portion of Jim Wells County in Texas to the regulated area; fixes a host-free period from May 1 to August 31, inclusive, of each year, subject to such modifications as to duration and dates of commencement and termination as may be authorized by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine; designates the insect formerly known as Mexican fruit worm under the more appropriate title of Mexican fruit fly; adds fruits of species of the genus Sargentia to the list of hosts; modifies former specific restrictions as to containers; and provides that the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine may specify the conditions and period for the maintenance of sanitary requirements in groves, and may modify, by administrative instructions, any of the restrictions contained in the regulations, other than those pertaining to extension or reduction of the regulated area, when in his judgment such action is necessary to prevent the spread of the Mexican fruit fly.

SUMMARY

These regulations as revised prohibit the interstate shipment of grapefruit, oranges, and all other citrus fruits except lemons and sour limes, from the counties of Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo, Willacy, and a portion of Jim Wells County, Tex., unless a Federal permit (Form 443) has been issued therefor. The permits may be limited as to destination, and when so limited, are not valid for shipment to other destination points or areas (except to diversion points for diversion to authorized destinations only). (Regulation 5 (a).)

Peaches, apples, pears, plums, quinces, apricots, mangoes, sapotas, guavas, mameys, ciruelas, and fruit of species of the genus Sargentia are prohibited interstate shipment from the regulated area. (Regulations 1 (c) and 5 (b).)

There are no restrictions on the shipment of lemons or sour limes. (Regulation 5 (c).)

Sterilization may be required as a condition for interstate movement of host fruits from defined infested zones. (Regulation 6 (e).)

A host-free period is to be maintained from May 1 to August 31, inclusive. (Regulation 7 (Sec. A).)

Information relative to the issuance and use of permits is given in regulations 6 and 7.

NOTICE OF QUARANTINE NO. 64 (REVISED)

I, Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, have determined that it is necessary to quarantine the State of Texas to prevent the spread of an injurious insect known as the Mexican fruit fly (Anastrepha ludens Loew), new to and not heretofore widely prevalent or distributed within and throughout the United States.

Now, therefore, under authority conferred by the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912 (37 Stat. 315), as amended by the Act of Congress approved March 4, 1917 (39 Stat. 1134, 1165), and having duly given the public hearing required thereby, I do quarantine the said State of Texas, effective on and after October 15, 1937, and by this Notice of Quarantine No. 64 do order that no fruits of any variety shall be shipped, offered for shipment to a common carrier, received for transportation, or carried by a common carrier, or carried, transported, moved, or allowed to be moved interstate from the said quarantined State in manner or method or under conditions other than those prescribed in the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto or under such modification thereof as may be issued by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine as hereinafter provided: Provided, That the restrictions of this quarantine and of the rules and regulations supplemental thereto or modification thereof as hereinafter provided, may be limited to the areas in the State of Texas now, or which may hereafter be, designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as regulated areas: Provided further, That such limitation of the restrictions to the regulated areas shall be conditioned upon the said State providing for and enforcing such control measures with respect to such regulated areas, including the control of intrastate movement of host fruits from such areas, as in the judgment of the Secretary of Agriculture shall be deemed adequate to prevent the spread of the Mexican fruit fly therefrom to other parts of the State: And provided further, That, except as to extension or reduction of the regulated area, the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine may modify by administrative instructions any of the restrictions of the regulations supplemental hereto when in his judgment such action is necessary to prevent the spread of the Mexican fruit fly.

Done at the city of Washington this 14th day of October 1937.

Witness my hand and the seal of the United States Department of Agriculture

RULES AND REGULATIONS (SECOND REVISION) SUPPLEMENTAL TO NOTICE OF QUARANTINE NO. 64

REGULATION 1. DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of these regulations, the following words shall be construed respectively to mean:

(a) Mexican fruit fly.—The insect known as the Mexican fruit fly (Anastrepha ludens Loew).

(b) Regulated areas.—The areas in the State of Texas now, or which may hereafter be, designated as such by the Secretary of Agriculture in accordance with the provisos to Notice of Quarantine No. 64.

(c) Host fruits.—Fruits susceptible to infestation by the Mexican fruit fly, namely, mangoes, sapotas (including sapodillas and the fruit of all members of the family Sapotaceae and of the genus Casimiroa and all other fruits commonly called sapotas or sapotes), peaches, guavas, apples, pears, plums, quinces, apricots, mameys, ciruelas, fruit of species of the genus Sargentia, and all citrus fruits except lemons and sour limes, together with any other fruits which may later be determined as susceptible and of which due notice will be given.

(d) Host-free period.—A period of time during which no host fruits are produced or permitted to exist within the regulated area, except immature fruit in such stage of development, and mature fruit held or stored under such conditions as are prescribed by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, which in his judgment do not convey risk of propagating the Mexican fruit fly.

(e) Inspector.—An inspector of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(f) Moved interstate.—Shipped, offered for shipment to a common carrier, received for transportation or transported by a common carrier, or carried, transported, moved, or allowed to be moved from the area designated as regulated in the State of Texas into or through any other State or Territory or District.

REGULATION 2. LIMITATION OF RESTRICTIONS TO REGULATED AREAS

Conditioned upon the compliance on the part of the State of Texas with the provisos to Notice of Quarantine No. 64, the restrictions provided in these regulations or subsequent administrative instructions on the production or interstate movement of fruit will be limited to fruit produced in or moving interstate from the areas in Texas now or hereafter designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as regulated areas.

REGULATION 3. REGULATED AREA

In accordance with the provisos to Notice of Quarantine No. 64, the Secretary of Agriculture designates as "regulated area" the counties of Brooks, Cameron, Hidalgo, and Willacy in the State of Texas, and that portion of Jim Wells County, Tex., lying south of Highway 141 and a line projected due west to the Jim Wells-Duval County line from the point where Highways 141 and 66 intersect, including all cities, towns, townships, and other political subdivisions within this area.

REGULATION 4. EXTENSION OR REDUCTION OF REGULATED AREAS

The regulated areas designated in regulation 3 may be extended or reduced as may be deemed advisable by the Secretary of Agriculture in accordance with the provisions of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912, as amended.

REGULATION 5. RESTRICTIONS ON THE INTERSTATE MOVEMENT OF FRUIT FROM THE REGULATED AREA

(a) Permits required.—Grapefruit, oranges, and other citrus fruits (except as provided in paragraph (c) hereof) shall not be moved interstate from a regulated area into or through any point outside thereof unless a permit has been issued therefor by the United States Department of Agriculture.

(b) Movement of noncitrus hosts prohibited.—Peaches, apples, pears, plums, quinces, apricots, mangoes, sapotas (see regulation 1 (c)), guavas, mameys, ciruelas, and fruits of species of the genus Sargentia shall not be moved interstate from the regulated area and no permits will be issued for such movement.

(c) No restrictions on immune and manufactured fruits.—No restrictions are placed by these regulations on the interstate movement of lemons, sour limes, or other non-host fruits, nor on the interstate movement of host fruits which have been manufactured or processed in such manner as to eliminate danger of carrying the Mexican fruit fly.

(d) Movement through regulated area.—No restrictions are placed by these regulations on the interstate movement of restricted articles from an area not under regulation through a regulated area when such movement is on a through bill of lading.

REGULATION 6. CONDITIONS GOVERNING THE ISSUANCE OF PERMITS

Permits for the interstate movement of grapefruit, oranges, and other restricted citrus fruits from the regulated area may be issued upon determination by the inspector that the proposed movement does not involve risk of spread of the Mexican fruit fly. Such determination will be based on compliance with the following conditions:

(a) Grove inspection and sanitation.—The grove in which the fruit was produced shall be maintained in compliance with the host-free requirement of these regulations and shall be kept free from drops and windfalls during such periods and time as the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine may direct. Such drops and windfalls shall be buried under at least 18 inches of tamped soil or otherwise disposed of in manner and method prescribed by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. The grove shall further be maintained in compliance with such other requirements as may be enforced by the State of Texas for the suppression of Mexican fruit fly infestation. Permits may be issued for the interstate movement of fruit produced only in such groves as have been inspected within 30 days prior to the movement of the fruit concerned and have been found free from Mexican fruit fly infestation.

(b) Packing house requirements.—The packer and shipper shall maintain his packing plant in compliance with the sanitation requirements of the State of Texas issued for the suppression of the Mexican fruit fly. The packer shall also maintain a complete record of all receipts and sales or shipments of host fruits, subject to examination by the inspector.

(c) Applications.—Persons desiring to purchase, pack, or move grapefruit, oranges, or other restricted citrus fruits interstate from the regulated area shall make application for a permit to the office of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Harlingen, Texas, as far as possible in advance of the probable date of shipment. Application shall show the nature and quantity of the fruit it is proposed to move, together with the location at which it will be packed, the name and address of the shipper, and a list of all groves, together with the names and addresses of the owners, from which fruit for packing will be secured. Each applicant shall file with his application a signed statement in which he agrees to notify the inspector of all additional groves from which fruit for packing will be secured, not to pack or ship fruit from any grove until he has received written notification from the inspector that the grove has been maintained in compliance with the regulations issued under this quarantine, and to discontinue packing and shipping the fruit from any grove on notification from the inspector of the discovery of an infestation of the Mexican fruit fly in such grove or adjoining groves or of failure on the part of the owner or manager of such grove to comply with any condition of these regulations.

(d) Containers.—Permits will be issued for the interstate movement of only such fruit as is packed in containers customarily used in the regulated area for the commercial shipment of citrus fruits, and which are of such nature as will permit the inspector to identify the contents thereof.

(e) Sterilization may be required.—Sterilization of host fruits in manner and by method prescribed by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine may be required as a condition for the issuance of permits for interstate movement thereof when in his judgment the shipments concerned might involve risk of spread of the Mexican fruit fly.

(f) Destination limitations.—Permits may be limited as to destination and when so limited the fruits covered thereby shall not be moved interstate from the regulated area, directly or indirectly, either in the original containers or otherwise, to destinations other than those authorized in such permits, except to the usual deversion points for diversion to authorized destinations only.

(g) Cancelation of permits.—Any permits issued under these regulations may be withdrawn or canceled and further permits refused either for any failure of compliance with these regulations or violation of them, or whenever in the judgment of the inspector the further use of such permits might result in the dissemination of infestation.

REGULATION 7. CONDITIONS REQUIRED IN THE REGULATED AREAS

The interstate movement of grapefruit, oranges, and other restricted citrus fruit from the regulated areas under permits issued by the United States Department of Agriculture will be conditioned on the State of Texas providing for and enforcing the following control measures in manner and by method approved by the United States Department of Agriculture, namely:

SECTION A. Host-free period

A host-free period shall be maintained each year beginning on the first day of May and continuing until the first day of September, subject to such modification as to duration and dates of commencement and termination as may be authorized by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine when in his judgment such modification does not involve increased risk of spread of the Mexican fruit fly.

Prior to the commencement of such host-free period each year, all restricted citrus fruit shall be removed from the tree for immediate sale or shipment, or for retention in fly-proof storage approved by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, and all other host fruits shall be destroyed either following removal from the trees or by destruction of the trees themselves.

No host fruits shall be permitted to remain on trees or to exist elsewhere within a regulated area at any time during such host-free period except immature citrus fruits which in the judgment of the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine are not susceptible to infestation by the Mexican fruit fly.

Section B. Inspection

A system of inspection shall be carried on throughout the year to provide for the efficient enforcement of Sections A and C of this regulation, for the prompt discovery of any infestations which occur, and for the enforcement of such conditions in and around citrus groves and packing and processing plants as shall be necessary to prevent the dissemination of Mexican fruit fly through the interstate movement of citrus host fruits.

Section C. Infested Zones

Upon the determination of a Mexican fruit fly infestation within a regulated area, which in the judgment of the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine constitutes a risk of spread of such fly, an infested zone shall be designated by the State of Texas subject to approval by the United States Department of Agriculture and all host fruits in susceptible stages of maturity produced within such zone and existing in the regulated area shall be destroyed or processed in such a manner as to render them free from infestation.

REGULATION 8. MARKETING REQUIREMENTS

Every crate, box, or other container of host fruit moved interstate under these regulations shall have securely attached thereto a shipping permit (Form 443) issued under the provisions of regulation 6, and shall be subject to such other marking as may be required by the inspector.

Each shipment of six or more crates, boxes, or other containers of host fruit moved interstate under these regulations shall, in addition to the shipping permit on each such container, be accompanied by a master permit (Form 515) showing the number of containers and either the license number and destination of the vehicle or the name, number, and destination of the freight car or other carrier, as the case may be.

REGULATION 9. INSPECTION IN TRANSIT

Any car, vehicle, basket, box, crate, or other container, moved interstate, which contains or which the inspector has probable cause to believe contains articles the movement of which is prohibited or restricted by these regulations, shall be subject to inspection by inspectors at any time or place.

REGULATION 10. SHIPMENTS BY THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Articles subject to restriction in these regulations may be moved interstate by the United States Department of Agriculture for experimental or scientific purposes, on such conditions and under such safeguards as may be prescribed by the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. The container of articles so moved shall bear, securely attached to the outside thereof, an identifying tag from the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine showing compliance with such conditions.

These revised rules and regulations shall be effective on and after October 15, 1937, and shall supersede the rules and regulations promulgated August 12, 1932, as amended.

Done at the city of Washington this 14th day of October 1937.

Witness my hand and the seal of the United States Department of Agriculture.

FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION.

[FCA 62]

LOANS TO DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AND AGENTS OF THE FARM CREDIT ADMINISTRATION, THE PRODUCTION CREDIT CORPORATION, AND THE PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION

REVISION OF SECTION 218 OF THE RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATIONS

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration by the Farm Credit Act of 1933, particularly sections 20 and 23 thereof, section 218 of the Rules and Regulations for Production Credit Associations is hereby revised as follows:

Subject to the prior approval of the Production Credit Commissioner, loans that are otherwise eligible may be made by the association to a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or to an officer (as distinguished from an employee) of the Farm Credit Administration, or to a member of the immediate family of any of the aforesaid persons, who is otherwise eligible, on the same terms and conditions as to other borrowers. Such prior approval must likewise be obtained: (a) Where the proceeds of a loan, if made by the association to a person, partnership, or corporation, otherwise eligible, are to be used in connection with property in which any of the aforesaid persons has a present legal or equitable interest; or (b) where any of the aforesaid persons is a member of a partnership or a stockholder in a corporation to which the association desires to make a loan. Loans to an employee of the Farm Credit Administration who is not an officer thereof, or to a member of his immediate family, may be made without the approval of the Production Credit Commissioner.

Subject to the limitations contained in the bylaws of the association and subject to the prior approval of the corporation, loans that are otherwise eligible may be made to a director or officer of the association or to a member of the immediate family of such a director or officer who is otherwise eligible on the same terms and conditions as to other borrowers. Such prior approval must likewise be obtained: (a) Where the proceeds of a loan, if made by the association to a person, partnership, or corporation, otherwise eligible, are to be used in connection with property in which such a director or officer has a present legal or equitable interest; or (b) where such director or officer is a member of a partnership or a stockholder in a corporation to which the association desires to make a loan. An association officer, employee, or agent shall not be authorized to make an inspection incident to a loan applied for or obtained by a member of his immediate family. The term "immediate family" as used in this section shall include a father, mother, brother, sister, son, daughter, husband, or wife.

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF NON-PRODUCING LANDOWNERS' ROYALTY INTERESTS IN THE SINCLAIR ET AL.-HOLLENBACK-NORMAN TRACT, FILED ON SEPTEMBER 20, 1937, BY ALEX MACDONALD, RESPONDENT

Alex Macdonald, having filed on September 20, 1937, with the Securities and Exchange Commission, an offering sheet for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from registration for the securities described therein under Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended; and

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and, therefore, alleging that said offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in a material respect, or contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of said Regulation B, to wit:

(1) In that from the information contained in the offering sheet, and shown by the plat attached thereto as Exhibit A, it is made to appear that a drilling well is located on the tract involved, whereas the Commission has information that said well has, in fact, been drilled to a total depth of approximately 7696 feet where salt water was encountered in the Wilcox sand, and, as a result, the well was completed as a dry hole and abandoned;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be deficient and/or misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 28th day of October, 1937, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said Examiner may designate.

Upon the completion of testimony in this matter the Examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

Bureau of Customs.

[T. D. 49196]

COUNTERVAILING DUTIES ON DRIED SALT FISH FROM NOVA SCOTIA

COLLECTORS OF CUSTOMS INSTRUCTED TO COLLECT DUTIES UNLESS SATISFACTORY EVIDENCE IS PRESENTED THAT NO PRODUCTION BOUNTY WAS PAID ON THE FISH BY THE GOVERNMENT OF NOVA SCOTIA.

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

The Bureau is in receipt of official information which establishes to its satisfaction that bounties or grants within the meaning of the provisions of section 303 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (U. S. C., title 19, sec. 1303) are being paid or bestowed on the production in Nova Scotia of dried salt fish.

The net amount of the bounty or grant paid or bestowed on the production in Nova Scotia of each quintal of 112 pounds of dried salt fish is hereby declared to be $1.00 with respect to codfish and $.66⅔ with respect to pollock, hake, haddock, and cusk.

It is represented that Nova Scotia is the center of the Canadian export trade in dried fish; that large quantities of dried fish are imported into Nova Scotia and subsequently reexported to foreign markets, and that no bounties or grants are paid or bestowed on such fish.

There shall be levied and collected a countervailing duty equal to the net amount of the bounty or grant paid or bestowed on dried salt fish of the kinds named in the second paragraph of this declaration, calculated at the rates indicated therein, imported directly or indirectly from Nova Scotia and entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after thirty days after the date of publication of this declaration in the weekly Treasury Decisions, unless there is filed with the entry a certificate issued by the United States Consul at Halifax identifying the particular dried fish by reference to the consignor, consignee, quantity and kind of fish, exporting vessel and date of exportation, and stating that it has been established to his satisfaction that the dried fish are not products of Nova Scotia and that no bounty or grant has been or will be paid in respect of such fish.

1938 NAVAL STORES CONSERVATION PROGRAM

BULLETIN 201

For the information of producers of gum naval stores in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas. This bulletin explains the procedure to be followed in order to qualify for payments under the Naval Stores Conservation Program for 1938.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, and in connection with the effectuation of the purposes of section 7 (a) of the said Act in 1938, payments and grants of aid will be made for participation in the 1938 Naval Stores Conservation Program in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof or other provisions as may hereafter be made.

The provisions of the 1938 Naval Stores Conservation Program are subject to such legislation relating to said program as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact, and the making of the payments herein provided are contingent upon such appropriation as the said Congress may hereafter provide for such purpose; the amounts of such payments and grants of aid will be finally determined by such appropriation and by the extent of participation in the program. Any increase or decrease in rates of payments and deductions because of the extent of participation in the program will not be in excess of 10 percent.

Definition of Terms

1. Turpentine farm.—The land and turpentine timber owned or leased, or operated on a share-crop basis, and under one management and in one general locality, which is being operated for the production of gum naval stores, and generally referred to as a "turpentine place".

2. Gum naval stores.—Crude gum (oleoresin) gum turpentine, and gum rosin produced from live trees. Gum naval stores does not include naval stores produced from dead timber, stumps, knots, etc.

3. Producer.—Any person or persons, firm, partnership, or corporation operating a turpentine farm or "place" (whether wholly or partially under fee ownership, cash lease, percentage lease, or other control) producing gum naval stores and regardless of how or where the raw product may be processed.

4. Face.—The whole wound or aggregate of streaks made by chipping, streaking, or pulling live trees to stimulate the flow of gum.

5. Cup.—A metal, clay, or other container hung on or below the face to accumulate the flow of gum.

6. Tins.—The gutters or aprons, made of sheet metal or other material, used to aid in conducting the crude gum (oleoresin) from a face into a cup.

7. Crop.—10,000 turpentine faces.

8. Drift or tract.—A portion or subdivision of a "crop" set apart for convenience of operation.

9. D. b. h.—Diameter breast height, i. e., diameter of tree measured at breast height, that is, at 4½ feet from the ground.

10. Turpentine season.—The entire calendar year or that period within the calendar year during which a producer is operating his turpentine farm for the production of gum naval stores.

11. Application.—The prescribed form of application for payment for cooperating in the 1938 Naval Stores Conservation Program (hereinafter referred to as the 1938 program).

Kind of Payments

Payment will be made to producers who in 1938 carry out the following approved practices with respect to turpentine farms currently being worked in 1938, beginning such cooperation on or within time limits to be established by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, (hereinafter referred to as Forest Service) as appropriate and practicable time limits necessary to afford full opportunity to producers to cooperate in the program and to obtain a full measure of compliance with the objectives of the program.

Duration of Program

The period during which this program is to be in effect is the period January 1 to November 15, 1938, inclusive.

Conditions of Payment—Performance Required

In order to qualify for payment, producers shall meet the following requirements:

1. No new (virgin) faces shall be operated during the 1938 turpentine season on trees less than 9 inches d. b. h. on any turpentine farm or portion thereof owned or leased by the applicant producer, whether or not such farm is covered by a work sheet and an application.

2. No faces (either old or new) shall be operated during the 1938 turpentine season on trees less than 9 inches d. b. h. on any turpentine farm which is covered by a work sheet and an application.

3. On any turpentine farm which is covered by a work sheet and an application no tree that is less than 14 inches d. b. h. shall have more than one face worked during the 1938 turpentine season.

4. Tins and cups must be removed for the 1938 turpentine season in the manner prescribed and within reasonable time limits established by the Forest Service, from faces on all trees less than 9 inches d. b. h., and from all but one face on all trees between 9 and 14 inches d. b. h. having two or more faces.

5. Total streaks per face made between January 1 and November 15, 1938, shall not exceed an aggregate of 20 inches in vertical measurement (average of measurements between shoulders of first streak and shoulders of last streak).

6. Payment shall not be made on faces in production which by drifts or tracts do not average at least 12 streaks for the 1938 season and such streaks shall have been made at no greater frequency than two streaks per week.

7. Payment shall not be made on faces retained in production in any drift or tract where the acreage height of faces exceeds 90 inches at the beginning of the 1938 turpentine season, in average vertical measurement between shoulders of first streak and shoulders of last streak, including jump streaks.

8. Payment shall not be made on faces taken out of production in any drift or tract where the average height of faces exceeds 90 inches at the beginning of the 1938 turpentine season, in average vertical measurement between shoulders of first streak and shoulders of last streak, including jump streaks.

9. Payment shall not be made on faces taken out, or remaining out, of production in any drift or tract—

(a) Unless such faces were, respectively, either in operation for two or more months during the 1937 turpentine season, or were discontinued under the 1937 Naval Stores Conservation Program (hereinafter referred to as the 1937 program), or

(b) Where the cups on such faces were installed prior to the season of 1934.

10. No tree shall have any new (first-year) back face unless a bark-bar on each side of the back face is provided, the total of the two being not less than 7 inches in width, measured horizontally along the bark surface; provided, however, that the restriction with respect to width of bark-bar shall not apply to any tree which has on it two or more old faces.

11. The applicant producer shall protect from fire all forest land of any kind within the turpentine farm owned, leased, or otherwise controlled by him during the 1938 turpentine season to the best of his ability, and in doing so shall cooperate with the State and Federal Governments in any cooperative forest fire protective system that exists contiguous to his turpentine farm or within the area within which such farm is situated.

12. The applicant producer, in order to provide for restocking and to promote continued production of timber upon which the naval stores, pulp and paper, lumber, and other wood-using industries are dependent, shall, in any and all cutting of timber under his ownership or control during the 1938 season, meet or exceed the following minimum requirements:

(a) All worked-out turpentine, defective, and nonturpentine trees may be cut, provided at least 6 thrifty seed trees 11 inches or more d. b. h. per acre are left, or provided sufficient young growth (at least 150 trees per acre 6 to 8 feet high) is left uncut.

(b) In all other cutting operations at least 6 thrifty seed trees 11 inches or more d. b. h. shall be left, unless sufficient young growth (at least 150 trees per acre 6 to 8 feet high (is left standing: provided, however, that where trees are removed in the form of thinnings not less than 50 trees per acre, spaced approximately 30 x 30 feet, 6 to 9 inches in diameter at the stump, shall be left uncut.

Standards similar to the above have been adopted by members of the American Pulpwood Association in the southern and southeastern United States, and they have also committed themselves to cooperate with the naval stores industry in the salvage and cutting of worked-out turpentine timber.

13. Each applicant producer is measuring his trees to determine those on which operation shall respectively be continued or discontinued under the 1938 program shall make an accurate count, by drifts, lots, or other suitable units, of all faces separately as to those that are to remain in operation and those which are not; and he shall make and keep a written record thereof; and such record shall be made available to any field inspector who is responsible for inspecting his operations under the program. Each producer who files a work sheet shall assist the representatives of the Forest Service in the administration of the 1938 program by giving them free access to his turpentine farm, indicating the location of trees and faces recorded on the work sheet, and otherwise facilitating the work of the inspectors in checking compliance with the terms and conditions of the program.

Rates of Payment

In connection with the utilization, during the period of January 1 to November 15 inclusive, 1938, of land devoted to growing trees suitable for or used in the production of gum naval stores, on all turpentine farms operated in accordance with the conditions hereinabove set forth, payment will be made to producers at the following rates:

A. 1 cent per face for each face in continuous operation during the 1938 turpentine season except new (virgin) faces (front or back) and except faces in drifts or tracts which, by drifts or tracts, average more than 90 inches in height at the beginning of the 1938 season.

B. 5 cents per face (a) on each face on trees less than 9 inches d. b. h. and on any one face of two or more faces on trees 9 to 14 inches d. b. h., which was taken out and kept out of operation in accordance with the conditions of the 1937 program and which is kept out of operation in 1938, and (b) on each face taken out of operation at the beginning of the 1937 turpentine season and kept out of operation in 1938 in accordance with the conditions of the 1938 program.

Application and Eligibility for Payment

(a) Filing of work sheet and application.—Payments will be made upon the basis of facts established in an application for payment properly executed on a prescribed form and filed in a district or regional office of the Forest Service. Each person filing an application for payment will be required to show that a work sheet has been properly executed covering, separately, each turpentine farm owned, leased, or otherwise controlled, and being operated by him, with respect to which an application for payment is filed.

An application for payment may be made by (1) any producer who is actively engaged in the production of gum naval stores in the period from January 1, 1938, to November 15, 1938; (2) by any person who was so engaged during 1937, or who participated in the 1937 program on land owned, leased or otherwise controlled by him; or (3) such other persons as may be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture.

(b) Time limit for filing work sheets and application.—Work sheets and applications shall be filed in the manner prescribed and within the limits established by the Forest Service as reasonably affording opportunity to producers to participate in the benefits of the program and keeping the administrative costs within the budget and as low as reasonably may be reached.

(c) Producer eligible for payment.—Payment will be made to the producer who conducts the turpentine operation and who executes the application for payment. In the event one producer conducts the operation of a turpentine place during a portion of the 1938 turpentine season and another producer (or producers) conducts the operation of the turpentine place during the remainder of the season, payment will be made to the producer who last conducts the operation of the turpentine place during the season, or the payments shall be divided between such producers on the basis of a mutual agreement between them.

(d) Time of payment.—Payment will be made as soon as practicable after a final field inspection of the turpentine farm on which a work sheet has been filed (such inspection to be made on or about November 15, 1938) and after an application of payment has been filed with respect to such farm.

Administration

The field work in connection with this program shall be administered by the Forest Service through the Office of the Regional Forester, United States Forest Service, Glenn Building, Atlanta, Georgia.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 16th day of October 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of October, 1937.

IN THE MATTER OF JESSE HYMAN AND SEYMOUR KLEIN, DOING BUSINESS AS JESSE HYMAN & CO. 29 BROADWAY NEW YORK, NEW YORK

ORDER REVOKING REGISTRATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 15 (B) OF THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934, AS AMENDED

Jesse Hyman and Seymour Klein, doing business as Jesse Hyman & Co., a partnership, hereinafter called the registrant, having filed with the Commission on June 27, 1935 an application for registration on Form 1-M pursuant to Rule MA2 of the rules then governing the over-the-counter markets; and the said registration having become effective on January 1, 1936, in accordance with the Commission's rules and regulations; and the said registrant having become registered under Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended, by virtue of the provisions of Section 10 of the Act of Congress approved May 27, 1936, providing for the registration of over-the-counter brokers and dealers; and

The Commission having reasonable grounds to believe that the said registrant is permanently enjoined by decree of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, entered with its consent, on or about September 27, 1937, from engaging in and continuing certain conduct and practices in connection with the purchase and sale of securities; and having further reasonable grounds to believe that it is in the public interest to revoke the said registration; and

The said Jesse Hyman and Seymour Klein, on September 27, 1937, having consented in writing to the revocation of said registration and having waived notice and opportunity for hearing in connection therewith, and the Commission having duly considered the matter and being fully advised in the premises;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as amended, that the registration of Jesse Hyman and Seymour Klein, doing business as Jesse Hyman & Co., a partnership, as a broker or dealer transacting business on over-the-counter markets be and the same is hereby revoked.

By the Commission.

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

AMENDING THE INSTRUCTIONS TO DIPLOMATIC OFFICERS AND THE CONSULAR REGULATIONS

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 1752 of the Revised Statutes (22 U. S. C. § 132), it is ordered that the Instructions to Diplomatic Officers and the Consular Regulations be, and they are hereby, amended as follows:

1. Section XV-8 of the Instructions to Diplomatic Officers is prescribed as follows:

"Condolences, congratulations, felicitations, etc.—When communicating condolences, congratulations, felicitations, etc., diplomatic officers will be governed by the rules on the subject established by the Department of State from time to time."

2. Article XII of the Consular Regulations is amended to read as follows:

SHIPMENT OF SEAMEN

189. Shipment of seamen in foreign ports.—(a) Every master of a merchant vessel of the United States who engages any seaman at a place out of the United States, in which there is a consular officer shall, before carrying such seaman to sea, procure the sanction of such consular officer, and shall engage seamen in his presence; and the rules governing the engagement of seamen before a shipping commissioner in the United States shall apply to such engagements made before a consular officer; and upon every such engagement the consular officer shall endorse upon the articles of agreement his sanction thereof, and an attestation to the effect that they have been signed in his presence and otherwise duly made [form no. 16]. (46 U. S. C. § 570.)

Every master who engages any seaman in any place in which there is a consular officer, otherwise than as required by the preceding paragraph, shall incur a penalty of not more than $100, for which penalty the vessel shall be held liable. (46 U. S. C. § 571.)

All shipments of seamen made contrary to the provisions of any act of Congress shall be void; and any seaman so shipped may leave the service at any time, and shall be entitled to recover the highest rate of wages of the port from which the seaman was shipped, or the sum agreed to be given him at his shipment. (46 U. S. C. § 578.) The provisions of this paragraph are not applicable to contracts whereby fishermen ship for a share in the catch. (25 Fed. Rep. 856; 46 U. S. C. §§ 531, 544.)

(b) Shipments on provisionally registered or undocumented American-owned vessels.—Vessels granted provisional certificates of registry (sec. 342) are subject to the laws of the United States regarding shipment, discharge, relief, and transportation of seamen. Such vessels are not subject to the laws of the United States relating to officers, inspection, and measurement until they arrive in ports of the United States. (46 U. S. C. § 12.)

In the case of undocumented American-owned vessels abroad, incapable of proceeding to the United States (sec. 343), the crews are usually made up of men who are not American citizens or American seamen. Seamen of this class when not serving under a contract made in the United States are not regarded as within the jurisdiction of the consular officer as to their shipment or discharge. Seamen engaging on such vessels who are American citizens, and foreigners who have acquired and maintained the status of American seamen are to be shipped and discharged before the consular officer in the same manner as seamen on regularly documented vessels.

(c) Shipments at ports where no consular officer or at sea.—Where seamen are shipped at ports where there is no consular officer or at sea, report is made to the consular officer at the first port at which the vessel arrives and the seamen are then formally shipped before such officer, who will endorse the shipping articles and crew list as required (form no. 16), and indicate carefully in such endorsement the date when wages commenced prior to the date of formal shipment before the consular officer.

(d) Shipments not required to be made before consular officer.—The shipment of seamen on vessels engaged in the trade between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, or Newfoundland, or the West Indies, or the Republic of Mexico, is not required to be made before a consular officer (46 U. S. C. §§ 563-564); nor are seamen on fishing vessels or on enrolled or licensed yachts required to be shipped before such officers. Upon request, however, seamen on vessels of the United States engaged in any trade may be shipped before a consular officer.

190. Obligation to fill vacancies in crew.—In case of desertion or casualty resulting in the loss of one or more of the seamen, the master must ship, if obtainable, a number equal to the number of those whose services he has been deprived of by desertion or casualty, who must be of the same or higher grade or rating with those whose places they fill, and report the same to the United States consul at the first port at which he shall arrive. This section shall not apply to fishing or whaling vessels or yachts. (46 U. S. C. § 569.)

191. Voyage or term for which seamen may be shipped.—Every master of a vessel in the foreign trade may engage any seaman at any port out of the United States, in the manner provided by law, to serve for one or more round trips from and to the port of departure, or for a definite time, whatever the destination, and the master of a vessel clearing from a port of the United States with one or more seamen engaged in a foreign port as herein provided shall not be required to reship in a port of the United States the seamen so engaged, or to give bond to produce said seamen before a boarding officer on the return of said vessel to the United States. (46 U. S. C. § 573.) However, upon his next departure from an American port the master must, in accordance with law, have in his crew the required proportion of American citizens. (46 U. S. C. Supp. §§ 672a, 1132.) If occasion demands, those requirements should be called to the attention of the master.

192. Seamen must understand contract.—A consular officer will take care that each engagement of a seaman is signed by the seaman in his presence or in the presence of some duly authorized employee of the consular office, and that all the terms of the contract and the exact nature of the work for which the seaman is engaged are understood by him. A seaman is not bound by a clause in the contract which was not read to him or explained to him. (15 Fed. Rep. 621; 38 Fed. Rep. 258.)

193. Seamen to produce documents.—Before signing articles of agreement, every seaman shall produce a continuous discharge book or a certificate of identification if he possesses one, as well as his license or certificate of service, in order that the serial numbers may be entered in the shipping articles. Seamen who do not possess a continuous discharge book or certificate of identification may be employed at a foreign port or place, in which case they shall be furnished a continuous discharge book or a certificate of identification at the first port of entry in the United States or its territories at which the vessel arrives after such seamen are so employed. (2 F. R. 703, 707.)

194. Shipping articles.—Every American vessel bound on a foreign voyage is required to obtain from the collector of customs of the district from which clearance is made a true and certified copy of the shipping articles, containing the names of the crew, which shall be written in a uniform hand, without erasures or interlineations. The shipping articles (articles of agreement) are deemed to contain all the conditions of the contract with the crew as to their service, pay, voyage, and all other things, and shall be produced by the master, and laid before any consular officer of the United States, whenever he may deem their contents necessary to enable him to discharge the duties imposed upon him by law toward any mariner applying to him for his aid or assistance. All interlineations, erasures, or writing in a hand different from that in which such duplicates were originally made, shall be deemed fraudulent alterations, working no change in such papers, unless satisfactorily explained in a manner consistent with innocent purposes and the provisions of law which guard the rights of mariners. (46 U. S. C. § 676.)

Shipping articles (Commerce forms 705 and 705A) are made out in triplicate. One of the copies is retained by the shipping commissioner, and the original and a copy given to the master who shall enter therein any changes made in the crew during the voyage. In case of the paying off of any members of the crew during the voyage, they shall be required to sign the mutual release on both the original and the duplicate of the articles whether discharged before a shipping commissioner in an American port or before an American consul in a foreign port. At the completion of the voyage, when the crew is paid off, the mutual release on both the original and the duplicate of the articles must be signed by all members of the crew; and the original copy, which must contain a complete record of the entries made in all continuous discharge books during the voyage and the entries made in all certificates of discharge (Commerce form 718–A) issued during the voyage to seamen holding certificates of identification, shall be forwarded to the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. The duplicate copy shall be retained by the shipping commissioner. (2 F. R. 707.)

The shipping articles, the evidence of the seaman's contract, are construed with great liberality and most favorably to the seaman. A seaman may show by parol that untrue statements were made to induce him to sign and that the voyage and time of service described in the articles were different from the voyage and time of service described to him before he signed. (Fed. Cas. 3530, 10667.) Shipping articles cannot lawfully provide forfeiture of wages in excess of that provided by statute. (27 Fed. Rep. 567.)

Additions to shipping articles.—Consular officers will be careful to enter the shipment of seamen on the original and copy of the articles until the space is exhausted; and whenever it becomes necessary to use additional sheets, they should be firmly attached in duplicate to the articles in such manner that the new sheets cannot be separated from the articles without discovery or mutilation.

New articles.—When it is necessary to grant new articles to a vessel, the crew of which was named in articles then closed, the consular officer shall transmit to the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C., the properly completed original of the articles then closed, as well as the certificate under his hand and seal (form no. 21), specifying the seamen to whose discharge he has consented, and also those who have died, absconded, or been forcibly impressed into other service, and he shall retain the properly completed duplicate of the same articles. (See sec. 201.)

195. Status of shipping agents.—No undue facilities are to be granted to any shipping agent to the exclusion of others of good reputation. The master is entitled, in the absence of controlling local regulations, to employ any agent he may see fit to obtain seamen for shipment on his vessel. The consular officer has no authority to interfere, nor to confer upon any shipping agent privileges which are not conceded to others. He is also without authority to designate such an agent as specially employed by the consular office, or to permit any agent to use a title, such as "American shipping agent" or "United States shipping agent", indicative of a special relation to the consular office. Although it is expected that a consular officer will inform himself as to the reputation of such agents, and will at the request of a master recommend such as he believes to be efficient and trustworthy, he is forbidden to insist upon the employment of any particular agent. Any instance of such partiality or favoritism which shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Department of State will incur its marked disapproval.

3. Article XIII of the Consular Regulations is amended to read as follows:

DISCHARGE OF SEAMEN

199. Definitions.—(a) American seamen.—For the purposes of these regulations the terms "American seamen" and "seamen or mariners of the United States" are synonymous. The following are to be regarded as American seamen within the meaning of the laws relating to the discharge, wages, and extra wages of seamen:

(1) Seamen who are citizens of the United States, shipped in an American vessel, whether in a port of the United States or in a foreign port.

(2) Seamen who are aliens, shipped in an American vessel, in a port of the United States. (See also sec. 264.)

Except as otherwise noted in these regulations, American seamen engaged on fishing or whaling vessels or yachts are considered to have the same rights and to be under the same obligations as seamen on merchant vessels of the United States. (Secs. 189–190; 46 U. S. C. §§ 531, 544.)

A master of an American vessel is a seaman within the intent of the laws relating to discharge, wages, extra wages, relief, and transportation. (11 Op. Att. Gen. 458; 3 Sumn. 209.) In case of destitution abroad, he is entitled to the same relief and transportation as other American seamen.

The principles which are maintained by this Government in regard to the protection as distinguished from the relief of seamen, are well settled. It is held that the circumstance that the vessel is American is evidence that the seamen on board are also American, and that in every regularly documented merchant vessel, the crew will find their protection in the flag that covers them. (140 U. S. 453.)

When a seaman has been shipped in a port of the United States, a statement in the articles or in the seaman's continuous discharge book or certificate of identification that he is an American citizen is prima-facie evidence for the purposes of relief and protection that the seaman is, by birth or naturalization, a citizen. (10 C. Cls. 454.)

(b) Crew.—The crew of a vessel—the ship's company—in a general sense, comprises all persons who, in pursuance of some contract or arrangement with the owner or master, are on board the same, aiding in the navigation thereof. (49 Fed. Rep. 287.) Every person having the command of any vessel belonging to any citizen of the United States shall be deemed to be the "master" thereof; and every person (apprentices excepted) who shall be employed or engaged to serve in any capacity on board the same shall be deemed and taken to be a "seaman." (46 U. S. C. § 713.)

200. Authority of consular officers to discharge seamen.—A consular officer is authorized to discharge a seaman upon the application of the master of any vessel or upon the application of any seaman for his own discharge, if it appears to such officer that the seaman has completed his shipping agreement or is entitled to his discharge under any act of Congress or according to the general principles or usages of maritime law as recognized in the United States. (46 U. S. C. § 682.)

201. Obligation of master to procure discharge by consular officers penalty for not returning member of crew.—The master of every vessel bound on a foreign voyage or engaged in the whale fishery is required by law to exhibit the certified copy of the crew list to the first boarding officer at the first port in the United States at which he shall arrive on his return, and also to produce the persons named in the crew list. For each failure to produce any person on the certified copy of the crew list the master and owner of the vessel are severally liable to a penalty of $400. However, the penalty is not incurred for failure to produce any person named in the crew list who has been discharged in a foreign country with the written consent of a consular officer, certified under his hand and official seal, to be produced to the collector with the other persons composing the crew, nor on account of any such person dying, absconding, or being forcibly impressed into other service, of which satisfactory proof shall also be exhibited to the collector of the port. (46 U. S. C. § 677.) The master cannot lawfully discharge a seaman in a foreign port without the intervention of the consular officer; and it is not material in such case that the discharge is made with the seaman's consent or that he has misconducted himself, or is not a citizen of the United States. (7 Op. Att. Gen. 349.) (See also sec. 218.)

Whoever, being master or commander of a vessel of the United States, while abroad, maliciously and without justifiable cause forces any officer or seaman of his vessel on shore in order to leave him behind in any foreign port or place, or refuses to bring home again all such officers and seamen of such vessel whom he carried out with him, as are in a condition to return and willing to return, when he is ready to proceed on his homeward voyage, shall be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (18 U. S. C. § 486.)

202. Cases in which seamen may be discharged.—The usual cases in which American seamen are discharged in a foreign port by consular officers, under the provisions of statute and the principles of maritime law, may be stated as follows:

(1) For misconduct of the seaman. (36 Fed. Rep. 442.) (See also secs. 204, 205.)

(2) On the sale of an American vessel abroad. (46 U. S. C. § 684.) (See also secs. 251, 252.)

(3) When the seaman has completed his shipping agreement. (46 U. S. C. §§ 682, 684.)

(4) Upon the complaint of the seaman that the voyage is continued contrary to agreement and the consular officer is satisfied that the voyage has been designedly and unnecessary prolonged in violation of the article of shipment. (46 U. S. C. § 685.) (See also sec. 243*b*.)

(5) For cruel and unusual treatment. (46 U. S. C. §§ 703, 712.) (See also secs. 205, 243*b*.)

(6) After a report by inspectors that the vessel was sent to sea unsuitably provided in any important or essential particular, by neglect or design, and the consular officer approves such finding, and the crew, or any of them, request a discharge. However, if the inspectors report that, in their opinion, the difficulties or deficiencies found to exist have been the result of mistake or accident, and could not, in the exercise of ordinary care, have been known and provided against before the sailing of the vessel, and the master shall in a reasonable time remove or remedy the causes of complaint, the crew shall then remain and discharge their duty. (46 U. S. C. § 658.) (See also sec. 243*c*.)

(7) On account of illness or injury incapacitating the seaman for service. (46 U. S. C. § 683.) (See also sec. 207.)

(8) By mutual consent of master and seaman. (46 U. S. C. § 683.) (See also sec. 243*a*.)

(9) When the seaman is arrested and awaits trial for offense against local laws abroad or is imprisoned for such an offense, or is held as a witness; when also he is sent to the United States as a prisoner or witness.

(10) When a seaman is transferred to another vessel in a foreign port, or when he is promoted to be an officer of the vessel, or when an officer is disrated to the grade of seaman, or when any member of the crew is disrated. (9 Fed. Rep. 222; 290 Fed. Rep. 806.)

(12) When the master is superseded by the majority owners and a new master appointed (46 U. S. C. § 227), or when he is removed by the consular officer. This clause does not refer to the crew, who are not entitled to be discharged when the master is thus superseded or removed. (See sec. 208.)

(13) When the master fails to comply with the following provision of law:

"In all merchant vessels of the United States of more than one hundred tons gross, excepting those navigating rivers, harbors, lakes (other than Great Lakes), bays, sounds, bayous, and canals, exclusively, the licensed officers and sailors, coal passers, firemen, oilers, and water tenders shall, while at sea, be divided into at least three watches, which shall be kept on duty successively for the performance of ordinary work incident to the sailing and management of the vessel. The seamen shall not be shipped to work alternately in the fireroom and on deck, nor shall those shipped for deck duty be required to work in the fireroom, or vice versa; nor shall any licensed officer or seaman in the deck or engine department be required to work more than eight hours in one day; but these provisions shall not limit either the authority of the master or other officer or the obedience of the seamen when in the judgment of the master or other officer the whole or any part of the crew are needed for maneuvering, shifting berth, mooring, or unmooring, the vessel or the performance of work necessary for the safety of the vessel, her passengers, crew, and cargo, or for the saving of life aboard other vessels in jeopardy, or when in port or at sea, from requiring the whole or any part of the crew to participate in the performance of fire, lifeboat, or other drills. While such vessel is in a safe harbor no seaman shall be required to do any unnecessary work on Sundays or the following-named days: New Year's Day, the Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas Day, but this shall not prevent the dispatch of a vessel on regular schedule or when ready to proceed on her voyage. And at all times while such vessel is in a safe harbor, eight hours, inclusive of the anchor watch, shall constitute a day's work. Whenever the master of any vessel shall fail to comply with this section and the regulation issued thereunder, the owner shall be liable to a penalty not to exceed $500, and the seamen shall be entitled to discharge from such vessel and to receive the wages earned. But this section shall not apply to vessels engaged in salvage operations: Provided, That in all tugs and barges subject to this section when engaged on a voyage of less than six hundred miles, the licensed officers and members of crews other than coal passers, firemen, oilers, and water tenders may, while at sea, be divided into not less than two watches, but nothing in this proviso shall be construed as repealing any part of section 4463 of the Revised Statutes." (46 U. S. C. Supp. § 673.)

203. Records regarding discharge.—Upon the discharge of any seaman in a foreign port, the master shall make the proper entries in the continuous discharge book and on the ship's articles [sec. 194], and such entries shall be attested to by the consular officer. If the seaman possesses a certificate of identification the matter of the vessel shall issue to the seaman a certificate of discharge on Commerce form 718–A and make the required entries therein which shall be attested by the consular officer. If the seaman has lost his continuous discharge book or certificate of identification, the master shall furnish him with a temporary certificate of discharge, Commerce form 719–A, attested to by the consular officer and note this fact on the articles. (2 F. R. 602.)

Consular form no. 17, certificate of discharge of seamen to be attached to crew list and shipping articles, shall be executed by the consular officer and fastened securely to the crew list and shipping articles.

204. Discharge without consent of seamen.—It is the general policy of the laws of the United States to discontenance the discharge of seamen in a foreign port. (Fed. Cas. 5244, 10262.)

When the application for the discharge of a seaman is made by the master, it is the duty of the consular officer to inquire carefully into the facts and circumstances, and to satisfy himself that good and substantial reasons exist for a discharge before granting the application. (59 Fed. Rep. 790; 299 Fed. Rep. 977.)

A seaman is not to be discharged for slight or venial offenses, nor for a single offense, unless of a very aggravated character. If the seaman is charged with insubordination, it should satisfactorily appear that he is incorrigibly disobedient and will not submit to his duty, and that he persists in such conduct. Gross dishonesty, habitual drunkenness, and a disposition to instigate broils and quarrels to the destruction of the discipline of the crew have been held to be sufficient ground for discharge. But it is otherwise if the offense is temporary, and if the offender is repentant and is willing to change his conduct and return to duty. (Fed. Cas. 3234, 6955; 22 Fed. Rep. 927; 36 Fed. Rep. 442.)

205. Discharge for misconduct or incompetence.—Generally, the grounds on which a seaman may be discharged, when insubordination or bad conduct is alleged, are such as amount to a disqualification and show him to be an unsafe or unfit man to have on board a vessel. (Fed. Cas. 13117.) The consular officer must be satisfied that the officer or seaman is incompetent to perform the work he has contracted to do, or that he has been guilty of such acts of insubordination as to make him dangerous to a man of ordinary firmness, or that his habitual misconduct (such as drunkenness, for instance) amounts to unfitness for duty, or, if an officer, that he has been guilty of habitual cruelty. Except for good reasons and in extraordinary circumstances, seamen should not be discharged at a foreign port when the vessel is homeward bound.

206. Discharge for cruel or unusual treatment.—In all cases where complaint is made by a seaman of cruel or unusual treatment, the consular officer shall inquire into the facts and upon his being satisfied as to the truth and justice of the complaint, he may discharge the seaman and shall require the master to pay to such seaman one month's wages over and above the wages due at the time of discharge, and to provide him with adequate employment on board some other vessel, or provide him with a passage on board some other vessel bound to the port from which the seaman was originally shipped, or to the most convenient port of entry in the United States, or to a port agreed to by the seaman. (46 U. S. C. § 685.) The officer discharging said seaman shall enter upon the ship's articles, crew list, and official log, the cause of such discharge and the particulars in which the cruel or unusual treatment consisted and subscribe his name thereto officially. He shall read the entry made in the official log to the master, and the master's reply thereto, if any, shall likewise be entered and subscribed in the same manner. (46 U. S. C. § 703.)

In all cases where a seaman has been charged with desertion and the circumstances claimed by the master to establish the desertion are later found to be the result of cruel or unusual treatment of the seaman, the consular officer should take action as directed in the preceding paragraph. If such action is not possible, he should supply the facts in the case to the consular officer at the next port at which the vessel is scheduled to arrive and to the Department for transmission through the Department of Commerce to the shipping commissioner. The rights of the seaman are not dependent upon the fact he has deserted, but upon the treatment he has received. (Sec. 294.)

207. Discharge for illness or injury.—Whenever a seaman is discharged on account of illness or injury incapacitating him for service, the expenses of his maintenance and return to the United States shall be paid from the fund for the maintenance and transportation of destitute American seamen. At the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce, and under such regulations as he may prescribe, if any seaman incapacitated for service by injury or illness is on board a vessel so situated that a prompt discharge requiring a personal appearance of the master of the vessel before an American consular officer is impracticable, such seaman may be sent to a consular officer who shall care for him and defray the cost of his maintenance and transportation. (46 U. S. C. § 683.)

208. Change or removal of master.—(a) By owners.—Any person or body corporate having more than one-half ownership of any vessel shall have the same power to remove a master, who is also part owner of such vessel, as such majority owners have to remove a master who is not an owner. This provision does not apply where there is a valid written agreement subsisting, by virtue of which the master would be entitled to possession. 46 U. S. C. § 227.) Consular officers are occasionally called upon to assist in the removal of a master under this statute. They will not hesitate to lend their services under such circumstances, but it is desirable for their own protection that they should satisfy themselves that the parties applying to them are duly authorized for the purpose. It is advisable, also, if there is time to do so, to refer the case to the Department of State for instructions.

(b) By consular officer.—The removal of a master, without prior authorization of the owners of the vessel as prescribed by the preceding paragraph, should not be effected except where the emergency is so great that action must be taken before such authorization can be procured by telegraph. If the master is seriously ill or is disabled by a permanent injury, the consular officer may remove him, although any action in this regard should ordinarily be undertaken with the consent of the master or of the owners. Other instances which may call for the removal of the master and the appointment of another to complete the voyage include the insanity of the master, his gross incompetency endangering the lives of the passengers or crew, his misconduct or collusion with others to the serious injury of the owners or insurers, or when he has been guilty of flagrant abuse of passengers or crew. However, the grave responsibility attaching to the exercise of this extreme power will suggest to consular officers that any final action should be taken only after careful deliberation and for good and sufficient cause, and, insofar as possible, after receiving authorization either directly from the owners of the vessel or a majority thereof or their agents, or through the Department of State. Any action that may be taken by consular officers in connection with the removal of masters of vessels should be reported promptly and fully to the Department of State.

4. Sections 58, 196 to 198, inclusive, 209 to 217, inclusive, and 254 of the Consular Regulations are canceled.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Accounts and Deposits.

[1937—Department Circular No. 327 (Revised)]

REGULATIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS GOVERNING THE ISSUE OF DUPLICATES[1] OF CHECKS OF THE UNITED STATES

The following regulations and instructions governing the issue of duplicates of checks drawn by officers or agents of the United States are hereby established pursuant to Section 3646 of the Revised Statutes of the United States as amended by the Act approved July 8, 1937, known as the Government Losses in Shipment Act, and Section 3647 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended. The requirements contained herein must be strictly observed except as the Secretary of the Treasury, being satisfied that observance thereof is not necessary to carry out the purposes of the law and these regulations, may waive or modify any such requirement.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

1. Advice of nonreceipt or loss.—In the event of the nonreceipt or loss of a check issued by an officer or agent of the United States, the owner, better to protect his interest, should immediately notify the Treasurer of the United States or other drawee, describing the check, stating the name of the officer or agent of the United States by whom the check was drawn, giving, if possible, its date, number, and amount, and requesting that payment be stopped.

[1] The word "duplicate" as used herein means a "substitute, marked duplicate" as provided in section 9 of the Government Losses in Shipment Act (Public No. 192, 75th Congress, approved July 8, 1937).

Upon receipt of such request, if the check is found to be outstanding, a form of affidavit, and in appropriate cases a bond of indemnity (Form No. 2244 or 2244a) will be prepared in the Treasurer's office and transmitted for execution by the claimant. The bond and affidavit, when duly executed according to instructions, must be transmitted to the officer or agent who issued the original check.

2. Affidavit of nonreceipt or loss.—An affidavit in substantially the form prescribed, Form 2244, 2244a, 2244b, or 2244c,[1] as the case may be, must be executed by the claimant and submitted to the officer or agent who drew the original check, with a bond of indemnity or application (Form 2244b or 2244c), giving the claimant's name and residence in full, describing the check, and all endorsements thereon, showing the claimant's interest therein and detailing the circumstances attending its nonreceipt or loss. The affidavit must be made and signed before a notary public or other officer authorized by law to administer oaths for general purposes, who must certify that he administered the oath. If executed in a foreign country, the affidavit must be made before a notary public or before a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States.

If a corporation or association, etc., is the claimant, an officer thereof must make and sign the affidavit individually, but on behalf of the corporation or association.

If a partnership is the claimant or if the check is owned jointly by two or more persons, all partners or joint owners must execute the affidavit.

3. Issue of duplicate.—After the expiration of thirty days from the date of the original check, and before the close of the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which it was issued, the officer or agent will prepare a duplicate, which must be an exact transcript of the original, special care being taken that the number, date and name of the payee correspond to those of the original. In the case of checks issued on account of public-debt obligations and transactions regarding the administration of banking and currency laws, duplicates may be issued without limitation of time. The officer or agent will then, without delay, forward the bond (Form 2244 or 2244a) or application, (Form 2244b or 2244c) and the duplicate check to the Secretary of the Treasury, (Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants). The bond or application and the information obtained shall be examined by the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, and if satisfactory, shall be approved and the duplicate check certified, by direction of the Secretary, by the Chief or the Assistant Chief, Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants. In the event the claimant is someone other than the payee of the original check, he should present clear and satisfactory evidence of his ownership to the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants. Upon a finding by the Chief or the Assistant Chief of the Division that the claimant is the lawful owner of the original check, a duplicate may be issued to the claimant, payable to such claimant through an endorsement on behalf of the Secretary to that effect.

Certification of approval shall be made in writing on the application or bond as well as on the duplicate check. Any duplicate issued in pursuance of these Regulations and Instructions, and certified as provided above, may, if properly endorsed, be paid subject to the same rules and regulations as apply to payment of original checks; but no duplicate shall be paid if the original has already been paid.

No bond of indemnity shall be required in any of the following classes of cases except as hereinafter provided:

(a) If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the loss, theft, destruction, mutilation, or defacement, as the case may be, occurred without fault of the owner or holder and while the check was in the custody or control of the United States (not including the Postal Service when acting solely in its capacity as the public carrier of the mails), or of a person thereunto duly authorized as lawful agent of the United States; or while it was in the course of shipment effected pursuant to and in accordance with the regulations issued under the provisions of the Government Losses in Shipment Act;

(b) If substantially the entire check is presented and surrendered by the owner or holder and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied as to the identity of the check presented and that any missing portions are not sufficient to form the basis of a valid claim against the United States;

(c) If the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the original check is not negotiable and cannot be made the basis of a valid claim against the United States;

(d) If the amount of the check is less than $50 and the Secretary of the Treasury is satisfied that the giving of a bond of indemnity would be an undue hardship to the owner or holder;

(e) If the owner or holder is a State or political subdivision thereof, a corporation the whole of whose capital is owned by the United States, a foreign government, or a Federal Reserve bank;

Provided, however, That in any of the foregoing classes of cases the Secretary of the Treasury may require a bond of indemnity if he deems it essential to the public interest.

Where the amount of the check is not more than $20 and the original check has not been received by the payee, it will ordinarily be presumed that the giving of a bond of indemnity would be an undue hardship to the owner. In cases falling within the provisions of subsection (a) (b) (c) (d) and (e) of this section, application for the issuance of a duplicate check without a bond of indemnity shall be made on form 2244b or 2244c. Additional affidavits and evidence may be required.

4. In case the officer or agent of the United States is dead or no longer in the service of the United States.—In case of the loss of a check issued by an officer or agent, other than the Treasurer of the United States or the Secretary of the Treasury, who is dead or no longer in the service of the United States, the affidavit and bond required to be furnished by the owner of said check to an officer or agent in the service of the United States, prior to the issue of a duplicate check, should be forwarded to the Secretary of the Treasury, who will refer them to the General Accounting Office for examination and the statement of an account in favor of the owner of said check, as provided in section 3647 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended, and Section 307 of the Act of June 10, 1921. Payment will then be made by a check issued pursuant to such statement of account.

5. Recovery of original.—In the event of the recovery of the original check, after the issuance of the duplicate, it must be surrendered to the Secretary of the Treasury for cancellation. If the check has been recovered before the issuance of a duplicate, the Treasurer of the United States or other drawee should be immediately notified and removal of the stoppage requested.

6. Errors, erasures, etc.—Care should be exercised in the execution of the bond to avoid erasures and corrections. If, however, a correction should be necessary, and it is impracticable to obtain another form, a separate notation should be made on the margin of the bond, setting forth the change or correction, which statement should be signed by principal and sureties. For example:

The change in the date, line 13, to August 18, 1937, (or recite other change) was made with full knowledge and consent of the undersigned ---------- (Principal) ---------- (Surety) ---------- (Surety).

There shall be no deviation from the printed bond form, except as may be authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury.

[1] Forms filed with the Division of the Federal Register, The National Archives; copies available upon application to the Treasury Department.

7. Penalty.—The penalty of the bond should be in multiples of Five Dollars, and shall be at least equal to the amount of the check, plus 10 per cent, but in no case shall the bond be in an amount less than $10.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR EXECUTING BOND OF INDEMNITY

8. Names and residence.—The name, including first name, middle initial if any, and last name of the principal and each surety, together with their addresses, by street, number, city and state, must be given in the first paragraph of bond. The names and addresses should be printed or typewritten, or otherwise clearly written.

9. Signature and seal.—The principal and each surety must sign the bond at the foot thereof, by first name, middle initial if any, and last name, to correspond with his name as shown in the first paragraph of bond. A corporate principal or surety must affix its corporate seal.

10. Witnesses.—The signature of a witness must appear in the appropriate place, with his full address, with a showing as to whose signature he has witnessed. Signatures of corporations may be attested. If the signature of a witness is illegible the name should be indicated by printing or typewriting.

11. Corporation as principal.—If the principal is a corporation, the first and second lines of bond must be filled in thus: "(name of corporation) ---------- by ---------- (an officer duly authorized)." The bond must be signed: "(name of corporation) ----------, by ---------- (name and title of authorized officer)." Seal of the corporation must be affixed to its signature. If the corporation has no impression seal, the fact shall be stated, in which case a scroll or adhesive seal shall appear following the corporate signature.

The official character and authority of the person or persons executing the bond in the name of the principal shall be certified by the Secretary of other officer (who shall be an officer other than the officer executing the bond) on the form at bottom of bond. In lieu of such certificate there may be attached to the bond copies or so much of the records of the principal as will show the official character and authority of the officer signing, duly certified as correct under the corporate seal by the Secretary or other authorized officer as aforesaid. If the corporation has no seal, such records of authority must be sworn to by the certifying officer before a person authorized to administer oaths for general purposes, and such person must affix his seal.

12. Unincorporated companies, societies, lodges, etc., as principal.—The instructions pertaining to corporations govern. See paragraph No. 11 of the Regulations and Instructions.

13. Partnerships.—If the principals are partners, their individual names shall appear on lines one and two of bond, followed by the recital that they are all the partners composing a firm, naming it, and all the members of the firm shall sign the bond as individuals. All members of the firm must execute the affidavit.

14. Assumed business title.—If the principal is doing business under an assumed business title, his individual name shall appear on line one of the bond, followed by the recital that he is the sole owner of the firm, naming it, and he shall sign the bond as an individual. He must also execute the affidavit as an individual, showing that he is the sole owner of the firm.

15. Joint ownership.—If the check is owned jointly by two or more persons, all such joint owners must execute the bond as principal and execute the affidavit.

16. Sureties.—The surety on the bond may be a corporation authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury, or two responsible individuals, unless the amount of the original check is less than $50, in which case one responsible surety may be accepted. The sureties, if individuals, must be citizens and residents of the United States, except that sureties on bonds executed in the Canal Zone, the Philippine Islands, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, or any possession of the United States need not be citizens of the United States, but if not citizens of the United States they shall be domiciled in the place where the principal resides.

When the principal resides in a foreign country and it is impracticable to obtain citizens and residents of the United States as sureties, or a duly qualified corporate surety, other sureties may be accepted, provided their sufficiency as such is certified by a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States.

A firm, as such, will not be accepted as surety, nor a partner for co-partners.

When approved corporate surety or responsible individual sureties cannot be obtained, the Secretary of the Treasury will give consideration to the acceptance of other security.

17. Sufficiency of sureties.—The sufficiency of individual sureties must be certified by one of the following-named officers; an executive officer of an incorporated bank or trust company, or manager of a branch thereof, over his official designation and seal of the bank or trust company; postmaster; judge or clerk of court; collector or deputy collector of internal revenue; collector or deputy collector of customs; United States commissioner; United States district attorney; assistant United States district attorney; United States marshal; notary public; justice of the peace; a commissioned officer of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps, or Coast Guard for sureties in the military, naval or coast guard service respectively; an Army reserve officer in command at Civilian Conservation camps for sureties in the Civilian Conservation Corps; or a diplomatic or consular officer of the United States in case of sureties resident in foreign countries. This certificate must be made by a disinterested person.

Affidavits as to the financial qualifications of individual sureties may be required when deemed advisable.

18. This circular supersedes Treasury Department Circular No. 327, dated October 14, 1924, and subsequent amendments thereto, and all previous regulations governing the issuance of duplicate checks of disbursing officers; also Department Circular No. 54 (Treasurer U. S.) Revised, dated June 28, 1932, governing the issuance of duplicate Treasurer's checks and interest checks. The Secretary of the Treasury may withdraw or amend at any time or from time to time any or all of the foregoing rules and regulations.

SIX-MONTH INFORMATION RETURN PRESCRIBED FOR JULY 1 THROUGH DECEMBER 31, 1937, UNDER TITLE VIII OF SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

QUARTERLY RETURNS FOR SUCH PERIOD ABOLISHED

Regulations 91 Amended

To Collectors of Internal Revenue and Others Concerned:

Regulations 91, approved November 9, 1936, relating to the employees' tax and the employers' tax under Title VIII of the Social Security Act, are amended by striking out subdivision (c) of article 402 which prescribes quarterly information returns for periods beginning after June 30, 1937, and by inserting in lieu thereof the following new subdivisions:

"(c) Information return for period July 1, 1937, to December 31, 1937.—Every employer shall make an information return on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a, for the period July 1, 1937, to December 31, 1937, both dates inclusive.

"(d) Quarterly information returns.—Every employer shall make an information return on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a for the period January 1, 1938, to March 31, 1938, both dates inclusive, and for each subsequent period of three calendar months ending June 30, September 30, December 31, and March 31."

Regulations 91 are further amended by striking out the following sentences of article 403, relating to information returns on Form SS-3 for employees who attain age 65 or die:

"If the employee attains age 65 or dies on or after July 1, 1937, the return shall cover the period beginning with the first day of the quarter in which the attainment of age 65 or the death occurs and ending on the date on which the return is completed for filing, both dates inclusive. (See article 402 (c) for the 3-month periods which constitute quarters within the meaning of provisions of these regulations relating to returns.)", and by inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"If the employee attains age 65 or dies within the period July 1, 1937, to December 31, 1937, both dates inclusive, the return shall cover the period from July 1, 1937, to the date the return is completed for filing, both dates inclusive. If the employee attains age 65 or dies on or after January 1, 1938, the return shall cover the period beginning with the first day of the quarter in which the attainment of age 65 or the death occurs and ending on the date on which the return is completed for filing, both dates inclusive. (See article 402 (d) for the 3-month periods which constitute quarters within the meaning of provisions of these regulations relating to returns.)".

This Treasury Decision is prescribed under the authority contained in sections 807 and 808 of the Social Security Act.

SECOND SUPPLEMENTAL NOTICE OF HEARING WITH REFERENCE TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO REGULATIONS NO. 5 RELATING TO LABELING AND ADVERTISING OF DISTILLED SPIRITS

To Add to the Subjects To Be Considered at the Hearing To Be Held by the Administration on Monday, November 15th, a Revision of the Standard of Identity for Blended Malt Whiskeys and Certain Other Proposals

OCTOBER 18, 1937.

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 5 (e) of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act as amended:

Notice is hereby given that in addition to the proposals listed in the Administration's Notices of Hearing dated October 1, 1937, and October 8, 1937, concerning which evidence will be taken at the Hearing to be held on November 15th at 10:00 A. M. at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C., evidence will also be taken at that time and place with reference to the further proposed amendment of Regulations No. 5 relating to the labeling and advertising of distilled spirits:

1. To amend Article II, Section 21, Class 2 (h) and other pertinent provisions of the regulations in such manner as to reduce the required minimum content of straight malt whiskey or straight rye malt whiskey in "blended malt whiskey" and "blended rye malt whiskey" from 51% by volume to 25% by volume.

2. To amend Article II, Section 21, Class 7 (e) and other pertinent provisions of the regulations in such manner as to clarify the phrase "harmless coloring or flavoring materials" appearing therein or to more definitely state what materials may be added to the various classes and types of distilled spirits without altering the class or type designations thereof.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

Commissioners: Clyde L. Seavey, Acting Chairman; Claude L. Draper, Basil Manly, John W. Scott.

[Order No. 46]

TRANSFERS OF SECURITIES BY PUBLIC UTILITIES

Whereas Section 307 (a) of the Federal Power Act empowers this Commission to investigate any facts, conditions, practices or matters which it may find necessary or proper to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of said Act, or in prescribing rules and regulations thereunder, or in obtaining information to serve as a basis for recommending further legislation, and

Whereas proper control by public utilities of their liquid assets is necessary to enable them to render adequate service to the public, and

Whereas Section 301 of the Federal Power Act authorizes the Commission to determine the accounts in which particular items shall be entered, charged or credited by public utilities subject to its jurisdiction and examine the books, accounts, memoranda, and records of such public utilities and inspect the physical property, securities and other evidences of value appearing as assets in the books and accounts of such public utilities, and

Whereas it has been brought to the attention of the Commission that certain public utilities subject to its jurisdiction have been directed by an affiliated company or companies, having or purporting to have control over such public utilities, to transfer securities, which form part of their assets and which are customarily held at division or local offices or in safety deposit boxes at local banks, to a certain depositary or depositaries in the City of New York, where they may be hypothecated or otherwise put beyond control of said public utilities, in such manner and to such extent as to affect the ability of said utilities to render adequate service and to impede or prevent proper examination by the Commission or its agents of the accounts, books, records, and properties of said utilities, and it appearing that certain of said public utilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission are about to make such transfers of securities;

Now, therefore, in order to aid the Commission in the performance of its duties and functions under the Federal Power Act and in prescribing rules and regulations thereunder; and to secure information as a basis for the recommendation of legislation to the Congress;

It is ordered:

1. That an investigation be instituted forthwith for the purpose of determining the extent to which public utilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission have been ordered or directed to carry out transfers of securities in the manner aforesaid and for the further purpose of ascertaining the degree in which such proposed transfer or transfers of securities would affect the adequacy of service performed by said public utilities and impede or prevent proper examination of their accounts, books, records, and properties and otherwise interfere with the performance by the Commission of its duties under the Federal Power Act.

2. That all public utilities subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission be and they are hereby directed and required to retain in their custody all bonds, stocks, notes and other securities of every description forming part of their assets, until further order or orders of this Commission, pending the conduct of the investigation ordered herewith; Provided, however, That upon notice to this Commission, any public utility may pledge such securities, notes receivable or collateral applicable to such notes, or sell or otherwise dispose of the same for some lawful purpose within the corporate powers of such utility, and compatible with the public interest and which may be reasonably necessary or appropriate in the conduct of its business.

3. That the officers, agents and employees of the Commission are authorized to serve certified copies of this order forthwith upon such public utilities as may be specified by the Commission and to conduct such examination of the accounts, books, records and properties of such public utilities as may be necessary for the purposes of this investigation.

4. This order shall become effective as of October 18, 1937.

Adopted by the Commission on October 18, 1937.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

SUSPENSION OF TRADING, WITHDRAWAL, AND STRIKING FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION

AMENDMENT OF RULE JD2, PARAGRAPH (B) UNDER SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

OCTOBER 15, 1937.

The Securities and Exchange Commission deeming it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors so to do, pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly Sections 12 (d) and 23 (a) thereof, hereby amends paragraph (b) of Rule JD2 to read as follows:

RULE JD2. Suspension of trading, withdrawal, and striking from listing and registration.—

(b) (1). An application by an issuer or an exchange to withdraw or strike a security from listing and registration pursuant to Section 12 (d) shall be made in accordance with the following requirements:

(A) The application shall be made in triplicate, shall be signed and sworn to by an officer of the applicant authorized to do so, and shall set forth the source of the authority of such officer. If the applicant is the issuer it shall forward promptly a copy of the application to the exchange and if the applicant is the exchange it shall forward promptly a copy of the application to the issuer;

(B) The application shall cite the paragraph designation of each provision of the Constitution, by-laws or rules of the exchange, if any, which relates to such a withdrawal or striking, and shall set forth the steps taken by the applicant to satisfy the requirements of such provisions;

(C) The application shall state the reasons for such proposed withdrawal or striking, together with all material facts relating thereto and such facts as in the opinion of the applicant have a bearing on whether the Commission should impose any terms for the protection of investors;

(2) If the application is made by the issuer, such issuer, if so directed by the Commission, shall promptly send notice of such application to all known holders of the security which is the subject of the application. Such notice shall state the time and place of hearing on the application and shall advise such security holders of their right to present their views by appearing at such hearing or writing the Commission on the subject of what terms, if any, should be imposed for the protection of investors in granting the application.

(3) The application may state that the applicant pursuant to this rule offers the application in evidence at any hearing on such application. If such an offer is made, the application shall be received in evidence at the hearing as proof in support of the allegations therein without the necessity of the applicant appearing and introducing further evidence, unless

(A) counsel for the Commission objects, or

(B) a holder of the security which is the subject of the application, the issuer or the exchange involved, or any other person having a bona fide interest in such proceeding appears and objects.

(4) If counsel for the Commission intends to object to the admission in evidence of the application or in advance of the hearing date is apprised of the intention of any person having a bona fide interest in the proceeding to appear in opposition to the application, he shall promptly advise the applicant thereof. If such objection or opposition is first made at such time that seasonable notice thereof cannot be given to the applicant, and the applicant does not appear, the hearing shall be continued to permit the applicant to appear and support its application at the adjourned date thereof. Unless the Commission otherwise directs, the application shall be dismissed if the applicant fails to appear and support its application after it has been notified by counsel for the Commission of such objection or opposition.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF THE MIDDLE WEST CORPORATION

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application having been duly filed with this Commission, by the Middle West Corporation, a registered holding company, pursuant to Section 10 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for approval for the acquisition of unsecured notes of the Copper District Power Company, a subsidiary of the applicant, in an amount not to exceed $50,000, to mature within 9 months from date of issue and bearing interest at 4½%; a declaration for the issuance and sale of those notes and others having been previously filed with this Commission; and the Commission having heretofore by its order dated October 15, 1937 ordered a hearing upon said declaration;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter joined with the hearing on said declaration be held on October 28, 1937, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at Room 1102, Securities and Exchange Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C.; and

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said party and to any interested State, State commission, State securities commission, municipality, and any other political subdivision of a State, and to any representative of interested consumers or security holders, and any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before October 25, 1937.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission, be and he hereby is designated to preside at such hearing, and authorized to adjourn said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, contracts, agreements, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Upon the completion of the taking of testimony in this matter, the officer conducting said hearing is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Issued October 19, 1937

DETERMINATION OF FAIR AND REASONABLE PRICES FOR THE 1937 CROP OF LOUISIANA SUGARCANE, PURSUANT TO THE SUGAR ACT OF 1937

Whereas, Section 301 (d) of the Sugar Act of 1937, approved September 1, 1937, provides, as one of the conditions for payment to producers of sugar beets and sugarcane, as follows:

"(d) That the producer on the farm who is also, directly or indirectly, a processor of sugar beets or sugarcane, as may be determined by the Secretary, shall have paid, or contracted to pay under either purchase or toll agreements, for any sugar beets or sugarcane grown by other producers and processed by him at rates not less than those that may be determined by the Secretary to be fair and reasonable after investigation and due notice and opportunity for public hearing."

and

Whereas, the Secretary of Agriculture, on October 4, 1937, held a public hearing in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, for the purpose of receiving evidence likely to be of assistance to him in determining fair and reasonable prices for the 1937 crop of Louisiana sugarcane.

Now, therefore, I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, after investigation and due consideration of the evidence obtained at the aforesaid hearing and all other information before me, do hereby determine fair and reasonable prices for the 1937 crop of Louisiana sugarcane to be paid by processors who, as producers, apply for payments under the said act, as follows:

1. Not less than $1 per ton of par sugarcane for each one cent of the price of one pound of 96° raw sugar, duty paid basis, based on the simple average of the weekly quotations of 96° raw sugar, duty paid basis, on the Louisiana Sugar and Rice Exchange, Inc., (or upon such quotations as the Secretary may elect to use for the purpose), for the weeks from October 18, 1937, to March 1, 1938, when the price of 96° raw sugar, duty paid basis, is three and one-half cents per pound, provided, however, that for each decline of one-fourth cent in the price of one pound of 96° raw sugar, duty paid basis, determined as above, below three and one-half cents per pound, the price for Louisiana par sugarcane shall be reduced by not more than 3 percent with intervening prices in proportion, unless the price of sugar falls below two and three-fourths cents per pound, in which case no further reduction shall be made, and provided, also, that for an advance of one-fourth cent in the price per pound of 96° raw sugar, duty paid basis, determined as above, over three and one-half cents per pound, the price of Louisiana par sugarcane shall be increased by not less than 3 percent with intervening prices in proportion; and provided further:

(a) That par sugarcane, for the purpose of this determination, shall be defined to be sugarcane containing no more sucrose in the normal juice than was defined as par sugarcane by the processor in his sugarcane purchase contract, verbal or written, used in the crop year 1935, and

(b) That the premiums paid for sugarcane containing more sucrose in the normal juice than that defined as par sugarcane in the contract or contracts under the terms of which the processor purchased sugarcane in the 1935 crop shall not be less than those paid by such processor during the 1935 crop, provided, however, that in no case shall the premium be less than seven-tenths of one percent for each full one-tenth of one percent by which the sucrose in the normal juice exceeds 12½ percent, and provided further, that the discounts applied for sugarcane containing less sucrose in the normal juice than that defined as par sugarcane in the 1935 purchase contract or contracts shall be used, except that in no case shall the discount be greater than 2 percent for each full one-tenth of one percent by which the sucrose falls below that of par sugarcane until it reaches 9½ percent, and

(c) That the processor shall not, through modification of any provisions of the cane purchase contract or through any subterfuge or device whatsoever, reduce the returns from the 1937 crop of Louisiana sugarcane to the grower below those determined above.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of October, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[General Sugar Quota Regulations, Series 4, No. 3]

Issued October 20, 1937

SUGAR CONSUMPTION REQUIREMENTS FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1937 FOR THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII AND FOR PUERTO RICO

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the Sugar Act of 1937, approved September 1, 1937 (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), I, H. A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, in order to carry out the powers vested in me by the said act, do hereby make, prescribe, publish, and give public notice of these regulations, which shall have the force and effect of law and shall remain in force and effect until amended or superseded by orders or regulations hereafter made by the Secretary of Agriculture.

I

(1) It is hereby determined, pursuant to section 203 of the said act, that the amount of sugar needed to meet the requirements of consumers in the Territory of Hawaii for the calendar year 1937 is 30,600 short tons of sugar, raw value; and that the amount of sugar needed to meet the requirements of consumers in Puerto Rico for the calendar year 1937 is 72,396 short tons of sugar, raw value.

(2) There are hereby established, pursuant to section 203 of the said act, quotas for local consumption in the Territory of Hawaii and in Puerto Rico equal to the amounts hereinbefore determined.

II

For the calendar year 1937, all persons are hereby forbidden, pursuant to section 209 of the said act, from marketing in the Territory of Hawaii or in Puerto Rico, for consumption therein, any sugar or liquid sugar after the quota for the area has been filled.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of October, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[Administration Order 217 (Supplement)]

RULES AND REGULATIONS RELATING TO CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT FOR NON-APPOINTIVE WORKERS [1]

OCTOBER 20, 1937.

1. Effective as of July 1, 1937, paragraphs 5f and 5h VI of AO 217 are revised, in conformance with provisions of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937, to read as follows:

"5f. When the project manager, community manager or resident engineer has determined the workers to be released for private employment, he will record such release on WPA Form 403, 'Notice of Change in Work Status', and will notify the workers involved to report to the USES or the WPA for referral to the applying employers. No person employed on a work project and certified as in need of relief who refuses a bona fide offer of private employment, under reasonable working conditions, which pays as much or more in compensation for the same length of service as such person receives or could receive under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937 and who is capable of performing such work, shall be retained in employment under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1937 for the period such private employment would be available. At the request of the USES or other employment office, the project manager, community manager or resident engineer will give to the released worker a copy of the said Notice and the 'Referral Card' made out by the employment office, and direct him to the prospective employer."

"5h. VI That any person who takes such private employment shall at the expiration thereof be entitled to immediate resumption of his previous employment status if he is still certified as in need of relief and has lost the private employment through no fault of his own."

2. Recipients will mark AO 217 at the points indicated above to insure reference hereto.

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

PACIFIC MERCADO (INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION) AND WORLD'S FAIR

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Public Resolution 73, 75th Congress, approved August 26, 1937, recites that "there is to be held in the City of Los Angeles, State of California, commencing in the year 1940, a continuing international exposition to be known as the Pacific Mercado, designed to promote closer relations and better understandings among the countries and nations of the world, through the furtherance of trade, industry, and cultural arts, by gathering, arranging, and exhibiting the varied cultures of such countries and nations and the origins, progress, and accomplishments in science, the arts, education, industry, business, and transportation of such countries and nations, and by other appropriate means"; and that "there is to be held in said city in the year 1942, in connection with the said Pacific Mercado, a world's fair commemorating the landing of Cabrillo";

WHEREAS the said Resolution reads in part as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled * * * That the President of the United States, be and he is hereby, authorized and respectfully requested by proclamation, or in such manner as he may deem proper, to invite foreign countries to such proposed Pacific Mercado (International Exposition) and to such proposed world's fair to be held in connection therewith, with a request that they participate therein";

AND WHEREAS I believe the people of many nations would be pleased to unite with the people of the United States in participating in this exposition and in the world's fair to be held in connection therewith:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, in compliance with the aforesaid Resolution, do invite the participation of foreign countries in this exposition and in the world's fair to be held in connection therewith.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 19th day of October in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

National Bituminous Coal Commission.

[Order No. 58]

AN ORDER PROVIDING FOR A PUBLIC HEARING TO RECEIVE EVIDENCE TO ENABLE THE COMMISSION TO CLASSIFY THE COALS OF ALL CODE MEMBERS WITHIN DISTRICT NO. 10

Pursuant to Act of Congress, entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission directed, by its Orders No. 38 and No. 43, that all District Boards propose initial classifications of coals of all code members within their respective districts, classified in conformity with the standards, methods of applying such standards and rules of procedure established by the Commission, and provided that a hearing should be held for the purpose of receiving evidence to enable the Commission to establish the initial classifications of coals of all code members within the several districts.

At the hearing held pursuant to Orders No. 38 and No. 43, objections were made in the matter of the proposed initial classifications of Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10. The Commission thereupon referred the proposed initial classifications of Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10 to a Board of Examiners for hearing pursuant to Order No. 57. Said order provided that the hearing commence on the 15th day of October, 1937, at the Hearing Room of the Commission in the Walker Building, and that said hearing should continue and be open for the purpose of receiving evidence on the subject from all interested parties until October 22, 1937.

The Commission's attention has been directed to the fact that Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10 has withdrawn the proposed initial classifications of coals of code members in said District. Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10, having failed to comply with the Commission's Orders No. 38 and No. 43, the Commission will, pursuant to Section 6 (a) of the Act, proceed to classify the coals of all code members within District No. 10.

The Commission, therefore, directs and orders:

1. That a public hearing be held in the City of Washington commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. on Monday, October 25, 1937, at the Hearing Room of the Commission in the Walker Building, before a Board of Examiners designated by the Commission for the purpose of receiving evidence from all interested parties and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises to enable the Commission to determine the proper classification of coals of all code members within District No. 10. Said hearing shall continue and be open for the purpose of receiving all pertinent evidence relating to the classification of coals of code members for District No. 10 until October 29, 1937.

2. That the hearing provided for by Order No. 57, having been terminated as the result of the withdrawal of the proposed initial classifications of coals submitted by Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10, all interested parties will be afforded opportunity to appear and present evidence in the hearing provided for by this order.

The Secretary of the Commission shall forthwith give notice of the time, place and purpose of the hearing to be held under this order by publishing a copy of this order for two days in a newspaper of general circulation in District No. 10, and by mailing a copy of this order to the Secretary of District Board No. 10, to the Consumers' Counsel, and to all code members within District Number 10.

By order of the Commission.

Dated this 20th day of October, 1937.

[Order No. 59]

AN ORDER REQUIRING AND DIRECTING THE BITUMINOUS COAL PRODUCERS BOARD FOR DISTRICT NO. 10 TO DELIVER TO THE COMMISSION DATA PERTAINING TO THE CLASSIFICATION OF THE COALS IN SAID DISTRICT

Pursuant to act of Congress, entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes" (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission on the 16th day of August, 1937, by its Order No. 38 directed all District Boards to propose to the Commission classifications of all coals of code members within their respective districts classified in conformity with the standards, methods and rules of procedure established by the Commission and on the 10th day of September thereafter by its Order No. 43 directed all District Boards to file such proposed initial classifications with the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., on or before September 22, 1937, and no proposed initial classification of coal conforming to the standards, methods and rules of procedure established by the Commission having been filed by the Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10, the Commission hereby orders that:

The Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 10 shall forthwith deliver to the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C. the following documents, memoranda, records and data now in the possession of said District Board, which the Commission considers pertinent and material to the determination of the proper classification of the coals in said District:

1. All answers to questionnaires returned by producers to said District Board;

2. All analyses furnished by producers to said District Board;

3. Report of Commercial Testing & Engineering Company, dated May 2, 1935, on certain coals produced in Franklin, Williamson and Saline Counties and in the eastern portion of Perry County, Illinois;

4. Other documents, memoranda, records and data in the possession of said District Board material to the determination of the proper classifications of the coals in said District.

The Secretary of the Commission shall forthwith mail a copy of this Order to the Secretary of the said District Board.

By order of the Commission.

Dated this 20th day of October, 1937.

NOTICE OF HEARING IN THE MATTER OF REGULATIONS FOR TRANSPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES AND OTHER DANGEROUS ARTICLES

OCTOBER 18, 1937.

It appearing, That by petitions received from interested parties certain new and amended regulations are proposed for our approval pursuant to section 233 of the Criminal Code (Transportation of Explosives Act), covering the packing, marking, loading, handling while in transit, and to determine whether the proposed changes are in accord with the best known means for securing safety in transit,—

The above entitled proceeding is assigned for hearing on November 10, 1937, at 10 o'clock a. m. (standard time), at the office of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., before Commissioner McManamy.

Under provision of the Explosives Act, the Commission may utilize the services of the Bureau of Explosives, Association of American Railroads. In the interest of expediency and in order that the time of the Commission may be reasonably conserved, the Bureau of Explosives will be prepared to confer with interested shippers and others at the office of the Commission, Washington, D. C., at 10:00 a. m. (standard time) on November 9, 1937, when opportunity will be afforded all interested parties to discuss, and if possible agree upon, the amendments proposed.

Attached is copy of proposed new and amended regulations. Further copies may be secured upon application to the Commission or the Bureau of Explosives, 30 Vesey Street, New York, N. Y.

By the Commission:

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL, Secretary.

HEARING NOVEMBER 10, 1937

The following items have been made the subject of correspondence and conferences conducted by the Bureau of Explosives and Tank Car Committee and are presented for action by the Commission:

PROPOSED NEW AND AMENDED REGULATIONS

INDEX OF ITEMS

1. Increase in gross weight of shipments of railway fusees.
2. Provision for shipment of nickel carbonyl.
3. Safer packages for chlorates of sodium and potassium.
4. Safer packages for chlorites of calcium and sodium.
5. Provision for shipment of phosphorus trichloride in tank cars.
6. Provision for shipment of liquid carbon dioxide in tank cars.
7. Provision for shipment of oxygen and nitrogen in tank cars.
8. Transfer of use of tank cars from one service to another.
9. Revision of definition for class B poisons.
10. Povision for shipment of sodium arsenate in bulk.
11. Revision of provisions for closures of steel barrels and drums.
12. Revision of thickness of metal in spec. 5C steel barrels and drums.
13. Revision of thickness of metal in spec. 5E steel barrels and drums.
14. Provision for aluminum-lined steel drums for nitric acid.
15. Omission of tape binding for fiber boxes.
16. Revision of specification for rubber drums.
17. Revision of stowage of box toe board for water transportation.
18. Provision for use of tank trucks for liquefied carbon dioxide, withdrawn.
19. Revision of provision for chime reinforcement spec. 5G steel barrels and drums.
20. Provision for trinitroresorcinol (styphnic acid) canceled.
21. Revision of test period for tank car tanks and safety valves.
22. Revision of packing for nitro mannite for truck transportation and pentaerythrite tetranitrate for water transportation.
23. Revision of provision for closure for plywood drum.
24. Revision of provision for liner and pads in fiberboard boxes.
25. Provision for use of wirebound wooden boxes for dangerous explosives.
26. Provision for use of spec. 103A tank cars for aniline oil.
27. Provision for use of fusion welding in 5 tank cars, nickel-clad, for caustic soda.
28. Provision for use of fusion welding in 12 tank cars, with fusion-welded anchors, for nitric acid.
29. Provision for use of fusion welding in 25 tank cars for anhydrous ammonia.

ITEM 1. Petition of Lakeside Railway Fusee Company, Beloit, Wis., for increase in gross weight limit of shipments of railway fusees in fiberboard boxes from 65 to 70 pounds. The request was not supported at conference conducted by Bureau of Explosives on May 19, 1937. Appearance of petitioner at the hearing is desired if request is to have consideration.

ITEM 2. Petition of International Nickel Company, Inc., New York, N. Y., for amendment of regulations so as to provide for the shipment of nickel carbonyl as an inflammable liquid in cylinders. This material has not heretofore been shipped commercially but shipments are contemplated in the near future. (Stowage of the article on vessels for water transportation, not here presented, is having attention of the Department of Commerce.)

Present

(Regulations applying to inflammable liquids, n. o. s., par. 235.)

Proposed

Amend dangerous articles list, freight, by adding the following:

| Article | Group | Sec. | Page |
|---|---|---|---|
| Nickel carbonyl | Inflammable liquid | 3 | 49 |

Amend paragraph 228 (c), freight, by adding the following:

| Article | Exemption | Packing (pars.) |
|---|---|---|
| Nickel carbonyl | No exemption | 230, 231, 233, 252 |

Amend paragraph 233, freight, by adding the following:

| Article: | Par. |
|---|---|
| Nickel carbonyl | 252 |

Add paragraph 252, freight, to read as follows:

252. Nickel carbonyl must be packed in any cylinder as prescribed for any compressed gas, except acetylene.

ITEM 3. Petition of Bureau of Explosives for amendment of regulations for chlorates of sodium and potassium, removing authority to use wooden barrels and kegs for bulk shipments.

Present

| Article | Group | Exemption (pars.) | Packing (pars.) |
|---|---|---|---|
| Chlorate of potash | Oxi. M. | 278, 328 | 279, 280, 282, 283. |

317. Chlorate of soda must be packed as follows:
In containers as prescribed in par. 283:
When chlorate of soda is wet with not less than 10 percent water, it may only be shipped in tank cars, specification 103, provided that the commodity must not be loaded to exceed one-third of the shell capacity of the tank and must be equally distributed therein.

Proposed

Amend item, par. 277 (c), freight, to read as follows:

| Article | Group | Exemption (pars.) | Packing (pars.) |
|---|---|---|---|
| Chlorate of potash | Oxi. M. | 278, 328.. | 279, 280, 282, 283, 317. |

Amend par. 281, freight, by adding the following:

| Article: | Par. |
|---|---|
| Chlorate of potash | 317 |

Amend par. 317, freight, to read as follows:

317. Chlorate of soda and chlorate of potash must be packed as follows:
In containers as prescribed in paragraph 283 except that wooden barrels or kegs, specification 10A, 10B, 10C, or 11B, are not authorized for bulk shipments.
When chlorate of soda is wet with not less than 10 percent water, etc., (no further change).

ITEM 4. Petition of Bureau of Explosives for amendment of regulations so as to provide special restrictions for the shipment of calcium chlorite ($CaClO_2$) and sodium chlorite ($NaClO_2$). These materials have a specific hazard in transportation due to their high oxidizing and other characteristics. They have not been specially restricted as to packing in the past as shipments have been very small but conditions indicate that their movement will increase. Special packing is proposed.

Present

(Regulations applying to oxidizing materials, n. o. s., par. 283.)

Proposed

Add items, Dangerous Articles List, freight, to read:

| Article | Group | Sec. | Page |
|---|---|---|---|
| Calcium chlorite | Oxi. M | 3 | 49 |
| Sodium chlorite | Oxi. M | 3 | 49 |

Add items to list, paragraph 277 (c), freight, to read:

| Article | Group | Exemption | Packing (pars.) |
|---|---|---|---|
| Calcium chlorite | Oxi. M | (1) | 279, 280 to 282, 324B. |
| Sodium chlorite | Oxi. M | (1) | 279, 280 to 282, 324B. |

[1] No exemption.

Add items to list, paragraph 281, freight, to read:

| Article: | Par. |
|---|---|
| Calcium chlorite | 324B |
| Sodium chlorite | 324B |

Add par. 324B, freight, to read as follows:
324B. Calcium chlorite and sodium chlorite must be packed as follows:
In wooden boxes, specification 15A, 15B, or 15C, with inside containers which must be: Glass or earthenware not over 2¼ pounds capacity each, or metal not over 5 pounds capacity each:
Or in metal barrels or drums, specification 6A, 6B, or 6C; or 5E or 6D (single-trip containers).
Add items, dangerous articles list, express, to read:

| Article | Group | Sec. | Page |
|---|---|---|---|
| Calcium chlorite | Oxi. M | 3 | 204 |
| Sodium chlorite | Oxi. M | 3 | 204 |

Add items to list, paragraph 136 (c), express, to read:

| Article | Group | Wt. max. | Packing (pars.) |
|---|---|---|---|
| Calcium chlorite | Oxi. M | 100 pounds | 14, 164, 165. |
| Sodium chlorite | Oxi. M | 100 pounds | 14, 164, 165. |

Add paragraph 164, express, to read as follows:
164. Calcium chlorite and sodium chlorite must be packed as follows:
In wooden boxes, specification 15A, 15B, or 15C, with inside containers which must be: Glass or earthenware not over 2¼ pounds capacity each, or metal not over 5 pounds capacity each:
Or in metal barrels or drums, specification 6A, 6B, or 6C; or 5E or 6D (single-trip containers).

ITEM 5. Petition of Oldbury Electro Chemical Company, Niagara Falls, New York, for amendment of regulations so as to permit shipment of phosphorus trichloride in tank cars, specification 103A, lined with lead.

Present

352. (b) (Add 7th subpar.) Phosphorus trichloride may also be shipped in metal barrels or drums, specification 5A.

Proposed

Amend subparagraph to paragraph 352 (b), freight, added and effective as of March 20, 1936, to read as follows:
Phosphorus trichloride may also be shipped in metal barrels or drums, specification 5A, or in tank cars, specification 103A, when these cars are lead-lined.

ITEM 6. Petition of Taylor Engineering Company, Elgin, Ill., for amendment of regulations so as to provide for shipment of liquid carbon dioxide in tank cars of I. C. C. 105A500 type.

Par. 396 (c).

| Article | Group | Exempt. (par.) | Packing (pars.) |
|---|---|---|---|
| Liquefied carbon dioxide | Noninf. | 397 | 398 to 405. |

Par. 430, Table 1. (No regulations.)

Proposed

| Article | Group | Exempt (par.) | Packing (pars.) |
|---|---|---|---|
| Liquefied carbon dioxide | Noninf. | 397 | 398 to 405, 426 to 433. |

| (Add) Article | Max. filling % | Required car (spec.) |
|---|---|---|
| Liquefied carbon dioxide | (1) | ICC–105A500.[2] |

[1] The liquid portion of the gas at 0° F. must not completely fill the tank.
[2] Before an ICC–105A500 tank car may be used for the transportation of liquefied carbon dioxide, the following requirements must be met: Tank must be lagged with cork at least 10 inches in thickness. Tank must be equipped with 1 safety valve of approved design set to open at a pressure not exceeding 375 pounds per square inch and 1 frangible disk device of approved design set to function at a pressure less than the test pressure of the tank. Tank must be equipped with 2 pressure-regulating valves of approved design, 1 set to open at 300 pounds per square inch pressure and 1 set to open at 340 pounds per square inch pressure. The discharge capacity of each safety valve must be sufficient to prevent building up of pressure in tank in excess of 375 pounds per square inch. Each safety device must have its final discharge piped to the outside of the dome.

ITEM 7. Petition of Air Reduction Sales Company, New York, N. Y. for amendment of regulations so as to permit the shipment of oxygen and nitrogen by rail in tank cars.

Present

(No regulations.)

Proposed

Amend paragraph 430, table No. 1, by adding the following:

| Article | Max. filling (%) | Required car (Spec.) |
|---|---|---|
| Nitrogen | See par. 427. | ICC–107A* * * |
| Oxygen | See par. 427. | ICC–107A* * *. |

ITEM 8. Petition of Bureau of Explosives and A. A. R. Tank Car Committee for amendment of regulations so as to insure suitability of tank cars for shipment of particular compressed gas owner desires to transport.

Present

431. (a) Before a tank car may be used for the transportation of any compressed gas other than that for which it is being used, as indicated by the name of the commodity stenciled on the tank, the owner of the car, or party authorized by the owner, must change the stenciled name, and the manhole closure, safety valve, the induction and eduction valves and pipes, as necessary to make the car suitable for the new service, and stencil date of changes and initials of owner, or party making these changes, under commodity stencil on tank. All changes must be certified to the Bureau of Explosives.

Proposed

431. (a) Before a tank car may be used for the transportation of any compressed gas other than that gas for which it is currently equipped and authorized as indicated by the name of the commodity stenciled on the tank, the owner of the car, or party authorized by the owner, must secure approval for changes in the stenciled name, manhole closure, safety valve, induction and eduction valves and pipes, and such other changes as are necessary to make the car suitable for the new service. The date these changes are made, the initials of the owner, or party making these changes, must be stenciled on the tank under commodity name. A certificate showing the changes which were approved and made must be filed with the Bureau of Explosives and the Secretary A. A. R. Tank Car Committee.

ITEM 9. Petition of Manufacturing Chemists' Association for amendment of paragraphs 460 (b), freight, and 236 (b), express, so as to clarify definition of poisonous articles by eliminating second paragraphs.

Present (freight)

460. (b) Poisonous liquids or solids of such nature that they are chiefly dangerous by external contact with the body or by their being taken internally, as in contaminated food or feeds. The vapors of some of this class of materials are also offensive or dangerous, but to a much less extent than class A poisons.
Any poisonous material not described in paragraph 460 (a) which has a toxicity greater than 22 milligrams per kilo body would fall within this group.

Proposed (freight)

460. (b) Poisonous liquids or solids of such nature that they are chiefly dangerous by external contact with the body or by their being taken internally, as in contaminated food or feeds. The vapors of some of this class of materials are also offensive or dangerous, but to a much less extent than class A poisons.
(2d par. omitted.)

(Express regulations same change proposed.)

ITEM 10. Petition of Shepherd Chemical Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, for amendment of regulations so as to provide for shipment of sodium arsenate in bulk.

Present

Arsenical dust not subject to dangerous spontaneous heating and arsenic trioxide when delivery is made to plants with private sidings, only, may also be shipped in sift-proof, self-clearing, hopper or bottom-outlet steel cars, equipped with waterproof and dust-proof covers well secured in place for all openings.

Proposed

Amend 4th subpar., paragraph 501, freight, to read as follows:
Arsenical dust not subject to dangerous spontaneous heating and arsenic trioxide or sodium arsenate when delivery is made to plants with private sidings, only, may also be shipped in sift-proof, self-clearing, hopper or bottom-outlet steel cars, equipped with waterproof and dust-proof covers well secured in place for all openings.

ITEM 11. Petition of Manufacturing Chemists' Association, with statement that proposals are made to clarify certain ambiguities in specification for 5 series closures; to eliminate possible use of unsafe closures such as a crimped-on cap without plug, which is permissible on certain containers under present regulations; to revise 5 series closure requirements on a consistent and related basis.

Present

(Specification 5A) 6. (a) Body seams must be welded.
(b) Head or chime seams must be welded or double-seamed.
(c) Screw-thread bung flanges must be welded in place.
10. (a) Closures for openings must be such as to prevent leakage in transit.
(b) Closures must be of screw-thread type or secured by means of screw-thread devices. Openings over 2.3 inches diameter are not permitted.
(c) Screw-thread closing devices consisting of threaded flanges and plugs over ¾-inch standard pipe size must have eight threads or less per inch. It is recommended that construction conform with the following drawing:
(Drawing included.)
11. Threaded metal flanges and plugs must be close fitting with gaskets at least one-eighth inch thick and one-fourth inch wide across the face. Threads must be cut at right angles to faced surfaces, which must bear squarely on each other when without gasket. Flange must have five or more complete threads; two ¼ inch drainage holes are allowed. Plug must have sufficient length of threads to engage five threads in flange with gasket in place.
(Specification 5) 2. Restrictions in paragraphs 6 (b), 6 (c), 10 (b), and 10 (c) do not apply.
(Specification 5B) 2. Restrictions in paragraphs 6 (b), 6 (c), 10 (b), and 10 (c) do not apply.
(Specification 5D) 2. Restrictions in paragraphs 6 (a), 6 (c), and 10 (c) do not apply.
(Specification 5E) 2. Restrictions in paragraphs 6 (b), 6 (c), 7, 10 (b), and 10 (c) do not apply.
(Specification 5F) 6. Restrictions in paragraph 10 (c) do not apply.
(Specification 5H) 5. In place of paragraph 10 (b) the following: Openings must be of screw-thread or flange-with-follower-plate type.
(Specification 5J) 2. Restrictions in paragraphs 6 (b), 6 (c), 7, and 10 (c) do not apply. Restrictions in paragraph 10 (b) do not apply, except that openings over 2.3 inches diameter are not permitted.

Proposed

Change paragraph 6, specification 5A, to read as follows:
6. (a) Body seams must be welded.
(b) Head and chime seams must be welded or double-seamed.
(c) Flanges for closures must be welded in place.
Change paragraph 10, specification 5A, to read as follows:
10. (a) Closures and openings must be such as to prevent leakage in transit.
(b) Openings over 2.3 inches diameter are not permitted.
(c) Closures must be of screw-thread type or secured by means of screw-thread devices.
(d) Threaded flanges and plugs over ¾ inch standard pipe size must have 8 threads or less per inch. Construction to conform with the following drawing is recommended.
NOTE.—Drawing to be continued as in current specifications.
Change paragraph 11, specification 5A, to read as follows:
11. (a) Threaded closures must be close fitting with adequate gaskets.
(b) Flange must have 5 or more complete threads; two 5/16 inch drainage holes are allowed. Plug, or cap, must have sufficient length of thread to engage 5 threads when screwed home with gasket in place.
(c) Threads must be cut at right angles to gasket seats which must be faced so as to bear squarely on each other when without gasket.
(d) Gaskets must be at least ⅛ inch thick and ¼ inch across the face.
Change paragraph 2, specification 5, to read as follows:
2. (a) Restrictions in paragraph 6 (b), 10 (b), 10 (c), 10 (d), and 11 (d), do not apply.
(b) Brazing is authorized in place of welding prescribed by paragraph 6 (c).
Add to paragraph 11, specification 5, a new subparagraph (e) to read as follows:
(e) Closures must be of metal with gaskets of suitable material; all parts, except cap seal over threaded plug or cap, must be as thick as prescribed for head of container: Provided, That thinner metal closures are authorized for containers of not over 12 gallons capacity when constructed, or fitted with lock device, so that closure cannot be removed without destroying it or the lock device.
Change paragraph 2, specification 5B, to read as follows:
2. (a) Restrictions in paragraph 6 (b), 6 (c), 10 (b), 10 (c), 10 (d), 11 (c), and 11 (d), do not apply.
(b) Three threads for flanges and for engagement of plug, or cap, therewith are authorized in place of 5 prescribed by paragraph 11 (b).
Add to paragraph 11, specification 5B, a new subparagraph (e) to read as follows:
(e) Closures must be of metal with gaskets of suitable material; all parts, except cap seal over threaded plug or cap, must be as thick as prescribed for head of container: Provided, That thinner metal closures are authorized for containers of not over 12 gallons capacity when constructed, or fitted with lock device, so that closure cannot be removed without destroying it or the lock device.
Change paragraph 2, specification 5D, to read as follows:
2. Restrictions in paragraphs 6 (a), 6 (c), and 10 (d), do not apply.
Change paragraph 2, specification 5E, to read as follows:
2. (a) Restrictions in paragraph 6 (b), 6 (c), 7, 10 (b), 10 (c), 10 (d), 11 (c), and 11 (d), do not apply.
(b) Three threads for flanges and for engagement of plug, or cap, therewith are authorized in place of 5 prescribed by paragraph 11 (b).
Add to paragraph 11, specification 5E, a new subparagraph (e) to read as follows:
(e) Closures must be of metal with gaskets of suitable material; all parts, except cap seal over threaded plug or cap must be as thick as prescribed for head of container: Provided, That thinner metal closures are authorized for containers of not over 12 gallons capacity when constructed, or fitted with lock device, so that closure cannot be removed without destroying it or the lock device.
Change paragraph 6, specification 5F, to read as follows:
Restrictions in paragraph 10 (d) do not apply.
Change paragraph 5, specification 5H, to read as follows:
5. In place of paragraphs 10 (b) and 10 (c), the following:
Openings must be of screw-thread or flange-with-follower-plate type.
Change paragraph 2, specification 5J, to read as follows:
2. (a) Restrictions in paragraphs 6 (b), 6 (c), 7, 10 (c), 11 (b), 11 (c), and 11 (d) do not apply.
(b) Three threads for flanges and for engagement of plug, or cap, therewith are authorized in place of 5 prescribed by paragraph 11 (b).
Add to paragraph 11, specification 5J, a new subparagraph (e) to read as follows:
(e) Closures must be of metal with gaskets of suitable material; all parts, except cap seal over threaded plug or cap, must be as thick as prescribed for head of container: Provided, That thinner metal closures are authorized for containers of not over 12 gallons capacity when constructed, or fitted with lock device, so that closure cannot be removed without destroying it or the lock device.

ITEM 12. Petition of Manufacturing Chemists' Association for amendment of specification 5C so that the strength of chrome iron alloy used in that drum will be comparable with mild steel used in similar type drums.

Present

(No regulation.)

Proposed

Add new paragraph to specification 5C as follows:
7. Thickness of steel in body and heads of drums made under this specification is authorized to be 2 gauges lighter than as specified in specification 5A..

ITEM 13. Petition of Manufacturing Chemists' Association for amendment of specification 5E so that use will be authorized of lighter gauge body sheets in the manufacture of drums under this specification of type other than full open-head.

Present

(No regulation.)

Proposed

Add to specification 5E a new paragraph to read as follows:
3A. For containers not of the full open-head type, body sheets are authorized to be 20 and 21 gauges for marked capacities not over 55 and 30 gallons, respectively. This provision does not apply to head sheets.

ITEM 14. Petition of Advance Solvents and Chemical Corporation, New York, N. Y., for amendment of regulations and specifications so as to provide for use of aluminum-lined steel drums for nitric acid of high concentration.

Present

Or in aluminum drums, specification 42B; or aluminum drums made and marked prior to October 1, 1930, in compliance with specification 42 then effective. Authorized only for acid over 1.46 specific gravity (45.75° Baumé); the acid shall not contain more than 0.1 percent of hydrochloric acid, more than 1 percent of sulphuric acid, or more than a trace of any of the lower oxides of nitrogen.

Proposed

Amend last subparagraph, paragraph 361 (a), freight, to read as follows:
Or in aluminum drums, specification 42B; or aluminum-lined steel drums, specification 5X; or aluminum drums made and marked prior to October 1, 1930, in compliance with specification 42 then effective. Authorized only for acid over 1.46 specific gravity (45.75° Baumé); the acid shall not contain more than 0.1 percent of hydrochloric acid, more than 1 percent of sulphuric acid, or more than a trace of any of the lower oxides of nitrogen.
Add new specification 5X, as follows:

SHIPPING CONTAINER SPECIFICATION 5X

STEEL DRUMS—ALUMINUM LINED

1. Containers must comply with specification 5A with the following exceptions and additions:
2. Closing devices of any suitable metal, with cap closure, 3 threads engaged, are authorized in lieu of flanges and plugs specified in paragraph 11 of specification 5A.
3 (Add). Closing device shall be located between rolling hoops.
4 (Add). Lining shall be of aluminum at least 99 percent pure, at least 0.12 inch thick, with all seams welded. It shall have reasonably good fit in outside drum and be arranged so that extensive movement therein will be prevented.

ITEM 15. Petition of Sherwin-Williams Company, Cleveland, Ohio, for amendment of specification 24C so as to authorize lapped and stitched joints in construction of boxes and omission of tape specified by Note in paragraph 499.

Present

15. Joints formed by adjoining edges of body pieces must be secured by cloth or paper sealing tape, at least 3 inches wide for boxes of 40 pounds or more gross weight, and at least 2 inches wide for other boxes, securely glued over the edges the entire length of joints.

Proposed

Add to paragraph 15, specification 24A, the following:
Joint also authorized as follows on all boxes except when made of double-wall board having both corrugations of A-flute type: lapped 1½ inches; stitched at 2½ inch intervals and within 1 inch of each end of joint; double-stitched (2 parallel stitches) at each end of joint over 18 inches long.
Add to Note, pars. 499, freight, and 249, express, the following:
Exception.—Tape not required on manufacturer's joint that is both glued and stitched.

ITEM 16. Petition of Manufacturing Chemists' Association for amendment of specification 43A so as to authorize incorporation of improvements for construction of drum and closing device.

Present

(Specification 43A) 3. Body and heads shall be made of at least 2 laminations; inside lamination shall be pale crepe rubber with lining of sheet ebonite or pale crepe rubber impregnated with paraffin; other laminations shall be a mixture of cotton fiber and rubber impregnated with paraffin. Thickness of heads shall be at least ½ inch. Thickness of sides shall be at least ¾ inch.
5. Closing device shall be screw-thread type, consisting of threaded flange and plug with opening not over 2.3 inches diameter. Thread must be of size not over 4 threads per inch and with tolerance sufficient to prevent binding when fully engaged.
6. Plug must be fitted with rubber gasket at least 3/64-inch thick and with width across the face equal to the width of the plug head. With plug seated in the flange and with washer in place at least 3 threads must be engaged.
Paragraph 358. (Add, following 2d subpar.) Or in rubber drums, specification 43A. Any such container showing evidence of damage must be tested to 20 pounds hydrostatic pressure, without leakage, before using;

Proposed

Amend paragraphs 3, 5 and 6 of specification 43A to read as follows:
3. Body and heads shall be made of at least 2 laminations; inside lamination shall be of pale crepe natural or synthetic rubber, capable of withstanding the action of hydrofluoric acid up to 65 percent H. F. maximum, for 30 days without any substantial deterioration. The other laminations shall be a mixture of cotton fiber and rubber. Thickness of heads shall be at least ½ inch. Thickness of sides shall be at least ¾ inch.
5. Closing device shall be screw-thread type; opening not over 2.3 inches diameter. Thread size not over 4 threads per inch for rubber and 8 threads per inch for steel.
6. Plug or cap must be fitted with adequate gasket. With plug or cap seated with gasket in place, as least 3 complete threads must be engaged.
Add to paragraph 9 (a), the following:
Also a 4-foot drop to strike directly on closing device.
Amend paragraph added below second subparagraph, paragraph 358, freight, effective as of November 1, 1935, to read as follows:
Hydrofluoric acid of not over 65 percent H. F. maximum is also authorized in rubber drums, specification 43A. Any such container showing evidence of damage must be tested to 20 pounds hydrostatic pressure, without leakage, before using.

ITEM 17. Petition of Bureau of Explosives for amendment of Water Regulations so as to provide stowage for box toe board which has been added to the express regulations.

The item is not here presented because of our understanding that the matter of stowage of articles for water transportation is having attention by Department of Commerce.

ITEM 18. Petition of Taylor Engineering Company, Elgin, Ill., for regulations permitting transportation of liquefied carbon dioxide gas in tank trucks is not here presented, it being our understanding that petitioner requested Bureau of Explosives to withdraw the item.

ITEM 19. Petition of Bureau of Explosives for amendment of specification 5G, paragraph 2.

Present

2. In place of paragraph 2, the following:
The use of an austenitic 18 and 8 chrome nickel alloy steel with carbon content not over 0.12 percent is required, except for rolling hoops, in the manufacture of these containers.

Proposed

2. In place of paragraph 2, the following:
The use of an austenitic 18 and 8 chrome nickel alloy steel with carbon content not over 0.12 percent is required, except for rolling hoops and chime reinforcements, in the manufacture of these containers.

ITEM 20. Petition of Bureau of Explosives for amendment of regulations so that paragraph 57 (e) be canceled and reference to trinitroresorcinol, wet (styphnic acid) be canceled from the dangerous articles list.

Present

57 (e). Trinitroresorcinol (styphnic acid) in bulk must contain not less than 25 percent of water and must in this wet condition be placed in an earthenware crock having a capacity of approximately 10 gallons. The cover of the crock must be securely attached and must be furnished with a rubber or packing gasket. The crock must be secured in the center of a wooden barrel, specification 10B, or metal barrel or drum, specification 5 or 5B, or single-trip container, specification 5E, and must be surrounded on all sides by well-packed sawdust saturated with water.

Proposed

Amending orders of July 23, 1935, and Dec. 12, 1935, as follows:
Paragraph 57 (e) of regulations for transportation as freight of trinitroresorcinol (styphnic acid) and other mention of the article canceled.

ITEM 21. Petition of Bureau of Explosives for amendments lengthening test periods for tanks and safety valves of tank cars.

Present

Par. 19, Specification 104A (Same provisions, except only the retest period is specified as 2 years for tanks and valves).
Par. 14, Specification 105A300 (Same provisions, except matter underscored which is added).

Proposed

Amend paragraph 19, specification 104A, to read as follows:
19. Retest of tanks and safety valves.—Same as specification 103, except that tanks and valves must be retested at intervals of five years or less after the original test, and that if the jacket and lagging are not removed, the tank must hold the prescribed pressure for at least 20 minutes. A drop in pressure shall be evidence of leakage, and such portion of the jacket and lagging must be removed as may be necessary to locate the leak and make repairs. After the repairs have been made, the tank must be again subjected to the prescribed test.
Amend paragraph 14, specification 105A300, to read as follows:
14. Retests of tanks, anchor rivet covers, and safety valves.—Tanks must be retested to a pressure of 300 pounds per square inch, as prescribed in paragraph 12 (a), except that the anchor rivet covers must not be removed and that the tank lagging and jacket need not be removed unless the pressure in the tank drops during the test period, indicating leakage; anchor rivet covers must be retested to a pressure of 100 pounds per square inch, as prescribed in paragraph 12 (b); and safety valves must be retested to a pressure as prescribed in paragraphs 9 (b) and 13. All tests must be made at intervals of two years or less except for tanks used exclusively for liquefied petroleum gas, sulphur dioxide, anhydrous ammonia, and class B poisonous liquids, on which all tests must be made at intervals of 5 years or less. Tanks must also be retested before being returned to service after any repairs requiring welding. Reports must be rendered as prescribed in paragraph 16.

ITEM 22. Petition of Institute of Makers of Explosives for amendment of regulations so as to provide proper containers for shipments of nitro mannite and pentaerythrite tetranitrate, developed by recent information, and to prevent freezing in transportation.

Present

69T. Packing and weight.—Nitro mannite in bulk form must be wet with not less than 40 percent by weight of water and in this wet condition, must be placed in a tight rubber bag which must in turn be placed in a wooden barrel, specification 10B, or metal barrel or drum, specification 5 or 5B, or single-trip container, specification 5E. The space between the rubber bag and the barrel must be not less than 3 inches, and this space must be completely filled with well-packed sawdust saturated with water. The dry weight of nitro mannite in one outside container must not exceed 150 pounds.

69W. Packing and weight.—Pentaerythrite tetranitrate in bulk form must be packed wet with not less than 30 percent by weight of water. The packing must be the same as that described in paragraph 68 for fulminate of mercury, except that the dry weight of pentaerythrite tetranitrate in one container must not exceed 100 pounds.

Proposed

Amend par. 69T, freight, to read as follows:

69T. Packing and weight.—Nitro mannite in bulk form must contain not less than 40 percent by weight of water and in this wet condition be placed in bags made of at least 10 ounce cotton duck, and the bags securely closed. The nitro mannite in cotton bags must then be placed in a rubber bag in a barrel or drum, specification 10B, 5, or 5B. Any empty spaces in the rubber bag must be filled with water and the rubber bag securely closed.

Sufficient outage in outside container must be allowed to prevent rupturing of container in freezing weather, or a mixture of denatured alcohol and water may be used to prevent freezing in transit.

Amend par. 69W, freight, to read as follows:

69W. Packing and weight.—Pentaerythrite tetranitrate in bulk form must contain not less than 40 percent by weight of water and in this wet condition be placed in bags made of at least 10 ounce cotton duck, and the bags securely closed. The pentaerythrite tetranitrate in cotton bags must then be placed in a rubber bag in a barrel or drum, specification 10B, 5, or 5B. Any empty spaces in the rubber bag must be filled with water and the rubber bag securely closed. Sufficient outage in outside container must be allowed to prevent rupturing of container in freezing weather, or a mixture of denatured alcohol and water may be used to prevent freezing in transit.

ITEM 23. Petition from Aluminum Ore Company, East St. Louis, Ill., for amendment of specification so as to provide additional closure for plywood drums under specification 22A.

Present

(No regulations.)

Proposed

Add par. 14, specification 22A, to read as follows:

14. Special closure.—Bung hole closed by 28 gauge steel push-in closure with an outside flange of approximately ½ inch and held securely in place by expanding the closure below the inside face of head is also authorized.

ITEM 24. Petition of E. I. duPont deNemours & Company for amendment of specification 24B fiberboard boxes used for pyroxylin plastic sheets shipped by express. Change in specification will authorize use of 200-pound liner and pads in lieu of 275-pound liner and pads as at present authorized.

Present

| Box | Weight | Body | Liner | Pads | Part. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1 piece double-faced | 90 * (See Note 1) | 275 | 275 | 275 | |

* Authorized only when boxes are to be metal strapped before shipment.

NOTE 1.—For pyroxylin sheets only.

Proposed

Change 7th item table par. 4, specification 24B, revised effective March 30, 1937, to read as follows:

| Box | Weight | Body | Liner | Pads | Partitions, etc. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1 piece double-faced | 90.[1] (See Note 1) | 275 | 200 | 200 | |

NOTE 1.—For pyroxylin sheets only.

ITEM 25. Petition of David M. Lea & Company, Inc., for amendment of regulations so that use will be authorized of specification 16A boxes for shipments of explosives of the more dangerous group.

Present

(No regulations.)

Proposed

Amend pars. 57 (a) second and third subparagraphs 57 (b), 57 (c), 58, 59 (a), 60 (c), 63 (c), 63 (e), 63 (f), 79 (c), 79 (d), 79 (f), 79 (g), 79 (h), 79 (i), freight, by adding authority for use of boxes made under specification 16A in proper places.

(Shipments of the following articles affected: High explosives containing no liquid explosive ingredient, high explosives containing no liquid explosive ingredient or chlorate, high explosives under par. 57 (a) in combination cartridges, nitrocellulose, boxes and lining for high explosives, black powder and low explosives, blasting caps and electric blasting caps.)

ITEM 26. Petition of Manufacturing Chemists' Association for amendment of regulations so as to permit transportation of aniline oil in specification 103A tank cars, in addition to specification 103 cars now provided for.

Present

Or in tank cars, specification 103.

Proposed

Amend last subpar., par. 485, freight, to read as follows:
Or in tank cars, specification 103 or 103A.

ITEM 27. Petition of General American Transportation Corporation for authority to build 5 class ICC–103–W, fusion-welded nickel-clad tank cars for the transportation of caustic soda.

ITEM 28. Petition of E. I. duPont deNemours & Company for authority to construct and use for the transportation of nitric acid 12 class ICC–103C–W fusion welded tank cars with fusion welded anchors.

ITEM 29. Petition of General American Transportation Corporation for authority to build 25 class ICC–105–A–300–W fusion welded tank cars for the transportation of anhydrous ammonia.

[File 1-1012]

IN THE MATTER OF WARNER QUINLAN COMPANY 6% GOLD DEBENTURES, DUE MARCH 1, 1939

ORDER SETTING HEARING ON APPLICATION TO STRIKE FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION

The New York Stock Exchange, pursuant to Section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Rule JD2 promulgated thereunder, having made application to the Commission to strike from listing and registration the 6% Gold Debentures, due March 1, 1939, of the Warner Quinlan Company; and

The Commission deeming it necessary for the protection of investors that a hearing be held in this matter at which all interested persons be given the opportunity to be heard;

It is ordered, That the matter be set down for hearing at 10 o'clock a. m. on November 15, 1937, in Room 1101, Securities and Exchange Commission Building, 1778 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as the Commission or its officer herein designated shall determine, and that general notice thereof be given; and

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Moore, an officer of the Commission, be and he hereby is designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Bureau of Customs.

[T. D. 49206]

OUTSIDE EXAMINATION OF MERCHANDISE—CUSTOMS CUSTODY—BONDS

CONDITIONS TO BE ADDED TO BONDS REQUIRED WHEN MERCHANDISE IS EXAMINED ELSEWHERE THAN AT A PLACE IN CHARGE OF A CUSTOMS OFFICER

To Collectors of Customs and Others Concerned:

Merchandise examined elsewhere than at the public stores, wharf, or other place in charge of a customs officer, in accordance with the provisions of article 770, Customs Regulations of 1937, is released from customs custody when final examination for purposes of appraisement has been completed, as stated in article 1079 (f) of the said regulations. Article 770 (c) accordingly provides that before merchandise may be removed for examination at a place not in charge of a customs officer the importer shall file a bond on the appropriate form with a condition for the redelivery of the merchandise after its release from customs custody on demand for redelivery made in accordance with law and regulations.

Article 770 (c) provides, further, that such bond shall contain added conditions providing that the importer shall hold the merchandise at the place to which it will be removed for examination until it has been released from customs custody and that he shall transfer the merchandise, at any time before such release, to such place as the collector may direct.

The added conditions, executed in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XXIII of the Customs Regulations of 1937, shall be in the following form:

"There are hereby incorporated in and made a part of bond no. ------, dated ----------, in the penal sum of ----------, executed by ----------, as principal, and ----------, as surety, the following added conditions:

"Whereas the principal named in the said bond has requested that the merchandise covered by entry no. ------, dated ----------, in connection with which the above bond was given, be examined elsewhere than at the public stores, wharf, or other place in charge of a customs officer, in accordance with article 770 of the Customs Regulations of 1937, the obligors named in the above bond stipulate and agree that the said merchandise shall be held at the place to which it will be removed for examination until such merchandise shall have been released from customs custody by the completion of final examination for purposes of appraisement; that the merchandise shall be transferred, at any time before such release, to such place as the collector of customs may direct; and that after such release it shall be redelivered to customs custody if demand for redelivery is made by the collector in accordance with law and regulations."

When the entry is charged against a term bond, the clause

"Whereas the principal named in the said bond expects to request that the merchandise covered by various entries which will be charged against the above bond" shall be used in place of the following at the beginning of the second paragraph of the above added conditions:

"Whereas the principal named in the said bond has requested that the merchandise covered by entry no. ------, dated ----------, in connection with which the above bond was given,".

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD.

AMENDMENT TO RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR INVESTMENTS BY THE HOME OWNERS' LOAN CORPORATION IN SECURITIES OF SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

Requests for Privilege of Retiring Investments Held by Home Owners' Loan Corporation Must Be Received by the Board Within 30 Days Subsequent to Last Preceding Dividend or Interest Date. Investments by the Secretary of the Treasury Must Be First Retired Before Home Owners' Loan Corporation Investments are Retired and Home Owners' Loan Corporation Investments Must Be Retired in the Order of Investment

Be it resolved, That pursuant to authority vested in the Federal Home Loan Bank Board by subsection (k) of Section 4 of Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (12 U. S. C. 1463 (k)), the Rules and Regulations for Investments by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in Securities of Savings and Loan Associations are hereby amended by adding at the end thereof, the following:

Be it further resolved, That requests for the privilege of retiring investments held by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in securities of savings and loan associations shall be governed by the following provisions:

"1. No request for the privilege of retiring any such investment held by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation will be approved by this Board unless such request is submitted on a form approved by this Board and unless such request is received by this Board at its office in Washington, D. C., within 30 days subsequent to the last preceding dividend or interest date, accompanied by a check, postal money order or bank draft in the amount of the investment sought to be retired, together with any dividends or interest accrued, but unpaid, on such investment to the last preceding dividend or interest date.

"2. No request by an institution for the privilege of retiring any such investment held by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation will be approved by this Board if such institution has any outstanding investment held by the Secretary of the Treasury until such institution shall have retired or made provision satisfactory to this Board for the retirement of all investments held by the Secretary of the Treasury in such institution.

"3. No request by an institution for the privilege of retiring any investment held by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in such institution will be approved by this Board unless such institution shall have retired or made provision satisfactory to this Board for the retirement of all investments made by said Corporation in such institution prior to the investment sought to be retired."

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on October 21, 1937.

AMENDMENT TO RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

REQUESTS FOR PRIVILEGE OF RETIRING INVESTMENTS HELD BY THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY MUST BE RECEIVED BY THE BOARD WITHIN 30 DAYS SUBSEQUENT TO LAST PRECEDING DIVIDEND DATE

Be it resolved, That pursuant to authority vested in the Federal Home Loan Bank Board by subsections (a) and (j) of Section 5 of Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 (12 U. S. C. 1464 (a), 1464 (j)), subsection (d) of Section 37 of the Rules and Regulations for Federal Savings and Loan Associations is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

"No request for the privilege of retiring preferred shares and full-paid income shares held by the Secretary of the Treasury will be approved by the Board unless such request is submitted on a form approved by the Board and unless such request is received by the Board at its office in Washington, D. C., within 30 days subsequent to the last preceding dividend date, accompanied by a check, postal money order, or bank draft in the amount of the investment sought to be retired, together with any dividends declared but unpaid, on such investment to the last preceding dividend date."

Be it further resolved, That, it being deemed that this is a major amendment affecting matters of general principle or policy and not of an emergency character, pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) of Section 54 of the Rules and Regulations for Federal Savings and Loan Associations, such amendment shall be effective 30 days from November 1, 1937.

Adopted by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on October 21, 1937.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

SECURITIES ACT OF 1933

AMENDMENTS TO RULES 200, 201 AND 202 OF THE GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933

These amendments were adopted to clarify the rules of the Commission relating to the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, of certain security issues in amount of $100,000 or less.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, particularly Sections 3 (b) and 19 (a) thereof, finding that the amendments to Rules 200, 201 and 202 hereby adopted are necessary to carry out the provisions of the Act and are necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors, hereby amends such rules as follows:

I. Rule 200 is hereby amended by adding at the end of the second paragraph thereof the following sentence:

"The aggregate offering price of assessable shares of stock shall be taken as the sum of the offering price thereof determined as hereinbefore provided, and the aggregate amount of all assessments which may legally be levied thereon."

The text of the second paragraph of Rule 200, as amended, reads as follows:

"Any securities (other than those specified below) upon the condition that the aggregate offering price to the public shall not exceed the sum of $30,000: Provided, however, That the amount of the offering shall be reduced by the amount of any other offerings (whether public or private), within one year prior to the offering herein exempted, of securities of the same issuer, or of any person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with such issuer, unless, or except to the extent that, such offerings have been withdrawn or have comprised securities (a) such as are described in section 3 (a) (3) of the Act or (b) issued in connection with the liquidation or the purchase or pledge of the assets of any national banking association and to which the provisions of title I of the Act do not apply by reason of any of the provisions of subsection (a) of section 3 thereof. The aggregate offering price of securities offered at the market shall be taken as the product of the number of units offered multiplied by the price per unit at which the securities were bona fide sold on the first day of sale. The aggregate offering price of any securities exchanged for bona fide outstanding securities or claims shall be determined as provided in rule 205. The aggregate offering price of assessable shares of stock shall be taken as the sum of the offering price thereof determined as hereinbefore provided, and the aggregate amount of all assessments which may legally be levied thereon."

II. Rule 201 is hereby amended by adding at the end of paragraph (b) thereof the following sentence:

"The aggregate offering price of assessable shares of stock shall be taken as the sum of the offering price thereof determined as hereinbefore provided, and the aggregate amount of all assessments which may legally be levied thereon."

The text of paragraph (b) of Rule 201, as amended, reads as follows:

"(b) That the aggregate offering price to the public shall not exceed the sum of $100,000: Provided, however, That the amount of the offering shall be reduced by the amount of any other offerings of securities of the same issuer which, within one year prior to the offering herein exempted, were exempted from registration solely by reason of this or any other rule under section 3 (b) of the Act, unless, or except to the extent that, such offerings have been withdrawn. The aggregate offering price of securities offered at the market shall be taken as the product of the number of units offered multiplied by the price per unit at which the securities were bona fide sold on the first day of sale. The aggregate offering price of assessable shares of stock shall be taken as the sum of the offering price thereof determined as hereinbefore provided, and the aggregate amount of all assessments which may legally be levied thereon."

III. Rule 202 is hereby amended by adding at the end of paragraph (b) thereof the following sentence:

"The aggregate offering price of assessable shares of stock shall be taken as the sum of the offering price thereof determined as hereinbefore provided, and the aggregate amount of all assessments which may legally be levied thereon."

The text of paragraph (b) of Rule 202, as amended, reads as follows:

"(b) That the aggregate offering price to the public shall not exceed the sum of $100,000: Provided, however, That the amount of the offering shall be reduced by the amount of any other offerings of securities (other than certificates of deposit) of the same issuer which, within 1 year of the offering herein exempted, were exempted from registration solely by reason of this or any other rule under section 3 (b) of the Act, unless, or except to the extent that, such other offerings have been withdrawn. The aggregate offering price of securities offered at the market shall be taken as the product of the number of units offered multiplied by the price per unit at which the securities were sold on the first day of sale. The aggregate offering price of securities exchanged for bona fide outstanding securities or claims shall be determined as provided in rule 205. The aggregate offering price of assessable shares of stock shall be taken as the sum of the offering price thereof determined as hereinbefore provided, and the aggregate amount of all assessments which may legally be levied thereon."

The foregoing action shall become effective immediately upon the publication thereof.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF ALABAMA GAS COMPANY

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

An application having been duly filed with this Commission, by Alabama Gas Company, a subsidiary of Southern Natural Gas Company, a registered holding company, pursuant to Section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for exemption from the requirement of filing a declaration covering the issuance and sale of Merchandise Contract Notes in a total amount not to exceed $400,000 at any time, at 4½% per annum, to mature in monthly installments in amounts equal to the maturities of the merchandise sales contracts to be pledged in collateral for the notes, to The First National Bank of Birmingham, Alabama; such notes are to be used solely for the purpose of financing applicant's business and have been expressly authorized by the State Commission of the state in which applicant is organized and doing business;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matter be held on November 10, 1937, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at Room 209, Securities and Exchange Building, 1779 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C.; and

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said party and to any interested State, State commission, State securities commission, municipality, and any other political subdivision of a State, and to any representative of interested consumers or security holders, and any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file a notice to that effect with the Commission on or before November 5, 1937.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission, be and he hereby is designated to preside at such hearing, and authorized to adjourn said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, contracts, agreements, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Upon the completion of the taking of testimony in this matter, the officer conducting said hearing is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

UNITED STATES MARITIME COMMISSION.

At a regular session of the United States Maritime Commission held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of October, 1937.

[General Order No. 15]

MINIMUM-WAGE SCALES, MINIMUM-MANNING SCALES AND REASONABLE WORKING CONDITIONS FOR SUBSIDIZED VESSELS

The Commission, pursuant to Section 301 (a) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, having investigated the employment and wage conditions in ocean-going shipping, and having held appropriate public hearings therefor in ten of the principal ports of the United States and in Washington, D. C.; and

The Commission having heretofore entered into certain operating-differential subsidy agreements authorized by Title VI of said Act with the contractors named in the following order; and

The Commission having duly considered the information obtained through such investigation and the written and oral testimony introduced at said hearings and the arguments presented thereat, and finding that the minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions hereinafter provided are reasonable, proper and lawful; and

The Commission finding that it is impracticable to establish uniform working conditions with respect to crews' quarters for all subsidized vessels because of the great differences among such vessels in age, contruction. and manning requirements, and finding further that such differences together with the needs of the different services in which such vessels are operated make it impracticable to prescribe uniform minimum-manning scales for all subsidized vessels, and the Commission, therefore, deeming it advisable presently to adopt such minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions as are generally applicable and at a later date to complete such minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions for individual subsidized vessels; and

The Commission expressly disclaiming any invention, in the establishment of the minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions hereinafter provided, to affect the rights of any contractor or its employees to set higher wage scales, increased manning scales or better working conditions by collective bargaining, or otherwise; it is therefore:

Ordered, That the minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions attached hereto and made a part hereof as though set forth in full, be and the same hereby are adopted as a part of the minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions which the Commission is authorized and directed by Section 301 (a) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, to adopt for all officers and crews employed on all types of vessels receiving an operating-differential subsidy; it being the intention of the Commission to complete the minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions by prescribing a minimum-manning scale for each subsidized vessel and requirements for crew's quarters on each such vessel:

And it is further ordered, That the minimum-wage scales so provided shall be without prejudice to the right or obligation of any contractor to pay, whether as a result of collective bargaining or otherwise, or to the authority of the Commission to allow in computing the amount of operating-differential subsidy, wages which may be in excess of those provided by the aforesaid minimum-wage scales, or to the right or obligation of any contractor to establish, whether as a result of collective bargaining or otherwise, or to the authority of the Commission to consider in computing the operating-differential subsidy, manning scales and working conditions which may exceed the minimum-manning scale and reasonable working conditions herein provided:

And it is further ordered, That the minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions herein provided shall become effective for each subsidized vessel upon the first signing, after November 1, 1937, of shipping articles for a subsidized voyage of such vessel:

And it is further ordered, That the contractors under the several operating-differential subsidy agreements, to wit:

American Diamond Lines, Inc.
American Mail Line, Ltd.
American Scantic Line, Inc.
American South African Line, Inc.
Atlantic & Caribbean Steam Navigation Company.
The Baltimore Mail Steamship Company.
Colombian Steamship Company, Inc.
Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc.
The Export Steamship Corporation.
Grace Line, Inc.
Lykes Bros.-Ripley Steamship Co., Inc.
Mississippi Shipping Company, Inc.
The New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company.
The Oceanic Steamship Company.
Pacific Argentine Brazil Line, Inc.
South Atlantic Steamship Co. of Delaware.
United States Lines Company.

be immediately served by registered mail with a copy of this Order and of the minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions hereby adopted by the Commission and notified that, under Section 8 of the Operating-Differential Subsidy Agreement (Form F-1-C), every such contractor is thereafter bound to comply therewith:

And it is further ordered, That the General Counsel request the contractors hereinabove referred to, to execute jointly with the Commission a supplemental agreement expressly incorporating the minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions hereby adopted as a part of their original agreements.

By order of the United States Maritime Commission.

MINIMUM-WAGE AND MINIMUM-MANNING SCALES AND REASONABLE WORKING CONDITIONS APPLICABLE TO LICENSED OFFICERS EMPLOYED ON ALL TYPES OF VESSELS RECEIVING AN OPERATING-DIFFERENTIAL SUBSIDY FROM THE UNITED STATES MARITIME COMMISSION

The following minimum-wage and minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions were adopted by the United States Maritime Commission and shall be applicable to each subsidized vessel upon the first signing, after November 1st, of shipping articles for a subsidized voyage of such vessel.[1]

These minimum-wage scales, minimum-manning scales and reasonable working conditions shall not affect the rights of any contractor or his employees to set higher wage scales, increased manning scales or better working conditions by collective bargaining or otherwise.

For the purpose of establishing minimum-wages and minimum-manning scales applicable to licensed officers, subsidized vessels are classified as set forth below according to their "power tonnage", which represents the gross tonnage of a vessel plus its indicated horsepower as shown in "Merchant Vessels of the United States", June 30, 1936, published by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the United States Department of Commerce:

CLASSIFICATION OF VESSELS

Single Screw

| Class: | Power Tonnage |
|---|---|
| A | 20,001 and over. |
| B | 12,001 to 20,000. |
| C | 7,501 to 12,000. |
| D | 5,001 to 7,500. |
| E | Less than 5,001. |

Twin Screw

| Class: | |
|---|---|
| A–3 | 35,001 and over. |
| A–2 | 28,001 to 35,000. |
| A–1 | 20,001 to 28,000. |
| A | 15,001 to 20,000. |
| B | 9,001 to 15,000. |
| C | 5,501 to 9,000. |
| D | 3,501 to 5,500. |
| E | Less than 3,501. |

MINIMUM-WAGE SCALES

The wages paid to licensed officers employed on vessels receiving an Operating-Differential Subsidy from the United States Maritime Commission shall not be less than the wages set forth in the following table for the various ratings on the several different classes of vessels:

Licensed Deck Officers

| Rating / Classification of vessels | A-3 | A-1 | A | B | C | D | E |

| Fourth Assistant Engineer (In Rank) | 170.00 | 160.00 | | | | | |
| Other Licensed Engineers [1] | 140.00 | 130.00 | 125.00 | 115.00 | 115.00 | 115.00 | 115.00 |

[1] If carried.

MINIMUM-MANNING SCALES

On all vessels of Class C power tonnage and above, there shall be carried, in addition to the Chief Engineer, no less than four (4) other engineers, of whom at least three (3) shall be licensed engineers.

Minimum-manning scales for other ratings will be prescribed by the United States Maritime Commission for individual vessels or types of vessels on completion of individual surveys of each ship.

REASONABLE WORKING CONDITIONS

The following reasonable working conditions are prescribed for licensed officers employed on all types of vessels receiving an operating-differential subsidy.

Obedience

SECTION 1. Prompt obedience shall be rendered to the orders of the Master and other superior officers.

Holidays

SEC. 2. For the purpose of these working conditions, the following shall be deemed to be holidays: New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. When any of the foregoing holidays falls on Sunday, the following Monday shall be deemed to be a holiday.

Inspections

SEC. 3. In order to insure cleanliness and orderliness, the heads of the various departments shall make a daily inspection of all crew accommodations. The Master shall personally make at least one weekly inspection of the entire vessel with particular attention to the crew's quarters and food, and he shall enter a record in the log of his inspection and findings.

Subsistence and Quarters

SEC. 4. When meals are not furnished, licensed officers shall receive a subsistence allowance at the rate of $3.00 per day and, when required to sleep ashore, they shall receive an allowance of $2.00 per night for lodging.

Travel Allowances

SEC. 5. When traveling in the course of employment from one vessel to another or from one port to another, licensed officers shall be paid regular wages while en route and shall be provided with transportation (first class by land, with berth, and cabin class by sea) and subsistence at the rate of $3.75 per day except where subsistence is included with transportation.

Withdrawal of Vessel from Service

SEC. 6. If, prior to the completion of Shipping Articles, the vessel is withdrawn from service for any cause, including shipwreck, licensed officers shall be provided with return transportation and subsistence, as provided in Section 5 hereof, to the port where Shipping Articles were signed, unless another port is designated in the Shipping Articles. Full wages shall be paid up to the time of arrival at either of such ports. Application for such return transportation, subsistence and wages must be made within 15 days from the date of withdrawal of the vessel from service, except that, in the case of shipwreck, such application must be made within 15 days from the date of arrival at a safe port.

Licensed officers entitled to return transportation in accordance with this rule shall not be paid the money equivalent of such return transportation.

Retention of Licensed Officers

SEC. 7. No licensed officer shall be laid off without pay over a Saturday afternoon, Sunday or a holiday. A full complement of licensed officers shall be employed on any vessel operating on a regular schedule at all times when such vessel is in port, unless the time between arrival at and sailing from the port exceeds 15 days, or unless such vessel is to be withdrawn from service: Provided, That licensed officers, whose employment has been terminated or who are on vacation need not be replaced.

Vacations

SEC. 8. For each year of continuous service on the subsidized vessels of the contractor beginning with November 1, 1937, every licensed officer shall receive a vacation of 14 consecutive days with full pay.

Such vacation shall be cumulative to the extent mutually agreed upon and shall be allowed at such times as may be convenient to the operating necessities of the service. No cash allowance in lieu of vacation shall be made.

If, after 6 months of continuous service, employment is terminated through no fault of the officer, he shall be entitled to such vacation as has accrued on the basis of 1/12th the annual period per month. Continuous service shall not be deemed to be broken by temporary furloughs from the service of the contractor: Provided, That no vacation shall accrue during such periods of furlough.

MINIMUM-MANNING SCALES

SECTION 1. On all vessels having a "power tonnage" of 7,501 to 12,000, at least one (1) wiper shall be carried, and on all vessels of a "power tonnage" of 12,001 and over, no less than two (2) wipers shall be carried. "Power Tonnage" as used in this section represents the gross tonnage of the vessel plus its indicated horsepower as shown in "Merchant Vessels of the United States", June 30, 1936, published by the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation of the United States Department of Commerce.

Minimum-manning scales for other ratings will be prescribed by the United States Maritime Commission for individual vessels or types of vessels on completion of individual surveys of each ship.

Obedience

SECTION 1. Prompt obedience shall be rendered to the orders of the Master and other superior officers.

Holidays

SEC. 2. For the purpose of these working conditions, the following shall be deemed to be holidays: New Years' Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. When any of the foregoing holidays falls on Sunday, the following Monday shall be deemed to be a holiday.

Inspections

SEC. 3. In order to insure cleanliness and orderliness, the heads of the various departments shall make a daily inspection of all crew accommodations. The Master shall personally make at least one weekly inspection of the entire vessel with particular attention to the crews' quarters and food, and he shall enter a record in the log of his inspection and findings.

Subsistence and Quarters

SEC. 4. When meals are not furnished, unlicensed members of the crew shall receive a subsistence allowance at the rate of $1.80 per day and, when required to sleep ashore, they shall receive an allowance of $1.00 per night for lodging.

Travel Allowance

SEC. 5. When traveling in the course of employment from one vessel to another or from one port to another, unlicensed personnel shall be paid regular wages while en route and shall be provided with necessary transportation and subsistence at the rate of $2.50 per day, except where subsistence is included with transportation.

Withdrawal of Vessel from Service

SEC. 6. If, prior to the completion of Shipping Articles, the vessel is withdrawn from service for any cause, including shipwreck, unlicensed personnel shall be provided with return transportation and subsistence, as provided in Section 5 hereof, to the port where Shipping Articles were signed, unless another port is specifically designated in the Articles. Full wages shall be paid up to the time of arrival at either of such ports. Application for such return transportation, subsistence and wages must be made within 15 days from the date of withdrawal of the vessel from service, except that, in the case of shipwreck, such application must be made within 15 days from the date of arrival at a safe port.

Unlicensed personnel entitled to return transportation in accordance with this rule shall not be paid the money equivalent of such return transportation.

Vacations

SEC. 7. For the first year of continuous service on the subsidized vessels of the contractor beginning November 1, 1937, every unlicensed member of the crew shall receive a vacation of 7 consecutive days with full pay and, for each subsequent year of continuous service, a vacation of 14 consecutive days with full pay.

Such vacation shall be cumulative to the extent mutually agreed upon and shall be allowed at such time as may be convenient to the operating necessities of the service. No cash allowance in lieu of vacations shall be made.

If, after 6 months of continuous service, employment is terminated through no fault of the employee, he shall be entitled to such vacation as has accrued on the basis of 1/12th the annual period per month. Continuous service shall not be deemed to be broken by temporary furloughs from the service of the contractor: Provided, That no vacation shall accrue during such periods of furlough.

MINIMUM-WAGE SCALE AND REASONABLE WORKING CONDITIONS APPLICABLE TO RADIO OPERATORS EMPLOYED ON ALL TYPES OF VESSELS RECEIVING AN OPERATING-DIFFERENTIAL SUBSIDY FROM THE UNITED STATES MARITIME COMMISSION

The following minimum-wage scale and reasonable working conditions were adopted by the United States Maritime Commission October 21, 1937, applicable to each subsidized vessel upon the first signing, after November 1st, of shipping articles for a subsidized voyage of such vessel.[1]

These minimum-wage scales and reasonable working conditions shall not affect the rights of any contractor or his employees to set higher wage scales or better working conditions by collective bargaining or otherwise.

MINIMUM WAGE SCALE

On vessels employing not more than one radio operator, the minimum wage of such operator shall be not less than $125.00 per month. On vessels employing more than one radio operator, the minimum wage of the operator of lowest rank shall be not less than $110.00 per month.

REASONABLE WORKING CONDITIONS

Obedience

SECTION 1. Prompt obedience shall be rendered to the orders of the Master and other superior officers.

Holidays

SEC. 2. For the purpose of these working conditions, the following shall be deemed to be holidays: New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. When any of the foregoing holidays falls on Sunday, the following Monday shall be deemed to be a holiday.

[1] "Every contractor receiving an operating-differential subsidy shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place on each such vessel operated by such contractor a printed copy of the minimum-manning and wage scales, and working conditions prescribed by his contract and applicable to such vessels:" (excerpt from Section 301 (a) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936.)

Inspections

SEC. 3. In order to insure cleanliness and orderliness, the heads of the various departments shall make a daily inspection of all crew accommodations. The Master shall personally make at least one weekly inspection of the entire vessel with particular attention to the crew's quarters and food, and he shall enter a record in the log of his inspection and findings.

Regulations

SEC. 4. Radio operators shall observe all rules and regulations promulgated by the Federal Communications Commission and shall be required to know the rules and regulations of the radio company servicing the radio station of the vessels on which employed.

Allowance for Travel

SEC. 5. When traveling in the course of employment from one vessel to another or from one port to another, radio operators shall be paid regular wages while en route and shall be provided with transportation (first class by land, with berth, and cabin class by sea) and subsistence at the rate of $3.75 per day except when subsistence is included with transportation.

Withdrawal of Vessel from Service

SEC. 6. If, prior to the completion of Shipping Articles, the vessel is withdrawn from service for any cause, including shipwreck, radio operators shall be provided with return transportation and subsistence as provided in Section 2 hereof to the port where Shipping Articles were signed, unless another port is specifically designated in the Articles. Full wages shall be paid up to the time of arrival at either of such ports. Application for such return transportation, subsistence and wages must be made within 15 days from the date of withdrawal of the vessel from service, except that, in case of shipwreck, such application must be made within 15 days from the date of arrival at a safe port.

Radio operators entitled to return transportation in accordance with this rule shall not be paid the money equivalent of such return transportation.

Maintenance of Station

SEC. 7. No radio operator shall be required to furnish equipment or supplies necessary for the maintenance of the vessel's radio station.

Subsistence Ashore

SEC. 8. When meals are not furnished, radio operators shall receive a subsistence allowance at the rate of $3.00 per day and, when required to sleep ashore, they shall receive an allowance of $2.00 per night for lodging.

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION.

REVISION OF REGULATIONS

PAYMENT TO COMMANDING OFFICERS OF NAVAL HOSPITALS

Payment of Pension to Naval Hospitals When World War Veterans are Hospitalized Therein as Beneficiaries of the Navy Department

R–1260. (A) In accordance with the provisions of Section 4813, Revised Statutes (24 U. S. C. 6), the pension of veterans whose claims are based on service subsequent to April 20, 1898, will be paid to the Commanding Officer of a Naval Hospital upon hospitalization therein by the Navy Department. This will not apply where upon application to the Veterans' Administration the veteran is hospitalized as a Veterans' Administration patient.

(B) The amount to be paid to the Naval Hospital will be subject to the provisions of Veterans' Regulation No. 6 (c) and will be the full amount of pension to which the veteran himself is entitled under such regulation and the statute granting the pension. Therefore, if the veteran has dependents the full amount of the pension to which he is entitled will be awarded to the Commanding Officer of the Naval Hospital but if he has no dependents the award to the Commanding Officer will be $15 monthly or $6 monthly, depending upon the basis of entitlement and the disability rating (October 21, 1937.)

Public Acts No. 2 and No. 141, 73d Congress, and Veterans Regulation

R–2195. No. 1 (f).—The payment to the Commanding Officer of a Naval Hospital shall be subject to the restrictions of Veterans Regulation No. 6 (c), and will be the full amount to which the veteran himself is entitled under such regulation and the statute granting the pension. If the veteran has dependents the award to the Commanding Officer of a Naval Hospital will be the full amount of the pension to which the veteran himself is entitled or, if he has no dependents, the amount payable to the Commanding Officer will be $15 monthly or $6 monthly, depending upon the basis of entitlement and the disability rating. (October 21, 1937.)

Administrator of Veterans' Affairs.

REVISION OF REGULATIONS

RATES—PEACE-TIME SERVICE

R–2088. (A) In claims of veterans with peace-time service only subsequent to August 12, 1898, the pension to be awarded will be in accordance with the rates provided in Veterans Regulation No. 1 series, Part II, and the Schedule for Rating Disabilities, 1933.

(B) Pursuant to the provisions of Public No. 788, 74th Congress, enacted June 24, 1936, any peace-time veteran entitled to pension for service connected disability under Veterans Regulation No. 1 series, Part II, and who was on March 19, 1933, in receipt of compensation under the World War Veterans Act, 1924, as amended, or pension under the general law, for such service connected disability shall be entitled to receive pension at seventy-five per centum of the compensation or pension being paid on March 19, 1933, effective July 1, 1936. Where the degree of such service connected disability has increased or decreased since March 19, 1933, the per centum limits shall be determined on the basis of the rate of compensation or pension payable for such changed condition under the laws applied to such veteran in effect on March 19, 1933. However, in no event shall the rate of pension herein provided exceed seventy-five per centum of the rate of pension for similar disability under Veterans Regulation No. 1 (a), Part I. Such pension shall be subject to the regulations issued under Public Law No. 2, 73d Congress, pertaining to hospitalized and domiciled cases.

(C) The protection afforded by Public No. 788, 74th Congress, will be extended to the claims of veterans who were on March 19, 1933, receiving compensation under the War Risk Insurance Act, as protected by Section 602 of the World War Veterans Act, 1924, as amended, for a disability incurred subsequent to July 2, 1921, where such disability would also have been pensionable on March 19, 1933, under the general law (Act of July 14, 1862), by awarding, effective July 1, 1936, seventy-five per centum of the rate payable under the general law where that benefit is greater than the amount payable under Public No. 2, 73d Congress. In this class of cases a claim for compensation under the War Risk Insurance Act will be accepted for the purpose of awarding the benefits under Public No. 788, 74th Congress, as a claim for pension under the general law, and such claims will be forwarded to the director, veterans claims service, central office. (October 22, 1937.)

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

ARMISTICE DAY—1937

By the President of the United States of America

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS November 11, 1937, is the nineteenth anniversary of the cessation of the most destructive, sanguinary, and far-reaching war in human annals; and

WHEREAS Senate Concurrent Resolution 18, Sixty-ninth Congress (44 Stat. 1982), passed June 4, 1926, provides:

"That the President of the United States is requested to issue a proclamation calling upon the officials to display the flag of the United States on all Government buildings on November 11 and inviting the people of the United States to observe the day in schools and churches, or other suitable places, with appropriate ceremonies expressive of our gratitude for peace and our desire for the continuance of friendly relations with all other peoples"; and

WHEREAS lawlessness and strife in many parts of the world which now threaten international security and even civilization itself, make it particularly fitting that we should again express our wish to pursue a policy of peace, to adopt every practicable means to avoid war, to work for the restoration of confidence and order among nations, and to repeat that the will to peace still characterizes the great majority of the peoples of the earth;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby direct that on November 11, 1937, the nineteenth anniversary of the Armistice, the flag of the United States be displayed on all Government buildings, and do invite the people of the United States to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies in schools and churches, and other suitable places.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

DONE at the city of Washington this 22nd day of October, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] thirty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-second.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

DESIGNATING THE HONORABLE MARTIN TRAVIESO AS ACTING JUDGE OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR PUERTO RICO FOR THE TRIAL OF THE CASE OF UNITED STATES V. JULIO PINTO GANDIA, ET AL.

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority invested in me by section 41 of the act entitled "An Act To provide a civil government for Porto Rico, and for other purposes", approved March 2, 1917 (39 Stat. 965), I hereby designate and authorize the Honorable Martin Travieso, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Puerto Rico, to perform and discharge the duties of Judge of the District Court of the United States for Puerto Rico in the trial of the case of United States v. Julio Pinto Gandia, Juan Alamo, Manuel Avila, Raimundo Diaz Pacheco, Santiago Nieves Malsan, Julio Monge Hernandez, Dionisio Velez Aviles, Jesus Casellas Torres, Anibal Arsuaga Casellas and Juan Bautista Colon Rivera (No. 4456 Cr.), and to sign all papers, records, and orders necessary or appropriate for the proper adjudication and disposition of such case.

This order is necessary for the reason that the Honorable Robert A. Cooper, Judge of the said District Court of the United States for Puerto Rico, is a necessary witness for the Government in the trial of the said case and is, therefore, under legal disability to act as judge in such case.

Law Authorizing Establishment of Anchorage Grounds

River and harbor act approved March 4, 1915:

SEC. 7. That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized, empowered, and directed to define and establish anchorage grounds for vessels in all harbors, rivers, bays, and other navigable waters of the United States whenever it is manifest to the said Secretary that the maritime or commercial interests of the United States require such anchorage grounds for safe navigation and the establishment of such anchorage grounds shall have been recommended by the Chief of Engineers, and to adopt suitable rules and regulations in relation thereto; and such rules and regulations shall be enforced by the Revenue Cutter Service under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided, that at ports or places where there is no revenue cutter available such rules and regulations may be enforced by the Chief of Engineers under the direction of the Secretary of War. In the event of the violation of any such rules and regulations by the owner, master, or person in charge of any vessel, such owner, master, or person in charge of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $100; and the said vessel may be holden for the payment of such penalty, and may be seized and proceeded against summarily by libel for the recovery of the same in any United States district court for the district within which such vessel may be, and in the name of the officer designated by the Secretary of War.

NOTE.—The Revenue Cutter Service is now included in the United States Coast Guard, (Act of January 28, 1915). The officer of the Coast Guard Service charged with special duties in connection with the enforcement of these regulations in San Francisco Bay, San Pablo Bay, Carquinez Strait and Suisun Bay, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury is designated "Captain of the Port". Complaints arising under these regulations insofar as they effect any of the above named waterways, and requests for permits for loading or unloading explosives in the various explosives anchorages should be addressed to that officer. His office is at Room 417 Customhouse, San Francisco, California.

The District Engineer, U. S. Engineer Office, 208 Post Office Building, Sacramento, California, has supervision over the enforcement of the regulations in New York Slough and the San Joaquin River. Complaints arising under the regulations insofar as they effect those waterways should be addressed to that officer.

THE ANCHORAGE GROUNDS

[All azimuths are referred to true north]

Under authority of the provisions of section 7 of the river and harbor act approved March 4, 1915, quoted above, the following anchorage grounds for vessels are hereby defined and established, and the following rules and regulations relating thereto are adopted.

SAN FRANCISCO BAY

No. 1. Temporary anchorage.—The area immediately north of the City of San Francisco, west of a line having a bearing of 344° from the stack at the municipal pumping station at Black Point, San Francisco and passing through Point Stuart Light, Angel Island; south of a line having a bearing of 86° from Point Bonita Light; south of a line having a bearing of 71° from the pylon of the Golden Gate Bridge north of the old fort on Fort Point; and east of a line bearing 162° from Yellow Bluff Light. (For use of this anchorage and description of yacht anchorage embraced therein see rules and regulations below.)

No. 2. General anchorage.—The portion of Richardson Bay north of a line having a bearing of 257° from Peninsula Point to the interlocking switch tower of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Sausalito, except so much of the above area as is included in Naval Anchorage No. 11.

No. 3. General anchorage.—The area in Belvedere Cove, west of a line having a bearing of 25½° from Peninsula Point to the west fender of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad ferry slip at Tiburon.

No. 4. General anchorage.—The area on the west side of upper San Francisco Bay west of a line having a bearing of 5° from Bluff Point and just touching the west side of Red Rock; west of a line having a bearing of 333° from Point Simpton (Angel Island) through the ferry apron on the outer end of the Richmond-San Rafael ferry wharf at San Quentin; and south of a line having a bearing of 86° and tangent to the south face of the San Quentin prison building; excluding, however, so much of the above area as is within the outer boundary of the forbidden anchorage zone surrounding Explosives Anchorage No. 13, and also Quarantine Anchorage No. 17 when that anchorage is being used for quarantine purposes.

No. 5. General anchorage.—The area on the east side of the upper part of San Francisco Bay, south of the Point Orient wharf of the Standard Oil Company; east of a line having a bearing of 170° from the south west corner of the said Point Orient wharf and passing through the red and black non buoy on the north end of Southampton Shoal; and north of a line having a bearing of 93° from the said buoy at the north end of Southampton Shoal to the north end of the train shed of the Santa Fe Railroad Company at Point Richmond, excluding from this area, however, the entrance channel, 400 feet wide, to Richmond Inner Harbor. (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

No. 6. General anchorage.—The area on the east side of San Francisco Bay south of a line having a bearing of 280° from the southern extremity of Point Isabel to the northern extremity of Brooks Island, thence along the northwesterly shore of Brooks Island to the training wall extending westerly therefrom thence westerly along said training wall to its bayward end; east of a line having a bearing of 162° from the bayward end of the above training wall; east of a line having a bearing of 324° and tangent to the outer end of the most westerly corner of the Key System Ferry Slip; and north of a line having a bearing of 71° from the northwest corner of Yerba Buena Island, excluding from this area, however, the cable areas therein.

No. 7. General anchorage.—The area west of the fill north of Yerba Buena Island within the following lines; north of a line having a bearing of 237° from the northwest corner of Yerba Buena Island; east of the line having a bearing of 329½° from the center anchorage pier of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and passing through Point Blunt Light, Angel Island; east of the line having a bearing of 2½° from the tower of the Ferry building at San Francisco to the west end of the transit shed at Parr-Richmond Terminal No. 1, Point Richmond: southwest of a line having a bearing of 129½° from Point Blunt (Angel Island) to the angle point at the northern end of the west side of the fill north of Yerba Buena Island.

No. 8. General anchorage.—The area east of the City of San Francisco inclosed within the following lines; south of a line having a bearing of 241½° from the outer end of the north fender of the passenger ferry slip at Alameda Mole and passing through the northeast corner of Pier 50, San Francisco; east of a line having a bearing of 344° from the chimney of the pumping plant at the Hunters Point dry dock (Point Avisadero); north of a line having a bearing of 90° from the northeast corner of Pier 54, San Francisco; and northwest of a line having a bearing of 216° from the outer end of the extreme north fender of the automobile ferry slips at the Oakland Mole and passing through the northeast corner of the largest building of the sugar refinery at Potrero Point.

No. 9. General anchorage.—The area in San Francisco Bay south of a line having a bearing of 268° from the outer end of the south fender of the automobile ferry slip at the end of the Alameda Mole and just touching the northwest corner of Pier 14, San Francisco; southeast of a line having a bearing of 216° from the "A" in the Albers' sign on the north side of Oakland Mole and passing through the flagstaff of the Catholic orphan asylum northwest of Hunters Point, San Francisco; east of a line having a bearing of 344° from the chimney of the pumping plant at the Hunters Point dry dock (Point Avisadero); northeast of a line having a bearing of 146° from the west side of Mission Rock; and north of a line 1,000 yards north of the Hayward-San Mateo highway bridge and parallel thereto; excluding from this area, however, Explosives Anchorage No. 14, Explosives Storage Anchorage No. 15, Explosives Storage Anchorage No. 16, the forbidden anchorage surrounding these three anchorage areas, and the cable area adjacent to Alameda Mole.

All of San Leandro Bay is also included in this anchorage

No. 10. Naval anchorage.—The triangular area immediately east of Sausalito; northwest of a line having a bearing of 234° from Point Stuart Light to the outer end of a wharf on the Sausalito shore; and southwest of a line having a bearing of 303° from Alcatraz Light. (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

No. 11. Naval anchorage.—The area in and adjacent to Richardson Bay south of a line having a bearing of 270° from Peninsula Point; west of the line having a bearing 204° from the southeast end of the ferry landing near Point Tiburon and passing through Yellow Bluff Light; north of the line having a bearing of 271° from Point Knox and passing through Sausalito Point; east of a line having a bearing of 0° from Yellow Bluff Light. (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

No. 12. Naval anchorage.—The area east of the City of San Francisco inclosed within lines described as follows: south of a line having a bearing of 268° from the outer end of the south fender of the automobile ferry slip at the end of the Alameda Mole and just touching the northerly corner of Pier 14, San Francisco; southeast of a line having a bearing of 53° from the southeast corner of Pier 32, San Francisco, and passing through Oakland Shoal Light beacon; east of a line having a bearing of 344° from the chimney of the pumping plant at Hunters Point drydock (Point Avisadero) (this line passes approximately 1550 feet away from the end of Pier 32, San Francisco); north of a line having a bearing of 241½° from the outer end of the north fender of the passenger ferry slip at Alameda Mole and passing through the northeast corner of Pier 50, San Francisco; and northwest of a line having a bearing of 216° from the outer end of the extreme north fender of the automobile ferry slips at the Oakland Mole and passing through the northeast corner of the largest building of the sugar refinery at Potrero Point. (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

No. 13. Explosives anchorage.—The circular area having a radius of 1,000 feet about a white buoy used to mark the location of this anchorage the center of which is 2,400 yards 113½° from the most northerly extremity of California Point. (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

The circular zone 1,500 feet wide partially surrounding this Explosives Anchorage No. 13 is forbidden anchorage and shall not be used as anchorage by any vessels.

No. 14. Explosives anchorage.—The circular area having a radius of 1,500 feet about a white buoy used to mark the location of this anchorage, the center of which bears 122° from the tower of the Ferry Building, San Francisco and 19° from the chimney of the pumping plant at Hunters Point Dry Dock (Point Avisadero). (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

The circular zone 1,500 feet wide surrounding this Explosives Anchorage No. 14 is forbidden anchorage and shall not be used by any vessels.

This anchorage and the surrounding zone of forbidden anchorage may be temporarily discontinued by the district engineer of the San Francisco Engineer District when the area occupied by them is needed for general anchorage purposes.

No. 15. Explosives storage anchorage.—The area 3,000 feet square, whose center is marked by a white buoy and bears 124½⅝° from the chimney of the pumping plant at Hunters Point Dry Dock (Point Avisadero), and 198° from the West Radio Tower on the westerly extremity of Bay Farm Island, and whose sides are due north and south and east and west. (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

The square zone 1,500 feet wide surrounding this Explosives Storage Anchorage No. 15 is forbidden anchorage and shall not be used by any vessels.

No. 16. Explosives storage anchorage.—The area 3,000 feet square, the northeast corner of which is marked by a white pile dolphin bearing 270°, 2,900 yards from Roberts Landing and whose sides are due north and south and east and west. (For use of this anchorage see rules and regulations below.)

The square zone 1,500 feet wide surrounding this Explosives Storage Anchorage No. 16 is forbidden anchorage and shall not be used by any vessels.

No. 17. Quarantine anchorage.—The area 3,000 feet square, the easterly side of which is coincident with the easterly boundary of Anchorage No. 4, and the northerly side of which, if extended westerly, would pass through the northeasterly tip of California Point. (The above anchorage was established by the Surgeon General with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and is under the jurisdiction of the Medical Officer in Charge of the Port of San Francisco. Its description is included in these regulations for information only.)

SAN PABLO BAY

No. 18. General anchorage.—The area adjacent to the west shore of San Pablo Bay north of a line having a bearing of 270° from the easterly of The Sisters Islands; west of a line having a bearing of 5½° from the easterly of the above islands and passing through Light and Echo Board 2 marking the dredged channel to the mouth of Petaluma Creek; and south of a line having a bearing of 120° from the northerly of two high transmission towers near the mouth of Novato Creek, excluding from this area, however, the channel to Hamilton Field and the extension of said channel easterly to the boundary of the anchorage.

No. 19. General anchorage.—The area lying east of a line bearing 0° from a group of tanks on the top of the hill about ½ mile southeast of Point San Pablo; and north of a line bearing 51° from the easterly of The Sisters Islands to a point opposite Buoy 3 marking the dredged channel across Pinole Shoal; thence bearing 58°, parallel to the northerly line of said channel and distant 500 feet therefrom to a point opposite the angle in said channel; thence bearing 78½°, parallel to the northerly line of said channel and distant 500 feet therefrom to a point directly south of the end of the long dike extending from Mare Island southwesterly into San Pablo Bay; thence bearing 0° to the end of said dike; thence along said dike in a northeasterly direction to Mare Island.

No. 20. General anchorage.—The area on the southern side of San Pablo Bay between Point San Pablo and the Union Oil Company's wharf at Oleum; southeast of a line bearing 42° from the northwest corner of the wharf at Parr-Richmond Terminal No. 4 at Point San Pablo, and south of a line bearing 248½° from the northwest corner of the Union Oil Company's wharf at Oleum; excepting the two Explosives Anchorages 22 and 23.

No. 21. Naval anchorage.—The rectangular area south of Mare Island whose northerly boundary is a line 3,000 feet long, having a bearing of 78½° and being parallel to and distant 500 feet northerly from the northerly line of the dredged channel across Pinole Shoal extended; and whose easterly boundary is a line 1,500 feet long having a bearing of 348½° from the shot tower of the Selby Smelting Works.

No. 22. Explosives anchorage.—The circular area having a radius of 1,500 feet and whose center is at the northwest corner of the Giant Powder Company's wharf at Pinole Point.

No. 23. Explosives anchorage.—The circular area having a radius of 1,500 feet and whose center is at the northwest corner of the Hercules Powder Company's wharf at Refugio

CARQUINEZ STRAIT

No. 24. General anchorage.—The area on the north side of Carquinez Strait between Dillon Point and the remaining wing of the former train ferry slip at Benicia north of a line having a bearing of 121° from the easterly side of Dillon Point and passing through the Benicia Tannery tank; thence northeast of the line having a bearing of 165° and passing through the flashing red navigation light at Port Costa; thence north of a line bearing 125° from the high transmission on Dillon Point, excluding from this anchorage, however, the cable area therein.

No. 25. General anchorage.—The area on the south side of Carquinez Strait northwest of the City of Martinez lying southwest of a line having a bearing of 108° from the Port Costa Brick Company's stack about 1,000 feet south of the Associated Oil Company's Port Costa dock, and westerly of a line bearing 154° from the Benicia tannery tank.

SUISUN BAY

No. 26. General anchorage.—The area on the west side of Suisun Bay adjacent east and northeast of the City of Benicia lying north of a line having a bearing of 77½° from the channel end of the Army Point wharf to the Point Edith Light and Echo Board; northwest of a line having a bearing of 35° from the west end of the channel face of the Shell Company's wharf at Martinez; and south of a line having a bearing of 90° from the Southern Pacific Company's water tank at Goodyear.

No. 27. General anchorage.—The area in the northeast portion of Suisun Bay lying east of a line bearing 0° from Seal Island Echo Board; north of a line bearing 82° from Seal Island Echo Board to Roe Island Light, thence bearing 101° to Middle Ground Light, thence bearing 88° to Chipps Island.

SAN JOAQUIN RIVER

No. 28. General anchorage.—The area adjacent to Lower Sherman Island lying southeasterly of a line 1,350 feet long bearing 238° from the Point Sacramento Light; easterly of a line bearing 163½° from the west end of said 1,350-foot line; and northerly of a line bearing 27° from the New York Slough (east end) Light to Sherman Island.

No. 29. General anchorage.—The entire water area southerly of West Island between West Island and the mainland lying between lines bearing 180° from the eastern extremity of West Island and 211° from the western extremity of West Island.

THE RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. Except in cases of distress, or great emergency, or heavy fog, no vessel shall be anchored in the navigable waters of San Francisco Bay, San Pablo Bay, Carquinez Strait, Suisun Bay, New York Slough, and in the San Joaquin deep-water channel and the Stockton turning basin, California, outside of the anchorages hereby defined and established, nor be made fast to the exterior end of any pier, nor to any vessel lying at the exterior end of any pier, or along any bulkhead in such manner as to obstruct or endanger the passage of any vessels to or from the adjacent wharf property, or impede the movements of any vessel entering or leaving adjacent slips. (For special regulations applying to the Stockton deep-water channel and the Stockton turning basin see paragraphs 15 and 16 below.)

2. Whenever in the opinion of the captain of the port such action may be necessary, that officer may require any or all vessels in any designated anchorage to moor with two or more anchors. Vessels using Anchorages Nos. 15 and 16 for the purpose of storage of explosives will be required to anchor with two or more anchors at all times.

3. Every vessel whose crew may be reduced to such number that it will not have sufficient men on board to weigh anchor at any time, shall be anchored with two anchors, with mooring swivel put on before the crew shall be reduced or released.

4. Anchors must not be placed outside the anchorage areas, nor shall any vessel be so anchored that any portion of the hull or rigging shall at any time extend outside the boundaries of the anchorage area.

5. Any vessel anchoring under circumstances of great emergency outside of the anchorage areas shall be placed near the edge of the channel and in such position as not to interfere with the free navigation of the channel, nor obstruct the approach to any pier nor impede the movement of any boat, and shall move away immediately after the emergency ceases, or upon notification by the captain of the port (see also Regulations 15 and 16).

6. The anchorages, as above described, will be used only for the purposes stated for each and under the following special limitations:

(a) Anchorage No. 1. Except as described below in this paragraph, this anchorage is a temporary anchorage reserved for the use of vessels entering port while undergoing examination by quarantine, customs or immigration authorities. Upon completion of these examinations vessels shall promptly move out of this anchorage. Yachts may anchor in that portion of this area lying south of a line between Anita Rock Buoys and the northern extremity of Pier 45; west of Steiner Street extended; and east of Lyon Street extended. No permanent moorings shall be placed in the above described area.

(b) Anchorage No. 5. Vessels may anchor in this anchorage immediately adjacent to the channel to Richmond Inner Harbor, provided, however, that ships obstructing the said channel must move from their position immediately if and when the fairway is required by vessels navigating the channel.

(c) Anchorage No. 10 is for the use of public vessels of the United States, but may be used by yachts when not required for use by public vessels. All yachts making use of this anchorage shall be prepared to move immediately upon notice, should the anchorage be required for public vessels. With the permission of the captain of the port, permanent yacht moorings may be placed within this anchorage, not more than 900 feet from the shore and not outside of the limiting lines of the anchorage.

(d) Anchorage No. 11 is reserved for the exclusive use of vessels and seaplanes of the United States Navy.

(e) Anchorage No. 12 is reserved for the use of vessels of the United States or foreign navies and for other public vessels of the United States; with the permission of the captain of the port this anchorage may be used temporarily by vessels other than public vessels but vessels availing themselves of this privilege must hold themselves in readiness to shift berth immediately upon receiving notice to do so.

(f) Anchorages Nos. 13 and 14 are for the use of vessels loaded with, loading, or unloading, explosives, and these anchorages shall not be used by any other vessels. This provision is not intended to prohibit lighters and barges from tying up alongside of ships for the transfer of cargo.

The circular zones 1,500 feet wide surrounding the Explosives Anchorages Nos. 13 and 14 are forbidden anchorages and no vessel shall anchor therein.

(g) Anchorages Nos. 15 and 16 are for the purpose of storage of explosives. Barges and vessels shall be anchored so as not to approach one another closer than 500 feet. All barges using these anchorages for storage purposes shall anchor with two or more anchors. The captain of the port may authorize the placing of moorings within these areas, provided these moorings be so placed that barges at one mooring shall at all times be not less than 500 feet from barges at an adjacent mooring.

The square zones 1,500 feet wide surrounding Explosives Storage Anchorages Nos. 15 and 16 are forbidden anchorages and no vessel shall anchor therein.

7. The captain of the port shall assign berths in the anchorages to all vessels applying. He may grant permits for habitually maintaining and using the same mooring place in an anchorage area, and no vessel shall occupy a permanent berth in an anchorage area, except under authority of such permit, which may be revoked at any time.

8. A vessel upon being notified to move into the anchorage limits or to shift its position on anchorage grounds shall get under way at once or signal for a tug, and shall change position as directed with reasonable promptness.

9. Except as provided in rule 11, vessels carrying explosives or other dangerous articles, including inflammable liquids, inflammable solids, oxidizing materials, corrosive liquids, compressed gasses, and poisonous substances, shall be anchored within the anchorages Nos. 13, 14, 15, 16, 22 and 23 only.

Any vessel carrying explosives and desiring to proceed to the anchorages provided therefor shall first obtain a written permit from the captain of the port; and no vessel shall occupy a berth in such anchorages except by authority of such permit, which may be revoked at any time. All other vessels, especially tugs and stevedore boats, engaged or used in connection with loading explosives on vessels shall carry written permits from the captain of the port and shall show these permits whenever required by the captain of the port or his properly authorized agents.

10. Whenever any water craft not fitted with mechanical power anchors in explosives anchorages Nos. 13, 14, 15 and 16 while carrying explosives, the captain of the port may require the attendance of a tug upon such water craft when, in his judgment, such action is deemed necessary.

11. The district engineer in charge of works of river and harbor improvement is empowered to authorize, in writing the anchoring of a single barge carrying explosives in or near the vicinity of such work for use thereon, but only in quantities considered by him safe and necessary. The district engineer shall prescribe the conditions under which this explosive shall be stored and handled and shall in each case furnish the captain of the port with a copy of the written permit to anchor explosives on the work and a copy of the rules and regulations for the storage and handling.

12. Whenever the maritime or commercial interests of the United States so require, the captain of the port is hereby empowered to shift the position of any vessel anchored within the anchorage areas, of any vessel anchored outside the anchorage areas, of any vessel which is so moored or anchored as to impede or obstruct vessel movements in any channel or obstruct or interfere with range lights, and of any vessel which, lying at the exterior end of a pier or alongside an open bulkhead, obstructs or endangers the passage of vessels to or from adjacent wharf property or impedes the movements of vessels entering or leaving adjacent slips.

13. Permits to anchor in channels within the limits of the waterways covered by these regulations, may be granted by the captain of the port to wrecking plants or other vessels legally engaged in recovering sunken property or in laying pipe or cable lines legally established or in repairing the same when the application for such anchorage is approved by the district engineer in charge of works of river and harbor improvement and to plant engaged in dredging operations, when authorized by the district engineer.

The provisions of this paragraph will not apply to plants engaged under the supervision of the district engineer of the Engineer Department upon works for the improvement of rivers and harbors, but the district engineer shall advise the captain of the port, in advance of proposed work for such improvement in all cases where plant is to be employed under his supervision.

14. Nothing in these rules and regulations shall be construed as relieving the owner or person in charge of any vessel from the penalties of the law for obstructing navigation or for obstructing or interfering with range lights, or for not complying with the navigation laws in regard to lights, fog signals, or for otherwise violating law.

Special Regulation Applying to the San Joaquin Deep-Water Channel and the Stockton Turning Basin

15. Vessels anchored in San Joaquin deep-water channel or the Stockton turning basin because of distress or heavy fog shall be placed as near the edge of the channel or turning basin as possible, so as not to interfere with the free navigation thereof, nor obstruct the approach to, any pier. They shall move from such position as soon as the emergency ceases or when so ordered by the district engineer, United States Engineer Department, in charge of the locality, or by his duly authorized representative.

16. No vessel shall be permanently moored in areas adjacent to the deep-water channel or in any stream tributary to said deep-water channel within one-half mile of its junction with the channel, except on permission in writing from the district engineer, United States Engineer Department at Large, in charge of the improvement.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE USE AND NAVIGATION OF THE WATERS OF SAN FRANCISCO BAY, SAN PABLO BAY, CARQUINEZ STRAIT, SUISUN BAY, NEW YORK SLOUGH, AND SAN JOAQUIN RIVER, CALIFORNIA, BY VESSELS OTHER THAN COMMON CARRIERS CARRYING EXPLOSIVES, AND THE HANDLING OF EXPLOSIVES IN SUCH VESSELS

Section 7 of the River and Harbor Act, approved August 8, 1917, provides as follows:

That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to prescribe such regulations for the use, administration, and navigation of the navigable waters of the United States as in his judgment the public necessity may require for the protection of life and property, or of operations of the United States in channel improvement, covering all matters not specifically delegated by law to some other executive department. Such regulations shall be posted, in conspicuous and appropriate places, for the information of the public; and every person and every corporation which shall violate such regulations shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof in any district court of the United States within whose territorial jurisdiction such offense may have been committed, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $500; or by imprisonment (in case of a natural person) not exceeding six months, in the discretion of the court.

NOTE.—The act of Congress approved March 4, 1921, imposes certain restrictions upon the transportation of explosives by common carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, and also provides that "The Interstate Commerce Commission shall formulate regulations for the safe transportation within the limits of the jurisdiction of the United States of explosives and other dangerous articles, including inflammable liquids, inflammable solids, oxidizing materials, corrosive liquids, compressed gases, and poisonous substances, which shall be binding upon all common carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce which transport explosives or other dangerous articles by land or water, and upon all shippers making shipments of explosives or other dangerous articles via any common carrier engaged in interstate or foreign commerce by land or water." Other vessels carrying explosives will be governed by the following regulations.

Under authority of section 7 of the river and harbor act approved August 8, 1917, the following regulations are prescribed to govern the use and navigation of the waters of San Francisco Bay, San Pablo Bay, Carquinez Strait, Suisun Bay, New York Slough and San Joaquin River, Calif., by vessels, other than common carriers, carrying explosives:

1. The officer of the Coast Guard designated "Captain of the Port", shall have immediate supervision of the enforcement of these regulations, in San Francisco Bay, San Pablo Bay, Carquinez Strait and Suisun Bay; the district engineer of the United States Engineer Office Sacramento, Calif., shall have supervision over New York Slough and the San Joaquin River, but such supervision shall not be construed to diminish or affect the duties of other Federal officials as prescribed in section 17 of the river and harbor act of March 4, 1899. The words captain of the port in these regulations shall mean district engineer when applied to the waterways over which the latter has jurisdiction.

2. Vessels carrying explosives shall be at all times in charge of competent persons and shall display by day a red flag of at least 16 square feet at the masthead, or at least 10 feet above the upper deck, if the vessel has no mast; at night a red light shall be displayed in the same position specified for the red flag. For use in emergencies each barge shall be provided with a suitable anchor, ground tackle, and equipment, to be approved by the captain of the port, with an adequate supply of fire extinguishers, and fire pails filled with water, and with a suitable foghorn and bell.

3. No smoking will be permitted on or near any vessel, barge, or scow carrying explosives, and no person under the influence of liquor will be allowed on board, nor to approach such vessels. Every person having business on board vessels which are being loaded with explosives, other than members of the crew, must have a pass from the captain of the port in such form as the captain of the port shall determine.

4. Vessels carrying explosives shall not carry inflammable liquids, inflammable solids, oxidizing materials, mineral acids, as defined in Interstate Commerce Commission regulations for the transportation of explosives, or articles likely to ignite spontaneously, or to give off inflammable gases, unless the explosives are stored in separate rooms or are otherwise so separated as to effectually prevent danger to the explosives from any of these articles, or from the vapor thereof. Where blasting caps, detonating fuses, and fulminate of mercury in bulk are loaded on the same vessel with high explosives, they shall be in a different compartment. The distance in a straight line from the compartment containing detonators to the explosives shall be not less than 25 feet.

5. No unnecessary fires shall be permitted on vessels carrying explosives, and those fires which are deemed necessary shall be properly safeguarded and shall be left in constant charge of some one individual of the crew during the entire period that they are burning. Cabins on barges or lighters in which oil lights or stoves are used, and carrying explosives of any or all descriptions, shall be protected by covering the wooden walls, partitions, floors, and ceilings with two thicknesses of one-quarter-inch asbestos board placed with joints broken and covered with No. 26 gage metal. This protection shall also be applied to doors; and the doors from the cabin into other parts of the boat shall be provided with substantial springs, making them self-closing. The stoves shall be at least 18 inches from all partitions, and a sheet-metal shield 5½ feet in height, securely fastened to the floor and the wall, shall be placed midway between the walls and the stove. The stove shall be at least 6 inches from the floor of the cabin, supported either on legs permanently and securely fastened to the stove and the floor, or on 6 inches of hollow tile securely fastened in place. The hole in the roof of the cabin where the stovepipe passes through shall be 18 inches larger in circumference than the stovepipe, and a substantial metal plate shall be placed in the opening surrounding the pipe to hold it in place. The stove pipe shall also be tied into the walls so that it will not shift. The smoke-stack shall be provided with substantial screens of fine mesh or other satisfactory spark arrester. All oil lamps shall be held in marine brackets. Safety matches of wooden-stick type rather than the paper type shall be used exclusively and kept in proper receptacles. Oils and lamps shall be kept on deck in a metal-lined box and in such position that it can be readily thrown overboard. No artificial light shall be permitted in the holds or compartments of any vessel that contains explosives except electric flash lights or electric lanterns or an approved electric lighting of the vessel. Crews shall not have or carry matches, firearms, or cartridges on their persons. Electric flash lights shall be provided for the attendants.

6. No explosives will be allowed to be placed aboard a vessel until the rest of the cargo has been placed aboard and the vessel trimmed. All work of construction of floors, partitions, and other conditioning of the vessel, and the removal of any other combustibles from that part of the hold in which the explosives are to be stored, shall be completed before loading of the explosives is commenced. All rubbish, shovelings, old oil, paint cans, oil rags, rope ends, and other litter shall be removed from the holds. Such lumber as is allowed to remain in the holds for use as firewood shall be securely piled. Floors shall be kept broom clean. All decks, gangways, and holds over which explosives must be passed in loading shall be freed from all loose metal or tools and carefully swept before loading is commenced and after loading has ceased.

7. All explosives shall be handled carefully. No metal tools shall be used in loading, unloading, or handling explosives. Men engaged in loading, unloading, or handling explosives shall not have or carry on their persons metal tools or bale hooks, matches, firearms, or cartridges, and they shall not wear boots or shoes shod or strengthened with iron nails or any metal unless such boots or shoes are covered with leather, felt, or other similar material. Packages of explosives shall not be thrown, dropped, rolled, dragged, or slid over each other or over the decks. Dynamite boxes shall be stored topside up. Powder kegs shall be loaded with seams up.

8. The term "high explosives in bulk" will be construed to mean high explosives packed in boxes, barrels, or kegs and not loaded in ammunition or shells. The standard definition of the term "high explosives" will be that contained in paragraph 1503 of the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the transportation of explosives by rail, viz: "High explosives are all explosives more powerful than ordinary black powder, except smokeless powders and fulminates. Their distinguishing characteristic is their susceptibility to detonation by a blasting cap. Examples of high explosives are dynamite, picric acid, picrates, chlorate powders, nitrate of ammonia powders, dry trinitrotoluol, dry nitrocellulose (guncotton), dry tetranitroaniline, dry tetranitromethylaniline, and fireworks that can be exploded en masse." Unless they are loaded in the same vessel with articles enumerated in the rule quoted above, picric acid 10 per cent wet, and trinitrotoluol 10 per cent wet, and nitrocellulose (guncotton) 20 per cent will will not be classified as high explosives. The term "high explosives in bulk" does not include such articles as benzol, toluol, smokeless powder, black powder, small-arms ammunition, ammunition for cannon with explosive projectiles, explosive projectiles or torpedoes, percussion fuses, time fuses, combination fuses, tracer fuses, cordeau detonant, primers for cannon and small arms, blasting caps, detonating fuses, and fulminate of mercury in bulk. Blasting caps, detonating fuses, and fulminate of mercury in bulk will be considered as constituting a distinct class by themselves and shall be stowed and handled with special care.

9. In transferring high explosives in bulk, blasting caps, detonating fuses, or fulminate of mercury from one vessel to another they shall be handled by hand or regulation chute and mattress. If difference in elevation between vessels or condition of weather renders it impossible to transfer or load by hand or chute, mechanical hoists and a special crate or basket may be used. Explosives transferred in this manner shall not be handled roughly. They shall be hoisted and lowered carefully and be deposited or lowered on a mattress.

10. When an inclined chute is employed, such chute shall be constructed of 1-inch planed boards with side boards 4 inches high, extending 3 inches above top face of bottom of chute and throughout its length fastened with brass screws. D-shaped stripes or runners not more than 6 inches apart and running lengthwise of the chute shall be fastened to the upper surface of the bottom part by means of glue and wooden pegs extending through the bottom part and runners. Chutes shall be occasionally wiped down with waste moistened with machine oil when dynamite packages are being handled. A stuffed mattress 4 feet wide by 6 feet long and not less than 4 inches thick, or a heavy jute or hemp mat of like dimensions shall be placed under the discharging end of the chute. The incline of the chute shall be such that the velocity of the packages sliding will not be great enough to cause violent shock when coming in contact with other packages or when reaching the bottom of the slide, or men shall be stationed alongside the chutes to retard the velocity of the packages and prevent violent shocks when packages come in contact with each other or reach the bottom of the chute.

11. Broken or seriously damaged packages of explosives may be recoopered when it is practicable and not dangerous. A broken box of dynamite that can not be recoopered shall be reinforced by stout wrapping paper and twine, placed in another strong box, and surrounded by dry, fine sawdust, or dry, clean cotton waste, or elastic wads made from dry newspaper: A ruptured can or keg shall be inclosed in a grain bag of good quality and boxed or crated. Injured packages thus protected and properly marked may be forwarded. Packages too seriously damaged to be recoopered shall not be forwarded, but shall be set aside and the shipper notified to make disposition thereof. In removing broken cases or kegs of explosives from vessels, care shall be taken to remove any particles of loose explosives.

12. The transportation of high explosives by water and the transfer of high explosives to and from water craft in the waters of San Francisco Bay, San Pablo Bay, Carquinez Strait, Suisun Bay, and San Joaquin River, California, other than in the case of naval vessels, shall be made under the direct supervision of such guards as may be assigned for the purpose by the captain of the port, but this is not to be construed as charging the captain of the port with any responsibility in connection with the navigation of such water craft. Owners or agents of water craft transferring or carrying such cargoes, will be required to provide subsistence when cews are subsisted on board, and, when necessary, suitable sleeping accommodations for guards placed on board by the captain of the port, and for such period as he may specify. When crews are not subsisted on board, subsistence for inspectors and guards will not be required, but every opportunity shall be afforded to them to use such cooking facilities as are provided for the crews.

13. The captain of the port, in his discretion, may authorize the loading of shipments, not greater than 2500 pounds net in weight, of low explosives from lighters or motor boats on the offside of vessels alongside a wharf after all cargo is on board and the vessel is ready to depart. The lighter or motor boat carrying the explosives shall enter the slip at which the loading vessel is berthed not more than one hour before the sailing time of said loading vessel, and shall depart from the slip immediately after discharging the explosives.

The term low explosives as used in this paragraph will include only those explosives similar in composition or characteristics to ordinary black powder and which cannot be detonated by a commercial blasting cap. Examples are rifle, sporting, cannon, and blasting powders.

14. In any case of violation of the regulations in regard to the handling of explosives, the captain of the port is empowered to remove any vessel, or any man or men, from the waters to which these regulations pertain or to stop the loading or unloading of explosives in said waters.

15. Nothing in the foregoing shall be construed as relieving the master of any vessel carrying explosives from the responsibility of making frequent inspections, both by day and night, to see that these rules are complied with.

16. These regulations shall take effect and be in force on and after the date of approval hereof, and all regulations or parts of regulations applying to the above-named waterways in conflict therewith are hereby revoked, to take effect on that date.

Approved, October 8, 1937.

[Passenger Circular No. 114-C [1]]

THE ALASKA RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION DEPARTMENT

CHARGES ASSESSED ON OPERATION OF MOTOR CARS IN PASSENGER SERVICE, ALASKA

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA,
September 28, 1937.

To All Concerned:

In connection with the operation of Motor Cars in special service, effective at once the following charges will be assessed for such special service:

Regular tariff rates, including any reduced rate which might be in effect, will apply for each passenger handled, regardless of number, and in addition, the surcharge as shown below for the car used will be made to cover the cost of operating the car. In computing surcharge one way distance only will be considered. Minimum charge is exclusive of all passenger fares. Separate ticket form L-18 should be issued to cover surcharge.

Surcharge will not apply on motor cars operated between Nenana and Fairbanks and between Anchorage and Seward when there are seven (7) or more full fare revenue passengers.

| No. | Location | Seating capacity | Surcharge per mile | Minimum charge |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 111 | Anchorage | [1] 14 | 0.25 | $13.00 |
| 113 | Anchorage | 12 | .25 | 13.00 |
| 114 | Anchorage | [2] 44 | .80 | 25.00 |
| 116 | Fairbanks | 12 | .25 | 13.00 |

[1] Capacity Trailer No. 201 for Motor 111 is 28 passengers. Capacity Trailer No. 202 (freight trailer) for Motor 111 is five (5) tons distributed load.
When trailers are used no additional surcharge will be made other than for use of Motor Car.
[2] Includes 18 passengers in baggage compartment of Motor 114. Capacity of Trailer No. 303 for Motor 114 is 60 passengers.
Seating capacity is exclusive of motorman.

In computing distances, decimal .5 or over will be counted as one mile; less than .5 will be dropped. All decimals should be retained until final result is obtained.

For example, Gas Car 113 is ordered for special trip Anchorage to Willow, or vice versa, transportation will be collected from all passengers and in addition, surcharge of $17.75 will be made. On return of the car regular transportation will be collected from any passenger handled but no surcharge will be made.

When cars are operated in special service, they may at the option of the passengers, be held at the turning point on the following basis:

1 hour free time will be allowed all cars.

All time in excess of one hour will be charged for as follows:

Motor Car 114, $3.00 per hour.
Motor Cars 111, 113 and 116, $1.50 per hour.
Fractions of one hour will be computed as one hour.

Occasionally round trip excursions are arranged for, and such round trip excursions will not be classed as special service, but will be considered as new business. Accordingly, charges will be made on basis of the minimum number of passengers shown below, at regular tariff rates—or reduced rates if in effect at time tickets are sold and car arranged for:

Motor Car No. 114, minimum fifty round trip passengers.
Motor Cars Nos. 111, 113 and 116, minimum of ten round trip passengers, except between Seward and Anchorage and between Nenana and Fairbanks, where seven (7) one way passengers only will be required.

In no case will the minimum earnings be less than specified under minimum charge on the preceding page for the car furnished.

[1] Cancels Passenger Circular No. 114-B.

Motor cars used in freight service will be charged the surcharge indicated for car furnished in addition to regular tariff rates on shipment.

Arrangements for special service should be made through agent at the originating point, who will advise this office of the service desired.

This railroad does not agree to furnish any particular car at any specified time, and will only furnish such car or cars as are available at time order is received.

National Bituminous Coal Commission.

[Order No. 60]

AN ORDER DECLARING THAT BITUMINOUS COAL PRODUCERS BOARDS FOR DISTRICTS NUMBERS ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR, FIVE, SIX, SEVEN AND EIGHT HAVE FAILED TO TAKE ACTION REQUIRED BY THE COMMISSION'S ORDER NO. 39 AND THE BITUMINOUS COAL ACT OF 1937; PROVIDING FOR COMMISSION ACTION PURSUANT TO THE AUTHORITY OF SECTION 6 (A) OF SAID ACT AND DIRECTING THAT SAID DISTRICT BOARDS FILE WITH THE COMMISSION CERTAIN DATA

The Commission having by its Order No. 39 directed all District Boards within Minimum Price Areas Number 1 and Number 2 to propose minimum prices for all kinds, qualities and sizes of coal produced by code members in their respective Districts, in conformity with the provisions of Section 4, Part II—Marketing, subsection (a) of the Act, and having further provided for the coordination of such proposed minimum prices as required under subsection (b) of Section 4, Part II of the Act, and having provided for the completion of such coordination and the submission of such coordinated minimum prices to the Commission, not later than the 23rd day of September, 1937; and

It appearing that minimum prices were proposed in conformity with such order by the several District Boards, and it further appearing that the District Boards for Districts Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 failed to complete such coordinations on or before the date prescribed by the Commission; and

It further appearing that no request for an extension of time was made at any time by any of said District Boards;

It further appearing in the course of the public hearing held on the 27th day of September, 1937, pursuant to said Order No. 39 of the Commission that the above named District Boards continued in their inability to coordinate proposed minimum prices in common consuming markets; and

The Commission having by supplemental order dated September 30, 1937, assigned to Examiners Borden Covel, W. R. J. Zimmerman and J. S. Dunn the duty of conducting a hearing to assist said District Boards in voluntary coordination of their proposed minimum prices; and

It now appearing after continued hearing before said Examiners and conferences between representatives of the several District Boards that said District Boards have not at this time completed the voluntary coordination of proposed minimum prices as required under said Act and order of the Commission, and said Examiners having reported to the Commission the inability of the District Boards to arrive at agreements of coordination, and the Commission, after hearing the report of the Examiners and representatives of the District Boards involved, having concluded that further hearings will not result in voluntary coordination of proposed minimum prices within any reasonable period of time.

Now, therefore, pursuant to Act of Congress entitled "An Act to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes", (Public, No. 48, 75th Cong., 1st sess.), known as the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, the National Bituminous Coal Commission hereby declares, directs and orders:

1. That District Boards Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 have failed to complete coordination of proposed minimum prices for all coals produced by code members in their respective Districts moving into common consuming markets, in accordance with the provisions of subsection (b), Part II, Section 4 of the Act and as directed by the Commission's Order No. 39.

2. That the hearing now being conducted before the Examiners of the Commission under supplemental order dated September 30, 1937 is hereby directed to be closed, and the record in such hearing and evidence adduced therein is hereby declared to be incomplete and shall be inadmissible in any further proceeding or action involved in the establishment of minimum prices by the Commission.

3. That the Commission, pursuant to the authority of Section 6 (a) of said Act, will now proceed, in lieu of said District Boards, to coordinate, in conformity with the provisions of Section 4, Part II, of said Act, the proposed minimum prices in such markets as are determined to be common consuming market areas, and in such coordination to make such modifications of proposed minimum prices as may be required to give full effect to the differences, if any, between the tentative and the actual weighted average of the total cost per net ton of the tonnage of Minimum Price Area Number One, as previously required in Order No. 39 of the Commission.

4. That District Boards Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, shall, on or before the 25th day of October, 1937, at 12 o'clock noon, transmit to and place in the hands of the Commission, all statistical data secured by the District Boards from code members within their respective Districts, together with all compilations made therefrom relative to the distribution and use of coals produced within their respective Districts and all data upon which the minimum prices proposed by the several District Boards were computed, as well as all data utilized by said Boards in proceeding with the work of coordination, all of which data and reports shall be available to the Commission for its use in proposing coordinated minimum prices.

5. That the Commission may from time to time require the appearance, formally or informally, of any District Board member, officer, or employee thereof, for the purpose of further informing the Commission as to facts concerning the production and distribution of coals in the several Districts.

The Secretary shall give notice of this order by mailing a copy thereof to the Secretary of each of the District Boards above named and by mailing a copy to each member of said Boards.

By order of the Commission.

Dated this 22nd day of October, 1937.

1938 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, and in connection with the effectuation of the purposes of Section 7 (a) of said Act in 1938, payments and grants of aid will be made for participation in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof or other provisions as may hereafter be made.

The provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program are necessarily subject to such legislation affecting said program as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact; the making of the payments and grants of aid herein provided are contingent upon such appropriation as the Congress may hereafter provide for such purpose; and the amounts of such payments and grants of aid will necessarily be within the limits finally determined by such appropriation and the extent of national participation in the program. Any increase or decrease in payments made because of the extent of participation in the program is hereby limited so as not to exceed 10 percent.

The provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program contained in this bulletin are not applicable to (1) Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Alaska; (2) counties for which special programs under said Act are approved for 1938 by the Secretary; and (3) public domain of the United States, including land owned by the United States and administered under the Taylor Grazing Act or by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, and other lands in which the beneficial ownership is in the United States.

SECTION 1. National, State, and county goals.—(a) The national goals in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program shall be as follows:

(1) The seeding and maintenance of soil-conserving crops on the cropland not required in 1938 for the growing of soil-depleting crops, and the carrying out of such soil-building practices as will preserve and improve the soil fertility and prevent wind and water erosion.

(2) The following acreages of soil-depleting crops:

Cotton, 27,000,000 to 29,000,000 acres.
Corn, 92,000,000 to 96,000,000 acres.
Tobacco, Flue-cured, 850,000 to 900,000 acres.
Tobacco, Burley, 480,000 to 500,000 acres.
Tobacco, Fire-cured and dark air-cured, 170,000 to 180,000 acres.
Tobacco, Cigar filler and binder, 85,000 to 90,000 acres.
Tobacco, Georgia-Florida Type 62, 2,800 to 3,000 acres.
Potatoes, 3,100,000 to 3,300,000 acres.
Peanuts, 1,500,000 to 1,600,000 acres.
Rice, 825,000 to 875,000 acres.
Other soil-depleting crops, 145,000,000 to 155,000,000 acres.
Total soil-depleting crops, 273,000,000 to 288,000,000 acres.

(b) State goals for total soil-depleting crops and for individual soil-depleting crops where applicable shall be established by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration on the basis of the average acreage of the various soil-depleting crops grown in each State in the period from 1928 to 1937, inclusive, and the base acreages and limits established in connection with the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, taking into consideration trends in acreage, the acreage of food and feed crops required for home consumption, and farms for which goals may be established as large as the usual acreage of crops grown thereon. The total of the State goals for any crop or group of crops shall not be less than the minimum acreage nor more than the maximum acreage specified as the national goal for such crop or group of crops in subsection (a).

(c) The Agricultural Adjustment Administration with the assistance of State committees shall establish county goals for total soil-depleting crops and where applicable for individual soil-depleting crops. County goals for cotton, tobacco, and rice shall be established for each county where such crops are grown commercially. County goals for corn, potatoes, and peanuts shall be established only for those counties which the Agricultural Adjustment Administration designates as being in the principal commercial producing areas. In establishing county goals the State goal shall be equitably distributed among the counties on the basis of the average acreage grown in such counties in the period from 1928 to 1937, inclusive, and the base acreages and limits established in connection with the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program adjusted where necessary for farms for which provision was not made in 1937, taking into consideration trends in acreage, farms for which goals may be established as large as the usual acreage of crops grown thereon, and recommendations of district and county agricultural planning committees with respect to the acreages of various crops and groups of crops which should be grown in each county in order to promote soil conservation.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration with the assistance of State committees may establish county goals for particular soil-building practices which are not routine farming practices and which are most needed in the county in order to preserve and improve soil fertility and prevent wind and water erosion.

SEC. 2. Goals for individual farms.—(a) The county committee in accordance with applicable instructions shall establish for each farm a total soil-depleting crop goal and where applicable goals for corn, cotton, tobacco, peanuts, rice, and potatoes. The soil-depleting goal for any farm shall represent the farm's equitable share of the county goal taking into consideration good soil management, the tillable acreage on the farm, the type of soil, topography, production facilities, the crop rotation system, the acreage of such crops customarily grown on the farm, and the acreage of food and feed crops needed for home consumption on the farm.[1]

If the acreage of cotton or rice planted on any farm in 1938 is less than 80 percent of the cotton or rice goal, respectively, established for that farm, the cotton or rice goal for 1938 shall be reduced to 125 percent of the planted acreage of cotton or rice, respectively, unless, in the case of cotton, the county committee finds that the failure to plant 80 percent of the acreage in the cotton goal was due to flood or drought.

The soil-depleting goals for all farms in the county shall not exceed such goals as shall be established for the county by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and the sum of the goals for farms furnishing required forms and information shall not exceed their proportionate share of the county goals.

(b) The county committee shall establish for each farm a soil-conserving acreage which, except as otherwise noted,[2] shall be the acreage of cropland in the farm (excluding commercial orchards, normally idle cropland, and idle or fallow riceland) in excess of the total soil-depleting goal for the farm.

(c) The county committee shall establish for each farm a soil-building goal which shall represent the number of acres or acre equivalents of applicable practices listed in Sec. 6 to be carried out on the farm as a condition of payment. The soil-building goal for a farm, except as otherwise noted [2] shall be the sum of the following:

[1] For farms on which rice goals are established, consideration shall also be given to the acreage in the farm suited to rice production and for which water is readily available and the acreage of rice customarily grown by the producer. A potato goal will not be established for any farm for which the acreage of land normally planted to potatoes is determined to be less than three acres. The cotton goal for any farm shall not exceed 50 percent of the cropland in the farm.

[2] In areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as the areas where the seeding and establishment of additional acreages of perennial grasses and legumes is impracticable because of climatic conditions, the county committee may establish a soil-conserving acreage for a farm which is equal to the acreage of cropland usually devoted to perennial grasses and legumes on the farm, but in such event Practice No. A-8, Sec. 6 (protecting summer fallowed acreage against wind and water erosion), shall not be counted toward meeting the soil-building goal for such farm. A zero soil-conserving acreage may, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, be established for farms for which a rice goal is the only soil-depleting goal established.

(1) (i) One and one-half times the soil-conserving acreage or

(ii) On farms (in the Southern and East Central Regions) for which cotton, flue-cured tobacco, or peanut goals are established, an acreage equal to not more than the sum of the cotton, tobacco, peanut and potato goals and not less than one half of the sum of such goals may be used if requested by the operator. If this alternative is used, the general soil-depleting goal will not be used in computing the payment for the farm.

(2) The number of acres by which the general soil-depleting goal exceeds the total of the cotton, tobacco, peanut, rice, and potato goals, if the general soil-depleting goal is determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be as large as the usual acreage of general soil-depleting crops grown on the farm and such goal is used in computing the payment for the farm.

(3) The average annual acreage of land on which commercial vegetables were grown on the farm in 1936 and 1937.

(4) The acreage of commercial orchards on the farm January 1, 1938.

(5) A number of acres equal to one-half the number of dollars computed for the farm (under item 12 of Sec. 3) with respect to noncrop open pasture land.

The county committee shall, insofar as practicable, establish soil-building goals for individual farms in terms of acreages or acreage equivalents of one or more specified soil-building practices which it determines are not routine farming practices on the farm but are needed on the farm in order to preserve and improve soil fertility and prevent wind and water erosion and will tend to accomplish the goals established for the county with respect to particular soil-building practices.

SEC. 3. Payment for full performance.—Payment will be made with respect to any farm for not exceeding the soil-depleting goal and for achieving the soil-building goal in an amount which shall be the sum of the following:

(1) $1.50 per acre, adjusted for productivity, for each acre in the general soil-depleting goal: Provided, however, That if such goal is determined to be as large as the usual acreage of general soil-depleting crops grown on the farm, the rate shall be $1.50 per acre, not adjusted for productivity, on the number of acres in the general soil-depleting goal in excess of the sum of the cotton, tobacco, peanut, rice, and potato goals for the farm. The general soil-depleting goal will not be used in computing the payment with respect to farms for which all or part of the sum of the cotton, tobacco, peanut, and potato goals is used under item (1) of subsection (c) of Sec. 2 in computing the soil-building goal.

(2) 10 cents per bushel of the normal yield of corn for the farm for each acre in the corn goal.

(3) 2.4 cents per pound of the normal yield per acre of cotton for the farm for each acre in the cotton goal.

(4) The following number of cents per pound of the normal yield per acre of tobacco for the farm for each acre in the tobacco goal for each of the following types of tobacco:

(a) Burley, 0.5 cent.
(b) Flue-cured, 1.0 cent.
(c) Fire-cured and dark air-cured, 1.7 cents.
(d) Cigar filler and binder, 0.8 cent.
(e) Georgia-Florida Type 62, 2.0 cents.

(5) 0.2 of a cent per pound of the normal yield per acre of peanuts for the farm for each acre in the peanut goal.

(6) For farms having potato goals, the following number of cents per bushel of the normal yield per acre of potatoes for the farm for each acre of potatoes planted on the farm in 1938, not in excess of the potato goal, in the following producing areas:

(a) Early, 6 cents.
(b) Late, 4 cents.

(7) 0.125 of a cent per pound of the normal yield per acre of rice for the farm for each acre in the rice goal.

(8) 70 cents per acre on (a) the soil-conserving acreage, or (b) all or such portion of the sum of the cotton, tobacco, peanut, and potato goals as is used under item (1) of subsection (c) of Sec. 2 in computing the soil-building goal for the farm.

(9) 50 cents per acre of restoration land designated for the farm.

(10) $2.00 per acre of the average annual acreage of land on which commercial vegetables were grown on the farm in 1936 and 1937.

(11) $2.00 per acre of commercial orchards on the farm January 1, 1938.

(12) (a) In the North Central Region and in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and California, 2 cents per acre of noncrop open pasture land in the farm plus $1.00 for each animal unit of grazing capacity (on a 12-month basis) of such pasture.

(b) In North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington, 3 cents per acre of noncrop open pasture land plus 75 cents for each animal unit of grazing capacity (on a 12-month basis) of such pasture.

(c) In all other States, 30 cents per acre, adjusted for productivity by States or regions, for fenced noncrop open pasture land, in excess of one half of the number of acres of cropland in the farm, which is capable of maintaining during the normal pasture season at least one animal unit for each five acres of such pasture land.

SEC. 4. Payment for partial performance.—The payment computed for any farm, under the provisions of section 3, shall be subject to all of the following deductions which are applicable to the farm.

(1) Five times the payment rate specified in Sec. 3 for the normal yield on the acreages by which the corn and fire-cured and dark air-cured tobacco acreages exceed the respective goals established for these crops.

(2) Ten times the payment rates specified in Sec. 3 for the normal yield on the acreages by which the acreages of flue-cured tobacco, Burley tobacco, cigar filler and binder tobacco, Georgia-Florida Type 62 tobacco, potatoes, peanuts, and rice exceed the respective goals established for these crops, or, on farms for which potato goals are not established in designated commercial areas, for each acre by which the acreage of potatoes exceeds 3 acres.

(3) Eight times the payment rates specified in item (1) of Sec. 3 for each acre of soil-depleting crops in excess of the total soil-depleting crop goal for the farm less any acreage on which deductions are made pursuant to items (1), (2), and (4) of this Sec. 4.

(4) 3.6 cents per pound of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of cotton in excess of the cotton goal but not in excess of 115 percent of the cotton goal and 10 cents per pound of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of cotton in excess of 115 percent of the cotton goal for the farm.

(5) $2.00 for each acre or acre equivalent by which the soil-building goal is not reached.

(6) $3.00 for each acre of native sod or any other land which has been cropped but is not classified as cropland or restoration land which, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as being areas subject to serious wind erosion or areas containing large acreages unsuited to continuing production of cultivated crops, is broken out during the period October 1, 1937 to October 1, 1938, unless the breaking-out of such land is approved by the county committee as a good farming practice and an equal acreage of cropland on the same farm is restored to permanent vegetative cover, such acreage to be in addition to that designated as restoration land.

(7) $1.00 for each acre, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as being areas subject to serious wind erosion or areas containing large acreage unsuited to continuing production of cultivated crops, with respect to which there is failure to adopt in 1938 methods recommended by the State committee and approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration for the prevention of wind or water erosion; and for each acre of restoration land on which there is failure to carry out in 1938 conservation measures designed to promote restoration, at the most rapid rate possible, of a permanent vegetative cover, such measures to be specified by the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

(8) In counties designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as counties where commercial vegetables and potatoes or commercial vegetables and cigar filler (type 41) or binder (types 51, 52, and 53) tobacco are grown generally on the same farms, a deduction shall be made from the payment with respect to any farm having a potato or cigar filler and binder tobacco goal, for each acre on which commercial vegetables are grown in 1938 in excess of the average acreage on which commercial vegetables were grown on the farm in 1936 and 1937 (adjusted, where necessary, for the effect of abnormal weather conditions on plantings in such years), such deduction to be at the lower deduction rate applicable to the farm under this sec. 4 with respect to potatoes and cigar filler and binder tobacco.

SEC. 5. Soil-depleting crops.—Land devoted in 1938 to any of the following crops or uses, or such other similar crops and uses as are designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, shall be classified as soil-depleting: [4]

(a) Land planted to the following crops for harvest in 1938:

(1) Corn (including field corn, sweet corn, and popcorn, but excluding sown or close-drilled corn used as a cover crop or green manure crop).
(2) Grain sorghums.
(3) Cotton.
(4) Tobacco.
(5) Sugar beets.
(6) Sugarcane.
(7) Rice.
(8) Peanuts harvested for nuts.
(9) Commercial mustard.
(10) Hemp.
(11) Broomcorn.
(12) Mint.
(13) Mangels and cowbeets.
(14) Cultivated sunflowers.
(15) Truck and vegetable crops (including strawberries, melons, and sweetpotatoes) and their seeds.
(16) Potatoes.
(17) Bulbs and flowers.
(18) Safflower.
(19) Field beans.
(20) Canning peas.

(b) Land planted to wheat between August 1, 1937, and July 31, 1938, except:

(1) When a good stand and good growth of such crop is used as a green manure crop on irrigated land or in area having an annual average precipitation of more than 30 inches; or

(2) When such crop is used as a cover crop on irrigated land or in an area having an annual average precipitation of more than 30 inches or as a nurse crop, and is not harvested for grain or used in any area in any other manner determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be soil-depleting in such area; or

(3) When true-type winter wheat seeded in the spring of 1938 (prior to June 15) on non-irrigated cropland is used only as a pasture or cover crop, in areas where summer fallow is classified as soil-depleting.

(c) Land planted to oats,[5] barley, rye, buckwheat, flax, emmer, spelt, rape, or mixtures of these crops between August 1, 1937, and July 31, 1938, except:

(1) When a good stand and good growth of such crop is used as a green manure crop; or

(2) When such crop is used as a nurse crop or cover crop and is not harvested for grain or used in any area in any other manner determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be soil-depleting in such area.

(d) Land planted in 1938 to sweet sorghum, Sudan grass, millet, or sown or close-drilled corn, except:

(1) When a good stand and good growth of such crop is used as a green manure crop; or

(2) When such crop is used as a cover crop or for pasture and is not harvested for grain, seed, syrup, or silage or used in any area in any other manner determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be soil-depleting in such area.

(e) Land planted in 1938 to field peas harvested for peas or soybeans harvested for seed for crushing, or used in any area in any other manner determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be soil-depleting in such area.

(f) Summer fallow in States or other areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as areas where the alternating of summer fallow and crops in regular sequence is the usual method of producing such crops: Provided, however, That if in any such area summer-fallowed acreage is seeded in 1938 to perennial grasses or perennial legumes in accordance with good farming practice such acreage shall not be classified as soil-depleting.

(g) Summer fallow in any area not protected from wind and water erosion by methods recommended by the State committee and approved by the regional director.

The acreage of land which is devoted consecutively to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops in 1938 shall be counted as follows: If only one of such crops reaches maturity such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop reaching maturity. If one or more than one of such crops reach maturity and an individual crop goal is established for only one of such crops, such land shall be regarded as devoted to the crop for which an individual crop goal is established. If none of such crops reaches maturity and individual crop goals are established for two or more of such crops, the land shall be regarded as devoted to the last planted of such crops for which an individual crop goal is established. If two or more of such crops reach maturity and individual crop goals are established for two or more of such crops reaching maturity, the land shall be regarded as devoted to each of the crops which reached maturity and for which an individual crop goal is established.

The acreage of land which is devoted simultaneously to two or more of the above soil-depleting crops shall be divided among such crops on the basis of the land determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be occupied by each.

SEC. 6. Soil-building practices.—Such of the soil-building practices listed in the following schedule as the Agricultural Adjustment Administration determines are adapted to any region and should be encouraged in such region shall count toward the achievement of the soil-building goal to the extent indicated therein, when such practices are carried out in 1938 in areas designated by the regional director and in accordance with specifications issued by him or by the State committee with his approval. The areas designated for any soil-building practice shall be areas in which such practice is desirable and necessary as a conservation measure. The specifications issued shall be such as to assure that the soil-building practice will be performed in workmanlike manner and in accordance with good farming practice for the locality.

[2] For any farm for which the total soil-depleting goal is determined in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be as large as the usual acreage of soil-depleting crops for the farm, the soil-building goal shall be the sum of (1) a number of acres equal to one half the number of dollars computed for the farm under Sec. 3, and (2) the soil-conserving acreage for the farm if practice A–1 in Sec. 6 is applicable in the county in which the farm is located.

[4] Land devoted to volunteer crops harvested shall be classified as if such crops were planted.

[5] Excluding oats used as a support crop for vetch or Austrian field peas.

Practices carried out with labor, seed, trees, and materials furnished entirely by any Federal or State agency other than the Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall not be counted towards meeting the soil-building goal. If a portion of the labor, seed, trees, or materials used in carrying out any practice is furnished by a Federal or State agency other than the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, a proportion of the total acreage of the practice not exceeding the proportion of the total cost not furnished by the Federal or State agency may be counted towards meeting the soil-building goal.

Schedule of Soil-Building Practices

A. Each acre of the following shall be counted as one acre:

1. Maintaining until after July 1, 1938 a good stand of perennial grasses or perennial or biennial legumes, or mixtures of such grasses and legumes, seeded or established prior to 1938 on cropland on which no soil-depleting crop is planted between August 1, 1937, and July 31, 1938.

2. Seeding biennial legumes (other than those qualifying under practice B–1 below), orchard grass, or mixtures of timothy or redtop and legumes.

3. Seeding winter legumes or growing annual lespedeza.

4. Green manure crops (excluding wheat on non-irrigated land in areas with 30 inches or less annual precipitation and excluding such other crops as may be determined as not qualifiable for any area by the regional director) of which a good stand and good growth is plowed or disced under as green manure.[6]

5. Summer legumes grown alone and not classified as soil-depleting.

6. Growing Sudan grass, millet, or annual ryegrass, provided a good growth is attained, and the crop is not harvested for grain, seed, or hay, and such crop is grown on land from which no soil-depleting crop is harvested in 1938.

7. Growing sweet sorghums, rye, or sown or close-drilled corn, provided a good growth is attained, the crop is not pastured or harvested for grain, seed, or forage, and such crop is grown on land from which no soil-depleting crop is harvested in 1938.

8. Protecting summer-fallowed acreage (not classified as soil-depleting) from wind and water erosion by contour or basin listing, stripcropping, or other approved measures specified by the regional director.[7]

B. Each acre of the following shall be counted as one and one-half acres:

1. Seeding approved[8] domestic or Canadian red clover except in mixtures.

C. Each acre of the following shall be counted as two acres:

1. Seeding perennial legumes; perennial grasses other than timothy, redtop, and orchard grass; or mixtures of legumes and perennial grasses other than timothy and redtop.

2. Cultivating, protecting, and maintaining a good stand of forest trees planted between January 1, 1934, and January 1, 1938.

3. Improving a stand of forest trees under such approved system of farm woodland management as is specified by the regional director.

D. Each acre of the following shall be counted as three acres:

1. Establishment of permanent vegetative cover by planting sod pieces of perennial grasses.

E. Each acre of the following shall be counted as five acres:

1. Planting forest trees (including shrubs in protective plantings).

2. Control of seriously infested plots of perennial noxious weeds, designated by the regional director, on cropland in organized weed-control districts in accordance with approved chemical or tillage methods.

3. Application of at least one-half inch of sand on fruiting cranberry bogs.

F. Each acre of the following shall be counted as one-half acre:

1. Summer legumes not classified as soil-depleting, if interplanted or grown in combination with soil-depleting crops.

2. Renovation of perennial legumes and mixtures of grasses and legumes.

3. Seeding true-type winter wheat in the spring of 1938 (not later than June 15) on non-irrigated cropland and utilizing only as a pasture or cover crop, in areas where summer fallow is classified as soil-depleting.

4. Seeding timothy or redtop.

5. Protecting muck land subject to serious wind erosion (in areas designated by the State committee and approved by the regional director) by establishing or maintaining approved shrub windbreaks.

G. Each acre of the following shall be counted as one-fourth acre:

1. Leaving on the land as a protection against wind erosion (only in wind erosion areas, which will be designated by the regional director) the stalks of sorghums or Sudan grass, classified as soil-depleting, where it is determined by the county committee that such cover is necessary as a protection against wind erosion and the operator's farming plan provides that such cover will be left on the land until the spring of 1939.

2. Restoration of farm woodlots, normally over-grazed, by non-grazing during the normal pasture season.

3. Contour listing or furrowing noncrop land.

4. Stripcropping other than for protection of summer-fallowed acreage.

5. Incorporating small-grain stubble and straw in the surface soil in areas where summer fallow is classified as soil-depleting.

H. Each acre of the following shall be counted as one-sixth acre:

1. Contour farming intertilled crops.

2. Contour listing (except on protected summer-fallowed acreage or as a part of a seeding operation).

I. Each acre of the following shall be counted as one-tenth acre:

1. Contour seeding of small grain crops.

2. Basin listing (except on protected summer-fallowed acreage or as a part of a seeding operation).

3. Natural vegetative cover or small grain stubble of crops harvested in 1938, left on cropland not tilled after July 1, 1938 (only in wind-erosion areas, which will be designated by the regional director) where it is determined by the county committee that such cover is necessary as a protection against wind erosion and the operator's farming plan provides that such cover will be left on the land until the spring of 1939.

J. Each of the following practices in the amounts specified shall be counted as one acre.[9]

1. Application of 300 pounds of 16 percent superphosphate (or its equivalent) to, or in connection with the seeding of, perennial or biennial legumes, perennial grasses, winter legumes, lespedeza, crotalaria, Natal grass, or permanent pasture.

2. Application of 200 pounds of 50 percent muriate of potash (or its equivalent) to, or in connection with the seeding of, perennial or biennial legumes, perennial grasses, winter legumes, lespedeza, crotalaria, Natal grass, or permanent pasture.

3. Application of 500 pounds of basic slag or rock phosphate to, or in connection with the seeding of, perennial or biennial legumes, perennial grasses, winter legumes, lespedeza, crotalaria, Natal grass, or permanent pasture.

4. Application of 300 pounds of gypsum containing 18 percent sulphur (or its sulphur equivalent) to, or in connection with the seeding of, perennial or biennial legumes, perennial grasses, or permanent pasture.

5. Construction of 200 linear feet of standard terrace for which proper outlets are provided.

6. Construction of reservoirs and dams—15 cubic yards of material moved in making the fill or excavation.

7. Reseeding depleted pastures with good seed of adapted pasture grasses or grasses and legumes—10 pounds of seed.

8. Contour ridging of noncrop open pasture land—750 linear feet of ridge or terrace.

9. Application of one ton of straw or equivalent mulching material to commercial orchard or commercial vegetable land in areas designated by the regional director as areas in which straw normally costs more than $5.00 per short ton.

10. Application of not less than two tons of straw or equivalent mulching material per acre in commercial orchards or on commercial vegetable land and such material mechanically incorporated into the soil or used as a mulch.

11. Application[10] of the following quantities of ground limestone or its equivalent in areas designated by the regional director as areas in which the average cost of ground limestone to farmers is:

(a) Not more than $1.50 per ton, 3,000 lbs.

(b) More than $1.50 but not more than $2.50 per ton, 2,000 lbs.

(c) More than $2.50 but not more than $3.50 per ton, 1,500 lbs.

(d) More than $3.50 but not more than $5.00 per ton, 1,000 lbs.

(e) More than $5.00 per ton, 800 lbs.

12. Application of 1,000 pounds of finely ground limestone (at least 90 percent to pass through a 30-mesh sieve and all finer particles obtained in the grinding process to be included), except to peanuts and commercial vegetables, such limestone to be applied at the rate of not less than 500 pounds nor more than 1,000 pounds per acre.

13. Restoration of non-crop open pasture by non-grazing during the normal pasture season on an acreage equal to one-half of the number of acres of such pasture required to carry one animal unit for a 12-month period.

SEC. 7. Materials furnished as grants of aid.—Wherever it is found practicable limestone, superphosphate, trees, seeds, and other materials may upon request of the producer be furnished by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as grants of aid to be used in carrying out approved soil-building practices which shall be counted toward meeting the soil-building goal for the farm. Wherever such materials are furnished, a deduction from the payment for the farm shall be made in the amount of the approximate cost of such material to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

SEC. 8. Division of payment.—The payment generally shall be divided among interested persons as the crops grown on the farm or the proceeds thereof are divided under the lease or operating agreement and as each person contributes to the carrying out of soil-building practices on the farm.

(a) For all farms in the Southern, East Central, and Northeast Regions and for designated classes of farms[11] in the Western and North Central Regions the share of each interested person in the payment shall be computed on the basis of the acreage shares[12] of each such person in the soil-depleting crops grown, or the proceeds thereof, and the soil-building practices carried out on the farm in 1938.

(b) For all farms in the Western and North Central Regions, except designated classes of farms,[11] the share of each interested person in the payment shall be computed on the basis of the percentage division of the principal crop and the

[6] In orchards or on commercial vegetable or potato land or under such other circumstances as are designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration a good stand and a good growth of such crop may be left on the land as a temporary mulch.

[7] This practice (No. A–8) shall not be counted toward meeting the soil-building goal on any farm when carried out on light, sandy soils, or on any soils in any area where destruction of the vegetative cover has resulted in the land becoming subject to wind or water erosion.

[8] Seed to be approved by the county committee in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. In areas where practice B–1 is used similar approval with respect to alfalfa seed under practice C–1 shall also be required.

[9] When the materials specified in items 1, 2, or 3 are applied to perennial or biennial legumes, perennial grasses, winter legumes, lespedeza, crotalaria, or Natal grass in connection with a soil-depleting crop, only such proportionate part, if any, of the material applied shall be counted as is specified by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as being fair under the circumstances.

[10] Applications of less than 1,000 pounds per acre of ground limestone shall not be counted toward meeting the soil-building goal except as may be approved by the regional director.

[11] Designated classes of farms shall include: (a) Farms for which a cotton or rice goal is established or on which cotton or rice is grown in 1938 in counties where cotton or rice is a major crop (such counties to be designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration); (b) farms operated with the aid of sharecroppers; (c) farms on which a change in ownership or a change in tenure occurs during 1938 and the county committee determines, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, that both the predecessor and successor owners or tenants contributed to performance on the farm in 1938; (d) farms for which potato goals are established and the county committee determines, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, that the application of the formula prescribed in subsection (a) of this Sec. 8 results in a division of payments that more accurately reflects the relative performance of the interested persons than the formula prescribed in subsection (b) of this Sec. 8

[12] In computing the acreage share of each person each acre of Georgia-Florida type 62 tobacco shall be given a weight of 10; each acre of fire-cured or dark air-cured tobacco, a weight of 7; each acre of cigar filler and binder tobacco, a weight of 5; each acre of flue-cured tobacco, a weight of 4; each acre of potatoes (planted on the farms for which potato goals are established), a weight of 3; each acre of cotton, rice, Burley tobacco, or corn (planted on farms for which corn goals are established), a weight of 2; each acre of other soil-depleting crops (excluding sugar beets and sugarcane for sugar, and general soil-depleting crops on farms where the general soil-depleting goal is as large as the usual acreage of crops in such goal) a weight of 1; and each acre unit of soil-building practices (excluding the growing of self-reseeded annual legumes and the maintenance of perennial grasses or perennial or biennial legumes or mixtures of such grasses and legumes and excluding soil-building practices which are carried out by the owner of a farm rented to another person for cash or standing or fixed rent and which are not required in meeting the soil-building goal for the farm), a weight of 1. If the county committee determines that two or more persons have contributed to the carrying-out of any soil-building practice, the acreage of such practice with respect to which such persons contributed shall be divided equally among them.

In lieu of the above method of computing the share of each interested person in the payment, the following method shall be used in States or parts of States, designated by the regional director upon the recommendation of the State committee: The payment computed with respect to each soil-depleting goal (excluding the general soil-depleting goal if such goal is determined to be as large as the usual acreage of general soil-depleting crops grown on the farm) shall be divided among the persons who are parties to the lease or operating agreement in the proportion that such persons are entitled to share in 1938 in the soil-depleting crop(s) in such goal or the proceeds of such crop(s). The remaining payment with respect to the farm shall be divided among eligible persons in accordance with their respective contributions to the units of approved soil-building practices carried out on the farm by such persons in 1938.

If, prior to the harvest of any soil-depleting crop, there is a change in the ownership or operation of a farm and the county committee determines that both owners, or both operators, as the case may be, have contributed to performance with respect to the goal for such crop, the acreage of such crop shall be divided between them on the basis of such contribution to performance by agreement in writing, or in the absence of such agreement, by determination of the county committee. Any deductions incurred pursuant to the provisions of Sec. 4 shall be made pro rata from the items making up the maximum payment with respect to the farm.

proportion the acreage of cropland owned [13] or operated by each such person bears to the total acreage of cropland in the farm in 1938.

SEC. 9. Association membership and deduction for expenses.—Any person who previously has not, in accordance with the Articles of Association, become a member of the county agricultural conservation association of the county in which his farm or farms are located shall become a member thereof by signing an application under which a payment can be made with respect to any such farm. Any person shall cease to be a member of the association when it becomes evident that he cannot qualify for a payment in the county in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

There shall be deducted pro rata from the payments made to members of each county agricultural conservation association all or such part as the Secretary may prescribe of the estimated administrative expenses incurred or to be incurred by such association in cooperation in carrying out in such county the purposes of Sections 7 to 17 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act.

There shall be credited to each county agricultural conservation association for the payment of administrative expenses the amount of $2.00 per farm for that number of farms estimated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration with respect to which a payment (prior to deduction of any administrative expenses) of not more than $20.00 will be made.

SEC. 10. Payments restricted to effectuation of the purposes of the program.—All or any part of any payment which otherwise would be made to any person under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may be withheld (1) if he has adopted any practice which the Secretary determines tends to defeat any of the purposes of the program, (2) if, by means of any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other device, or in any manner whatsoever, he has offset, or has participated in offsetting, in whole or in part, the performance for which such payment is otherwise authorized, or (3) if, with respect to forest land or wood land owned or controlled by him, he adopts any practice which tends to defeat the purposes of a sound conservation program as prescribed by the regional director.

SEC. 11. Payments computed and made without regard to claims.—Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law, without deduction of claims for advances, and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

SEC. 12. Changes in leasing and cropping agreements and other devices.—If the State committee finds that any person who files an application for a payment pursuant to the provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program has made any change in the normal leasing or cropping agreement for the farm or has employed any other scheme or device whatsoever, the effect of which would be or has been to deprive any other person of any payment under any agricultural conservation program to which such other person would normally be entitled, the Secretary may withhold from the person participating in or employing such a scheme or device, or require such person to refund in whole or in part, the amount of any payment which had been or would otherwise be made to such person for performance in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

SEC. 13. Deductions incurred on other farms.—If a person who makes application for payment with respect to any farm operates, rents to another person for a share of the crops produced thereon, or field-rents to other persons for cash any other farm(s) in the county, and for such other farm(s) an application under which a payment can be made is not filed and deductions computed under Sec. 4, excluding item (5), exceed the amount computed for such other farms under items (1) through (7) (excluding item (1) when the general soil-depleting goal is determined to be as large as the usual acreage of general soil-depleting crops) of Sec. 3, the payment to be made to such person shall be decreased by an amount equal to such person's share [14] of such deductions in excess of such amount computed under Sec. 3.

The provisions of this Sec. 13 shall be extended to include farms in two or more counties in the State which any person operates, rents to another person for a share of the crops produced thereon or field-rents to other persons for cash, if the State committee finds that the acreage used for the production of any soil-depleting crop(s) on any such farm has been increased to such an extent as to tend to defeat the purposes of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

SEC. 14. Productivity indexes. [15]—The Secretary shall establish for each county a county productivity index or per-acre rate which will vary among the counties as the productivity of the cropland in the county devoted to the production of corn (except in counties in which corn goals are established), wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, grain sorghums, soybeans, field beans, sorghum for syrup, potatoes (except in counties in which potato goals are established), sweetpotatoes, and broomcorn varies as compared with the productivity of cropland in the United States devoted to the production of such crops.

A productivity index or rate per acre shall in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration be established for each farm by the county committee, subject to the approval of the State committee. Such productivity index or rate per acre shall be based upon the normal yield per acre for the farm of the major soil-depleting crop in the county as compared with the normal yield per acre for such crop in the county. Where the yield of the major soil-depleting crop in the county does not accurately reflect the productivity of a farm, the yield of such other crop as does reflect the productivity of the farm may be used, provided that the productivity index or rate per acre for such farm shall, if necessary, be adjusted so as to be fair and equitable as compared with the productivity indexes or rates per acre for other farms in the county having similar soils or productive capacity, and as contrasted with other farms in the county having different soils or productive capacity.

The average productivity index or per-acre rate for all farms in the county shall not exceed 100 or the county per-acre rate, respectively, unless it is determined that farms for which such indexes or rates per acre are established are not representative of all farms in the county and a variation from 100 or the county per-acre rate is approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

SEC. 15. Corn, cotton, tobacco, peanut, potato, and rice yields.—(a) There shall be established for each county having a corn, cotton, tobacco, peanut, potato, or rice goal the county average yield or per-acre rate for each such crop for which a county goal is established. Such county average yield shall be determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration on the basis of average yields in the county during the ten-year period 1927 to 1936, inclusive, or such combination of five or more years as it is determined most accurately represents the normal yield of such crop in such county. If annual county yields are not available for any crop, the yields for census years and for other years for which data on yields are available to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the yields established under the [13] For the purpose of computing the acreage of cropland owned by each person, a farm shall be considered as owned by the person who owns or is purchasing the farm or rents the entire farm from another for cash and who operates such farm, rents such farm to another person for a share of the crops produced thereon, or field-rents all or part of such farm to others. Cropland which is both owned (or considered as owned) and operated by the same person shall be counted twice in determining the proportion the acreage of cropland owned or operated by such person bears to the total acreage of the cropland in the farm in 1938.

[14] To be determined in accordance with the provisions of Sec. 8.

[15] If the statistical procedure established for any region provides for a determination that the weighted average of the per-acre rates for all farms in each county shall not exceed the respective county average per-acre rate, such per-acre rates shall be used in all payment forms in lieu of productivity indexes or per-acre yields, and the per-unit rates established in Sec. 3.

1937 Agricultural Conservation Program shall be used as a basis for establishing county yields. The county average rate established for any county shall be the county average yield thus determined multiplied by the applicable unit rate established in Sec. 3.

(b) The county committee shall establish for each farm having a corn, cotton, tobacco, peanut, rice, or potato goal a yield per acre or per-acre rate for each such crop for which a goal for such crop is established. Such yield designated for any farm shall be that yield which the county committee, acting in accordance with applicable instructions, finds from all available facts to be the yield which could reasonably be expected from the land devoted to the production of such crop. In designating the yield due consideration shall be given by the committee to the trend of yield per acre as well as the type of soil, drainage, erosion, production practices, general fertility of the land, and the yield of such crop customarily secured on the farm. The per-acre rate shall be such yield multiplied by the applicable per-unit rate established in Sec. 3. The weighted average yield or per-acre rate for all farms in any county with respect to any such crop shall not exceed the county average yield or per-acre rate for such crop unless it is determined that farms for which such yields or per-acre rates are established are not representative of all farms in the county producing such crop and a variation from the county average yield or per-acre rate is approved by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

SEC. 16. Application for payment.—(a) An application for payment with respect to a farm may be made by any person for whom, under the provisions of Sec. 8, a share in the payment with respect to the farm would be computed and (1) who is growing crops on such farm, is operating such farm or is renting such farm to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, or (2) who is the owner of such farm and participates thereon in the carrying-out of soil-building practices in 1938.

(b) Payment will be made only upon application submitted through the county office. The Secretary reserves the right (1) to withhold payment from any person who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any farm which such person is operating or renting to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, and (2) to refuse to accept any application for payment if such application or any other form or information required is not submitted to the county office within the time fixed by the regional director. At least two weeks' notice to the public shall be given in advance of the expiration of a time limit for filing prescribed forms.

(c) When an application for payment is filed by a person with respect to a farm in a county a report (upon a prescribed form) shall be submitted covering farming operations on each other farm in the county which such person is operating, renting to another person for a share of the crops produced thereon, or field-rents to other persons for cash. Upon request by the State committee such person also shall submit a report (upon a prescribed form) covering farming operations on any farm in any other county in the State which he operates, rents to another person for a share of the crops grown thereon, or field-rents to other persons for cash.

(d) The payment with respect to any farm shall be computed on the basis of the performance under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program on such farm without regard to the performance on other farms, except as provided in Sec. 13. Two or more farms operated by the same person as a unit for a regular crop rotation or as a unit with respect to workstock, farm machinery, and labor, may, for the purpose of computing payments with respect thereto, be considered one farm (if all of the persons entitled to share in the payment with respect to such farms agree thereto) unless the county committee determines, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, that the combining of such farms will result in payments not commensurate with performance thereon.

SEC. 17. Determination of county in which a farm is located.—A farm shall be regarded as located in the county in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon it shall be regarded as located in the county in which the major portion of the farm is located.

SEC. 18. Appeals.—Any person who considers himself aggrieved by any recommendation or determination of the county committee with respect to the following matters affecting any farm in which he has an interest may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or available to him request the county committee in writing to reconsider its recommendation or determination: (a) eligibility to file an application for payment; (b) any soil-depleting or soil-building goal; (c) the division of payment; or (d) any other matter affecting the right to or the amount of his payment with respect to the farm. The county committee shall notify such person of its decision in writing within 15 days after receipt of such written request for reconsideration. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the county committee he may, within 15 days after such decision, appeal in writing to the State committee. The State committee shall within 30 days after the receipt of the appeal inform such person of its decision. If such person is dissatisfied with the decision of the State committee, he may, within 15 days thereafter, request the regional director to review the decision of the State committee.

SEC. 19. Instructions and forms.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration shall prepare and issue such instructions and forms as may be required in administering the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program. Such instructions shall include provision for the rounding of fractions in connection with goals, 1938 acreages of crops and practices, and per-acre rates of payment and shall also provide for calculating the net payment to any person to the nearest whole dollar, fractions of 50 cents or less to be dropped and fractions of more than 50 cents to be considered as $1.00.

SEC. 20. Definitions.—For the purposes of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Secretary means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

Regional director means the director of the division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in charge of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in the region.

Northeast region means the area included in the States of Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

East central region means the area included in the States of Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Southern region means the area included in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina, and Texas.

North central region means the area included in the States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

Western region means the area included in the States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.

State committee means the group of persons designated within any State to assist in the administration tf the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in such State.

County committee means the group of persons elected within any State to assist in the administration of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in such county.

County means the political or civil division of a State designated as a county or in the State of Louisiana as a parish, except that for the purposes of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program groups of townships in the political or civil divisions of Polk, Ottertail, and St. Louis in Minnesota and Pottawattomie in Iowa may be designated as counties.

Person means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, or trust, and, wherever applicable, a State, a political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof.

Share cropper means a person who works a farm in whole or in part under the general supervision of the operator and is entitled to receive for his labor a proportionate share of a crop produced thereon or the proceeds thereof.

Farm means all adjacent or nearby farm land owned by a person (a) which is operated by one person as all or part of the land operated by such person with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other land, or (b) all or part of which is field-rented to and operated by other persons: Provided, That in areas where cotton, tobacco, or peanuts is commonly grown on field-rented tracts (such areas to be designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration), land which is rented for fixed or cash rent or which is field-rented for a share of the crop by an operator from one or more persons in accordance with usual farming arrangements may be included as a part of the farm of the operator.

Cropland means farm land which is tilled annually or in a regular rotation but shall not include restoration land or any land which constitutes, or will constitute if such tillage is continued, a wind or water erosion hazard to the community because of the texture or slope of such land or because of climatic conditions, but shall include land which has been planted since January 1, 1934, to permanent pasture or forest trees and which was classified as cropland under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, and shall include also land planted to commercial or non-commercial orchards other than abandoned orchards.

Restoration land means farm land, in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as areas subject to serious wind erosion and areas containing large acreages unsuited to continuing production of cultivated crops, which has been cropped at least once since January 1, 1933, and which is designated by the county committee as land on which, because of its physical condition and texture and because of climatic conditions, a permanent vegetative cover should be restored.

Commercial orchards means the acreage in planted fruit trees, nut trees, vineyards, hops, or bush fruits on the farm on January 1, 1938 (excluding non-bearing orchards and vineyards), from which the principal part of the production is normally sold.

Commercial vegetables means the acreage of vegetables or truck crops (including potatoes on farms where a potato goal is not established, sweetpotatoes, tomatoes, sweet corn, melons, cantaloupes, strawberries, and commercial bulbs and flowers, but excluding peas for canning and sweet corn for canning) of which the principal part of the production was sold to persons not living on the farm.

Noncrop open pasture means pasture land (other than rotation pasture land and range land) on which the predominant growth is forage suitable for grazing and on which the number or grouping of any trees or shrubs is such that the land could not fairly be considered as woodland.

Principal crop means the soil-depleting crop, other than sugar beets, to which the greatest number of acres on the farm or tract is devoted in 1938. If there is no such soil-depleting crop which has a larger acreage in 1938 than any other such soil-depleting crop, the principal crop shall be the soil-depleting crop other than sugar beets grown on the farm which is of major importance in terms of acreage planted in the county in which such farm is located. If there is no such soil-depleting crop seeded on the farm for harvest in 1938, the principal crop shall be the crop having the largest 1938 acreage. If no crop is grown on the farm in 1938, it shall be considered that the principal crop is the crop to which the greatest number of acres on the farm is usually devoted.

General soil-depleting goal means the total soil-depleting goal established for the farm less the acreage included in each individual crop goal established for the farm and less the acreage of sugarcane for sugar and sugar beets grown on the farm in 1938.

General soil-depleting crops means all soil-depleting crops other than sugar beets and sugarcane for sugar and those for which individual crop goals are established on the farm.

Animal unit means one cow, one horse, five sheep, or five goats, two calves, or two colts, or the equivalent thereof.

NOTICE UNDER ACT TO REGULATE INTERSTATE AND FOREIGN COMMERCE IN LIVESTOCK, ETC.

OCTOBER 22, 1937.

To MONTEVIDEO LIVESTOCK SALES, INC.,
Stockyard owner, at Montevideo, Minnesota.

Whereas, Section 301 of Title III of an Act of Congress entitled "An Act to regulate interstate and foreign commerce in livestock, livestock products, dairy products, poultry, poultry products, and eggs, and for other purposes", approved August 15, 1921, provides in part that, when used in said Act, the term "stockyard owner" means any person engaged in the business of conducting or operating a stockyard; and Section 302 of said Act provides as follows:

(a) When used in this title the term "stockyard" means any place, establishment, or facility commonly known as stockyards, conducted or operated for compensation or profit as a public market, consisting of pens, or other inclosures, and their appurtenances, in which live cattle, sheep, swine, horses, mules, or goats are received, held, or kept for sale or shipment in commerce. This title shall not apply to a stockyard of which the area normally available for handling livestock, exclusive of runs alleys, or passage ways, is less than twenty thousand square feet.

(b) The Secretary shall from time to time ascertain, after such inquiry as he deems necessary, the stockyards which come within the foregoing definition, and shall give notice thereof to the stockyard owners concerned, and give public notice thereof by posting copies of such notice in the stockyard, and in such other manner as he may determine. After the giving of such notice to the stockyard owner and to the public, the stockyard shall remain subject to the provisions of this title until like notice is given by the Secretary that such stockyard no longer comes within the foregoing definition:

Notice is hereby given that after inquiry it has been ascertained by me as Secretary of Agriculture of the United States that the stockyard known as Montevideo Livestock Sales, Inc., at Montevideo, State of Minnesota, comes within the foregoing definition and is subject to the provisions of said Act.

The attention of stockyard owners, market agencies, dealers and other persons concerned is directed to Sections 303 and 306 and other pertinent provisions of said Act and the rules and regulations issued thereunder by the Secretary of Agriculture.

THE FEDERAL LAND BANK OF BALTIMORE
CHARGES FOR DETERMINATION OF TITLE

Pursuant to Paragraph "Ninth", Section 13, of the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended [12 U. S. C. 781 (Ninth)] and the "Association and Bank Fee Regulations" prescribed by the Land Bank Commissioner thereunder, effective January 1, 1936 [FLB 1001, LB EXAM 548, NFLA EXAM 238; December 14, 1935; Chap. II, Sec. 6 (b), Federal Register Compilation]; and by action of the Executive Committee of The Federal Land Bank of Baltimore on July 2, 1937, as amended, with the approval of the Land Bank Commissioner, dated September 1, 1937, the following fees shall be charged to cover cost of determination of title for each land bank and each Land Bank Commissioner loan closed:—

$5.00 for each loan closed in the amount of $1,000.00 or less.

An increase of $3.00 in the fee for each increase of $1,000.00, or portion thereof, up to $10,000.00. An increase of $2.00 in the fee for each additional $1,000.00, or portion thereof, up to $25,000.00. An increase of $1.00 in the fee for each additional $1,000.00, or portion thereof, over $25,000.00.

The aforegoing fees shall be collected at the time of the closing of the loan, or prior thereto, and shall be in addition to the application and appraisal fees collected at the time of the filing of the application.

The aforegoing schedule of fees for title determination shall be effective from the 1st day of November, 1937.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 3929—Commission Order No. 18]

IN THE MATTER OF FREQUENCY ALLOCATION TO SERVICES IN THE FREQUENCY BANDS FROM 10 KC TO AND INCLUDING 30,000 KC.

At a regular meeting of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 13th day of October, 1937:

The Commission having under consideration the provisions of Section 303 (c), (f) and (g) of the Communications Act of 1934, and Rule 229 of its Rules and Regulations; and

A public informal hearing having been conducted at the offices of the Commission from June 15 to June 29, 1936 at which time persons representing the departments of the Federal Government, the agencies of state and municipal governments interested in radio, and persons representing all radio services and all important phases of the radio industry, presented testimony; and

The record of the hearing, having been made available to the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee, and said Committee having made certain recommendations with respect to the allocation of frequencies to Federal Government agencies; and being fully advised in the premises, found, as a result of its investigation and hearing, that public convenience, interest or necessity require that Rule 229 of its Rules and Regulations be revised;

It is ordered, That Rule 229 of the Rules and Regulations of the Commission in so far as it allocates the frequencies from 25,000 kc to 28,000 kc be and the same is hereby amended, effective at 3:00 a. m., E. S. T., October 13, 1938, in accordance with the table identified as Part I of Rule 229 attached hereto and made a part of this Order; And provided, however, That the Commission may make assignments in accordance with the allocation given in said table prior to October 13, 1938.

It is further ordered, That any holder of, or applicant for, an instrument of authorization, whose frequency or frequencies heretofore assigned or applied for may be changed by the provisions of this Order, who objects to such change may within ninety (90) days from the date of this Order, file with this Commission his objections in writing and request a hearing.

It is further ordered, That the holder of, or an applicant for, an instrument of authorization who, prior to ninety (90) days from this date, fails to file written objections and a request for hearing as hereinabove set out, shall be deemed to have consented to such change.

It is further ordered, That any applicant who, after the date of this Order requests an instrument of authorization or an authorization renewal for a frequency or frequencies which will be changed after 3:00 a. m., E. S. T., October 13, 1938, will without further notice be deemed to have consented to the effective time and date of such change of the frequency or frequencies requested.

[Docket No. 3929—Commission Order No. 19]

IN THE MATTER OF FREQUENCY ALLOCATION TO SERVICES IN THE FREQUENCY BANDS FROM 30,000 KC TO AND INCLUDING 300,000 KC

At a regular meeting of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 13th day of October, 1937;

The Commission having under consideration the provisions of Section 303 (c), (f) and (g) of the Communications Act of 1934, and Rule 229 of its Rules and Regulations; and

A public informal hearing having been conducted at the offices of the Commission from June 15 to June 29, 1936, at which time persons representing the departments of the Federal Government, the agencies of state and municipal governments interested in radio, and persons representing all radio services and all important phases of the radio industry, presented testimony; and

The record of the hearing, having been made available to the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee, and said Committee having made certain recommendations with respect to the allocation of frequencies to Federal Government agencies; and

The Commission having considered the recommendations of the Interdepartment Radio Advisory Committee, and being fully advised in the premises, found, as a result of its investigation and hearing, that public convenience, interest, or necessity require that Rule 229 of its Rules and Regulations be revised;

It is ordered, That Rule 229 of the Rules and Regulations of the Commission in so far as it allocates the frequencies above 30,000 kc be and the same is hereby amended, effective 3:00 a. m., E. S. T., October 13, 1938, in accordance with the table identified as Part II of Rule 229 attached hereto and made a part of this Order; Provided, however, that the Commission may make assignments in accordance with the allocation given in said table prior to October 13, 1938.

It is further ordered, That any holder of, or applicant for, an instrument of authorization, whose frequency or frequencies heretofore assigned or applied for may be changed by the provisions of this Order, who objects to such change may within ninety (90) days from the date of this Order, file with this Commission his objections in writing and request a hearing.

It is further ordered, That the holder of, or an applicant for, an instrument of authorization who, prior to ninety (90) days from this date, fails to file written objections and a request for hearing as hereinabove set out, shall be deemed to have consented to such change.

It is further ordered, That any applicant who, after the date of this Order requests an instrument of authorization or an authorization renewal for a frequency or frequencies which will be changed after 3:00 a. m., E. S. T., October 13, 1938, will without further notice be deemed to have consented to the effective time and date of such change of the frequency or frequencies requested.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1937.

[File No. 46-61]

IN THE MATTER OF INTERNATIONAL HYDRO-ELECTRIC SYSTEM

ORDER AMENDING ORDER APPROVING ACQUISITION OF SECURITIES PURSUANT TO SECTION 10 OF THE PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

Pursuant to an amended application under Section 10 (a) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, this Commission has heretofore, on July 14, 1937, entered an order approving the acquisition by the International Hydro-Electric System of 1,439,020 common shares of Gatineau Power Company in accordance with the terms and conditions of and for the purposes represented by such application as amended.

Such application as amended stated in effect that such acquisition was to be in accordance with the terms of a proposed compromise or arrangement which, in effect, would result in a merger of the Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation with said Gatineau Power Company. The terms of such compromise or arrangement made provision for the issue by said Gatineau Power Company of common shares and also 5% preferred shares which were to be redeemable at the option of the company at a price of $105 per share and upon distribution of the assets of the company were to have a right to a premium of 5%.

Prior to the entry of the order by this Commission the applicant had advised it of the existence of certain negotiations with respect to the terms of such preferred shares and of the possibility of change in the terms of such compromise or arrangement. Said applicant has now advised this Commission that, at a meeting of the shareholders which considered said compromise or arrangement its terms were changed so as to provide that the redemption price of such preferred shares should be $110 instead of $105 per share and the premium upon distribution 10% instead of 5%. Such enlargement of the rights of the preferred shareholders will to that extent diminish the rights of the common shares to be acquired by International Hydro-Electric System.

In view of all the circumstances of this case this Commission deems that such change in the compromise or arrangement is not objectionable to the provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and that the approval granted by the before mentioned order should be applicable notwithstanding such change. It is therefore Ordered, That the order in the above entitled matter heretofore entered by this Commission on July 14, 1937, be and the same hereby is amended by adding thereto a provision that such acquisition is authorized although the shares of preferred stock of Gatineau Power Company have a redemption price of $110 per share and dividends and the right to a premium of 10% upon distribution of assets.

By the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF MICHIGAN-UTAH CONSOLIDATED MINES CO. CAPITAL STOCK, PAR VALUE 25 CENTS

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE AND FOR HEARING, DESIGNATING OFFICER AND TIME AND PLACE FOR TAKING TESTIMONY

Whereas, Michigan-Utah Consolidated Mines Company, a corporation, is the issuer of Capital Stock, par value 25 cents; and

Whereas said Michigan-Utah Consolidated Mines Company registered such securities on the Salt Lake Stock Exchange, a national securities exchange, by filing on or about April 8, 1935, an application with the said exchange and with the Commission pursuant to Section 12 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and pursuant to Rule JB1, as amended, promulgated by the Commission thereunder; and

Whereas said Rule JB1, as amended, at the time said application was filed and at all subsequent times did and does require such application to be filed on Form 10 for Corporations; and

Whereas in accordance with the provisions of Form 10 for Corporations, and the Instructions and Rules and Regulations of the Commission supplemental thereto, as amended, as to the use of said Form 10 for Corporations, in effect both at the time said application was filed and at all subsequent times; Item 36 of said Form did and does require that Schedules numbered I to IX, inclusive, in the form and manner prescribed by the Instruction Book for Form 10 for Corporations, be furnished where applicable and reference thereto made on the face of the balance sheet and profit and loss statement in appropriate places; and further, Item 36 of said Form did and does require the registrant to submit financial statements certified in accordance with and in the manner prescribed by the Instruction Book for Form 10 for Corporations; and

Whereas said Michigan-Utah Consolidated Mines Company has failed to comply with the provisions of said Section 12 (b) of said Securities Exchange Act, as amended, with the provisions of said Rule JB1, as amended, with the provisions of said Form 10 for Corporations, and with the provisions of said Instructions and Rules and Regulations of the Commission supplemental thereto, as amended, in that the application filed by it for registration of said securities on said exchange pursuant to said Section 12 (b) does not contain

Schedules I to IX, inclusive, required pursuant to the Instructions to Item 36, in support of the financial statements, although required by the Rules and Regulations of the Commission; and it does not contain a

Certificate of a person properly identified as an independent public or independent certified public accountant, which certificate sufficiently states the scope and comprehensiveness of the audit or which states a definite opinion by such accountant as to the accounting principles and procedures followed by the registrant required to accompany the financial statements submitted pursuant to Item 36, although required by the Rules and Regulations of the Commission; and

Whereas Section 13 (a) and (b) of said Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, requires that every issuer of a security on a national securities exchange shall file such annual reports as the Commission may by rule and regulation prescribe; and

Whereas said Michigan-Utah Consolidated Mines Company has failed to comply with Section 13 (a) and (b) of said Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and with Rules KA1 and KA2 promulgated by the Commission thereunder in that, as issuer of said Capital Stock, par value 25 cents, it has failed to file the information and documents required by Rule KA1, adopted by the Commission pursuant to said Section 13 (a) and has failed to file its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1935 and an annual report for the year ending December 31, 1936, on Form 10–K as required by Rule KA2, adopted by the Commission pursuant to said Section 13 (b);

It is ordered, That pursuant to Section 19 (a) (2) of said Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, a hearing be held to determine whether said Michigan-Utah Consolidated Mines Company has so failed to comply with said provisions of said Section 12 (b) (1) and said Sections 13 (a) and (b) and said Rules and Regulations promulgated by the Commission thereunder, or with any provision of either of said Sections or of any rule or regulation promulgated by the Commission under either of said Sections; and if so, whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to suspend for a period not exceeding twelve months or to withdraw the registration of said Capital Stock, par value 25 cents, on said Salt Lake Stock Exchange; and

It is further ordered, That said Michigan-Utah Consolidated Mines Company appear before an officer of the Commission and show cause why the registration of said Capital Stock, par value 25 cents, on said Salt Lake Stock Exchange should not be suspended for a period not exceeding twelve months or withdrawn as provided in Section 19 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; and

It is further ordered, That for the purpose of such proceeding, Foster Cline, an officer of the Commission, be and hereby is designated to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take testimony and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered, That a public hearing for the taking of testimony begin on the ninth day of November, 1937, at 10:00 A. M. at the regional office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 1706 Welton Street, Denver, Colorado, and continue thereafter at such times and places as said officer may determine.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

NEGOTIATION OF TRADE AGREEMENT WITH VENEZUELA CONTEMPLATED

OCTOBER 25, 1937.

Pursuant to section 4 of an act of Congress approved June 12, 1934, entitled "An Act to Amend the Tariff Act of 1930", as extended by Public Resolution No. 10, approved March 1, 1937, and Executive Order No. 6750 of June 27, 1934, the Secretary of State announced today that this Government contemplates the negotiation of a trade agreement with Venezuela, and invited interested persons to submit suggestions as to the products that should be considered.

This preliminary announcement, which is made with a view to obtaining suggestions from interested persons in the early stages of the discussions, should not be confused with the formal notice of intention to negotiate regularly given. The formal notice will be issued at a later date, after receipt of the proposals of the Government of Venezuela, at which time there will also be made public a list of products on which the United States will consider granting concessions to Venezuela.

The object of this preliminary announcement is to provide notification at the earliest possible date that negotiations are contemplated, in order that interested parties may have an opportunity to suggest the import or export products which, in their opinion, should be included in the negotiations. Such suggestions, particularly those in regard to export products, are most useful to the trade-agreements organization if available at an early stage. Full information should be submitted as soon as possible. Exact technical descriptions of the products in question should be given, including, so far as possible, their nomenclature in the tariff laws of the importing country. These suggestions may be submitted in any form, and need not be under oath. They should be addressed to the Chairman of the Committee for Reciprocity Information, 7th and F Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C., and should reach the Committee not later than November 26, 1937.

Suggestions received by the Committee for Reciprocity Information will be distributed promptly to all agencies of the trade-agreements organization for use in the preparation of lists of commodities that may be involved in the negotiations. The list of commodities upon which the United States will consider the granting of concessions to Venezuela will be published along with the formal notice of intention to negotiate. The formal notice, as heretofore, will indicate dates for the submission of briefs and applications for oral hearings, and the dates on which the customary open hearings will be held. The listing of products will indicate to American producers and importers whether or not particular tariff rates in which they are interested are under consideration. They will thus be saved the trouble of preparing briefs on products of interest to them but which are not expected to be involved in the negotiations.

A detailed compilation showing the principal products involved in the 1929 and 1936 trade between Venezuela and the United States, prepared by the Division of Foreign Trade Statistics of the Department of Commerce, may be obtained from that Division, or from any of the District Offices of the Department of Commerce, as well as from the Committee for Reciprocity Information, or the Department of State.

CORDELL HULL, Secretary of State.

INTRODUCTORY

These regulations relate to the tax on the manufacture of manufactured sugar imposed under section 402 of the Sugar Act of 1937 (Public, No. 414, Seventy-fifth Congress), approved September 1, 1937.

Chapter I defines terms that are used in the Act and in these regulations.

Chapter II deals with the imposition of the tax.

Chapter III describes the procedure for filing claims for payment based on the exportation of manufactured sugar or articles processed wholly or partly from manufactured sugar.

Chapter IV deals with the procedure for filing claims for payment based on the utilization of manufactured sugar as live-stock feed, in the production of live-stock feed, and in the distillation of alcohol.

Chapter V contains miscellaneous provisions, including those relating to the filing of returns, payment of the tax, refunds, and penalties.

For convenient reference, the complete text of Title IV of the Sugar Act of 1937 has been set forth in an appendix to these regulations.[1] The applicable provisions of the Act as well as applicable provisions of certain other internal revenue laws will be found in the appropriate places in these regulations. The sections of the law quoted, except as otherwise indicated, are contained in the Sugar Act of 1937.

CHAPTER I

DEFINITIONS

SECTION 401 OF THE ACT

For the purposes of this title—

(a) The term "person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, or association.

(b) The term "manufactured sugar" means any sugar derived from sugar beets or sugarcane, which is not to be, and which shall not be, further refined or otherwise improved in quality; except sugar in liquid form which contains nonsugar solids (excluding any foreign substance that may have been added) equal to more than 6 per centum of the total soluble solids, and except also sirup of cane juice produced from sugarcane grown in continental United States.

The grades or types of sugar within the meaning of this definition shall include, but shall not be limited to, granulated sugar, lump sugar, cube sugar, powdered sugar, sugar in the form of blocks, cones, or molded shapes, confectioners' sugar, washed sugar, centrifugal sugar, clarified sugar, turbinado sugar, plantation white sugar, muscovado sugar, refiners' soft sugar, invert sugar mush, raw sugar, sirups, molasses, and sugar mixtures.

(c) The term "total sugars" means the total amount of the sucrose (Clerget) and of the reducing or invert sugars. The total sugars contained in any grade or type of manufactured sugar shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in paragraphs 758, 759, 762, and 763 of the United States Customs Regulations (1931 edition).

(d) The term "United States" shall be deemed to include the States, the Territories of Hawaii and Alaska, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

ART. 100. Meaning of terms.—As used in these regulations—

(a) The terms defined in the applicable provisions of law shall have the meaning so assigned to them.

(b) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Treasury.

(c) The term "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

(d) The term "collector" means a collector of internal revenue.

(e) The term "Act" means the Sugar Act of 1937.

(f) The term "tax" means the tax imposed by section 402 of the Act.

(g) The term "manufacture" means that process of manufacturing which directly results in manufactured sugar.

(h) The term "manufacturer" means the person who performs that process of manufacturing which directly results in manufactured sugar. The term also includes any person who, having acquired any sugar which is to be manufactured into manufactured sugar, without further refining or improving it in quality, sells such sugar as manufactured sugar or uses such sugar as manufactured sugar in the production of other articles for sale.

(i) The terms "includes" and "including" when used in a statement contained in these regulations, shall not be deemed to exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of such statement.

CHAPTER II

TAX ON THE MANUFACTURE OF MANUFACTURED SUGAR

SECTION 406 OF THE ACT

The provisions of this title shall become effective on the date of enactment of this Act.

ART. 200. Effective date.—The tax is effective with respect to the manufacture of manufactured sugar from the first moment of September 1, 1937, the date of enactment of the Sugar Act of 1937. (See article 205.)

ART. 201. Geographical scope.—The tax is applicable to the manufacture of manufactured sugar in the United States, which is defined in the Act to include only the States, the Territories of Hawaii and Alaska, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

SECTION 402 (a) AND (b) OF THE ACT

(a) Upon manufactured sugar manufactured in the United States there shall be levied, collected and paid a tax, to be paid by the manufacturer at the following rates:

(1) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.465 cent per pound, and for each additional sugar degree shown by the polariscopic test, 0.00875 cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion;

(2) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope less than ninety-two sugar degrees, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein.

(b) Any person who acquires any sugar which is to be manufactured into manufactured sugar but who, without further refining or otherwise improving it in quality, sells such sugar as manufactured sugar or uses such sugar as manufactured sugar in the production of other articles for sale shall be considered for the purposes of this section the manufacturer of manufactured sugar and, as such, liable for the tax hereunder with respect thereto.

ART. 202. Rate of tax.—The rates of tax imposed upon the manufacture of manufactured sugar are:

(a) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope 92 sugar degrees, 0.465 cent per pound, and for each additional sugar degree shown by the polariscopic test, 0.00875 cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion;

(b) On all manufactured sugar testing by the polariscope less than 92 sugar degrees, 0.5144 cent per pound of the total sugars therein.

(See section 401 (b) of the Act for definition of "manufactured sugar.")

ART. 203. Measure of tax.—The measure of the tax is the number of pounds of manufactured sugar produced by the manufacturer. In the case of a person considered, under section 402 (b) of the Act, to be a manufacturer, the measure of the tax is the number of pounds of manufactured sugar sold, or used in the production of other articles for sale, by such person.

ART. 204. Liability for tax.—Liability for the tax attaches to the manufacturer. (See article 100 (h) for definition of "manufacturer.")

ART. 205. When the tax attaches.—(a) The tax attaches upon the completion of that process of manufacturing the direct result of which is manufactured sugar. If the completion of the manufacturing process takes place during the period the tax is in effect, the tax attaches, notwithstanding that some part of the manufacturing process took place before such period.

(b) If a person acquires sugar to be manufactured into manufactured sugar, and, without further refining or improving it in quality, sells such sugar as manufactured sugar, or uses it as manufactured sugar in the production of other articles for sale, such person is liable for the tax as a manufacturer. The tax attaches at the time of the sale of such sugar or at the time of its use in the production of other articles for sale, by such person.

(See article 502, relating to payment of tax.)

SECTION 402 (d) OF THE ACT

(d) No tax shall be required to be paid upon the manufacture of manufactured sugar by, or for, the producer of the sugar beets or sugarcane from which such manufactured sugar was derived, for consumption by the producer's own family, employees, or household.

ART. 206. Exemption.—No tax is required to be paid on the manufacture of manufactured sugar by, or for, the producer of the sugar beets or sugarcane from which such manufactured sugar was derived, for consumption by the producer's own family, employees, or household. This exemption is applicable only in cases where the producer in question is an individual; it does not apply if the producer of the sugar beets or sugarcane is a corporation.

To support the exemption from tax under the provisions of section 402 (d) of the Act with respect to that quantity of manufactured sugar delivered by the manufacturer to the producer, the manufacturer shall obtain from each producer an affidavit or certificate, in duplicate, on Form 2 (Sugar). The original affidavit or certificate shall be filed with the return on which the exemption is claimed, and a duplicate copy kept on the premises where the manufacturing was done. Such affidavit on Form 2 (Sugar) shall be executed by the producer with respect to each lot of manufactured sugar delivered to him by the manufacturer.

It is not necessary that the manufactured sugar received by the producer be manufactured from the identical sugar beets or sugarcane delivered. The manufacturer may deliver to the producer an amount of manufactured sugar not in excess of the amount which would have been manufactured from the particular quantity of sugar beets or sugarcane the producer has delivered to the manufacturer. All the manufactured sugar to be delivered to a producer for consumption by his family, employees, or household need not be delivered to him at one time, but a separate affidavit or certificate on Form 2 (Sugar) must be obtained for each withdrawal.

The deduction in the manufacturer's return in connection with this exemption is limited to manufactured sugar actually delivered to the producer during the period for which the return is made and shall not include any quantity of manufactured sugar which has not actually been delivered to the producer.

Under the Act this exemption is applicable only to that quantity of manufactured sugar required by the producer for consumption by his family, employees, or household. The manufacturer is required to exercise care in accepting affidavits or certificates from producers to ascertain that no quantity of manufactured sugar in excess of that required for such use is delivered to the producer under this exemption.

CHAPTER III

EXPORT PAYMENTS

SECTION 404 (a) OF THE ACT

(a) Upon the exportation from the United States to a foreign country, or the shipment from the United States to any possession of the United States except Puerto Rico, of any manufactured sugar, or any article manufactured wholly or partly from manufactured sugar, with respect to which tax under the provisions of section 402 has been paid, the amount of such tax shall be paid by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to the consignor named in the bill of lading under which the article was exported or shipped to a possession, or to the shipper, if the consignor waives any claim thereto in favor of such shipper: Provided, That no such payment shall be allowed with respect to any manufactured sugar, or article, upon which, through substitution or otherwise, a drawback of any tax paid under section 403 has been or is to be claimed under any provisions of law made applicable by section 403.

SECTION 404 (a) OF THE ACT

(c) No payment shall be allowed under this section unless within one year after the right to such payment has accrued a claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto.

ART. 300. Who may file the claim.—The person named as consignor in the bill of lading under which the manufactured sugar, or an article processed wholly or partly therefrom, is exported or shipped has the primary right to claim the export payment provided for in section 404 (a) of the Act. Such person may, however, waive any claim thereto in favor of the shipper, in which case the shipper will be recognized as the proper claimant.

A waiver in substantially the following form shall be used:

_____, the consignor named in the bill of lading to which this waiver is affixed or attached, do (es) waive in favor of_____ (shipper) any claim for (here insert name of shipper)
payment allowable under the provisions of section 404 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1937, by reason of the exportation or shipment of the articles described in such bill of lading, and state (s) that such party is the actual shipper of the article or articles exported.

(Consignor named in the bill of lading.)

ART. 301. Claim for payment.—Claim for an export payment shall be executed by the claimant on the form prescribed by the Commissioner in accordance with the instructions contained thereon and in accordance with these regulations. The claim shall be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which is located the principal place of business of the claimant. If the claimant has no principal place of business in the United States, the claim shall be filed with the collector of internal revenue at Baltimore, Md.

ART. 302. Proof of exportation or shipment.—No export payment shall be allowed unless the claimant establishes actual exportation to a foreign country or shipment to a possession. Exportation to a foreign country or shipment to a possession may be evidenced by (a) a copy of the export bill of lading, or (b) a certificate by an agent or representative of the carrier showing actual delivery of the manufactured sugar or articles in a foreign country or a possession of the United States, or (c) a certificate of landing signed by a customs officer of the foreign country to which the manufactured sugar or articles are delivered, or (d) if such foreign country has no customs administration, or in the case of shipment to a possession, a sworn statement of the consignee showing receipt of the manufactured sugar or articles.

ART. 303. Limitations on allowance.—(a) Time for filing claim.—No export payment shall be allowed unless claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto within one year from the date the right to such payment accrued. The right to payment accrues as of the date the articles are exported.

(b) Drawback of duty.—No export payment is allowable with respect to any manufactured sugar, or article manufactured wholly or partly from manufactured sugar, upon which through substitution or otherwise a drawback of any tax paid under section 403 of the Act (import compensating tax) has been or is to be claimed under any provision of law made applicable by section 403 of the Act.

CHAPTER IV

LIVESTOCK FEED AND DISTILLATION PAYMENTS

SECTION 404 (b) AND (c) OF THE ACT

(b) Upon the use of any manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, as livestock feed, or in the production of livestock feed, or for the distillation of alcohol, there shall be paid by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to the person so using such manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, the amount of any tax paid under section 402 with respect thereto.

(c) No payment shall be allowed under this section unless within one year after the right to such payment has accrued a claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto.

ART. 400. Filing of claim.—Any person using any manufactured sugar, or an article manufactured therefrom, with respect to which a tax has been paid under section 402, as (1) live-stock feed, (2) in the production of live-stock feed, or (3) for the distillation of alcohol, may file a claim for payment of the amount of tax paid. The claim for payment shall be executed by the claimant on the form prescribed by the Commissioner, in accordance with the instructions contained thereon, and in accordance with these regulations. The claim shall be filed with the collector for the district in which is located the principal place of business of the claimant. If the claimant has no principal place of business in the United States, the claim shall be filed with the collector at Baltimore, Md.

ART. 401. Proof of claim.—No claim for payment under section 404 (b) of the Act will be allowed unless the claimant establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner (a) that the tax with respect to the manufactured sugar upon which the claim is based was actually paid; (b) that the manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, was actually used in the production of live-stock feed, or as live-stock feed, or for the distillation of alcohol; (c) the quantity and test of the manufactured sugar upon which the claim is based; and (d) such other facts as may be required to determine the claimant's right to the payment.

ART. 402. Period for filing claim.—No payment under section 404 (b) of the Act will be allowed unless claim therefor is filed by the person entitled thereto within one year from the date the right to such payment accrued. The right to payment accrues as of the date the manufactured sugar, or article manufactured therefrom, is used for one of the three purposes for which payment is allowable under the Act. (See article 400.)

CHAPTER V

ADMINISTRATIVE AND OTHER GENERAL PROVISIONS

Returns and Payment of Tax

SECTION 405 (a) OF THE ACT

(a) Except as otherwise provided, the taxes imposed by this title shall be collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury. Such taxes shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States

SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

(b) All provisions of law, including penalties, applicable with respect to the taxes imposed under title IV of the Revenue Act of 1932, shall, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this title, be applicable in respect to the tax imposed by section 402. • • •

SECTION 402 (c) OF THE ACT

(c) The manufacturer shall file on the last day of each month a return and pay the tax with respect to manufactured sugar manufactured after the effective date of this title (1) which has been sold, or used in the production of other articles, by the manufacturer during the preceding month (if the tax has not already been paid) and (2) which has not been so sold or used within twelve months ending during the preceding calendar month, after it was manufactured (if the tax has not already been paid): Provided, That the first return and payment of the tax shall not be due until the last day of the second month following the month in which this title takes effect.

For the purpose of determining whether sugar has been sold or used within twelve months after it was manufactured sugar shall be considered to have been sold or used in the order in which it was manufactured.

SECTION 626 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

(a) Every person liable for any tax imposed by this title * * * shall make monthly returns under oath in duplicate and pay the taxes imposed by this title to the collector for the district in which is located his principal place of business or, if he has no principal place of business in the United States, then to the collector at Baltimore, Maryland. Such returns shall contain such information and be made at such times and in such manner as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulations prescribe.

(b) The tax shall, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, be due and payable to the collector at the time so fixed for filing the return. * * *

SECTION 405 (d) OF THE ACT

(d) Any person required, pursuant to the provisions of section 402, to file a return may be required to file such return with and pay the tax shown to be due thereon to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the manufacturing was done or the liability incurred.

SECTION 1102 (c) AND (d) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 627 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932 AND BY SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

(c) The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulation prescribe that any return required by any internal revenue law * * * to be under oath may, if the amount of the tax covered thereby is not in excess of $10, be signed or acknowledged before two witnesses instead of under oath.

(d) Any oath or affirmation required by the provisions of this Act or regulations made under authority thereof may be administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by the law of the United States or of any State, Territory, or possession of the United States, wherein such oath or affirmation is administered, or by any consular officer of the United States.

ART. 500. Returns.—Every person liable for the tax shall prepare for each calendar month a return in duplicate on Form 1 (Sugar) in accordance with the instructions thereon and in accordance with these regulations.

A separate return shall be prepared for each collection district in which the manufacturing was done or liability for the tax incurred. That is, if the taxpayer is engaged in the manufacture of manufactured sugar (or incurs liability for tax as a manufacturer under section 402 (b) of the Act) in more than one collection district, he shall prepare a separate return with respect to the liability for the tax incurred in each such district. (See, however, article 501.)

If, within a collection district, the taxpayer has more than one factory, refinery, or other place where he manufactures manufactured sugar, there shall be prepared and annexed to the return for such district a separate schedule for each such factory, refinery, or other place, giving for each such place the information required on Form 1 (Sugar).

The return shall be under oath and verified before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths. If the amount of the tax shown by the return to be due is $10 or less, the return may be signed and executed before two subscribing witnesses instead of under oath.

ART. 501. Time and place for filing returns.—The return for each calendar month shall be filed in duplicate with the collector for the district in which the manufacturing is done, or liability for the tax incurred, on or before the last day of the month following the month for which the return has been prepared. For example, the return for the month of October, 1937, is required to be filed on or before November 30, 1937. However, the due date of the first return of tax, for the month of September, 1937, is fixed in the Act as November 30, 1937.

The Commissioner, on application and for good cause shown, may permit a taxpayer who is engaged in the manufacture of manufactured sugar in more than one collection district to file consolidated returns and pay the tax to the collector for the district in which such taxpayer has his principal place of business.

ART. 502. Payment of tax.—(a) General.—The tax shall, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, be due and payable to the collector on the last day of the month following the month in which the manufactured sugar was sold by the manufacturer, or used by him in the production of other articles for sale. However, an exception is made with respect to the first return and payment of tax under the Act: The tax with respect to manufactured sugar manufactured in the month of September, 1937, and sold, or used in the production of other articles for sale, in such month by the manufacturer, shall be due and payable without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, on November 30, 1937.

With respect to manufactured sugar which has not been sold, or used in the production of other articles for sale, by the manufacturer, within 12 months from the month in which manufactured, the tax shall be due and payable, without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, on the last day of the month following the month in which such 12-month period expires.

For the purpose of determining whether manufactured sugar has been sold, or used in the production of other articles for sale, by the manufacturer, within 12 months after it was manufactured, such sugar shall be considered to have been sold or used in the order in which it was manufactured.

With respect to sugar which has been acquired by a person to be manufactured into manufactured sugar but which, without further refining or other improvement in quality, is sold as manufactured sugar or is used as manufactured sugar in the production of other articles for sale, the tax with respect thereto is due and payable without assessment by the Commissioner or notice from the collector, on the last day of the month following the month in which such sugar was so sold or used. However, the due date for payment of tax liability incurred in September, 1937, is fixed as November 30, 1937.

(b) Examples.—

Example 1: A quantity of manufactured sugar, manufactured in the month of October, 1937, is sold by the manufacturer during the month of December, 1937. The tax with respect to such manufactured sugar is due and payable on or before January 31, 1938.

Example 2: On September 30, 1938, the manufacturer still has on hand, unsold, a quantity of manufactured sugar manufactured by him in the month of September, 1937. The tax with respect to such manufactured sugar is due and payable on or before October 31, 1938.

Example 3: A quantity of manufactured sugar manufactured in September, 1937, was destroyed by fire in December, 1937, prior to a sale by the manufacturer. The tax with respect to such sugar is due and payable on or before October 31, 1938.

(c) Date of sale.—Manufactured sugar will be considered to have been sold during the month in which title thereto passes from the manufacturer to a purchaser. When title passes is dependent upon the intention of the parties, which is gathered from the contract of sale and the attendant circumstances. In the absence of expressed intention or other direct evidence, the legal rules of presumption followed in the jurisdiction where the sale is made govern in determining when title passes. Generally, for the purposes of payment of the tax, manufactured sugar will be considered to have been sold during the month in which it was delivered to the purchaser or to a carrier for delivery to the purchaser.

SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

(b) * * * If the tax is not paid when due there shall be added as part of the tax interest at 6 per centum per annum from the date the tax became due until the date of payment.

ART. 503. Interest on delinquent taxes.—If the tax is not paid when due there shall be added as part of the tax interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the time the tax became due until paid.

SECTION 1102 (a) AND (b) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 627 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932 AND SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

(a) Every person liable to any tax imposed by this Act, or for the collection thereof, shall keep such records, render under oath such statements, make such returns, and comply with such rules and regulations, as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe.

(b) Whenever in the judgment of the Commissioner necessary he may require any person, by notice served upon him, to make a return, render under oath such statements, or keep such records as the Commissioner deems sufficient to show whether or not such person is liable to tax.

SECTION 1104 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 618 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 627 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932 AND SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

The Commissioner, for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any return or for the purpose of making a return where none has been made, is hereby authorized, by any officer or employee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including the field service, designated by him for that purpose, to examine any books, papers, records, or memoranda bearing upon the matters required to be included in the return, and may require the attendance of the person rendering the return or of any officer or employee of such person, or the attendance of any other person having knowledge in the premises, and may take his testimony with reference to the matter required by law to be included in such return, with power to administer oaths to such person or persons.

ART. 504. Records.—(a) Inventory.—Every manufacturer of manufactured sugar shall make an itemized inventory of all manufactured sugar held by him, as of the first moment of September 1, 1937. A separate inventory shall be made for each factory, refinery, or other place where such person holds or manufactures manufactured sugar, and a copy of such inventory shall be retained on the premises.

(b) Manufacturing records.—Every person who on and after September 1, 1937, manufactures manufactured sugar shall keep an accurate record of the manufacturing done by him. A separate record shall be kept at and for each place where the manufacturing is done.

Such records shall show: The quantity of manufactured sugar and other sugar on hand at the beginning of the month; the quantity received during the month; the quantity of manufactured sugar produced during the month; the quantity sold during the month; the quantity of manufactured sugar used during the month in the production of other articles for sale; and the quantity of manufactured sugar and other sugar on hand at the end of the month. The records shall show the polariscopic test or total sugars of each grade and type of sugar and manufactured sugar.

The records shall contain sufficient information to enable the Commissioner to determine the amount of tax due. Records shall likewise be kept of all transactions involved in any way in any claim or deduction based upon an exemption, or in connection with any claim for payment, refund, credit, or abatement. All records shall be open for inspection by internal revenue officers and shall be maintained for a period of at least four years from the date the return is filed.

Closing Agreements

SECTION 606 (a) AND (b) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928

(a) Authorization.—The Commission (or any officer or employee of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, including the field service, authorized in writing by the Commissioner) is authorized to enter into an agreement in writing with any person relating to the liability of such person (or of the person or estate for whom he acts) in respect of any internal-revenue tax for any taxable period ending prior to the date of the agreement.

(b) Finality of agreements.—If such agreement is approved by the Secretary, or the Undersecretary, within such time as may be stated in such agreement, or later agreed to, such agreement shall be final and conclusive, and, except upon a showing of fraud or malfeasance, or misrepresentation of a material fact—

(1) the case shall not be reopened as to the matters agreed upon or the agreement modified, by any officer, employee, or agent of the United States, and

(2) in any suit, action, or proceeding, such agreement, or any determination, assessment, collection, payment, abatement, refund, or credit made in accordance therewith, shall not be annulled, modified, set aside, or disregarded.

Jeopardy Assessments

(a) If the Commissioner believes that the collection of any tax (other than income tax, estate tax, and gift tax) under any provision of the internal-revenue laws will be jeopardized by delay, he shall, whether or not the time otherwise prescribed by law for making return and paying such tax has expired, immediately assess such tax (together with all interest and penalties the assessment of which is provided for by law). Such tax, penalties, and interest shall thereupon become immediately due and payable, and immediate notice and demand shall be made by the collector for the payment thereof. Upon failure or refusal to pay such tax, penalty, and interest, collection thereof by distraint shall be lawful without regard to the period prescribed in section 3187 of the Revised Statutes, as amended.

(b) The collection of the whole or any part of the amount of such assessment may be stayed by filing with the collector a bond in such amount, not exceeding double the amount as to which the stay is desired, and with such sureties, as the collector deems necessary, conditioned upon the payment of the amount collection of which is stayed, at the time at which, but for this section, such amount would be due.

Penalties

SECTION 3176, UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1103 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926 AND SECTION 619 (d) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928

* * * In case of any failure to make and file a return or list within the time prescribed by law, or prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or the collector in pursuance of law, the Commissioner shall add to the tax 25 per centum of its amount, except that when a return is filed after such time and it is shown that the failure to file it was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, no such addition shall be made to the tax. In case a false or fraudulent return or list is willfully made, the Commissioner shall add to the tax 50 per centum of its amount.

The amount so added to any tax shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner and as a part of the tax unless the tax has been paid before the discovery of the neglect, falsity, or fraud, in which case the amount so added shall be collected in the same manner as the tax.

SECTION 406, REVENUE ACT OF 1935

In the case of a failure to make and file an internal-revenue tax return required by law, within the time prescribed by law or prescribed by the Commissioner in pursuance of law, if the last date so prescribed for filing the return is after the date of the enactment of this Act, if a 25 per centum addition to the tax is prescribed by existing law, then there shall be added to the tax, in lieu of such 25 per centum: 5 per centum if the failure is for not more than 30 days, with an additional 5 per centum for each additional 30 days or fraction thereof during which failure continues, not to exceed 25 per centum in the aggregate.

SECTION 3184, UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES

Where it is not otherwise provided, the collector shall in person or by deputy, within ten days after receiving any list of taxes from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, give notice to each person liable to pay any taxes stated therein, to be left at his dwelling or usual place of business, or to be sent by mail, stating the amount of such taxes and demanding payment thereof. If such person does not pay the taxes within ten days after the service or the sending by mail of such notice, it shall be the duty of the collector or his deputy to collect the said taxes with a penalty of five per centum additional upon the amount of taxes, and interest at the rate of one per centum a month.

ART. 505. Penalties.—A failure to file a return as required by these regulations causes to accrue a penalty of 5 per cent of the amount of the tax if such failure is for not more than 30 days, with an additional 5 per cent for each additional 30 days or fraction thereof during which failure continues. In no case, however, shall the penalty exceed 25 per cent in the aggregate.

If assessment is made of the tax, penalty, or interest, and payment is not made within 10 days after the issuance of the form for first notice and demand, based on assessment approved by the Commissioner, there will accrue a 5 per cent penalty, and interest at the rate of 6 per cent a year computed upon the entire assessment (including penalty and interest, if any) from 10 days after issuance of said form until date of payment. In cases where assessment is settled by partial payments, interest is to be computed from the expiration of the first 10-day notice through the date of the first payment and from the next succeeding day to the date of the next payment, until the assessment is paid in full.

If a claim for abatement is filed with the collector within 10 days after the date of the issuance of the first notice and demand, the 5 per cent penalty does not attach. If the assessment is not paid within 10 days after receipt of notice of rejection of the claim, the 5 per cent penalty applies. The filing of the claim does not stay the running of interest, which continues to run for the full period that intervenes between the date of expiration of the first notice and demand and the date of payment.

If a false or fraudulent return be willfully made, the penalty under section 3176 of the Revised Statutes is 50 per cent of the total tax due.

Refunds

SECTION 3220 OF THE UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1111 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926 AND SECTION 619 (b) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928

Except as otherwise provided • • • the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to remit, refund, and pay back all taxes erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, all penalties collected without authority, and all taxes that appear to be unjustly assessed or excessive in amount, or in any manner wrongfully collected; • • •.

SECTION 3228 (a) OF THE UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 1112 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, SECTION 619 (c) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1928, AND SECTION 1106 (a) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932

(a) All claims for the refunding or crediting of any internal-revenue tax alleged to have been erroneously or illegally assessed or collected, or of any penalty alleged to have been collected without authority, or of any sum alleged to have been excessive or in any manner wrongfully collected must, • • • be presented to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue within four years next after the payment of such tax, penalty, or sum. The amount of the refund • • • shall not exceed the portion of the tax, penalty, or sum paid during the four years immediately preceding the filing of the claim, or if no claim was filed, then during the four years immediately preceding the allowance of the refund.

SECTION 621 (c) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 401 (c) OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1935, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

(c) Interest shall be allowed at the rate of 6 per centum per annum with respect to any amount of tax under this title credited or refunded, • • •.

ART. 506. Refunds.—A tax (including any penalty or interest) erroneously, illegally, or otherwise wrongfully collected may be refunded by the Commissioner. A claim for such refund shall be made on Form 843 in accordance with the instructions printed on such form and in accordance with these regulations. Copies of the prescribed forms may be obtained from the collector. The claim shall set forth clearly in detail the reasons and facts relied upon in support of the claim, shall be made under oath, and presented within four years next after payment of such taxes.

Additional Penalties

SECTION 1123 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1926, MADE APPLICABLE BY SECTION 627 OF THE REVENUE ACT OF 1932 AND SECTION 405 (b) OF THE ACT

Whoever in connection with the sale or lease, or offer for sale or lease, of any article, or for the purpose of making such sale or lease, makes any statement, written or oral, (1) intended or calculated to lead any person to believe that any part of the price at which such article is sold or leased, or offered for sale or lease, consists of a tax imposed under the authority of the United States, or (2) ascribing a particular part of such price to a tax imposed under the authority of the United States, knowing that such statement is false or that the tax is not so great as the portion of such price ascribed to such tax, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

SECTION 35 OF THE CRIMINAL CODE OF THE UNITED STATES, AS AMENDED BY ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED JUNE 18, 1934 (PUBLIC, NO. 394, SEVENTY-THIRD CONGRESS)

Whoever shall make or cause to be made or present or cause to be presented, for payment or approval, to or by any person or officer in the civil, military, or naval service of the United States, or any department thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, any claim upon or against the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, knowing such claim to be false, fictitious, or fraudulent; or whoever shall knowingly and willfully falsify or conceal or cover up by any trick, scheme, or device a material fact, or make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent statements or representations, or make or use or cause to be made or used any false bill, receipt, voucher, roll, account, claim, certificate, affidavit, or deposition, knowing the same to contain any fraudulent or fictitious statement or entry, in any matter within the jurisdiction of any department or agency of the United States or of any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder; • • • or whoever shall enter into any agreement, combination, or conspiracy to defraud the Government of the United States, or any department or officer thereof, or any corporation in which the United States of America is a stockholder, by obtaining or aiding to obtain the payment or allowance of any false or fraudulent claim; • • • shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both. • • •

Whenever any person fraudulently claims or seeks to obtain an allowance of drawback on goods, wares, or merchandise on which no internal duty shall have been paid, or fraudulently claims any greater allowance of drawback than the tax actually paid as aforesaid, he shall forfeit triple the amount wrongfully or fraudulently claimed or sought to be obtained, or the sum of five hundred dollars, at the election of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Authority for Regulations

SECTION 405 (c) OF THE ACT

(c) The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out all provisions of this title except section 403.

In pursuance of the provisions of section 405 (c) of the Act and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, the foregoing regulations are hereby prescribed.

WR—B-101—Arizona, Supplement 3 Issued October 23, 1937

1937 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM—WESTERN REGION

WR BULLETIN NO. 101—ARIZONA, SUPPLEMENT 3

Amendments to WR—B-101—Arizona, as Amended

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are amended to make clear the authorization of payment for establishment in 1937 of a good stand of such crops when seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of such practices under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program;

Part VI, Section 6, is amended by the addition of subsection C designed to preclude duplicate payments; and

Part XI is amended by the addition of Section 6 containing multiple farm provisions with respect to sugar beets.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, Western Region Bulletin No. 101—Arizona, as amended by Supplement 1 and Supplement 2, is further amended by this supplement as follows:

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are each amended as follows:

Item 1 of each such practice is amended by deleting therefrom the words "Seeding and", by capitalizing the first letter in the word "establishment", by replacing the period at the end of each sentence with a comma, and by adding at the end of each item the expression "provided that such stand is obtained from a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Item 2 of each such practice is amended by inserting immediately following the words "Seeding on cropland in 1937" the expression "or establishment on cropland in 1937 of a good stand of a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Items a and b of said Items 2 are revised to read as follows:

"a. Seeded in 1937, either alone or with a nurse crop which is not harvested for grain or hay."

"b. Seeded with a nurse crop which is harvested for grain or hay."

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of the following subsection C:

"C. Payment will not be made for any soil-building or range-building practice with respect to which a payment was received or applied for under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part XI is amended by the addition of section 6, as follows:

"SEC. 6. Determination of sugar beet payment.—The amount of sugar beet payment to be made to any applicant with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets on the farms owned or operated in the county by such applicant shall be determined as follows:

A. Determine for each farm the applicant's share of the maximum possible payments computed with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets, without regard to any practices carried out on the farm with relation to sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute for each farm the applicant's share of the acreage of soil-conserving crops required to qualify the 1937 acreage of sugar beets for full payment in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 3, subsection A or subsection B, whichever is applicable for the farm. Total the amounts thus obtained.

C. Compute for each farm the applicant's share[1] of the acreage devoted to soil-conserving crops in 1937 on land customarily used in rotation with sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

D. If the total obtained under subsection C above equals or exceeds the total obtained under subsection B above, the amount obtained under subsection A above shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of sugar beet payment to the applicant.

E. If the total obtained under subsection C above is less than the total obtained under subsection B above.

1. Divide the total obtained under subsection C above by the total obtained under subsection B above, and multiply the percentage thus obtained by the amount obtained under subsection A above.

2. Compute for each farm individually the applicant's share of the sugar beet payment determined in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 3. Total the amounts thus obtained.

F. The amount obtained under subsection E, item 1, above, or the amount obtained under subsection E, item 2, above, whichever is the larger, shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of the sugar beet payment to the applicant."

Done at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of October, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] H. A. WALLACE,
Secretary of Agriculture.

[F. R. Doc. 37-3120; Filed, October 25, 1937; 12:39 p. m.]

[1] If sugar beets were not grown on the farm in 1937, the applicant's share shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Part V.

WR BULLETIN NO. 101—CALIFORNIA, SUPPLEMENT 3

Amendments to WR—B-101—California, as Amended

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are amended to make clear the authorization of payment for establishment in 1937 of a good stand of such crops when seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of such practices under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program;

Part III, Section 1, Practice F is amended to authorize payment for growing in 1937 crested wheat grass seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program;

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of subsection C designed to preclude duplicate payments; and

Part XI is amended by the addition of Section 6 containing multiple farm provisions with respect to sugar beets.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, Western Region Bulletin 101—California as amended by Supplement 1, and Supplement 2, is further amended by this supplement as follows:

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are each amended as follows:

Item 1 of each such practice is amended by deleting therefrom the words "Seeding and", by capitalizing the first letter in the word "establishment", by replacing the period at the end of each sentence with a comma, and by adding at the end of each item the expression "provided that such stand is obtained from a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Item 2 of each such practice is amended by inserting immediately following the words "Seeding on cropland in 1937" the expression "or establishment on cropland in 1937 of a good stand of a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Items a and b of said Items 2 are revised to read as follows:

"a. Seeded in 1937, either alone or with a nurse crop which is not harvested for grain or hay."

"b. Seeded with a nurse crop which is harvested for grain or hay."

Part III, Section 1, Practice F is amended to read as follows:

"Crested Wheat Grass, seeded on cropland in 1937, or grown in 1937 on cropland if seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of the following subsection C:

"C. Payment will not be made for any soil-building or range-building practice with respect to which a payment was received or applied for under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part XI is amended by the addition of Section 6, as follows:

"SEC. 6. Determination of sugar beet payment.—The amount of sugar beet payment to be made to any applicant with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets on the farms owned or operated in the county by such applicant shall be determined as follows:

A. Determine for each farm the applicant's share of the maximum possible payment computed with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets, without regard to any practices carried out on the farm with relation to sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute for each farm the applicant's share of the acreage of sugar beets grown on the farm in 1937. Total the amounts thus obtained.

C. Compute for each farm the applicant's share[1] of the sum of the following:

1. The acreage of soil-conserving crops in 1937 on land customarily used in rotation with sugar beets, multiplied by 2.5.

2. The acreage of green manure or cover crops planted on acreage devoted to sugar beets in 1937 immediately following the harvest of the sugar beets and turned under in the fall or winter after 90 days unpastured growth, multiplied by 1.25.

3. The acreage of green manure or cover crops turned under on the acreage devoted to sugar beets in 1937 immediately preceding the planting of the sugar beets, multiplied by 1.25.

4. The acreage of sugar beets grown in 1937 on land devoted to perennial or biennial legumes in 1936. Total the amounts thus obtained.

D. If the total obtained under subsection C above equals or exceeds the total obtained under subsection B above, the amount obtained under subsection A above shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of sugar beet payment to the applicant.

E. If the total obtained under subsection C above is less than the total obtained under subsection B above—

1. Divide the total obtained under subsection C above, by the total obtained under subsection B above, and multiply the percentage thus obtained by the amount obtained under subsection A above.

2. Compute for each farm the applicant's share[1] of the acreage of soil-conserving crops required to qualify the 1937 acreage of sugar beets for full payment in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 4, subsection A or subsection F, whichever is applicable for the farm. Total the amounts thus obtained.

3. Compute for each farm the applicant's share[1] of the acreage devoted to soil-conserving crops in 1937 on land customarily used in rotation with sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

4. If the total obtained under item 3 above, equals or exceeds the total obtained under item 2 above, the amount obtained under subsection A above shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of sugar beet payment to the applicant.

F. If the total obtained under subsection E, item 3 above, is less than the total obtained under subsection E, item 2 above—

1. Divide the total obtained under subsection E, item 3, by the total obtained under subsection E, item 2, and multiply the percentage thus obtained by the amount obtained under subsection A above.

2. Compute for each farm individually the applicant's share of the sugar beet payment determined in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 4. Total the amounts thus obtained.

G. The amount obtained under subsection E, item 1 above, or the amount under subsection F, item 1 above, or the amount obtained under F, item 2 above, whichever is the largest, shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of sugar beet payment to the applicant."

"b. Seeded with a nurse crop which is harvested for grain or hay."

Part III, Section 1, Practice F is amended to read as follows:

"Crested Wheat Grass, seeded on cropland in 1937, or grown in 1937 on cropland if seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of the following subsection C:

"C. Payment will not be made for any soil-building or range-building practice with respect to which a payment was received or applied for under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part XI is amended by the addition of section 5, as follows:

"SEC. 5. Determination of sugar beet payment.—The amount of sugar beet payment to be made to any applicant with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets on the farms owned or operated in the county by such applicant shall be determined as follows:

A. Determine for each farm the applicant's share of the maximum possible payments computed with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets, without regard to any practices carried out on the farm with relation to sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute for each farm the applicant's share of the acreage of soil-conserving crops required to qualify the 1937 acreage of sugar beets for full payment in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 2, subsection A or subsection B, whichever is applicable for the farm. Total the amounts thus obtained.

C. Compute for each farm the applicant's share[1] of the acreage devoted to soil-conserving crops in 1937 on land customarily used in rotation with sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

D. If the total obtained under subsection C above equals or exceeds the total obtained under subsection B above the amount obtained under subsection A above shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of sugar beet payment to the applicant.

E. If the total obtained under subsection C above is less than the total obtained under subsection B above.

1. Divide the total obtained under subsection C above by the total obtained under subsection B above, and multiply the percentage thus obtained by the amount obtained under subsection A above.

2. Compute for each farm individually the applicant's share of the sugar beet payment determined in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 2. Total the amounts thus obtained.

F. The amount obtained under subsection E, item 1, above, or the amount obtained under subsection E, item 2, above, whichever is the larger, shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of the sugar beet payment to the applicant."

WR—B-101—Pondera County, Montana, Supplement 1
Issued October 23, 1937

1937 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM—WESTERN REGION

WR BULLETIN NO. 101—PONDERA COUNTY, MONTANA, SUPPLEMENT 1

Amendments to WR—B-101—Pondera County, Montana

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are amended to make clear the authorization of payment for establishment in 1937 of a good stand of such crops when seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of such practices under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program;

Part III, Section 1, Practice F is amended to authorize payment for growing in 1937 crested wheat grass seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program;

Part VI, Section 4 is amended by the addition of a sentence defining the terms "retired from production";

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of subsection C designed to preclude duplicate payments;

Part XI, Section 1, Paragraph C is amended to provide for deductions with respect to excess in soil-depleting crops; and

Part XI is amended by the addition of Section 3 containing multiple farm provisions with respect to sugar beets.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, Western Region Bulletin No. 101—Pondera County, Montana, is amended by this supplement as follows:

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are each amended as follows:

Item 1 of each such practice is amended by deleting therefrom the words "Seeding and", by capitalizing the first letter in the word "establishment", by replacing the period at the end of each sentence with a comma, and by adding at the end of each such item the expression "provided that such stand is obtained from a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Item 2 of each such practice is amended by inserting immediately following the words "Seeding on cropland in 1937" the expression "or establishment on cropland in 1937 of a good stand of a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Items a and b of said Items 2 are revised to read as follows:

"a. Seeded in 1937, either alone or with a nurse crop which is not harvested for grain or hay.

"b. Seeded with a nurse crop which is harvested for grain or hay."

Part III, Section 1, Practice F is amended to read as follows:

"Crested Wheat Grass, seeded on cropland in 1937, or grown in 1937 on cropland if seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part VI, Section 4 is amended by the addition of the following sentence:

"The terms 'retired from production' as used in this section mean cropland which will not be seeded to soil-depleting crops for a sufficient period to permit the establishment of a protective vegetative growth thereon."

[1] If sugar beets were not grown on the farm in 1937, the applicant's share shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Part V.

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of the following Subsection C:

"C. Payment will not be made for any soil-building or range-building practice with respect to which a payment was received or applied for under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part XI, Section 1, Paragraph C is amended to read as follows:

"C. The amount obtained under A above or the amount obtained under B above, whichever is the smaller, shall be the amount of soil-building payment to the applicant, subject to such deductions for excess soil-depleting crops on all such farms, determined for each farm pursuant to the provisions of Section 4, Part VI."

Part XI is amended by the addition of Section 3, as follows:

"SEC. 3. Determination of sugar beet payment.—The amount of sugar beet payment to be made to any applicant with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets on the farms owned or operated in the county by such applicant shall be determined as follows:

A. Determine for each farm the applicant's share of the maximum possible payments computed with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets, without regard to any practices carried out on the farm with relation to sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute for each farm the applicant's share of the acreage of soil-conserving crops required to qualify the 1937 acreage of sugar beets for full payment in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 2, subsection A or subsection B, whichever is applicable for the farm. Total the amounts thus obtained.

C. Compute for each farm the applicant's share[1] of the acreage devoted to soil-conserving crops in 1937 on land customarily used in rotation with sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

D. If the total obtained under subsection C above equals or exceeds the total obtained under subsection B above the amount obtained under subsection A above shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of sugar beet payment to the applicant.

E. If the total obtained under subsection C above is less than the total obtained under subsection B above,

1. Divide the total obtained under subsection C above by the total obtained under subsection B above, and multiply the percentage thus obtained by the amount obtained under subsection A above.

2. Compute for each farm individually the applicant's share of the sugar beet payment determined in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 2. Total the amounts thus obtained.

F. The amount obtained under subsection E, item 1, above, or the amount obtained under subsection E, item 2, above, whichever is the larger, shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of the sugar beet payment to the applicant."

Done at Washington, D. C., this 23rd day of October, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are amended to make clear the authorization of payment for establishment in 1937 of a good stand of such crops when seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of such practices under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program;

Part III, Section 1, Practice F is amended to authorize payment for growing in 1937 crested wheat grass seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program;

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of subsection C designed to preclude duplicate payments; and

Part XI is amended by the addition of Section 5 containing multiple farm provisions with respect to sugar beets.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under Section 8 of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, Western Region Bulletin No. 101—Weber and Davis Counties, Utah, as amended by Supplement 1 and

[1] If sugar beets were not grown on the farm in 1937, the applicant's share shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Part V.

[2] If sugar beets were not grown on the farm in 1937, the applicant's share shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Part V.

Supplement 2, is further amended by this Supplement as follows:

Part III, Section 1, Practices A, B, C, D, and E are each amended as follows:

Item 1 of each such practice is amended by deleteing therefrom the words "Seeding and", by capitalizing the first letter in the word "establishment", by replacing the period at the end of each sentence with a comma, and by adding at the end of each such item the expression "provided that such stand is obtained from a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Item 2 of each such practice is amended by inserting immediately following the words "Seeding on cropland in 1937" the expression "or establishment on cropland in 1937 of a good stand of a crop seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Items a and b of said Items 2 are revised to read as follows:

"a. Seeded in 1937, either alone or with a nurse crop which is not harvested for grain or hay."

"b. Seeded with a nurse crop which is harvested for grain or hay."

Part III, Section 1, Practice F is amended to read as follows:

"Crested Wheat Grass, seeded on cropland in 1937, or grown in 1937 on cropland if seeded subsequent to the final date for performance of this practice under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part VI, Section 6 is amended by the addition of the following subsection C:

"C. Payment will not be made for any soil-building or range-building practice with respect to which a payment was received or applied for under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program."

Part XI is amended by the addition of section 5, as follows:

"SEC. 5. Determination of sugar beet payment.—The amount of sugar beet payment to be made to any applicant with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets on the farms owned or operated in the county by such applicant shall be determined as follows:

A. Determine for each farm the applicant's share of the maximum possible payments computed with respect to the 1937 acreage of sugar beets, without regard to any practices carried out on the farm with relation to sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

B. Compute for each farm the applicant's share of the acreage of soil-conserving crops required to qualify the 1937 acreage of sugar beets for full payment in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 2, subsection A or subsection B, whichever is applicable for the farm. Total the amounts thus obtained.

C. Compute for each farm the applicant's share[1] of the acreage devoted to soil-conserving crops in 1937 on land customarily used in rotation with sugar beets. Total the amounts thus obtained.

D. If the total obtained under subsection C above equals or exceeds the total obtained under subsection B above, the amount obtained under subsection A above shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of sugar beet payment to the applicant.

E. If the total obtained under subsection C above is less than the total obtained under subsection B above,

1. Divide the total obtained under subsection C above by the total obtained under subsection B above, and multiply the percentage thus obtained by the amount obtained under subsection A above.

2. Compute for each farm individually the applicant's share of the sugar beet payment determined in accordance with the provisions of Part II, Section 2. Total the amounts thus obtained.

[1] If sugar beets were not grown on the farm in 1937, the applicant's share shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Part V.

F. The amount obtained under subsection E, item 1, above, or the amount obtained under subsection E, item 2, above, whichever is the larger, shall, subject to the applicable provisions of this Part XI, be the amount of the sugar beet payment to the applicant."

Done at Washington, D. C. this 23rd day of October, 1937. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

B. P. Q.—359 (Supplement No. 2) October 15, 1937

SUPPLEMENT NO. 2 TO INSTRUCTIONS TO INSPECTORS ON THE TREATMENT OF NURSERY PRODUCTS, FRUITS, VEGETABLES, AND SOIL, FOR THE JAPANESE BEETLE, PURSUANT TO NOTICE OF QUARANTINE NO. 48

Section II of Circular B. P. Q.—359 entitled "Instructions to Inspectors on the Treatment of Nursery Products, Fruits, Vegetables, and Soil, for the Japanese Beetle", is further supplemented as follows:

II. TREATMENT OF SOIL ABOUT THE ROOTS OF PLANTS

F. Paradichlorobenzene Treatment

The following instructions, based on the horizontal diffusion of gaseous paradichlorobenzene, do not supplant the instructions given in Supplement No. 1 to B. P. Q.—359, issued August 23, 1935, but modify them in such a manner that the treatment can be applied more safely to the smaller sizes of nursery plants.

Material—Paradichlorobenzene.—A technical grade or C. P. grade, ground into small-sized crystals, is satisfactory for this treatment.

Condition of plunging soil.—Paradichlorobenzene should be mixed with a light soil, which should be moist, friable, and relatively low in organic matter. It should be sifted through a half-inch mesh screen to remove large lumps, stones, and debris prior to mixing with paradichlorobenzene.

Condition of plant ball.—The plant balls should be moist, but not wet, and not over 6 inches in diameter. If the soil is wet the treatment will not be satisfactory; if the soil is dry the plants may be injured during the treatment.

Season.—Treatment can be made at any time between October 1 and May 1, providing the proper temperature conditions can be obtained.

Temperature, dosage, and exposure requirements.—The various combinations of temperature, dosage and exposure which are effective in destroying the larvae in plant balls of different diameters are given in Table 5. The temperatures given at the head of the different columns in Table 5 are considered to be the minimum temperature during the treatment.

Application of the treatment.—The treating-soil should be mixed immediately before being used, as follows: Spread the soil in a thin layer on a smooth surface of a floor, bench, or other suitable space, scatter the crystals uniformly over the surface of the soil, and mix thoroughly by means of a shovel, rake, hoe, or fork, turning the mass at least three times during the operation. It is necessary to remove the pots from potted plants before placing them in the treated soil. When the burlap on balled plants is of a coarse weave which will not inhibit the proper penetration of the gas, it may be left on the balls, but when the material is closely woven it should be removed. When the plants are ready for treatment, a layer of the treated soil is spread on a smooth hard surface such as a floor or bench. Then, a row of plants is placed on this soil with the balls spaced at least 1 inch apart. Then the spaces between the plant balls are filled with treated soil, taking care not to get it on top of the balls or in contact with the stems. Finally, about 1 inch of treated soil is placed firmly against the row of treated plants. The operation is repeated until all of the plants are in place. When completed, each plant ball is surrounded on the sides and bottom by at least 1 inch of treated soil.

Care of plants during treatment.—The plants should not be removed from the treated soil during the period of the treatment. If it is necessary to apply water to the plants during the treatment to prevent desiccation, the operation should be limited to a light syringing, under the supervision of an inspector. If sufficient water is applied to make the treated soil or the plant balls muddy, the insecticidal action of the gas may be seriously impaired.

Care of plants after treatment.—The insecticidal action of the gas is completed at the end of the period of treatment. It is advisable to avoid excessive watering of the plants after removing them from the treated soil in order to permit any residual gas to escape from the plant balls. Saturating the balls with water tends to prevent the escape of this residual gas and may cause some injury to the plants. It is possible to handle the plants after treatment by the usual nursery procedure, providing care is taken to avoid reinfestation.

TABLE 5.—Dosage, temperature, and exposure requirements for paradichlorobenzene to destroy larvae of the Japanese beetle by horizontal diffusion of the gas through plant balls of different widths

| Diameter of the plant balls in inches | Pounds of crystals per cubic yard of plunging soil | Days of treatment required when the minimum temperature in ° F is within the range indicated below | | | | | |

[1] The exposure is more than 10 days.

Varieties of plants.—In addition to the varieties of azaleas—Azalea hinodigiri, A. amoena, A. obtusa kiusiana var. Coral Bells, A. kaempferi vars. Cleopatra, Fedora, Othello, and Salmon Beauty—for which the treatment was originally recommended, the preliminary experiments indicate that the following varieties of plants might be treated satisfactorily by this procedure:

Anemone hupehensis.
Aquilegia sp. var. Mrs. Scott Elliott's hybrid.
Artemisia dracunculus.
Campanula medium.
Ceratostigma plumbaginoides.
Chyrsanthemum sp.
Dianthus caryophyllus var. Abbotsford Pink.
Digitalis purpurea.
Iberis amara.
Myosotis sp.
Pachysandra terminalis.
Phlox, sp. var. R. P. Struthers.
Santolina chamaecyparissus incana.
Stokesia laevis.
Thymus serpyllum.
Viola sp. var. Jersey Gem.
Viola sp. var. Rosina.

The treatment of the following varieties of potted plants by this procedure is still somewhat doubtful:

Cerastium biebersteini.
Fragaria sp. vars. Bun Special, Dorse, Fairfax, and Joe.
Limonium latifolium.
Papaver nudicaule.
P. orientale.
Primula veris.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

United States of America Before Federal Trade Commission

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of October, A. D., 1937.

Commissioners: William A. Ayres, Chairman; Garland S. Ferguson, Jr.; Charles H. March, Ewin L. Davis, Robert E. Freer.

[File No. 21-322]

IN THE MATTER OF TRADE PRACTICE RULES FOR THE RAYON INDUSTRY

PROMULGATION OF TRADE PRACTICE RULES

Due proceedings having been had under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the Act of Congress approved September 26, 1914 (38 Stat. 717),

It is now ordered, That the trade practice rules of Group I and of Group II, approved and accepted, respectively, by the Commission in this proceeding, be, and the same are, hereby promulgated for the Rayon Industry.

The rules promulgated herein by the Commission are designed to foster and promote fair competitive conditions and the protection of the purchasing and consuming public in the interest of both industry and the public. The requirements of the rules with respect to fiber, yarn, thread, strands or fabric are likewise applicable to such articles or commodities when contained in garments or other textile products or articles as well as when advertised, offered for sale, sold or distributed in the form of fiber, yarn, thread, strands or fabric.

Group I

The unfair trade practices which are embraced in Group I rules are considered to be unfair methods of competition or other illegal practices prohibited, within the purview of the Federal Government, by acts of Congress as construed in the decisions of the Federal Trade Commission or the courts; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use of such unlawful practices in or directly affecting interstate commerce.

RULE 1. Generic scope of word "Rayon".—The word rayon is the generic term for manufactured textile fiber or yarn produced chemically from cellulose or with a cellulose base and for thread, strands or fabric made therefrom, regardless of whether such fiber or yarn be made under the viscose, acetate, cuprammonium, nitrocellulose or other process. It is an unfair trade practice to cause such fiber or yarn or thread, strands or fabric made therefrom to be sold, offered for sale, distributed, advertised, described, branded, labeled or otherwise represented: (1) as not being rayon; or (2) as being something other than rayon; or (3) without disclosure of the fact that such material or product is rayon, made clearly and unequivocally in the invoices and labeling and in all advertising matter, sales promotional descriptions or representations thereof however disseminated or published.

RULE 2. Designation of manufacturing processes.—It is an unfair trade practice to cause any such rayon product to be represented as having been made by a certain process when such is not the fact or when the same has been made by a different process, or otherwise to cause the character, properties, quality or grade of any such rayon product to be represented falsely or deceptively. Nothing in these rules shall prohibit, in conjunction with the word or designation "rayon", the use of words, terms, phrases, statements or representations which truthfully and accurately designate or describe the process by which said rayon was manufactured, such as, for example,

"Viscose Rayon" or "Rayon Manufactured by the Viscose Process."

"Acetate Rayon" or "Rayon Manufactured by the Acetate Process."

"Cuprammonium Rayon" or "Rayon Manufactured by the Cuprammonium Process."

"Nitrocellulose Rayon" or "Rayon Manufactured by the Nitrocellulose Process."

Provided, however, That in any such term, phrase, statement, or representation, said word "rayon" is set forth with at least equal prominence, conspicuousness, and emphasis so as not to be misleadingly or deceptively minimized, obscured, or rendered inconspicuous.

RULE 3. Trade-Marks.—Nothing in these rules shall prohibit the truthful and accurate use of the trade-mark of the manufacturer, processor, seller, or distributor of any such rayon fiber, yarn, thread, strands, or fabric, such as, for example, "Celanese Rayon", "Acele Rayon", "Du Pont Rayon", "Bemberg Rayon", "Seraceta Rayon", or other similar representation: Provided, That the term "rayon" as descriptive of the product is set forth as a part of such term, phrase, statement, or representation so used, or in immediate conjunction therewith, and with at least equal prominence, conspicuousness, and emphasis, to the end that said word "rayon" and the fact that the product is rayon will not be misleadingly or deceptively minimized, obscured, or rendered otherwise inconspicuous: And provided further, That any such term, phrase, statement, or representation so used is otherwise truthful and non-deceptive.

RULE 4. The terms "Silk", "Pure Dye", "Wool", "Linen", "Flax", "Cotton", etc.—It is an unfair trade practice to cause to be used, as descriptive of rayon fiber, or of yarn, thread, strands or fabric composed in whole or in part of rayon, the word "silk" or the distinctive term or phrase "pure dye", or the words "wool", "linen", "flax", "cotton", or any other word, term, phrase or representation of similar import: Provided, however, That nothing in this rule shall prohibit the use of the word "silk", "wool", "linen", "flax" or "cotton" in a term, phrase, statement or representation truthfully and accurately indicating, in harmony with the requirements of Rule 6 for mixed goods, that such yarn, thread, strand or fabric is composed in part of silk, wool, linen, flax or cotton as the case may be.

RULE 5. Terms relating to types of construction or weave.—It is an unfair trade practice to cause to be used as descriptive of rayon fiber, thread, strands, yarn or fabric the words "taffeta", "chiffon", "velvet", "crepe", "georgette", or any other word, term, phrase or representation which is associated in the minds of the purchasing or consuming public with silk, wool, linen, flax, cotton, or with any fiber, yarn, thread, strand or fabric other than rayon; except, however, nothing in these rules shall prohibit the use of any word, term, phrase or designation truthfully indicating the type of weave or construction: Provided such word, term, phrase, or designation be qualified by the word "rayon" so as clearly to show that such product is in fact rayon or contains rayon and other materials as the case may be, disclosed in accordance with the requirements of Rule 6 as to mixed goods, such as, for example, "Rayon Taffeta", "Rayon Crepe", "Rayon Velvet", when fabric is composed wholly of rayon, or "Rayon and Silk Taffeta" when fabric is composed of rayon in greater and silk in lesser proportion; Provided, however, That in the use of any such term, phrase or designation the word "rayon" shall be set forth therein with at least equal prominence, conspicuousness and emphasis as the other word or words in each such term, phrase or designation, to the end that said word "rayon" and the fact that said product contains such rayon shall not be misleadingly or deceptively minimized, obscured or rendered otherwise inconspicuous.

RULE 6. Mixed goods.—In the case of yarn, thread, strands or fabric composed of a mixture of rayon and other kinds of fiber or substances (other than necessary dyeing and finishing materials), full and non-deceptive disclosure of the rayon and other content of such product should be made; and it is an unfair trade practice to conceal, or fail to refuse to make such disclosure of, the presence of any constituent of such product, having the capacity, tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or the consuming public. Such disclosure of the fiber content of said products, pursuant to this rule, shall be made by accurately designating and naming each constituent fiber thereof in the order of its predominance by weight, beginning with the largest single constituent; such as, for example, "Rayon, Wool and Silk" for yarn, thread, strands or fabric composed of rayon, wool and silk and containing rayon in larger proportion than either silk or wool and containing wool in greater proportion than silk; subject, however, to the following:

(I) In setting forth a disclosure of the names of the fiber contained in any such mixed product of two or more fibers, the respective name of any such fiber shall not be set forth in type or manner so disproportionately enlarged, emphasized or conspicuously placed as thereby to have the capacity, tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or the consuming public into the belief that a greater proportion of such over-emphasized fiber is present than is in fact true; such as, for example, in printing or otherwise setting forth said illustrative disclosure of "Rayon, Wool and Silk", the word "wool" or the word "silk" shall not be disproportionately enlarged or otherwise emphasized in such manner as to have the capacity, tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or the consuming public in respect to the proportion or effective character of the wool or the silk in such mixed product.

(II) Where the fiber or fibers comprising at least 95% of such mixed product are disclosed not only by name as required by these rules but also with the percentage of each in the order of predominance by weight as recommended in Rule A, then the remaining 5% or less of the fiber content of such product may be designated and disclosed as "Other Fibers", or "Miscellaneous Fibers": Provided such 5% proportion or less is not definitely known to be composed of one fiber or readily ascertainable as consisting of but one fiber but on the contrary is composed of fibers which may be of various kinds, the percentages or quantities of each of which are not definitely known or readily ascertainable: And provided further, That such fiber content designated or disclosed as "Other Fibers" or "Miscellaneous Fibers" is not otherwise misrepresented. Illustrative examples of the disclosure provided for under this rule are as follows: "50% Rayon, 46% Silk, 4% Other Fibers" or "55% Rayon, 40% Wool, 5% Miscellaneous Fibers" for products composed of the respective stated percentages of rayon, silk and wool and composed of 5% of fibers the proportion or percentage of each of which is not known or readily ascertainable, including such small additional amounts of rayon, wool or silk as may be present due to unavoidable variations in manufacturing processes.

(III) In making disclosure of fiber content under these rules by choosing to specifically name any particular fiber in a mixed product which is present in the proportion of 5% or less by weight, the percentage in which such specifically named fiber is present in the product shall then be clearly and truthfully disclosed, such as, for example, "2% Wool" or "2% Silk", to the end that purchasers or the consuming public may not be misled or deceived into the erroneous belief that said fiber is present in a greater or lesser proportion than is in fact true.

(IV) Nothing in any of these rules, however, shall be construed as relieving anyone of the requirement of making full, specific and accurate disclosure of the presence, in any fiber, yarn, thread, strand or fabric, of any substance other than fiber used therein as loading material or as an adulterant, or of the requirement of otherwise avoiding deceptive concealment or misrepresentation in respect to such substance.

RULE 7. Encouraging or promoting the use of misleading merchandising methods.—It is an unfair trade practice to cause any such rayon fiber, or yarn, thread, strands or fabric made therefrom to be advertised, represented, offered for sale, sold or distributed through any means or devices, or under any conditions, which are calculated to cause, promote or aid, or which have the capacity and tendency or effect of causing, promoting or aiding, the marketing of such products in the channels of trade or commerce under circumstances or representations which are false, misleading or deceptive to purchasers, prospective purchasers or the consuming public. The following is set forth as a specific example, without limitation as to others, of the type of practices prohibited by this rule:

(a) Causing, promoting or aiding, in a manner calculated to mislead or deceive, the advertisement, offering for sale or sale of any rayon or rayon products at silk counters or in the silk department of dealers or as being manufactured or distributed by a silk company or silk corporation, or other firm or corporation or organization whose name indicates a silk business, without making full and unequivocal disclosure that such products are rayon and not silk or are a mixture of rayon and other materials disclosed in accordance with the requirements of Rule 6 as to mixed goods, and without taking such other steps as may be necessary to prevent misrepresentation or deception.

Group II

The trade practices embraced in these Group II rules are considered to be conducive to sound business methods and are to be encouraged and promoted individually or through voluntary cooperation exercised in accordance with existing law. Nonobservance of such rules does not, per se, constitute violation of law. However, the failure to observe them under certain circumstances may result in an unfair method of competition contrary to law. In such event, a corrective proceeding may be instituted by the Commission as in the case of a violation of Group I rules.

RULE A. Disclosure of proportions of mixed fibers.—The practice of making full and accurate disclosure of the proportions or percentages of constituents in such mixed goods is approved as a proper practice to the end that salespersons, dealers and other marketers of such products may have accurate information of the contents and may in turn correctly inform the puchasing and consuming public thereof, thereby avoiding confusion, misunderstanding or misrepresentation as to the nature or content of such products. Any action taken in following this rule shall be consonant with the requirements of the foregoing Group I rules.

RULE B. Information as to treatment and care of product.—The practice by producers, manufacturers and distributors, of furnishing and disseminating, through tags, labels, advertisements or other publicity, accurate information as to the proper treatment, care and cleaning of rayon or rayon products is approved and recommended as a desirable practice to follow in the interest of enabling consumers to obtain and enjoy full benefit of the desirable qualities and service of such products.

By the Commission.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of October, A. D., 1937.

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF PRODUCING LANDOWNERS' ROYALTY INTERESTS IN THE GENERAL CRUDE OIL CO.—GRAVES TRACT, FILED ON SEPTEMBER 29, 1937, BY T. S. HOSE, RESPONDENT

ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (B)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

T. S. Hose, having filed on September 29, 1937, with the Securities and Exchange Commission, an offering sheet for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from registration for the securities described therein under Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended; and

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and, therefore, alleging that said offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in a material respect, or contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of said Regulation B, to wit:

In that the statement concerning the percentage of water in fluid produced from the tract involved, as set forth under Division II, Item 20 (b), is considered misleading for the reason that it appears that said tract is currently producing in excess of 47% water in fluid produced and that the percentage of said water production has, for the past several months, been greatly in excess of that shown by the offering sheet;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be deficient and/or misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 15th day of November, 1937, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said Examiner may designate.

Upon completion of testimony in this matter the Examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Treasurer of the United States; Director of the Mint.

[1937—Department Circular No. 55, Revised]

EXCHANGE OF PAPER CURRENCY AND COIN

OCTOBER 25, 1937.

1. This Circular supersedes Department Circular No. 55, revised, dated January 26, 1927, issued by the Treasurer of the United States and the Director of the Mint, as amended and supplemented.

2. The following regulations govern the exchange of the coin and paper currency of the United States (including National bank notes and Federal Reserve bank notes in process of retirement and Federal Reserve notes). Under authorization in the act approved May 29, 1920, 41 Stat. 655 (U. S. C. title 31, sec. 476), the Secretary of the Treasury transferred to the Federal Reserve banks and branches the duties and functions performed by the former Assistant Treasurers of the United States in connection with the exchange of paper currency and coin of the United States. Except for the duties in this respect to be performed by the Treasurer of the United States as may be indicated from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury exchanges of the paper currency and coin of the United States and the distribution and replacement thereof will, so far as practicable, be effected through the Federal Reserve banks and branches. Federal reserve banks and branches have been instructed by the Treasury to make an equitable and impartial distribution of available supplies of currency and coin in all cases, and applications therefor should be made to the Federal reserve bank or branch of such bank located in the same district with the applicant. Distribution of new coins will not be made so long as there are available sufficient stocks of circulated coins in the Federal reserve banks and branches or in the Treasury offices.

I. IN GENERAL

3. The official agencies of the Treasury Department will continue to exchange lawfully held coins and currencies of the United States, dollar for dollar, for other coins or currencies which may be lawfully acquired and are legal tender for public and private debts.

4. Gold coin and gold certificates are exchanged only as provided in the act, orders, regulations, and instructions relating to gold and gold certificates.

II. EXCHANGE OF MUTILATED PAPER CURRENCY

5. Lawfully held paper currency of the United States (including National bank notes and Federal Reserve bank notes in process of retirement and Federal Reserve notes) when not so mutilated that less than three-fifths of the original proportions remain, will be exchanged at its face amount. Such lawfully held paper currency, when so mutilated that less than three-fifths but clearly more than two-fifths of the original proportions remain, is exchangeable only by the Treasurer of the United States, at one-half the face amount of the whole note or certificate: Provided, however, That it may be exchanged at face amount upon compliance with the provisions of the following paragraph. Fragments not clearly more than two-fifths are not exchangeable, unless accompanied by the evidence required in the following paragraph.

6. Fragments less than three-fifths, when identifiable as to denomination, kind and genuineness, are exchangeable at the face amount of the whole note, only by the Treasurer of the United States, when accompanied by satisfactory proof that the missing portions have been totally destroyed. This proof should be in the form of an affidavit from the owner setting forth that he is the owner and the cause and manner of destruction. If, however, the owner cannot of his own knowledge state the facts as to destruction, an affidavit or affidavits from any other person or persons having knowledge of the facts will also be required.

7. The affidavits must be subscribed and sworn to before a notary public or other officer authorized by law to administer oaths. Unless authenticated by the official impression seal of the officer, the affidavit should be accompanied by a certificate from the proper official, showing that the officer was in commission on the date of the acknowledgment. The date when the officer's commission expires should appear in any event. Should any affiant sign by mark (X), his signature must be witnessed by two persons besides the acknowledging officer, and the places of residence of the witnesses to the mark must be stated.

8. In addition to the affidavits, there should be furnished a certificate, to be executed, if possible, by an officer of an incorporated bank or trust company or by a public officer of the United States, setting forth that that officer has read the affidavits and that the affiants are reputable persons in the community and are, in the judgment of the officer, worthy of belief.

9. Blank forms for affidavits or certificates are not furnished. No relief is granted on account of currency totally destroyed.—The Treasurer of the United States will exercise such discretion under this regulation as may seem to him needful to protect the United States from fraud.

III. EXCHANGE OF MUTILATED COIN

10. In general.—Except as hereinafter provided mutilated silver and minor coins are not accepted at their face amount but at their bullion or metal value. Silver coins are mutilated when plugged, fused together, or so punched, clipped, chipped, or otherwise mutilated as to be appreciably reduced in weight, or when so defaced as to be not readily and clearly identifiable as to genuineness and denomination. Minor coins are mutilated when plugged, fused together, or so defaced as not to be readily identifiable, or when so punched or clipped or otherwise mutilated as to show a material loss of metal. Silver and minor coins that are bent or twisted out of shape, but showing no appreciable reduction in weight or material loss of metal, respectively, and silver and minor coins which are readily and clearly identifiable as to genuineness and denomination and which have been reduced in weight by natural abrasion only, are not regarded as mutilated, and will be received at face amount.

11. Silver and minor coins which have merely been so altered as to render them available for use as coins of another denomination will be received at face amount, except that such minor coins must first be certified to by a coinage mint as being genuine and otherwise eligible for receipt at such amount. A charge of 40 cents per thousand coins or pieces or fraction thereof, shall be made for such coins or pieces received and examined by such mint for certification, regardless of the number of coins in any deposit certified to as aforesaid, with a minimum charge of $1.00 for each such deposit received and examined by it. The payments so received shall be covered into the Treasury as a miscellaneous receipt. Such coins as are not certified by such mint to be eligible for receipt at their face amount, shall be accepted by such mint at their bullion or metal value or returned to the depositor at his expense.

12. Mutilated coins should not be transmitted to the Federal Reserve banks or branches or to the Treasurer of the United States but should be forwarded to such coinage mints or to the New York Assay Office as hereinafter provided, for sale at their bullion or metal value.

13. Relative to the criminal penalties connected with the defacement or mutilation of United States coins, see section 155 of the Penal Code of the United States (U. S. C. title 18, sec. 279).

14. Standard silver dollars and subsidiary silver coins.—Standard silver dollars and subsidiary silver coins (halves, quarters, and dimes), when rejected as mutilated, will be stamped by the receiving officer with a distinguishing mark before being returned to the owner. Such mutilated coins will be purchased at the mints at Philadelphia, San Francisco, and Denver, and the United States Assay Office in New York City, at the price fixed from time to time by the Director of the Mint, which is approximately the market price of silver bullion on the date purchased, and should be transmitted to the mints, or the assay office at New York, by registered mail or by express (charges prepaid). Payment therefor will be made by check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States.

15. Minor coins.—Mutilated minor coins (one-cent bronze and five-cent nickel) will be purchased at the mints in Philadelphia, San Francisco, and Denver, in lots of not less than one pound of each kind, at a price (the approximate value as metal) fixed from time to time by the Director of the Mint, and should be transmitted to the mints by registered mail or by express (charges prepaid). Payment therefor will be made by check drawn on the Treasurer of the United States.

IV. OTHER INFORMATION

16. Shipments of coins.—Coins forwarded for exchange or for sale as bullion must be shipped at the expense and risk of the owner. Shipments of silver or minor coins for exchange should be assorted by denomination into packages in sums or multiples of $20.00. Not more than $1,000.00 in any silver coin, $300.00 in five-cent pieces, or $100.00 in one-cent pieces, should be shipped in one bag or package.

17. By taking advantage of the facilties provided at the Federal Reserve banks and branches for the exchange of paper currency and coin, applicants are enabled to have such transactions effected within a shorter time and at a lower cost for transportation charges, as a general rule, than would be possible through the Treasurer of the United States at Washington. So far as practicable, therefore, such transactions should be handled through the Federal Reserve banks and branches.

18. The Federal Reserve banks and branches are located in Boston, Mass.; New York, N. Y.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Cleveland, Ohio; Cincinnati, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Richmond, Va.; Baltimore, Md.; Charlotte, N. C.; Atlanta, Ga.; New Orleans, La.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Birmingham, Ala.; Nashville, Tenn.; Chicago, Ill.; Detroit, Mich.; St. Louis, Mo.; Louisville, Ky.; Memphis, Tenn.; Little Rock, Ark.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Helena, Mont.; Kansas City, Mo.; Omaha, Nebr.; Denver, Colo.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Dallas, Tex.; El Paso, Tex.; Houston, Tex.; San Antonio, Tex.; San Francisco, Calif.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Portland, Ore.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Seattle, Wash.; and Spokane, Wash.

19. The coinage mints are located in Philadelphia, Pa.; San Francisco, Calif.; and Denver, Colo.

20. The Act of June 30, 1876, 19 Stat. 64 (U. S. C. title 31, sec. 424), provides that all United States officers charged with the receipt or disbursement of public moneys, and all officers of national banks, shall stamp or write in plain letters the word "counterfeit", "altered", or "worthless" upon all fraudulent notes issued in the form of, and intended to circulate as money, which shall be presented at their places of business; and if such officers shall wrongfully stamp any genuine note of the United States, or of the national banks, they shall, upon presentation, "redeem" such notes at the face amount thereof.

21. All counterfeit notes and coins found in remittances are canceled and delivered to the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department or to the nearest local office of that division, a receipt for the same being forwarded to the sender. Communications with respect thereto should be addressed to the Chief, Secret Service Division, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

SYSTEM CONSOLIDATED REPORTS FOR STEAM RAILWAYS, CLASS I

OCTOBER 27, 1937.

To Chief Accounting Officers of Class I Steam Railways:

Consideration has been given to the various comments submitted by railway accounting officers and others in regard to the tentative discussion of General Principles of System Consolidated Reports for Steam Railways issued in July 1937. Attention is now being given to the application of the general principles to individual systems. It will be of assistance in this work to have for study the various statements of this nature actually in use.

The accompanying Statistical Series Circular No. 24 was adopted by order of the Commission, Division 4, dated October 21, 1937. Your answer should be filed in the Bureau of Statistics not later than December 1, 1937.

W. P. BARTEL, Secretary.

ORDER

At a Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 4, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of October 1937.

The subject of system consolidated reports being under consideration;

It is ordered, That—

1. Steam railways of Class I excluding switching and terminal companies, be and hereby are required to submit a copy of each consolidated statement prepared during the calendar years 1936 and 1937 in accordance with Statistical Series Circular No. 24, which is made a part of this order.

2. The answer to said circular shall be filed in the Bureau of Statistics, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., on or before December 1, 1937.

By the Commission, Division 4.

INSTRUCTIONS

This report is designed to ascertain the extent to which Class I steam railways have prepared financial, operating, statistical, or other statements: (A) Consolidating the results for the respondent with those for other companies; and (B) Consolidating the results for companies in which the respondent is directly or indirectly interested but in which consolidations the results for the respondent have not been included.

I. List separately in the various blocks numbered I, II (Roman), etc., below, the name or character of each and every statement (income, profit and loss, balance-sheet, operating expenses, tons originated, etc.) or partial statement, prepared by the reporting company, together with the other specified information:

(1) In which during 1936 and 1937, financial, operating, statistical, or other results of the reporting company were consolidated with those of any rail, other carrier or non-carrier company or companies.

(2) In which during 1936 and 1937, the financial, operating, statistical, or other results of any rail, other carrier or noncarrier company or companies in which the reporting company is financially or otherwise interested, directly or indirectly, were consolidated with each other by the respondent but not including the respondent's results.

II. Only one such consolidated statement or partial statement should be listed under Arabic number (1) in each Roman numeral block. Use extra sheets where necessary.

III. Where a consolidated statement containing several items, as for example the income statement, is reported, no consolidated individual items which are a part of such statement should be separately reported.

IV. Where all items of a financial, operating, statistical, or other statement or schedule are not consolidated but a partial consolidation is made, each such partially consolidated statement or schedule shall be separately reported.

V. If more than one completely or partially consolidated statement is prepared for an identical group of two or more companies, use a separate Roman numbered block for each of such statements. In this event, the names, character of business and relationships may be incorporated in the additional blocks by reference to the Roman numbered block in which the identical companies were consolidated in another statement. Use extra sheets where necessary.

VI. Under frequency of reports (Arabic numeral 2) specify annual, quarterly, monthly, and so forth, if such reports are regularly prepared. If not regularly prepared, indicate character or frequency, such as experimental, occasional, once, etc.

VII. Under the nature of the business specify rail, coal, lumber, hotel, etc.

VIII. Under nature of relationship, please be as specific as possible with regard to whether such relationship is by way of lease, operating agreement, ownership of securities, etc. In all cases where there is a financial relationship represented by ownership of securities, please specify the amount of par of bonds owned, and in the case of stock, the number of shares of preferred and/or common owned, and the percentage which your holdings of each represent of the total of each.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

United States of America—Before the Securities and Exchange Commission

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of October, A. D., 1937.

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF PRODUCING LANDOWNERS' ROYALTY INTERESTS IN THE BRITISH AMERICAN-M. L. THOMPSON TRACT, FILED ON SEPTEMBER 17, 1937, BY T. S. HOSE, RESPONDENT

ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (B)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

T. S. Hose, having filed on September 17, 1937, with the Securities and Exchange Commission, an offering sheet for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from registration for the securities described therein under Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended; and

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and, therefore, alleging that said offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in a material respect, or contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of said Regulation B, to wit:

In that the statement concerning the percentage of water in fluid produced from the tract involved, as set forth under Division II, Item 20 (b), is considered misleading for the reason that it appears that said tract is currently producing in excess of 53% water in fluid produced and that the percentage of water production has, for the past several months, been greatly in excess of that shown by the offering sheet;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be deficient and/or misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF PRODUCING LANDOWNERS' ROYALTY INTERESTS IN THE SHELL-V. P. LEE TRACT, FILED ON AUGUST 30, 1937, BY J. W. SAIN, RESPONDENT

ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (B)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

J. W. Sain, having filed on August 30, 1937, with the Securities and Exchange Commission, an offering sheet for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from registration for the securities described therein under Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended; and

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and, therefore, alleging that said offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in a material respect, or contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of said Regulation B, to wit:

In that the statement concerning the percentage of water in fluid produced from the tract involved, as set forth under Division II, Item 20 (b), is considered misleading for the reason that it appears that said tract is currently producing in excess of 21% water in fluid produced and that the percentage of water production has, for the past several months, been greatly in excess of that shown by the offering sheet;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be deficient and/or misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 16th day of November, 1937, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C., and continue thereafter at such times and places as said Examiner may designate.

Upon completion of testimony in this matter the Examiner is directed to close the hearing and make his report to the Commission.

IN THE MATTER OF AN OFFERING SHEET OF PRODUCING LANDOWNERS' ROYALTY INTERESTS IN THE SHELL-L. F. WHIPPLE TRACT, FILED ON AUGUST 30, 1937, BY J. W. SAIN, RESPONDENT

ORDER FOR HEARING (UNDER RULE 340 (B)) AND ORDER DESIGNATING TRIAL EXAMINER

J. W. Sain, having filed on August 30, 1937, with the Securities and Exchange Commission, an offering sheet for the purpose of obtaining an exemption from registration for the securities described therein under Regulation B of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended; and

The Securities and Exchange Commission, having reasonable grounds to believe, and, therefore, alleging that said offering sheet is incomplete or inaccurate in a material respect, or contains an untrue statement of a material fact, or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein contained not misleading, or fails to comply with the requirements of said Regulation B, to wit:

In that the statement concerning the percentage of water in fluid produced from the tract involved, as set forth under Division II, Item 20 (b), is considered misleading for the reason that it appears that said tract is currently producing in excess of 8% water in fluid produced and that the percentage of water production has, for the past several months, been greatly in excess of that shown by the offering sheet;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule 340 (b) of the General Rules and Regulations under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, that an opportunity for hearing be given to the said respondent for the purpose of determining the material completeness or accuracy of the said offering sheet in the respects in which it is herein alleged to be deficient and/or misleading, and whether the effectiveness of the filing of the said offering sheet shall be suspended; and

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Lobingier, an officer of the Commission be, and hereby is, designated as Trial Examiner to preside at such hearing, to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time, to administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, consider any amendments to said offering sheet as may be filed prior to the conclusion of the hearing, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or other records deemed relevant or material to the inquiry, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law; and

It is further ordered, That the taking of testimony in this proceeding commence on the 16th day of November, 1937, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. ## PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

TRANSFERRING TO THE UNITED STATES HOUSING AUTHORITY FEDERAL HOUSING PROJECTS, FUNDS, PROPERTY AND EMPLOYEES OF THE FEDERAL EMERGENCY ADMINISTRATION OF PUBLIC WORKS

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by the United States Housing Act of 1937, approved September 1, 1937 (Public No. 412, 75th Congress), and in order to effectuate the purposes thereof, I hereby transfer to the United States Housing Authority, effective on November 1, 1937:

1. All right, interest, and title held by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works in any housing or slum-clearance projects constructed or in the process of construction on the date of enactment of the said Act (except certain portions or parcels of real estate, including easement rights, which the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works has heretofore reserved for dedication or grant pursuant to the provisions of Section 5 of the Act approved June 29, 1936, 49 Stat. 2026). Where more than one such project is located within the territorial boundaries of a city, all of the projects in that city shall be treated as a single project of the United States Housing Authority, without, however, prejudicing the power of the Authority to make separate sales, leases or other disposition of part or parts of the combined project or to make separate loans, capital grants or annual contributions in connection therewith.

2. All assets, contracts, records, applications, libraries, research materials and other property, held by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works in connection with housing or slum-clearance projects transferred under paragraph 1 hereof or with housing or slum-clearance activities (except those portions or parcels of real estate reserved for dedication or grant, as aforesaid); provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as impairing or affecting the obligation of the United States of America under any contracts transferred hereby.

3. Any unexpended balance of funds allocated to the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works for the construction of any housing or slum-clearance projects constructed or in the process of construction on the date of enactment of the said Act (except $200,000 of the balance of funds allocated for the construction of the housing projects in Puerto Rico known as H-3600-CA and H-3600-SJA).

4. Such unexpended balances of moneys made available to the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works for administrative expenses under the Independent Offices Appropriation Act, 1938, approved June 28, 1937 (Public No. 171, 75th Congress) as amended by the Public Works Administration Extension Act of 1937, approved June 29, 1937 (Public Res. No. 47, 75th Congress), as, with the approval of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works shall certify would otherwise have been used by the Housing Division of said Administration for administrative expenses.

5. All employees of the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works who are actually serving on the effective date of this order, and who shall be certified within six months from the date of this order, by the Federal Emergency Administrator of Public Works as having been engaged in work connected with housing or slum-clearance on or prior to the date of enactment of the said Act; provided that employees transferred pursuant to this Order shall not thereby acquire a competitive civil service status, but such employees (except officers, experts and attorneys) who are transferred and whose compensation per annum is $1,980 or less may acquire a competitive civil service status after compliance with the provisions of Section 6 of Rule II of the Civil Service Rules.

(c) The term "month" means calendar month; and

(d) The term "collector" means the collector of internal revenue of the district in which was the domicile of the decedent at the time of his death, or, if there was no such domicile in the United States, then the collector of the district in which is situated the part of the gross estate of the decedent in the United States, or, if such part of the gross estate is situated in more than one district, then the collector of internal revenue of such district as may be designated by the Commissioner.

SEC. 301. (a) In lieu of the tax imposed by Title III of the Revenue Act of 1924, a tax equal to the sum of the following percentages of the value of the net estate (determined as provided in section 303) is hereby imposed upon the transfer of the net estate of every decedent dying after the enactment of this act, whether a resident or nonresident of the United States;

1 per centum of the amount of the net estate not in excess of $50,000;

2 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $50,000 and does not exceed $100,000;

3 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $100,000 and does not exceed $200,000;

4 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $200,000 and does not exceed $400,000;

5 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $400,000 and does not exceed $600,000;

6 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $600,000 and does not exceed $800,000;

7 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $800,000 and does not exceed $1,000,000;

8 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $1,000,000 and does not exceed $1,500,000;

9 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $1,500,000 and does not exceed $2,000,000;

10 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $2,000,000 and does not exceed $2,500,000;

11 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $2,500,000 and does not exceed $3,000,000;

12 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $3,000,000 and does not exceed $3,500,000;

13 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $3,500,000 and does not exceed $4,000,000;

14 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $4,000,000 and does not exceed $5,000,000;

15 per centum of the amount by which the net estate exceeds $5,000,000 and does not exceed $6,000,000;

(b) The amendment made by this section shall be effective only with respect to transfers of estates of decedents dying after the date of the enactment of this Act.

ARTICLE 1. Estate tax statutes.—Current Federal estate taxation consists of, first, the estate tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, and, second, the additional estate tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended.

Basic Act.—The Revenue Act of 1926 (Title III), enacted 10.25 a. m., eastern standard time, February 26, 1926, imposes an estate tax against which credits are allowable, under certain conditions and limitations, for Federal gift tax and for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes paid a State or Territory of the United States, or the District of Columbia. Under this Act, as amended, a specific exemption of $100,000 is authorized for the estate of a resident or citizen of the United States. Such Act is denominated the basic Act for the reason that its provisions equally apply to the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, save as to rates, the amount of the specific exemption, and the credits allowed for the gift tax and for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes.

Act imposing additional estate tax.—The Revenue Act of 1932 (Title II), enacted 5 p. m., eastern standard time, June 6, 1932, imposes an additional estate tax against which no credit is allowable for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes, although, under certain conditions and limitations, a credit is allowable for Federal gift tax. By this Act, as amended, a specific exemption of $40,000 is authorized for the estate of a resident or citizen of the United States.

Chronological description of statutes.—The Federal estate tax was first imposed by the Act of September 8, 1916, which authorized a specific exemption of $50,000 for the estate of a resident of the United States. This law was amended by the Act of March 3, 1917 (Title III), by increasing the rates of tax. The Revenue Act of 1917 (Title IX), imposed a tax upon the transfer of the net estate of decedents dying after October 3, 1917, in addition to the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1916, as amended. The Revenue Act of 1918 (Title IV), which became effective at 6:55 p. m., eastern standard time, February 24, 1919, reduced the rates applicable to net estates below $1,500,000, and contained a number of provisions not found in any of the prior Acts, among which was a special subdivision pertaining to life insurance. The Revenue Act of 1921 (Title IV) became effective at 3.55 p. m., eastern standard time, November 23, 1921. It reenacted without change the rates of Title IV of the Revenue Act of 1918, and embodied numerous minor changes.

The Revenue Act of 1924 (Part I, Title III) became effective at 4.01 p. m., eastern standard time, June 2, 1924, and, as originally enacted, increased the rates applicable to net estates in excess of $100,000, as compared with those of Title IV of the Revenue Act of 1921. It contained provisions not found in any of the prior Acts, among which was a provision authorizing a credit not in excess of 25 per cent of the tax for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes paid a State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, but did not include all of the exemptions accorded by the Revenue Act of 1921.

The Revenue Act of 1926 (Title III) increased the specific exemption authorized in the case of a resident decedent from $50,000 to $100,000, reduced the rates applicable to net estates in excess of $100,000, and amended the rates imposed by Part I, Title III, of the Revenue Act of 1924 by substituting for such rates the same rates imposed by the Revenue Acts of 1918 and 1921. This Act authorizes a credit in estates of decedents dying after its enactment for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes paid to a State, Territory, or the District of Columbia not to exceed 80 per cent of the tax imposed by the Act.

The Revenue Act of 1928 (Part I, Title II), which became effective at 8 a. m., eastern standard time, May 29, 1928, did not repeal Title III of the Revenue Act of 1926, but made certain amendments to that title and amended and supplemented the general administrative provisions of the Revenue Act of 1926. Public Resolution No. 131, Seventy-first Congress, approved 10.30 p. m., eastern standard time, March 3, 1931, amended section 302 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1926 relating to certain transfers made during the decedent's life.

The Revenue Act of 1932 imposes a tax upon the net estates of decedents dying after the effective date thereof, in addition to the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926, to be assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner and subject to the same provisions of law as the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926. As originally enacted it authorized a specific exemption of $50,000 for the estate of a resident. This Act also, by Title VI, amended and supplemented the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1926.

The Revenue Act of 1934 amended the Revenue Act of 1932 by increasing the rates for the computation of the additional tax with respect to the estates of decedents dying on or after May 11, 1934, and also by Tile II and Title III amended and supplemented certain provisions of the Revenue Act of 1926 and the Revenue Act of 1932, effective 11.40 a. m., eastern standard time, May 10, 1934. This Act placed the estates of nonresident citizens of the United States in the same category with estates of residents by making the specific exemptions applicable and by including for tax personal property situated outside the United States. The Revenue Act of 1935, enacted 6 p. m., eastern standard time, August 30, 1935, increased the rates for the computation of the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as previously amended, reduced the specific exemption provided by the Revenue Act of 1932 from $50,000 to $40,000, and authorized an option whereby the executor may elect to have the property in the gross estate valued as of a date or dates subsequent to the date of the decedent's death. It also changed the due date of the tax from 1 year after the decedent's death to 15 months after such date. These amendments became effective with respect to the estates of decedents dying on or after August 31, 1935. The Revenue Act of 1936, enacted 9 p. m., eastern standard time, June 22, 1936, amended section 302 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, relative to certain transfers made during the decedent's life and made certain other amendments of the administrative provisions.

ART. 2. Transfers and interests reached.—In addition to property passing under a will or the intestate laws, the gross estate for the purpose of the estate tax includes, as more specifically explained hereafter in these regulations, certain transfers made during the decedent's life without an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, joint estates with right of survivorship, tenancies by the entirety, life insurance even though payable to beneficiaries other than the estate, property over which the decedent exercised a general power of appointment, and dower or curtesy of the surviving spouse, or statutory estate in lieu thereof.

ART. 3. Neither a property nor an inheritance tax.—The Federal estate tax is imposed upon the transfer of the net estate, determined in the manner prescribed by the applicable law. (See article 1.) The tax is not laid upon the property but upon the transfer of the entire net estate and not any particular legacy, devise, or distributive share. The relationship of the beneficiary to the decedent has no bearing upon the question of liability or the extent thereof. The transfer of property is taxable although it escheats to the State for lack of heirs.

Estates Subject to Tax

ART. 4. Description of taxable estates.—The tax is imposed upon the transfer of the net estate. The term "net estate" has a distinct meaning in the statute, signifying the difference between the total value of the gross estate and the total of the authorized deductions. One of the deductions authorized in the case of the estate of a resident of the United States is a specific exemption. A specific exemption is also an authorized deduction in the case of the estate of a citizen of the United States regardless of residence, if the decedent died after 11.40 a. m., eastern standard time, May 10, 1934. For detailed information regarding the specific exemption, see article 48.

There is no basis for tax if the value of the gross estate does not exceed the total amount of the authorized deductions. Whether taxable or not, a return must be filed in every case, except in the case the value of the gross estate at the date of death does not exceed the amount of the specific exemption allowable. For detailed information regarding returns, see articles 63, 64, 65, and 70.

ART. 5. Definition of "citizen," "resident," and "nonresident."—The statute provides (paragraph (5) of section 2 (a)) that the term "United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes only the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

A resident is one who, at the time of his death, had his domicile in the United States; or one who was a citizen of the United States at the time of death and with respect to whose property any probate or administration proceedings are had in the United States Court for China. (See section 321 (a).) A missionary who, at the time of death, was serving as such under a foreign missionary board of any religious denomination in the United States, will be presumed to have died a resident of the United States, if domiciled therein at the time of his or her commission and departure for such service, and not a nonresident merely by reason of his or her intention to remain permanently in such service. (See section 303 (f).) All persons not residents of the United States as above defined, or to whom the presumption just stated does not apply, are nonresidents.

A citizen of the United States is a nonresident if his domicile is in Puerto Rico, the Philippine Islands, or other foreign country, whereas a subject or a citizen of a foreign country is a resident if his domicile is in the United States. A person acquires a domicile in a place by living there, for even a brief period of time, with no definite present intention of later removing therefrom. Residence without the requisite intention to remain indefinitely will not suffice to constitute domicile, nor will intention to change domicile effect such a change unless accompanied by actual removal.

Every person born or naturalized in the United States (including citizens and residents of possessions of the United States who have been made citizens of the United States by treaty or Act of Congress) who owes his allegiance to or is entitled to the protection of the United States is a citizen thereof. When any naturalized citizen has left the United States and resided for two years or more in the foreign country from which he came, or five years or more in any other foreign country, it is presumed that he has ceased to be a citizen of the United States. This presumption does not apply, however, to residents abroad when the United States was at war, nor does it apply in the case of individuals born in the United States. However, even though an individual born in the United States of either citizen or alien parents resided in a foreign country for a number of years, he would still be a citizen of the United States unless he had become naturalized in or taken an oath of allegiance to the foreign country of residence or some other foreign state. A person who has filed his declaration of intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, but who has not yet received his final citizenship papers, is an alien.

Subsequent to the enactment of the amendments to the Revenue Act of 1926, made by the Revenue Act of 1934, different provisions control the determination of the tax liability of the estates of citizens or residents of the United States and the estates of nonresidents not citizens of the United States. Prior to the enactment of the amendments contained in the Revenue Act of 1934 the tax liability was determined on the basis of the decedent's residence within or without the United States, regardless of citizenship, except as to estates administered in the United States Court for China as in this article indicated.

Determination of Tax Liability

ART. 6. Manner of determining liability.—The first step in the determination of tax liability is to ascertain the total value of the decedent's gross estate. (See articles 10 to 28, inclusive; also article 49.) The second step is to subtract from the value of the gross estate the total amount of the deductions authorized in order to arrive at the value of the net estate. (See articles 29 to 48, inclusive, and articles 50 to 55, inclusive.) The third step is the computation of the tax and any allowable credits. (See articles 7, 8, and 9.)

If the specific exemption is applicable and the decedent died after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, the net estate must be determined, for the computation of the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926, on the basis of a specific exemption of $100,000, and the net estate must also be determined, for the computation of the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, or by the Revenue Act of 1932 as amended, on the basis of a specific exemption of $50,000 if the decedent died prior to August 31, 1935, or on a basis of a specific exemption of $40,000 if the decedent died on or after August 31, 1935.

ART. 7. Rates of tax.—The Revenue Act of 1916, the amendment thereto of March 3, 1917, the Revenue Act of 1917, the Revenue Act of 1918, and the Revenue Act of 1924, as originally enacted, each imposed different rates of tax. The rates imposed by the Revenue Act of 1921 are the same as those prescribed in the Revenue Act of 1918. The rates imposed by the Revenue Act of 1924, as originally enacted, were different from those prescribed in any of the prior Acts, but section 322 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1926 amended section 301 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1924, effective as of June 2, 1924, so as to impose the same rates prescribed by the Revenue Acts of 1918 and 1921. The rates imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 are different from those prescribed in any of the prior Acts and are applicable to the estates of decedents dying after 10:25 a. m., eastern standard time, February 26, 1926, no change in its rates being made by any of the later Acts. An additional tax is imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932 which is the excess of the amount computed at the rates set forth in the Revenue Act of 1932 over the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926. The rates set forth in the Revenue Act of 1932 are applicable to estates of decedents dying after 5 p. m., eastern standard time, June 6, 1932, and before May 11, 1934. The rates prescribed by the Revenue Act of 1934 for the computation of the additional tax are applicable to estates of decedents dying on or after May 11, 1934, and before August 31, 1935. The rates prescribed by the Revenue Act of 1935 for the computation of the additional tax are applicable to estates of decedents dying on or after August 31, 1935. See "Table I" and "Table II," contained in the following article, for the various rates, and such article for an explanation of the use of the tables.

ART. 8. Computation of tax.—The tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and earlier Acts is computed on the value of the net estate at progressively graduated rates. The additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, or by the Revenue Act of 1932 as amended, is obtained by subtracting the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 from an amount computed on the value of the appropriate net estate at the rates set forth either in the Revenue Act of 1932, or in that Act as amended by the Revenue Act of 1934 or 1935, as the case may require. The remainder resulting from such subtraction is the additional tax imposed. In certain cases arising after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1924, the tax is reduced by authorized credits. (See article 9). If credits are authorized, the tax computed at the rates prescribed by the Revenue Act of 1924, as amended, and the Revenue Act of 1926 and the additional tax computed under the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1932 or the Revenue Act of 1932 as amended, is the gross tax or the tax before reduction by credits. The difference between the gross tax and the credits is the net tax.

Table I shows the rates in effect under the Revenue Acts of 1935, 1934, 1932, and 1926. Table II shows the rates in effect prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1926. Column (1) of Table I sets forth the total taxes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935 (that is, the tax imposed by section 301 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1926 and the additional tax imposed by section 401 of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by section 201 of the Revenue Act of 1935) upon specified amounts, and the rates whereby such total taxes may be computed upon any excess over the amounts specified. Column (2) of Table I sets forth the total taxes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by section 405 of the Revenue Act of 1934, upon specified amounts and the rates for the total taxes upon the excess of such amounts. Column (3) of Table I sets forth the total taxes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and the Revenue Act of 1932, prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1934, upon specified amounts and the rates for the total taxes upon the excess of such amounts. Column (4) of Table I sets forth the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 upon specified amounts and the rates for the tax upon the excess of such amounts. Columns (1) to (4), inclusive, of Table II set forth the tax on specified amounts, and the rates for the tax upon the excess of such amounts, in effect for the periods shown in the headings. Column (A) of each table sets forth the specified amounts upon which the tax is shown in the first subcolumn of each of the numbered columns. Column (B) of each table indicates the respective maximum limits to which the rates shown in the second subcolumn of each of the numbered columns are applicable.

The computation under each column must be based on the applicable net estate. The amount of the net estate computed for the purpose of the additional tax in accordance with the specific exemption authorized by the Revenue Act of 1932, or by that Act as amended, differs from the amount of the net estate computed for the purpose of the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 in accordance with the larger specific exemption authorized by such Act.

An illustration of the tables' use is as follows: The net estate for the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 amounts to $1,240,000. By reference to Table I it will be seen that the specified amount in column (A) nearest to the value of the decedent's net estate but less than such value is $1,000,000. The tax upon this amount as indicated in column (4) opposite $1,000,000 in column (A) is $48,500. Upon the remainder of the net estate, $240,000, the tax is computed at the rate of 8 per cent set out in the second subcolumn of column (4) opposite $1,000,000 in column (A). The tax on this remainder is, consequently, $19,200. The following result is thus obtained:

|---|---|---|
| Tax on | $1,000,000 | $48,500 |
| Tax on | 240,000 | 19,200 |
| Total | 1,240,000 | 67,700 |

Example (1) (estate subject to the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and also to the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, and involving credit for State inheritance tax): A resident decedent died August 15, 1936, leaving a net estate of the value of $210,000 after deducting the specific exemption of $100,000 allowed by the Revenue Act of 1926. The tax shown in the first subcolumn of column (4) of Table I on a net estate equaling $200,000 is $4,500. As $210,000 exceeds $200,000 and falls below $400,000, the tax on the excess of $10,000 is computed at the rate of 4 per cent, the rate shown in the second subcolumn of column (4). The $400 tax on such excess added to $4,500 gives $4,900, the gross tax computed under the Revenue Act of 1926. (Credit for gift tax is not involved in this example.) It will be assumed that the maximum amount of credit, $3,920, or 80 per cent of $4,900, is allowed for State inheritance tax. The net tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 is the difference between $4,900 and $3,920, or $980. For the purpose of the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, the decedent's net estate after deducting the specific exemption of $40,000 is $270,000. The total gross taxes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, shown in the first subcolumn of column (1) on a net estate equaling $200,000 is $26,600. As $270,000 exceeds $200,000 and falls below $400,000, the tax on the excess of $70,000 is computed at 20 per cent, the rate shown in the second subcolumn of coloumn (1). The tax on such excess is, consequently, $14,000. The $14,000 added to the $26,600 gives $40,600, the tax computed upon the net estate of $270,000 at the rates set forth in the Revenue Act of 1935. The difference between the total gross taxes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, $40,600, and the gross tax, $4,900, imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926, is $35,700, the gross additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935. As in this example no credit for gift tax is involved, the amount of the gross additional tax is the same as the net additional tax. The net tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926, $980, added to the net additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, $35,700, results in a total net tax of $36,680. A tabulation of this example is as follows:

|---|---|---|
| Gross tax imposed by 1926 Act | $4,900 | |
| Credit for gift tax imposed by 1924 and/or 1932 Act | 0 | |
| Gross tax, less credit for gift tax | 4,900 | |
| Credit for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession tax | 3,920 | |
| Net tax imposed by 1926 Act | | $980 |
| Total gross taxes imposed by 1926 Act and 1932 Act, as amended | 40,600 | |
| Gross tax imposed by 1926 Act | 4,900 | |
| Gross additional tax imposed by 1932 Act, as amended | 35,700 | |
| Credit for gift tax imposed by 1932 Act | 0 | |
| Net additional tax imposed by 1934 Act | | 35,700 |
| Total net tax | | 36,680 |

Example (2) (estate subject only to the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935): The gross estate of a resident decedent who died September 1, 1936, amounts to $85,000. Deductions for administration expenses and claims against the estate are allowed in the amount of $10,000, leaving $75,000 before the deduction of the specific exemption authorized by the Revenue Act of 1926. As that exemption is $100,000, it is apparent that the estate is not subject to the estate tax imposed by such Act. However, as the specific exemption authorized by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, is only $40,000, the estate is subject to the additional estate tax imposed by the latter Act. For the purpose of such additional estate tax the net estate amounts to $35,000. The tax shown in the first subcolumn of column (1) of Table I on a net estate equaling $30,000 is $1,200. As $35,000 exceeds $30,000 and falls below $40,000, the tax on the excess of $5,000 is computed at 8 per cent, the rate shown in the second subcolumn of column (1). The tax on such excess is, consequently, $400. The $400 added to the $1,200 gives $1,600, the tax computed upon the net estate of $35,000 at the rates prescribed by the Revenue Act of 1935. Inasmuch as, in this example, the estate is not subject to the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926, $1,600 is the gross additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935. As credit for gift tax is not involved in this example, the gross additional tax is the same as the net additional tax. It will be noted that credit for State or Territorial estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes is not allowable against the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, or by that Act as amended.

Example (3) (estate subject to the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and to the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, and involving credits for gift tax and for State inheritance taxes): The value of the gross estate of a resident decedent who died September 15, 1936, is $400,000 and the value of the net estate for the purpose of the tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 is $225,000. The gross tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 is $5,500. (See illustration for use of table in computing the tax.) On December 1, 1934, the decedent, in contemplation of death, transferred certain real property to his daughter as a gift. The value of the real property as of the date of the gift, and as of the time of death, was $155,000. As a result of this gift, a gift tax was paid in the amount of $3,625, on a net gift of $100,000 after exclusion of $5,000 and deduction of $50,000 specific exemption. (See Gift Tax Act of 1932.) As the value of the transferred real property is included in the decedent's gross estate, a credit for gift tax is allowed against the gross tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 in such amount as does not exceed an amount which bears the same ratio to the gross tax, $5,500, as the value at which the taxable gift ($155,000 less the gift tax exclusion of $5,000) is included in the gross estate bears to the value of the entire gross estate. (See article 9 (a).) This ratio, which is ascertained by dividing $150,000 by $400,000, is 0.375. The credit for gift tax is, therefore, allowed in the amount which results from multiplying $5,500 by 0.375, or $2,062.50. The gross tax, $5,500, less the credit for gift tax, is $3,437.50. It will be assumed that State inheritance taxes paid equal or exceed the maximum amount of the credit allowable therefor (80 per cent of the difference between the gross tax and the gift tax credit). Accordingly, $2,750 is allowed as the credit for State inheritance taxes. The difference between $3,437.50 and $2,750 is $687.50, which is the net tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926.

The net estate for the purpose of the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, is $285,000. The total gross taxes imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926 and the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935, computed in accordance with the table is $43,600. The difference between such total gross taxes and $5,500, the gross tax computed under the Revenue Act of 1926, is $38,100, the gross additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1935. The credit for gift tax against such gross additional tax (1) can not exceed an amount which bears the same ratio to the gross additional tax as the value at which the taxable gift is included in the gross estate bears to the value of the entire gross estate (38,100, the gross tax, multiplied by 0.375, the factor, equals $14,287.50), and (2) can not exceed the difference between the total amount of the gift tax and the credit for gift tax allowed against the gross tax computed under the Revenue Act of 1926. The credit here allowed is $3,625 less $2,062.50, or $1,562.50. A tabulation of this example is as follows:

|---|---|---|
| Gross tax imposed by 1926 Act | $5,500.00 | |
| Credit for gift tax imposed by 1932 Act | 2,062.50 | |
| Gross tax less credit for gift tax | 3,437.50 | |
| Credit for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession tax | 2,750.00 | |
| Net tax imposed by 1926 Act | | $687.50 |
| Total gross taxes imposed by 1926 and 1932 Acts, as amended | $43,600.00 | |
| Gross tax imposed by 1926 Act | 5,500.00 | |
| Gross additional tax | 38,100.00 | |
| Credit for gift tax imposed by 1932 Act | 1,562.50 | |
| Net additional tax imposed by 1932 Act, as amended | | $36,537.50 |
| Total net tax | | 37,225.00 |

Credits Against Estate Tax

GIFT TAX CREDIT

SEC. 301. (b) (as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1932).

(1) If a tax has been paid under Title III of the Revenue Act of 1932 on a gift, and thereafter upon the death of the donor any amount in respect of such gift is required to be included in the value of the gross estate of the decedent for the purposes of this title, then there shall be credited against the tax imposed by subdivision (a) of this section the tax paid under such Title III with respect to so much of the property which constituted the gift as is included in the gross estate, except that the amount of such credit shall not exceed an amount which bears the same ratio to the tax imposed by subdivision (a) of this section as the value (at the time of the gift or at the time of the death, whichever is lower) of so much of the property which constituted the gift as is included in the gross estate, bears to the value of the entire gross estate.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1), the amount of tax paid for any year under Title III of the Revenue Act of 1932 with respect to any property shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the total tax paid for such year as the value of such property bears to the total amount of net gifts (computed without deduction of the specific exemption) for such year.

SEC. 402. Revenue Act of 1932. (Pertaining to additional estate tax.) * * *

(b) (1) If a tax has been paid under Title III of this Act on a gift, and thereafter upon the death of the donor any amount in respect of such gift is required to be included in the value of the gross estate of the decedent for the purposes of this title, then there shall be credited against the tax imposed by section 401 of this Act the amount of the tax paid under such Title III with respect to so much of the property which constituted the gift as is included in the gross estate, except that the amount of such credit (A) shall not exceed an amount which bears the same ratio to the tax imposed by section 401 of this Act as the value (at the time of the gift or at the time of the death, whichever is lower) of so much of the property which constituted the gift as is included in the gross estate, bears to the value of the entire gross estate, and (B) shall not exceed the amount by which the gift tax paid under Title III of this Act with respect to so much of the property as constituted the gift as is included in the gross estate, exceeds the amount of the credit under section 301 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by this Act.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1), the amount of tax paid for any year under Title III of this Act with respect to any property shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the total tax paid for such year as the value of such property bears to the total amount of net gifts (computed without deduction of the specific exemption) for such year.

SEC. 404. Revenue Act of 1928.

Section 322 of the Revenue Act of 1924 (relating to the credit of gift tax against estate tax where the amount of the gift is required to be included in the gross estate of the decedent) is revived as of January 1, 1926 (the effective date of its repeal by the Revenue Act of 1926). Such section shall also be applied in the case of the estate tax imposed by Title III of the Revenue Act of 1926, in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of the estate tax imposed by Title III of the Revenue Act of 1924.

SEC. 322. Revenue Act of 1924.

In case a tax has been imposed under section 319 upon any gift, and thereafter upon the death of the donor the amount thereof is required by any provision of Part I of this title to be included in the gross estate of the decedent then there shall be credited against and applied in reduction of the estate tax, which would otherwise be chargeable against the estate of the decedent under the provisions of section 301, an amount equal to the tax paid with respect to such gift; and in the event the donor has in any year paid the tax imposed by section 319 with respect to a gift or gifts which upon the death of the donor must be included in his gross estate and a gift or gifts not required to be so included, then the amount of the tax which shall be deemed to have been paid with respect to the gift or gifts required to be so included shall be that proportion of the entire tax paid on account of all such gifts which the amount of the gift or gifts required to be so included bears to the total amount of gifts in that year.

INHERITANCE TAX CREDIT

SEC. 301. (c) (as amended by section 802 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932). The tax imposed by subdivision (a) of this section shall be credited with the amount of any estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes actually paid to any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, in respect of any property included in the gross estate (not including any such taxes paid with respect to the estate of a person other than the decedent). The credit allowed by this subdivision shall not exceed 80 per centum of the tax imposed by subdivision (a) (after deducting from such tax the credits provided by subdivision (b)), and shall include only such taxes as were actually paid and credit therefor claimed within four years after the filing of the return required by section 304, except that—

(1) If a petition for redetermination of a deficiency has been filed with the Board of Tax Appeals within the time prescribed in section 308, then within such four-year period or before the expiration of 60 days after the decision of the Board becomes final.

(2) If, under subdivision (b) of section 305 or subdivision (1) of section 308, an extension of time has been granted for payment of the tax shown on the return, or of a deficiency, then within such four-year period or before the date of the expiration of the period of the extension.

Refund based on the credit may (despite the provisions of section 319) be made if claim therefor is filed within the period above provided. Any such refund shall be made without interest, except that where the overpayment was made prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, then interest shall be allowed and paid on the amount refunded at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date of the overpayment to the date of such enactment.

NOTE.—Section 802 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1932 reads as follows:

"(b) If any return required by section 304 of the Revenue Act of 1926 was filed more than three years before the enactment of this Act (except in cases where a petition for redetermination of a deficiency has been filed with the Board of Tax Appeals within the time prescribed in section 308) the credit for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes shall be determined as if this section had not been enacted."

SEC. 402. Revenue Act of 1932. (Petaining to additional estate tax.)

(a) The credit provided in section 301 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended (80 per centum credit), shall not be allowed in respect of such additional tax.

ART. 9. (a) Credit for gift tax.—The estate is entitled, with certain limitations, to credit against the estate tax for Federal gift tax paid in respect of property included in the gross estate.

(1) Credit against estate tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926.—In accordance with the provisions of section 301 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1932, credit for gift tax paid on gifts made by the decedent under the Gift Tax Act of 1932, or under that Act as amended, is allowed against the estate tax imposed by section 301 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1926. Such credit can not exceed an amount which bears the same ratio to the gross tax computed under the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1926 as the value of the property which was included for the purpose of the gift tax and also included in the gross estate bears to the value of the entire gross estate. In computing this ratio, the value of such property is the value determined for the purpose of the gift tax or the value determined for the purpose of the estate tax, whichever is the lower. In accordance with section 322 of the Revenue Act of 1924, as revived and extended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1928, credit for the entire amount of gift tax paid under the Revenue Act of 1924 in respect of property included in the gross estate is allowed against the estate tax imposed by section 301 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1926.

(2) Credit against additional estate tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, or by that Act as amended.—In accordance with the provisions of section 402 of the Revenue Act of 1932 credit for gift tax paid on gifts made by the decedent under the Gift Tax Act of 1932, or under that Act as amended, is allowed against the additional estate tax imposed by section 401 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932, or by that Act as amended. Such credit can not exceed an amount which bears the same ratio to the gross additional estate tax computed under the provisions of the Revenue Act of 1932, or that Act as amended, as the value of the property which was included for the purpose of the gift tax and also included in the gross estate bears to the value of the entire gross estate. In computing this ratio, the value of such property is the value determined for the purpose of the gift tax or the value determined for the purpose of the estate tax, whichever is the lower. Furthermore, the credit can not exceed the difference between the total amount of such gift tax paid and the amount of the credit therefor against the estate tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1926. No credit for gift tax paid under the Revenue Act of 1924 is allowed against the additional estate tax imposed by section 401 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932, or that Act as amended.

Property included for the purpose of the gift tax and also included in the gross estate does not embrace any portion of the gift excluded under the provisions of subsection (b) of section 504 of the Gift Tax Act of 1932, and due allowance must be made for any such exclusions when computing the credit in accordance with the limitations set forth in the foregoing paragraphs (1) and (2). For example: A donor, in contemplation of death, transferred property then valued at $100,000 to his five children, and paid the resulting gift tax. The property is thereafter included in his gross estate for the purpose of the estate tax at a value of $80,000. As the total value of the property at the time of the gift was $100,000 and the amount of $25,000 was excluded under the provisions of subsection (b) of section 504 of the Gift Tax Act of 1932, $75,000, or three-fourths of the property, was included for the purpose of the gift tax. As the total value of the property determined for the purpose of the estate tax is $80,000, the value of three-fourths thereof is $60,000. Since $60,000 is the lower of the two values ($75,000 and $60,000), this amount is used in computing the ratio.

If only a part of the property, included for the purpose of a gift tax imposed upon transfers made during a certain calendar year, is also included in the decedent's gross estate for the purpose of the estate tax, the gift tax paid in respect of such a part of the property is an amount which bears the same ratio to the total gift tax paid for such calendar year as the value of such part of the property bears to the total amount of the net gifts (computed without deduction of the specific exemption) for such year. For the purpose of computing this proportion the values finally determined for the purpose of the gift tax control, irrespective of the values determined for the purpose of the estate tax.

If all of the property, included for the purpose of a gift tax imposed upon transfers made during a certain calendar year, is included in the decedent's gross estate for the purpose of the estate tax, the gift tax paid in respect of the property included in the gross estate is the amount of the gift tax paid for that calendar year.

Example: On July 15, 1932, a resident donor gave his son a yacht valued at $50,000 as a wedding present. On August 15, 1932, the decedent donated $50,000 in cash to a charitable organization. On December 1, 1932, he transferred to his wife real property valued at $100,000 in contemplation of death. The total amount of gifts for the year 1932 for the purpose of the gift tax is $185,000, $5,000 for each of the three donees being excluded from the total gifts under the provisions of the Gift Tax Act of 1932. After deducting $50,000 specific exemption and $45,000 for the gift to the charitable organization, the net gifts amount to $90,000. The gift tax on the net gifts, $3,125, was paid. The donor died on December 10, 1936, and the value of the real property transferred in contemplation of death is included in his gross estate for the purpose of the estate tax. The gift tax paid in respect of the property included in the gross estate is an amount which bears the same ratio to $3,125 as $95,000 bears to $140,000, or $2,120.54. Note that $95,000 is the portion of the real property subject to gift tax ($100,000 less the excluded $5,000) and that $140,000 is the amount of the net gifts computed without deduction of the specific exemption, $50,000.

The credit is allowable even though the gift tax was paid by the executor after the decedent's death and the amount of the gift tax is deductible from the gross estate as a debt of the decedent.

For a further illustration of the computation of gift tax credit, see the last example in article 8.

(b) Credit for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes.—Under the provisions of section 301 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, the estate is entitled, under certain conditions, to a credit against the Federal estate tax imposed by section 301 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1926 for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes actually paid with respect to the estate of the decedent to any of the several States, Territories, or the District of Columbia. The credit is limited to 80 percent of such Federal estate tax, after deduction of the credit allowed, if any, against such tax for Federal gift taxes paid. No credit for payment of estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes is allowed against the additional tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1932, or by that Act as amended. The credit is limited to the amount of estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes paid to any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia in respect to property included in the gross estate of the decedent for Federal estate tax purposes.

The credit is also limited to such taxes as were actually paid and credit therefor claimed within four years after the filing of the return, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph. If a petition was filed with the Board of Tax Appeals for the redetermination of a deficiency within the time prescribed by section 308 (see article 76), the credit is limited to such taxes as were actually paid and credit therefor claimed within four years after the filing of the return or before the expiration of 60 days after the decision of the Board becomes final, whichever period is the longer. If the return was filed after, or less than three years before, the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932 and an extension of time was granted for payment of the tax shown on the return or of a deficiency, the credit is limited to such taxes as were actually paid and credit therefor claimed within four years after the filing of the return or before the date of the expiration of the extension, whichever period is the longer. If the return was filed more than three years before the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, except in cases in which a petition for redetermination of a deficiency has been filed with the Board of Tax Appeals within the time prescribed by section 308, the credit is limited to such taxes as were actually paid and credit therefor claimed within three years after the filing of the return. Should the executor, in accordance with the provisions of section 305 (e), as added by section 811 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932, elect to postpone the payment of the Federal estate tax attributable to a reversionary or remainder interest, the credit allowable against the Federal estate tax attributable to such interest is limited to estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes attributable to such interest as are actually paid to any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia and credit therefor claimed prior to the expiration of 60 days after the termination of the precedent interest. (See article 82 (b).)

Refund based on the credit, despite the provisions of section 319, will be made if claim therefor is filed within the period provided for filing claim for credit. Such refunds will be made without interest unless the overpayment was made prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932, in which case interest upon the amount refunded is allowable on the amount of the refund at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date of the overpayment to the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932.

Before the Commissioner allows any credit for any estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes, there must be submitted to him the following:

(1) Certificate of the proper officer of the taxing State, Territory, or District of Columbia showing: (a) the total amount of tax imposed (before adding interest and penalties and before allowing discount); (b) the amount of discount allowed; (c) the amount of penalties and interest imposed or charged; (d) the total amount actually paid in cash; and (e) the date of payment.

(2) A certificate of the above-mentioned officer showing whether (a) a claim for refund of such taxes or any part thereof is pending and (b) whether a refund of such taxes or any part thereof has been authorized. If any refund has been made, the date, the amount thereof, and a description of the property or interest in respect to which such refund was made must be shown in the certificate.

The evidence described above should be filed with the return, but if that is not convenient or possible, then it should be submitted to the investigating officer verifying the return, or, if the investigation of the estate has been completed, it should be transmitted to the Commissioner.

The Commissioner may require the submission of such additional proof as is deemed necessary to establish the right to the credit. For example, he may require an itemized list of the property in respect to which any such taxes were imposed, certified by the officer having custody of the records pertaining to such taxes for the State or Territory involved or the District of Columbia, and an affidavit of the executor stating whether any litigation has been instituted, or appeal taken, or any such action is designed or contemplated by him, or, to his knowledge, by any beneficiary or other person, the final determination of which may affect the amount of such taxes.

If, subsequent to the allowance of a credit by the Commissioner, a refund is made of any such estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes, the executor, or if the refund is made after the executor's discharge, then any person or persons to whom the refund is made, is required to advise the Commissioner of the date of the refund and the amount thereof, furnish the Commissioner with a description of the property or interest in respect to which the refund was made, and pay the Federal estate tax, if any, due as a result of such refund, together with interest.

Gross Estate—Valuation

SEC. 302 (as amended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1934). The value of the gross estate of the decedent shall be determined by including the value at the time of his death of all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated, except real property situated outside the United States— * * *

(j) (as added by section 202 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1935). If the executor so elects upon his return (if filed within the time prescribed by law or prescribed by the Commissioner in pursuance of law), the value of the gross estate shall be determined by valuing all the property included therein on the date of the decedent's death as of the date one year after the decedent's death, except that (1) property included in the gross estate on the date of death and, within one year after the decedent's death, distributed by the executor (or, in the case of property included in the gross estate under subdivision (c), (d), or (f) of this section, distributed by the trustee under the instrument of transfer), or sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of, shall be included at its value as of the time of such distribution, sale, exchange, or other disposition, whichever first occurs, instead of its value as of the date one year after the decedent's death, and (2) any interest or estate which is affected by mere lapse of time shall be included at its value as of the time of death (instead of the later date) with adjustment for any difference in its value as of the later date not due to mere lapse of time No deduction under this title of any item shall be allowed if allowance for such item is in effect given by the valuation under this subdivision. Wherever in any other subdivision or section of this title or in Title II of the Revenue Act of 1932, reference is made to the value of property at the time of the decedent's death, such reference shall be deemed to refer to the value of such property used in determining the value of the gross estate. In case of an election made by the executor under this subdivision, then for the purposes of the deduction under section 303 (a) (3) or section 303 (b) (3), any bequest, legacy, devise, or transfer enumerated therein shall be valued as of the date of decedent's death with adjustment for any difference in value (not due to mere lapse of time or the occurrence or nonoccurrence of a contingency) of the property as of the date one year after the decedent's death (substituting the date of sale or exchange in the case of property sold or exchanged during such one-year period).

NOTE.—Section 202 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1935 reads as follows:

"The amendment made by this section shall be effective only with respect to transfers of estates of decedents dying after the date of the enactment of this Act."

ART. 10. Valuation of property.—(a) General.—The value of every item of property includible in the gross estate is the fair market value thereof at the time of the decedent's death; or, if the executor elects in accordance with the provisions of article 11, it is the fair market value thereof at the date therein prescribed or such value adjusted as therein set forth. The fair market value is the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or to sell. The fair market value of a particular kind of property includible in the gross estate is not to be determined by a forced sale price or by an estimate of what a whole block or aggregate would fetch if placed upon the market at one and the same time. Such value is to be determined by ascertaining as a basis the fair market value as of the applicable valuation date of each unit of the property. For example, in the case of shares of stock or bonds, such unit of property is a share or a bond. All relevant facts and elements of value as of the applicable valuation date should be considered in every case. Depreciation or appreciation in value subsequent to the valuation date are not relevant factors and will not be considered.

(b) Real estate.—The property should not be returned at the local assessed value thereof unless such value represents the fair market value as of the applicable valuation date. (See article 12 for the manner of listing and describing real estate.)

(c) Stocks and bonds.—The value of stocks and bonds, within the meaning of the statute, is the fair market value per share or bond on the applicable valuation date.

The value of stocks and bonds listed upon a stock exchange shall be obtained by taking the mean between the highest and lowest quoted selling prices upon the valuation date. If the valuation date is on a Sunday or a legal holiday, the transactions of the next previous business day will govern. If there were no sales on the valuation date, the value shall be determined by taking the mean between the highest and lowest sales upon the nearest date either before or after the valuation date, if within a reasonable period thereof. If the security was listed upon more than one exchange, the records of the exchange where the security is principally dealt in should be employed. In valuing listed stocks and bonds the executor should observe care to consult accurate records to obtain values as of the applicable valuation date.

If the securities are not listed upon an exchange, but are dealt in through brokers, or have a market, the value shall be determined by taking the mean between the highest and lowest selling prices as of the valuation date, or, if there were no sales on that date, of the nearest date either before or after the valuation date upon which sales were made, if within a reasonable period. If quotations are obtained from brokers, or evidence as to the sale of securities is obtained from the officers of the issuing companies, the executor should preserve in his files the letters furnishing such quotations or evidence of sale for inspection when the return is verified by an investigating officer.

In case securities are quoted on a bona fide bid and asked basis, and actual sales are not available, the mean between the bid and asked prices as of the applicable valuation date, or the nearest date thereto if within a reasonable time thereof, will be accepted as the value.

If the value of a security can not be determined by sales, or from bid and asked prices, as prescribed in the preceding provisions, then, in the case of corporate or other bonds, the value is to be arrived at by giving consideration to the soundness of the security, the interest yield, the date of maturity, and other relevant factors, and, in the case of shares of stock, upon the basis of the company's net worth, earning power, dividend-paying capacity, and all other relevant factors having a bearing upon the value of the stock. Complete financial and other data upon which the valuation is based should be submitted with the return.

In exceptional cases in which it is established by clear and convincing evidence that the value per bond or share of any security determined upon the basis of selling or bid and asked prices as herein provided does not reflect the fair market value thereof, other relevant facts and elements of value will be considered in determining the fair market value. The size of holdings of any security to be included in the gross estate is not a relevant factor and will not be considered in such determination.

The full value of securities pledged to secure an indebtedness of the decedent should be included in the gross estate.

If the decedent had a trading account with the broker, all securities belonging to the decedent and held by the broker at the date of death must be included at their fair market value as of the applicable valuation date. Securities purchased on margin for the decedent's account and held by the broker should also be returned at their fair market value as of the applicable valuation date. The amount of the decedent's indebtedness to the broker or other person with whom securities were pledged will be allowed as a deduction from the gross estate in accordance with articles 29, 36, and 52. (See article 12 for manner of listing and describing stocks and bonds.)

(d) Interest in business.—Care should be taken to arrive at an accurate valuation of any business in which the decedent was interested, whether as partner or proprietor. A fair appraisal as of the applicable valuation date should be made of all the assets of the business, tangible and intangible, including good will, and the business should be given a net value equal to the amount which a willing purchaser, whether an individual or corporation, would pay therefor to a willing seller in view of the net value of the assets and the demonstrated earning capacity. Special attention should be given to fixing an adequate figure for the value of the good will of the business in all cases in which the decedent has not agreed, for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, that his interest therein shall pass at his death to his surviving partner or partners.

The factors hereinbefore stated relative to the valuation of other property, if applicable, will be considered in determining the valuation of an interest in a business held as proprietor or partner. All evidence bearing upon such valuation should be submitted with the return, including copies of reports in any case in which examinations of the business have been made by accountants, engineers, or any technical experts as of or near the applicable valuation date.

(e) Notes, secured and unsecured.—The value of notes, whether secured or unsecured, will be presumed to be the amount of unpaid principal, plus interest to the applicable valuation date, unless the executor establishes a lower value, or it is shown that they are worthless. However, items of interest should be separately listed on the estate tax return. Unless returned at face value, together with accrued interest, it must be shown by satisfactory evidence that the note is worth less than the unpaid amount because of the interest rate, or date of maturity, or other cause, or that it is uncollectible, either in whole or in part, by reason of the insolvency of the party or parties liable, or for other cause, and that the property, if any, pledged or mortgaged as security is insufficient to satisfy it.

(f) Cash on hand or on deposit.—The amount of cash belonging to the decedent, either in his possession at the date of death or in the possession of another, or deposited with a bank, should be included. If bank checks outstanding at the time of the decedent's death, given in discharge of bona fide, legal obligations of the decedent incurred for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, and not as transfers coming within the provisions of section 302 (c) or (d) are subsequently honored by the bank and charged to the account, the balance remaining may be returned, provided the payments effected thereby are not claimed as deductions from the gross estate.

(g) Household and personal effects.—All household and personal effects of the decedent should be included at the price which a willing buyer would pay to a willing seller. A room by room itemization is desirable. All the articles should be named specifically, except that a number of articles contained in the same room, none of which has a value in excess of $50, may be grouped. A separate value should be given for each article named. The executor may furnish, in lieu of an itemized list, a sworn statement, in duplicate, setting forth the aggregate value of the property as appraised by a competent appraiser, or appraisers of recognized standing and ability, or by a dealer or dealers in the class of personalty involved.

If, however, there is included among the household and personal effects, articles having marked artistic or intrinsic value of a total value in excess of $2,000, such as jewelry, silverware, paintings, etchings, engravings, antiques, books, statuary, vases, oriental rugs, collections of coins and stamps, the appraisal of an expert or experts, under oath, should be filed with the return, Form 706, accompanied by the affidavit, in duplicate, of the executor as to the completeness of the itemized list of such property and of the disinterested character and the qualifications of the appraiser or appraisers.

If it is desired to effect distribution or sale of any portion of the household or personal effects in advance of the investigation by an officer of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, information to that effect should be given to the internal revenue agent in charge for the division wherein the decedent was domiciled at the date of his death, or if such household and personal effects were not located in such division, then to the Commissioner. The statement to the internal revenue agent in charge should be accompanied by a verified appraisal of such property and an affidavit of the executor as to the completeness of the list of such property and the qualifications of the appraiser, as already referred to, but such an appraisal and affidavit need not be in duplicate. If a personal inspection by an officer of the Bureau is not deemed necessary, the executor will be so advised. This procedure is designed to facilitate disposition of such property and to obviate future expense and inconvenience to the estate by affording the Commissioner an opportunity to make an investigation should one be deemed necessary prior to sale or distribution. (For location of the offices of the internal revenue agents in charge and the territory embraced in each division, see Appendix.)

If expert appraisers are employed care should be taken to see that they are reputable and of recognized competency to appraise the particular class of property involved. In the appraisal, books in sets by standard authors should be listed in separate groups. In listing paintings having artistic value, the size, subject, and artist's name should be stated. In the case of oriental rugs, the size, make, and general condition should be given. Sets of silverware should be listed in separate groups. Groups or individual pieces of silverware should be weighed and the weights given in troy ounces. In arriving at the value of silverware, the appraisers should take into consideration its antiquity, utility, desirability, condition, and obsolescence.

(h) Other property.—Any property not specifically treated in this article should be valued in accordance with the rule laid down in subdivision (a) hereof. Live stock, farm machinery, harvested and growing crops should be itemized and the value of each item separately returned.

(i) Annuities, life, remainder, and reversionary interests.—(1) If the executor adopts the option set forth in article 11, any annuity, life, remainder, or reversionary interest includible in the gross estate should be valued as of the date of the decedent's death in accordance with the provisions of this article and then such value should be adjusted as explained in article 11 for any difference in value between the date of death and the applicable subsequent date due to causes other than mere lapse of time. If the executor does not adopt the option set forth in article 11, the value of any such interest should be computed as hereinafter prescribed without such further adjustment for any decrease or increase in the value of the property subsequent to the date of death.

(2) The value of an annuity contract issued by a company regularly engaged in the selling of contracts of that character is established through the sale by that company of comparable contracts.

(3) All other future payments are to be discounted upon the basis of compound interest at the rate of 4 per cent a year. If the time of payment or of payments is dependent upon the continuation of, or upon the termination of a life or of lives, the Actuaries' or Combined Experience Table of Mortality, as extended, and established actuarial principles are to be used in the computation of the present worth. For the purpose of the computation the age of a person is to be taken as the age of that person at his nearest birthday. Table A, a part of this article, gives factors applicable to a case in which only one life is involved. (See paragraphs (4) to (8), inclusive.) Table B, a part of this article, gives factors applicable to a case in which only a term-certain is involved. (See paragraphs (9) to (11), inclusive.) If the time of payment or of payments is dependent upon the continuation of, or termination of more than one life, or there is a term-certain concurrent with one or more lives, a special computation in accordance with the first two sentences of this paragraph is necessary. A case requiring a special computation may be stated to the Commissioner who will furnish the applicable factor, provided such request is made sufficiently in advance of the due date of the return. Such request must fully disclose all relevant facts. The date of birth of each person, the duration of whose life may affect the value of the interest, should be established by affidavit.

(4) If the decedent had a remainder interest in property subject to the life estate of another, the present worth of the remainder interest at the time of death should be obtained by multiplying the value of the property at the time of death by the figure in column 3 of Table A opposite the number of years nearest to the actual age of the life tenant.

Example: The decedent was entitled to receive property worth $50,000 upon the death of his elder brother, to whom the income for life had been bequeathed. The brother at the time of the decedent's death was 31 years 5 months old. By reference to Table A, it is found that the figure in column 3, opposite 31 years, is 0.31262. The present worth at the date of death of the remainder interest is, therefore, $15,631 ($50,000 multiplied by 0.31262).

(5) In case the decedent was entitled to receive an annuity of a definite amount during the lifetime of another person, payable at the end of annual periods, the present worth at the time of the decedent's death must be computed upon the basis of the value of a life annuity at the age of the other person. The amount payable annually should be multiplied by the figure in column 2 of Table A opposite the number of years in column 1 nearest to the actual age of the other person.

Example: The decedent received under the terms of his father's will an annuity of $10,000 for the life of his elder brother. The brother at the decedent's death was 40 years 8 months old. By reference to Table A, the figure in column 2 opposite 41 years, the number nearest to the brother's actual age, is found to be 14.86102. The present worth of the annuity at the date of the decedent's death is therefore $148,610.20.

(6) If an annuity under which the decedent was entitled to receive during the life of another payments at the end of each semiannual quarterly or monthly period, the value of the annuity is to be determined by multiplying the aggregate amount to be paid within a year by the figure in column 2 of Table A opposite the number of years in column 1 nearest the actual age of the person whose life measures the duration of the annuity, and then multiplying the product by 1.01820 for monthly payments, by 1.01488 for quarterly payments, or by 1.00990 for semiannual payments.

Example: If, in the example given in paragraph (5), the annuity is payable in semiannual installments of $5,000 at the end of each semiannual period, the aggregate annual amount, $10,000, should be multiplied by the factor 14.86102, and the product should be multiplied by 1.00990. The present worth at the date of death of the annuity is, therefore, $150,081.44 ($10,000×14.86102×1.00990).

(7) If the first payment of an annuity for the life of an individual is to be paid at once, the value of the annuity is the sum of the first payment plus the present worth of a similar annuity, the first payment of which is not to be made until the end of the first period.

Example: The decedent was entitled to receive an annuity of $50 a month payable during the life of another. The decedent died on the day a payment was due. At the date of his death the person whose life measures the duration of the annuity was then 50 years of age. The value of the annuity at the date of decedent's death is $50 plus the product of $50×12×12.47032 (see Table A)×1.01820 (see preceding paragraph), or $7,668.38 [$50 plus ($50×12×12.47032 ×1.01820)].

(8) If the decedent was entitled to receive the entire income of certain property during the life of another person, or was entitled to the use of nonincome-producing property during the life of another person, a hypothetical annuity at a rate of 4 per cent of the value of the property should be made the basis of the calculation.

Example: The decedent was entitled to receive the income from a fund of $100,000 during the life of a person 41 years old. The value of a hypothetical annuity of $4,000, dependent upon the life of such a person, is indicated by the table to be $59,444.08 ($4,000 multiplied by 14.86102).

(9) If the decedent was entitled to receive property at the end of a specified number of years after his death, Table B or an extension thereof should be used.

Example: The decedent is entitled to receive $100,000 at the end of 30 years. The value of his right is the product of $100,000 multiplied by 0.308319 the factor in column 3, Table B, opposite 30 years in column 1.

(10) If an annuity under which the decedent was entitled to receive during a term-certain payments at the end of each semiannual, quarterly, or monthly period, the value of the annuity is to be determined by multiplying the aggregate amount to be paid within a year by the applicable factor in column 2 of Table B and the product is to be multiplied by 1.01820 for monthly payments, by 1.01488 for quarterly payments, or by 1.00990 for semiannual payments.

Example: The decedent was an annuitant for a term-certain, being entitled to $1,000 annually payable in installments of $500 at the end of each semiannual period. A semiannual payment of $500 had been made just before the death of the decedent and there remained 20 payments to be made over a period of 10 years. The value of the annuity as of the date of the decedent's death is the product of $500×2×8.11089 (see Table B) ×1.01820, or $8,258.51.

(11) If the first payment of an annuity for a definite number of years is to be paid at once, the applicable factor is the product of the factor shown in Table B multiplied by 1.02154 for monthly payments, by 1.02488 for quarterly payments, by 1.02990 for semiannual payments, or by 1.04 for annual payments.

Example: The decedent was the beneficiary of an annuity of $50 a month. On the day a payment was due, the decedent died. There were 300 payments to be made, including the payment due. The value of the annuity as of the date of decedent's death is the product of $50×12×15.62208 (see Table B)×1.02154, or $9,575.15 ($50×12×15.62208×1.02154).

ART. 11. Optional valuation date.—In general, the object of subdivision (j) of section 302 is to make provision whereby the amount of tax otherwise payable may be lessened when, within the year following the decedent's death, the gross estate has suffered a shrinkage in its aggregate value.

If the decedent died after August 30, 1935, the executor may, by an election upon his return, Form 706, if filed within the time prescribed by law or prescribed by the Commissioner in pursuance of law, have the property which was included in the gross estate on the date of decedent's death valued as of the applicable dates, as follows:

(1) Any property distributed, sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of within one year after the decedent's death, valued as of the date of such distribution, sale, exchange, or other disposition, whichever first occurs;

(2) Any property not distributed, sold, exchanged, or otherwise disposed of within such 1-year period, valued as of the date one year after the date of the decedent's death;

(3) Any property, interest, or estate which is affected by mere lapse of time, valued as of the date of decedent's death; except that an adjustment is to be made for any difference in its value, not due to such lapse of time, as of the date one year after the date of decedent's death, or as of the date of its distribution, sale, exchange, or other disposition, whichever date first occurs.

Property "distributed" is limited to distributions thereof by the executor, or by the trustee in the case of property included in the gross estate under subdivision (c), (d), or (f) of section 302, as amended. Distribution may be effected by the entry of the order or decree of distribution, or, if there is no such order or decree, by the segregation or separation of the property from the estate or the trust, or by the actual paying over or delivery of the property to the person entitled thereto by the will, or under the law, or by the terms of the trust.

The sale, exchange, or other disposition, to which subdivision (j) refers, may be one made by the executor, or by the trustee of property included in the gross estate under subdivision (c), (d), or (f) of section 302, as amended, or by any other person to whom the property had not been distributed by the executor or by such a trustee, or to whom it had not passed from the gross estate as the result of a sale, exchange, or other disposition thereof, as, for example, a sale, exchange, or other disposition by an heir, devisee, donee or grantee to whom the decedent in his lifetime transferred the property, or by the survivor of the decedent if the property had been held by them subject to the right of survivorship.

Property, in the case of a sale, exchange, or other disposition thereof within the 1-year period, is to be valued as of the date when it ceases to form a part of the gross estate, that is, the date when the title passes as the result of its sale, exchange, or other disposition. The terms "distributed", "sold", "exchanged", "or otherwise disposed of" comprehend all possible ways by which property may be separated or passed from the gross estate. Thus, money on hand at decedent's death which is thereafter used in the payment of the funeral expenses, or in settlement of claims against the estate, or is invested, falls within the term "otherwise disposed of."

The property to be valued as of one year after the date of decedent's death, or as of date of decedent's death, or as of some intermediate date, is the property included in the gross estate on the date of the decedent's death. As property and its value are separate and distinct, the former denoting legal rights, the latter the monetary measure of such rights, and as subdivision (j) treats of the two separately, it will be necessary in every case first to determine what property constituted the gross estate at decedent's death. Subdivisions of section 302, as amended, other than subdivision (j), supply the information necessary to that determination, subdivision (j) being, in the main, confined to the date or dates as at which the value is to be ascertained.

Interest-bearing obligations, such as bonds and notes, embody two promises, one to pay principal and the other to pay interest, and both promises are a part of the gross estate at the death of the decedent, if the obligation was then owned by him, or had been previously so transferred by him, or at his death there was vested in him any such right or power in or with respect to the obligation as to bring it within any of the other subdivisions of section 302, as amended. If the valuation date is that of decedent's death, the principal of the obligation and interest then accrued and unpaid thereon are to be valued as of that date. If the valuation date is subsequent to death, the principal and interest then accrued and unpaid are to be valued as of that date. The valuation date of any part payment of principal or of any installment of interest, made between decedent's death and the date as at which the obligation is to be valued, will be the date of such payment. Like rules will govern, so far as applicable, when any other obligation is involved, as, for example, one calling for the payment of rent or a royalty. Thus, in the case of rent, if the realty and the obligation to pay the rent reserved were parts of the gross estate at the time of decedent's death, the value of the former must be determined as of the applicable valuation date, and also the value of the rent then accrued and unpaid reserved by the latter. The valuation date of any rent paid in the interim pursuant to the rental obligation will be the date of its payment.

As in the case of bonds and notes, the interest accrued and unpaid upon a judgment on the date as of which the judgment is to be valued is to be included in the valuation. The valuation date of any part payment of the judgment, or of any interest thereon (without regard to whether earned before or after decedent's death), made between decedent's death and the date as of which the judgment is to be valued, will be the date of such payment.

When corporate stock is a part of the gross estate at decedent's death, and a dividend in partial liquidation is thereafter paid on or before the date as of which the stock is to be valued, the valuation date of such dividend will be the date of its payment. Similarly, a dividend paid within the same period out of earnings, whether the earnings are made or accumulated prior or subsequent to decedent's death, will be valued as of the date of its payment. Earnings of the corporation neither declared as a dividend nor paid between decedent's death and the valuation date of the stock, will be reflected in the value of the stock. But a dividend declared prior to the valuation date of the stock and payable subsequent thereto will not be so reflected if the stock is selling "ex dividend" on such valuation date, but is to be valued as of that date.

Differing from payments of principal and interest in the case of bonds and notes, those made upon a judgment are not pursuant to a promise but to an obligation imposed by law, which obligation, in its totality, is a part of the gross estate at decedent's death if coming within any of the other subdivisions of section 302, as amended. So, too, liquidating dividends and dividends paid from earnings are not pursuant to a promise but are referable to legal rights inherent in stock ownership.

By way of illustrating the operation of subdivision (j), there is given the following example in which the death of the decedent will be taken to have occurred December 1, 1935:

|---|---|---|---|
| Improved real estate—not disposed of within year following decedent's death | Dec. 1, 1936 | $30,000 | $35,000 |
| Rents accrued but unpaid under lease antedating decedent's death | Dec. 1, 1936 | 900 | 500 |
| Rent paid Jan. 1, 1936 | Jan. 1, 1936 | 500 | |
| Bonds sold June 1, 1936 | June 1, 1936 | 59,400 | 60,000 |
| Interest accrued and unpaid thereon | June 1, 1936 | 400 | 400 |
| Interest paid Apr. 1, 1936 | Apr. 1, 1936 | 1,200 | |
| Corporate stock—distributed to legatee Nov. 1, 1936 | Nov. 1, 1936 | 100,000 | 200,000 |
| Cash dividend paid upon such stock Aug. 1, 1936 | Aug. 1, 1936 | 100,000 | |
| Bonds matured and paid Oct. 1, 1936 | Oct. 1, 1936 | 12,000 | 12,000 |
| Interest accrued | | | 80 |
| Interest paid at maturity | Oct. 1, 1936 | 240 | |
| Interest paid Apr. 1, 1936 | Apr. 1, 1936 | 240 | |
| Corporate stock—not disposed of within year following decedent's death, and upon which no dividend was paid in that period | Dec. 1, 1936 | 50,000 | 100,000 |
| Total value of gross estate pursuant to the election | | 354,980 | |
| Total value of gross estate as of date of decedent's death | | | 407,980 |

Properties, interests, or estates which are affected by mere lapse of time include patents, estates for the life of a person other than the decedent, remainders, reversions, and other like properties, interests, or estates. The phrase "affected by mere lapse of time" has no reference to obligations for the payment of money, whether or not interest-bearing, the value of which changes with the passing of time. However, such an obligation, like any other property, may become affected by lapse of time when made the subject of a bequest or transfer which itself is creative of an interest or estate so affected.

The date of valuation of any property, interest, or estate so affected is, as prescribed in subdivision (j), the date of decedent's death, but with an adjustment to be made of the value then obtaining, which adjustment, while disregarding any later increase or decrease in value due solely to lapse of time, adds to or subtracts from the value at death any difference between that value and the value as of the date one year after decedent's death, or the applicable intermediate date, if, and to the extent that, such difference was due to a cause or causes other than lapse of time. Accordingly, in the valuation of any property, interest, or estate affected by lapse of time, the difference between its value at decedent's death and its value as of the later date must be analyzed to determine the portion of such difference attributable to other cause or causes, and that portion only is to be applied in adjusting the value as of the date of the decedent's death. If, for example, the decedent owned a patent which on the date of his death had an unexpired term of 10 years and a value of $100,000, and if the patent was sold 6 months after the decedent's death, at which time, because of the lapse of time and other causes, only $65,000 was realized therefor, the value would be determined as follows:

|---|---|---|
| Value of patent on date of decedent's death | | $100,000 |
| Difference between value on date of death and date of sale ($100,000 minus $65,000) | $35,000 | |
| Portion of such difference due to the 6 months elapsing between date of death and date of sale (one-half of 10 per cent of $100,000) | 5,000 | |
| Portion of difference due to causes other than lapse of time | | 30,000 |
| Adjusted value of patent | | 70,000 |

Or, to give another example, it may be supposed that the decedent was entitled to receive property which, at the time of his own death, was worth $50,000 upon the death of another person who was entitled to the income therefrom for life and who was 31 years old at the time of the decedent's death. The value at decedent's death of his remainder interest would, as explained in article 10 (i) of these regulations, be $15,631, and if, due to economic conditions, the property declined in value and became worth $40,000 one year after the date of decedent's death, the value of the remainder interest would be determinable in the following manner:

|---|---|
| Value of remainder interest at decedent's death ($50,000 times factor (0.31262) shown opposite age 31 A, for age 32) | 12,771.60 |
| Value of remainder interest one year after decedent's death ($40,000 times factor (0.31929) shown in Table A, for age 32) | 12,771.60 |
| Net difference due in part to decline in value of the property and in part to increase in the value of the remainder interest due to lapse of time | 2,859.40 |
| Elimination of the increase due to lapse of time ($50,000 times the difference between the factor for age 32 and the factor for age 31, or 0.00667) | 333.50 |
| Portion of the difference in value due to the decline in value of the property | 3,192.90 |
| Value of remainder interest at decedents' death | 15,631.00 |
| Less portion of difference not due to lapse of time | 3,192.90 |
| Adjusted value of remainder interest | 12,438.10 |

(The amount of the adjustment may be computed more readily by multiplying the decline in the value of the property ($10,000) by the factor (0.31929) applicable to the later date.)

Deductions authorized under section 303 are limited to the extent that allowance thereof is not, in effect, given in the valuing of the gross estate. Property passing by decedent's will, or passing by a transfer made by the decedent in his lifetime (if the transfer was such as to require the property transferred to be included in the gross estate) to or for any such public, charitable, or religious uses as are described in section 303 (a) (3) or in section 303 (b) (3), is deductible at its value as of the date of the decedent's death, subject, however, to adjustment for any difference in value one year after such death, or at the date of the sale or exchange in the case of property sold or exchanged during such 1-year period. But no such adjustment may take into account any difference in value due to lapse of time or to the occurrence or nonoccurrence of a contingency.

The election is available to the executor only at the time the return is filed, and only if the return is filed within 15 months from the decedent's death, or within the period of an extension of time for filing granted under the provisions of article 68 or 69 of these regulations. The election applies to all the property included in the gross estate on the date of the decedent's death. It can not be applied only to a portion of such property. The election, if exercised, can not be rescinded.

In every case where the election is exercised, the return, Form 706, must set forth (1) an itemized description of all property included in the gross estate on the date of the decedent's death, together with the value of each item as of that date, (2) an itemized disclosure of all distributions, sales, exchanges, and other dispositions of any of the property during the 1-year period after the decedent's death, together with the dates thereof, and (3) the value of each item of property determined in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (j). The amount of any income accrued and unpaid at the date of the decedent's death on each item of principal, the amount of any income collected or otherwise realized thereon after the decedent's death and prior to the date as of which the item of principal is to be valued, and the amount of any income accrued and unpaid thereon at such subsequent valuation date, shall be separately shown. All the information indicated by Form 706 must be supplied. Statements as to distributions, sales, exchanges, and other dispositions of the property within the 1-year period must be supported by evidence. If the court makes an order or decree of distribution during that period, a certified copy thereof must be submitted as part of the evidence. The Commissioner may require the submission of such additional evidence as is deemed necessary.

ART. 12. Description of property listed on return.—In listing upon the return the property constituting the gross estate (other than household and personal effects, as to which see article 10 (g)), the description thereof should be such that the property may be readily identified. Thus, a legal description should be given of each parcel of real estate, and if located in a city the name of street and number, its area, and, if improved, a short statement of the character of the improvements. Description of bonds should include number held, principal amount, name of obligor, date of maturity, rate of interest, date or dates on which interest is payable, series number if there is more than one issue, the exchange upon which listed, or the principal business office of the corporation, if unlisted. Description of stocks should include number of shares, whether common or preferred, and, if preferred, what issue thereof, par value, quotation at which returned, exact name of corporation, and, if the stock is unlisted, the location of the principal business office and State in which incorporated and the date of incorporation. If a listed security, state principal exchange upon which sold. Description of notes should include name of maker, date on which given, date of maturity, amount of principal, amount of principal unpaid, rate of interest and whether simple or compound, date to which interest has been paid and amount of unpaid interest. Description of land contracts received should include name of vendee, date of contract, description of property, sale price, initial payment, amounts of installment payments, unpaid balance of principal and accrued interest, interest rate and date prior to decedent's death to which interest had been paid.

Description of bank accounts should disclose name and address of depository, amount on deposit, whether a checking, savings, or a time-deposit account, rate of interest, if any payable, amount of interest accrued and payable, and serial number. Description of life insurance should give the name of the insurer, number of policy, name of the beneficiary, and the amount of the proceeds. For every policy of life insurance listed on the return, the executor must procure a statement by the company on Form 712 and file it with the collector. (See article 28.) In describing an annuity, the name and address of the grantor of the annuity should be given, or if payable out of a trust or other funds such a description as will fully identify it. If payable for a term of years, the duration of the term and the date on which it began should be given, and if payable for the life of a person other than the decedent, the date of birth of such person should be stated. Judgments should be described by giving the title of the cause and the name of the court in which rendered, date of judgment, name and address of judgment debtor, amount of judgment, rate of interest to which subject, whether any payments have been made thereon, and, if so, when and in what amounts.

Gross Estate—General

SEC. 302 (as amended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1934). The value of the gross estate of the decedent shall be determined by including the value at the time of his death of all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated, except real property situated outside the United States—

(a) To the extent of the interest therein of the decedent at the time of his death; • • •

ART. 13. Property of decedent at time of death.—It is designed by the foregoing provision of the statute that there shall be included in the gross estate all property of the decedent, whether real or personal, tangible or intangible, the beneficial ownership of which was in the decedent at the time of his death, except real property situated outside the United States.

If the decedent died prior to 10.25 a. m., eastern standard time, February 26, 1926, the test which determines that a given interest is to be included in the gross estate under the provisions of subdivisions (a) of the corresponding sections of the Revenue Acts prior to that of 1926 is whether the property, after death, shall be subject to: (1) Payment of the charges against the estate; (2) payment of the expenses of administration; and (3) distribution as a part of the estate. This test is not applicable if the decedent died subsequent to the effective date of the Revenue Act of 1926.

All real property situated in the United States and owned by the decedent at the date of his death should be included in the gross estate, whether the decedent was a resident or a non-resident, a citizen or an alien, and whether the property came into the posesssion and control of the executor or administrator or passed directly to heirs or devisees. If the decedent was a resident (or a nonresident citizen who died after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1934), all personal property owned by him should be included, wherever situated. If the decedent was a nonresident alien (or, regardless of citizenship, was a nonresident who died prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1934), so much of his personal property as had its situs in the United States at the time of his death should be included, and the value of his entire gross estate, wherever situated, should be disclosed, if deductions are claimed. (See articles 52 to 54.) As to the situs of the personal property of nonresident alien decedents, or nonresident decedents, regardless of citizenship, who died prior to the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1934, see article 50.

The value of a vested remainder should be included in the gross estate. Nothing should be included, however, on account of a contingent remainder in the case the contingency does not happen in the lifetime of the decedent, and the interest consequently lapses at his death. Nor should anything be included on account of an interest or an estate limited for the life of the decedent. There should be included, however, the value of a reversionary interest retained by the decedent, which reverts upon the termination of a particular estate or in case of his prior death passes to others. There should also be included the value of an annuity payable to, or an interest or an estate vested in, the decedent for the life of another person who survives him. For rules in valuing such remainders, annuities, and interests or estates pur autre vie, see article 10 (i).

A cemetery lot owned by the decedent is part of his gross estate, but its value is limited to the salable value of such part of it as is not designed for the interment of the decedent or members of his family. Property subject to homestead or other exemptions under local law must be included in the gross estate. Notes or other claims held by the decedent should be included, though they are canceled by his will. As to the valuation of notes and claims, see article 10 (e).

Outstanding dividends and accrued interest should be included in the gross estate. Dividends on either common or preferred stock should be separately listed on the return if declared prior to the applicable valuation date, and not reflected in the market value of the stock on that date. Thus, dividends both declared and payable to holders of record on a date prior to the valuation date, should be separately included, provided the stock is valued "ex dividend" on the valuation date.

Example: A 5 per cent dividend upon stock is declared March 1, payable on April 1, to stockholders of record on March 15. If the applicable valuation date is March 10, and the market value on that day was 90, the value to be returned for both stock and dividend is 90, the dividend being reflected in the market value of the stock. If the applicable valuation date is March 20, the dividend is not reflected in the market value, and must be returned in addition to the market value of the stock on March 20.

As to the inclusion of dividends, interest, and other income paid after the date of the decedent's death and before the subsequent valuation date, in case the executor exercises the option prescribed by section 302 (j), see article 11.

Various statutory provisions, which exempt bonds, notes, bills, and certificates of indebtedness of the Federal Government or its agencies and the interest thereon from taxation, are not applicable to the estate tax, since this tax is an excise tax on the transfer, and is not a tax on the property transferred. However, in case the decedent was a nonresident alien not engaged in business in the United States, bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness of the United States, beneficially owned by such alien, should not be included.

Gross Estate—Dower and Curtesy

SEC. 302 (as amended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1934). The value of the gross estate of the decedent shall be determined by including the value at the time of his death of all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated, except real property situated outside the United States— • • •

(b) To the extent of any interest therein of the surviving spouse, existing at the time of the decedent's death as dower, curtesy, or by virtue of a statute creating an estate in lieu of dower or curtesy; • • •

ART. 14. Dower and curtesy.—The provision of section 302 (b) includes dower and curtesy and all interests created by statute in lieu thereof, although the estate or interest so created may differ in character from dower or curtesy. The effect of the provision is to require the inclusion of the full value of the property, without deduction of the value of the interest of the surviving husband or wife, and without regard to the time when the right to such an interest arose. This provision does not apply to the estate of any decedent dying after September 8, 1916, and prior to 6:55 p. m., February 24, 1919 (the effective date of Title IV of the Revenue Act of 1918), unless the property has its situs in a jurisdiction wherein dower, curtesy, or the statutory interest in lieu thereof is subject to the payment of charges against the estate, the expenses of its administration, and is subject to distribution as part of the estate, or unless there has been an election to take property devised or bequeathed in lieu of dower, curtesy, or such statutory interest, and the property so taken has its situs in a jurisdiction by the laws of which it is subject to the payment of such charges and expenses, and to distribution as a part of the estate.

Gross Estate—Transfers by Decedent in His Lifetime

SEC. 302 (as amended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1934). The value of the gross estate of the decedent shall be determined by including the value at the time of his death of all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated, except real property situated outside the United States— • • •

(c) (as amended by Joint Resolution of March 3, 1931, Public, No. 131, Seventy-first Congress, and by section 803 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932) To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, in contemplation of or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death, or of which he has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, under which he has retained for his life or for any period not ascertainable without reference to his death or for any period which does not in fact end before his death (1) the possession or enjoyment of, or the right to the income from, the property, or (2) the right, either alone or in conjunction with any person, to designate the persons who shall possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom; except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth. Any transfer of a material part of his property in the nature of a final disposition or distribution thereof, made by the decedent within two years prior to his death without such consideration, shall, unless shown to the contrary, be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this title;

(d) (as amended by section 401 of the Revenue Act of 1934, and by section 805 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1936) (1) To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer (except in case of a bona-fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth), by trust or otherwise, where the enjoyment thereof was subject at the date of his death to any change through the exercise of a power (in whatever capacity exercisable) by the decedent alone or by the decedent in conjunction with any other person (without regard to when or from what source the decedent acquired such power), to alter, amend, revoke, or terminate, or where any such power is relinquished in contemplation of decedent's death.

(2) For the purposes of this subdivision the power to alter, amend, or revoke shall be considered to exist on the date of the decedent's death even though the exercise of the power is subject to a precedent giving of notice or even though the alteration, amendment, or revocation takes effect only on the expiration of a stated period after the exercise of the power, whether or not on or before the date of the decedent's death notice has been given or the power has been exercised. In such cases proper adjustment shall be made representing the interests which would have been excluded from the power if the decedent had lived, and for such purpose if the notice has not been given or the power has not been exercised on or before the date of his death, such notice shall be considered to have been given, or the power exercised, on the date of his death.

(3) The relinquishment of any such power, not admitted or shown to have been in contemplation of the decedent's death, made within two years prior to his death without such a consideration and affecting the interest or interests (whether arising from one or more transfers or the creation of one or more trusts) of any one beneficiary of a value or aggregate value, at the time of such death, in excess of $5,000, then, to the extent of such excess, such relinquishment or relinquishments shall, unless shown to the contrary, be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this title; • • •

(f) If any one of the transfers, trusts, interests, rights, or powers, enumerated and described in subdivisions (c), (d), and (f) of this section is made, created, exercised, or relinquished for a consideration in money or money's worth, but is not a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, there shall be included in the gross estate only the excess of the fair market value at the time of death of the property otherwise to be included on account of such transaction, over the value of the consideration received therefor by the decedent.

SEC. 303. (d) (as amended by section 804 of the Revenue Act of 1932) • • • For the purposes of this title, a relinquishment or promise of relinquishment of dower, curtesy, or of a statutory estate created in lieu of dower or curtesy, or of other marital rights in the decedent's property or estate, shall not be considered to any extent a consideration "in money or money's worth".

SEC. 302. (c) (as originally enacted) To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, in contemplation of or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death, except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth. Where within two years prior to his death but after the enactment of this Act and without such a consideration the decedent has made a transfer or transfers, by trust or otherwise, of any of his property, or an interest therein, not admitted or shown to have been made in contemplation of or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death and the value or aggregate value, at the time of such death, of the property or interest so transferred to any one person is in excess of $5,000, then, to the extent of such excess, such transfer or transfers shall be deemed and held to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this title. Any transfer of a material part of his property in the nature of a final disposition or distribution thereof, made by the decedent within two years prior to his death but prior to the enactment of this Act, without such consideration, shall, unless shown to the contrary, be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this title;

Joint Resolution of March 3, 1931 (Public, No. 131, Seventy-first Congress):

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the first sentence of subdivision (c) of section 302 of the Revenue Act of 1926 is amended to read as follows:

"To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, in contemplation of or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death, including a transfer under which the transferor has retained for his life or any period not ending before his death (1) the possession or enjoyment of, or the income from, the property or (2) the right to designate the persons who shall possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom; except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth."

SEC. 302. (d) (as originally enacted) To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, where the enjoyment thereof was subject at the date of his death to any change through the exercise of a power, either by the decedent alone or in conjunction with any person, to alter, amend, or revoke, or where the decedent relinquished any such power in contemplation of his death, except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth. The relinquishment of any such power, not admitted or shown to have been in contemplation of the decedent's death, made within two years prior to his death but after the enactment of this Act without such a consideration and affecting the interest or interests (whether arising from one or more transfers or the creation of one or more trusts) of any one beneficiary of a value or aggregate value, at the time of such death, in excess of $5,000, then, to the extent of such excess, such relinquishment or relinquishments shall be deemed and held to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this title:

SEC. 401. Revenue Act of 1934.

Section 302 (d) of the Revenue Act of 1926 is amended to read as follows:

"(d) (1) To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer, by trust or otherwise, where the enjoyment thereof was subject at the date of his death to any change through the exercise of a power, either by the decedent alone or in conjunction with any person, to alter, amend, or revoke, or where the decedent relinquished any such power in contemplation of his death, except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

"(2) For the purposes of this subdivision the power to alter, amend, or revoke shall be considered to exist on the date of the decedent's death even though the exercise of the power is subject to a precedent giving of notice or even though the alteration, amendment, or revocation takes effect only on the expiration of a stated period after the exercise of the power, whether or not on or before the date of the decedent's death notice has been given or the power has been exercised. In such cases proper adjustment shall be made representing the interests which would have been excluded from the power if the decedent had lived, and for such purpose if the notice has not been given or the power has not been exercised on or before the date of his death, such notice shall be considered to have been given, or the power exercised, on the date of his death.

"(3) The relinquishment of any such power, not admitted or shown to have been in contemplation of the decedent's death, made within two years prior to his death without such a consideration and affecting the interest or interests (whether arising from one or more transfers or the creation of one or more trusts) of any one beneficiary of a value or aggregate value, at the time of such death, in excess of $5,000, then, to the extent of such excess, such relinquishment or relinquishments shall, unless shown to the contrary, be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this title;"

SEC. 805. Revenue Act of 1936.

(a) Section 302 (d) (1) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"(d) (1) To the extent of any interest therein of which the decedent has at any time made a transfer (except in case of a bona-fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth), by trust or otherwise, where the enjoyment thereof was subject at the date of his death to any change through the exercise of a power (in whatever capacity exercisable) by the decedent alone or by the decedent in conjunction with any other person (without regard to when or from what source the decedent acquired such power), to alter, amend, revoke, or terminate, or where any such power is relinquished in contemplation of decedent's death."

(b) Except in the case of transfers made after the date of the enactment of this Act, no interest of the decedent of which he has made a transfer shall be included in the gross estate under such section 302 (d) (1) unless it was includible under such section before its amendment by this section.

ART. 15. Transfers during life.—The following classes of transfers made by the decedent prior to his death, whether in trust or otherwise, if not constituting bona fide sales for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, are subject to the tax: (1) transfers in contemplation of death (see article 16); (2) transfers to the extent that title remained in the decedent at the time of his death and the passing thereof was conditioned upon his death (see article 17); (3) transfers under which the decedent reserved or retained (in whole or in part) the use, possession, rents, or other income or enjoyment of the transferred property, for his life, or for a period not ascertainable without reference to his death, or for a period of such duration as to evidence an intention that it should extent to his death; including also the reservation or retention of the use, possession, rents, or other income, the actual enjoyment of which was to await the termination of a transferred precedent interest or estate (see article 18); (4) transfers under which the decedent retained the right, either alone or in conjunction with another person or persons, to designate who should possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom (see article 19); and (5) transfers under which the enjoyment of the transferred property was subject at decedent's death to a change through the exercise, either by the decedent alone or in conjunction with another person or persons, of a power to alter, amend, revoke, or terminate, or such a power was relinquished in contemplation of decedent's death (see articles 20 and 21).

The value of transferred property includible in the gross estate is the value thereof at the date of decedent's death, or if the executor has duty elected pursuant to the provisions of section 202 of the Revenue Act of 1935 (by which section subdivision (j) was added to section 302 of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended) to have the value of the gross estate determined as of the dates therein prescribed, then the value will be that as of the applicable date or dates so prescribed (see article 11). If a portion only of the property was so transferred as to come within the terms of the statute, only a corresponding proportion of the value of the property should be included in ascertaining the value of the gross estate. If the transferee has made additions to the property, or betterments, the enhanced value of the property due thereto should not be included.

To constitute a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth the transfer must have been made in good faith, and the price must have been an adequate and full equivalent reducible to a money value. If the price was less than such a consideration, only the excess of the fair market value of the property (as of the date of decedent's death, or as of the applicable date under such an election as is mentioned in the last preceding paragraph) over the price received by the decedent should be included in ascertaining the value of the gross estate. For the purposes of the tax a relinquishment or promised relinquishment of dower, curtesy, or of a statutory estate created in lieu of dower or curtesy, or of other marital rights in decedent's property or estate, is not to any extent a consideration in money or money's worth.

In case a transfer, by trust or otherwise, was made by a written instrument, duplicate copies thereof should be filed with the return. If of public record, one of the copies should be certified; if not of record, one copy should be verified. If the decedent was a nonresident, only one copy, certified or verified, need be filed.

All transfers made by the decedent during his life of an amount of $5,000 or more, except bona fide sales for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, must be disclosed in the return, whether the executor regards such transfers as subject to the tax or not. If the executor believes that such a transfer is not subject to the tax a brief statement of the pertinent facts should be made.

ART. 16 Transfers in contemplation of death.—Transfers in contemplation of death made by the decedent after September 8, 1916, other than bona fide sales for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, must be included in the gross estate. A transfer in contemplation of death is subject to the tax although the decedent parted absolutely and immediately with his title to, and possession and enjoyment of, the property.

A transfer in contemplation of death is a disposition of property prompted by the thought of death. The phrase "contemplation of death" as used in the statute is not limited to contemplation of imminent death or to an apprehension that death is near at hand. Death must be "contemplated," that is, the motive which induces the transfer must be such that leads to testamentary disposition. A gift inter vivos which springs from a motive essentially associated with life rather than with death is not made in contemplation of death.

As the phrase "transfer in contemplation of death" is applicable to many varying transactions, the circumstances of each case must be examined to ascertain the motive which induced the decedent to make the transfer. If the transfer results from mixed motives, one of which is the thought of death, the more compelling motive controls. A condition of the mind or body of the transferor (whether occasioned by old age or disease) which naturally prompts a testamentary disposition to a proper object of his bounty, will be considered a decisive test of contemplation of death in the absence of proof of the existence of purposes associated with life as the dominant motive for the transfer.

Any transfer without an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, made by the decedent within two years of his death, of a material part of his property in the nature of a final disposition or distribution thereof, is, unless shown to the contrary, deemed to have been made in contemplation of death. This provision applies even though the decedent died subsequent to the effective date of the Revenue Act of 1926 and prior to the effective date of the Revenue Act of 1932.

If the executor contends that the value of a transfer of $5,000 or more made by the decedent subsequent to September 8, 1916, should not be included in the gross estate because he considers that such transfer was not made in contemplation of death, he should file sworn statements with the return, in duplicate, of all the material facts and circumstances, including those directly or indirectly indicating the decedent's motive in making the transfer and his mental and physical condition at that time, and one copy of the death certificate.

The fact that a gift was made as an advancement to be taken into account upon the final distribution of the decedent's estate is not, in and of itself, determinative of its taxability. (See article 15.)

ART. 17. Transfers conditioned upon survivorship.—The statutory phrase, "a transfer * * * intended to take effect in possesion or enjoyment at or after his death," includes a transfer by the decedent (other than a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth) whereby and to the extent that the beneficial title to the property (if the transfer was in trust), or the legal title thereto (if the transfer was otherwise than in trust), remained in the decedent at the time of his death and the passing thereof was subject to the condition precedent of his death. If the tax applies, it does so without regard to the time of the transfer, whether before or after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1916.

On the other hand, if, as a result of the transfer, there remained in the decedent at the time of his death no title or interest in the transferred property, then no part of the property is to be included in the gross estate merely by reason of a provision in the instrument of transfer to the effect that the property was to revert to the decedent upon the predecease of some other person or persons or the happening of some other event. (See article 15.)

ART. 18. Transfers with possession or enjoyment retained.—(a) Transfers included.—The statutory phrase, "a transfer * * * intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death," includes a transfer, whether in trust or otherwise, made subject to the reservation or retention by the decedent of the use, or the possession, or the rents or other income or enjoyment of the transferred property, or any part thereof, for his life, or for a period not ascertainable without reference to his death, or for such a period as to evidence his intention that it should extend at least for the duration of his life; including also the reservation or retention of the use, possession, rents, or other income the actual enjoyment of which, by the decedent, was to be postponed until the termination of a transferred precedent interest or estate. (See article 15.)

If for any such period the use, possession, rents, or other income (in whole or in part) were to be disposed of in discharge of a legal obligation of the decedent or otherwise for his pecuniary benefit, then to that extent the use, possession, rents, or other income will be treated as having been reserved to or retained by the decedent.

(b) Taxability.—Every such transfer (not amounting to a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth), made by the decedent subsequent to September 8, 1916, is taxable, and the value of the property or interest so transferred shall be included in the gross estate of the decedent. The provisions of this subdivision do not apply (1) if the transfer was made prior to 10.30 p. m., eastern standard time, March 3, 1931, and (2) if the decedent died prior to 5 p. m., eastern standard time, June 6, 1932. See section 506 of the Revenue Act of 1934.

ART. 19. Transfers with right retained to designate who shall possess or enjoy.—(a) Transfers included.—The statutory phrase, "a transfer * * * intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death," includes a transfer, by trust or otherwise, in connection with which the decedent reserved or retained, either to himself alone or in conjunction with any other person or persons, the right during his life, or for a period not ascertainable without reference to his death, or for such a period as to evidence an intention that the right should continue for at least the duration of his life, to designate the person or persons who should possess or enjoy the transferred property (in whole or in part), or any of the income thereof. (See article 15.)

(b) Taxability.—If the transfer was not a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, the property or the interest or interests therein so transferred shall be included in the gross estate if falling within any one of the following paragraphs:

(1) Regardless of when the transfer was made, if decedent died after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1916 (September 8, 1916), and the right to so designate was reserved at the time of the transfer and was subject to such an exercise as would determine the ultimate disposition of the property or of an interest or interests therein, and such right was exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons having no substantial adverse interest or interests in the property, or if exercisable in conjunction with a person having a substantial adverse interest or with several persons some or all of whom held such an adverse interest, then to the extent of any interest or interests held by a person or persons not required to join in the exercise of the right and any adverse interest which was not substantial.

(2) When the transfer was made after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1916 (September 8, 1916) and the decedent died after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932 (5 p. m., eastern standard time, June 6, 1932), or the transfer was made and the decedent died after 10.30 p. m., eastern standard time, March 3, 1931, and the right to so designate was reserved at the time of the transfer and was not subject to such an exercise as would determine the ultimate disposition of the property or of an interest or interests therein, but was limited to a designation of the person or persons who should possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom (in whole or in part) for the period of decedent's life, or for a period not ascertainable without reference to his death, or for a period of such duration as to evidence an intent that it should extend for the remainder of decedent's life, and such right was exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons having no substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or if exercisable in conjunction with a person having a substantial adverse interest or with several persons some or all of whom held such an adverse interest, then to the extent of any interest or interests held by a person or persons not required to join in the exercise of the right and of any adverse interest which was not substantial.

(3) When the transfer was made and decedent died after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932 (5 p. m., eastern standard time, June 6, 1932) and the right to so designate was reserved at the time of the transfer, whether exercisable by decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons having or not having a substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or in conjunction with persons one or more of whom had and one or more of whom had not such an adverse interest.

As used in this article, the expression "reserved at the time of the transfer" includes any understanding, expressed or implied, had in connection with the making of the transfer that the right to designate the person or persons who should possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom should later be created or conferred.

ART. 20. Transfers with power to change the enjoyment.—(a) Transfers included.—Subdivision (d) of section 302 of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, embraces a transfer by trust or otherwise (if not amounting to a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth) when at the time of decedent's death the enjoyment of the transferred property, or some part thereof or interest therein, was subject to any change through a power exercisable either by the decedent alone, or by him in conjunction with some other person or persons, to alter, or amend, or revoke, or terminate. (See article 15.)

The addition to the subdivision, by section 805 of the Revenue Act of 1936, of the phrase to the effect that it is not material in what capacity the power was subject to exercise by the decedent or by the other person or persons in conjunction with the decedent, is considered as merely declaratory of the meaning of the subdivision prior to the addition of the phrase.

The second phrase added by amendment in 1936 (namely "without regard to when or from what source the decedent acquired such power") is not considered declaratory of the meaning of the subdivision prior to the amendment in a case in which no one of the powers enumerated in the subdivision was reserved at the time of the making of the transfer, but one or more thereof was conferred subsequent thereto (whatever the source from which conferred) without any understanding, expressed or implied, had in connection with the making of the transfer that such power or powers should be later conferred.

The third change made in the subdivision by the Revenue Act of 1936 consisted of the addition of the words "or terminate" following the words "to alter, amend, revoke." Such addition is considered but declaratory of the meaning of the subdivision prior to the amendment. A power to terminate capable of being so exercised as to revest in the decedent the ownership of the transferred property or an interest therein, or as otherwise to inure to his benefit or the benefit of his estate, is, to that extent, the equivalent of a power to "revoke," and when otherwise so exercisable as to effect a change in the enjoyment, is the equivalent of a power to "alter."

(b) Taxability.—The property or the interest or interests therein so transferred shall be included in the gross estate if coming within any one of the following paragraphs:

(1) Regardless of when the transfer was made, if the decedent died after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1916 (September 8, 1916), and the power was reserved at the time of the transfer and was exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons having no substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or if exercisable in conjunction with a person having a substantial adverse interest or with several persons some or all of whom held such an adverse interest, then to the extent of any interest or interests held by a person or persons not required to join in the exercise of the power and any adverse interest which was not substantial.

(2) When the transfer was made after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1924 (4.01 p. m., eastern standard time, June 2, 1924) and before the amendment of the subdivision by the Revenue Act of 1936 became effective (June 23, 1936), and the decedent's death occurred at any time subsequent to the transfer, and the power was reserved at the time of the transfer and was exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons either having or not having a substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or in conjunction with persons one or more of whom had and one or more of whom had not such an adverse interest.

(3) When the transfer was made and the decedent died after June 22, 1936 (the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1936), and the power was either reserved at the time of the transfer or later created or conferred, without regard to the source from which the power was acquired, and whether exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons either having or not having a substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or in conjunction with persons one or more of whom had and one or more of whom had not such an adverse interest.

As used in this and in the next succeeding article, the expression "reserved at the time of the transfer" refers to a power which, having been reserved when the transfer was made, continued to the date of decedent's death (see the paragraph next following as to the conditions under which the power will be considered as existent at decedent's death) to be exercisable by decedent alone or by him in conjunction with some other person or persons, and includes any understanding, expressed or implied, had in connection with the making of the transfer that the power should later be created or conferred.

The power to alter, amend, revoke, or terminate will be considered to have existed on the date of the decedent's death, though the exercise of the power was subject to a precedent giving of notice, or though the alteration, amendment, revocation, or termination would take effect only on the expiration of a stated period after the exercise of the power, whether or not on or before the date of the decedent's death notice had been given or the power had been exercised, or though the exercise of the power was restricted to a particular time or the happening of a particular event which had not arrived or occurred at decedent's death. When determining the value of the gross estate in such cases the full value of the property transferred subject to the power should be discounted for the period required to elapse between the date of decedent's death and the date upon which the alteration, amendment, revocation, or termination could take effect. (See article 10 (i) (3).)

The provisions of this article do not apply to a transfer when the power may be exercised only with the consent of all parties having an interest, vested or contingent, in the transferred property, and the power adds nothing to the rights of the parties as conferred by the applicable local law.

ART. 21. Power relinquished in contemplation of death.—If the decedent had previously held, either alone or in conjunction with another person or persons, a power to alter, or amend, or revoke, or terminate a transfer made by him, and the power was subsequently relinquished in contemplation of the decedent's death (the relinquishment not amounting to a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth), then to the extent that the transferred property or any interest therein had been subject to such relinquished power it is to be included in the gross estate if coming within any one of the following paragraphs:

(1) Regardless of when the transfer was made, if the power was reserved at the time of the transfer and was relinquished and the decedent died after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1916 (September 8, 1916), and the power was exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons having no substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or if exercisable in conjunction with a person having a substantial adverse interest or with several persons some or all of whom held such an adverse interest, then to the extent of any interest or interests held by a person or persons not required to join in the exercise of the power and any adverse interest which was not substantial.

(2) When the transfer was made after the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1924 (4.01 p. m., eastern standard time, June 2, 1924) and before the amendment of the subdivision by the Revenue Act of 1936 became effective (June 23, 1936), and the power was reserved at the time of the transfer and its relinquishment and the decedent's death subsequently occurred, and the power was exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons either having or not having a substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or in conjunction with persons one or more of whom had and one or more of whom had not such an adverse interest.

(3) When the transfer was made after June 22, 1936 (the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1936), and the relinquishment of the power and the decedent's death subsequently occurred, and the power was either reserved at the time of the transfer or later created or conferred, without regard to the source from which the power was acquired, and whether exercisable by the decedent alone or in conjunction with a person or persons either having or not having a substantial adverse interest or interests in the transferred property, or in conjunction with persons one or more of whom had and one or more of whom had not such an adverse interest.

Within the meaning of this article, it is essential to a relinquishment of a power which is exercisable by the decedent in conjunction with another person or persons that the relinquishment by such other person or persons operates as a complete relinquishment of the power.

If the relinquishment be not admitted or shown to have been in contemplation of decedent's death, but occurred within two years prior to such death, and affected the interest or interests (whether arising from one or more transfers or the creation of one or more trusts) of any one beneficiary of a value or aggregate value in excess of $5,000 (as of the date of decedent's death, or as of the applicable date under such an election as is referred to in the second paragraph of article 15) then, to the extent of such excess, the relinquishment will be deemed, unless shown to the contrary, to have been in contemplation of decedent's death. (See article 15.)

Gross Estate—Property Held Jointly

SEC. 302 (as amended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1934). The value of the gross estate of the decedent shall be determined by including the value at the time of his death of all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated, except real property situated outside the United States— • • •

(e) To the extent of the interest therein held as joint tenants by the decedent and any other person, or as tenants by the entirety by the decedent and spouse, or deposited, with any person carrying on the banking business, in their joint names and payable to either or the survivor, except such part thereof as may be shown to have originally belonged to such other person and never to have been received or acquired by the latter from the decedent for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth: Provided, That where such property or any part thereof, or part of the consideration with which such property was acquired, is shown to have been at any time acquired by such other person from the decedent for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, there shall be excepted only such part of the value of such property as is proportionate to the consideration furnished by such other person: Provided further, That where any property has been acquired by gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance, as a tenancy by the entirety by the decedent and spouse, then to the extent of one-half of the value thereof, or, where so acquired by the decedent and any other person as joint tenants and their interests are not otherwise specified or fixed by law, then to the extent of the value of a fractional part to be determined by dividing the value of the property by the number of joint tenants; • • •

SEC. 303 (d) (as amended by section 804 of the Revenue Act of 1932) • • • For the purposes of this title, a relinquishment or promised relinquishment of dower, curtesy, or of a statutory estate created in lieu of dower or curtesy, or of other marital rights in the decedent's property or estate, shall not be considered to any extent a consideration "in money or money's worth."

ART. 22. Property held jointly or as tenants by the entirety.—The foregoing provisions of the statute extend to joint ownerships wherein the right of survivorship exists, regardless of when such ownerships were created. The statute specifically reaches property held jointly by the decedent and any other person or persons, or by the decedent and spouse as tenants by the entirety, or deposited with any person or institution carrying on a banking business in the name of the decedent and any other person and payable to either or the survivor, provided the decedent contributed toward the acquisition of the property so held or deposited, or acquired it by gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance. Section 302 (e), as amended, applies to all classes of property, whether real or personal, in the case the survivor takes the entire interest therein by right of survivorship, and no interest therein forms a part of the decedent's estate for purposes of administration. It has no reference to property held by the decedent and any other person or persons as tenants in common.

ART. 23. Taxable portion.—The entire property is prima facie a part of the decedent's gross estate. But it is not the intent of the statute that there should be so included a greater part or proportion thereof than is represented by an outlay of funds, which, in the first instance, were decedent's own, or more than a fractional part equal to that of the other joint owner should neither have parted with any consideration in its acquirement. Facts, which in a given case bring it within any one of the exceptions enumerated in the statute, may be submitted by the executor.

Whether the entire property, or only a part, or none of it, enters into the make-up of the gross estate depends upon the following considerations: (1) So much of the property (whether the whole, or a part thereof) as originally belonged to the other joint owner, and which at no time in the past had been received or acquired by the latter from the decedent for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, forms no part of the decedent's gross estate. (2) If the facts are otherwise the same as in (1), but the decedent paid to such other joint owner a consideration for the interest by him (the decedent) acquired in the property, then such portion of the property, proportionate to the consideration so paid, constitutes a part of the gross estate. (3) If the property, or a part thereof, or a part of the consideration wherewith it was acquired, had at any time been acquired by the other joint owner from the decedent as a gift, or for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, then such portion of the entire property, proportionate to the consideration, if any, which in the first instance was paid from such other joint owner's own funds, forms no part of the gross estate. (4) If the property was acquired by the decedent and his or her surviving spouse as tenants by the entirety by gift, will, or inheritance, then but one-half of the property becomes a part of the gross estate. (5) If acquired by the decedent and the other joint owner as joint tenants by gift, will, or inheritance, and their interests are not otherwise specified or fixed by law, then one-half only of the property is a part of the gross estate; or, if so acquired by the decedent and two or more persons, and the interests of the several joint tenants are not otherwise determinable, then the decedent and the others joint tenants surviving him shall each be deemed the owner of an equal fractional part, and one only of such fractional parts is to be included in the gross estate.

The following are given as illustrative: (a) If the decedent furnished the entire purchase price, the entire property should be included in the gross estate; (b) if the decedent furnished a part only of the purchase price, only a corresponding portion of the property should be so included: (c) if the decedent, prior to the acquisition of the property by himself and the other joint owner, gave the latter a sum of money which later constituted such other joint owner's entire contribution to the purchase price of the property, the entire property should be included; (d) if the other joint owner, prior to the acquirement of the property, received from the decedent, for less than an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, property which thereafter became, as such, or in a converted form, part of the purchase price of the property, the value of the property to be included is to be reduced proportionately to the consideration furnished by the other joint owner in the original transaction; (e) if the decedent furnished no part of the purchase price, no part of the property should be included; (f) if the decedent and spouse acquired the property by will as tenants by the entirety, one-half of the property should be included.

For the purposes of the estate tax, a relinquishment or promised relinquishment of dower, curtesy, or of a statutory estate created in lieu of dower or curtesy, or of other marital rights in the decedent's property or estate, is not to any extent a consideration in money or money's worth.

Gross Estate —Property Passing Under Power of Appointment

SEC. 302 (as amended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1934). The value of the gross estate of the decedent shall be determined by including the value at the time of his death of all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated, except real property situated outside the United States— • • •

(f) (as amended by section 803 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1932). To the extent of any property passing under a general power of appointment exercised by the decedent (1) by will, or (2) by deed executed in contemplation of or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after his death, or (3) by deed under which he has retained for his life or any period not ascertainable without reference to his death or for any period which does not in fact end before his death (A) the possession or enjoyment of, or the right to the income from, the property, or (B) the right, either alone or in conjunction with any person, to designate the persons who shall possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom; except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth; and • • •

(i) If any one of the transfers, trusts, interests, rights, or powers, enumerated and described in subdivisions (c), (d), and (f) of this section is made, created, exercised, or relinquished for a consideration in money or money's worth, but is not a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, there shall be included in the gross estate only the excess of the fair market value at the time of death of the property otherwise to be included on account of such transaction, over the value of the consideration received therefor by the decedent.

SEC. 303 (d) (as amended by section 804 of the Revenue Act of 1932) • • • For the purposes of this title, a relinquishment or promised relinquishment of dower, curtesy, or of a statutory estate created in lieu of dower or curtesy, or of other marital rights in the decedent's property or estate, shall not be considered to any extent a consideration in "money or money's worth".

SEC. 302. (f) (as originally enacted) To the extent of any property passing under a general power of appointment exercised by the decedent (1) by will, or (2) by deed executed in contemplation of, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after, his death, except in case of a bona fide sale for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth; and • • •

ART. 24. Property passing under general power of appointment.—Property passing under a general power of appointment must be included in the gross estate of the person exercising the power (known as the donee, or appointor), if the power is exercised by will. It should be so included if the power is exercised by deed or other instrument in contemplation of death. It should also be so included if the power is exercised by deed or other instrument with the intent that the transfer shall take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after the death of the donee of the power. (For description of transfers made in contemplation of death and transfers included in the phrase, "intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after • • • death," and the taxability thereof with reference to when made and when the death occurred, see articles 16, 17, 18, and 19.) The statute, however, does not require inclusion in the gross estate of the appointed property in the case of a bona fide sale thereof by the donee of the power for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

Only property passing under a general power should be included. Ordinarily a general power is one to appoint to any person or persons in the discretion of the donee of the power, or, however limited as to the persons or objects in whose favor the appointment may be made, is exercisable in favor of the donee, his estate, or his creditors. Duplicate copies of the instrument granting the power and of the instrument by which the power was exercised, one of each to be certified or verified, must be filed with Form 706 in all cases, unless the decedent was a nonresident, in which case only one copy of each instrument, certified or verified, is required.

Gross Estate—Insurance

SEC. 302 (as amended by section 404 of the Revenue Act of 1934). The value of the gross estate of the decedent shall be determined by including the value at the time of his death of all property, real or personal, tangible or intangible, wherever situated, except real property situated outside the United States—• • •

(g) To the extent of the amount receivable by the executor as insurance under policies taken out by the decedent upon his own life; and to the extent of the excess over $40,000 of the amount receivable by all other beneficiaries as insurance under policies taken out by the decedent upon his own life. • • •

ART. 25. Taxable insurance.—The statute provides for the inclusion in the gross estate of insurance taken out by the decedent upon his own life, as follows: (a) All insurance receivable by, or for the benefit of, the estate; (b) all other insurance to the extent that it exceeds in the aggregate $40,000.

The term "insurance" refers to life insurance of every description, including death benefits paid by fraternal beneficial societies, operating under the lodge system. Insurance is considered to have been taken out by the decedent, whether or not he made the application, if he acquired the ownership of, or any legal incident thereof in, the policy; but in the case of a decedent dying before November 7, 1934 (the date of approval of the 1934 edition of Regulations 80), the provisions of the second paragraph of article 25 or Regulations 70 (1929 edition) will continue to apply. Legal incidents of ownership in the policy include, for example: The right of the insured or his estate to its economic benefits, the power to change the beneficiary, to surrender or cancel the policy, to assign it, to revoke an assignment, to pledge it for a loan, or to obtain from the insurer a loan against the surrender value of the policy, etc.

ART. 26. Insurance in favor of the estate.—The provision requiring the inclusion in the gross estate of all insurance receivable by the executor, without any exemption, applies to policies made payable to the decedent's estate or his executor or administrator, and all insurance which is in fact receivable by, or for the benefit of, the estate. It includes insurance taken out to provide funds to meet the estate tax, and any other taxes or charges which are enforceable against the estate. The manner in which the policy is drawn is immaterial so long as there is an obligation, legally binding upon the beneficiary, to use the proceeds in payment of such taxes or charges. If the decedent took out insurance in favor of another person or corporation as collateral security for a loan or other accommodation, the insurance is considered to be receivable for the benefit of the estate. The amount of the loan outstanding at decedent's death, with interest accrued thereon to that date, will be deductible in determining the net estate. (See article 29.)

ART. 27. Insurance receivable by other beneficiaries.—The statute requires the inclusion in the gross estate of the decedent of the proceeds of any policy, or the aggregate proceeds of all policies, not receivable by or for the benefit of decedent's estate, to the extent that such proceeds exceed $40,000, regardless of when the policy was or the policies were issued, if the decedent possessed at the time of his death any of the legal incidents of ownership.

The estate is entitled to only one exemption of $40,000 upon insurance receivable by beneficiaries other than the estate. For example, if the decedent left life insurance payable to three such beneficiaries in amounts of $10,000, $40,000, and $50,000 (total, $100,000), the full amount should be listed on the return and therefrom subtracted the $40,000 exemption as provided in the appropriate schedule of Form 706. The word "beneficiaries," as used in reference to the $40,000 exemption, means persons entitled to the actual enjoyment of the insurance money.

ART. 28. Valuation of insurance.—The amount to be returned if the policy is payable to or for the benefit of the estate is the amount receivable. If the proceeds of a policy are payable to a beneficiary other than to or for the benefit of the estate, the amount to be listed in the appropriate schedule of the return is the full amount receivable. (For taxable portion see article 27.) In case the proceeds of a policy are made payable to the beneficiary in the form of an annuity for life or for a term of years, there should be listed in the appropriate schedule of the return the one sum payable at death under an option which could have been exercised either by the insured or by the beneficiary, or if no option was granted, the sum used by the insurance company in determining the amount of the annuity.

With respect to each policy there should be filed a certificate, Form 712, from the insurance company showing the following:

(a) The face amount of the policy.
(b) The amount of any indebtedness to the company which reduced the amount otherwise payable.
(c) The amount of accumulated dividends.
(d) The amount of postmortem dividends.
(e) Any other facts affecting the value. (See next paragraph.)
(f) The value as of the date of death of the insured of the benefits payable under the policy.

In the case of any policy providing for deferred payments (other than payments measured by the facts disclosed under (a), (b), (c), and (d) above), the certificate should include the following information:

(g) The provisions with respect to the deferred payments or to the installments.
(h) The amounts of the deferred payments or installments.
(i) If the number of installments to be paid may be measured by the life of any individual, the date of birth of such individual.
(j) The amount applied by the insurance company as a single premium representing the purchase of the installment benefits.
(k) The basis (Mortality Table and rate of interest) employed by the insurance company in valuing the installment benefits.

Gross Estate—Retroactive Provisions

SEC. 302. • • • (h) Except as otherwise specifically provided therein subdivisions (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) of this section shall apply to the transfers, trusts, estates, interests, rights, powers, and relinquishment of powers, as severally enumerated and described therein, whether made, created, arising, existing, exercised, or relinquished before or after the enactment of this Act.

Deductions—Estates of Citizens or Residents Administration Expenses, Claims, Etc.

SEC. 303. For the purpose of the tax the value of the net estate shall be determined—

(a) (as amended by section 403 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1934) In the case of a citizen or resident of the United States, by deducting from the value of the gross estate—

(1) (as amended by section 805 of the Revenue Act of 1932) Such amounts—

(A) for funeral expenses,
(B) for administration expenses,
(C) for claims against the estate,
(D) for unpaid mortgages upon, or any indebtedness in respect to, property where the value of decedent's interest therein, undiminished by such mortgage or indebtedness, is included in the value of the gross estate, and
(E) reasonably required and actually expended for the support during the settlement of the estate of those dependent upon the decedent, as are allowed by the laws of the jurisdiction, whether within or without the United States, under which the estate is being administered, but not including any income taxes upon income received after the death of the decedent, or property taxes not accrued before his death, or any estate, succession, legacy, or inheritance taxes. The deduction herein allowed in the case of claims against the estate, unpaid mortgages, or any indebtedness shall, when founded upon a promise or agreement, be limited to the extent that they were contracted bona fide and for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth. There shall also be deducted losses incurred during the settlement of estates arising from fires, storms, shipwrecks, or other casualties, or from theft, when such losses are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, and if at the time of the filing of the return such losses have not been claimed as a deduction for income tax purposes in an income tax return. • • •

SEC. 303. (d) (as amended by section 804 of the Revenue Act of 1932) • • • For the purposes of this title, a relinquishment or promised relinquishment of dower, curtesy, or of a statutory estate created in lieu of dower or curtesy, or of other marital rights in the decedent's property or estate, shall not be considered to any extent a consideration "in money or money's worth".

SEC. 303. (a) (as originally enacted) In the case of a resident, by deducting from the value of the gross estate—

(1) Such amounts for funeral expenses, administration expenses, claims against the estate, unpaid mortgages upon, or any indebtedness in respect to, property (except, in the case of a resident decedent, where such property is not situated in the United States), to the extent that such claims, mortgages, or indebtedness were incurred or contracted bona fide and for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, losses incurred during the settlement of the estate arising from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft, when such losses are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, and such amounts reasonably required and actually expended for the support during the settlement of the estate of those dependent upon the decedent, as are allowed by the laws of the jurisdiction, whether within or without the United States, under which the estate is being administered, but not including any income taxes upon income received after the death of the decedent, or any estate, succession, legacy, or inheritance taxes; • • •

ART. 29. Deduction of administration expenses, claim, etc.—In order to be deductible under the foregoing provision of the statute, the item must fall within one of the several classes of deductions specifically enumerated therein, and must also, except in the case of deductible losses during the administration of the estate, be one the payment of which out of the estate is authorized by the laws of the jurisdiction under which the estate is being administered. Unless both of these conditions exist the item is not deductible. If the item is not one of those described it is not deductible merely because payment is allowed by the local law. If the amount which may be expended for the particular purpose is limited by the local law no deduction in excess of such limitation is permissible. If a claim against the estate, an unpaid mortgage, or an indebtedness is founded upon a promise or agreement, the deduction therefor is limited to the extent that the liability was contracted bona fide and for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth. A relinquishment or promised relinquishment of dower, curtesy, or of a statutory estate created in lieu of dower or curtesy, or of other marital rights in the decedent's property or estate, is not to any extent a consideration in money or money's worth.

An item may be entered on the return for deduction though the exact amount thereof is not then known, provided it is ascertainable with reasonable certainty, and will be paid. No deduction may be taken upon the basis of a vague or uncertain estimate. In the event the amount of the liability was unascertainable at the time of final audit of the return by the Commissioner, and, as a consequence, deduction was not allowed therefor in such audit, and subsequently the amount of the liability is ascertained, relief may be sought as provided by articles 76 and 99.

ART. 30. Effect of court decree.—The decision of a local court as to the amount of a claim or administration expense will ordinarily be accepted if the court passes upon the facts upon which deductibility depends. If the court does not pass upon such facts its decree will, of course, not be followed. For example, if the question before the court is whether a claim should be allowed, the decree allowing it will ordinarily be accepted as establishing the validity and amount of the claim. The decree will not necessarily be accepted even though it purports to decide the facts upon which deductibility depends. It must appear that the court actually passed upon the merits of the case. This will be presumed in all cases of an active and genuine contest. If the result reached appears to be unreasonable, this is some evidence that there was not such a contest, but it may be rebutted by proof to the contrary. If the decree was rendered by consent, it will be accepted, provided the consent was a bona fide recognition of the validity of the claim—not a mere cloak for a gift—and was accepted by the court as satisfactory evidence upon the merits. It will be presumed that the consent was of this character, and was so accepted, if given by all parties having an interest adverse to the claimant. The decree will not be accepted if it is at variance with the law of the State; as, for example, an allowance made to an executor in excess of that prescribed by statute.

ART. 31. Funeral expenses.—An executor may deduct such amounts for funeral expenses as are actually expended by him and, under the laws of the local jurisdiction, are payable out of the decedent's estate. A reasonable expenditure by the executor for a tombstone, monument, mausoleum, or for a burial lot, either for the decedent or his family, may be deducted under this heading, provided such an expenditure is allowable by the local law. Included in funeral expenses is the cost of transportation of the person bringing the body to the place of burial.

ART. 32. Administration expenses.—The amounts deductible from the gross estate as "administration expenses" are such expenses as are actually and necessarily incurred in the administration of the estate; that is, in the collection of assets, payment of debts, and distribution among the persons entitled. The expenses contemplated in the law are such only as attend the settlement of an estate by the legal representative preliminary to the transfer of the property to individual beneficiaries or to a trustee, whether such trustee is the executor or some other person. Expenditures not essential to the proper settlement of the estate, but incurred for the individual benefit of the heirs, legatees, or devisees, may not be taken as deductions. Administration expenses include (1) executor's commissions; (2) attorney's fees; (3) miscellaneous expenses. Each of these classes is considered separately in articles 33 to 35, inclusive.

ART. 33. Executor's commissions.—The executor or administrator, in filing the return, may deduct his commissions in such an amount as has actually been paid or which at that time it is reasonably expected will be paid, but no deduction may be taken if no commissions are to be collected. In the case the amount of the commissions has not been fixed by decree of the proper court, the deduction will be allowed on the final audit of the return provided: (1) That the Commissioner is reasonably satified that the commissions claimed will be paid; (2) that the amount entered as a deduction is within the amount allowable by the laws of the jurisdiction wherein the estate is being administered; and (3) that it is in accordance with the usually accepted practice in said jurisdiction in estates of similar size and character. If the deduction is disallowed in whole or in part on final audit, the disallowance will be subject to modification as the facts may later require. If the deduction is allowed in advance of payment and payment is thereafter waived, it shall be the duty of the executor to notify the Commissioner and pay the tax resulting therefrom, together with interest. Executors should note that the commissions received as compensation for their services constitute taxable income and that the amounts received or receivable by them as such compensation are cross-referenced for income-tax purposes.

A bequest or devise to the executor in lieu of commissions is not deductible. If, however, the decedent fixed by his will the compensation payable to the executor for services to be rendered in the administration of the estate, deduction may be taken to the extent that the amounts so fixed does not exceed the compensation allowable by the local law or practice.

Amounts paid as trustees' commissions do not constitute expenses of administration and are not deductible, whether received by the executor acting in the capacity of a trustee or by a separate trustee as such.

ART. 34. Attorney's fees.—The executor or administrator, in filing the return, may deduct such an amount of attorney's fees as has actually been paid or which at that time it is reasonably expected will be paid. If on the final audit of a return the fees claimed have not been awarded by the proper court and paid, the deduction will, nevertheless, be allowed, provided the Commissioner is reasonably satisfied that the amount claimed will be paid and that it does not exceed a reasonable remuneration for the services rendered, taking into account the size and character of the estate and the local law and practice. If the deduction is disallowed in whole or in part on final audit, the disallowance will be subject to modification as the facts may later require.

Attorney's fees incurred by beneficiaries incident to litigation as to their respective interests do not constitute a proper deduction, inasmuch as expenses of this character are properly charged against the beneficiaries personally and are not administration expenses.

ART. 35. Miscellaneous administration expenses.—This includes such expenses as court costs, surrogates' fees, accountants' fees, appraisers' fees, clerk hire, etc. Expenses necessarily incurred in preserving and distributing the estate are deductible, including the cost of storing or maintaining property of the estate, if it is impossible to effect immediate distribution to the beneficiaries. Expenses for preserving and caring for the property may not include additions or improvements; nor will such expenses be allowed for a longer period than the executor is required to retain the property. A brokerage fee for selling property of the estate is deductible if the sale is necessary in order to pay the decedent's debts, the expenses of administration, or to effect distribution. Other expenses attending the sale are deductible, such as the fees of an auctioneer, if it is reasonably necessary to employ one.

ART. 36. Claims against the estate.—The amounts that may be deducted under this heading are such only as represent personal obligations of the decedent existing at the time of his death, whether or not then matured, and interest thereon which had accrued at the time of death. If, as authorized by subdivision (j) of section 302 as added by section 202 of the Revenue Act of 1935 (see article 11), the executor has duly elected to have the value of the gross estate determined as of a date or dates prescribed in such subdivision, then the deduction on account of interest will be limited to the amount thereof accrued and unpaid at decedent's death, plus the interest earned between death and a date one year thereafter, unless the claim is sooner paid, in which case the amount of interest deductible will be the amount accrued to date of such payment. The deduction will include payments made of any interest accrued at decedent's death and payments of interest earned between death and one year thereafter, or between death and the date on which the claim was paid. Only claims enforceable against the decedent's estate may be deducted. If the claim is founded upon a promise or agreement, the deduction therefor is limited to the extent that the liability was contracted bona fide and for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth. Thus, a pledge or a subscription, evidenced by a promissory note or otherwise, even though enforceable against the estate, is deductible only to the extent that liability therefor was contracted bona fide and for an adequate and full consideration in cash or its equivalent. Liabilities imposed by law or arising out of torts are deductible. See article 29 as to the relinquishment or promised relinquishment of dower and other marital interests.

ART. 37. Taxes.—The deduction for property taxes is limited to such taxes as accrued prior to the date of decedent's death. Property taxes accrue on the date the ownership of the property determines the liability for such taxes.

Taxes upon income received during the decedent's lifetime are deductible, including interest accrued thereon at time of death, but taxes upon income received after death are not deductible. No estate, succession, legacy, or inheritance tax is deductible.

ART. 38. Unpaid mortgages.—Deduction is allowed of the full unpaid amount of a mortgage upon, or of an indebtedness in respect to, any property of the gross estate, including interest which had accrued thereon at the time of death, provided the value of the property, undiminished by the amount of the mortgage or indebtedness, is returned as part of the value of the gross estate. If decendent's estate is liable for the amount of the mortgage or indebtedness, the full value of the property subject to the mortgage or indebtedness must be included as part of the value of the gross estate; the amount of the mortgage or indebtedness being in such case allowed as a deduction. But if decedent's estate is not so liable, only the value of the equity of redemption (or value of the property, less the indebtedness) need be returned as part of the value of the gross estate. In no case may the deduction on account of the mortgage or indebtedness exceed the liability therefor contracted bona fide and for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth. If the executor has made the election referred to in the second sentence of article 36, the deduction on account of interest upon the mortgage or indebtedness will be limited to the amount thereof accrued and unpaid at decedent's death, plus the interest earned between death and a date one year thereafter, unless the mortgage or indebtedness is sooner paid or the property subject to the mortgage or indebtedness is sooner distributed, sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of, the deduction in any such case being limited to the amount of interest accrued to the date of such payment, distribution, sale, exchange or other disposition. The deduction will include payments made of any interest accrued at decedent's death and payments of interest earned between death and one year thereafter, or between death and the date of payment of the mortgage or indebtedness, or the date on which the property subject thereto was distributed, sold, exchanged or otherwise disposed of. Inasmuch as real property situated outside of the United States does not form a part of the gross estate, no deduction may be taken of any mortgage thereon or any indebtedness in respect thereto.

ART. 39. Losses from casualties or theft.—There may be deducted under this heading losses incurred during the settlement of the estate arising from fires, storms, shipwrecks, or other casualties, or from theft, if such losses are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. In the case of a decedent who died subsequent to the effective date of the Revenue Act of 1932, such losses are not deductible if, at the time of the filing of the estate tax return, they had been claimed as a deduction for income tax purposes in an income tax return. If the loss is partly compensated, the excess of the loss over such compensation may be deducted. Losses not of the nature described are not deductible. In order to be deductible a loss must occur during the settlement of the estate. If a loss with respect to an asset occurs after distribution thereof to the distributee it may not be deducted.

ART. 40. Support of dependents.—The support during the settlement of the estate of dependents of the decedent is deductible, but pursuant to the following rules:
